Additional Abbreviations

For ease of reading, we have generally tried to avoid the use of additional abbreviations, with the exception of v. (verse), vv. (verses), ch. (chapter), and chs. (chapters).

Welcome to the Reformation Heritage KJV Study Bible, Electronic Edition!

In this edition, you have access to the same content available in the print edition, except here it is in an electronic format that you can access through your digital device. This introduction will briefly explain how to navigate through the various sections of the Bible with ease.

Navigating to a Bible Passage

In order to select a particular Bible passage, you will want to start with the main table of contents located in the beginning of the e-book. There you will find links to the various sections of the Bible in addition to a link to each book of the Bible. To access any Bible passage, simply tap the name of the book. This will take you to another page where several options are available. You can select either the desired chapter of the book or the various additional sections that provide in-depth study on the book—things like the book's introductory article and study notes, as well as other theological articles that provide insights associated with each book.

Accessing the Study Notes and Thoughts for Family Worship

As you read the Bible, you will notice that there are some symbols with links that will take you to other parts of the Bible.

In the beginning of each chapter, selecting the name of the book will take you back to the book index where you can select a different chapter of the same book.

Next to the chapter heading, you will notice the symbol [†]. If you tap it, you will be directed to the thoughts for family worship/personal devotions associated with that particular chapter of the Bible.

Next to the verse number, the same symbol [†] is used to take you to the study notes associated with that verse. There, you will be able to read explanations regarding the meaning of words and phrases of the Bible as well as other theological points.

Once you have navigated to a different part of the Bible, use the back function of your device to return to your previous location.

Accessing the Study Helps

The study helps available in the print edition are also available in this electronic edition. To access them, simply go to the main table of contents and choose one of the various helps available.

Welcome

God has spoken, and His written Word is the Bible. In an age of uncertainty, this is good news. His Word is light in our darkness. You can know God and hear His voice today by reading the pages of His Book. Here is pure truth—truth you can trust. The Lord Jesus Christ, the living Word, still speaks in the written Word by His Spirit. His words are life, and the Holy Spirit can make them life for you too.

What you hold in your hands is both the Bible and tools to help you understand the Bible. The words of the Bible appear in the top half of the page in larger print. These are the very words of God, breathed out by Him (2 Tim. 3:16), given to us through the prophets and apostles as they were infallibly moved by the Spirit (2 Peter 1:21), and faithfully translated into English. All they say is true. On the bottom half of the page, and also in separate articles throughout the book, appear the words of Bible teachers to help you understand and obey God's Word. The risen Christ gives us teachers, and though they are not perfect, God still uses them to explain and apply the Holy Scriptures.

In particular, this is the Reformation Heritage KJV (King James Version) Study Bible. All of the words in this title represent something special about this edition of the Bible.

The words Reformation Heritage are more than the name of the publisher. These words remind us that the Lord granted a theological and spiritual revival in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries that resulted in a rich legacy of Bible truth for the church. Located in this Bible at key places throughout the text of Scripture are short articles about key teachings of the Christian faith, some drawn from the writings of the Reformers and Puritans, and others by modern theologians who stand in the same stream of thought. At the end, you will also find an overview of church history and a collection of classic creeds and confessions—declarations from the church of its living faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

The Reformation's legacy consists not only of theological truths but also of vibrant personal godliness and experience of the Lord's grace that is built on the truth. To help you know the Lord and grow in His grace, this Bible includes a unique feature titled "Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship" at the end of each chapter's notes. Regular times of reading the Bible by yourself and with your family are crucial for Christian spirituality. We are hoping that this feature will particularly assist busy heads of households to prepare some helpful thoughts for daily family worship; even a glance at these thoughts should be of considerable assistance. These sections aim to help you take what you just read and turn it into fruitful meditation and discussion in other private and public settings as well. You will also find at the end of the Bible a collection of articles on practical Christian living that touch on topics such as prayer, pride, parenting, and living positively in a negative world.

The King James Version is the classic translation that God has used to nourish English-speaking Christians for more than four hundred years. The work of godly and highly educated Bible scholars, the KJV, or Authorized Version, remains useful, reliable, and widely read. The care of the translators is reflected in their placing in italics any words not found in the original manuscripts that were added for the reader's understanding. Though sometimes viewed as quaint, the use of "thee" and "thou" actually reveals that the original text designated the singular as opposed to the plural "ye" or "you," a clarity of expression no longer in use in modern English. It is true that the meanings of some words have changed over the centuries, but to help the modern reader, the study notes of this Bible define difficult words and phrases so that the whole is quite understandable.

Finally, this is a study Bible. Each book of the Bible is prefaced by an introduction that discusses questions of the book's authorship, date, theme, and purpose and gives a synopsis of its message. In some cases, difficult questions of interpretation are also addressed in the introduction. Below the text of Holy Scripture, thousands of study notes explain the meaning of individual words and phrases in their original context. Cross-references to other relevant Scriptures are integrated into the study notes, allowing you to investigate a theme or teaching. A map section at the end will help you to visualize the location of various events described in the Bible. And a concordance will assist you in finding some of the most important scriptural references to a large variety of words.

So here is the Reformation Heritage KJV Study Bible. We are glad that you have opened it, but always remember that simply owning a Bible does you no good. Read the Bible, pray over it, believe it, love it, and obey it in dependency on the Holy Spirit. And use the study helps with discretion, never placing them on par with the Scriptures, but remembering always to subject fallible notes, articles, and confessional documents to them. May the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ open your eyes by His Spirit that you may behold wondrous things in His law and gospel, incline your heart to His Son and His testimonies, and give you life in His ways. Pray with us that this study Bible be used by the Holy Spirit to the salvation of many people, the spiritual maturation of believers, and the building up of God's truth and church for generations to come—all to the honor and glory of the Triune God.

Reading the Bible Experientially

To read the Bible experientially simply means to read it with all of our heart, soul, mind, and strength. That is how the Bible is intended to be read. The reason we even have to use the word "experientially" is simply because people imagine they are reading the Bible when they are only reading the Bible in a superficial way.

For instance, many people read the Bible only for tidbits of information, or to gain more head-knowledge. They are interested in facts, history, or even doctrine, but their study of the Bible stops at that level. Sometimes such people read just to confirm what they already know or believe. They read only certain sections of the Bible or if they read through the Bible, they pick out what they find interesting, relevant, or helpful.

Other people read the Bible in order to walk away with an emotional feeling of well-being. They want an emotional fix or shot in the arm to help them through another day or week.

Again, others read the Bible simply because they want to do something. They want practical tips or directives to guide them in their every day life, or as vision for their church or organization.

Each of these groups are marked by this significant flaw: They are not reading the Bible on its own terms. They are not reading the Bible as the revelation of God, His truth, His Word, in all its breadth, depth, and height.

A test as to whether you are reading the Bible experientially is whether in the process of reading the Bible, the Bible reads you. No doubt, this will sound like a peculiar way of thinking. "How can a passage read me?" you might wonder. "Words on a page have neither eyes nor a mind that they could read me. Besides, I am not a book full of pages with words to be read."

Admittedly, we do not typically think or talk like this. Yet, we miss something important as a result. Think of what happened when the prophet Nathan came to David the king with the parable of the young lamb (2 Sam. 12:1–6). It ended up revealing the sin in David's life that, until that point, he had not seen as he should have. Nathan's parable acted as a searchlight on David's heart and uncovered something that David had been concealing beneath layers of excuses and attempts to suppress his guilt. David grasped the Word of God that day. But, more importantly, the Word of God grasped him.

Without a doubt, the Holy Spirit was working in David to produce accurate self-knowledge. But the word that Nathan brought was the means God used to that end. It should be no surprise that the Spirit loves to use the Word that way. After all, He has inspired it (2 Peter 1:21). He is pleased to use it to bring sinners to a true and saving knowledge of themselves and of God (John 16:8–14).

Yet, many today are content to read the Bible in a way in which the Word of God is subject to them, rather than that they are subject to the Word. They study the Bible—so they think—but do not realize that the Bible needs to study us. We need to search the Scriptures, but it is a blessing when we discover that the Scriptures are searching us, teaching us both how matters should go in our lives and how they often do go, which always falls short of how they should go (Rom. 7:14–25).

When God uses His Word to search and change us, we have what theologians have called the experiential approach to the Scriptures. In fact, when you come to Scripture truly believing it to be what it claims to be—the Word of God—and submitting to its scrutiny of all of your life, then you are reading the Word experientially. In its entirely Psalm 119 is one glorious expression of experiential reading, and verse 130 states it succinctly: "The entrance of thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding to the simple."

By nature everything is out of order in our lives. We do not see things as they truly are. Sin has drawn a veil over our hearts, and we love this darkness rather than the light (John 3:19). We have lost the sense of being subject to God and accountable to him. Actually, it is even worse than that. We actively rebel against His authority and transgress His laws (Rom. 8:7). We imagine we can make God submit to us. We make His Word the object of our scrutiny, rather than submitting ourselves to its scrutiny. Many Bible students and teachers think they understand the Bible, and yet they do not subject their lives to it. As we read in the Word: "The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God" (1 Cor. 2:14).

Sometimes people will tell you that reading the Bible experientially means superimposing something on Scripture. They imagine it as an "extra" that comes from mystically inclined minds, those who are not content with the plain meaning of Scripture. Admittedly, there has been a stream of interpreters throughout the centuries who have done a lot to give credence to this charge. But the abuse of experiential interpretation does not mean it is not necessary or useful when done properly.

How can I read the Bible experientially? Prayerfully consider the following biblical pointers.

1. Respect the Bible as the single and complete authority over your whole life. Isaiah says it like this: "To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them" (Isa. 8:20). That means we cannot depart even ever so little from the Bible. We are not the judges of whether the Bible is valid or relevant at some point. Nor can any other books or human traditions share the authority over our lives with the Bible.

2. Do not doubt that the Bible is accurate at every point. David says in Psalm 19:7: "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple." David believed it with his whole heart. What it says is wrong or lacking, is truly wrong or lacking. What it says God hates, God truly does hate. What it says God loves, God truly does love.

3. Submit your heart and life fully to the scrutiny of the Bible. Psalm 119:80 say, "Let my heart be sound in thy statutes: that I be not ashamed." For the Psalmist to say this, he does not hold back anything from the Word of God.

4. Prayerfully meditate on the truth of Scripture, carrying it with you wherever you go and whatever you do. The Bible frequently stresses meditation as an essential part of living godly in this world (Josh. 1:8; Ps. 1:2; Eph. 4:17–18).

5. Never forget that it is God who is speaking to you through His Word. Throughout His Word, God reminds us frequently of His majestic character and speech (Gen. 1:1; Ex. 20:1; Ps. 50:1-6). The Scriptures speak to us like a father to his children and like a revered friend writing a letter to us.

6. Gather with God's people for worship to hear God's Word faithfully preached. Private Bible reading and study, important though it is, is not substitute for the official and faithful proclamation of the Word of God by His servants. In Ps. 87:2 we read: "The Lord loveth the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob." That means that the place where God's people meet for corporate worship and the exposition of God's truth is more precious to the Lord than all the separate dwellings of the people of God, where we are to worship God in our families. Hebrews 10:25 makes the same point. We will be immensely helped when we are companions of others of those who fear the Lord and keep His precepts (Ps. 119:63).

7. Depend absolutely on grace so that your heart may profit from the Word of God. To read the Bible experientially means that we receive the Word with meekness. We need humble hearts. Pride keeps us from receiving the Word as we should. Of course, we cannot cure ourselves of pride, but we need earnestly to seek the Holy Spirit to make us teachable. Remember, God's Word is what God uses to save sinners by uniting them to Christ (James 1:20).

8. Look to the triune God to transcribe God's truth on your heart. Paul rejoiced that he could say of those Christians he pastored: "Ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart" (2 Cor. 3:3).

9. Do not be content to simply "hear" the Word; be by grace a doer of the Word. James is emphatic:

“But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and contineth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed” (James 1:25).

10. Be ready to sing the Word of God. Singing helps solidify truth in our minds and hearts (Deut. 31:19). For example, when we sing the Psalms, the God-given book of praise, we help give voice to our desires in a way that, with God’s blessing, endears the Word to us even further. David says in Psalm 108:7: “God hath spoken in his holiness: I will rejoice.” Ask yourself which of the Psalms echoes what you are reading or gives you a way to respond to what you are reading, and then sing it.

The King James Version:

The year 2011 marked the four hundredth anniversary of the first edition of the King James Version (KJV) or Authorized Version (AV) of the Bible. From its inception to the present, the King James Version has testified to the unfailing providence of God in preserving His Word and in providing a vehicle for disseminating that Word to the entire English-speaking world.

The influence of the KJV has been incalculable. It helped shape the very language into which it was translated. The KJV's mark on the English language is immeasurable in terms of its use in classic literature and its origination of idioms so commonly used even in everyday speech. It became the principal primer for learning; for many, to read the Bible was the chief reason for learning to read. Although the incentive to literacy is now more secular than sacred, familiarity with the language of the KJV is still an important component in literary education. In addition, and most significantly, the King James Version served the advance of Christ's kingdom wherever English was spoken and read.

Faith comes by hearing and hearing by the Word of God (Rom. 10:17). For centuries, for English-speakers, the KJV was the Word heard. Although aspects of the English language have changed over four hundred years, causing many today to regard the AV as a venerated but irrelevant relic, its value, influence, accuracy, beauty, and understandability remain. Notwithstanding its age, there is no good reason to disregard it or to relegate it to the past. So, reflection on the history, influence, and reliability of the Authorized Version is in order. Its tradition is rich; its textual basis is verifiably sure; and its translation is accurate. In every way, the KJV is an outstanding version of the Scriptures, worthy of continued use as well as historic respect.

Its Tradition

As is so often the case regarding the workings of divine providence, events and circumstances affirm God's control in using obstacles and opposition to accomplish His purpose in such a way that all glory is His. The history of the English Bible that culminated in the publication of the KJV is checkered with human hindrances and divine superintendence.

The KJV translators stood on the shoulders of those who, often in peril of their lives, labored to bring God's Word to the public domain from the secrecy and seclusion of Romish control. The Word of God fueled the Reformation, and as the fires of Reformation spread, so did the desire for the Scriptures. William Tyndale's work indisputably laid the foundation upon which others built, including the translators of the King James Version. Tyndale was charged with heresy and warned not to preach in public, but he was driven by his desire to see the Bible translated into English so that every man could read God's Word for himself. In response to a priest attacking his doctrine, Tyndale uttered his now-famous words: "If God spare my life, before long I shall cause a ploughboy to know the scriptures better than you do." God did not spare his life long enough for him to see his prophecy fulfilled, but the Lord did spare him long enough for him to set in motion the means whereby his desire was fulfilled exceedingly abundantly, more than he could ever have dreamed. His translation (1526, 1534) influenced the Coverdale Bible (1535), the Matthew Bible (1537), the Great Bible (1539), the Geneva Bible (1560), the Bishop's Bible (1586), and the King James Version (1611). It is commonly calculated that ninety percent of Tyndale's Bible has been preserved in the Authorized Version. With the widespread acceptance and use of the KJV, Tyndale's hope was fulfilled beyond his dreams to every place on the planet where English is spoken or read. A work begun under the threat of persecution (the human hindrance) prospered because it was preserved and blessed by God (the divine superintendence).

Although each of the antecedent English Bibles has its own story generating praise for God's good providence in making His Word accessible, the production of the King James Version is a testimony to the way God uses men's hostility to accomplish His purpose. If not a matter of overturning outright hostility, it certainly illustrates God's ability to turn a king's heart to achieve an end not in the mind of the king himself. In many ways, King James I was an unlikely character to be associated with a Bible so singularly blessed by God. The son of Mary, Queen of Scots, James was awkward as a youth and not particularly regal as an adult. Worse yet, James was in some ways an opponent to the cause of Christ and an immoral man. But regardless of his less-than-commanding appearance and demeanor, he followed his mother's rival, Queen Elizabeth I, to the throne of England. Behind his back, of course, it was murmured around England that "King Elizabeth" was to be followed by "Queen James." However, what he lacked in regal bearing, he made up for in intellectual accomplishment. He was well trained in the classics, and even had hands-on experience in biblical studies, including translation.

The relationship between church and state was a pressing issue from the beginning of James's monarchy. At the beginning of his reign, a group of Puritan ministers presented him with a petition requesting that certain concerns about the church be resolved. After a delay caused by a deadly epidemic in the country, the Hampton Court Conference convened in 1604 to address the concerns. For the most part, the conference failed to resolve any issues. But on the last day, John Rainolds made a most unexpected proposal. Rainolds was a Puritan, a Hebrew scholar, the president of Corpus Christi College at Oxford, and not particularly liked by the king. He proposed a new translation of the Scriptures that would be acceptable to all Protestants. Some summarily dismissed the suggestion because there were already multiple versions available, some of which were remarkably good. Surprisingly, however, James was favorable to the proposal and gave it his moral but not financial support.

He did so with a couple of caveats that give some insight into the reason for his support. He had a deep disdain for the Geneva Bible, which he considered to be the worst of all the English translations. His dislike was not so much for the translation as for the notes, some of which he interpreted to be subversive to the monarchy and the state church administered by bishops. Consequently, he sanctioned the new translation project so long as there would be no notes and nothing that would promote Puritan doctrine. So, ironically, the king's hatred of doctrines that we hold dear led to the translation of the Bible we cherish. What an example this is of God turning the heart of a king!

The operation of divine providence is evident in the entire project; without that divine superintendence, the work would never have been completed. The planned procedure, humanly speaking, did not have much prospect for success; it was going to be a committee project. Whereas earlier English versions had been the works of individuals, who often labored in secrecy because they were in peril of their lives, this was going to be a collaborative effort of forty-seven scholars and churchmen divided into six groups: two at Oxford, two at Cambridge, and two at Westminster. The results defy the platitude that assigning something to a committee is a death sentence. Together with the Heidelberg Catechism and the Westminster Standards, the KJV translation stands as a testimony of how God can bring together Christians in joint efforts that are very productive for His glory.

Notwithstanding the official sanction and amazing circumstances associated with the production of this new English version, the KJV did not receive immediate widespread acceptance. Particularly, the Geneva Bible, with its strongly Calvinistic and anti-monarchal comments, remained the popular choice among most Puritans—at least until the mid-seventeenth century. Significantly, the Geneva Bible, packed by the Pilgrims on the Mayflower, was the first English version to reach North America. But before long, the KJV, though its final form was never officially authorized by the throne, was accepted both by the clergy and the people.

From that time, the KJV became the standard text of the English Bible, and its history and tradition cannot be separated from the history of the church in the English-speaking community throughout the world. The KJV enjoyed that rich tradition until relatively recently, when its language and text have been questioned by a new generation of scholars and churchmen. Many, while recognizing the significant history of the KJV, contend that it has no future. The translation that has done so much in shaping and influencing the English language and its literature is now regarded as archaic, antiquated, and inadequate for communicating to the contemporary English-speaking community.

We reject this assessment and argue that there is no good reason to abandon the use of this version that owns such a celebrated heritage and tradition. We admit that the plethora of modern English versions, some produced by liberal critics and some by evangelicals, has destroyed the monopoly held by the KJV for centuries, but we do not believe the KJV will soon be dethroned as the standard English Bible to which all others will be compared and by which all others will be evaluated. Just as modern versions use contemporary language to give expression to God's Word, so the KJV translators were committed to putting the Bible into the common language. But the KJV alone had and has the kind of weight that has affected the language itself. Expressions and idioms from the KJV abound in current usage and are employed even by those who are clueless regarding their origin. "Feet of clay," "reaping the whirlwind," "scapegoat," "thorn in the flesh," "labor of love," "my brother's keeper," "lamb to the slaughter," "fly in the ointment," "powers that be," "salt of the earth," "sour grapes," "a law unto themselves," "falling flat on one's face," "a broken heart," "a drop in the bucket," "seeing eye to eye," "putting words in one's mouth," "the root of the matter"—these are just a few of the KJV-originated words and phrases that come to mind, and the list could go on and on. It is hard to determine the KJV's range of influence objectively, but there is enough evidence to suggest that accusations against its readability may be exaggerated.

Undeniably, some of the vocabulary and syntax patterns are archaic. This is not surprising, for it is the nature of language to evolve over time. Four hundred years is ample time for semantic shifts to occur and for grammatical conventions to change. But these changes are neither severe nor incomprehensible; they serve to aid the church, particularly in public worship. In some cases the older language aids in communicating the dignity of the church's worship as the Bible is read to the congregation. So much of contemporary worship today is brought down to common levels. When pressures from popular culture define so much of public worship, it is imperative to promote and maintain in worship a distinction, dignity, and reverence that directs our hearts and minds to the majesty and uniqueness of our God. The beauty, elegance, and cadence of the KJV—not to speak of its translation accuracy—create dignity and contribute to our perception of the matchlessness of God's Word.

The supposed difficulty in understanding the language of the KJV can be remedied by habitual exposure to it. Understanding anything requires a circle of knowledge that includes specialized jargon. To someone unfamiliar with baseball, the statement "the batter drew a walk" is incomprehensible. Similarly, a stranger to baseball's rules might find it odd that fans would jeer a pitcher for throwing balls when throwing a ball is his job. But it does not take long to figure out the language and rules of the game. For an older person, listening to younger people talking about computer technology or techniques is confusing. But if you listen long enough, you can figure out what it means to blog, even if you do not know the derivation of the word.

So, there is a jargon with which we must be familiar if we are to understand the Bible. This is not a unique phenomenon caused by the age of the KJV. The Septuagint, the Greek translation of the Hebrew Old Testament, created a biblical jargon understandable to those who knew the Bible but liable to misunderstanding by those who did not. There are several instances in which the translators infused a Greek word with un-Greek significance to include the nuances of the Hebrew word it translated. This practice resulted in word meanings that would have been understood in the biblical context but misunderstood in a secular context. Similarly, the language of the KJV is understandable if given the chance. It does not take much exposure to figure out that "to wit" means "to know," "to prevent" means "to precede," "quick" means "alive," or "conversation" means "behavior."

Learning the language of the KJV requires thought, but that is never a bad thing when coming to the Word of God. It is better to retain a translation that has influenced culture positively, as has the KJV, than to dumb down a translation to reflect the culture. Even more significant than cultural or literary influence is the contribution the AV has made to the sober worship of the Lord. The KJV remains the best liturgical text to meet the needs of the sanctuary. Let the tradition continue.

Its Text

In evaluating any version of the Scriptures, the text from which it is translated is a crucial factor. In the providence of God, the Hebrew and Greek Testaments used by the translators of the KJV have proven to be the most accurate and verifiably reliable texts available both then and now. The Masoretic text printed in the Rabbinic edition of Daniel Bomberg (1524/25) was the basis for the Old Testament, and the Greek text of Theodore Beza (1598), designated as the Textus Receptus or Received Text, was the basis for the New Testament.

But these published editions did not fall from heaven into the hands of the translators. They represent a long history of transmission from the original inspired manuscripts through multiple copies and finally to the printed text. All along the way, God guarded and ensured the preservation of His Word. This divine preservation is the necessary and logical corollary to divine inspiration. Foundational to confidence in Scripture as the Word of God, whether in the texts of the original languages or in the texts of versions, is the fact that God inspired His Word. Divine inspiration involves both a process and a consequent product. Peter describes the process: “Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost” (2 Peter 1:20–21). Peter’s remark does not concern the interpretation of the meaning of Scripture but rather its origin. In another well-known passage, Paul describes the consequent product of the supernatural process of inspiration: “All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works” (2 Tim. 3:16–17). God used men as His instruments of communication, but the words communicated were formed by the Holy Spirit bearing the human authors along in such a supernatural manner that what they wrote was the “breathed-out” Word of God. We cannot explain the mechanics of inspiration, but neither can we deny its fact.

The process of inspiration is past and finished. It was a supernatural operation of God’s Spirit limited to those men, beginning with Moses and ending with John, whom God selected to be His instruments in the writing of the biblical books. The process of inspiration ceased at the close of the canon. This is a vital truth for those of us who are cessationists, for so long as there is inspiration, the door is open for continuing revelation. The product of inspiration, the infallible, inerrant corpus of truth—the divinely breathed-out words of Scripture—is the starting point for the progression of preservation that leads to the Bible we possess.

Whereas inspiration involved an extraordinary, supernatural work of God, preservation involves the operation of God’s providence—His ordinary work, but His work nonetheless. Inspiration guarantees the preservation and recognition of both the canon and text. Books are not canonical because the church recognized them as such; the church recognized them as canonical because they were, immediately in consequence of their inspiration. Likewise, the text of Scripture has been preserved because of its inspiration. The church has not determined the text; it has been the means through which God has protected His Word and ensured its perpetuation, just as Israel, the Old Testament church, received and safeguarded the laws and promises given at first (Rom. 9:4). Although thousands of years separate us from the past process of inspiration, in God’s providence we have a massive amount of evidence that assures the recognition of the words breathed out by the Holy Spirit. God’s Word was inspired in terms of process; it is inspired in terms of the product.

We do not possess the actual documents written by the human authors of Scripture, but we do possess thousands of witnesses to the original texts—manuscripts, ancient versions, and patristic writings. How that evidence is interpreted is crucial. Our principal reason for retaining the KJV after all these years is the text from which it is translated. We believe that the extant evidence justifies the conclusion that the Greek edition used by the KJV translators represents the best tradition preserved in the majority of witnesses to the text of the New Testament. The KJV's predecessors were based on the same basic text, but with the exception of the New King James Version, its successors have used a different textual basis. In the providence of God, which text to use was not an issue for the seventeenth-century translators; they used the only text available to them. But what was the only text then remains the best text tradition now. That is not surprising, since it represents the text perpetuated by the church, to whom God entrusted His Word.

Confessedly, our conclusion rests on our opinion as to how to account for the evidence. Others who believe in inspiration and preservation as dogmatically as we have a different opinion as to how and where God preserved His Word. The principal difference of opinion concerns the New Testament text. The history and transmission of the Old Testament text is interesting and important but not as controversial as that of the New Testament. Virtually all scholars regard the Masoretic text of the Old Testament to be authoritative, and it is the text used by most of the modern translations. The New Testament text is another story.

The AV translators used the Greek edition of Theodore Beza. But there was a long history of transmission before the Greek New Testament was published and printed. As late as AD 200, Tertullian wrote that the originals of some of the New Testament letters were still located in the churches to whom they were written, which implies that there were already copies of those letters elsewhere. In fact, we have portions of the New Testament dating to Tertullian's day and one fragment from about seventy years earlier. On the one hand, that is amazing; on the other hand, it is not. The desire for the dissemination of the Word accompanied the spread of the church. But until the invention of the printing press in the fifteenth century, every new manuscript was a handmade copy of another. Notwithstanding how tedious the process was, it produced thousands of Greek manuscripts of the New Testament in the Greek-speaking world. For many years, that Greek-speaking world was the world of the New Testament, and presumably the Bible spread wherever the church was. However, in time Latin replaced Greek in the West, which led to Latin translations, culminating in Jerome's Vulgate in AD 404. The Latin version in the West meant practically that there was little reason to continue copying the Greek text. Greek, however, remained the language in the East, and consequently, Greek manuscripts continued to proliferate in what became the Byzantine Empire. It is not surprising, therefore, that the majority of extant Greek manuscripts come from these locations, where the Greek-speaking church continued the preservation of the Word in the form in which it was originally given. Some manuscripts have been discovered that date earlier than many of those coming from the Byzantine Empire and have readings differing significantly from those in the church-used and church-preserved text, but discovery is not preservation. Preservation implies continuity and unbroken tradition. Genuine readings can be traced throughout the history of the church.

For centuries, partly due to Rome's idolatrous elevation of the Vulgate, the West had neither interest in nor access to the Greek New Testament. The providence of God changed that. The Renaissance generated the interest, and the rise and dominance of Islam afforded the access. Studying the originals behind the classics was an earmark of the Renaissance; this included study of the Scriptures. Hebrew and Greek scholars began to proliferate. The spread of Islam in the East caused churchmen to migrate to the West, taking the Scriptures with them. So, providentially, the Greek text that had prevailed from the early church was the text that entered Europe at the time when God was about to initiate the Reformation, that epic movement that was going to direct the course of the church from that time on.

In addition, God's providence put in place a mechanism that made hand copying obsolete and opened the way for the effusive spread of His Word, both in the original languages and in translation. The printing press served God's purpose in the advance of the Reformation. It also gave birth to a new business: publication. Publishers knew the importance of being the first to the press in order to secure the advantage in the marketplace.

In the early sixteenth century, the race was on to publish the first Greek New Testament. The forerunner appeared to be Cardinal Francisco Ximenes from Spain with the Complutensian Polyglot (Hebrew, Aramaic, Latin, and Greek). It was printed in 1514 but not published until 1522. Forben, a printer in Basel, Switzerland, was aware of the Polyglot and was determined to beat it to publication. He approached Desiderius Erasmus, a learned Greek scholar, and commissioned him to prepare a text for publication. Erasmus agreed, and using the few manuscripts kept in the library at Basel, he won the race to publication in 1516. The edition went through various printings and edits until it was standardized by the French printer Robertus Stephanus in 1546/49. Then John Calvin's successor, Beza, produced a Greek Testament (1565) that was essentially the same as that of Stephanus's; it became the standard Greek Testament used by Protestants, including the translators of the KJV. It was not until an edition published in 1633 by the Elzevir Brothers that the expression Textus Receptus was used. Included in the introduction were these words: "Therefore you have the text that is now received by all." That designation then attached itself anachronistically to the earlier editions.

From a purely human perspective, the production of the Greek Testament was a successful business venture. But God ruled over the entire process. The few manuscripts available to Erasmus represented the text tradition that had prevailed from the early church and had been preserved in what we now know to be the vast majority of witnesses to the inspired text of the New Testament. When compared with the majority of extant Greek manuscripts, the Received Text agrees ninety-nine percent of the time. What a testimony this is to the providence of God in preserving His Word! The few manuscripts available for use in the sixteenth century to produce the edition used in the seventeenth century to translate the KJV just happen to reflect the text tradition that is verifiably sure. This is a good and important reason for retaining the use of the AV. Ultimately, the merit of any translation of the Bible depends on the text from which it is translated.

We have not addressed the technicalities of textual criticism except to emphasize the importance of widespread and unbroken tradition in determining the superiority of readings. That the Received Text agrees with the majority text in the majority of places is significant. It represents the Greek text that was preserved throughout the Greek-speaking church for centuries. It is the basis of the English, French, Dutch, and German translations so vital in the Reformation churches. All of this ecclesiastical recognition is hard to ignore. The textual foundation of the KJV is verifiably sure.

Its Translation

The beauty of language is that the message communicated in one language can be communicated in another. Language, like everything else, is subject to divine providence, and this has significant implications regarding the Scriptures. Although the biblical authors did not write in English, we can assuredly affirm our English Bible to be God's Word. Indeed, the translators of the AV affirmed "that the very meanest translation of the Bible in English…containeth the word of God, nay, is the Word of God."[1] The words are not the same, but the message expressed in the Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek words of the Old and New Testaments can be conveyed in English and indeed in any other tongue. God breathed out every Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek word in the Scriptures, but the message He revealed through those words is not so intrinsically subsumed in those words as to prevent the message from being expressed and understood with words of another language. Scripture's message is so important that the original languages "are to be translated into the vulgar language of every nation unto which they come" (Westminster Confession of Faith, 1.8).

Equally important to the need for translation is the manner of translation. Given the magnitude of the message, it is imperative that the message of the original and the message of the translation be the same. Translating accurately and faithfully requires that the translator be proficient in both the original and target languages. The six committees engaged in the project commissioned by King James were comprised of competent scholars in biblical languages and men most capable of crafting the English language.

The translators operated under a set of fifteen rules designed to ensure uniformity and to achieve illusive consensus regarding each part before final approval of the whole. The rules detailed the procedures they would follow in the translation process and created safeguards to guarantee agreement, accuracy, and acceptability. The number of required "hoops" seemed to doom the project from the beginning, but contrary to expectation, the process worked well to produce an English Bible that became the standard by which and to which all other translations would be compared.

The first rule governing the committees was that they were to use the Bishop's Bible as the basis of their revision, deviating from it only when absolutely necessary. Rule fourteen allowed them to consult and use other versions that were judged to be superior to the Bishop's. Rule fourteen consistently trumped rule one; the Tyndale, Coverdale, Great, Geneva, and even the Rheims-Douay Bibles were consulted along with the Bishop's. Tyndale's version had the greatest impact. The translators said, "we never thought from the beginning, that we should need to make a new translation, nor yet to make of a bad one a good one…but to make a good one better, or out of many good ones, one principal good one."[2] But although the KJV is a revision of earlier English versions, the committees relied heavily on the Hebrew and Greek testaments as well. In their address to the readers, the translators frequently reference the importance of the original languages. It is appropriate to refer to them as translators and to their work as translation.

Without knowledge of all the issues of differing translation philosophies and techniques that are currently prevalent and part of academic disciplines, the translators employed methods that can be evaluated and labeled by modern criteria. We argue that the KJV is in the category sometimes referred to as complete equivalency. Simply stated, this means that the translation was as literal as possible—giving due regard to the words, grammar, figures of speech, etc. of the original, yet as free as necessary—ensuring that the message intended by the original was not obscured.

For instance, by using italics to identify words in the translation that have no counterpart in the original, the translators revealed their high regard for the original text as well as their desire to help the reader by smoothing out passages that otherwise would be awkward. Even the use of what are now the archaic second-person pronouns (thee, thou, ye) allows the reader to see something that is clear in the original texts but obscured by the modern usage of “you.” Thee, thou, and ye may sound outdated, but they reflect the original Hebrew and Greek precisely and often have interpretative significance, which readers of modern English versions will miss. Giving the readers of a translation the same opportunity of understanding and response as the readers of the original should be the goal of translation and is a mark of a good one. We think that is why, too, the KJV translators from time to time put alternative translations of difficult or ambiguous statements in the margins. These alternatives give the readers the opportunity to think through the obscurities inherent in the originals.

The merit of any translation is determined by how well it achieves the purpose of translation: conveying the message recorded in one language into another. A good version translates without explaining, maintains the original’s content and intent, retains interpretation issues, and permits an equivalence of response between the original and target audiences. It is accurate in regard to lexical and grammatical fidelity. It is sensitive to and reflective of the various styles of biblical writers. And in addition to faithfulness to the original, it is readable, both in terms of private devotion and study, and public worship. If these are the marks of a good translation, then the KJV is an indisputably good translation. It has served its purpose well for four hundred years. It continues to serve its purpose well.

Conclusion

The publication of the King James Version in 1611 was a landmark. The version has left its mark for four hundred years on literature, speech, culture, religion, and, most significantly, the hearts of millions. It has earned its place as the most influential book ever printed, and with the passing of its four-hundredth-anniversary year, venerating it is appropriate. It is old, but it is not outdated.

THE OLD TESTAMENT

Introduction to the Pentateuch

The Hebrew Bible consists of three parts: the Law, the Prophets, and the Writings, often referred to as the Tanakh, a word formed by the first letters of the Hebrew words for law, prophets, and writings. Jesus, in His post-resurrection conversation with the two disciples on the road to Emmaus, alluded to this tripartite division when He spoke of the law of Moses, the prophets, and the psalms (Luke 24:44). In so doing, He referred to all of what we call the Old Testament.

The first division, the Law, is the translation of the Hebrew word torah, which means "instruction." It is, in fact, the most general word in the Old Testament to refer to God's special revelation. The Law consists of the first five books, Genesis–Deuteronomy, and is commonly designated as the Pentateuch. Pentateuch is from the Greek, meaning "five scrolls." The Old Testament itself refers to these five books as "the book of the law of Moses" (2 Kings 14:6), the "book of the law" (Josh. 1:8), "the law of Moses" (Josh. 8:31), or the "book of Moses" (Ezra 6:18). Christ spoke of both the law and the book of Moses (Mark 12:26; Luke 24:44). Indeed, occasionally He referred to the whole corpus simply as "Moses" (Luke 16:29; 24:27). The apostles did the same (Acts 15:21; 2 Cor. 3:15).

The biblical evidence, which includes the very words of Jesus Christ, attributes the authorship of these books to Moses. The evidence is overwhelming and unequivocal. The Scripture states that Moses recorded God's words and deeds in writing, as the Lord had commanded him (Ex. 17:14; 24:4; 34:27; Num. 33:2; Deut. 31:9). The Lord Jesus affirmed that Moses wrote the law: "For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me. But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?" (John 5:46–47; see also Mark 1:44; 7:10; 10:3–5; Luke 5:14; 20:37; John 7:19). The apostles testified to the Mosaic authorship of the Pentateuch (John 1:17,45; Acts 3:22; 7:37; 26:22; Rom. 10:5,19; 2 Cor. 3:15; Heb. 7:14). There is collaborating evidence in the Pentateuch itself that points to Moses as the author. Deuteronomy 31:24 says explicitly, "And it came to pass, when Moses had made an end of writing the words of this law in a book, until they were finished" (also 31:22; see similar commands for Moses to write, Ex. 17:14; 34:27). Certainly, Moses had the qualifications: he was educated; he would have been familiar with the geography, as well as the flora and fauna of both Egypt and the Sinai. The Bible settles the question, and it has been the consensus of Christian tradition throughout the history of the church that Moses is in fact the author.

However, critical, rationalistic scholarship has categorically denied Mosaic authorship of the Pentateuch. Alternative theories have proliferated and evolved, especially from the eighteenth century until the present, with the result that the Pentateuch is viewed as a composite from various traditions, redactors, and editors that did not take its final shape until a thousand years after Moses. No other portion of the Old Testament as been subjected to as much disintegrative criticism as has the Pentateuch. Such an assessment undermines the authority of Scripture and must be categorically rejected.

Dating the life and career of Moses and thus the dating of the Pentateuch is inseparably linked to the dating of the exodus. The key chronological clue comes from 1 Kings 6:1, which states that the exodus occurred 480 years before Solomon's fourth year. Since the dates of Solomon (ca. 970–931 BC) are not disputed, this puts the exodus event in the mid-fifteenth century BC at about 1446, followed by the forty-year trek through the wilderness, ending in 1406. Consequently, Moses wrote each of the five books during that forty-year span from 1446–1406 BC. The specific dates are discussed in each of the respective introductions.

What the four Gospels are to the New Testament, the Pentateuch is to the Old. In addition to key theological themes and life applications, they both record the historical facts upon which the whole message of the Bible rests. The Pentateuch is foundational to the rest of the Old Testament, indeed to the whole of Scripture, since the New Testament is the continuation of God's gracious communication that began in Eden. If the history and theology in the Pentateuch are brought under suspicion, then the authority and veracity of the rest of the Bible, including the gospel itself, crumble. Unquestionably, this is why so much rationalist criticism focuses its attack on the Pentateuch. God's redemptive plan progresses through time and history; therefore, if the history is not trustworthy the gospel message is reduced to tradition and religious folklore. This is why Bible believers must affirm and defend the Mosaic authorship and the historicity of all the events detailed in the Pentateuch.

The Pentateuch reveals the origins and early development of God's redemptive plan in terms of historical narrative interspersed with poetic sections but is essentially a self-contained story. The doctrines of divine sovereignty and providence, fallen humanity, gracious salvation, and the demand for holiness are on the surface, yet run deep, throughout the narrative. Genesis focuses on God's absolute sovereignty in creation and in His plan to redeem a fallen race through the seed of the woman, who is further identified as the seed of Abraham. Consequently, it traces the development of Abraham's seed, beginning history's trek to the fullness of time when the ultimate and Ideal Seed would appear (Gal. 4:4). Exodus focuses on God's covenant love and redeeming power in delivering Abraham's seed from bondage and slavery. God's rescuing Israel vouchsafed the Seed promise and became a paradigm in the rest of Scripture for God's redeeming grace. Leviticus focuses on God's sanctity and the absolute uniqueness of the holiness of His Person. God sets the terms and conditions of fellowshipping with Him, as His people are to imitate His holiness. Numbers focuses on the severity and providence of God as He leads them to the Promised Land. There is severity evidenced through the multiple disciplines designed to keep the faithless from inheriting the blessing. His providence is evidenced in His leading and providing for the people every day through those forty years. Deuteronomy focuses on the principles and requirements of covenant obedience. The conditions required for blessing and the warnings of curse for disobedience became the texts from which virtually every following prophet preached. Simply said, the Pentateuch defines the context for the Bible, both theologically and historically.

Admittedly, as you read through the Pentateuch much will seem to be outdated and irrelevant to the church corporately and to Christian individually. In fact, if we repeat literally some of the Pentateuch's directives, we will violate Hebrew's warnings about returning again to animal sacrifices, which would repudiate the once-for-all sacrifice of Christ. Remember that the Pentateuch records the first installments of God's redemptive revelation. What Moses preached about the gospel was exactly what Paul preached in terms of content, although different in presentation. In contrasting his ministry with that of Moses, Paul said, "We used great plainness of speech" (2 Cor. 3:12). Through Moses God gave the people pictures and object lessons to point them to the reality the perfect Lamb of God. So even though we no longer implement the object lessons, we can still profit from looking at them to direct us to Christ. That was Moses' intent. Paul gives us the interpretational clue for reading the Pentateuch: the veil of misunderstanding that sometimes affects the reading of the Old Testament is "done away in Christ" (2 Cor. 3:14–16). So as you read the Pentateuch, do so with a view to Christ. You will discover in the Pentateuch a visible paradigm of the gospel, both in terms of initial salvation and of progressive sanctification.

GENESIS

Theme

God’s sovereignty over man and all creation and events, and His faithfulness to His covenant despite man’s corruption and unfaithfulness.

Purpose

Moses wrote Genesis most likely while leading Israel through the wilderness (see Introduction to the Pentateuch above). For centuries, the people had lived as slaves under the oppressive rule of Egypt, where many gods were worshiped; now they lived in dependence upon the Lord who was leading them to the Promised Land. Genesis reminds Israel of her noble identity under the one true God by teaching her historical roots in Adam, Noah, and Abraham.

The purpose of Genesis is thus theological, historical, and covenantal. It is theological because all mankind should know the Lord is Creator; thus God is the central figure in the book from beginning to end (1:1; 50:20,25). It is historical because it is the only record of the true history of Adam and the human race, and the true history of Israel and who God is in relation to them. In contrast to other ancient writings, the Bible contains straightforward accounts of real historical events, not myths and legends. It is covenantal because God's mighty works for His people throughout the book (including His establishing covenant with them) were proofs of His faithfulness, and because His people are required to trust Him.

Ultimately Genesis fosters the hope of the church, beginning with God's first great promise of the Messiah and His rich revelation to His ancient people Israel. The great promise in Genesis is that of the "seed" who will redeem mankind from sin and Satan through Christ's suffering (3:15). This promise is foundational to the book, as each successive covenantal revelation revolves around "seed" (9:9; 17:7; 26:3; 28:4; 48:4). It also illuminates the meaning of the sacrifices, which appear immediately after the fall (4:4; cf. 3:21), showing that animal sacrifices were mere shadows of Christ, the promised Seed and the one perfect sacrifice for sin. This protected Israel from resting upon the ceremonies revealed in the law, guarding them from formalistic, external religion and pointing them to trust in the coming Christ. Believers today are warned of the same dangers (Gal. 3).

Issues of Interpretation: Genesis and the History of Origins

The stakes are high when interpreting this book because Genesis is fundamental to the rest of the Bible—indeed, to the entire Christian faith. A plain and straightforward reading of the text has led many believers to view it as the real, historical, authoritative narrative of the origins of the universe, biological life, the human race, and the beginning of the nation of Israel. This literal understanding of Genesis is the one taken in the notes of this study Bible.

However, this reading of Genesis contradicts the views of many modern scientists and historians. To avoid this conflict, people have made various proposals, especially concerning the opening chapters of the book. For example, some authors say that "create" does not mean to make something but to give it a new function. Others argue that "day" need not indicate an actual day or that the early parts of Genesis are a literary framework, more like symbolic poetry than a historical account. Adam, we are told by others, was not literally made by God from the dust but from some apelike creature. Some even say that not all mankind came from Adam or that Adam never existed as an individual man in history as Genesis describes him. Others deny that the seven days of creation are ordinary days and still others try to put gaps in the week of creation. The aim of most of these proposals is to accommodate Genesis to theories about the evolution of mankind from simple forms of life and ultimately from inanimate matter. Some of their authors still affirm orthodox Christian beliefs, but their ideas tend to take many away from biblical faith.

Scripture is like a tapestry with truths running throughout it. We cannot unravel one book of the Bible and think that it will not harm our faith. Many doctrines find their roots in the early chapters of Genesis. The Trinity is involved in creation (1:2,26), with Christ preeminent over all things (John 1:3; Col. 1:15–18). Man is made in the image of God, different from the animals (Gen. 1:27; 1 Cor. 11:7), and at the beginning of creation (Matt. 19:4). The first woman is not made from dust as Adam, but from the side of Adam (Gen. 1:27–28; 2:18,22–24; 1 Tim. 2:13). Marriage is defined as one man to one woman (Gen. 2:23; Matt. 19:4–6; Eph. 5:31). Sorrow and death come from Satan and Adam's sin (Gen. 3; John 8:44; Rom. 5:12; 1 Cor. 15:22). Adam brought suffering and death upon the whole of the human race; there was no death prior to the fall (Rom. 5; 1 Cor. 15). Sin has brought hardship in work for men and in childbearing for women (1 Tim. 2:14–15). Blood sacrifice is essential to atone for sin (Gen. 3:21; 4:4; Heb. 9:22). Clothing is needed as a direct consequence of the fall (Gen. 3:21; 1 Tim. 2:9). The worldwide flood is a type of the final judgment to come (Luke 17:26–27); just as the second coming of Christ is universal to all men, so the flood was universal to the whole world (Gen. 6–9; Luke 17; 2 Peter 3). The Seed of the woman would come and bruise the serpent's head; Christ would be born of a virgin and gain the victory over the serpent and his seed (Gen. 3:15; Isa. 7:14; Luke 2).

All of these doctrines are rooted in Genesis. For example, consider the effects of denying that Adam was a real, historical man who did what Genesis relates, but instead is a symbol of mankind's origins through evolution. We lose, first, the basis of mankind's nobility above the animals (1:26–28; 9:1–6; Ps. 8); second, the root of mankind's unity despite all our colors and cultures (Gen. 3:20; Acts 17:26); third, the divine institution of our distinctive identities and relationships as men and women (Matt. 19:3–6; 1 Cor. 11:8–9; 1 Tim. 2:13–14); fourth, the theology of Christ as our last and greater Adam (Luke 3:22–23,38; Rom. 5:14–19; 1 Cor. 15:21–22,45,47); and fifth, the explanation of death as not original to God's creation but the consequence of sin (Gen. 2:17; Rom. 5:12).

This last point of the theology of death due to sin is particularly important because it is linked to the theology of the atonement taught in the New Testament (Rom. 5; 1 Cor. 15:3). The theistic evolution position (which seeks to accommodate evolution within Scripture) attempts unsuccessfully to have pre-Adamic creatures evolving (and physically dying) before Adam and his fall. Consequently, they try to suggest Adam only spiritually dies at the fall. If the penalty for sin was only spiritual death, then why did Jesus physically die on the cross? Ultimately, theistic evolution undermines the gospel.

In the midst of such confusion, we need to remember that unless the genre of particular portions of Scripture indicates otherwise, Scripture is best read in a straightforward fashion with confidence that God will teach those who seek Him. The evangelical doctrine of Holy Scripture gives us freedom to receive whatever the Bible teaches. The perspicuity (clarity) of Scripture means that the Bible is clear in all the major teachings of the faith. We do not need an interpretation that requires torturous arguments or advanced learning to squeeze Scripture into an evolutionary mold. For example, when the creation account speaks of six days with mornings and evenings, we exegete the word yom (Hebrew for the word "day") consistently with the whole of the Old Testament where yom, mentioned with morning or evening, always refers to ordinary days, not ages.

The sufficiency of Scripture declares that the Bible gives us all we need in order to know the true God and His will. We do not need new scientific insights in order to know what God's ways really are. The authority of Scripture reminds us that whenever the Bible conflicts with human ideas, God's Word must rule. Other forms of study, such as science and history, are valuable and worthy of a Christian's labors; they contribute to our service of our neighbor and stewardship of creation. Indeed Scripture gives the framework for such studies. But for all our learning, we must humbly listen whenever God speaks. This is not turning off our mind, but using it in the most reasonable fashion. What is more reasonable than to believe the words of One who is infinitely wiser than us?

Synopsis

The Contribution of Genesis to Redemptive Revelation

Genesis offers four main contributions to the revelation of Holy Scripture, each of which points to the glory of God in Christ. Each of these contributions finds its major expression in one part of the book (see outline below), but also permeates the book as a whole.

First, Genesis presents the doctrine of creation. God called into being all that exists by His Word and Spirit (1:1–3). Whereas other creation stories in the Ancient Near East spoke of the world arising out of a conflict between various supernatural powers, Genesis unfolds the forces of the universe coming into existence in a peaceful and orderly fashion according to the will of one Creator, who then pronounced them "very good" (v. 31). The process of creation over six days displays God's perfect wisdom and power. Particularly in His creation of man, God revealed that He is a God of relationships. He has relationships within Himself ("Let us make man," v. 26), and He made man in His image (v. 27) to reflect His glory as the good ruler of the world (v. 28) and to relate to Him as children relate to the father who begot them (5:1–3). All mankind shares this common root in Adam (3:20) and all nations come from the offspring of Noah after the flood as recorded in the table of nations (ch. 10). True cosmology and anthropology are only understood through the lens of Genesis.

Second, Genesis teaches the doctrine of corruption. God warned that death would follow disobedience immediately (2:17). Though physical death was mercifully delayed (3:19; 5:5), spiritual death fell on Adam and Eve immediately, replacing openness with shame, boldness with fear, and love with hatred (3:7–12). God drove the king and queen of creation out of His presence and barred the way to Paradise with hostile angels and fiery death (3:24). Their children manifested the bitter fruits of their sin in unacceptable worship, jealousy, murder, lying, and polygamy (ch. 4). While the human race still showed some fragments of the image of God in its skill in agriculture, architecture, music, industry, and poetry (4:17–24), their souls were so corrupt that every notion of their hearts was always evil (6:5), even from their youth (8:21). All of this corruption offended the Lord (6:6–7). God made His judgment against sinners plain when He wiped all humanity off the face of the earth with the sole exception of Noah's family (7:21–23). After the flood, corruption spread again and God deliberately confused the one-world system under Nimrod with different languages at the Tower of Babel (ch. 11), and later yet again when He destroyed the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah (ch. 19).

Third, Genesis introduces the doctrine of covenants. In chs. 2–3, God appears nineteen times as "the LORD God," where the first word is His covenant name, Jehovah. He imposed His law of obedience upon Adam with the threat of death and the promise of life sealed in the sacramental signs of the two trees (2:9,15–17; 3:11,22). He later used this same name when revealing Himself to Moses as the sovereign and faithful covenant God of Israel (Ex. 3:13–18). The word "covenant" appears repeatedly in God's dealings with Noah (Gen. 6:18; 9:9–17) and Abraham (15:18; 17:1–21)—sealed with a rainbow (9:13–16) and circumcision, respectively (17:10–14). The covenant is implied also in expressions like "the God of Abraham," Isaac, or Jacob (24:12,27,42,48; 26:24; 28:13; 31:5,29,42,53; 32:9; 43:23; 46:1,3; 49:24–25; 50:17). But whereas Adam was placed under a law of works before he fell, Abraham and His covenant seed were placed under God's grace—His kindness, mercy, truth, and faithfulness (24:12,14,27; 32:10; 39:21). They were not justified by their works, being deeply flawed men, but by faith in the promise (15:6).

Fourth, Genesis announces the inevitable crisis when man's corruption and strange providences conflict with God's covenants, and God's people must live by faith. Abel worshiped God acceptably but was martyred for his faithfulness. Abraham received God's promise of a multitude of offspring, but stumbled at times as he waited for decades to receive just one son in the covenant. Then he died without seeing the Promised Land in his possession. Jacob was foreordained to be blessed (25:23), but his deceit sent him fleeing into exile that lasted for years, while he himself suffered the tricks of another until God brought him home. The life of Joseph is the supreme example of this crisis, and Genesis devotes over a fifth of its chapters to his humiliation because of his brothers and his exaltation to save the same brothers, and by extension, God's chosen people.

These four themes come to a focal point in Christ. As the eternal, divine Son, Jesus Christ is the great image of God who cooperated with His Father to create all things (Col. 1:15–17; Heb. 1:2–3). He did this so that He could come as the incarnate image of God and rule the universe with the sons and daughters of God re-created in His likeness (Rom. 8:17–23,29). The promise given in the covenants centers upon Him, the Seed that crushed the head of the tempter at great cost to Himself and through whom all nations were and are blessed (Gen. 3:15; 12:3; Gal. 3:8,13–14,16). He was humiliated even unto death on the cross, but was lifted up to save sinners (Acts 5:30–31; Phil. 2:5–11). Just as the Hebrew lord of Egypt fed thousands and rescued them from death, so the Son of God will feed people beyond numbering and rescue them from eternal death.

THE FIRST BOOK OF MOSES CALLED

GENESIS

Genesis 1 [†]

(see article: Creation and God's Glory)

1 [†] In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.
2 [†] And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.
3 [†] And God said, Let there be light: and there was light.
4 [†] And God saw the light, that it was good: and God divided the light from the darkness.
5 [†] And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And the evening and the morning were the first day.
6 [†] ¶ And God said, Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters.
7 And God made the firmament, and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament: and it was so.
8 And God called the firmament Heaven. And the evening and the morning were the second day.
9 [†] ¶ And God said, Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear: and it was so.
10 And God called the dry land Earth; and the gathering together of the waters called he Seas: and God saw that it was good.
11 [†] And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after his kind, whose seed is in itself, upon the earth: and it was so.
12 And the earth brought forth grass, and herb yielding seed after his kind, and the tree yielding fruit, whose seed was in itself, after his kind: and God saw that it was good.
13 And the evening and the morning were the third day.
14 [†] ¶ And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years:
15 And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.
16 And God made two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also.
17 And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth,
18 And to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it was good.
19 And the evening and the morning were the fourth day.
20 [†] And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life, and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open firmament of heaven.
21 [†] And God created great whales, and every living creature that moveth, which the waters brought forth abundantly, after their kind, and every winged fowl after his kind: and God saw that it was good.
22 And God blessed them, saying, Be fruitful, and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let fowl multiply in the earth.
23 And the evening and the morning were the fifth day.
24 ¶ And God said, Let the earth bring forth the living creature after his kind, cattle, and creeping thing, and beast of the earth after his kind: and it was so.
25 [†] And God made the beast of the earth after his kind, and cattle after their kind, and every thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind: and God saw that it was good.
26 [†] ¶ And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

27 [†] So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them.
28 [†] And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.
29 [†] ¶ And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat.
30 And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life, I have given every green herb for meat: and it was so.
31 [†] And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

Genesis 2 [†]

1 Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them.
2 [†] And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.
3 [†] And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made.
4 [†] ¶ These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heavens,
5 [†] And every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew: for the Lord God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground.
6 But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.
7 [†] And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.
8 [†] ¶ And the Lord God planted a garden eastward in Eden; and there he put the man whom he had formed.
9 [†] And out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.
10 [†] And a river went out of Eden to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads.
11 The name of the first is Pison: that is it which compasseth the whole land of Havilah, where there is gold;
12 And the gold of that land is good: there is bdellium and the onyx stone.
13 And the name of the second river is Gihon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ethiopia.
14 And the name of the third river is Hiddekel: that is it which goeth toward the east of Assyria. And the fourth river is Euphrates.
15 [†] And the Lord God took the man, and put him into the garden of Eden to dress it and to keep it.
16 [†] And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat:
17 [†] But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.
18 [†] ¶ And the Lord God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him an help meet for him.
19 [†] And out of the ground the Lord God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air; and brought them unto Adam to see what he would call them: and whatsoever Adam called every living creature, that was the name thereof.
20 And Adam gave names to all cattle, and to the fowl of the air, and to every beast of the field; but for Adam there was not found an help meet for him.
21 [†] And the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof;
22 And the rib, which the Lord God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man.
23 [†] And Adam said, This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called Woman, because she was taken out of Man.
24 Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh.

25 And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not ashamed.

Genesis 3 [†]

(see article: The Fall of Man)

1 [†] Now the serpent was more subtil than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made. And he said unto the woman, Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?
2 And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden:
3 But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.
4 And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die:
5 For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil.
6 And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her; and he did eat.
7 [†] And the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves aprons.
8 [†] And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day: and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the Lord God amongst the trees of the garden.
9 [†] And the Lord God called unto Adam, and said unto him, Where art thou?
10 [†] And he said, I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself.
11 [†] And he said, Who told thee that thou wast naked? Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldest not eat?
12 [†] And the man said, The woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat.
13 [†] And the Lord God said unto the woman, What is this that thou hast done? And the woman said, The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat.
14 [†] And the Lord God said unto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed above all cattle, and above every beast of the field; upon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life:
15 [†] And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel.
16 [†] Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception; in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; and thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee.
17 [†] And unto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life;
18 Thorns also and thistles shall it bring forth to thee; and thou shalt eat the herb of the field;
19 [†] In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return.
20 [†] And Adam called his wife's name Eve; because she was the mother of all living.
21 [†] Unto Adam also and to his wife did the Lord God make coats of skins, and clothed them.
22 [†] ¶ And the Lord God said, Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil: and now, lest he put forth his hand, and take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever:
23 [†] Therefore the Lord God sent him forth from the garden of Eden, to till the ground from whence he was taken.

24 So he drove out the man; and he placed at the east of the garden of Eden Cherubims, and a flaming sword which turned every way, to keep the way of the tree of life.

Genesis 4 [†]

1 [†] And Adam knew Eve his wife; and she conceived, and bare Cain, and said, I have gotten a man from the Lord.
2 And she again bare his brother Abel. And Abel was a keeper of sheep, but Cain was a tiller of the ground.
3 [†] And in process of time it came to pass, that Cain brought of the fruit of the ground an offering unto the Lord.
4 And Abel, he also brought of the firstlings of his flock and of the fat thereof. And the Lord had respect unto Abel and to his offering:
5 [†] But unto Cain and to his offering he had not respect. And Cain was very wroth, and his countenance fell.
6 [†] And the Lord said unto Cain, Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance fallen?
7 [†] If thou doest well, shalt thou not be accepted? and if thou doest not well, sin lieth at the door. And unto thee shall be his desire, and thou shalt rule over him.
8 [†] And Cain talked with Abel his brother: and it came to pass, when they were in the field, that Cain rose up against Abel his brother, and slew him.
9 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Cain, Where is Abel thy brother? And he said, I know not: Am I my brother's keeper?
10 [†] And he said, What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the ground.
11 [†] And now art thou cursed from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thy hand;
12 When thou tillest the ground, it shall not henceforth yield unto thee her strength; a fugitive and a vagabond shalt thou be in the earth.
13 [†] And Cain said unto the Lord, My punishment is greater than I can bear.
14 Behold, thou hast driven me out this day from the face of the earth; and from thy face shall I be hid; and I shall be a fugitive and a vagabond in the earth; and it shall come to pass, that every one that findeth me shall slay me.
15 And the Lord said unto him, Therefore whosoever slayeth Cain, vengeance shall be taken on him sevenfold. And the Lord set a mark upon Cain, lest any finding him should kill him.
16 [†] ¶ And Cain went out from the presence of the Lord, and dwelt in the land of Nod, on the east of Eden.
17 [†] And Cain knew his wife; and she conceived, and bare Enoch: and he builded a city, and called the name of the city, after the name of his son, Enoch.
18 And unto Enoch was born Irad: and Irad begat Mehujael: and Mehujael begat Methusael: and Methusael begat Lamech.
19 [†] ¶ And Lamech took unto him two wives: the name of the one was Adah, and the name of the other Zillah.
20 [†] And Adah bare Jabal: he was the father of such as dwell in tents, and of such as have cattle.
21 And his brother's name was Jubal: he was the father of all such as handle the harp and organ.
22 And Zillah, she also bare Tubal-cain, an instructer of every artificer in brass and iron: and the sister of Tubal-cain was Naamah.
23 [†] And Lamech said unto his wives, Adah and Zillah, Hear my voice; ye wives of Lamech, hearken unto my speech: for I have slain a man to my wounding, and a young man to my hurt.
24 If Cain shall be avenged sevenfold, truly Lamech seventy and sevenfold.

25 [†] ¶ And Adam knew his wife again; and she bare a son, and called his name Seth: For God, said she, hath appointed me another seed instead of Abel, whom Cain slew.
26 [†] And to Seth, to him also there was born a son; and he called his name Enos: then began men to call upon the name of the LORD.

Genesis 5 [†]

1 [†] THIS is the book of the generations of Adam. In the day that God created man, in the likeness of God made he him;
2 Male and female created he them; and blessed them, and called their name Adam, in the day when they were created.
3 ¶ And Adam lived an hundred and thirty years, and begat a son in his own likeness, after his image; and called his name Seth:
4 And the days of Adam after he had begotten Seth were eight hundred years: and he begat sons and daughters:
5 [†] And all the days that Adam lived were nine hundred and thirty years: and he died.
6 And Seth lived an hundred and five years, and begat Enos:
7 And Seth lived after he begat Enos eight hundred and seven years, and begat sons and daughters:
8 And all the days of Seth were nine hundred and twelve years: and he died.
9 ¶ And Enos lived ninety years, and begat Cainan:
10 And Enos lived after he begat Cainan eight hundred and fifteen years, and begat sons and daughters:
11 And all the days of Enos were nine hundred and five years: and he died.
12 ¶ And Cainan lived seventy years, and begat Mahalaleel:
13 And Cainan lived after he begat Mahalaleel eight hundred and forty years, and begat sons and daughters:
14 And all the days of Cainan were nine hundred and ten years: and he died.
15 ¶ And Mahalaleel lived sixty and five years, and begat Jared:
16 And Mahalaleel lived after he begat Jared eight hundred and thirty years, and begat sons and daughters:
17 And all the days of Mahalaleel were eight hundred ninety and five years: and he died.
18 ¶ And Jared lived an hundred sixty and two years, and he begat Enoch:
19 And Jared lived after he begat Enoch eight hundred years, and begat sons and daughters:
20 And all the days of Jared were nine hundred sixty and two years: and he died.
21 [†] ¶ And Enoch lived sixty and five years, and begat Methuselah:
22 [†] And Enoch walked with God after he begat Methuselah three hundred years, and begat sons and daughters:
23 And all the days of Enoch were three hundred sixty and five years:
24 And Enoch walked with God: and he was not; for God took him.
25 And Methuselah lived an hundred eighty and seven years, and begat Lamech:
26 And Methuselah lived after he begat Lamech seven hundred eighty and two years, and begat sons and daughters:
27 And all the days of Methuselah were nine hundred sixty and nine years: and he died.
28 ¶ And Lamech lived an hundred eighty and two years, and begat a son:
29 [†] And he called his name Noah, saying, This same shall comfort us concerning our work and toil of our hands, because of the ground which the LORD hath cursed.
30 And Lamech lived after he begat Noah five hundred ninety and five years, and begat sons and daughters:
31 And all the days of Lamech were seven hundred seventy and seven years: and he died.
32 [†] And Noah was five hundred years old: and Noah begat Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

Genesis 6 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass, when men began to multiply on the face of the earth, and daughters were born unto them,
2 [†] That the sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were fair; and they took them wives of all which they chose.
3 [†] And the Lord said, My spirit shall not always strive with man, for that he also is flesh: yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years.
4 [†] There were giants in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men of renown.
5 [†] ¶ And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually.
6 [†] And it repented the Lord that he had made man on the earth, and it grieved him at his heart.
7 [†] And the Lord said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them.
8 [†] But Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord.
9 [†] ¶ These are the generations of Noah: Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations, and Noah walked with God.
10 And Noah begat three sons, Shem, Ham, and Japheth.
11 [†] The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.
12 [†] And God looked upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth.
13 [†] And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth.
14 [†] ¶ Make thee an ark of gopher wood; rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch.
15 [†] And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of: The length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.
16 [†] A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.
17 [†] And, behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth shall die.
18 [†] But with thee will I establish my covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.
19 [†] And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.
20 [†] Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive.
21 And take thou unto thee of all food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.
22 [†] Thus did Noah; according to all that God commanded him, so did he.

Genesis 7 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord said unto Noah, Come thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation.
2 [†] Of every clean beast thou shalt take to thee by sevens, the male and his female: and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female.
3 Of fowls also of the air by sevens, the male and the female; to keep seed alive upon the face of all the earth.
4 [†] For yet seven days, and I will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights; and every living substance that I have made will I destroy from off the face of the earth.
5 [†] And Noah did according unto all that the Lord commanded him.
6 And Noah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.
7 ¶ And Noah went in, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him, into the ark, because of the waters of the flood.
8 Of clean beasts, and of beasts that are not clean, and of fowls, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth,
9 There went in two and two unto Noah into the ark, the male and the female, as God had commanded Noah.
10 [†] And it came to pass after seven days, that the waters of the flood were upon the earth.
11 [†] ¶ In the six hundredth year of Noah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the fountains of the great deep broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened.
12 [†] And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights.
13 [†] In the selfsame day entered Noah, and Shem, and Ham, and Japheth, the sons of Noah, and Noah's wife, and the three wives of his sons with them, into the ark;
14 They, and every beast after his kind, and all the cattle after their kind, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind, and every fowl after his kind, every bird of every sort.
15 And they went in unto Noah into the ark, two and two of all flesh, wherein is the breath of life.
16 [†] And they that went in, went in male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and the Lord shut him in.
17 And the flood was forty days upon the earth; and the waters increased, and bare up the ark, and it was lift up above the earth.
18 [†] And the waters prevailed, and were increased greatly upon the earth; and the ark went upon the face of the waters.
19 [†] And the waters prevailed exceedingly upon the earth; and all the high hills, that were under the whole heaven, were covered.
20 [†] Fifteen cubits upward did the waters prevail; and the mountains were covered.
21 And all flesh died that moved upon the earth, both of fowl, and of cattle, and of beast, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth, and every man:
22 All in whose nostrils was the breath of life, of all that was in the dry land, died.
23 [†] And every living substance was destroyed which was upon the face of the ground, both man, and cattle, and the creeping things, and the fowl of the heaven; and they were destroyed from the earth: and Noah only remained alive, and they that were with him in the ark.
24 [†] And the waters prevailed upon the earth an hundred and fifty days.

Genesis 8 [†]

1 [†] And God remembered Noah, and every living thing, and all the cattle that was with him in the ark: and God made a wind to pass over the earth, and the waters asswaged;
2 The fountains also of the deep and the windows of heaven were stopped, and the rain from heaven was restrained;
3 [†] And the waters returned from off the earth continually: and after the end of the hundred and fifty days the waters were abated.
4 [†] And the ark rested in the seventh month, on the seventeenth day of the month, upon the mountains of Ararat.
5 [†] And the waters decreased continually until the tenth month: in the tenth month, on the first day of the month, were the tops of the mountains seen.
6 ¶ And it came to pass at the end of forty days, that Noah opened the window of the ark which he had made:
7 And he sent forth a raven, which went forth to and fro, until the waters were dried up from off the earth.
8 Also he sent forth a dove from him, to see if the waters were abated from off the face of the ground;
9 But the dove found no rest for the sole of her foot, and she returned unto him into the ark, for the waters were on the face of the whole earth: then he put forth his hand, and took her, and pulled her in unto him into the ark.
10 And he stayed yet other seven days; and again he sent forth the dove out of the ark;
11 [†] And the dove came in to him in the evening; and, lo, in her mouth was an olive leaf pluckt off: so Noah knew that the waters were abated from off the earth.
12 And he stayed yet other seven days; and sent forth the dove; which returned not again unto him any more.
13 ¶ And it came to pass in the six hundredth and first year, in the first month, the first day of the month, the waters were dried up from off the earth: and Noah removed the covering of the ark, and looked, and, behold, the face of the ground was dry.
14 [†] And in the second month, on the seven and twentieth day of the month, was the earth dried.
15 ¶ And God spake unto Noah, saying,
16 [†] Go forth of the ark, thou, and thy wife, and thy sons, and thy sons' wives with thee.
17 Bring forth with thee every living thing that is with thee, of all flesh, both of fowl, and of cattle, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth; that they may breed abundantly in the earth, and be fruitful, and multiply upon the earth.
18 And Noah went forth, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him:
19 Every beast, every creeping thing, and every fowl, and whatsoever creepeth upon the earth, after their kinds, went forth out of the ark.
20 [†] ¶ And Noah builded an altar unto the LORD; and took of every clean beast, and of every clean fowl, and offered burnt offerings on the altar.
21 And the LORD smelled a sweet savour; and the LORD said in his heart, I will not again curse the ground any more for man's sake; for the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth; neither will I again smite any more every thing living, as I have done.
22 [†] While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease.

Genesis 9 [†]

1 [†] And God blessed Noah and his sons, and said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.
2 And the fear of you and the dread of you shall be upon every beast of the earth, and upon every fowl of the air, upon all that moveth upon the earth, and upon all the fishes of the sea; into your hand are they delivered.
3 [†] Every moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you; even as the green herb have I given you all things.
4 But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat.
5 [†] And surely your blood of your lives will I require; at the hand of every beast will I require it, and at the hand of man; at the hand of every man's brother will I require the life of man.
6 Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man.
7 And you, be ye fruitful, and multiply; bring forth abundantly in the earth, and multiply therein.
8 ¶ And God spake unto Noah, and to his sons with him, saying,
9 [†] And I, behold, I establish my covenant with you, and with your seed after you;
10 And with every living creature that is with you, of the fowl, of the cattle, and of every beast of the earth with you; from all that go out of the ark, to every beast of the earth.
11 And I will establish my covenant with you; neither shall all flesh be cut off any more by the waters of a flood; neither shall there any more be a flood to destroy the earth.
12 And God said, This is the token of the covenant which I make between me and you and every living creature that is with you, for perpetual generations:
13 [†] I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth.
14 And it shall come to pass, when I bring a cloud over the earth, that the bow shall be seen in the cloud:
15 And I will remember my covenant, which is between me and you and every living creature of all flesh; and the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh.
16 And the bow shall be in the cloud; and I will look upon it, that I may remember the everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of all flesh that is upon the earth.
17 And God said unto Noah, This is the token of the covenant, which I have established between me and all flesh that is upon the earth.
18 ¶ And the sons of Noah, that went forth of the ark, were Shem, and Ham, and Japheth: and Ham is the father of Canaan.
19 [†] These are the three sons of Noah: and of them was the whole earth overspread.
20 And Noah began to be an husbandman, and he planted a vineyard:
21 [†] And he drank of the wine, and was drunken; and he was uncovered within his tent.
22 [†] And Ham, the father of Canaan, saw the nakedness of his father, and told his two brethren without.
23 And Shem and Japheth took a garment, and laid it upon both their shoulders, and went backward, and covered the nakedness of their father; and their faces were backward, and they saw not their father's nakedness.
24 [†] And Noah awoke from his wine, and knew what his younger son had done unto him.
25 [†] And he said, Cursed be Canaan; a servant of servants shall he be unto his brethren.
26 And he said, Blessed be the LORD God of Shem; and Canaan shall be his servant.
27 God shall enlarge Japheth, and he shall dwell in the tents of Shem; and Canaan shall be his servant.
28 ¶ And Noah lived after the flood three hundred and fifty years.

29 And all the days of Noah were nine hundred and fifty years: and he died.

Genesis 10 [†]

1 [†] Now these are the generations of the sons of Noah, Shem, Ham, and Japheth: and unto them were sons born after the flood.
2 [†] The sons of Japheth; Gomer, and Magog, and Madai, and Javan, and Tubal, and Meshech, and Tiras.
3 [†] And the sons of Gomer; Ashkenaz, and Riphath, and Togarmah.
4 [†] And the sons of Javan; Elishah, and Tarshish, Kittim, and Dodanim.
5 [†] By these were the isles of the Gentiles divided in their lands; every one after his tongue, after their families, in their nations.
6 [†] ¶ And the sons of Ham; Cush, and Mizraim, and Phut, and Canaan.
7 And the sons of Cush; Seba, and Havilah, and Sabtah, and Raamah, and Sabtecha: and the sons of Raamah; Sheba, and Dedan.
8 [†] And Cush begat Nimrod: he began to be a mighty one in the earth.
9 [†] He was a mighty hunter before the Lord: wherefore it is said, Even as Nimrod the mighty hunter before the Lord.
10 [†] And the beginning of his kingdom was Babel, and Erech, and Accad, and Calneh, in the land of Shinar.
11 [†] Out of that land went forth Asshur, and builded Nineveh, and the city Rehoboth, and Calah, 12 And Resen between Nineveh and Calah: the same is a great city.
13 [†] And Mizraim begat Ludim, and Anamim, and Lehabim, and Naphtuhim, 14 And Pathrusim, and Casluhim, (out of whom came Philistim,) and Caphtorim.
15 [†] ¶ And Canaan begat Sidon his firstborn, and Heth,
16 [†] And the Jebusite, and the Amorite, and the Girgasite,
17 [†] And the Hivite, and the Arkite, and the Sinite,
18 And the Arvadite, and the Zemarite, and the Hamathite: and afterward were the families of the Canaanites spread abroad.
19 And the border of the Canaanites was from Sidon, as thou comest to Gerar, unto Gaza; as thou goest, unto Sodom, and Gomorrah, and Admah, and Zeboim, even unto Lasha.
20 These are the sons of Ham, after their families, after their tongues, in their countries, and in their nations.
21 [†] ¶ Unto Shem also, the father of all the children of Eber, the brother of Japheth the elder, even to him were children born.
22 [†] The children of Shem; Elam, and Asshur, and Arphaxad, and Lud, and Aram.
23 [†] And the children of Aram; Uz, and Hul, and Gether, and Mash.
24 And Arphaxad begat Salah; and Salah begat Eber.
25 [†] And unto Eber were born two sons: the name of one was Peleg; for in his days was the earth divided; and his brother's name was Joktan.
26 And Joktan begat Almodad, and Sheleph, and Hazarmaveth, and Jerah,
27 And Hadoram, and Uzal, and Diklah,
28 And Obal, and Abimael, and Sheba,
29 And Ophir, and Havilah, and Jobab: all these were the sons of Joktan.
30 And their dwelling was from Mesha, as thou goest unto Sephar a mount of the east.
31 These are the sons of Shem, after their families, after their tongues, in their lands, after their nations.
32 [†] These are the families of the sons of Noah, after their generations, in their nations: and by these were the nations divided in the earth after the flood.

Genesis 11 [†]

1 [†] And the whole earth was of one language, and of one speech.
2 [†] And it came to pass, as they journeyed from the east, that they found a plain in the land of Shinar; and they dwelt there.
3 [†] And they said one to another, Go to, let us make brick, and burn them throughly. And they had brick for stone, and slime had they for morter.
4 [†] And they said, Go to, let us build us a city and a tower, whose top may reach unto heaven; and let us make us a name, lest we be scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth.
5 And the Lord came down to see the city and the tower, which the children of men builded.
6 [†] And the Lord said, Behold, the people is one, and they have all one language; and this they begin to do: and now nothing will be restrained from them, which they have imagined to do.
7 [†] Go to, let us go down, and there confound their language, that they may not understand one another's speech.
8 [†] So the Lord scattered them abroad from thence upon the face of all the earth: and they left off to build the city.
9 [†] Therefore is the name of it called Babel; because the Lord did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the Lord scatter them abroad upon the face of all the earth.
10 [†] ¶ These are the generations of Shem: Shem was an hundred years old, and begat Arphaxad two years after the flood:
11 And Shem lived after he begat Arphaxad five hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.
12 And Arphaxad lived five and thirty years, and begat Salah:
13 And Arphaxad lived after he begat Salah four hundred and three years, and begat sons and daughters.
14 And Salah lived thirty years, and begat Eber:
15 And Salah lived after he begat Eber four hundred and three years, and begat sons and daughters.
16 [†] And Eber lived four and thirty years, and begat Peleg:
17 And Eber lived after he begat Peleg four hundred and thirty years, and begat sons and daughters.
18 And Peleg lived thirty years, and begat Reu:
19 And Peleg lived after he begat Reu two hundred and nine years, and begat sons and daughters.
20 And Reu lived two and thirty years, and begat Serug:
21 And Reu lived after he begat Serug two hundred and seven years, and begat sons and daughters.
22 And Serug lived thirty years, and begat Nahor:
23 And Serug lived after he begat Nahor two hundred years, and begat sons and daughters.
24 And Nahor lived nine and twenty years, and begat Terah:
25 And Nahor lived after he begat Terah an hundred and nineteen years, and begat sons and daughters.
26 And Terah lived seventy years, and begat Abram, Nahor, and Haran.
27 [†] ¶ Now these are the generations of Terah: Terah begat Abram, Nahor, and Haran; and Haran begat Lot.
28 And Haran died before his father Terah in the land of his nativity, in Ur of the Chaldees.
29 [†] And Abram and Nahor took them wives: the name of Abram's wife was Sarai; and the name of Nahor's wife, Milcah, the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcah, and the father of Iscah.
30 But Sarai was barren; she had no child.
31 [†] And Terah took Abram his son, and Lot the son of Haran his son's son, and Sarai his daughter in law, his son Abram's wife; and they went forth with them from Ur of the Chaldees, to go into the land of Canaan; and they came unto Haran, and dwelt there.
32 And the days of Terah were two hundred and five years: and Terah died in Haran.

Genesis 12 [†]

1 [†] Now the Lord had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee:
2 And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing:
3 And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.
4 [†] So Abram departed, as the Lord had spoken unto him; and Lot went with him: and Abram was seventy and five years old when he departed out of Haran.
5 [†] And Abram took Sarai his wife, and Lot his brother's son, and all their substance that they had gathered, and the souls that they had gotten in Haran; and they went forth to go into the land of Canaan; and into the land of Canaan they came.
6 [†] ¶ And Abram passed through the land unto the place of Sichem, unto the plain of Moreh. And the Canaanite was then in the land.
7 [†] And the Lord appeared unto Abram, and said, Unto thy seed will I give this land: and there builded he an altar unto the Lord, who appeared unto him.
8 And he removed from thence unto a mountain on the east of Beth-el, and pitched his tent, having Beth-el on the west, and Hai on the east: and there he builded an altar unto the Lord, and called upon the name of the Lord.
9 And Abram journeyed, going on still toward the south.
10 [†] ¶ And there was a famine in the land: and Abram went down into Egypt to sojourn there; for the famine was grievous in the land.
11 [†] And it came to pass, when he was come near to enter into Egypt, that he said unto Sarai his wife, Behold now, I know that thou art a fair woman to look upon:
12 [†] Therefore it shall come to pass, when the Egyptians shall see thee, that they shall say, This is his wife: and they will kill me, but they will save thee alive.
13 Say, I pray thee, thou art my sister: that it may be well with me for thy sake; and my soul shall live because of thee.
14 ¶ And it came to pass, that, when Abram was come into Egypt, the Egyptians beheld the woman that she was very fair.
15 The princes also of Pharaoh saw her, and commended her before Pharaoh: and the woman was taken into Pharaoh's house.
16 [†] And he entreated Abram well for her sake: and he had sheep, and oxen, and he asses, and menservants, and maidservants, and she asses, and camels.
17 [†] And the Lord plagued Pharaoh and his house with great plagues because of Sarai Abram's wife.
18 And Pharaoh called Abram, and said, What is this that thou hast done unto me? why didst thou not tell me that she was thy wife?
19 Why saidst thou, She is my sister? so I might have taken her to me to wife: now therefore behold thy wife, take her, and go thy way.
20 And Pharaoh commanded his men concerning him: and they sent him away, and his wife, and all that he had.

Genesis 13 [†]

1 And Abram went up out of Egypt, he, and his wife, and all that he had, and Lot with him, into the south.
2 [†] And Abram was very rich in cattle, in silver, and in gold.
3 And he went on his journeys from the south even to Beth-el, unto the place where his tent had been at the beginning, between Beth-el and Hai;
4 [†] Unto the place of the altar, which he had made there at the first: and there Abram called on the name of the Lord.
5 ¶ And Lot also, which went with Abram, had flocks, and herds, and tents.
6 And the land was not able to bear them, that they might dwell together: for their substance was great, so that they could not dwell together.
7 [†] And there was a strife between the herdmen of Abram's cattle and the herdmen of Lot's cattle: and the Canaanite and the Perizzite dwelled then in the land.
8 [†] And Abram said unto Lot, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdmen and thy herdmen; for we be brethren.
9 Is not the whole land before thee? separate thyself, I pray thee, from me: if thou wilt take the left hand, then I will go to the right; or if thou depart to the right hand, then I will go to the left.
10 [†] And Lot lifted up his eyes, and beheld all the plain of Jordan, that it was well watered every where, before the Lord destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah, even as the garden of the Lord, like the land of Egypt, as thou comest unto Zoar.
11 [†] Then Lot chose him all the plain of Jordan; and Lot journeyed east: and they separated themselves the one from the other.
12 Abram dwelled in the land of Canaan, and Lot dwelled in the cities of the plain, and pitched his tent toward Sodom.
13 [†] But the men of Sodom were wicked and sinners before the Lord exceedingly.
14 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Abram, after that Lot was separated from him, Lift up now thine eyes, and look from the place where thou art northward, and southward, and eastward, and westward:
15 For all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed for ever.
16 And I will make thy seed as the dust of the earth: so that if a man can number the dust of the earth, then shall thy seed also be numbered.
17 Arise, walk through the land in the length of it and in the breadth of it; for I will give it unto thee.
18 [†] Then Abram removed his tent, and came and dwelt in the plain of Mamre, which is in Hebron, and built there an altar unto the Lord.

Genesis 14 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass in the days of Amraphel king of Shinar, Arioch king of Ellasar, Chedorlaomer king of Elam, and Tidal king of nations;
2 [†] That these made war with Bera king of Sodom, and with Birsha king of Gomorrah, Shinab king of Admah, and Shemeber king of Zeboiim, and the king of Bela, which is Zoar.
3 All these were joined together in the vale of Siddim, which is the salt sea.
4 Twelve years they served Chedorlaomer, and in the thirteenth year they rebelled.
5 [†] And in the fourteenth year came Chedorlaomer, and the kings that were with him, and smote the Rephaims in Ashteroth Karnaim, and the Zuzims in Ham, and the Emims in Shaveh Kiriathaim,
6 And the Horites in their mount Seir, unto El-paran, which is by the wilderness.
7 And they returned, and came to En-mishpat, which is Kadesh, and smote all the country of the Amalekites, and also the Amorites, that dwelt in Hazezon-tamar.
8 And there went out the king of Sodom, and the king of Gomorrah, and the king of Admah, and the king of Zeboiim, and the king of Bela (the same is Zoar;) and they joined battle with them in the vale of Siddim;
9 With Chedorlaomer the king of Elam, and with Tidal king of nations, and Amraphel king of Shinar, and Arioch king of Ellasar; four kings with five.
10 [†] And the vale of Siddim was full of slimepits; and the kings of Sodom and Gomorrah fled, and fell there; and they that remained fled to the mountain.
11 [†] And they took all the goods of Sodom and Gomorrah, and all their victuals, and went their way.
12 And they took Lot, Abram's brother's son, who dwelt in Sodom, and his goods, and departed.
13 [†] ¶ And there came one that had escaped, and told Abram the Hebrew; for he dwelt in the plain of Mamre the Amorite, brother of Eshcol, and brother of Aner: and these were confederate with Abram.
14 [†] And when Abram heard that his brother was taken captive, he armed his trained servants, born in his own house, three hundred and eighteen, and pursued them unto Dan.
15 [†] And he divided himself against them, he and his servants, by night, and smote them, and pursued them unto Hobah, which is on the left hand of Damascus.
16 And he brought back all the goods, and also brought again his brother Lot, and his goods, and the women also, and the people.
17 ¶ And the king of Sodom went out to meet him after his return from the slaughter of Chedorlaomer, and of the kings that were with him, at the valley of Shaveh, which is the king's dale.
18 [†] And Melchizedek king of Salem brought forth bread and wine: and he was the priest of the most high God.
19 And he blessed him, and said, Blessed be Abram of the most high God, possessor of heaven and earth:
20 [†] And blessed be the most high God, which hath delivered thine enemies into thy hand. And he gave him tithes of all.
21 [†] And the king of Sodom said unto Abram, Give me the persons, and take the goods to thyself.
22 And Abram said to the king of Sodom, I have lift up mine hand unto the Lord, the most high God, the possessor of heaven and earth,
23 [†] That I will not take from a thread even to a shoelatchet, and that I will not take any thing that is thine, lest thou shouldest say, I have made Abram rich:
24 [†] Save only that which the young men have eaten, and the portion of the men which went with me, Aner, Eshcol, and Mamre; let them take their portion.

Genesis 15 [†]

(see article: Faith in God)

1 [†] After these things the word of the Lord came unto Abram in a vision, saying, Fear not, Abram: I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward.
2 [†] And Abram said, Lord God, what wilt thou give me, seeing I go childless, and the steward of my house is this Eliezer of Damascus?
3 And Abram said, Behold, to me thou hast given no seed: and, lo, one born in my house is mine heir.
4 [†] And, behold, the word of the Lord came unto him, saying, This shall not be thine heir; but he that shall come forth out of thine own bowels shall be thine heir.
5 [†] And he brought him forth abroad, and said, Look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to number them: and he said unto him, So shall thy seed be.
6 [†] And he believed in the Lord; and he counted it to him for righteousness.
7 [†] And he said unto him, I am the Lord that brought thee out of Ur of the Chaldees, to give thee this land to inherit it.
8 And he said, Lord God, whereby shall I know that I shall inherit it?
9 And he said unto him, Take me an heifer of three years old, and a she goat of three years old, and a ram of three years old, and a turtledove, and a young pigeon.
10 [†] And he took unto him all these, and divided them in the midst, and laid each piece one against another: but the birds divided he not.
11 And when the fowls came down upon the carcases, Abram drove them away.
12 And when the sun was going down, a deep sleep fell upon Abram; and, lo, an horror of great darkness fell upon him.
13 [†] And he said unto Abram, Know of a surety that thy seed shall be a stranger in a land that is not theirs, and shall serve them; and they shall afflict them four hundred years;
14 [†] And also that nation, whom they shall serve, will I judge: and afterward shall they come out with great substance.
15 And thou shalt go to thy fathers in peace; thou shalt be buried in a good old age.
16 [†] But in the fourth generation they shall come hither again: for the iniquity of the Amorites is not yet full.
17 [†] And it came to pass, that, when the sun went down, and it was dark, behold a smoking furnace, and a burning lamp that passed between those pieces.
18 [†] In the same day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates:
19 The Kenites, and the Kenizzites, and the Kadmonites,
20 And the Hittites, and the Perizzites, and the Rephaims,
21 And the Amorites, and the Canaanites, and the Girgashites, and the Jebusites.

Genesis 16 [†]

1 Now Sarai Abram's wife bare him no children: and she had an handmaid, an Egyptian, whose name was Hagar.
2 [†] And Sarai said unto Abram, Behold now, the Lord hath restrained me from bearing: I pray thee, go in unto my maid; it may be that I may obtain children by her. And Abram hearkened to the voice of Sarai.
3 And Sarai Abram's wife took Hagar her maid the Egyptian, after Abram had dwelt ten years in the land of Canaan, and gave her to her husband Abram to be his wife.
4 ¶ And he went in unto Hagar, and she conceived: and when she saw that she had conceived, her mistress was despised in her eyes.
5 And Sarai said unto Abram, My wrong be upon thee: I have given my maid into thy bosom; and when she saw that she had conceived, I was despised in her eyes: the Lord judge between me and thee.
6 [†] But Abram said unto Sarai, Behold, thy maid is in thy hand; do to her as it pleaseth thee. And when Sarai dealt hardly with her, she fled from her face.
7 [†] ¶ And the angel of the Lord found her by a fountain of water in the wilderness, by the fountain in the way to Shur.
8 [†] And he said, Hagar, Sarai's maid, whence camest thou? and whither wilt thou go? And she said, I flee from the face of my mistress Sarai.
9 And the angel of the Lord said unto her, Return to thy mistress, and submit thyself under her hands.
10 And the angel of the Lord said unto her, I will multiply thy seed exceedingly, that it shall not be numbered for multitude.
11 And the angel of the Lord said unto her, Behold, thou art with child, and shalt bear a son, and shalt call his name Ishmael; because the Lord hath heard thy affliction.
12 [†] And he will be a wild man; his hand will be against every man, and every man's hand against him; and he shall dwell in the presence of all his brethren.
13 [†] And she called the name of the Lord that spake unto her, Thou God seest me: for she said, Have I also here looked after him that seeth me?
14 [†] Wherefore the well was called Beer-lahai-roi; behold, it is between Kadesh and Bered.
15 ¶ And Hagar bare Abram a son: and Abram called his son's name, which Hagar bare, Ishmael.
16 [†] And Abram was fourscore and six years old, when Hagar bare Ishmael to Abram.

Genesis 17 [†]

1 [†] And when Abram was ninety years old and nine, the Lord appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me, and be thou perfect.
2 [†] And I will make my covenant between me and thee, and will multiply thee exceedingly.
3 [†] And Abram fell on his face: and God talked with him, saying,
4 [†] As for me, behold, my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of many nations.
5 Neither shall thy name any more be called Abram, but thy name shall be Abraham; for a father of many nations have I made thee.
6 And I will make thee exceeding fruitful, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee.
7 [†] And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee.
8 And I will give unto thee, and to thy seed after thee, the land wherein thou art a stranger, all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession; and I will be their God.
9 [†] ¶ And God said unto Abraham, Thou shalt keep my covenant therefore, thou, and thy seed after thee in their generations.
10 [†] This is my covenant, which ye shall keep, between me and you and thy seed after thee; Every man child among you shall be circumcised.
11 And ye shall circumcise the flesh of your foreskin; and it shall be a token of the covenant betwixt me and you.
12 And he that is eight days old shall be circumcised among you, every man child in your generations, he that is born in the house, or bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy seed.
13 He that is born in thy house, and he that is bought with thy money, must needs be circumcised: and my covenant shall be in your flesh for an everlasting covenant.
14 And the uncircumcised man child whose flesh of his foreskin is not circumcised, that soul shall be cut off from his people; he hath broken my covenant.
15 [†] ¶ And God said unto Abraham, As for Sarai thy wife, thou shalt not call her name Sarai, but Sarah shall her name be.
16 And I will bless her, and give thee a son also of her: yea, I will bless her, and she shall be a mother of nations; kings of people shall be of her.
17 Then Abraham fell upon his face, and laughed, and said in his heart, Shall a child be born unto him that is an hundred years old? and shall Sarah, that is ninety years old, bear?
18 And Abraham said unto God, O that Ishmael might live before thee!
19 [†] And God said, Sarah thy wife shall bear thee a son indeed; and thou shalt call his name Isaac: and I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, and with his seed after him.
20 [†] And as for Ishmael, I have heard thee: Behold, I have blessed him, and will make him fruitful, and will multiply him exceedingly; twelve princes shall he beget, and I will make him a great nation.
21 But my covenant will I establish with Isaac, which Sarah shall bear unto thee at this set time in the next year.
22 And he left off talking with him, and God went up from Abraham.
23 [†] ¶ And Abraham took Ishmael his son, and all that were born in his house, and all that were bought with his money, every male among the men of Abraham's house; and circumcised the flesh of their foreskin in the selfsame day, as God had said unto him.
24 And Abraham was ninety years old and nine, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.
25 And Ishmael his son was thirteen years old, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.

26 In the selfsame day was Abraham circumcised, and Ishmael his son.
27 And all the men of his house, born in the house, and bought with money of the stranger, were circumcised with him.

Genesis 18 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord appeared unto him in the plains of Mamre: and he sat in the tent door in the heat of the day;
2 [†] And he lift up his eyes and looked, and, lo, three men stood by him: and when he saw them, he ran to meet them from the tent door, and bowed himself toward the ground,
3 And said, My Lord, if now I have found favour in thy sight, pass not away, I pray thee, from thy servant:
4 [†] Let a little water, I pray you, be fetched, and wash your feet, and rest yourselves under the tree:
5 [†] And I will fetch a morsel of bread, and comfort ye your hearts; after that ye shall pass on: for therefore are ye come to your servant. And they said, So do, as thou hast said.
6 [†] And Abraham hastened into the tent unto Sarah, and said, Make ready quickly three measures of fine meal, knead it, and make cakes upon the hearth.
7 [†] And Abraham ran unto the herd, and fetcht a calf tender and good, and gave it unto a young man; and he hasted to dress it.
8 And he took butter, and milk, and the calf which he had dressed, and set it before them; and he stood by them under the tree, and they did eat.
9 ¶ And they said unto him, Where is Sarah thy wife? And he said, Behold, in the tent.
10 [†] And he said, I will certainly return unto thee according to the time of life; and, lo, Sarah thy wife shall have a son. And Sarah heard it in the tent door, which was behind him.
11 [†] Now Abraham and Sarah were old and well stricken in age; and it ceased to be with Sarah after the manner of women.
12 Therefore Sarah laughed within herself, saying, After I am waxed old shall I have pleasure, my lord being old also?
13 [†] And the Lord said unto Abraham, Wherefore did Sarah laugh, saying, Shall I of a surety bear a child, which am old?
14 [†] Is any thing too hard for the Lord? At the time appointed I will return unto thee, according to the time of life, and Sarah shall have a son.
15 Then Sarah denied, saying, I laughed not; for she was afraid. And he said, Nay; but thou didst laugh.
16 ¶ And the men rose up from thence, and looked toward Sodom: and Abraham went with them to bring them on the way.
17 And the Lord said, Shall I hide from Abraham that thing which I do;
18 Seeing that Abraham shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be blessed in him?
19 [†] For I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment; that the Lord may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him.
20 And the Lord said, Because the cry of Sodom and Gomorrah is great, and because their sin is very grievous;
21 I will go down now, and see whether they have done altogether according to the cry of it, which is come unto me; and if not, I will know.
22 And the men turned their faces from thence, and went toward Sodom: but Abraham stood yet before the Lord.
23 ¶ And Abraham drew near, and said, Wilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked?
24 [†] Peradventure there be fifty righteous within the city: wilt thou also destroy and not spare the place for the fifty righteous that are therein?

25 [†] That be far from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked: and that the righteous should be as the wicked, that be far from thee: Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?
26 And the LORD said, If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sakes.
27 [†] And Abraham answered and said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord, which am but dust and ashes:
28 Peradventure there shall lack five of the fifty righteous: wilt thou destroy all the city for lack of five? And he said, If I find there forty and five, I will not destroy it.
29 And he spake unto him yet again, and said, Peradventure there shall be forty found there. And he said, I will not do it for forty's sake.
30 And he said unto him, Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak: Peradventure there shall thirty be found there. And he said, I will not do it, if I find thirty there.
31 And he said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord: Peradventure there shall be twenty found there. And he said, I will not destroy it for twenty's sake.
32 And he said, Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak yet but this once: Peradventure ten shall be found there. And he said, I will not destroy it for ten's sake.
33 [†] And the LORD went his way, as soon as he had left communing with Abraham: and Abraham returned unto his place.

Genesis 19 [†]

1 [†] And there came two angels to Sodom at even; and Lot sat in the gate of Sodom: and Lot seeing them rose up to meet them; and he bowed himself with his face toward the ground;
2 And he said, Behold now, my lords, turn in, I pray you, into your servant's house, and tarry all night, and wash your feet, and ye shall rise up early, and go on your ways. And they said, Nay; but we will abide in the street all night.
3 [†] And he pressed upon them greatly; and they turned in unto him, and entered into his house; and he made them a feast, and did bake unleavened bread, and they did eat.
4 [†] ¶ But before they lay down, the men of the city, even the men of Sodom, compassed the house round, both old and young, all the people from every quarter:
5 [†] And they called unto Lot, and said unto him, Where are the men which came in to thee this night? bring them out unto us, that we may know them.
6 And Lot went out at the door unto them, and shut the door after him,
7 [†] And said, I pray you, brethren, do not so wickedly.
8 Behold now, I have two daughters which have not known man; let me, I pray you, bring them out unto you, and do ye to them as is good in your eyes: only unto these men do nothing; for therefore came they under the shadow of my roof.
9 [†] And they said, Stand back. And they said again, This one fellow came in to sojourn, and he will needs be a judge: now will we deal worse with thee, than with them. And they pressed sore upon the man, even Lot, and came near to break the door.
10 But the men put forth their hand, and pulled Lot into the house to them, and shut to the door.
11 And they smote the men that were at the door of the house with blindness, both small and great: so that they wearied themselves to find the door.
12 ¶ And the men said unto Lot, Hast thou here any besides? son in law, and thy sons, and thy daughters, and whatsoever thou hast in the city, bring them out of this place:
13 [†] For we will destroy this place, because the cry of them is waxen great before the face of the Lord; and the Lord hath sent us to destroy it.
14 [†] And Lot went out, and spake unto his sons in law, which married his daughters, and said, Up, get you out of this place; for the Lord will destroy this city. But he seemed as one that mocked unto his sons in law.
15 ¶ And when the morning arose, then the angels hastened Lot, saying, Arise, take thy wife, and thy two daughters, which are here; lest thou be consumed in the iniquity of the city.
16 [†] And while he lingered, the men laid hold upon his hand, and upon the hand of his wife, and upon the hand of his two daughters; the Lord being merciful unto him: and they brought him forth, and set him without the city.
17 ¶ And it came to pass, when they had brought them forth abroad, that he said, Escape for thy life; look not behind thee, neither stay thou in all the plain; escape to the mountain, lest thou be consumed.
18 And Lot said unto them, Oh, not so, my Lord:
19 Behold now, thy servant hath found grace in thy sight, and thou hast magnified thy mercy, which thou hast shewed unto me in saving my life; and I cannot escape to the mountain, lest some evil take me, and I die:
20 Behold now, this city is near to flee unto, and it is a little one: Oh, let me escape thither, (is it not a little one?) and my soul shall live.
21 And he said unto him, See, I have accepted thee concerning this thing also, that I will not overthrow this city, for the which thou hast spoken.

22 Haste thee, escape thither; for I cannot do any thing till thou be come thither. Therefore the name of the city was called Zoar.
23 ¶ The sun was risen upon the earth when Lot entered into Zoar.
24 [†] Then the LORD rained upon Sodom and upon Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the LORD out of heaven;
25 And he overthrew those cities, and all the plain, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and that which grew upon the ground.
26 [†] ¶ But his wife looked back from behind him, and she became a pillar of salt.
27 [†] ¶ And Abraham gat up early in the morning to the place where he stood before the LORD:
28 And he looked toward Sodom and Gomorrah, and toward all the land of the plain, and beheld, and, lo, the smoke of the country went up as the smoke of a furnace.
29 [†] ¶ And it came to pass, when God destroyed the cities of the plain, that God remembered Abraham, and sent Lot out of the midst of the overthrow, when he overthrew the cities in the which Lot dwelt.
30 [†] ¶ And Lot went up out of Zoar, and dwelt in the mountain, and his two daughters with him; for he feared to dwell in Zoar: and he dwelt in a cave, he and his two daughters.
31 And the firstborn said unto the younger, Our father is old, and there is not a man in the earth to come in unto us after the manner of all the earth:
32 Come, let us make our father drink wine, and we will lie with him, that we may preserve seed of our father.
33 And they made their father drink wine that night: and the firstborn went in, and lay with her father; and he perceived not when she lay down, nor when she arose.
34 [†] And it came to pass on the morrow, that the firstborn said unto the younger, Behold, I lay yesternight with my father: let us make him drink wine this night also; and go thou in, and lie with him, that we may preserve seed of our father.
35 And they made their father drink wine that night also: and the younger arose, and lay with him; and he perceived not when she lay down, nor when she arose.
36 Thus were both the daughters of Lot with child by their father.
37 [†] And the firstborn bare a son, and called his name Moab: the same is the father of the Moabites unto this day.
38 And the younger, she also bare a son, and called his name Ben-ammi: the same is the father of the children of Ammon unto this day.

Genesis 20 [†]

1 [†] And Abraham journeyed from thence toward the south country, and dwelled between Kadesh and Shur, and sojourned in Gerar.
2 [†] And Abraham said of Sarah his wife, She is my sister: and Abimelech king of Gerar sent, and took Sarah.
3 [†] But God came to Abimelech in a dream by night, and said to him, Behold, thou art but a dead man, for the woman which thou hast taken; for she is a man's wife.
4 But Abimelech had not come near her: and he said, Lord, wilt thou slay also a righteous nation?
5 Said he not unto me, She is my sister? and she, even she herself said, He is my brother: in the integrity of my heart and innocency of my hands have I done this.
6 [†] And God said unto him in a dream, Yea, I know that thou didst this in the integrity of thy heart; for I also withheld thee from sinning against me: therefore suffered I thee not to touch her.
7 [†] Now therefore restore the man his wife; for he is a prophet, and he shall pray for thee, and thou shalt live: and if thou restore her not, know thou that thou shalt surely die, thou, and all that are thine.
8 [†] Therefore Abimelech rose early in the morning, and called all his servants, and told all these things in their ears: and the men were sore afraid.
9 [†] Then Abimelech called Abraham, and said unto him, What hast thou done unto us? and what have I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me and on my kingdom a great sin? thou hast done deeds unto me that ought not to be done.
10 And Abimelech said unto Abraham, What sawest thou, that thou hast done this thing?
11 And Abraham said, Because I thought, Surely the fear of God is not in this place; and they will slay me for my wife's sake.
12 And yet indeed she is my sister; she is the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother; and she became my wife.
13 And it came to pass, when God caused me to wander from my father's house, that I said unto her, This is thy kindness which thou shalt shew unto me; at every place whither we shall come, say of me, He is my brother.
14 [†] And Abimelech took sheep, and oxen, and menservants, and womenservants, and gave them unto Abraham, and restored him Sarah his wife.
15 And Abimelech said, Behold, my land is before thee: dwell where it pleaseth thee.
16 [†] And unto Sarah he said, Behold, I have given thy brother a thousand pieces of silver: behold, he is to thee a covering of the eyes, unto all that are with thee, and with all other: thus she was reproved.
17 ¶ So Abraham prayed unto God: and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his maidservants; and they bare children.
18 [†] For the Lord had fast closed up all the wombs of the house of Abimelech, because of Sarah Abraham's wife.

Genesis 21 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord visited Sarah as he had said, and the Lord did unto Sarah as he had spoken.
2 For Sarah conceived, and bare Abraham a son in his old age, at the set time of which God had spoken to him.
3 [†] And Abraham called the name of his son that was born unto him, whom Sarah bare to him, Isaac.
4 [†] And Abraham circumcised his son Isaac being eight days old, as God had commanded him.
5 [†] And Abraham was an hundred years old, when his son Isaac was born unto him.
6 [†] ¶ And Sarah said, God hath made me to laugh, so that all that hear will laugh with me.
7 [†] And she said, Who would have said unto Abraham, that Sarah should have given children suck? for I have born him a son in his old age.
8 And the child grew, and was weaned: and Abraham made a great feast the same day that Isaac was weaned.
9 [†] ¶ And Sarah saw the son of Hagar the Egyptian, which she had born unto Abraham, mocking.
10 [†] Wherefore she said unto Abraham, Cast out this bondwoman and her son: for the son of this bondwoman shall not be heir with my son, even with Isaac.
11 And the thing was very grievous in Abraham's sight because of his son.
12 [†] ¶ And God said unto Abraham, Let it not be grievous in thy sight because of the lad, and because of thy bondwoman; in all that Sarah hath said unto thee, hearken unto her voice; for in Isaac shall thy seed be called.
13 And also of the son of the bondwoman will I make a nation, because he is thy seed.
14 [†] And Abraham rose up early in the morning, and took bread, and a bottle of water, and gave it unto Hagar, putting it on her shoulder, and the child, and sent her away: and she departed, and wandered in the wilderness of Beer-sheba.
15 And the water was spent in the bottle, and she cast the child under one of the shrubs.
16 And she went, and sat her down over against him a good way off, as it were a bowshot: for she said, Let me not see the death of the child. And she sat over against him, and lift up her voice, and wept.
17 [†] And God heard the voice of the lad; and the angel of God called to Hagar out of heaven, and said unto her, What aileth thee, Hagar? fear not; for God hath heard the voice of the lad where he is.
18 Arise, lift up the lad, and hold him in thine hand; for I will make him a great nation.
19 And God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water; and she went, and filled the bottle with water, and gave the lad drink.
20 And God was with the lad; and he grew, and dwelt in the wilderness, and became an archer.
21 [†] And he dwelt in the wilderness of Paran: and his mother took him a wife out of the land of Egypt.
22 [†] ¶ And it came to pass at that time, that Abimelech and Phichol the chief captain of his host spake unto Abraham, saying, God is with thee in all that thou doest:
23 Now therefore swear unto me here by God that thou wilt not deal falsely with me, nor with my son, nor with my son's son: but according to the kindness that I have done unto thee, thou shalt do unto me, and to the land wherein thou hast sojourned.
24 And Abraham said, I will swear.
25 And Abraham reproved Abimelech because of a well of water, which Abimelech's servants had violently taken away.
26 [†] And Abimelech said, I wot not who hath done this thing: neither didst thou tell me, neither yet heard I of it, but to day.
27 And Abraham took sheep and oxen, and gave them unto Abimelech; and both of them made a covenant.

28 And Abraham set seven ewe lambs of the flock by themselves.
29 And Abimelech said unto Abraham, What mean these seven ewe lambs which thou hast set by themselves?
30 And he said, For these seven ewe lambs shalt thou take of my hand, that they may be a witness unto me, that I have digged this well.
31 Wherefore he called that place Beer-sheba; because there they sware both of them.
32 Thus they made a covenant at Beer-sheba: then Abimelech rose up, and Phichol the chief captain of his host, and they returned into the land of the Philistines.
33 [†] ¶ And Abraham planted a grove in Beer-sheba, and called there on the name of the LORD, the everlasting God.
34 And Abraham sojourned in the Philistines' land many days.

Genesis 22 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass after these things, that God did tempt Abraham, and said unto him, Abraham: and he said, Behold, here I am.
2 [†] And he said, Take now thy son, thine only son Isaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land of Moriah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.
3 [†] ¶ And Abraham rose up early in the morning, and saddled his ass, and took two of his young men with him, and Isaac his son, and clave the wood for the burnt offering, and rose up, and went unto the place of which God had told him.
4 Then on the third day Abraham lifted up his eyes, and saw the place afar off.
5 [†] And Abraham said unto his young men, Abide ye here with the ass; and I and the lad will go yonder and worship, and come again to you.
6 And Abraham took the wood of the burnt offering, and laid it upon Isaac his son; and he took the fire in his hand, and a knife; and they went both of them together.
7 And Isaac spake unto Abraham his father, and said, My father: and he said, Here am I, my son. And he said, Behold the fire and the wood: but where is the lamb for a burnt offering?
8 [†] And Abraham said, My son, God will provide himself a lamb for a burnt offering: so they went both of them together.
9 And they came to the place which God had told him of; and Abraham built an altar there, and laid the wood in order, and bound Isaac his son, and laid him on the altar upon the wood.
10 And Abraham stretched forth his hand, and took the knife to slay his son.
11 [†] And the angel of the Lord called unto him out of heaven, and said, Abraham, Abraham: and he said, Here am I.
12 [†] And he said, Lay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: for now I know that thou fearest God, seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me.
13 [†] And Abraham lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Abraham went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering in the stead of his son.
14 [†] And Abraham called the name of that place Jehovah-jireh: as it is said to this day, In the mount of the Lord it shall be seen.
15 ¶ And the angel of the Lord called unto Abraham out of heaven the second time,
16 [†] And said, By myself have I sworn, saith the Lord, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son:
17 That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea shore; and thy seed shall possess the gate of his enemies;
18 [†] And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice.
19 So Abraham returned unto his young men, and they rose up and went together to Beer-sheba; and Abraham dwelt at Beer-sheba.
20 [†] ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that it was told Abraham, saying, Behold, Milcah, she hath also born children unto thy brother Nahor;
21 Huz his firstborn, and Buz his brother, and Kemuel the father of Aram,
22 And Chesed, and Hazo, and Pildash, and Jidlaph, and Bethuel.
23 And Bethuel begat Rebekah: these eight Milcah did bear to Nahor, Abraham's brother.
24 And his concubine, whose name was Reumah, she bare also Tebah, and Gaham, and Thahash, and Maachah.

Genesis 23 [†]

1 And Sarah was an hundred and seven and twenty years old: these were the years of the life of Sarah.
2 [†] And Sarah died in Kirjath-arba; the same is Hebron in the land of Canaan: and Abraham came to mourn for Sarah, and to weep for her.
3 [†] ¶ And Abraham stood up from before his dead, and spake unto the sons of Heth, saying,
4 [†] I am a stranger and a sojourner with you: give me a possession of a buryingplace with you, that I may bury my dead out of my sight.
5 And the children of Heth answered Abraham, saying unto him,
6 [†] Hear us, my lord: thou art a mighty prince among us: in the choice of our sepulchres bury thy dead; none of us shall withhold from thee his sepulchre, but that thou mayest bury thy dead.
7 [†] And Abraham stood up, and bowed himself to the people of the land, even to the children of Heth.
8 [†] And he communed with them, saying, If it be your mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight; hear me, and intreat for me to Ephron the son of Zohar,
9 That he may give me the cave of Machpelah, which he hath, which is in the end of his field; for as much money as it is worth he shall give it me for a possession of a buryingplace amongst you.
10 And Ephron dwelt among the children of Heth: and Ephron the Hittite answered Abraham in the audience of the children of Heth, even of all that went in at the gate of his city, saying,
11 [†] Nay, my lord, hear me: the field give I thee, and the cave that is therein, I give it thee; in the presence of the sons of my people give I it thee: bury thy dead.
12 And Abraham bowed down himself before the people of the land.
13 [†] And he spake unto Ephron in the audience of the people of the land, saying, But if thou wilt give it, I pray thee, hear me: I will give thee money for the field; take it of me, and I will bury my dead there.
14 And Ephron answered Abraham, saying unto him,
15 [†] My lord, hearken unto me: the land is worth four hundred shekels of silver; what is that betwixt me and thee? bury therefore thy dead.
16 And Abraham hearkened unto Ephron; and Abraham weighed to Ephron the silver, which he had named in the audience of the sons of Heth, four hundred shekels of silver, current money with the merchant.
17 ¶ And the field of Ephron, which was in Machpelah, which was before Mamre, the field, and the cave which was therein, and all the trees that were in the field, that were in all the borders round about, were made sure
18 Unto Abraham for a possession in the presence of the children of Heth, before all that went in at the gate of his city.
19 And after this, Abraham buried Sarah his wife in the cave of the field of Machpelah before Mamre: the same is Hebron in the land of Canaan.
20 [†] And the field, and the cave that is therein, were made sure unto Abraham for a possession of a buryingplace by the sons of Heth.

Genesis 24 [†]

1 [†] And Abraham was old, and well stricken in age: and the Lord had blessed Abraham in all things.
2 And Abraham said unto his eldest servant of his house, that ruled over all that he had, Put, I pray thee, thy hand under my thigh:
3 [†] And I will make thee swear by the Lord, the God of heaven, and the God of the earth, that thou shalt not take a wife unto my son of the daughters of the Canaanites, among whom I dwell:
4 [†] But thou shalt go unto my country, and to my kindred, and take a wife unto my son Isaac.
5 [†] And the servant said unto him, Peradventure the woman will not be willing to follow me unto this land: must I needs bring thy son again unto the land from whence thou camest?
6 [†] And Abraham said unto him, Beware thou that thou bring not my son thither again.
7 [†] ¶ The Lord God of heaven, which took me from my father's house, and from the land of my kindred, and which spake unto me, and that sware unto me, saying, Unto thy seed will I give this land; he shall send his angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife unto my son from thence.
8 And if the woman will not be willing to follow thee, then thou shalt be clear from this my oath: only bring not my son thither again.
9 And the servant put his hand under the thigh of Abraham his master, and sware to him concerning that matter.
10 [†] ¶ And the servant took ten camels of the camels of his master, and departed; for all the goods of his master were in his hand: and he arose, and went to Mesopotamia, unto the city of Nahor.
11 [†] And he made his camels to kneel down without the city by a well of water at the time of the evening, even the time that women go out to draw water.
12 [†] And he said, O Lord God of my master Abraham, I pray thee, send me good speed this day, and shew kindness unto my master Abraham.
13 Behold, I stand here by the well of water; and the daughters of the men of the city come out to draw water:
14 [†] And let it come to pass, that the damsel to whom I shall say, Let down thy pitcher, I pray thee, that I may drink; and she shall say, Drink, and I will give thy camels drink also: let the same be she that thou hast appointed for thy servant Isaac; and thereby shall I know that thou hast shewed kindness unto my master.
15 ¶ And it came to pass, before he had done speaking, that, behold, Rebekah came out, who was born to Bethuel, son of Milcah, the wife of Nahor, Abraham's brother, with her pitcher upon her shoulder.
16 [†] And the damsel was very fair to look upon, a virgin, neither had any man known her: and she went down to the well, and filled her pitcher, and came up.
17 And the servant ran to meet her, and said, Let me, I pray thee, drink a little water of thy pitcher.
18 [†] And she said, Drink, my lord: and she hasted, and let down her pitcher upon her hand, and gave him drink.
19 And when she had done giving him drink, she said, I will draw water for thy camels also, until they have done drinking.
20 [†] And she hasted, and emptied her pitcher into the trough, and ran again unto the well to draw water, and drew for all his camels.
21 [†] And the man wondering at her held his peace, to wit whether the Lord had made his journey prosperous or not.
22 [†] And it came to pass, as the camels had done drinking, that the man took a golden earring of half a shekel weight, and two bracelets for her hands of ten shekels weight of gold;
23 And said, Whose daughter art thou? tell me, I pray thee: is there room in thy father's house for us to lodge in?

24 And she said unto him, I am the daughter of Bethuel the son of Milcah, which she bare unto Nahor.
25 [†] She said moreover unto him, We have both straw and provender enough, and room to lodge in.
26 And the man bowed down his head, and worshipped the LORD.
27 [†] And he said, Blessed be the LORD God of my master Abraham, who hath not left destitute my master of his mercy and his truth: I being in the way, the LORD led me to the house of my master's brethren.
28 [†] And the damsel ran, and told them of her mother's house these things.
29 ¶ And Rebekah had a brother, and his name was Laban: and Laban ran out unto the man, unto the well.
30 And it came to pass, when he saw the earring and bracelets upon his sister's hands, and when he heard the words of Rebekah his sister, saying, Thus spake the man unto me; that he came unto the man; and, behold, he stood by the camels at the well.
31 [†] And he said, Come in, thou blessed of the LORD; wherefore standest thou without? for I have prepared the house, and room for the camels.
32 [†] ¶ And the man came into the house: and he ungirded his camels, and gave straw and provender for the camels, and water to wash his feet, and the men's feet that were with him.
33 [†] And there was set meat before him to eat: but he said, I will not eat, until I have told mine errand. And he said, Speak on.
34 And he said, I am Abraham's servant.
35 And the LORD hath blessed my master greatly; and he is become great: and he hath given him flocks, and herds, and silver, and gold, and menservants, and maidservants, and camels, and asses.
36 And Sarah my master's wife bare a son to my master when she was old: and unto him hath he given all that he hath.
37 [†] And my master made me swear, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife to my son of the daughters of the Canaanites, in whose land I dwell:
38 But thou shalt go unto my father's house, and to my kindred, and take a wife unto my son.
39 [†] And I said unto my master, Peradventure the woman will not follow me.
40 And he said unto me, The LORD, before whom I walk, will send his angel with thee, and prosper thy way; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of my kindred, and of my father's house:
41 Then shalt thou be clear from this my oath, when thou comest to my kindred; and if they give not thee one, thou shalt be clear from my oath.
42 And I came this day unto the well, and said, O LORD God of my master Abraham, if now thou do prosper my way which I go:
43 Behold, I stand by the well of water; and it shall come to pass, that when the virgin cometh forth to draw water, and I say to her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water of thy pitcher to drink;
44 And she say to me, Both drink thou, and I will also draw for thy camels: let the same be the woman whom the LORD hath appointed out for my master's son.
45 And before I had done speaking in mine heart, behold, Rebekah came forth with her pitcher on her shoulder; and she went down unto the well, and drew water: and I said unto her, Let me drink, I pray thee.
46 And she made haste, and let down her pitcher from her shoulder, and said, Drink, and I will give thy camels drink also: so I drank, and she made the camels drink also.
47 And I asked her, and said, Whose daughter art thou? And she said, The daughter of Bethuel, Nahor's son, whom Milcah bare unto him: and I put the earring upon her face, and the bracelets upon her hands.
48 And I bowed down my head, and worshipped the LORD, and blessed the LORD God of my master Abraham, which had led me in the right way to take my master's brother's daughter unto his son.

49 And now if ye will deal kindly and truly with my master, tell me: and if not, tell me; that I may turn to the right hand, or to the left.
50 Then Laban and Bethuel answered and said, The thing proceedeth from the LORD: we cannot speak unto thee bad or good.
51 Behold, Rebekah is before thee, take her, and go, and let her be thy master's son's wife, as the LORD hath spoken.
52 And it came to pass, that, when Abraham's servant heard their words, he worshipped the LORD, bowing himself to the earth.
53 [†] And the servant brought forth jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment, and gave them to Rebekah: he gave also to her brother and to her mother precious things.
54 [†] And they did eat and drink, he and the men that were with him, and tarried all night; and they rose up in the morning, and he said, Send me away unto my master.
55 [†] And her brother and her mother said, Let the damsel abide with us a few days, at the least ten; after that she shall go.
56 And he said unto them, Hinder me not, seeing the LORD hath prospered my way; send me away that I may go to my master.
57 [†] And they said, We will call the damsel, and enquire at her mouth.
58 And they called Rebekah, and said unto her, Wilt thou go with this man? And she said, I will go.
59 [†] And they sent away Rebekah their sister, and her nurse, and Abraham's servant, and his men.
60 [†] And they blessed Rebekah, and said unto her, Thou art our sister, be thou the mother of thousands of millions, and let thy seed possess the gate of those which hate them.
61 ¶ And Rebekah arose, and her damsels, and they rode upon the camels, and followed the man: and the servant took Rebekah, and went his way.
62 [†] And Isaac came from the way of the well Lahai-roi; for he dwelt in the south country.
63 And Isaac went out to meditate in the field at the eventide: and he lifted up his eyes, and saw, and, behold, the camels were coming.
64 [†] And Rebekah lifted up her eyes, and when she saw Isaac, she lighted off the camel.
65 For she had said unto the servant, What man is this that walketh in the field to meet us? And the servant had said, It is my master: therefore she took a vail, and covered herself.
66 And the servant told Isaac all things that he had done.
67 [†] And Isaac brought her into his mother Sarah's tent, and took Rebekah, and she became his wife; and he loved her: and Isaac was comforted after his mother's death.

Genesis 25 [†]

1 Then again Abraham took a wife, and her name was Keturah.
2 And she bare him Zimran, and Jokshan, and Medan, and Midian, and Ishbak, and Shuah.
3 [†] And Jokshan begat Sheba, and Dedan. And the sons of Dedan were Asshurim, and Letushim, and Leummim.
4 And the sons of Midian; Ephah, and Epher, and Hanoch, and Abida, and Eldaah. All these were the children of Keturah.
5 ¶ And Abraham gave all that he had unto Isaac.
6 But unto the sons of the concubines, which Abraham had, Abraham gave gifts, and sent them away from Isaac his son, while he yet lived, eastward, unto the east country.
7 [†] And these are the days of the years of Abraham's life which he lived, an hundred threescore and fifteen years.
8 [†] Then Abraham gave up the ghost, and died in a good old age, an old man, and full of years; and was gathered to his people.
9 And his sons Isaac and Ishmael buried him in the cave of Machpelah, in the field of Ephron the son of Zohar the Hittite, which is before Mamre;
10 The field which Abraham purchased of the sons of Heth: there was Abraham buried, and Sarah his wife.
11 ¶ And it came to pass after the death of Abraham, that God blessed his son Isaac; and Isaac dwelt by the well Lahai-roi.
12 [†] ¶ Now these are the generations of Ishmael, Abraham's son, whom Hagar the Egyptian, Sarah's handmaid, bare unto Abraham:
13 [†] And these are the names of the sons of Ishmael, by their names, according to their generations: the firstborn of Ishmael, Nebajoth; and Kedar, and Adbeel, and Mibsam,
14 And Mishma, and Dumah, and Massa,
15 Hadar, and Tema, Jetur, Naphish, and Kedemah:
16 [†] These are the sons of Ishmael, and these are their names, by their towns, and by their castles; twelve princes according to their nations.
17 And these are the years of the life of Ishmael, an hundred and thirty and seven years: and he gave up the ghost and died; and was gathered unto his people.
18 And they dwelt from Havilah unto Shur, that is before Egypt, as thou goest toward Assyria: and he died in the presence of all his brethren.
19 [†] ¶ And these are the generations of Isaac, Abraham's son: Abraham begat Isaac:
20 And Isaac was forty years old when he took Rebekah to wife, the daughter of Bethuel the Syrian of Padan-aram, the sister to Laban the Syrian.
21 [†] And Isaac intreated the Lord for his wife, because she was barren: and the Lord was intreated of him, and Rebekah his wife conceived.
22 And the children struggled together within her; and she said, If it be so, why am I thus? And she went to enquire of the Lord.
23 [†] And the Lord said unto her, Two nations are in thy womb, and two manner of people shall be separated from thy bowels; and the one people shall be stronger than the other people; and the elder shall serve the younger.
24 ¶ And when her days to be delivered were fulfilled, behold, there were twins in her womb.
25 And the first came out red, all over like an hairy garment; and they called his name Esau.

26 And after that came his brother out, and his hand took hold on Esau's heel; and his name was called Jacob: and Isaac was threescore years old when she bare them.
27 [†] And the boys grew: and Esau was a cunning hunter, a man of the field; and Jacob was a plain man, dwelling in tents.
28 [†] And Isaac loved Esau, because he did eat of his venison: but Rebekah loved Jacob.
29 [†] ¶ And Jacob sod pottage: and Esau came from the field, and he was faint:
30 [†] And Esau said to Jacob, Feed me, I pray thee, with that same red pottage; for I am faint: therefore was his name called Edom.
31 [†] And Jacob said, Sell me this day thy birthright.
32 And Esau said, Behold, I am at the point to die: and what profit shall this birthright do to me?
33 And Jacob said, Swear to me this day; and he sware unto him: and he sold his birthright unto Jacob.
34 [†] Then Jacob gave Esau bread and pottage of lentiles; and he did eat and drink, and rose up, and went his way: thus Esau despised his birthright.

Genesis 26 [†]

1 [†] And there was a famine in the land, beside the first famine that was in the days of Abraham. And Isaac went unto Abimelech king of the Philistines unto Gerar.
2 [†] And the Lord appeared unto him, and said, Go not down into Egypt; dwell in the land which I shall tell thee of:
3 Sojourn in this land, and I will be with thee, and will bless thee; for unto thee, and unto thy seed, I will give all these countries, and I will perform the oath which I sware unto Abraham thy father;
4 And I will make thy seed to multiply as the stars of heaven, and will give unto thy seed all these countries; and in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed;
5 Because that Abraham obeyed my voice, and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws.
6 ¶ And Isaac dwelt in Gerar:
7 [†] And the men of the place asked him of his wife; and he said, She is my sister: for he feared to say, She is my wife; lest, said he, the men of the place should kill me for Rebekah; because she was fair to look upon.
8 [†] And it came to pass, when he had been there a long time, that Abimelech king of the Philistines looked out at a window, and saw, and, behold, Isaac was sporting with Rebekah his wife.
9 [†] And Abimelech called Isaac, and said, Behold, of a surety she is thy wife: and how saidst thou, She is my sister? And Isaac said unto him, Because I said, Lest I die for her.
10 [†] And Abimelech said, What is this thou hast done unto us? one of the people might lightly have lien with thy wife, and thou shouldest have brought guiltiness upon us.
11 And Abimelech charged all his people, saying, He that toucheth this man or his wife shall surely be put to death.
12 Then Isaac sowed in that land, and received in the same year an hundredfold: and the Lord blessed him.
13 [†] And the man waxed great, and went forward, and grew until he became very great:
14 [†] For he had possession of flocks, and possession of herds, and great store of servants: and the Philistines envied him.
15 [†] For all the wells which his father's servants had digged in the days of Abraham his father, the Philistines had stopped them, and filled them with earth.
16 [†] And Abimelech said unto Isaac, Go from us; for thou art much mightier than we.
17 ¶ And Isaac departed thence, and pitched his tent in the valley of Gerar, and dwelt there.
18 And Isaac digged again the wells of water, which they had digged in the days of Abraham his father; for the Philistines had stopped them after the death of Abraham: and he called their names after the names by which his father had called them.
19 And Isaac's servants digged in the valley, and found there a well of springing water.
20 And the herdmen of Gerar did strive with Isaac's herdmen, saying, The water is ours: and he called the name of the well Esek; because they strove with him.
21 And they digged another well, and strove for that also: and he called the name of it Sitnah.
22 And he removed from thence, and digged another well; and for that they strove not: and he called the name of it Rehoboth; and he said, For now the Lord hath made room for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land.
23 And he went up from thence to Beer-sheba.
24 [†] And the Lord appeared unto him the same night, and said, I am the God of Abraham thy father: fear not, for I am with thee, and will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for my servant Abraham's sake.

25 [†] And he builded an altar there, and called upon the name of the LORD, and pitched his tent there: and there Isaac's servants digged a well.
26 ¶ Then Abimelech went to him from Gerar, and Ahuzzath one of his friends, and Phichol the chief captain of his army.
27 And Isaac said unto them, Wherefore come ye to me, seeing ye hate me, and have sent me away from you?
28 [†] And they said, We saw certainly that the LORD was with thee: and we said, Let there be now an oath betwixt us, even betwixt us and thee, and let us make a covenant with thee;
29 That thou wilt do us no hurt, as we have not touched thee, and as we have done unto thee nothing but good, and have sent thee away in peace: thou art now the blessed of the LORD.
30 And he made them a feast, and they did eat and drink.
31 And they rose up betimes in the morning, and sware one to another: and Isaac sent them away, and they departed from him in peace.
32 And it came to pass the same day, that Isaac's servants came, and told him concerning the well which they had digged, and said unto him, We have found water.
33 And he called it Shebah: therefore the name of the city is Beer-sheba unto this day.
34 [†] ¶ And Esau was forty years old when he took to wife Judith the daughter of Beeri the Hittite, and Bashemath the daughter of Elon the Hittite:
35 Which were a grief of mind unto Isaac and to Rebekah.

Genesis 27 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass, that when Isaac was old, and his eyes were dim, so that he could not see, he called Esau his eldest son, and said unto him, My son: and he said unto him, Behold, here am I.
2 And he said, Behold now, I am old, I know not the day of my death:
3 Now therefore take, I pray thee, thy weapons, thy quiver and thy bow, and go out to the field, and take me some venison;
4 And make me savoury meat, such as I love, and bring it to me, that I may eat; that my soul may bless thee before I die.
5 [†] And Rebekah heard when Isaac spake to Esau his son. And Esau went to the field to hunt for venison, and to bring it.
6 ¶ And Rebekah spake unto Jacob her son, saying, Behold, I heard thy father speak unto Esau thy brother, saying,
7 Bring me venison, and make me savoury meat, that I may eat, and bless thee before the Lord before my death.
8 Now therefore, my son, obey my voice according to that which I command thee.
9 Go now to the flock, and fetch me from thence two good kids of the goats; and I will make them savoury meat for thy father, such as he loveth:
10 And thou shalt bring it to thy father, that he may eat, and that he may bless thee before his death.
11 [†] And Jacob said to Rebekah his mother, Behold, Esau my brother is a hairy man, and I am a smooth man:
12 My father peradventure will feel me, and I shall seem to him as a deceiver; and I shall bring a curse upon me, and not a blessing.
13 And his mother said unto him, Upon me be thy curse, my son: only obey my voice, and go fetch me them.
14 And he went, and fetched, and brought them to his mother: and his mother made savoury meat, such as his father loved.
15 [†] And Rebekah took goodly raiment of her eldest son Esau, which were with her in the house, and put them upon Jacob her younger son:
16 And she put the skins of the kids of the goats upon his hands, and upon the smooth of his neck:
17 And she gave the savoury meat and the bread, which she had prepared, into the hand of her son Jacob.
18 ¶ And he came unto his father, and said, My father: and he said, Here am I; who art thou, my son?
19 [†] And Jacob said unto his father, I am Esau thy firstborn; I have done according as thou badest me: arise, I pray thee, sit and eat of my venison, that thy soul may bless me.
20 [†] And Isaac said unto his son, How is it that thou hast found it so quickly, my son? And he said, Because the Lord thy God brought it to me.
21 [†] And Isaac said unto Jacob, Come near, I pray thee, that I may feel thee, my son, whether thou be my very son Esau or not.
22 And Jacob went near unto Isaac his father; and he felt him, and said, The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau.
23 And he discerned him not, because his hands were hairy, as his brother Esau's hands: so he blessed him.
24 And he said, Art thou my very son Esau? And he said, I am.
25 And he said, Bring it near to me, and I will eat of my son's venison, that my soul may bless thee. And he brought it near to him, and he did eat: and he brought him wine, and he drank.

26 And his father Isaac said unto him, Come near now, and kiss me, my son.
27 And he came near, and kissed him: and he smelled the smell of his raiment, and blessed him, and said, See, the smell of my son is as the smell of a field which the LORD hath blessed:
28 [†] Therefore God give thee of the dew of heaven, and the fatness of the earth, and plenty of corn and wine:
29 Let people serve thee, and nations bow down to thee: be lord over thy brethren, and let thy mother's sons bow down to thee: cursed be every one that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee.
30 ¶ And it came to pass, as soon as Isaac had made an end of blessing Jacob, and Jacob was yet scarce gone out from the presence of Isaac his father, that Esau his brother came in from his hunting.
31 And he also had made savoury meat, and brought it unto his father, and said unto his father, Let my father arise, and eat of his son's venison, that thy soul may bless me.
32 And Isaac his father said unto him, Who art thou? And he said, I am thy son, thy firstborn Esau.
33 [†] And Isaac trembled very exceedingly, and said, Who? where is he that hath taken venison, and brought it me, and I have eaten of all before thou camest, and have blessed him? yea, and he shall be blessed.
34 And when Esau heard the words of his father, he cried with a great and exceeding bitter cry, and said unto his father, Bless me, even me also, O my father.
35 [†] And he said, Thy brother came with subtilty, and hath taken away thy blessing.
36 [†] And he said, Is not he rightly named Jacob? for he hath supplanted me these two times: he took away my birthright; and, behold, now he hath taken away my blessing. And he said, Hast thou not reserved a blessing for me?
37 And Isaac answered and said unto Esau, Behold, I have made him thy lord, and all his brethren have I given to him for servants; and with corn and wine have I sustained him: and what shall I do now unto thee, my son?
38 And Esau said unto his father, Hast thou but one blessing, my father? bless me, even me also, O my father. And Esau lifted up his voice, and wept.
39 And Isaac his father answered and said unto him, Behold, thy dwelling shall be the fatness of the earth, and of the dew of heaven from above;
40 [†] And by thy sword shalt thou live, and shalt serve thy brother; and it shall come to pass when thou shalt have the dominion, that thou shalt break his yoke from off thy neck.
41 ¶ And Esau hated Jacob because of the blessing wherewith his father blessed him: and Esau said in his heart, The days of mourning for my father are at hand; then will I slay my brother Jacob.
42 [†] And these words of Esau her elder son were told to Rebekah: and she sent and called Jacob her younger son, and said unto him, Behold, thy brother Esau, as touching thee, doth comfort himself, purposing to kill thee.
43 Now therefore, my son, obey my voice; and arise, flee thou to Laban my brother to Haran;
44 And tarry with him a few days, until thy brother's fury turn away;
45 Until thy brother's anger turn away from thee, and he forget that which thou hast done to him: then I will send, and fetch thee from thence: why should I be deprived also of you both in one day?
46 [†] And Rebekah said to Isaac, I am weary of my life because of the daughters of Heth: if Jacob take a wife of the daughters of Heth, such as these which are of the daughters of the land, what good shall my life do me?

Genesis 28 [†]

1 [†] And Isaac called Jacob, and blessed him, and charged him, and said unto him, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan.
2 [†] Arise, go to Padan-aram, to the house of Bethuel thy mother's father; and take thee a wife from thence of the daughters of Laban thy mother's brother.
3 [†] And God Almighty bless thee, and make thee fruitful, and multiply thee, that thou mayest be a multitude of people;
4 And give thee the blessing of Abraham, to thee, and to thy seed with thee; that thou mayest inherit the land wherein thou art a stranger, which God gave unto Abraham.
5 And Isaac sent away Jacob: and he went to Padan-aram unto Laban, son of Bethuel the Syrian, the brother of Rebekah, Jacob's and Esau's mother.
6 ¶ When Esau saw that Isaac had blessed Jacob, and sent him away to Padan-aram, to take him a wife from thence; and that as he blessed him he gave him a charge, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan;
7 And that Jacob obeyed his father and his mother, and was gone to Padan-aram;
8 And Esau seeing that the daughters of Canaan pleased not Isaac his father;
9 [†] Then went Esau unto Ishmael, and took unto the wives which he had Mahalath the daughter of Ishmael Abraham's son, the sister of Nebajoth, to be his wife.
10 [†] ¶ And Jacob went out from Beer-sheba, and went toward Haran.
11 And he lighted upon a certain place, and tarried there all night, because the sun was set; and he took of the stones of that place, and put them for his pillows, and lay down in that place to sleep.
12 [†] And he dreamed, and behold a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven: and behold the angels of God ascending and descending on it.
13 [†] And, behold, the Lord stood above it, and said, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Isaac: the land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed;
14 And thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth, and thou shalt spread abroad to the west, and to the east, and to the north, and to the south: and in thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed.
15 And, behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land; for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of.
16 [†] ¶ And Jacob awaked out of his sleep, and he said, Surely the Lord is in this place; and I knew it not.
17 And he was afraid, and said, How dreadful is this place! this is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven.
18 And Jacob rose up early in the morning, and took the stone that he had put for his pillows, and set it up for a pillar, and poured oil upon the top of it.
19 And he called the name of that place Beth-el: but the name of that city was called Luz at the first.
20 [†] And Jacob vowed a vow, saying, If God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on,
21 So that I come again to my father's house in peace; then shall the Lord be my God:
22 And this stone, which I have set for a pillar, shall be God's house: and of all that thou shalt give me I will surely give the tenth unto thee.

Genesis 29 [†]

1 [†] Then Jacob went on his journey, and came into the land of the people of the east.
2 And he looked, and behold a well in the field, and, lo, there were three flocks of sheep lying by it; for out of that well they watered the flocks: and a great stone was upon the well's mouth.
3 [†] And thither were all the flocks gathered: and they rolled the stone from the well's mouth, and watered the sheep, and put the stone again upon the well's mouth in his place.
4 [†] And Jacob said unto them, My brethren, whence be ye? And they said, Of Haran are we.
5 And he said unto them, Know ye Laban the son of Nahor? And they said, We know him.
6 And he said unto them, Is he well? And they said, He is well: and, behold, Rachel his daughter cometh with the sheep.
7 And he said, Lo, it is yet high day, neither is it time that the cattle should be gathered together: water ye the sheep, and go and feed them.
8 And they said, We cannot, until all the flocks be gathered together, and till they roll the stone from the well's mouth; then we water the sheep.
9 ¶ And while he yet spake with them, Rachel came with her father's sheep: for she kept them.
10 [†] And it came to pass, when Jacob saw Rachel the daughter of Laban his mother's brother, and the sheep of Laban his mother's brother, that Jacob went near, and rolled the stone from the well's mouth, and watered the flock of Laban his mother's brother.
11 [†] And Jacob kissed Rachel, and lifted up his voice, and wept.
12 And Jacob told Rachel that he was her father's brother, and that he was Rebekah's son: and she ran and told her father.
13 And it came to pass, when Laban heard the tidings of Jacob his sister's son, that he ran to meet him, and embraced him, and kissed him, and brought him to his house. And he told Laban all these things.
14 And Laban said to him, Surely thou art my bone and my flesh. And he abode with him the space of a month.
15 [†] ¶ And Laban said unto Jacob, Because thou art my brother, shouldest thou therefore serve me for nought? tell me, what shall thy wages be?
16 And Laban had two daughters: the name of the elder was Leah, and the name of the younger was Rachel.
17 [†] Leah was tender eyed; but Rachel was beautiful and well favoured.
18 And Jacob loved Rachel; and said, I will serve thee seven years for Rachel thy younger daughter.
19 And Laban said, It is better that I give her to thee, than that I should give her to another man: abide with me.
20 And Jacob served seven years for Rachel; and they seemed unto him but a few days, for the love he had to her.
21 ¶ And Jacob said unto Laban, Give me my wife, for my days are fulfilled, that I may go in unto her.
22 And Laban gathered together all the men of the place, and made a feast.
23 And it came to pass in the evening, that he took Leah his daughter, and brought her to him; and he went in unto her.
24 And Laban gave unto his daughter Leah Zilpah his maid for an handmaid.
25 [†] And it came to pass, that in the morning, behold, it was Leah: and he said to Laban, What is this thou hast done unto me? did not I serve with thee for Rachel? wherefore then hast thou beguiled me?
26 And Laban said, It must not be so done in our country, to give the younger before the firstborn.
27 Fulfil her week, and we will give thee this also for the service which thou shalt serve with me yet seven other years.

28 And Jacob did so, and fulfilled her week: and he gave him Rachel his daughter to wife also.
29 And Laban gave to Rachel his daughter Bilhah his handmaid to be her maid.
30 And he went in also unto Rachel, and he loved also Rachel more than Leah, and served with him yet seven other years.
31 [†] ¶ And when the LORD saw that Leah was hated, he opened her womb: but Rachel was barren.
32 And Leah conceived, and bare a son, and she called his name Reuben: for she said, Surely the LORD hath looked upon my affliction; now therefore my husband will love me.
33 And she conceived again, and bare a son; and said, Because the LORD hath heard that I was hated, he hath therefore given me this son also: and she called his name Simeon.
34 And she conceived again, and bare a son; and said, Now this time will my husband be joined unto me, because I have born him three sons: therefore was his name called Levi.
35 And she conceived again, and bare a son: and she said, Now will I praise the LORD: therefore she called his name Judah; and left bearing.

Genesis 30 [†]

1 [†] And when Rachel saw that she bare Jacob no children, Rachel envied her sister; and said unto Jacob, Give me children, or else I die.
2 And Jacob's anger was kindled against Rachel: and he said, Am I in God's stead, who hath withheld from thee the fruit of the womb?
3 [†] And she said, Behold my maid Bilhah, go in unto her; and she shall bear upon my knees, that I may also have children by her.
4 And she gave him Bilhah her handmaid to wife: and Jacob went in unto her.
5 And Bilhah conceived, and bare Jacob a son.
6 [†] And Rachel said, God hath judged me, and hath also heard my voice, and hath given me a son: therefore called she his name Dan.
7 And Bilhah Rachel's maid conceived again, and bare Jacob a second son.
8 And Rachel said, With great wrestlings have I wrestled with my sister, and I have prevailed: and she called his name Naphtali.
9 When Leah saw that she had left bearing, she took Zilpah her maid, and gave her Jacob to wife.
10 And Zilpah Leah's maid bare Jacob a son.
11 [†] And Leah said, A troop cometh: and she called his name Gad.
12 And Zilpah Leah's maid bare Jacob a second son.
13 And Leah said, Happy am I, for the daughters will call me blessed: and she called his name Asher.
14 [†] ¶ And Reuben went in the days of wheat harvest, and found mandrakes in the field, and brought them unto his mother Leah. Then Rachel said to Leah, Give me, I pray thee, of thy son's mandrakes.
15 [†] And she said unto her, Is it a small matter that thou hast taken my husband? and wouldest thou take away my son's mandrakes also? And Rachel said, Therefore he shall lie with thee to night for thy son's mandrakes.
16 [†] And Jacob came out of the field in the evening, and Leah went out to meet him, and said, Thou must come in unto me; for surely I have hired thee with my son's mandrakes. And he lay with her that night.
17 [†] And God hearkened unto Leah, and she conceived, and bare Jacob the fifth son.
18 And Leah said, God hath given me my hire, because I have given my maiden to my husband: and she called his name Issachar.
19 And Leah conceived again, and bare Jacob the sixth son.
20 [†] And Leah said, God hath endued me with a good dowry; now will my husband dwell with me, because I have born him six sons: and she called his name Zebulun.
21 And afterwards she bare a daughter, and called her name Dinah.
22 [†] ¶ And God remembered Rachel, and God hearkened to her, and opened her womb.
23 [†] And she conceived, and bare a son; and said, God hath taken away my reproach:
24 [†] And she called his name Joseph; and said, The Lord shall add to me another son.
25 ¶ And it came to pass, when Rachel had born Joseph, that Jacob said unto Laban, Send me away, that I may go unto mine own place, and to my country.
26 Give me my wives and my children, for whom I have served thee, and let me go: for thou knowest my service which I have done thee.
27 [†] And Laban said unto him, I pray thee, if I have found favour in thine eyes, tarry: for I have learned by experience that the Lord hath blessed me for thy sake.
28 And he said, Appoint me thy wages, and I will give it.
29 And he said unto him, Thou knowest how I have served thee, and how thy cattle was with me.

30 For it was little which thou hadst before I came, and it is now increased unto a multitude; and the LORD hath blessed thee since my coming: and now when shall I provide for mine own house also?
31 And he said, What shall I give thee? And Jacob said, Thou shalt not give me any thing: if thou wilt do this thing for me, I will again feed and keep thy flock:
32 [†] I will pass through all thy flock to day, removing from thence all the speckled and spotted cattle, and all the brown cattle among the sheep, and the spotted and speckled among the goats: and of such shall be my hire.
33 So shall my righteousness answer for me in time to come, when it shall come for my hire before thy face: every one that is not speckled and spotted among the goats, and brown among the sheep, that shall be counted stolen with me.
34 And Laban said, Behold, I would it might be according to thy word.
35 [†] And he removed that day the he goats that were ringstraked and spotted, and all the she goats that were speckled and spotted, and every one that had some white in it, and all the brown among the sheep, and gave them into the hand of his sons.
36 And he set three days' journey betwixt himself and Jacob: and Jacob fed the rest of Laban's flocks.
37 [†] ¶ And Jacob took him rods of green poplar, and of the hazel and chesnut tree; and pilled white strakes in them, and made the white appear which was in the rods.
38 And he set the rods which he had pilled before the flocks in the gutters in the watering troughs when the flocks came to drink, that they should conceive when they came to drink.
39 And the flocks conceived before the rods, and brought forth cattle ringstraked, speckled, and spotted.
40 And Jacob did separate the lambs, and set the faces of the flocks toward the ringstraked, and all the brown in the flock of Laban; and he put his own flocks by themselves, and put them not unto Laban's cattle.
41 And it came to pass, whensoever the stronger cattle did conceive, that Jacob laid the rods before the eyes of the cattle in the gutters, that they might conceive among the rods.
42 But when the cattle were feeble, he put them not in: so the feebler were Laban's, and the stronger Jacob's.
43 [†] And the man increased exceedingly, and had much cattle, and maidservants, and menservants, and camels, and asses.

Genesis 31 [†]

1 [†] And he heard the words of Laban's sons, saying, Jacob hath taken away all that was our father's; and of that which was our father's hath he gotten all this glory.
2 [†] And Jacob beheld the countenance of Laban, and, behold, it was not toward him as before.
3 [†] And the Lord said unto Jacob, Return unto the land of thy fathers, and to thy kindred; and I will be with thee.
4 And Jacob sent and called Rachel and Leah to the field unto his flock,
5 And said unto them, I see your father's countenance, that it is not toward me as before; but the God of my father hath been with me.
6 And ye know that with all my power I have served your father.
7 [†] And your father hath deceived me, and changed my wages ten times; but God suffered him not to hurt me.
8 If he said thus, The speckled shall be thy wages; then all the cattle bare speckled: and if he said thus, The ringstraked shall be thy hire; then bare all the cattle ringstraked.
9 Thus God hath taken away the cattle of your father, and given them to me.
10 [†] And it came to pass at the time that the cattle conceived, that I lifted up mine eyes, and saw in a dream, and, behold, the rams which leaped upon the cattle were ringstraked, speckled, and grisled.
11 [†] And the angel of God spake unto me in a dream, saying, Jacob: And I said, Here am I.
12 And he said, Lift up now thine eyes, and see, all the rams which leap upon the cattle are ringstraked, speckled, and grisled: for I have seen all that Laban doeth unto thee.
13 I am the God of Beth-el, where thou anointedst the pillar, and where thou vowedst a vow unto me: now arise, get thee out from this land, and return unto the land of thy kindred.
14 And Rachel and Leah answered and said unto him, Is there yet any portion or inheritance for us in our father's house?
15 Are we not counted of him strangers? for he hath sold us, and hath quite devoured also our money.
16 For all the riches which God hath taken from our father, that is ours, and our children's: now then, whatsoever God hath said unto thee, do.
17 ¶ Then Jacob rose up, and set his sons and his wives upon camels;
18 And he carried away all his cattle, and all his goods which he had gotten, the cattle of his getting, which he had gotten in Padan-aram, for to go to Isaac his father in the land of Canaan.
19 [†] And Laban went to shear his sheep: and Rachel had stolen the images that were her father's.
20 [†] And Jacob stole away unawares to Laban the Syrian, in that he told him not that he fled.
21 [†] So he fled with all that he had; and he rose up, and passed over the river, and set his face toward the mount Gilead.
22 And it was told Laban on the third day that Jacob was fled.
23 And he took his brethren with him, and pursued after him seven days' journey; and they overtook him in the mount Gilead.
24 [†] And God came to Laban the Syrian in a dream by night, and said unto him, Take heed that thou speak not to Jacob either good or bad.
25 ¶ Then Laban overtook Jacob. Now Jacob had pitched his tent in the mount: and Laban with his brethren pitched in the mount of Gilead.
26 [†] And Laban said to Jacob, What hast thou done, that thou hast stolen away unawares to me, and carried away my daughters, as captives taken with the sword?
27 Wherefore didst thou flee away secretly, and steal away from me; and didst not tell me, that I might have sent thee away with mirth, and with songs, with tabret, and with harp?

28 And hast not suffered me to kiss my sons and my daughters? thou hast now done foolishly in so doing.
29 [†] It is in the power of my hand to do you hurt: but the God of your father spake unto me yesternight, saying, Take thou heed that thou speak not to Jacob either good or bad.
30 [†] And now, though thou wouldest needs be gone, because thou sore longedst after thy father's house, yet wherefore hast thou stolen my gods?
31 [†] And Jacob answered and said to Laban, Because I was afraid: for I said, Peradventure thou wouldest take by force thy daughters from me.
32 With whomsoever thou findest thy gods, let him not live: before our brethren discern thou what is thine with me, and take it to thee. For Jacob knew not that Rachel had stolen them.
33 And Laban went into Jacob's tent, and into Leah's tent, and into the two maidservants' tents; but he found them not. Then went he out of Leah's tent, and entered into Rachel's tent.
34 [†] Now Rachel had taken the images, and put them in the camel's furniture, and sat upon them. And Laban searched all the tent, but found them not.
35 [†] And she said to her father, Let it not displease my lord that I cannot rise up before thee; for the custom of women is upon me. And he searched, but found not the images.
36 [†] ¶ And Jacob was wroth, and chode with Laban: and Jacob answered and said to Laban, What is my trespass? what is my sin, that thou hast so hotly pursued after me?
37 [†] Whereas thou hast searched all my stuff, what hast thou found of all thy household stuff? set it here before my brethren and thy brethren, that they may judge betwixt us both.
38 [†] This twenty years have I been with thee; thy ewes and thy she goats have not cast their young, and the rams of thy flock have I not eaten.
39 That which was torn of beasts I brought not unto thee; I bare the loss of it; of my hand didst thou require it, whether stolen by day, or stolen by night.
40 Thus I was; in the day the drought consumed me, and the frost by night; and my sleep departed from mine eyes.
41 Thus have I been twenty years in thy house; I served thee fourteen years for thy two daughters, and six years for thy cattle: and thou hast changed my wages ten times.
42 [†] Except the God of my father, the God of Abraham, and the fear of Isaac, had been with me, surely thou hadst sent me away now empty. God hath seen mine affliction and the labour of my hands, and rebuked thee yesternight.
43 ¶ And Laban answered and said unto Jacob, These daughters are my daughters, and these children are my children, and these cattle are my cattle, and all that thou seest is mine: and what can I do this day unto these my daughters, or unto their children which they have born?
44 Now therefore come thou, let us make a covenant, I and thou; and let it be for a witness between me and thee.
45 And Jacob took a stone, and set it up for a pillar.
46 And Jacob said unto his brethren, Gather stones; and they took stones, and made an heap: and they did eat there upon the heap.
47 And Laban called it Jegar-sahadutha: but Jacob called it Galeed.
48 And Laban said, This heap is a witness between me and thee this day. Therefore was the name of it called Galeed;
49 [†] And Mizpah; for he said, The LORD watch between me and thee, when we are absent one from another.
50 If thou shalt afflict my daughters, or if thou shalt take other wives beside my daughters, no man is with us; see, God is witness betwixt me and thee.
51 And Laban said to Jacob, Behold this heap, and behold this pillar, which I have cast betwixt me and thee;

52 This heap be witness, and this pillar be witness, that I will not pass over this heap to thee, and that thou shalt not pass over this heap and this pillar unto me, for harm.
53 The God of Abraham, and the God of Nahor, the God of their father, judge betwixt us. And Jacob sware by the fear of his father Isaac.
54 Then Jacob offered sacrifice upon the mount, and called his brethren to eat bread: and they did eat bread, and tarried all night in the mount.
55 And early in the morning Laban rose up, and kissed his sons and his daughters, and blessed them: and Laban departed, and returned unto his place.

Genesis 32 [†]

1 [†] And Jacob went on his way, and the angels of God met him.
2 And when Jacob saw them, he said, This is God's host: and he called the name of that place Mahanaim.
3 [†] And Jacob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother unto the land of Seir, the country of Edom.
4 And he commanded them, saying, Thus shall ye speak unto my lord Esau; Thy servant Jacob saith thus, I have sojourned with Laban, and stayed there until now:
5 And I have oxen, and asses, flocks, and menservants, and womenservants: and I have sent to tell my lord, that I may find grace in thy sight.
6 [†] ¶ And the messengers returned to Jacob, saying, We came to thy brother Esau, and also he cometh to meet thee, and four hundred men with him.
7 Then Jacob was greatly afraid and distressed: and he divided the people that was with him, and the flocks, and herds, and the camels, into two bands;
8 [†] And said, If Esau come to the one company, and smite it, then the other company which is left shall escape.
9 [†] ¶ And Jacob said, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Isaac, the Lord which saidst unto me, Return unto thy country, and to thy kindred, and I will deal well with thee:
10 [†] I am not worthy of the least of all the mercies, and of all the truth, which thou hast shewed unto thy servant; for with my staff I passed over this Jordan; and now I am become two bands.
11 [†] Deliver me, I pray thee, from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau: for I fear him, lest he will come and smite me, and the mother with the children.
12 [†] And thou saidst, I will surely do thee good, and make thy seed as the sand of the sea, which cannot be numbered for multitude.
13 ¶ And he lodged there that same night; and took of that which came to his hand a present for Esau his brother;
14 [†] Two hundred she goats, and twenty he goats, two hundred ewes, and twenty rams,
15 Thirty milch camels with their colts, forty kine, and ten bulls, twenty she asses, and ten foals.
16 [†] And he delivered them into the hand of his servants, every drove by themselves; and said unto his servants, Pass over before me, and put a space betwixt drove and drove.
17 [†] And he commanded the foremost, saying, When Esau my brother meeteth thee, and asketh thee, saying, Whose art thou? and whither goest thou? and whose are these before thee?
18 Then thou shalt say, They be thy servant Jacob's; it is a present sent unto my lord Esau: and, behold, also he is behind us.
19 And so commanded he the second, and the third, and all that followed the droves, saying, On this manner shall ye speak unto Esau, when ye find him.
20 [†] And say ye moreover, Behold, thy servant Jacob is behind us. For he said, I will appease him with the present that goeth before me, and afterward I will see his face; peradventure he will accept of me.
21 So went the present over before him: and himself lodged that night in the company.
22 [†] And he rose up that night, and took his two wives, and his two womenservants, and his eleven sons, and passed over the ford Jabbok.
23 And he took them, and sent them over the brook, and sent over that he had.
24 [†] ¶ And Jacob was left alone; and there wrestled a man with him until the breaking of the day.

25 [†] And when he saw that he prevailed not against him, he touched the hollow of his thigh; and the hollow of Jacob's thigh was out of joint, as he wrestled with him.
26 [†] And he said, Let me go, for the day breaketh. And he said, I will not let thee go, except thou bless me.
27 And he said unto him, What is thy name? And he said, Jacob.
28 [†] And he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jacob, but Israel: for as a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed.
29 [†] And Jacob asked him, and said, Tell me, I pray thee, thy name. And he said, Wherefore is it that thou dost ask after my name? And he blessed him there.
30 And Jacob called the name of the place Peniel: for I have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved.
31 [†] And as he passed over Penuel the sun rose upon him, and he halted upon his thigh.
32 Therefore the children of Israel eat not of the sinew which shrank, which is upon the hollow of the thigh, unto this day: because he touched the hollow of Jacob's thigh in the sinew that shrank.

Genesis 33 [†]

1 [†] And Jacob lifted up his eyes, and looked, and, behold, Esau came, and with him four hundred men. And he divided the children unto Leah, and unto Rachel, and unto the two handmaids.
2 And he put the handmaids and their children foremost, and Leah and her children after, and Rachel and Joseph hindermost.
3 And he passed over before them, and bowed himself to the ground seven times, until he came near to his brother.
4 [†] And Esau ran to meet him, and embraced him, and fell on his neck, and kissed him: and they wept.
5 [†] And he lifted up his eyes, and saw the women and the children; and said, Who are those with thee? And he said, The children which God hath graciously given thy servant.
6 Then the handmaidens came near, they and their children, and they bowed themselves.
7 And Leah also with her children came near, and bowed themselves: and after came Joseph near and Rachel, and they bowed themselves.
8 [†] And he said, What meanest thou by all this drove which I met? And he said, These are to find grace in the sight of my lord.
9 And Esau said, I have enough, my brother; keep that thou hast unto thyself.
10 [†] And Jacob said, Nay, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, then receive my present at my hand: for therefore I have seen thy face, as though I had seen the face of God, and thou wast pleased with me.
11 [†] Take, I pray thee, my blessing that is brought to thee; because God hath dealt graciously with me, and because I have enough. And he urged him, and he took it.
12 And he said, Let us take our journey, and let us go, and I will go before thee.
13 [†] And he said unto him, My lord knoweth that the children are tender, and the flocks and herds with young are with me: and if men should overdrive them one day, all the flock will die.
14 Let my lord, I pray thee, pass over before his servant: and I will lead on softly, according as the cattle that goeth before me and the children be able to endure, until I come unto my lord unto Seir.
15 And Esau said, Let me now leave with thee some of the folk that are with me. And he said, What needeth it? let me find grace in the sight of my lord.
16 [†] ¶ So Esau returned that day on his way unto Seir.
17 And Jacob journeyed to Succoth, and built him an house, and made booths for his cattle: therefore the name of the place is called Succoth.
18 ¶ And Jacob came to Shalem, a city of Shechem, which is in the land of Canaan, when he came from Padan-aram; and pitched his tent before the city.
19 And he bought a parcel of a field, where he had spread his tent, at the hand of the children of Hamor, Shechem's father, for an hundred pieces of money.
20 [†] And he erected there an altar, and called it El-elohe-Israel.

Genesis 34 [†]

1 [†] And Dinah the daughter of Leah, which she bare unto Jacob, went out to see the daughters of the land.
2 [†] And when Shechem the son of Hamor the Hivite, prince of the country, saw her, he took her, and lay with her, and defiled her.
3 [†] And his soul clave unto Dinah the daughter of Jacob, and he loved the damsel, and spake kindly unto the damsel.
4 And Shechem spake unto his father Hamor, saying, Get me this damsel to wife.
5 [†] And Jacob heard that he had defiled Dinah his daughter: now his sons were with his cattle in the field: and Jacob held his peace until they were come.
6 [†] ¶ And Hamor the father of Shechem went out unto Jacob to commune with him.
7 [†] And the sons of Jacob came out of the field when they heard it: and the men were grieved, and they were very wroth, because he had wrought folly in Israel in lying with Jacob's daughter; which thing ought not to be done.
8 [†] And Hamor communed with them, saying, The soul of my son Shechem longeth for your daughter: I pray you give her him to wife.
9 [†] And make ye marriages with us, and give your daughters unto us, and take our daughters unto you.
10 And ye shall dwell with us: and the land shall be before you; dwell and trade ye therein, and get you possessions therein.
11 And Shechem said unto her father and unto her brethren, Let me find grace in your eyes, and what ye shall say unto me I will give.
12 [†] Ask me never so much dowry and gift, and I will give according as ye shall say unto me: but give me the damsel to wife.
13 [†] And the sons of Jacob answered Shechem and Hamor his father deceitfully, and said, because he had defiled Dinah their sister:
14 [†] And they said unto them, We cannot do this thing, to give our sister to one that is uncircumcised; for that were a reproach unto us:
15 But in this will we consent unto you: If ye will be as we be, that every male of you be circumcised;
16 Then will we give our daughters unto you, and we will take your daughters to us, and we will dwell with you, and we will become one people.
17 [†] But if ye will not hearken unto us, to be circumcised; then will we take our daughter, and we will be gone.
18 And their words pleased Hamor, and Shechem Hamor's son.
19 [†] And the young man deferred not to do the thing, because he had delight in Jacob's daughter: and he was more honourable than all the house of his father.
20 [†] ¶ And Hamor and Shechem his son came unto the gate of their city, and communed with the men of their city, saying,
21 These men are peaceable with us; therefore let them dwell in the land, and trade therein; for the land, behold, it is large enough for them; let us take their daughters to us for wives, and let us give them our daughters.
22 [†] Only herein will the men consent unto us for to dwell with us, to be one people, if every male among us be circumcised, as they are circumcised.
23 [†] Shall not their cattle and their substance and every beast of theirs be ours? only let us consent unto them, and they will dwell with us.

24 [†] And unto Hamor and unto Shechem his son hearkened all that went out of the gate of his city; and every male was circumcised, all that went out of the gate of his city.
25 [†] ¶ And it came to pass on the third day, when they were sore, that two of the sons of Jacob, Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brethren, took each man his sword, and came upon the city boldly, and slew all the males.
26 [†] And they slew Hamor and Shechem his son with the edge of the sword, and took Dinah out of Shechem's house, and went out.
27 The sons of Jacob came upon the slain, and spoiled the city, because they had defiled their sister.
28 They took their sheep, and their oxen, and their asses, and that which was in the city, and that which was in the field,
29 And all their wealth, and all their little ones, and their wives took they captive, and spoiled even all that was in the house.
30 [†] And Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, Ye have troubled me to make me to stink among the inhabitants of the land, among the Canaanites and the Perizzites: and I being few in number, they shall gather themselves together against me, and slay me; and I shall be destroyed, I and my house.
31 [†] And they said, Should he deal with our sister as with an harlot?

Genesis 35 [†]

1 [†] And God said unto Jacob, Arise, go up to Beth-el, and dwell there: and make there an altar unto God, that appeared unto thee when thou fleddest from the face of Esau thy brother.
2 [†] Then Jacob said unto his household, and to all that were with him, Put away the strange gods that are among you, and be clean, and change your garments:
3 And let us arise, and go up to Beth-el; and I will make there an altar unto God, who answered me in the day of my distress, and was with me in the way which I went.
4 [†] And they gave unto Jacob all the strange gods which were in their hand, and all their earrings which were in their ears; and Jacob hid them under the oak which was by Shechem.
5 [†] And they journeyed: and the terror of God was upon the cities that were round about them, and they did not pursue after the sons of Jacob.
6 ¶ So Jacob came to Luz, which is in the land of Canaan, that is, Beth-el, he and all the people that were with him.
7 And he built there an altar, and called the place El-beth-el: because there God appeared unto him, when he fled from the face of his brother.
8 [†] But Deborah Rebekah's nurse died, and she was buried beneath Beth-el under an oak: and the name of it was called Allon-bachuth.
9 [†] ¶ And God appeared unto Jacob again, when he came out of Padan-aram, and blessed him.
10 And God said unto him, Thy name is Jacob: thy name shall not be called any more Jacob, but Israel shall be thy name: and he called his name Israel.
11 And God said unto him, I am God Almighty: be fruitful and multiply; a nation and a company of nations shall be of thee, and kings shall come out of thy loins;
12 And the land which I gave Abraham and Isaac, to thee I will give it, and to thy seed after thee will I give the land.
13 And God went up from him in the place where he talked with him.
14 [†] And Jacob set up a pillar in the place where he talked with him, even a pillar of stone: and he poured a drink offering thereon, and he poured oil thereon.
15 And Jacob called the name of the place where God spake with him, Beth-el.
16 [†] ¶ And they journeyed from Beth-el; and there was but a little way to come to Ephrath: and Rachel travailed, and she had hard labour.
17 And it came to pass, when she was in hard labour, that the midwife said unto her, Fear not; thou shalt have this son also.
18 [†] And it came to pass, as her soul was in departing, (for she died) that she called his name Ben-oni: but his father called him Benjamin.
19 And Rachel died, and was buried in the way to Ephrath, which is Beth-lehem.
20 And Jacob set a pillar upon her grave: that is the pillar of Rachel's grave unto this day.
21 ¶ And Israel journeyed, and spread his tent beyond the tower of Edar.
22 [†] And it came to pass, when Israel dwelt in that land, that Reuben went and lay with Bilhah his father's concubine: and Israel heard it. Now the sons of Jacob were twelve:
23 [†] The sons of Leah; Reuben, Jacob's firstborn, and Simeon, and Levi, and Judah, and Issachar, and Zebulun:
24 The sons of Rachel; Joseph, and Benjamin:
25 And the sons of Bilhah, Rachel's handmaid; Dan, and Naphtali:
26 And the sons of Zilpah, Leah's handmaid; Gad, and Asher: these are the sons of Jacob, which were born to him in Padan-aram.

27 ¶ And Jacob came unto Isaac his father unto Mamre, unto the city of Arbah, which is Hebron, where Abraham and Isaac sojourned.
28 [†] And the days of Isaac were an hundred and fourscore years.
29 [†] And Isaac gave up the ghost, and died, and was gathered unto his people, being old and full of days: and his sons Esau and Jacob buried him.

Genesis 36 [†]

1 [†] Now these are the generations of Esau, who is Edom.
2 [†] Esau took his wives of the daughters of Canaan; Adah the daughter of Elon the Hittite, and Aholibamah the daughter of Anah the daughter of Zibeon the Hivite;
3 And Bashemath Ishmael's daughter, sister of Nebajoth.
4 And Adah bare to Esau Eliphaz; and Bashemath bare Reuel;
5 And Aholibamah bare Jeush, and Jaalam, and Korah: these are the sons of Esau, which were born unto him in the land of Canaan.
6 [†] And Esau took his wives, and his sons, and his daughters, and all the persons of his house, and his cattle, and all his beasts, and all his substance, which he had got in the land of Canaan; and went into the country from the face of his brother Jacob.
7 For their riches were more than that they might dwell together; and the land wherein they were strangers could not bear them because of their cattle.
8 Thus dwelt Esau in mount Seir: Esau is Edom.
9 [†] ¶ And these are the generations of Esau the father of the Edomites in mount Seir:
10 These are the names of Esau's sons; Eliphaz the son of Adah the wife of Esau, Reuel the son of Bashemath the wife of Esau.
11 [†] And the sons of Eliphaz were Teman, Omar, Zepho, and Gatam, and Kenaz.
12 [†] And Timna was concubine to Eliphaz Esau's son; and she bare to Eliphaz Amalek: these were the sons of Adah Esau's wife.
13 And these are the sons of Reuel; Nahath, and Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah: these were the sons of Bashemath Esau's wife.
14 ¶ And these were the sons of Aholibamah, the daughter of Anah the daughter of Zibeon, Esau's wife: and she bare to Esau Jeush, and Jaalam, and Korah.
15 [†] ¶ These were dukes of the sons of Esau: the sons of Eliphaz the firstborn son of Esau; duke Teman, duke Omar, duke Zepho, duke Kenaz,
16 Duke Korah, duke Gatam, and duke Amalek: these are the dukes that came of Eliphaz in the land of Edom; these were the sons of Adah.
17 ¶ And these are the sons of Reuel Esau's son; duke Nahath, duke Zerah, duke Shammah, duke Mizzah: these are the dukes that came of Reuel in the land of Edom; these are the sons of Bashemath Esau's wife.
18 ¶ And these are the sons of Aholibamah Esau's wife; duke Jeush, duke Jaalam, duke Korah: these were the dukes that came of Aholibamah the daughter of Anah, Esau's wife.
19 These are the sons of Esau, who is Edom, and these are their dukes.
20 [†] ¶ These are the sons of Seir the Horite, who inhabited the land; Lotan, and Shobal, and Zibeon, and Anah, 21 And Dishon, and Ezer, and Dishan: these are the dukes of the Horites, the children of Seir in the land of Edom.
22 And the children of Lotan were Hori and Hemam; and Lotan's sister was Timna.
23 And the children of Shobal were these; Alvan, and Manahath, and Ebal, Shepho, and Onam.
24 And these are the children of Zibeon; both Ajah, and Anah: this was that Anah that found the mules in the wilderness, as he fed the asses of Zibeon his father.
25 And the children of Anah were these; Dishon, and Aholibamah the daughter of Anah.
26 And these are the children of Dishon; Hemdan, and Eshban, and Ithran, and Cheran.
27 The children of Ezer are these; Bilhan, and Zaavan, and Akan.

28 The children of Dishan are these; Uz, and Aran.
29 These are the dukes that came of the Horites; duke Lotan, duke Shobal, duke Zibeon, duke Anah,
30 Duke Dishon, duke Ezer, duke Dishan: these are the dukes that came of Hori, among their dukes in the land of Seir.
31 ¶ And these are the kings that reigned in the land of Edom, before there reigned any king over the children of Israel.
32 And Bela the son of Beor reigned in Edom: and the name of his city was Dinhabah.
33 [†] And Bela died, and Jobab the son of Zerah of Bozrah reigned in his stead.
34 And Jobab died, and Husham of the land of Temani reigned in his stead.
35 And Husham died, and Hadad the son of Bedad, who smote Midian in the field of Moab, reigned in his stead: and the name of his city was Avith.
36 And Hadad died, and Samlah of Masrekah reigned in his stead.
37 And Samlah died, and Saul of Rehoboth by the river reigned in his stead.
38 And Saul died, and Baal-hanan the son of Achbor reigned in his stead.
39 And Baal-hanan the son of Achbor died, and Hadar reigned in his stead: and the name of his city was Pau; and his wife's name was Mehetabel, the daughter of Matred, the daughter of Mezahab.
40 [†] And these are the names of the dukes that came of Esau, according to their families, after their places, by their names; duke Timnah, duke Alvah, duke Jetheth,
41 Duke Aholibamah, duke Elah, duke Pinon,
42 Duke Kenaz, duke Teman, duke Mibzar,
43 Duke Magdiel, duke Iram: these be the dukes of Edom, according to their habitations in the land of their possession: he is Esau the father of the Edomites.

Genesis 37 [†]

1 [†] And Jacob dwelt in the land wherein his father was a stranger, in the land of Canaan.
2 [†] These are the generations of Jacob. Joseph, being seventeen years old, was feeding the flock with his brethren; and the lad was with the sons of Bilhah, and with the sons of Zilpah, his father's wives: and Joseph brought unto his father their evil report.
3 [†] Now Israel loved Joseph more than all his children, because he was the son of his old age: and he made him a coat of many colours.
4 And when his brethren saw that their father loved him more than all his brethren, they hated him, and could not speak peaceably unto him.
5 ¶ And Joseph dreamed a dream, and he told it his brethren: and they hated him yet the more.
6 [†] And he said unto them, Hear, I pray you, this dream which I have dreamed:
7 [†] For, behold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and, lo, my sheaf arose, and also stood upright; and, behold, your sheaves stood round about, and made obeisance to my sheaf.
8 And his brethren said to him, Shalt thou indeed reign over us? or shalt thou indeed have dominion over us? And they hated him yet the more for his dreams, and for his words.
9 [†] ¶ And he dreamed yet another dream, and told it his brethren, and said, Behold, I have dreamed a dream more; and, behold, the sun and the moon and the eleven stars made obeisance to me.
10 And he told it to his father, and to his brethren: and his father rebuked him, and said unto him, What is this dream that thou hast dreamed? Shall I and thy mother and thy brethren indeed come to bow down ourselves to thee to the earth?
11 [†] And his brethren envied him; but his father observed the saying.
12 [†] ¶ And his brethren went to feed their father's flock in Shechem.
13 And Israel said unto Joseph, Do not thy brethren feed the flock in Shechem? come, and I will send thee unto them. And he said to him, Here am I.
14 [†] And he said to him, Go, I pray thee, see whether it be well with thy brethren, and well with the flocks; and bring me word again. So he sent him out of the vale of Hebron, and he came to Shechem.
15 [†] ¶ And a certain man found him, and, behold, he was wandering in the field: and the man asked him, saying, What seekest thou?
16 And he said, I seek my brethren: tell me, I pray thee, where they feed their flocks.
17 [†] And the man said, They are departed hence; for I heard them say, Let us go to Dothan. And Joseph went after his brethren, and found them in Dothan.
18 And when they saw him afar off, even before he came near unto them, they conspired against him to slay him.
19 [†] And they said one to another, Behold, this dreamer cometh.
20 [†] Come now therefore, and let us slay him, and cast him into some pit, and we will say, Some evil beast hath devoured him: and we shall see what will become of his dreams.
21 And Reuben heard it, and he delivered him out of their hands; and said, Let us not kill him.
22 [†] And Reuben said unto them, Shed no blood, but cast him into this pit that is in the wilderness, and lay no hand upon him; that he might rid him out of their hands, to deliver him to his father again.
23 ¶ And it came to pass, when Joseph was come unto his brethren, that they stript Joseph out of his coat, his coat of many colours that was on him;
24 And they took him, and cast him into a pit: and the pit was empty, there was no water in it.
25 [†] And they sat down to eat bread: and they lifted up their eyes and looked, and, behold, a company of Ishmeelites came from Gilead with their camels bearing spicery and balm and myrrh, going to carry it down to Egypt.

26 [†] And Judah said unto his brethren, What profit is it if we slay our brother, and conceal his blood?
27 [†] Come, and let us sell him to the Ishmeelites, and let not our hand be upon him; for he is our brother and our flesh. And his brethren were content.
28 Then there passed by Midianites merchantmen; and they drew and lifted up Joseph out of the pit, and sold Joseph to the Ishmeelites for twenty pieces of silver: and they brought Joseph into Egypt.
29 [†] ¶ And Reuben returned unto the pit; and, behold, Joseph was not in the pit; and he rent his clothes.
30 [†] And he returned unto his brethren, and said, The child is not; and I, whither shall I go?
31 And they took Joseph's coat, and killed a kid of the goats, and dipped the coat in the blood;
32 And they sent the coat of many colours, and they brought it to their father; and said, This have we found: know now whether it be thy son's coat or no.
33 And he knew it, and said, It is my son's coat; an evil beast hath devoured him; Joseph is without doubt rent in pieces.
34 [†] And Jacob rent his clothes, and put sackcloth upon his loins, and mourned for his son many days.
35 And all his sons and all his daughters rose up to comfort him; but he refused to be comforted; and he said, For I will go down into the grave unto my son mourning. Thus his father wept for him.
36 And the Midianites sold him into Egypt unto Potiphar, an officer of Pharaoh's, and captain of the guard.

Genesis 38 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass at that time, that Judah went down from his brethren, and turned in to a certain Adullamite, whose name was Hirah.
2 And Judah saw there a daughter of a certain Canaanite, whose name was Shuah; and he took her, and went in unto her.
3 And she conceived, and bare a son; and he called his name Er.
4 And she conceived again, and bare a son; and she called his name Onan.
5 And she yet again conceived, and bare a son; and called his name Shelah: and he was at Chezib, when she bare him.
6 And Judah took a wife for Er his firstborn, whose name was Tamar.
7 And Er, Judah's firstborn, was wicked in the sight of the LORD; and the LORD slew him.
8 [†] And Judah said unto Onan, Go in unto thy brother's wife, and marry her, and raise up seed to thy brother.
9 And Onan knew that the seed should not be his; and it came to pass, when he went in unto his brother's wife, that he spilled it on the ground, lest that he should give seed to his brother.
10 And the thing which he did displeased the LORD: wherefore he slew him also.
11 [†] Then said Judah to Tamar his daughter in law, Remain a widow at thy father's house, till Shelah my son be grown: for he said, Lest peradventure he die also, as his brethren did. And Tamar went and dwelt in her father's house.
12 ¶ And in process of time the daughter of Shuah Judah's wife died; and Judah was comforted, and went up unto his sheepshearers to Timnath, he and his friend Hirah the Adullamite.
13 [†] And it was told Tamar, saying, Behold thy father in law goeth up to Timnath to shear his sheep.
14 [†] And she put her widow's garments off from her, and covered her with a vail, and wrapped herself, and sat in an open place, which is by the way to Timnath; for she saw that Shelah was grown, and she was not given unto him to wife.
15 When Judah saw her, he thought her to be an harlot; because she had covered her face.
16 And he turned unto her by the way, and said, Go to, I pray thee, let me come in unto thee; (for he knew not that she was his daughter in law.) And she said, What wilt thou give me, that thou mayest come in unto me?
17 And he said, I will send thee a kid from the flock. And she said, Wilt thou give me a pledge, till thou send it?
18 [†] And he said, What pledge shall I give thee? And she said, Thy signet, and thy bracelets, and thy staff that is in thine hand. And he gave it her, and came in unto her, and she conceived by him.
19 And she arose, and went away, and laid by her vail from her, and put on the garments of her widowhood.
20 And Judah sent the kid by the hand of his friend the Adullamite, to receive his pledge from the woman's hand: but he found her not.
21 [†] Then he asked the men of that place, saying, Where is the harlot, that was openly by the way side? And they said, There was no harlot in this place.
22 And he returned to Judah, and said, I cannot find her; and also the men of the place said, that there was no harlot in this place.
23 [†] And Judah said, Let her take it to her, lest we be shamed: behold, I sent this kid, and thou hast not found her.
24 [†] ¶ And it came to pass about three months after, that it was told Judah, saying, Tamar thy daughter in law hath played the harlot; and also, behold, she is with child by whoredom. And Judah said, Bring her forth, and let her be burnt.

25 When she was brought forth, she sent to her father in law, saying, By the man, whose these are, am I with child: and she said, Discern, I pray thee, whose are these, the signet, and bracelets, and staff.
26 [†] And Judah acknowledged them, and said, She hath been more righteous than I; because that I gave her not to Shelah my son. And he knew her again no more.
27 [†] ¶ And it came to pass in the time of her travail, that, behold, twins were in her womb.
28 And it came to pass, when she travailed, that the one put out his hand: and the midwife took and bound upon his hand a scarlet thread, saying, This came out first.
29 [†] And it came to pass, as he drew back his hand, that, behold, his brother came out: and she said, How hast thou broken forth? this breach be upon thee: therefore his name was called Pharez.
30 And afterward came out his brother, that had the scarlet thread upon his hand: and his name was called Zarah.

Genesis 39 [†]

1 [†] And Joseph was brought down to Egypt; and Potiphar, an officer of Pharaoh, captain of the guard, an Egyptian, bought him of the hands of the Ishmeelites, which had brought him down thither.
2 [†] And the Lord was with Joseph, and he was a prosperous man; and he was in the house of his master the Egyptian.
3 And his master saw that the Lord was with him, and that the Lord made all that he did to prosper in his hand.
4 And Joseph found grace in his sight, and he served him: and he made him overseer over his house, and all that he had he put into his hand.
5 And it came to pass from the time that he had made him overseer in his house, and over all that he had, that the Lord blessed the Egyptian's house for Joseph's sake; and the blessing of the Lord was upon all that he had in the house, and in the field.
6 [†] And he left all that he had in Joseph's hand; and he knew not ought he had, save the bread which he did eat. And Joseph was a goodly person, and well favoured.
7 ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that his master's wife cast her eyes upon Joseph; and she said, Lie with me.
8 [†] But he refused, and said unto his master's wife, Behold, my master wotteth not what is with me in the house, and he hath committed all that he hath to my hand;
9 [†] There is none greater in this house than I; neither hath he kept back any thing from me but thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God?
10 [†] And it came to pass, as she spake to Joseph day by day, that he hearkened not unto her, to lie by her, or to be with her.
11 And it came to pass about this time, that Joseph went into the house to do his business; and there was none of the men of the house there within.
12 [†] And she caught him by his garment, saying, Lie with me: and he left his garment in her hand, and fled, and got him out.
13 And it came to pass, when she saw that he had left his garment in her hand, and was fled forth,
14 That she called unto the men of her house, and spake unto them, saying, See, he hath brought in an Hebrew unto us to mock us; he came in unto me to lie with me, and I cried with a loud voice:
15 And it came to pass, when he heard that I lifted up my voice and cried, that he left his garment with me, and fled, and got him out.
16 And she laid up his garment by her, until his lord came home.
17 And she spake unto him according to these words, saying, The Hebrew servant, which thou hast brought unto us, came in unto me to mock me:
18 And it came to pass, as I lifted up my voice and cried, that he left his garment with me, and fled out.
19 [†] And it came to pass, when his master heard the words of his wife, which she spake unto him, saying, After this manner did thy servant to me; that his wrath was kindled.
20 And Joseph's master took him, and put him into the prison, a place where the king's prisoners were bound: and he was there in the prison.
21 [†] ¶ But the Lord was with Joseph, and shewed him mercy, and gave him favour in the sight of the keeper of the prison.
22 And the keeper of the prison committed to Joseph's hand all the prisoners that were in the prison; and whatsoever they did there, he was the doer of it.
23 [†] The keeper of the prison looked not to any thing that was under his hand; because the Lord was with him, and that which he did, the LORD made it to prosper.

Genesis 40 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass after these things, that the butler of the king of Egypt and his baker had offended their lord the king of Egypt.
2 [†] And Pharaoh was wroth against two of his officers, against the chief of the butlers, and against the chief of the bakers.
3 [†] And he put them in ward in the house of the captain of the guard, into the prison, the place where Joseph was bound.
4 And the captain of the guard charged Joseph with them, and he served them: and they continued a season in ward.
5 [†] ¶ And they dreamed a dream both of them, each man his dream in one night, each man according to the interpretation of his dream, the butler and the baker of the king of Egypt, which were bound in the prison.
6 And Joseph came in unto them in the morning, and looked upon them, and, behold, they were sad.
7 [†] And he asked Pharaoh's officers that were with him in the ward of his lord's house, saying, Wherefore look ye so sadly to day?
8 [†] And they said unto him, We have dreamed a dream, and there is no interpreter of it. And Joseph said unto them, Do not interpretations belong to God? tell me them, I pray you.
9 And the chief butler told his dream to Joseph, and said to him, In my dream, behold, a vine was before me;
10 And in the vine were three branches: and it was as though it budded, and her blossoms shot forth; and the clusters thereof brought forth ripe grapes:
11 And Pharaoh's cup was in my hand: and I took the grapes, and pressed them into Pharaoh's cup, and I gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand.
12 And Joseph said unto him, This is the interpretation of it: The three branches are three days:
13 [†] Yet within three days shall Pharaoh lift up thine head, and restore thee unto thy place: and thou shalt deliver Pharaoh's cup into his hand, after the former manner when thou wast his butler.
14 But think on me when it shall be well with thee, and shew kindness, I pray thee, unto me, and make mention of me unto Pharaoh, and bring me out of this house:
15 [†] For indeed I was stolen away out of the land of the Hebrews: and here also have I done nothing that they should put me into the dungeon.
16 [†] When the chief baker saw that the interpretation was good, he said unto Joseph, I also was in my dream, and, behold, I had three white baskets on my head:
17 [†] And in the uppermost basket there was of all manner of bakemeats for Pharaoh; and the birds did eat them out of the basket upon my head.
18 And Joseph answered and said, This is the interpretation thereof: The three baskets are three days:
19 Yet within three days shall Pharaoh lift up thy head from off thee, and shall hang thee on a tree; and the birds shall eat thy flesh from off thee.
20 ¶ And it came to pass the third day, which was Pharaoh's birthday, that he made a feast unto all his servants: and he lifted up the head of the chief butler and of the chief baker among his servants.
21 And he restored the chief butler unto his butlership again; and he gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand:
22 [†] But he hanged the chief baker: as Joseph had interpreted to them.
23 [†] Yet did not the chief butler remember Joseph, but forgat him.

Genesis 41 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass at the end of two full years, that Pharaoh dreamed: and, behold, he stood by the river.
2 [†] And, behold, there came up out of the river seven well favoured kine and fatfleshed; and they fed in a meadow.
3 [†] And, behold, seven other kine came up after them out of the river, ill favoured and leanfleshed; and stood by the other kine upon the brink of the river.
4 And the ill favoured and leanfleshed kine did eat up the seven well favoured and fat kine. So Pharaoh awoke.
5 [†] And he slept and dreamed the second time: and, behold, seven ears of corn came up upon one stalk, rank and good.
6 And, behold, seven thin ears and blasted with the east wind sprung up after them.
7 And the seven thin ears devoured the seven rank and full ears. And Pharaoh awoke, and, behold, it was a dream.
8 And it came to pass in the morning that his spirit was troubled; and he sent and called for all the magicians of Egypt, and all the wise men thereof: and Pharaoh told them his dream; but there was none that could interpret them unto Pharaoh.
9 [†] ¶ Then spake the chief butler unto Pharaoh, saying, I do remember my faults this day:
10 [†] Pharaoh was wroth with his servants, and put me in ward in the captain of the guard's house, both me and the chief baker:
11 And we dreamed a dream in one night, I and he; we dreamed each man according to the interpretation of his dream.
12 And there was there with us a young man, an Hebrew, servant to the captain of the guard; and we told him, and he interpreted to us our dreams; to each man according to his dream he did interpret.
13 And it came to pass, as he interpreted to us, so it was; me he restored unto mine office, and him he hanged.
14 [†] ¶ Then Pharaoh sent and called Joseph, and they brought him hastily out of the dungeon: and he shaved himself, and changed his raiment, and came in unto Pharaoh.
15 And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, I have dreamed a dream, and there is none that can interpret it: and I have heard say of thee, that thou canst understand a dream to interpret it.
16 [†] And Joseph answered Pharaoh, saying, It is not in me: God shall give Pharaoh an answer of peace.
17 And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, In my dream, behold, I stood upon the bank of the river:
18 And, behold, there came up out of the river seven kine, fatfleshed and well favoured; and they fed in a meadow:
19 And, behold, seven other kine came up after them, poor and very ill favoured and leanfleshed, such as I never saw in all the land of Egypt for badness:
20 And the lean and the ill favoured kine did eat up the first seven fat kine:
21 And when they had eaten them up, it could not be known that they had eaten them; but they were still ill favoured, as at the beginning. So I awoke.
22 And I saw in my dream, and, behold, seven ears came up in one stalk, full and good:
23 And, behold, seven ears, withered, thin, and blasted with the east wind, sprung up after them:
24 And the thin ears devoured the seven good ears: and I told this unto the magicians; but there was none that could declare it to me.
25 [†] ¶ And Joseph said unto Pharaoh, The dream of Pharaoh is one: God hath shewed Pharaoh what he is about to do.

26 The seven good kine are seven years; and the seven good ears are seven years: the dream is one.
27 And the seven thin and ill favoured kine that came up after them are seven years; and the seven empty ears blasted with the east wind shall be seven years of famine.
28 This is the thing which I have spoken unto Pharaoh: What God is about to do he sheweth unto Pharaoh.
29 Behold, there come seven years of great plenty throughout all the land of Egypt:
30 And there shall arise after them seven years of famine; and all the plenty shall be forgotten in the land of Egypt; and the famine shall consume the land;
31 And the plenty shall not be known in the land by reason of that famine following; for it shall be very grievous.
32 And for that the dream was doubled unto Pharaoh twice; it is because the thing is established by God, and God will shortly bring it to pass.
33 [†] Now therefore let Pharaoh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt.
34 Let Pharaoh do this, and let him appoint officers over the land, and take up the fifth part of the land of Egypt in the seven plenteous years.
35 And let them gather all the food of those good years that come, and lay up corn under the hand of Pharaoh, and let them keep food in the cities.
36 And that food shall be for store to the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Egypt; that the land perish not through the famine.
37 ¶ And the thing was good in the eyes of Pharaoh, and in the eyes of all his servants.
38 [†] And Pharaoh said unto his servants, Can we find such a one as this is, a man in whom the Spirit of God is?
39 [†] And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, Forasmuch as God hath shewed thee all this, there is none so discreet and wise as thou art:
40 [†] Thou shalt be over my house, and according unto thy word shall all my people be ruled: only in the throne will I be greater than thou.
41 And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, See, I have set thee over all the land of Egypt.
42 [†] And Pharaoh took off his ring from his hand, and put it upon Joseph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of fine linen, and put a gold chain about his neck;
43 And he made him to ride in the second chariot which he had; and they cried before him, Bow the knee: and he made him ruler over all the land of Egypt.
44 And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, I am Pharaoh, and without thee shall no man lift up his hand or foot in all the land of Egypt.
45 [†] And Pharaoh called Joseph's name Zaphnath-paaneah; and he gave him to wife Asenath the daughter of Poti-pherah priest of On. And Joseph went out over all the land of Egypt.
46 [†] ¶ And Joseph was thirty years old when he stood before Pharaoh king of Egypt. And Joseph went out from the presence of Pharaoh, and went throughout all the land of Egypt.
47 And in the seven plenteous years the earth brought forth by handfuls.
48 And he gathered up all the food of the seven years, which were in the land of Egypt, and laid up the food in the cities: the food of the field, which was round about every city, laid he up in the same.
49 And Joseph gathered corn as the sand of the sea, very much, until he left numbering; for it was without number.
50 And unto Joseph were born two sons before the years of famine came, which Asenath the daughter of Poti-pherah priest of On bare unto him.
51 [†] And Joseph called the name of the firstborn Manasseh: For God, said he, hath made me forget all my toil, and all my father's house.

52 And the name of the second called he Ephraim: For God hath caused me to be fruitful in the land of my affliction.
53 ¶ And the seven years of plenteousness, that was in the land of Egypt, were ended.
54 [†] And the seven years of dearth began to come, according as Joseph had said: and the dearth was in all lands; but in all the land of Egypt there was bread.
55 And when all the land of Egypt was famished, the people cried to Pharaoh for bread: and Pharaoh said unto all the Egyptians, Go unto Joseph; what he saith to you, do.
56 [†] And the famine was over all the face of the earth: And Joseph opened all the storehouses, and sold unto the Egyptians; and the famine waxed sore in the land of Egypt.
57 And all countries came into Egypt to Joseph for to buy corn; because that the famine was so sore in all lands.

Genesis 42 [†]

1 [†] Now when Jacob saw that there was corn in Egypt, Jacob said unto his sons, Why do ye look one upon another?
2 [†] And he said, Behold, I have heard that there is corn in Egypt: get you down thither, and buy for us from thence; that we may live, and not die.
3 ¶ And Joseph's ten brethren went down to buy corn in Egypt.
4 [†] But Benjamin, Joseph's brother, Jacob sent not with his brethren; for he said, Lest peradventure mischief befall him.
5 And the sons of Israel came to buy corn among those that came: for the famine was in the land of Canaan.
6 [†] And Joseph was the governor over the land, and he it was that sold to all the people of the land: and Joseph's brethren came, and bowed down themselves before him with their faces to the earth.
7 [†] And Joseph saw his brethren, and he knew them, but made himself strange unto them, and spake roughly unto them; and he said unto them, Whence come ye? And they said, From the land of Canaan to buy food.
8 And Joseph knew his brethren, but they knew not him.
9 [†] And Joseph remembered the dreams which he dreamed of them, and said unto them, Ye are spies; to see the nakedness of the land ye are come.
10 And they said unto him, Nay, my lord, but to buy food are thy servants come.
11 [†] We are all one man's sons; we are true men, thy servants are no spies.
12 And he said unto them, Nay, but to see the nakedness of the land ye are come.
13 [†] And they said, Thy servants are twelve brethren, the sons of one man in the land of Canaan; and, behold, the youngest is this day with our father, and one is not.
14 And Joseph said unto them, That is it that I spake unto you, saying, Ye are spies:
15 [†] Hereby ye shall be proved: By the life of Pharaoh ye shall not go forth hence, except your youngest brother come hither.
16 [†] Send one of you, and let him fetch your brother, and ye shall be kept in prison, that your words may be proved, whether there be any truth in you: or else by the life of Pharaoh surely ye are spies.
17 [†] And he put them all together into ward three days.
18 [†] And Joseph said unto them the third day, This do, and live; for I fear God:
19 If ye be true men, let one of your brethren be bound in the house of your prison: go ye, carry corn for the famine of your houses:
20 But bring your youngest brother unto me; so shall your words be verified, and ye shall not die. And they did so.
21 [†] ¶ And they said one to another, We are verily guilty concerning our brother, in that we saw the anguish of his soul, when he besought us, and we would not hear; therefore is this distress come upon us.
22 And Reuben answered them, saying, Spake I not unto you, saying, Do not sin against the child; and ye would not hear? therefore, behold, also his blood is required.
23 And they knew not that Joseph understood them; for he spake unto them by an interpreter.
24 [†] And he turned himself about from them, and wept; and returned to them again, and communed with them, and took from them Simeon, and bound him before their eyes.
25 ¶ Then Joseph commanded to fill their sacks with corn, and to restore every man's money into his sack, and to give them provision for the way: and thus did he unto them.
26 [†] And they laded their asses with the corn, and departed thence.

27 [†] And as one of them opened his sack to give his ass provender in the inn, he espied his money; for, behold, it was in his sack's mouth.
28 [†] And he said unto his brethren, My money is restored; and, lo, it is even in my sack: and their heart failed them, and they were afraid, saying one to another, What is this that God hath done unto us?
29 [†] ¶ And they came unto Jacob their father unto the land of Canaan, and told him all that befell unto them; saying,
30 The man, who is the lord of the land, spake roughly to us, and took us for spies of the country.
31 And we said unto him, We are true men; we are no spies:
32 We be twelve brethren, sons of our father; one is not, and the youngest is this day with our father in the land of Canaan.
33 And the man, the lord of the country, said unto us, Hereby shall I know that ye are true men; leave one of your brethren here with me, and take food for the famine of your households, and be gone:
34 [†] And bring your youngest brother unto me: then shall I know that ye are no spies, but that ye are true men: so will I deliver you your brother, and ye shall traffick in the land.
35 ¶ And it came to pass as they emptied their sacks, that, behold, every man's bundle of money was in his sack: and when both they and their father saw the bundles of money, they were afraid.
36 [†] And Jacob their father said unto them, Me have ye bereaved of my children: Joseph is not, and Simeon is not, and ye will take Benjamin away: all these things are against me.
37 [†] And Reuben spake unto his father, saying, Slay my two sons, if I bring him not to thee: deliver him into my hand, and I will bring him to thee again.
38 And he said, My son shall not go down with you; for his brother is dead, and he is left alone: if mischief befall him by the way in the which ye go, then shall ye bring down my gray hairs with sorrow to the grave.

Genesis 43 [†]

1 [†] And the famine was sore in the land.
2 And it came to pass, when they had eaten up the corn which they had brought out of Egypt, their father said unto them, Go again, buy us a little food.
3 [†] And Judah spake unto him, saying, The man did solemnly protest unto us, saying, Ye shall not see my face, except your brother be with you.
4 If thou wilt send our brother with us, we will go down and buy thee food:
5 But if thou wilt not send him, we will not go down: for the man said unto us, Ye shall not see my face, except your brother be with you.
6 [†] And Israel said, Wherefore dealt ye so ill with me, as to tell the man whether ye had yet a brother?
7 [†] And they said, The man asked us straitly of our state, and of our kindred, saying, Is your father yet alive? have ye another brother? and we told him according to the tenor of these words: could we certainly know that he would say, Bring your brother down?
8 [†] And Judah said unto Israel his father, Send the lad with me, and we will arise and go; that we may live, and not die, both we, and thou, and also our little ones.
9 [†] I will be surety for him; of my hand shalt thou require him: if I bring him not unto thee, and set him before thee, then let me bear the blame for ever:
10 For except we had lingered, surely now we had returned this second time.
11 [†] And their father Israel said unto them, If it must be so now, do this; take of the best fruits in the land in your vessels, and carry down the man a present, a little balm, and a little honey, spices, and myrrh, nuts, and almonds:
12 [†] And take double money in your hand; and the money that was brought again in the mouth of your sacks, carry it again in your hand; peradventure it was an oversight:
13 Take also your brother, and arise, go again unto the man:
14 [†] And God Almighty give you mercy before the man, that he may send away your other brother, and Benjamin. If I be bereaved of my children, I am bereaved.
15 ¶ And the men took that present, and they took double money in their hand, and Benjamin; and rose up, and went down to Egypt, and stood before Joseph.
16 [†] And when Joseph saw Benjamin with them, he said to the ruler of his house, Bring these men home, and slay, and make ready; for these men shall dine with me at noon.
17 [†] And the man did as Joseph bade; and the man brought the men into Joseph's house.
18 [†] And the men were afraid, because they were brought into Joseph's house; and they said, Because of the money that was returned in our sacks at the first time are we brought in; that he may seek occasion against us, and fall upon us, and take us for bondmen, and our asses.
19 [†] And they came near to the steward of Joseph's house, and they communed with him at the door of the house,
20 And said, O sir, we came indeed down at the first time to buy food:
21 [†] And it came to pass, when we came to the inn, that we opened our sacks, and, behold, every man's money was in the mouth of his sack, our money in full weight: and we have brought it again in our hand.
22 And other money have we brought down in our hands to buy food: we cannot tell who put our money in our sacks.
23 [†] And he said, Peace be to you, fear not: your God, and the God of your father, hath given you treasure in your sacks: I had your money. And he brought Simeon out unto them.
24 [†] And the man brought the men into Joseph's house, and gave them water, and they washed their feet; and he gave their asses provender.

25 [†] And they made ready the present against Joseph came at noon: for they heard that they should eat bread there.
26 ¶ And when Joseph came home, they brought him the present which was in their hand into the house, and bowed themselves to him to the earth.
27 And he asked them of their welfare, and said, Is your father well, the old man of whom ye spake? Is he yet alive?
28 [†] And they answered, Thy servant our father is in good health, he is yet alive. And they bowed down their heads, and made obeisance.
29 [†] And he lifted up his eyes, and saw his brother Benjamin, his mother's son, and said, Is this your younger brother, of whom ye spake unto me? And he said, God be gracious unto thee, my son.
30 [†] And Joseph made haste; for his bowels did yearn upon his brother: and he sought where to weep; and he entered into his chamber, and wept there.
31 [†] And he washed his face, and went out, and refrained himself, and said, Set on bread.
32 [†] And they set on for him by himself, and for them by themselves, and for the Egyptians, which did eat with him, by themselves: because the Egyptians might not eat bread with the Hebrews; for that is an abomination unto the Egyptians.
33 [†] And they sat before him, the firstborn according to his birthright, and the youngest according to his youth: and the men marvelled one at another.
34 [†] And he took and sent messes unto them from before him: but Benjamin's mess was five times so much as any of theirs. And they drank, and were merry with him.

Genesis 44 [†]

1 And he commanded the steward of his house, saying, Fill the men's sacks with food, as much as they can carry, and put every man's money in his sack's mouth.
2 And put my cup, the silver cup, in the sack's mouth of the youngest, and his corn money. And he did according to the word that Joseph had spoken.
3 As soon as the morning was light, the men were sent away, they and their asses.
4 [†] And when they were gone out of the city, and not yet far off, Joseph said unto his steward, Up, follow after the men; and when thou dost overtake them, say unto them, Wherefore have ye rewarded evil for good?
5 [†] Is not this it in which my lord drinketh, and whereby indeed he divineth? ye have done evil in so doing.
6 ¶ And he overtook them, and he spake unto them these same words.
7 And they said unto him, Wherefore saith my lord these words? God forbid that thy servants should do according to this thing:
8 Behold, the money, which we found in our sacks' mouths, we brought again unto thee out of the land of Canaan: how then should we steal out of thy lord's house silver or gold?
9 [†] With whomsoever of thy servants it be found, both let him die, and we also will be my lord's bondmen.
10 And he said, Now also let it be according unto your words: he with whom it is found shall be my servant; and ye shall be blameless.
11 Then they speedily took down every man his sack to the ground, and opened every man his sack.
12 And he searched, and began at the eldest, and left at the youngest: and the cup was found in Benjamin's sack.
13 [†] Then they rent their clothes, and laded every man his ass, and returned to the city.
14 [†] ¶ And Judah and his brethren came to Joseph's house; for he was yet there: and they fell before him on the ground.
15 [†] And Joseph said unto them, What deed is this that ye have done? wot ye not that such a man as I can certainly divine?
16 [†] And Judah said, What shall we say unto my lord? what shall we speak? or how shall we clear ourselves? God hath found out the iniquity of thy servants: behold, we are my lord's servants, both we, and he also with whom the cup is found.
17 [†] And he said, God forbid that I should do so: but the man in whose hand the cup is found, he shall be my servant; and as for you, get you up in peace unto your father.
18 [†] ¶ Then Judah came near unto him, and said, Oh my lord, let thy servant, I pray thee, speak a word in my lord's ears, and let not thine anger burn against thy servant: for thou art even as Pharaoh.
19 My lord asked his servants, saying, Have ye a father, or a brother?
20 [†] And we said unto my lord, We have a father, an old man, and a child of his old age, a little one; and his brother is dead, and he alone is left of his mother, and his father loveth him.
21 And thou saidst unto thy servants, Bring him down unto me, that I may set mine eyes upon him.
22 And we said unto my lord, The lad cannot leave his father: for if he should leave his father, his father would die.
23 And thou saidst unto thy servants, Except your youngest brother come down with you, ye shall see my face no more.
24 And it came to pass when we came up unto thy servant my father, we told him the words of my lord.
25 And our father said, Go again, and buy us a little food.

26 And we said, We cannot go down: if our youngest brother be with us, then will we go down: for we may not see the man’s face, except our youngest brother be with us.
27 And thy servant my father said unto us, Ye know that my wife bare me two sons:
28 And the one went out from me, and I said, Surely he is torn in pieces; and I saw him not since:
29 And if ye take this also from me, and mischief befall him, ye shall bring down my gray hairs with sorrow to the grave.
30 Now therefore when I come to thy servant my father, and the lad be not with us; seeing that his life is bound up in the lad’s life;
31 It shall come to pass, when he seeth that the lad is not with us, that he will die: and thy servants shall bring down the gray hairs of thy servant our father with sorrow to the grave.
32 [†] For thy servant became surety for the lad unto my father, saying, If I bring him not unto thee, then I shall bear the blame to my father for ever.
33 Now therefore, I pray thee, let thy servant abide instead of the lad a bondman to my lord; and let the lad go up with his brethren.
34 [†] For how shall I go up to my father, and the lad be not with me? lest peradventure I see the evil that shall come on my father.

Genesis 45 [†]

1 [†] Then Joseph could not refrain himself before all them that stood by him; and he cried, Cause every man to go out from me. And there stood no man with him, while Joseph made himself known unto his brethren.
2 [†] And he wept aloud: and the Egyptians and the house of Pharaoh heard.
3 And Joseph said unto his brethren, I am Joseph; doth my father yet live? And his brethren could not answer him; for they were troubled at his presence.
4 [†] And Joseph said unto his brethren, Come near to me, I pray you. And they came near. And he said, I am Joseph your brother, whom ye sold into Egypt.
5 [†] Now therefore be not grieved, nor angry with yourselves, that ye sold me hither: for God did send me before you to preserve life.
6 [†] For these two years hath the famine been in the land: and yet there are five years, in the which there shall neither be earing nor harvest.
7 [†] And God sent me before you to preserve you a posterity in the earth, and to save your lives by a great deliverance.
8 [†] So now it was not you that sent me hither, but God: and he hath made me a father to Pharaoh, and lord of all his house, and a ruler throughout all the land of Egypt.
9 [†] Haste ye, and go up to my father, and say unto him, Thus saith thy son Joseph, God hath made me lord of all Egypt: come down unto me, tarry not:
10 [†] And thou shalt dwell in the land of Goshen, and thou shalt be near unto me, thou, and thy children, and thy children's children, and thy flocks, and thy herds, and all that thou hast:
11 And there will I nourish thee; for yet there are five years of famine; lest thou, and thy household, and all that thou hast, come to poverty.
12 And, behold, your eyes see, and the eyes of my brother Benjamin, that it is my mouth that speaketh unto you.
13 [†] And ye shall tell my father of all my glory in Egypt, and of all that ye have seen; and ye shall haste and bring down my father hither.
14 [†] And he fell upon his brother Benjamin's neck, and wept; and Benjamin wept upon his neck.
15 Moreover he kissed all his brethren, and wept upon them: and after that his brethren talked with him.
16 [†] ¶ And the fame thereof was heard in Pharaoh's house, saying, Joseph's brethren are come: and it pleased Pharaoh well, and his servants.
17 [†] And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, Say unto thy brethren, This do ye; lade your beasts, and go, get you unto the land of Canaan;
18 [†] And take your father and your households, and come unto me: and I will give you the good of the land of Egypt, and ye shall eat the fat of the land.
19 Now thou art commanded, this do ye; take you wagons out of the land of Egypt for your little ones, and for your wives, and bring your father, and come.
20 Also regard not your stuff; for the good of all the land of Egypt is yours.
21 And the children of Israel did so: and Joseph gave them wagons, according to the commandment of Pharaoh, and gave them provision for the way.
22 [†] To all of them he gave each man changes of raiment; but to Benjamin he gave three hundred pieces of silver, and five changes of raiment.
23 [†] And to his father he sent after this manner; ten asses laden with the good things of Egypt, and ten she asses laden with corn and bread and meat for his father by the way.
24 [†] So he sent his brethren away, and they departed: and he said unto them, See that ye fall not out by the way.

25 ¶ And they went up out of Egypt, and came into the land of Canaan unto Jacob their father,
26 [†] And told him, saying, Joseph is yet alive, and he is governor over all the land of Egypt. And Jacob's heart fainted, for he believed them not.
27 And they told him all the words of Joseph, which he had said unto them: and when he saw the wagons which Joseph had sent to carry him, the spirit of Jacob their father revived:
28 And Israel said, It is enough; Joseph my son is yet alive: I will go and see him before I die.

Genesis 46 [†]

1 [†] And Israel took his journey with all that he had, and came to Beer-sheba, and offered sacrifices unto the God of his father Isaac.
2 And God spake unto Israel in the visions of the night, and said, Jacob, Jacob. And he said, Here am I.
3 And he said, I am God, the God of thy father: fear not to go down into Egypt; for I will there make of thee a great nation:
4 [†] I will go down with thee into Egypt; and I will also surely bring thee up again: and Joseph shall put his hand upon thine eyes.
5 And Jacob rose up from Beer-sheba: and the sons of Israel carried Jacob their father, and their little ones, and their wives, in the wagons which Pharaoh had sent to carry him.
6 [†] And they took their cattle, and their goods, which they had gotten in the land of Canaan, and came into Egypt, Jacob, and all his seed with him:
7 His sons, and his sons' sons with him, his daughters, and his sons' daughters, and all his seed brought he with him into Egypt.
8 [†] ¶ And these are the names of the children of Israel, which came into Egypt, Jacob and his sons: Reuben, Jacob's firstborn.
9 And the sons of Reuben; Hanoch, and Phallu, and Hezron, and Carmi.
10 ¶ And the sons of Simeon; Jemuel, and Jamin, and Ohad, and Jachin, and Zohar, and Shaul the son of a Canaanitish woman.
11 ¶ And the sons of Levi; Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.
12 ¶ And the sons of Judah; Er, and Onan, and Shelah, and Pharez, and Zerah: but Er and Onan died in the land of Canaan. And the sons of Pharez were Hezron and Hamul.
13 ¶ And the sons of Issachar; Tola, and Phuvah, and Job, and Shimron.
14 ¶ And the sons of Zebulun; Sered, and Elon, and Jahleel.
15 [†] These be the sons of Leah, which she bare unto Jacob in Padan-aram, with his daughter Dinah: all the souls of his sons and his daughters were thirty and three.
16 ¶ And the sons of Gad; Ziphion, and Haggi, Shuni, and Ezbon, Eri, and Arodi, and Areli.
17 ¶ And the sons of Asher; Jimnah, and Ishuah, and Isui, and Beriah, and Serah their sister: and the sons of Beriah; Heber, and Malchiel.
18 These are the sons of Zilpah, whom Laban gave to Leah his daughter, and these she bare unto Jacob, even sixteen souls.
19 The sons of Rachel Jacob's wife; Joseph, and Benjamin.
20 ¶ And unto Joseph in the land of Egypt were born Manasseh and Ephraim, which Asenath the daughter of Poti-pherah priest of On bare unto him.
21 ¶ And the sons of Benjamin were Belah, and Becher, and Ashbel, Gera, and Naaman, Ehi, and Rosh, Muppim, and Huppim, and Ard.
22 These are the sons of Rachel, which were born to Jacob: all the souls were fourteen.
23 ¶ And the sons of Dan; Hushim.
24 ¶ And the sons of Naphtali; Jahzeel, and Guni, and Jezer, and Shillem.
25 These are the sons of Bilhah, which Laban gave unto Rachel his daughter, and she bare these unto Jacob: all the souls were seven.
26 [†] All the souls that came with Jacob into Egypt, which came out of his loins, besides Jacob's sons' wives, all the souls were threescore and six;
27 [†] And the sons of Joseph, which were born him in Egypt, were two souls: all the souls of the house of Jacob, which came into Egypt, were threescore and ten.

28 [†] ¶ And he sent Judah before him unto Joseph, to direct his face unto Goshen; and they came into the land of Goshen.
29 [†] And Joseph made ready his chariot, and went up to meet Israel his father, to Goshen, and presented himself unto him; and he fell on his neck, and wept on his neck a good while.
30 [†] And Israel said unto Joseph, Now let me die, since I have seen thy face, because thou art yet alive.
31 And Joseph said unto his brethren, and unto his father's house, I will go up, and shew Pharaoh, and say unto him, My brethren, and my father's house, which were in the land of Canaan, are come unto me;
32 And the men are shepherds, for their trade hath been to feed cattle; and they have brought their flocks, and their herds, and all that they have.
33 And it shall come to pass, when Pharaoh shall call you, and shall say, What is your occupation?
34 [†] That ye shall say, Thy servants' trade hath been about cattle from our youth even until now, both we, and also our fathers: that ye may dwell in the land of Goshen; for every shepherd is an abomination unto the Egyptians.

Genesis 47 [†]

1 Then Joseph came and told Pharaoh, and said, My father and my brethren, and their flocks, and their herds, and all that they have, are come out of the land of Canaan; and, behold, they are in the land of Goshen.
2 And he took some of his brethren, even five men, and presented them unto Pharaoh.
3 And Pharaoh said unto his brethren, What is your occupation? And they said unto Pharaoh, Thy servants are shepherds, both we, and also our fathers.
4 [†] They said moreover unto Pharaoh, For to sojourn in the land are we come; for thy servants have no pasture for their flocks; for the famine is sore in the land of Canaan: now therefore, we pray thee, let thy servants dwell in the land of Goshen.
5 And Pharaoh spake unto Joseph, saying, Thy father and thy brethren are come unto thee:
6 [†] The land of Egypt is before thee; in the best of the land make thy father and brethren to dwell; in the land of Goshen let them dwell: and if thou knowest any men of activity among them, then make them rulers over my cattle.
7 [†] And Joseph brought in Jacob his father, and set him before Pharaoh: and Jacob blessed Pharaoh.
8 And Pharaoh said unto Jacob, How old art thou?
9 [†] And Jacob said unto Pharaoh, The days of the years of my pilgrimage are an hundred and thirty years: few and evil have the days of the years of my life been, and have not attained unto the days of the years of the life of my fathers in the days of their pilgrimage.
10 And Jacob blessed Pharaoh, and went out from before Pharaoh.
11 [†] ¶ And Joseph placed his father and his brethren, and gave them a possession in the land of Egypt, in the best of the land, in the land of Rameses, as Pharaoh had commanded.
12 And Joseph nourished his father, and his brethren, and all his father's household, with bread, according to their families.
13 [†] ¶ And there was no bread in all the land; for the famine was very sore, so that the land of Egypt and all the land of Canaan fainted by reason of the famine.
14 [†] And Joseph gathered up all the money that was found in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, for the corn which they bought: and Joseph brought the money into Pharaoh's house.
15 [†] And when money failed in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, all the Egyptians came unto Joseph, and said, Give us bread: for why should we die in thy presence? for the money faileth.
16 And Joseph said, Give your cattle; and I will give you for your cattle, if money fail.
17 And they brought their cattle unto Joseph: and Joseph gave them bread in exchange for horses, and for the flocks, and for the cattle of the herds, and for the asses: and he fed them with bread for all their cattle for that year.
18 When that year was ended, they came unto him the second year, and said unto him, We will not hide it from my lord, how that our money is spent; my lord also hath our herds of cattle; there is not ought left in the sight of my lord, but our bodies, and our lands:
19 Wherefore shall we die before thine eyes, both we and our land? buy us and our land for bread, and we and our land will be servants unto Pharaoh: and give us seed, that we may live, and not die, that the land be not desolate.
20 [†] And Joseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh; for the Egyptians sold every man his field, because the famine prevailed over them: so the land became Pharaoh's.
21 [†] And as for the people, he removed them to cities from one end of the borders of Egypt even to the other end thereof.
22 Only the land of the priests bought he not; for the priests had a portion assigned them of Pharaoh, and did eat their portion which Pharaoh gave them: wherefore they sold not their lands.

23 Then Joseph said unto the people, Behold, I have bought you this day and your land for Pharaoh: lo, here is seed for you, and ye shall sow the land.
24 [†] And it shall come to pass in the increase, that ye shall give the fifth part unto Pharaoh, and four parts shall be your own, for seed of the field, and for your food, and for them of your households, and for food for your little ones.
25 [†] And they said, Thou hast saved our lives: let us find grace in the sight of my lord, and we will be Pharaoh's servants.
26 And Joseph made it a law over the land of Egypt unto this day, that Pharaoh should have the fifth part; except the land of the priests only, which became not Pharaoh's.
27 ¶ And Israel dwelt in the land of Egypt, in the country of Goshen; and they had possessions therein, and grew, and multiplied exceedingly.
28 And Jacob lived in the land of Egypt seventeen years: so the whole age of Jacob was an hundred forty and seven years.
29 [†] And the time drew nigh that Israel must die: and he called his son Joseph, and said unto him, If now I have found grace in thy sight, put, I pray thee, thy hand under my thigh, and deal kindly and truly with me; bury me not, I pray thee, in Egypt:
30 But I will lie with my fathers, and thou shalt carry me out of Egypt, and bury me in their buryingplace. And he said, I will do as thou hast said.
31 [†] And he said, Swear unto me. And he sware unto him. And Israel bowed himself upon the bed's head.

Genesis 48 [†]

1 And it came to pass after these things, that one told Joseph, Behold, thy father is sick: and he took with him his two sons, Manasseh and Ephraim.
2 And one told Jacob, and said, Behold, thy son Joseph cometh unto thee: and Israel strengthened himself, and sat upon the bed.
3 [†] And Jacob said unto Joseph, God Almighty appeared unto me at Luz in the land of Canaan, and blessed me,
4 [†] And said unto me, Behold, I will make thee fruitful, and multiply thee, and I will make of thee a multitude of people; and will give this land to thy seed after thee for an everlasting possession.
5 [†] ¶ And now thy two sons, Ephraim and Manasseh, which were born unto thee in the land of Egypt before I came unto thee into Egypt, are mine; as Reuben and Simeon, they shall be mine.
6 [†] And thy issue, which thou begettest after them, shall be thine, and shall be called after the name of their brethren in their inheritance.
7 And as for me, when I came from Padan, Rachel died by me in the land of Canaan in the way, when yet there was but a little way to come unto Ephrath: and I buried her there in the way of Ephrath; the same is Beth-lehem.
8 [†] And Israel beheld Joseph's sons, and said, Who are these?
9 [†] And Joseph said unto his father, They are my sons, whom God hath given me in this place. And he said, Bring them, I pray thee, unto me, and I will bless them.
10 Now the eyes of Israel were dim for age, so that he could not see. And he brought them near unto him; and he kissed them, and embraced them.
11 [†] And Israel said unto Joseph, I had not thought to see thy face: and, lo, God hath shewed me also thy seed.
12 [†] And Joseph brought them out from between his knees, and he bowed himself with his face to the earth.
13 And Joseph took them both, Ephraim in his right hand toward Israel's left hand, and Manasseh in his left hand toward Israel's right hand, and brought them near unto him.
14 [†] And Israel stretched out his right hand, and laid it upon Ephraim's head, who was the younger, and his left hand upon Manasseh's head, guiding his hands wittingly; for Manasseh was the firstborn.
15 [†] ¶ And he blessed Joseph, and said, God, before whom my fathers Abraham and Isaac did walk, the God which fed me all my life long unto this day,
16 The Angel which redeemed me from all evil, bless the lads; and let my name be named on them, and the name of my fathers Abraham and Isaac; and let them grow into a multitude in the midst of the earth.
17 And when Joseph saw that his father laid his right hand upon the head of Ephraim, it displeased him: and he held up his father's hand, to remove it from Ephraim's head unto Manasseh's head.
18 [†] And Joseph said unto his father, Not so, my father: for this is the firstborn; put thy right hand upon his head.
19 And his father refused, and said, I know it, my son, I know it: he also shall become a people, and he also shall be great: but truly his younger brother shall be greater than he, and his seed shall become a multitude of nations.
20 And he blessed them that day, saying, In thee shall Israel bless, saying, God make thee as Ephraim and as Manasseh: and he set Ephraim before Manasseh.
21 [†] And Israel said unto Joseph, Behold, I die: but God shall be with you, and bring you again unto the land of your fathers.
22 [†] Moreover I have given to thee one portion above thy brethren, which I took out of the hand of the Amorite with my sword and with my bow.

Genesis 49 [†]

1 [†] And Jacob called unto his sons, and said, Gather yourselves together, that I may tell you that which shall befall you in the last days.
2 [†] Gather yourselves together, and hear, ye sons of Jacob; and hearken unto Israel your father.
3 ¶ Reuben, thou art my firstborn, my might, and the beginning of my strength, the excellency of dignity, and the excellency of power:
4 [†] Unstable as water, thou shalt not excel; because thou wentest up to thy father's bed; then defiledst thou it: he went up to my couch.
5 ¶ Simeon and Levi are brethren; instruments of cruelty are in their habitations.
6 [†] O my soul, come not thou into their secret; unto their assembly, mine honour, be not thou united: for in their anger they slew a man, and in their selfwill they digged down a wall.
7 [†] Cursed be their anger, for it was fierce; and their wrath, for it was cruel: I will divide them in Jacob, and scatter them in Israel.
8 [†] ¶ Judah, thou art he whom thy brethren shall praise: thy hand shall be in the neck of thine enemies; thy father's children shall bow down before thee.
9 [†] Judah is a lion's whelp: from the prey, my son, thou art gone up: he stooped down, he couched as a lion, and as an old lion; who shall rouse him up?
10 [†] The sceptre shall not depart from Judah, nor a lawgiver from between his feet, until Shiloh come; and unto him shall the gathering of the people be.
11 [†] Binding his foal unto the vine, and his ass's colt unto the choice vine; he washed his garments in wine, and his clothes in the blood of grapes:
12 His eyes shall be red with wine, and his teeth white with milk.
13 [†] ¶ Zebulun shall dwell at the haven of the sea; and he shall be for an haven of ships; and his border shall be unto Zidon.
14 [†] ¶ Issachar is a strong ass couching down between two burdens:
15 And he saw that rest was good, and the land that it was pleasant; and bowed his shoulder to bear, and became a servant unto tribute.
16 ¶ Dan shall judge his people, as one of the tribes of Israel.
17 [†] Dan shall be a serpent by the way, an adder in the path, that biteth the horse heels, so that his rider shall fall backward.
18 [†] I have waited for thy salvation, O Lord.
19 ¶ Gad, a troop shall overcome him: but he shall overcome at the last.
20 [†] ¶ Out of Asher his bread shall be fat, and he shall yield royal dainties.
21 [†] ¶ Naphtali is a hind let loose: he giveth goodly words.
22 ¶ Joseph is a fruitful bough, even a fruitful bough by a well; whose branches run over the wall:
23 [†] The archers have sorely grieved him, and shot at him, and hated him:
24 [†] But his bow abode in strength, and the arms of his hands were made strong by the hands of the mighty God of Jacob; (from thence is the shepherd, the stone of Israel:)
25 Even by the God of thy father, who shall help thee; and by the Almighty, who shall bless thee with blessings of heaven above, blessings of the deep that lieth under, blessings of the breasts, and of the womb:
26 [†] The blessings of thy father have prevailed above the blessings of my progenitors unto the utmost bound of the everlasting hills: they shall be on the head of Joseph, and on the crown of the head of him that was separate from his brethren.
27 [†] ¶ Benjamin shall ravin as a wolf: in the morning he shall devour the prey, and at night he shall divide the spoil.

28 ¶ All these are the twelve tribes of Israel: and this is it that their father spake unto them, and blessed them; every one according to his blessing he blessed them.
29 [†] And he charged them, and said unto them, I am to be gathered unto my people: bury me with my fathers in the cave that is in the field of Ephron the Hittite,
30 In the cave that is in the field of Machpelah, which is before Mamre, in the land of Canaan, which Abraham bought with the field of Ephron the Hittite for a possession of a buryingplace.
31 There they buried Abraham and Sarah his wife; there they buried Isaac and Rebekah his wife; and there I buried Leah.
32 The purchase of the field and of the cave that is therein was from the children of Heth.
33 [†] And when Jacob had made an end of commanding his sons, he gathered up his feet into the bed, and yielded up the ghost, and was gathered unto his people.

Genesis 50 [†]

(see article: God's Covenants)

1 And Joseph fell upon his father's face, and wept upon him, and kissed him.
2 And Joseph commanded his servants the physicians to embalm his father: and the physicians embalmed Israel.
3 [†] And forty days were fulfilled for him; for so are fulfilled the days of those which are embalmed: and the Egyptians mourned for him threescore and ten days.
4 And when the days of his mourning were past, Joseph spake unto the house of Pharaoh, saying, If now I have found grace in your eyes, speak, I pray you, in the ears of Pharaoh, saying,
5 My father made me swear, saying, Lo, I die: in my grave which I have digged for me in the land of Canaan, there shalt thou bury me. Now therefore let me go up, I pray thee, and bury my father, and I will come again.
6 And Pharaoh said, Go up, and bury thy father, according as he made thee swear.
7 ¶ And Joseph went up to bury his father: and with him went up all the servants of Pharaoh, the elders of his house, and all the elders of the land of Egypt,
8 And all the house of Joseph, and his brethren, and his father's house: only their little ones, and their flocks, and their herds, they left in the land of Goshen.
9 And there went up with him both chariots and horsemen: and it was a very great company.
10 [†] And they came to the threshingfloor of Atad, which is beyond Jordan, and there they mourned with a great and very sore lamentation: and he made a mourning for his father seven days.
11 And when the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, saw the mourning in the floor of Atad, they said, This is a grievous mourning to the Egyptians: wherefore the name of it was called Abel-mizraim, which is beyond Jordan.
12 And his sons did unto him according as he commanded them:
13 For his sons carried him into the land of Canaan, and buried him in the cave of the field of Machpelah, which Abraham bought with the field for a possession of a buryingplace of Ephron the Hittite, before Mamre.
14 ¶ And Joseph returned into Egypt, he, and his brethren, and all that went up with him to bury his father, after he had buried his father.
15 [†] ¶ And when Joseph's brethren saw that their father was dead, they said, Joseph will peradventure hate us, and will certainly requite us all the evil which we did unto him.
16 And they sent a messenger unto Joseph, saying, Thy father did command before he died, saying,
17 [†] So shall ye say unto Joseph, Forgive, I pray thee now, the trespass of thy brethren, and their sin; for they did unto thee evil: and now, we pray thee, forgive the trespass of the servants of the God of thy father. And Joseph wept when they spake unto him.
18 And his brethren also went and fell down before his face; and they said, Behold, we be thy servants.
19 [†] And Joseph said unto them, Fear not: for am I in the place of God?
20 But as for you, ye thought evil against me; but God meant it unto good, to bring to pass, as it is this day, to save much people alive.
21 Now therefore fear ye not: I will nourish you, and your little ones. And he comforted them, and spake kindly unto them.
22 [†] ¶ And Joseph dwelt in Egypt, he, and his father's house: and Joseph lived an hundred and ten years.
23 [†] And Joseph saw Ephraim's children of the third generation: the children also of Machir the son of Manasseh were brought up upon Joseph's knees.

24 [†] And Joseph said unto his brethren, I die: and God will surely visit you, and bring you out of this land unto the land which he sware to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob.
25 And Joseph took an oath of the children of Israel, saying, God will surely visit you, and ye shall carry up my bones from hence.
26 [†] So Joseph died, being an hundred and ten years old: and they embalmed him, and he was put in a coffin in Egypt.

NOTES ON THE BOOK OF

GENESIS

THE CREATION AND CORRUPTION OF THE WORLD (1:1—11:32)

The Creation of All Things with Adam as Head (1:1—2:25)

Chapter 1: God creates the universe as a good and orderly home where mankind, created in God's image, could live and serve Him.

1:1 In the beginning God. The beginning of time, space, and matter. All came from Him and is under His control. The Hebrew word created means "to create new." This is uniquely divine activity; God is the only subject of the verb. Creation testifies to divine power, ownership, and authority.

1:2 without form, and void. What the original creation was at the beginning, not what it became. The gap theory tries to argue original creation became corrupt, but the expression means empty or uninhabited (Job 26:7; Jer. 4:23). Isaiah 45:18 proves the world was made to be inhabited. Also v. 31 shows there was no death or corruption before the fall.

1:3 Let there be light. Creation is by the spoken word of God. Christ spoke everything into existence (John 1:3; Col. 1:16), which power He displayed in the many miracles He performed. Paul drew an analogy between the creation of light and the regeneration of the believer (2 Cor. 4:6). The wonder of being born again of God's Holy Spirit is equal to the power displayed on the first day of creation. That is surely awesome!

1:4 it was good. Another repeated phrase—see note at v. 31. Even the inanimate creation is declared good.

1:5 God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. All one needs is a rotating globe and a directional aspect to the light to produce day and night, and God could have directly produced the light, as He will in the heavenly city (Rev. 21:23). first day. Literally, "day one." Though the numeral is translated first (ordinal), the word here is primarily cardinal and defines the usage here of day as one cycle of evening and morning. Thereafter (vv. 8,13, etc.) the counting is ordinal.

1:6–8 firmament. This word means "expanse" and includes outer space. It is not just the sky since God calls the firmament Heaven (v. 8) and the stars are put in the firmament (v. 14). This is the expanse which God stretches out (Job 9:8; Ps. 104:2; Isa. 40:22; 42:5; 44:24; 45:12; 48:13; 51:13; Jer. 10:12; Zech. 12:1).

1:9 Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear. Second Peter 3:5 refers to this separation of water and land and confirms that the land appeared with some under water and some above.

1:11 whose seed is in itself. The first living things are made: plants and trees with "seed in itself," a mark of living things.

1:14–19 lights in the firmament. The momentous creation of the sun, the moon, and the stars whose light takes over from the light sources of the first three days. the stars also. God calls them all by their names (Ps. 147:4; Isa. 40:26). There are an estimated 200 billion stars in the Milky Way galaxy alone and an estimated 100 billion galaxies in the universe. The stars are the work of His fingers (Ps. 8:3).

1:20–23 the waters brought forth abundantly, after their kind, and every winged fowl after his kind.

Swimming creatures as well as flying creatures were all made on day five of creation. Notice that evolution would have flying animals come after land creatures.

1:21 great whales. These differ from both fish and seagoing reptiles (like crocodiles). This word here is translated elsewhere as serpent, dragon, sea monster, and leviathan. The exact identification is uncertain, but certainly indicates that God made very large sea creatures.

1:25 the beast of the earth. Wild animals. cattle. Animals subject to domestication. every thing that creepeth upon the earth. Reptiles like crocodiles and lizards as well as insects that crawl on the ground. All the land creatures are made on the sixth day—this includes dinosaurs which we know from fossils existed in the past. God saw that it was good. This is the sixth of seven pronouncements by God concerning the goodness of creation (vv. 4,10,12,18,21,25,31). There can be no doubt that God made an originally perfect creation.

1:26 Let us make man. The verb form highlights the uniqueness of man's creation. The impersonal verb, "Let there be," occurs with the rest of creation, but here it is personal, Let us. The plurality of God is stressed. Relationship lies at the heart of God's very being, so man is created in relationship first with God. in our image, after our likeness. God is spirit (John 4:24) and thus invisible (1 Tim. 1:17). He created man to be His visible, living image on earth (2 Cor. 4:4; Col. 1:15) with qualities such as knowledge, righteousness, and holiness (Eph. 4:24; Col. 3:10) that give man unique value (9:6), capacity for familiar relationship to God (5:1–3; Rom. 8:29), and dominion over the world as God's representative (1:26,28; Ps. 8:4–8).

1:27 male and female. The first mention of female is in the context that both man and woman were created in God's image. This is creation, not development from existing creatures.

1:28 Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it. The dominion mandate given to man is clear. Having made man in His own image, God delegated authority to man over the world and the animals. The verb replenish is literally, "fill."

1:29–30 I have given you every herb bearing seed. Man and the animals at this stage were vegetarian. After the flood man is allowed to eat meat (9:3). meat. Here, food of any kind.

1:31 And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. The seventh and final statement that all was good. There was nothing out of place in all creation, including the extraterrestrial universe—the planets, stars, and galaxies. It also must include the angels since these are created beings. Consequently the fall of Satan must be after day six of creation.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 1

1. Consider the power of God in creation. If a computer were observing 10 million stars per second, it would still take 63 million years to count all the stars! Such is the power of the Almighty. Remarkably, the stars are the work of His fingers (Ps. 8:3) but salvation is the work of His right hand (Ps. 98:1). In a wonderful way God's work in making believers new creations in Christ Jesus demonstrates a power greater than commanding the world into existence. Let us be amazed at the wonder of creation; let us be overwhelmed with the wonder of grace. How does saving grace display even greater glory than creation?
2. Stand in awe of the power of God's word. God's word is the agency of creation. God said, "Let there be . . ." Christ demonstrated this power in the miracles both with people such as raising Lazarus from the dead (John 11) and with the inanimate creation such as calming the storm (Mark 4:35–40). God's word still is powerful today through the Scriptures. It is by the word of His power as well that He bears His created world along according to His purpose of providence (Heb. 1:3).

The fact that God created gives Him the right to govern and to use His creation as He sees fit (Ps. 24:1–2; 95:5). Since creation, including man, belongs to God, all of creation, including man, is dependent on Him and accountable to Him. The theological implications of creation are far-reaching.

Chapter 2: Having described the creation of all things, the focus shifts to retell the creation of man in more detail, revealing God as the Lord of man's life, law, and love.

2:2 he rested. Literally, God "sabbathed," the same root later used for the Sabbath (Ex. 16:30; 20:8–11; 23:12).

2:3 God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it. The principle of setting apart one day in seven for rest and devotion to God is a creation ordinance. It is a day that God Himself rested, not because He needed to, but as an example for man and for man's good (Mark 2:27). The establishment of the Sabbath at creation shows that its moral obligation was not limited to the law of Moses but abides as long as creation.

2:4 These are the generations. Many regard this phrase which occurs throughout Genesis as the narrator's introduction to the next section. The Hebrew word generations (toledot) is used in 2:4 (heavens and earth); 5:1 ("Adam"); 6:9 ("Noah"); 10:1 ("sons of Noah"); 11:10 ("Shem"); 11:27 ("Terah"); 25:12 ("Ishmael"); 25:19 ("Isaac"); 36:1,9 ("Esau"); and 37:2 ("Jacob").

2:5–6 the LORD GOD had not caused it to rain upon the earth. There was no violent rainfall before the flood. till. Serve or work. there went up a mist from the earth. There was a well-watered system of rivers and dew arising by condensation.

2:7 the LORD GOD formed man. This is not a separate creation account, but a detailed account of humanity's creation after ch. 1 gave the big picture. of the dust of the ground. The first man was not formed of creatures already made—no evolutionary process. God made Adam from dust—the literal dust to which he must return since the fall (3:19). man. Hebrew, adam, meaning "from the earth, ruddy," linking his name to his origin. God . . . breathed into his nostrils the breath of life. The life of man was produced directly from the breath or Spirit of God (Job 32:8; 33:4). Because he is made in God's image there is a direct action of God in his creation. man became a living soul. Literally, "a living entity" or "being."

2:8 God planted a garden. There was order and beauty in God's original creation, and all that man could need was provided.

2:9 The tree of life is first mentioned here at the beginning of creation and at the end of Scripture (Rev. 22:2,14). Christ, "the way, the truth, and the life" (John 14:6) was pierced on a tree for His people's sins (Acts 5:30; 10:39; 13:29; Gal. 3:13) and became their Tree of Life (John 3:14–15). The tree of knowledge of good and evil was not of itself evil; evil came by disobedience to God's command.

2:10–14 Four rivers came out of the original Edenic river: Pison, Gihon, Hiddekel, and Euphrates. These mean respectively, "increase," "bursting forth," "rapid," and "fruitfulness." They are not the same as any rivers today since Eden was buried under a mass of sediment along with all the other original land at the worldwide flood. compasseth. Surrounds or borders.

2:15 to dress it and to keep it. Literally, "to serve it and to guard it." Even in the prefall world Adam had work to do. When again man is without sin in the new heavens and new earth to come, he will not be idle. Work only became a drudgery after the fall (3:19).

2:16 God commanded. The first solemn charge that God gives to Adam. Man had choice and only in his prefall condition did he have perfect liberty to do that which is good. The first man received this positive command alone, a sign of his sole headship in representing mankind before God in the covenant of works. Positively, Adam could eat of the trees in the garden freely.

2:17 But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it. The negative covenant command was a test of obedience but also a test of man's trust in God—that God knew what was right for man better than Adam did. in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. Death, first mentioned here in the Bible, was not part of God's original creation (1:29–31), but came through the violation of God's law by Adam (Rom. 5:12).

2:18 It is not good that the man should be alone. Man, created in God's image, should be in relationship with God and his fellow human beings. help meet for him. A capable and needed assistant well suited for man, created in God's image (1:27) to support man in his calling to fill and subdue the earth in obedience to God's law (1:28; 2:15–17).

2:19–20 whatsoever Adam called every living creature, that was the name thereof. He named the cattle, fowl of the air, and the beasts of the field. Naming is a sign of his authority (1:5,8,10) as God's image and ruling representative on earth (1:26).

2:21–22 rib. Or "side" (same word in Job 18:12; Ezek. 41:15). from man, made he a woman. This is the climax of ch. 2. The mode of creation of woman is vital in understanding the nature of woman: God made woman after man as under his authority (1 Tim. 2:11–13), and from man to share his nature yet not to be independent from him but to be for him (1 Cor. 11:7–9). The word made (not the same as 1:26–27; 2:7) means "built" and is often used of architecture, implying that woman is intricately crafted and balanced to complement man.

2:23–25 bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh. An intimate and lasting bond (one flesh, Matt. 19:5–6; 1 Cor. 6:16). she shall be called Woman. Again, naming implies authority (vv. 19–20), yet her name implies union and equality of essence. Adam's reaction has a spiritual parallel in the relationship of the church to Christ, for marriage is a picture of Christ and the church (Eph. 5:25–33).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 2

1. Keep and cherish the Lord's Day (Isa. 58:13–14). The term "sabbath" means "cessation"; thus the Sabbath is a day where normal activity is to stop. In the New Testament, Christ's resurrection marked the end of His meriting salvation for His people; thus the term "Sabbath" is most appropriate to commemorate that momentous day. So the Sabbath has now moved to Sunday and is still blessed by God, as the "market day of the soul." How can we guard this day as a special day of rest and communion with God?
2. Honor marriage as a divine institution and picture of Christ and His church. Our marriages should reflect the different roles that the Lord made for man and woman. The woman was made of the man and for the man. Her calling is to assist and support him in submission to his authority. Man was created first and received the commission and commandment of God. His calling is to lead the family in doing God's will, and to love his wife as Christ loved the church—with humble and glad self-sacrifice for her good.

The Fall of Mankind into Sin and Death (3:1—5:32)

Chapter 3: Satan tempts the woman and man, and they rebel against God, provoking Him to pronounce judgment and yet to promise salvation.

3:1–6 serpent. An evil spirit, Satan, the Devil (Isa. 27:1; Rev. 12:9). subtil. Cunning. hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden? The woman listened to the serpent's voice and the questioning of God's word. She then conversed with the serpent. She was now being drawn into his deceit, by which she now conceived evil in her own heart. She saw in a different way: as a tree to be desired to make one wise. She desired, and she took. The Devil did not need to tempt Adam directly, for Eve would influence her husband to do the same. Adam took the fruit knowingly, in deliberate rebellion (1 Tim. 2:14), whereas Eve was tricked by the deceit of the Devil.

3:7 the eyes of them both were opened. The immediate effect of sin was the awareness of their nakedness before God—guilt and shame (contrast 2:25). They experienced the beginnings of death. Death is separation from life, and their souls were now cut off from communion with God's Spirit. Spiritual death had come immediately (Eph. 2:1). Physical death (separation of soul from body) would come nine hundred or so years later to Adam. Eternal death threatened to punish body and soul in hell forever (Rev. 20:14). and he did eat. Adam tragically broke covenant with God for himself and all human posterity whom he represented (Rom. 5).

3:8 Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the LORD GOD. As with all sin, their first thought was to cover it up. The consequence of their sin was that they first tried to cover themselves with fig leaves. But the next consequence was that they tried to hide themselves from the presence of God. Both were pitiful and futile attempts.

3:9 Adam . . . Where art thou? This is the second question recorded in Genesis (v. 1). God knew where they were, but He asked the question in order that they might acknowledge their sin. God asks the same question down the centuries to all mankind, "Where are you?"

3:10 I heard thy voice . . . I was afraid. The voice of God brings fear to the sinner. This is an important first stage in dealing with sin. There is hope when men and women have a fear of God.

3:11 Hast thou eaten of the tree. The question was asked by God, not because He did not know, but that Adam and Eve might admit their guilt. There can be no restoration without confession (1 John 1:7–9).

3:12 The woman whom thou gavest to be with me. Adam blames Eve and by implication he also blames God. This was grievous indeed as Adam does not take full responsibility for his own sin.

3:13 The serpent beguiled me. Eve blames the serpent and his deception. God does not ask the serpent, "What have you done?" There is no redemption for the Devil and his angels, and no bringing to repentance.

3:14 dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life. Snakes have the Jacobson's organ in the roof of their mouths that helps the snake to smell by the forked tongue constantly sampling bits of dust. Licking the dust is also a metaphor for humiliating defeat (Ps. 72:9; Isa. 49:23; Mic. 7:17), a statement of God's curse on Satan.

3:15 enmity. Hostility, hatred. God would turn the woman's heart against the Devil: the gift of repentance (2 Tim. 2:25–26). her seed. Her offspring, particularly her spiritual offspring who stand against the wicked world, the children (thy seed) of the Devil (John 8:44; see note at 4:8). This promise is the foundation of all the other seed promises in the covenants of Genesis (9:9; 12:7; etc.). shall bruise thy head. The first promise of the Redeemer to come to rescue man. The singular seed points to one man (4:25; cf. Gal. 3:16), the champion of God's people who will bring them victory over Satan by His grace (Rom. 16:20). But the serpent would nevertheless strike Him (bruise his heel) so that salvation comes through suffering (see note at v. 21).

3:16 I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception. Until modern medical procedures, many women died in childbirth. Though mammals in the animal kingdom can also die in childbirth, there is generally greater pain, difficulty, and danger in human childbirth. thy desire shall be to thy husband. Previously Eve naturally followed Adam's lead, but now collision of wills is bound to take place.

3:17–18 hearkened. Listened. cursed is the ground for thy sake. Adam was to know difficulty in providing for his wife and family. The ground which previously grew produce with little difficulty was now cursed, and thorns and thistles would throttle plants grown for food (cf. Matt. 13:7). Thorns would be upon the brow of the Savior as He took the curse for sin upon Himself (Mark 15:17).

3:19 In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread. Whereas beforehand the work that Adam did was easy and light, now life would be very difficult and he would be constantly reminded that the ground he was tilling was cursed. His livelihood would now depend on his success. unto dust shalt thou return. Death is the curse and penalty for sin (Rom. 5:12; 6:23).

3:20 the mother of all living. Eve literally means "life." Her name expresses Adam's hope in God's promise (v. 15).

3:21 the LORD GOD make coats of skins. The first recorded instance of a sacrifice, since to have coats made of animal skins implies that an animal was killed. God thus provides a sacrifice symbolic of the Lamb to come (John 1:29), the Lord Jesus Christ, whose death would cover the shame of sinners.

3:22 lest he . . . take also of the tree of life . . . and live for ever. Before the fall, the Tree of Life was a symbol of everlasting life. Now man is denied it because of sin. Life now could come only through the seed of the woman (v. 15), who alone could reverse the curse.

3:23–24 till. Serve or work. So he drove out the man. Adam now has to gain his bread outside Eden. Only in the new Jerusalem does the Tree of Life become accessible again for the healing of the nations with the curse finally removed (Rev. 22:2–3). Cherubims. Heavenly spirits pictured as winged creatures (Ex. 25:20; Ps. 18:10) that attend God (Ezek. 1:5–14; 10:1). The angels now are ministers of judgment shutting out sinners from God's presence (Matt. 13:41–42; 25:31).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 3

1. Believe in the historic fall. The fall of man is just as literal as the rest of Genesis. Without a real Adam, a real garden, and a real serpent, there is no reason to believe in a real Christ, a real cross, and a real resurrection. The theology of Rom. 5 and 1 Cor. 15 in this regard is inescapable. These are real historical events. Redemption in Christ is predicated upon a literal fall of man in the garden of Eden.
2. Resist temptation. Like Eve we are tempted to sin by first listening to the lie of Satan, conversing in our minds with the thought of sin, which is then conceived (James 1:15). We look, we desire, and we take. It is not a matter of eating, but of the heart (Matt. 15:11,18). So begin the battle there.
3. Consider the horrible effects of the fall. Immediately, there was shame (v. 7), separation from God (v. 8), and guilt (v. 10). Consequently, according to God's sentence on the guilty, man now knows toil and hardship in work and women know suffering in childbearing. But yet, in the very statement of curse, God announces the first gospel message of a coming Seed who will reverse the curse itself. As soon as man needs a word of grace, God gives the word of grace. Only Christ can reverse this for He took the curse for sin. How believers should thank the Lord that He did not banish us as He has banished the angels that sinned! We have a Redeemer!

Chapter 4: From Adam and Eve come two kinds of people, the one worshiping God rightly, and the other hating God and persecuting the godly.

4:1 bare. Gave birth. I have gotten a man from the LORD. The first birth is recorded. No doubt she longed for the promised Seed (3:15) to reverse the effects of the fall. But she in fact gives birth to Cain who refuses to walk in God's way and is hostile to God.

4:3–4 Cain brought of the fruit of the ground for the worship of God, but Abel brought a blood sacrifice from the best (firstlings . . . fat) of his livestock, which the Lord respected. This shows that (a) God requires a blood sacrifice which is implied by the earlier covering of Adam and Eve (see note at 3:21), and (b) Adam had taught both brothers that this was required, since Abel offered his sacrifice by faith (Heb. 11:4), and faith comes by hearing the word of God (Rom. 10:17). God had revealed the way of acceptable worship.

4:5 Cain was very wroth because his offering was not accepted and his anger is expressed against God directly. wroth. Angry.

4:6 Why art thou wroth? As the Lord dealt with Adam and Eve when they sinned, so the Lord deals with Cain with a question. He confronts him with his sin.

4:7 sin lieth at the door. Like a predatory animal ready to pounce. Alternatively the Hebrew word for sin is the same as "sin offering" (Lev. 4:3), so perhaps God appeals to him to bring the sin offering and he will be accepted. unto thee shall be his desire, and thou shalt rule over him. Similar expression as that used of Eve (3:16). The interpretation is disputed. Possibly that Abel would still be subject to Cain as his elder brother or that sin desired Cain but he could gain victory over sin through the gospel (Rom. 6:14).

4:8 Cain rose up against Abel . . . and slew him. Cain refused the grace that God had offered freely to him. Sin now takes its course and brings forth death (James 1:15). Cain's hatred against his righteous brother showed that he was the seed of the serpent (3:15; 1 John 3:12).

4:9 Where is Abel thy brother? Yet again God deals with sin by asking questions. Like the first question of God to Adam (3:9), this question, "Where is your brother?" echoes down the generations to us. We cannot expect the forgiveness of God, if we do not love our brother (1 John 4:20). Am I my brother's keeper? One would have expected this famous retort by Cain to provoke God's immediate judgment by the death penalty, but God was patient.

4:10 the voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the ground. The Lord Jesus Himself spoke of Abel's blood (Matt. 23:35). God does not forget the death of the innocents. Thankfully, there is blood that speaks better things than Abel's, the saving blood of Jesus (Heb. 12:24).

4:11–12 cursed from the earth. The Lord is constantly alluding to the earth that was cursed at the first sin. The earth has now absorbed Abel's blood. It would eventually receive the blood of the pure Lamb of God who took the curse of sin in our place. Cain was cursed from the earth and would now become a fugitive and a wanderer (vagabond).

4:13–15 My punishment is greater than I can bear. The common mercy of God is such that God still hears Cain's cries. The Lord sets a mark upon Cain, so that no one can take his life without severe punishment. God takes vengeance seriously (Deut. 32:35; Rom. 12:19).

4:16 Cain went out from the presence of the LORD. Such is the fate of the one who refuses the grace of God, as Judas later did (John 13:30; Acts 1:25). Nod. Literally, "wandering."

4:17 Cain knew his wife. Cain probably married his sister (or possibly his niece). The first recorded city is of Cain's line. Cities often lead to concentration of evil (10:11–12; 11:1–8; 13:12).

4:19 Lamech took unto him two wives. The first mention of polygamy which shows the departure of Cain's line from God's pathway of marriage of one man to one woman (2:24).

4:20–22 have cattle . . . handle the harp and organ . . . instructer of every artificer in brass. Remnants of the image of God were still visible in the ungodly through skill in agriculture, music, and metalwork. Knowledge was well advanced so that the massive undertaking of building the ark later in the time of Noah is perfectly feasible.

4:23–24 I have slain a man. Lamech is bragging in proud and presumptuous self-confidence rather than having any sense of remorse. to my wounding . . . to my hurt. In revenge for wounding and hurting me.

4:25 appointed me another seed instead of Abel. Eve continues to hope in the promise of the coming Seed (3:15; 4:1). Seth means "appointed" or "compensation," and he headed the godly line.

4:26 men to call upon the name of the LORD. After a downward spiral of sin and sadness, this shows that God always has a remnant who love Him and seek His grace in prayer.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 4

1. Grieve at the results of the fall. Chapter 4 reveals the horrible consequences of Adam's sin—his children are infected with the pride, hatred, and deception of the serpent. Yet there is hope, for we also see here the fruit of God's promise (3:15). Satan has his seed among men, but God moves some to trust His promise and worship Him acceptably. Though the godly seed suffers persecution, it will triumph at last.
2. Marvel at God's patience. It is remarkable that God converses patiently with Cain and gives him ample opportunity to repent of his jealousy. Even though his offering has been refused, Cain should have listened to the warnings, but refused. Murder is always in the human heart. "For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies" (Matt. 15:19).
3. Beware of the growth of sin. Once we harbor sin, it leads to worse sin, which affects others. Cain's initial sin leads to worse in his descendants, such as Lamech bragging about his murders. Like the godly line of Seth, we need to call upon the name of the Lord. What sins does this chapter teach us to pray against, and what graces should we seek from the Lord?

Chapter 5: The line of Adam and Seth shows evidence of its godliness and yet suffers death as the bitter consequence of the fall.

5:1–3 generations. See note at 2:4. in the likeness of God made he him . . . begat a son in his own likeness. The parallel implies that God created man in His image to be His son (Luke 3:38). However, Adam fathering a child in his own likeness also implies that he passed on to his children not the pure image of God but an image broken and ruined by sin. called their name Adam. God named the entire race "Man," because both men and women were under a male head.

5:5 nine hundred and thirty years. The possibilities of later generations having direct communication with Adam are striking. Adam was still alive when his son of the eighth generation (Lamech) was a mature man. and he died. The grim consequence of the fall resonates eight times through this chapter.

5:21 Methuselah. Meaning, "when he is dead it will come," or "his death will bring," possibly a prophecy of the flood. Enoch was a prophet who foretold the coming of the Lord for judgment (Jude 14–15).

5:22–24 Enoch walked with God. To walk with God is to live in friendship with Him by daily trusting His promises and keeping His commandments (6:9; 17:1; 24:40; 48:15). God took him. God translated him without death to heaven (Heb. 11:5), the only other person to experience this being Elijah (2 Kings 2:9–12). In a chapter full of death, God revealed the hope of eternal life (Ps. 49:15; 73:24; "receive" is the same word as took).

5:29 The name Noah means comfort or "rest." He is a type of Christ since in his day he builds the place of rescue from the impending judgment.

5:32 Shem, Ham, and Japheth. Likely the birth order was Japheth, Shem, and Ham (9:22–24; 10:21; 11:10).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 5

1. By God's grace, strive to imitate Enoch. Enoch walked with God. Surely the secret of our Christian life is to abide in Christ: "Without me ye can do nothing" (John 15:5). Spend time in the Word of God, praying, meditating, repenting of sin, and obeying God's laws. Just as God took Enoch to heaven, so walking with God on earth is the best assurance that we will walk with God in heaven. The children of God must bear their Father's image.
2. The repentance and faith of the godly does not exempt them from death, unless the Lord should come and take them home first (1 Thess. 4:16–17). Every generation from Adam onward has seen death as the bitter fruit of the fall. Though most people try to ignore death, we are not ready to live until we are ready to die. What is the best way to face death?

The Worldwide Flood and the Rainbow Promise (6:1—9:29)

Chapter 6: Man's corrupt heart and violent acts provoke God to destroy the world with a flood, but the Lord calls Noah to preserve his family and the animals and birds in the ark.

6:1 when men began to multiply on the face of the earth. The suggestion is that there was a large population in the world immediately prior to the flood.

6:2 the sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were fair; and they took them wives of all which they chose. Outward physical attraction without the fear of God led to ungodly unions. The identity of the sons of God is not clear, and has been variously interpreted to mean angels (Job 1:6)—though angels have no relations with women (Mark 12:25); or powerful men (Ps. 82:6) taking harems; or the union of the line of Seth with the line of Cain (chs. 4–5), the forbidden intermarriage of the godly with the wicked (Ex. 34:16; Deut. 7:3–4).

6:3 his days shall be an hundred and twenty years. From this we deduce that the warning to Noah was 120 years before the flood. Noah preached righteousness for over a century to a lost world that would not listen (2 Peter 2:5).

6:4 The offspring of the ungodly unions were giants. The Hebrew word comes from the Hebrew verb which means "to fall." These giants were thus associated with violence and rebellion.

6:5 God saw . . . the wickedness of man. There is nothing that God does not see, though sinners pretend He is blind (1 Chron. 28:9; Ps. 94:5–9). This statement is a stark contrast to the statement that "God saw" that man and all creation were "very good" (1:31). every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. The first mention in Scripture of the heart (the entirety of inner self: mind, will, and emotions). The heart of fallen man is totally corrupt from the youngest age, ruled by sinful thoughts and desires, and unable to produce anything pleasing to God apart from His saving grace (8:21; Ps. 14:1–3; 51:5; 58:3; Jer. 17:1,9; Rom. 1:21; 3:10–12; 8:6–8; Eph. 2:1–3; 4:17–18).

6:6 it repented the LORD . . . it grieved him at his heart. God and His decree do not change, but God does grieve over sin and His relationships change (1 Sam. 15:11,29,35). The Lord's heart is deeply concerned about man's heart.

6:7 I will destroy man whom I have created. The word destroy is a very strong word; it can be translated "blot out" or "exterminate." The Creator of man became the Destroyer of man because of man's sin. The Lord Jesus warned that this destruction foreshadowed the sudden and complete destruction Christ will bring when He returns (Luke 17:26–30; 2 Peter 3:3–6).

6:8 Noah found grace in the eyes of the LORD. It is only of the Lord's grace that anyone is saved, and that through faith—just as Noah was (Heb. 11:7).

6:9 Just refers to his legal standing of justification, and perfect, meaning "complete," refers to his wholehearted dedication to God or his sanctification. Noah is a spiritually saved person, not by his own righteousness but by God's grace upon him. walked with God. See note at 5:22–24.

6:11 corrupt before God . . . filled with violence. The corruption and violence flows from the corrupt imagination of the thoughts of [the] heart" (v. 5; cf. Prov. 23:7; Matt. 15:19).

6:12 Man's sin is counted against the "earth" (v. 11) and all flesh—words that include animal flesh throughout the flood account (vv. 13,17,19; 7:15–16,21; 8:17; 9:11,15,–17).

6:13 I will destroy them. A repeat of the essence of v. 7 but using the word "corrupt" of v. 12 ("corrupted his way") as part of the judgment: "I will ruin them for ruining themselves." With the earth shows that the earth would also be destroyed with all its living creatures (vv. 7,17).

6:14 Make thee an ark. Noah is to make the ark in obedience to God's instructions (v. 22)—a picture of Christ's work of salvation by His perfect obedience. gopher wood. The identity of this wood is not clear.

6:15 Caricatures of the ark in children's literature do great damage to this impressive work of construction that took about 120 years to build. The ark was roughly 450 feet (137.1 meters) long, 75 feet (22.9 meters) wide, and 45 feet (13.7 meters) tall. The ark was about twice the length of a Boeing 747 (232 feet; 70.7 meters). Ancient peoples were advanced engineers and could certainly construct such an object.

6:16 The ark was designed with three levels and a window opening of approximately 1.5 feet (0.5 meters). Note that the ark described in the Mesopotamian Epic of Gilgamesh is a perfect cube with a side dimension of 200 feet (70 meters) and seven stories high. Such a craft could roll on the open sea, and it is obvious to a nautical engineer that the account in Genesis is using seagoing proportions while the Gilgamesh version is a fanciful corruption.

6:17 The word flood is the first mention of the Hebrew word translated in the Septuagint with the word from which we get the English "cataclysmic" which underlines the huge nature of this event. The possible mechanisms of this worldwide event are discussed in 7:11. every thing that is in the earth shall die. This is a worldwide event (v. 7; 7:4). One might well ask if the flood was a local flood, then what is the point of building a huge boat if all one had to do was go to the nearest high mountain or leave the area?

6:18 with thee will I establish my covenant. As with Abraham later (15:18; 17:2), God makes a covenant with Noah (9:9–17). God's grace is sealed in His covenant agreements.

6:19 of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring . . . male and female. Estimates of the capacity of the ark are for about 125,000 animals with an average size of a sheep. Estimates of the number of land animals would be not more than 50,000 that Noah would need in total on the ark. The food (v. 21) and Noah's living quarters would take up the remainder.

6:20 two of every sort shall come unto thee. God brings all the animals to Noah.

6:22 according to all that God commanded him. The salvation of some of mankind from destruction depended upon the obedience of one righteous man (7:1,5); this is a type of Christ (Rom. 5:15–19).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 6

1. From Noah we learn patience and faith. Noah took more than a hundred years to build the ark. He patiently worked and witnessed to the people who rejected his message (2 Peter 2:5). We live in similar days (Luke 17:26) and need to preach faithfully despite the mocking of men against the gospel. The only safe place from the flood was the ark being built. The only safe place from God's eternal judgment is Christ.

2. Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord and walked with God. Significantly, Noah found grace before he was described as just and perfect. It is grace that enables faith, and God regarded Noah as just in consequence of that grace that caused him to believe and obey. May the Lord help us to walk with Him. Trust in Christ and obey Him, for then you will abide in His love (John 15:10).

Chapter 7: In obedience to the Lord, Noah and his family enter the ark with the animals, and God destroys all other human and animal life on earth through the flood.

7:1 Come thou and all thy house into the ark. This invitation is echoed in Matt. 11:28, "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." thee have I seen righteous. There is a similarity to Job who is righteous in his generation (Job 1:1). Ultimately Noah's righteousness points to Christ, God's righteous servant (Isa. 53:11; 1 John 2:1).

7:2–3 by sevens. Most take this to mean seven pairs (the male and the female) of clean animals.

7:4 yet seven days. The animals and Noah had come into the ark a week before the flood began. There was still time for repentance in that final week with the door open and the way of escape from the impending doom still available. forty days and forty nights. This is the first mention of the number forty, often associated with testing and difficulty (Ex. 24:18; 34:28; Num. 14:33–34; 32:13; Deut. 9:11,18,25; 10:10; 1 Sam. 17:16; 1 Kings 9:18; Luke 4:2).

7:5 Noah did according unto all that the LORD commanded him. This was the secret of God's blessing upon him.

7:10 the waters of the flood were upon the earth. Some have suggested that the flood was a scouring of the earth and that the waters then came after this. This verse does not support such a concept. The waters themselves flood across the world and drown all land creatures in their path (Matt. 24:39).

7:11 six hundredth year of Noah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month. The exact days are now recorded, which strongly suggests Noah himself is recording the events as a diary. the fountains of the great deep broken up. Possibly referring to underground reservoirs or superheated water which shot up into the atmosphere due to the splitting of the continental plates.

7:12 Worldwide rain for forty days and forty nights requires more than atmospheric moisture, which is why most do not think this is a collapse of a vapor canopy. Rather it is thought this is the downpour of water that has been ejected first up into the atmosphere as superheated steam.

7:13 The word selfsame stresses that it was foreordained and definite.

7:16 the LORD shut him in. When Noah, his family, and the animals were all in the ark, God shut the door. He secures the ark and keeps them from danger. One is reminded of Matt. 25:10, "the door was shut."

7:18 the waters prevailed . . . increased greatly upon the earth. The flood waters now rose up even after the forty days of rain. This is the second period of the flood year after the initial destruction of the first forty days.

7:19 the waters prevailed exceedingly . . . all the high hills. The waters now can never cover the earth, so this means that the mountains and high hills were much lower before the flood. Peter states, "the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished" (2 Peter 3:6).

7:20 Fifteen cubits upward did the waters prevail. The maximum depth above the highest hills was about twenty-two feet or half the height of the ark and thus probably approximately the draft of the ship.

This can be no local flood as it is repeated that the mountains were covered.

7:23 every living substance was destroyed. As one would expect, the sedimentary rocks all over the globe carry abundant evidence of creatures buried quickly and fossilized. Noah only remained alive, and they that were with him. God's purposes were achieved just as He had said. The destruction was total and only those in the ark survived.

7:24 the waters prevailed . . . an hundred and fifty days. This is the end of the second stage of the flood before the assuaging of the waters takes place.

1. God's judgment upon the world of sinners is fearsome. The thought of millions of people drowning while water sweeps away all human constructions is horrifying. Yet it is a small thing compared to the burning wrath of God yet to come when the Lord Jesus appears with His holy angels. The flood brought death, but judgment day will bring eternal punishment in hell. Let us give sober consideration to this awesome and inevitable reality. How does the flood teach us to fear the Lord?
2. The Lord calls men, women, and children through the gospel to come into the ark of safety, Jesus Christ the Righteous One (Matt. 11:28; Luke 14:17). Just as the Lord shut Noah and his family into the ark and protected them during the flood, so the Lord will save all who trust in Christ alone from the wrath that is to come. After the flood came, no one was left except those in the ark. In the same way, the living church of Jesus Christ will be the only people to escape God's wrath. Therefore come to Christ now, and place your entire trust in Him.

Chapter 8: God preserves Noah and the ark, the waters go down, they disembark, and Noah offers the Lord a pleasing sacrifice.

8:1 God remembered Noah. This does not refer to a return of lapsed memory, but to God acting with faithful love according to His covenant promise (6:18; cf. 9:15–16; 19:29; Ex. 2:24; 6:5; Lev. 26:42,45; Ps. 105:8; 106:45; 111:5; Ezek. 16:60; Luke 1:72). the waters asswaged. They decreased. This third stage of the flood led to the world surface as we know it being formed. Major erosion pathways were formed as the waters raced to the new ocean beds (Ps. 104:6–9).

8:3 The waters returned from off the earth continually. The scouring effect of the water runoff is seen all across the continents today. E.g., many regard the mile-deep Grand Canyon to have been formed by the powerful cutting action of fast moving waters into previously laid down sediments.

8:4 the ark rested . . . upon the mountains of Ararat. Notice the diary-like entry. There is no conclusive proof that the remnants of the ark are still extant. The wood was likely used for building, though we should be open to the possibility some remains may still be found.

8:5 tops of the mountains. The three months of waters abating until the tops of the mountains were seen and the caution in waiting forty days to open the window of the ark is again consistent with the flood not being local in extent, coupled with the necessity to check using the raven and the dove (vv. 7–8) for a dry location to disembark.

8:11–12 Another week and the dove comes back with an olive leaf. Yet another week and the dove does not return at all meaning there is land available and plants are growing.

8:14 was the earth dried. One year and ten days since the beginning of the flood.

8:16 Go forth of the ark. Noah awaited God's instruction to leave the ark. It was almost five months between seeing the tops of the mountains until Noah and his family finally left the ark. Noah was careful to still honor God after the major catastrophe is over.

8:20–21 Noah builded an altar. Noah looked to the Lord very firmly in these momentous days at the beginning of the new world. burnt offerings. Sacrifices to atone for sin and please the Lord (sweet savour, cf. Lev. 1:4,9,13,17). This was costly worship given the limited number of clean animals (7:2). I will not again curse the ground any more for man's sake. This shows that the flood itself was global, as local floods have happened since. Just as Noah's sacrifice resulted in God's promise not to send another flood, so Christ's sacrifice resulted in God's promise not to punish His people in wrath (Isa. 53:10–11; 54:9–10). God refers to the flood as a curse on the ground, showing the curse from the fall (3:17) was still in operation and ultimately led to worldwide destruction. for the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth. The flood could not remove man's corrupt nature (see note at 6:5).

8:22 While the earth remaineth. The Lord promises the continuity of predictable annual seasons and the rhythm of day and night (Jer. 31:35–36; 33:20,25).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 8

1. In the midst of overwhelming sorrows and dangers, we tend to think that God has forgotten us. But when the ark was a tiny speck floating in a vast sea of destruction, God remembered Noah. If we are in covenant with Him, He will certainly remember us too. Do not fear that God has abandoned you. His mercies will never forsake the one who belongs to Him, for His people are forever united to Christ. Christ is righteous; Christ has offered all-pleasing sacrifice to satisfy God's justice; Christ will save His own.
2. The appropriate response to deliverance from trouble is worship. Noah might well have said to himself that he could not afford the time or resources to worship God after leaving the ark, but instead he built an altar and offered up sacrifices. From what evils, either physical or spiritual, has God delivered you? How are you worshiping Him for it?

Chapter 9: God renews His creation mandate through a covenant with Noah, his seed, and all living creatures; tragically, Noah and his family fall into sin.

9:1 Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth. A similar command to what the Lord said in the beginning to Adam (1:28). Salvation brings a new creation.

9:3 Every moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you. Whereas before man was vegetarian (1:29), now he is allowed to eat animal meat. This may be due to harsher and more rigorous conditions in the postflood climate that necessitate high-energy protein intake.

9:5–6 your blood of your lives will I require. This indicates how serious the bloodshed was before the flood. Now strict rules are given concerning the sanctity of human life. The blood of man represents his life. Since he alone is made in the image of God, his blood is not to be shed lightly. Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed. The law of capital punishment to be administered by man has never been revoked by God (Rom. 13:4).

9:9 I establish my covenant with you, and with your seed. God had made a covenant with Noah (6:18). This is now extended to Noah's descendants. The promise not to destroy the world again with another flood is repeated (8:22; 9:11). The postflood cosmos will be kept in a regular and predictable cycle of seasons and will end by fire (2 Peter 3:7).

9:13 I do set my bow in the cloud. God now brings a sign of His covenant mercy to the new human population. The rainbow which God produces is new, so we see that this confirms that there was no rain before the flood (2:5) in the sense of the downpours that we now experience.

9:19 of them was the whole earth overspread. The whole of the human population in the postflood world has come from the three sons of Noah and their wives.

9:21 And he drank of the wine, and was drunken. This sad event shows that even godly Noah fell. Drunkenness is a sin (Prov. 23:29–35; Isa. 5:11–12,20–24; Eph. 5:18), and habitual drunks have no place in God's kingdom (1 Cor. 6:10; Gal. 5:21).

9:22 Ham . . . saw the nakedness of his father. An honorable son would have respectfully covered his father as his elder brothers did, but he told his two brethren.

9:24 what his younger son had done unto him. It is possible that Ham or Canaan committed some unspoken sin against their father.

9:25–27 Noah saw prophetically what would happen to his three sons, from whom the whole human race would develop. Cursed be Canaan. Canaan was the father of the Canaanites who later would be driven out by Joshua and enslaved (servant of servants) by Israel and other nations. As in ch. 3, a blessing accompanies the curse. God would enlarge Japheth. God would make a covenant with the descendants of Shem (God of Shem) and dwell in the tents of Shem (an anticipation of tabernacle, temple, and incarnation of the Son of God).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 9

1. Thank God for the rainbow promise that God will never again flood the world. These are days of grace where God "now commandeth all men every where to repent" (Acts 17:30). The covenant with Noah guards the first gospel promise of the Redeemer coming into the human race (Gen. 3:15). The flood destroyed humanity except for Noah's family, and it seemed like the promise was in jeopardy. But God assured the continuation of the human race. Not even the judgment of sin will frustrate God's redemptive purpose in Christ.
2. Beware of the danger of drunkenness. We personally need to be very careful with strong drink. It is a stumbling block to many. Alcoholic drink is not wrong per se, but the Bible does clearly teach that drunkenness is a sin. It shows that drunkenness makes one unaware of what is happening. We must not misuse our bodies. Drunkenness is often linked to immorality and unseemly behavior. Therefore, respect the civil laws limiting alcohol consumption, and guard yourself against ever becoming intoxicated.

The Division of Nations and Languages (10:1—11:32)

Chapter 10: Noah's sons multiply into the nations of the world.

10:1 Another list of generations (see note at 2:4) closes off the period of the flood and moves to the origin of the nations from the three sons of Noah.

10:2–5 The descendants of Japheth.

10:2 Gomer may be linked to the Celts (the Welsh language is Cymraeg or Gymraeg), Cimmeria, the Crimea, Galatia (part of Turkey), Gaul (France), and Galicia (northwest Spain). Magog lived in the north (Ezek. 38:15) and may be linked to Scythia (Romania and the Ukraine). Madai. The ancestor to the Medes, who later settled parts of India. Javan may refer to Greece (Dan. 8:21). Tubal is probably connected to Caucasian Iberia (Georgia), peopled by the Thobelites with the capital Tbilisi. Meshech is probably connected to Moscow and the Meschera lowland. Tiras is linked to Thrace and Macedonia.

10:3 Ashkenaz is present Germany. Riphath is associated by Josephus with Paphlagonia (northern Turkey). The Armenians have a tradition that they are descended from Togarmah.

10:4 Elishah is linked to one of the Greek peoples named in the Iliad, "the Eilesians." Tarshish is on the Mediterranean coast, variously with Tarsus (Turkey), Carthage (north Africa), or southern Spain. Kittim is Cyprus.

10:5 The isles of the Gentiles primarily refers to the sons of Japheth and the European dispersion, but later it refers to all non-Israelites.

10:6–20 The descendants of Ham.

10:6 The Scriptures refer to Egypt as the land of Ham (Ps. 105:23,27; 106:22). Cush is Ethiopia. Mizraim is Egypt (50:11). Josephus records that Phut is the old name for Libya, and the ancient river Phut was in Libya. Canaan settled in what is today modern Israel and Jordan.

10:8 The name Nimrod means "rebellion" or "let us rebel." His name is preserved in many legends from Babylonia and he is undoubtedly the first great emperor. After his death legends state he was deified and worshiped as Merodach or Marduk and possibly the Egyptian god Osiris and the Hindu god Shiva.

10:9 a mighty hunter. Nimrod is associated with feats of great physical valor in hunting.

10:10 the beginning of his kingdom was Babel. The might of Nimrod is seen in the building of Babel as his capital city and the Tower of Babel in the land of Shinar (11:1–4) in the Tigris-Euphrates valley.

10:11 Asshur is a son of Shem (v. 22) so it is reckoned that this verse is showing Asshur had settled in the area two hundred miles north of Babylon in Nineveh but Nimrod went forth into Asshur and invaded it, annexing it to his own kingdom. Eventually this would later become Assyria. The city of Nineveh is named after Nimrod's son Ninus.

10:13–14 Here are listed the descendants of Mizraim (Egypt). Most of them are difficult to trace in secular records since they migrated deeper into Africa. It is known that the Pathrusim dwelt in Pathros which is Upper Egypt, and the Caphtorim are identified with the Philistim (Philistines) in the Bible.

10:15 Sidon. Firstborn of Canaan. Sidon still exists today and was the chief city of the Phoenicians. Heth is the ancestor of the Hittites who were a great empire in Asia Minor for over eight hundred years. When that empire crumbled, many went east, possibly to China or Mongolia.

10:16 The Amorite was referred to in secular records as the Amurru.

10:17 The Sinite may be connected to the wilderness of Sin, Mount Sinai, an Assyrian god Sin, and Sinim or China (Isa. 49:12).

10:21–31 The descendants of Shem.

10:21 Shem also, the father of all the children of Eber. Some suggest that Eber is the origin of the term "Hebrews," but that is not likely.

10:22 Elam is part of Persia (now Iran). Asshur became Assyria, but his settlement was taken over by Nimrod (see v. 11). Arphaxad is linked to the Chaldeans. Lud is the origin of Lydia in what is now western Turkey, and Aram is the old name for Syria. The language Aramaic was used very widely across the ancient world (2 Kings 18:26, and Christ speaking on the cross in Mark 15:34).

10:23 Uz is the name for Job's homeland (Job 1:1).

10:25 Peleg means "division" and probably means that the division of Babel took place in his lifetime (for in his days was the earth divided).

10:32 after their generations, in their nations. This chapter has given the true origin of the nations of the world. Not all details are there but there is sufficient structure for all to see what our true origins are as a human race after the flood.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 10

1. God sovereignly distributes the human race among the nations (Acts 17:26). All the nations come from the three sons of Noah. No man is an island. We are all part of the family of man. There is really only one race: the human race, various colors and cultures notwithstanding. How then should we view other peoples and nations?
2. The Bible is not the property of one particular nation, but God's Word for all mankind. The Lord is the God of all flesh (Jer. 32:27). Jesus is the Lord of all (Acts 10:36; Rom. 10:12). Therefore we must not arrogantly exclude people of other nations and ethnicities from the church. Nor may we foolishly say that every nation has its own way to God.

Chapter 11: The Lord frustrates man's attempt to glorify himself by dividing men into different languages and focuses His purposes upon the line of Shem.

11:1 The people were all of one language (Hebrew, "lip") and one speech (Hebrew, "word"). The double statement gives great force and emphasis to what Nimrod had done in establishing a one-world dictatorship under himself.

11:2 plain . . . of Shinar. Southern Iraq in the valley where the Tigris and Euphrates flow.

11:3 let us make brick. God's altars were never made of brick but always natural stone (Ex. 20:25). God's house later (the temple) was made of shaped stone but even then the working of the stone was not done at the temple site (1 Kings 6:7).

11:4 let us build us a city and a tower . . . let us make us a name. The emphasis is us. It is man making a name for himself; it is not for the glory of God but is for man-centered worship. lest we be scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth. Rebellion against God's command (9:1).

11:6 one language. Unity of purpose is invariably aided greatly by a common language. nothing will be restrained . . . which they have imagined to do. The warning here is similar to what the Lord said of man before the flood (6:5). These verses underline that man's heart is profoundly wicked and naturally in rebellion against God. The scattering of the people is to diminish the concentration of evil which the tower represented.

11:7 confound their language. This is a miraculous act of God and implies that the basic language units did not naturally evolve from each other. Some have suggested that the seventy names of ch. 10 represent the languages that the Lord created in ch. 11.

11:8 the Lord scattered them abroad. They are now forced to do what God had originally intended. No doubt Nimrod remained with his immediate tribe and probably the Sumerian civilization is the remnant of his empire.

11:9 the name of it called Babel. Some have identified the tower as a ziggurat, an ancient pagan temple shaped like an artificial tiered mountain. Remnants of one are in the vicinity of ancient Babylon. Although of a different Hebrew root, Babel is similar in sound to the word translated confound.

11:10–26 The generations of Shem (see note at 2:4) marks the end of the section describing the time of the Babel dispersion and introduces the genealogy of Shem's offspring. The years each patriarch lived now reduces steadily after the flood. This was probably due to the large climatic changes to harsher conditions afterward. This genealogy is similar in construction to that in ch. 5. The names are repeated in 1 Chron. 1:17–27 (cf. Luke 3:34–36).

11:16 Peleg. See note at 10:25.

11:27 These are the generations of Terah marks the end of the list of descendants from Shem and introduces the family of Abram. The theme of generations links this history back to the promise of the Seed who would redeem mankind.

11:29 Abram and Nahor took them wives. Abram married his half sister (20:12) and Nahor marries his niece (Milcah, the daughter of Haran). These are close marriages but not yet genetically dangerous enough for prohibition which came later (Lev. 18:6).

11:31 And Terah took Abram his son . . . and they went forth with them from Ur of the Chaldees. God had called Abram when he was yet in Ur, and some of his family went part of the way with him to Haran (see note at 12:1–3).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 11

1. God judges pride. How wicked and rebellious is the natural heart of man! It is not long since the flood, and yet man is again rebelling. Our own hearts will always naturally turn from the Lord's love and grace to our own schemes of self-exaltation. Yet such schemes always set us in opposition to God's purposes and lead to frustration and dishonor. How can we recognize and defeat this satanic impulse of pride in our hearts?
2. We must never assume that large gatherings of people and great accomplishments by human ingenuity are good or pleasing to God. Concentrations of people may simply result in concentrations of evil. Though men seek outward glory, God often chooses to work through an unlikely individual following an apparently foolish call—like Abram. Pray for God to teach you how to live by faith and not by sight.

THE COVENANT WITH ABRAHAM, ISAAC, AND JACOB (12:1—36:43)

The Promises of God to Abraham (12:1—25:18)

Chapter 12: The Lord called Abram to walk by faith in the promise, and he responded with sincere but imperfect faith.

12:1–3 the LORD had said. Abram, Terah, and Lot left Ur and its idols after the Lord chose to reveal Himself to Abram (15:7; Josh. 24:2–3; Neh. 9:7; Acts 7:1–4). Abram was a prophet (20:7), receiving direct revelation from God. kindred. Extended family. God gave two commands: a calling to the inheritance (Get thee out . . . unto a land) and a mission to the world (be a blessing). The central promise is that I will bless thee, implying a reversal of the curse due to sin (3:17) and restoration of creation to God's intention (1:28). This blessing brings justification by faith and the gift of the Spirit (Gal. 3:8–9,14). Specifically, the Lord promised guidance to the inheritance (I will shew), multiplication of offspring (great nation), honor and glory (make thy name great), protection and vindication (bless them . . . and curse), and salvation to all nations (all families of the earth). The repeated I will emphasizes that God would do this as an act of sovereign grace. Yet the call demanded faith (Heb. 11:8).

12:4–9 Abram responded to God's word with obedience (v. 4), public prayer, and praise (vv. 7–8).

12:5 souls that they had gotten. People acquired as servants. Haran. Spoken of in ancient texts as an important city in culture and commerce.

12:6 Sichem. Shechem. Abram had traveled over five hundred miles from Haran after previously traveling from Ur.

12:7 the LORD appeared. In a visible way, whether in a dream, vision, or earthly form (17:1; 18:1; 26:2,24; 32:30; 35:9; 48:3). seed. Offspring, a key term in God's promises (3:15; 4:25; 9:9; 22:17). The singular term seed points to Christ, and in Him all believers as heirs of God's promise of grace (Gal. 3:16,29). By faith, Abram was like a priest, worshiping at an altar.

12:10 the famine was grievous. A great trial for Abram, threatening to take his wealth and even his life—a surprise after he traveled there trusting in God's blessing. went down into Egypt. Perhaps out of a lack of faith in God's promises (26:1–3). sojourn. Dwell for a time as a foreigner in another land.

12:11 fair. Beautiful.

12:12–13 Although a believer, Abram responded to this trial with cowardice and telling a half-truth (20:12) instead of protecting his wife.

12:16 entreated. Treated. Archaeology has discovered evidence of the domestication of camels well before 2000 BC.

12:17 plagues. Same word used of final plague on Egypt (Ex. 11:1), perhaps foreshadowing God's judgments on Israel's future slave-masters. Remarkably, God still saved Abram even when his faith was weak and his love was compromised by fear.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 12

1. God's covenant motivates missions. God called Abram to receive His blessing in order to be a blessing to all nations. How much more the new covenant in Christ's blood calls the church to make disciples of all nations. God's covenant people must be willing to give themselves away to reach the world for Christ.
2. God blesses only believers. We must walk in the footsteps of Abram by following Christ in faith, obedience, and public worship. Abraham's faith sometimes faltered and he sinned; therefore we should not demand a great faith of ourselves before we can rest assured that Christ has saved us. Let us rather trust Christ to save us even through a weak faith and pray, "Lord, increase our faith."

Chapter 13: Abram and Lot respond to conflict in two ways, representing humble faith and selfish worldliness.

13:2 very rich. Abram was a nomadic sheikh, without land yet owning great wealth, large herds of livestock, and hundreds of servants caring for his possessions (14:14).

13:4 called on the name of the LORD. Abram prayed for grace from the God of promise (4:26; 12:8; 21:33; 26:25; Ps. 116:4). Mention of the altar indicates prayer in public worship with his family and servants, probably with the offering of sacrifices. The life of faith is a life of prayer and worship, including family worship.

13:7 herdmen. Men who care for livestock.

13:8–9 Abram went directly to Lot to resolve the conflict (Matt. 5:23–24; 18:15). I pray thee. Please. Though he was older than Lot, Abram showed courtesy and deference to his nephew and offered a practical solution to the problem, allowing Lot to take the better portion.

13:10 well watered . . . even as the garden of the LORD. See 2:8–14. Genesis treats the garden of Eden as a real location, not a mythical story.

13:11 Lot acted in selfishness and greed with eyes dazzled by worldly gain.

13:13 Lot turned a blind eye to the danger of taking his household near to Sodom, whose men were wicked and sinners before the LORD EXCEEDINGLY.

13:14–17 The Lord blessed Abram with a restatement of the promise of an inheritance (v. 14; 12:1,7), and multiplication of offspring (v. 16; 12:2). seed. See note at 12:7. dust of the earth. Ironically, this reminder of man's humble origin and death because of sin (2:7; 3:19; 18:27) also becomes an image of the vast numbers (Isa. 40:12) of the covenant offspring (28:14). This promise was fulfilled, at least in part, in the kingdom of Solomon (2 Chron. 1:9).

13:18 Again, Abram responded to God's promises with worship (v. 4).

1. Abram is a model of peacemaking. Like him, we should respond to conflict by speaking directly and courteously to the other person, offering a reasonable solution to the problem, and deferring largely to his preferences. Such peacemaking is possible only when we exercise faith in God's promises and regularly look to Him in prayer and worship; then we can let go of earthly gain because we have the Lord.
2. God's promises to multiply Abram's offspring and give them dominion over the land found partial fulfillment in the days of Solomon. But they point further to the kingdom of Jesus Christ. Those who follow in the footsteps of Abram's faith are being multiplied in every nation and will one day inherit the earth. Christians may therefore claim these promises and be optimistic about the church's future. Following Christ may result in worldly losses and suffering injustice, but one day a great multitude that no one can number will reign with Christ in the new heavens and earth.

Chapter 14: War engulfs the region so that Abram must rescue Lot, receiving the blessing of Salem's priest-king, Melchizedek.

14:1 Shinar. Babylon (in modern Iraq), site of the Tower of Babel (10:10; 11:2). Ellasar. City of Larsa by the Euphrates River in southeast Mesopotamia (also in Iraq). Elam. Nation east of Babylon (in modern Iran). Tidal. Perhaps Tudhaliya, a king of the Hittites (modern Turkey). This then was a coalition of the major powers north and east of the land of Canaan.

14:2 These cities were in the region immediately east and south of the present Dead Sea.

14:5 Rephaims . . . Emims. Sometimes translated "giants"; ethnic groups noted for their large size (Deut. 2:10–11,20–21; 3:11,13). The victories of vv. 5–8, especially over such strong people, show the great power of the forces of Chedorlaomer.

14:10 slimepits. Pits of natural tar and oily asphalt. Asphalt is still found at the Dead Sea. People or animals falling into such pits are caught in the thick, sticky fluid and die.

14:11 victuals. Food.

14:13 confederate. In an alliance with Abram by covenant.

14:14 Abram was like a king, leading his people in war. Dan is probably the city in the far north of Israel (1 Sam. 3:20) which was named Laish at this time, and renamed after being conquered by the tribe of Dan (Judg. 18:29). In that case, a later scribe updated the text after Moses died so readers would understand. Dan may also be another city, perhaps Danjaan (2 Sam. 24:6).

14:15 Abram pursued the four kings for no less than 120 miles. Attacking from different directions by night to gain surprise shows Abram's wisdom. Faith in God does not hinder wise strategies and tactics. To drive away his defeated enemies, he chased them another 50 miles beyond Damascus.

14:18 Melchizedek. Literally, "king of righteousness." Salem. "Peace." Perhaps Jerusalem, capital city of David's kingdom and God's temple (Ps. 76:2), but references to a Salem occur in various texts from the Ancient Near East. bread and wine. Not a sacrifice, but a meal of thanksgiving. priest. As king and priest, he foreshadowed Christ (Ps. 110:4; Heb. 7).

14:20 Abram's victory came from the most high God who rules over all things and to Him went the glory. tithes. A tenth of the spoils of his victory, a sign of giving honor (28:22; Heb. 7:4–10).

14:21 persons. Servants captured in battle.

14:23 shoelatchet. Strap of a sandal. Abram was moved not by greed, but love.

14:24 Save. Except. Abram saw to it that his servants (young men) and allies received fair pay for their military service, even though he refused any reward from Sodom.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 14

1. Faith and love draw believers into combat with evil. Though a Christian may at times fall into cowardice, he is not ruled by a spirit of fear but of power, love, and self-control. He is a soldier in the Lord's army. Therefore, believers, let us act like men and engage in the battle between good and evil with courageous action.
2. The church faces overwhelming odds but overcomes. How? First, our God is the Most High, the Creator and Possessor of all things. His power guarantees our victory. Second, believers have a Priest and King to bless us, Jesus Christ, after the order of Melchizedek. His intercession guarantees that God will bless His people despite their sins and not curse them as they deserve. This makes them more than overcomers in Christ Jesus.

Chapter 15: The Lord renews His promise, counts Abram righteous by faith, and confirms the promise in a solemn covenant.

15:1 word of the LORD . . . vision. See note at 12:7. Fear not, Abram. The Lord promised that He would be his protection (shield) from evil and his all-sufficient good (exceeding great reward).

15:2 Lord God. In Hebrew, Adonai-Jehovah. Abram exercised faith by praying titles of God's Lordship (Jer. 32:17). steward. Literally, "son of possession," Abram's anticipated heir (v. 3).

15:4 out of thine own bowels. A child begotten of Abram's body.

15:5 abroad. Outside. tell the stars. Count them; same Hebrew word as number. God repeated the promise of multiplied offspring (12:2; 13:16; Heb. 11:12).

15:6 he believed in the Lord. Despite his own inability to produce a child, Abram trusted that God would fulfill His promise by His supernatural power (Rom. 4:18–21). Ultimately, his faith rested in the promise of Christ (John 8:56; see note at 12:7). counted it to him for righteousness. The Lord, as righteous Judge (18:25), did not impute or count Abram's sins against him, but gave him a verdict of righteous. He was justified solely through his faith in the promise, not his works, which could merit nothing, nor circumcision, which came later (Rom. 4:1–12). Even faith itself was not Abram's righteousness, for his faith was imperfect (12:1–20); rather, faith receives the righteousness of Christ as a free gift from God (Rom. 3:24; 4:4; 5:17). Believers are Abraham's children and share the same righteousness by faith in Christ alone (Gal. 3:6–14).

15:7 I am the LORD that brought thee out. Abram's Redeemer (Isa. 29:22). The same expression is used of the Lord's redemption of Israel from Egypt (Ex. 13:9; 20:2; 29:46; Ps. 81:10).

15:10–11 Cutting the sacrifices in two and exposing them to birds of prey was a sign that death and humiliation would fall on anyone who broke the covenant (Jer. 34:18–20).

15:13 Know of a surety. Know for sure. God's covenant confirmed His promises so that believers might have a strong consolation (Heb. 6:13–20).

15:14 great substance. Many possessions. God planned the details of Israel's exodus centuries before it took place (Isa. 46:10).

15:16 hither. To here.

15:17 furnace . . . lamp. A firepot for a portable stove and a torch for light. These visible signs of God's holy presence in Christ passed between the sacrifices while Abram slept, showing that the covenant would be fulfilled by grace alone, not human efforts. The Son of God Himself would die so that the covenant would stand firm.

15:18 made a covenant. Literally, "cut a covenant," an allusion to the sacrifices (v. 10). given this land. God later gave the land to Israel through Joshua and especially Solomon (2 Kings 4:21,24). In Christ God's promise expands to include inheriting the whole earth in Christ's kingdom, of which the land of Canaan was a type (Matt. 5:3–5; Rom. 4:13; Heb. 11:8–16).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 15

1. God's promise of salvation comes to us in our hopeless inability to save ourselves. In our own strength, we are as spiritually barren as Abram and Sarai. But, by the Spirit's grace, if we trust in the promise of Christ in the gospel, the righteous Judge will declare us righteous in His sight. You have warrant to trust Christ, for the Lord has established His promise in a covenant. It depends not on your worthiness—not even on how strong your faith and deep your repentance is—but on the Lord alone, who shed His own blood to save the church.
2. Theologians have often said that God's gracious covenant is one-sided in its establishment, and two-sided in its outworking. Based on this chapter, how can we confirm that God establishes His covenant with His people out of pure one-sided grace? Why is the covenant two-sided in its outworking?

Chapter 16: Sarai gives her servant to Abram to bear them a child. The resulting strife causes Hagar to flee into the wilderness, where the Lord meets her.

16:2 the LORD hath restrained me from bearing. God controls the conception and birth of children (20:18; 25:21; 1 Sam. 1:5–6). I pray thee. Please. hearkened. Listened. It was culturally acceptable for a barren wife to provide a slave-concubine for her husband to get children but contrary to God's will for marriage (2:24). Sexual relations outside of monogamous marriage are sinful and sure to produce inevitable conflict.

16:6 in thy hand. In your power to treat as you please. Abram continues to be sadly passive, first following Sarai's bad advice and then leaving it to her to deal with resulting problems. dealt hardly. Hurt and humiliated her. fled from her face. Ran from her presence.

16:7 The angel of the LORD is a supernatural being sent from the Lord as His messenger. Yet the particular being who spoke to Hagar is also "the LORD" and "God" (v. 13). Therefore He is God the Son, sent from the Father prior to His incarnation to mediate grace; this is a Christophany. fountain. Natural spring of water. way to Shur. Road southwest from the land toward the Red Sea and Egypt—Hagar's roots (20:1; Ex. 15:22).

16:8–11 The divine angel questioned Hagar to convict her of her sin, commanded her to repent (return . . . and submit), and gave her a promise of mercy. the LORD hath heard thy affliction. Ishmael's name ("God hears") testifies that the Lord has compassion on the suffering (Ex. 3:7).

16:12 wild man. Literally, “a wild donkey of a man,” that is, untamable. in the presence of all his brethren. Probably, “in defiance of” or “against all his brethren.”

16:13 Thou God seest me. Literally, “the God of seeing.” Here used as a divine name. Have I also here looked after him that seeth me. I have seen the One who sees me. God’s sight here is not just knowledge but also His compassion and care (Ex. 2:25), “see” sometimes being translated “provide” (22:8,14). God granted Hagar, an abused, foreign slave-woman, the rare privilege of seeing His glory and experiencing His compassion.

16:14 Kadesh. Probably Kadesh-barnea, at the southern edge of the land toward Egypt.

16:16 fourscore and six years. Eighty-six years old.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 16

1. Waiting on God requires faith. We will be tempted to take matters into our own hands when prayer and lawful means do not obtain what we desire. We must resist this and cling to God’s promises. It is especially important for fathers not to be passive like Abram during such trials, but to lead their families in justice and love. Compromising God’s laws may bring temporary relief, but bears bitter fruit. Let us therefore repent of our sins and face their consequences with faith in God’s mercy.
2. God grants His precious mercies to those who have suffered oppression for their social status, gender, or ethnicity. Christ reaches out to all people of all nations in the gospel. He makes the poor rich in faith and enriches the rest of the world through their experience of God. Abram no doubt learned more about God when Hagar returned bearing news of how God met her in the wilderness. Yet God commands us to repent of rebellion and submit to proper authority. His way is not to overthrow all structures of authority and obedience but to renew His creations of marriage and family.

Chapter 17: The Lord gives a fuller revelation of His covenant and institutes circumcision as a sign of the covenant between Him and Abraham’s seed.

17:1 Almighty. Hebrew, Shaddai, a title of God’s majesty and power to bless and to judge (49:25; Job 37:22–24; Isa. 13:6). walk before me. See note at 5:22. perfect. Not sinlessness, but righteous integrity and sincerity (6:9), an Old Testament word for sanctification referring to wholehearted consecration.

17:2 make my covenant. Literally, “give my covenant.” The covenant was officially “cut” earlier (see note at 15:18), and the Lord now revealed it in a fuller way. The word covenant appears more often in this chapter (thirteen times) than any other chapter in the Bible.

17:3 Abram fell on his face. He responded to God’s word of grace with worship (12:7; 13:18).

17:4–6 God renewed His promise to multiply Abram’s offspring (12:2; 13:16; 15:5), changing his name from Abram (exalted father) to Abraham (father of a multitude). He would be not only the father of a nation, namely, Israel, but the father of many nations, that is, people from every nation who have the same faith in God’s promise (Rom. 4:16–17). Abraham’s line would produce kings (v. 16; 35:11), a promise later applied to the tribe of Judah (49:8–12) and fulfilled ultimately in Jesus Christ.

17:7–8 to be a God unto thee. Or, “to be your God.” stranger. Foreigner residing (sojourning) away from his homeland. In the covenant, God gives Himself to Abraham and his offspring (seed), who were pilgrims and strangers on earth (Heb. 11:16). the land. See note at 15:18.

17:9 keep my covenant. They must obey the covenant in order to receive the promises (vv. 1–2; 18:19; Ex. 19:5; Deut. 7:11–12), the opposite of which is covenant breaking (v. 14).

17:10–12 man child. Male (1:27). token. Sign or distinctive mark (1:14; 9:12–13,17), here a seal of the righteousness that Abraham had already received by faith (Rom. 4:11). betwixt. Between. The outward sign of covenant keeping was the circumcision of every male eight days old or older in Abraham's household, including the servants. The cutting of skin from the male reproductive organ represented the removal of sin from the seed and the placement in the heart of faithful love toward the Lord (Deut. 10:16; 30:6; Jer. 4:4; Acts 7:51; Rom. 2:29).

17:15–16 Her name would no longer be "my princess" (Sarai), but simply "princess" (Sarah), for she would become the royal mother of many nations and kings, including Christ Himself.

17:19 Isaac. Meaning, "he laughs." A reminder both of their doubts (v. 17; 18:12) and of the joy God gave them by His almighty grace (21:6).

17:20–21 As the son of Abraham's love and prayers, Ishmael received physical blessings from God and the external sign of circumcision (v. 23), but God said my covenant will I establish with Isaac, not Ishmael. God is free in choosing His people (Rom. 9:6–7).

17:23–26 The painful circumcision of Abraham, Ishmael, and their whole house that same day showed Abraham's wholehearted submission to God's covenant.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 17

1. Through the covenant, the Lord creates a bond of shared life between Himself and His people. He gives Himself to the elect in sovereign love and He moves them to give themselves to Him in submissive love. Let us marvel and be filled with joy at the kindness of God—that He would lower Himself thus!
2. Circumcised bodies meant nothing without circumcised hearts. While we must obey God's laws in the outward forms of worship, we dare not be satisfied with external religion. Ishmael had his father's love, prayers, and circumcision, but proved to be a "wild donkey" of a man. Let us cry out to God for a truly converted heart to love Him and keep His covenant. Is this your daily prayer?

Chapter 18: The Lord visits Abraham in human form, declares another promise concerning Isaac, and draws Abraham out to intercede for Sodom.

18:1 the LORD appeared unto him. This is the first record of the Lord appearing to Abraham in human form, a foreshadowing of the incarnation of Christ through a birth more miraculous than that of Isaac (Luke 1:26–38).

18:2–8 Abraham was eager to show humble and generous hospitality to guests. It is not clear whether he knew his guests were heavenly visitors, but it is suggested by My Lord (Hebrew, adonai, v. 3; 15:2,8; 18:27,30–32; 20:4). This form of the word refers uniquely to deity and is not the same word as Sarah's polite "my lord" (Hebrew, adoni, 18:12).

18:4 wash your feet. A common courtesy for guests in an age when people walked from place to place on dirt roads (19:2; 24:32; 43:24; Luke 7:44).

18:5 morsel of bread. Polite understatement for the feast of bread, butter, beef, and milk given them. comfort ye your hearts. Be refreshed and strengthened (Judg. 19:5).

18:6 three measures. Three "seahs"—seven quarts or twenty-eight cups of flour for each guest.

18:7 dress. Prepare or make the meal.

18:10 according to the time of life. About that same time next year (2 Kings 4:16–17).

18:11 well stricken in age. Literally, “going on in days,” that is, advanced in age. ceased . . . after the manner of women. In menopause; beyond hope of bearing children.

18:13 of a surety. Surely, indeed.

18:14 Is any thing too hard for the LORD? The phrase often refers to the miraculous; what is impossible to man is not to God. God promised to give a son to an old, barren woman by His power, calling her to trust His Word. By the same power He created the world out of nothing, caused His Son to be born of a virgin, and raises the dead (Luke 1:35,37; Rom. 4:17–21). Like Isaac, the children of God are created not by human power or will (John 1:12–13), but by God’s Spirit working through God’s promise (Rom. 9:8–9; Gal. 4:23,28–29).

18:19 I know him. God had chosen to form a special relationship with Abraham (Amos 3:1–2), and therefore reveals His ways to him (Ps. 25:14). command his children . . . that the LORD MAY BRING UPON ABRAHAM. Training the next generation to walk in God’s way is essential to the fulfillment of His promises to His elect. justice and judgment. Righteousness and justice, implying that Abraham knew God’s moral law (26:5) and taught it to his family.

18:24 Peradventure. Perhaps.

18:25 Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right? Abraham interceded for Sodom (and Lot) by appealing to God’s character. He is a righteous Judge (Ex. 23:7; Deut. 25:1). It is inconceivable that God would treat the righteous the same as the wicked, for the righteous are justified by faith in His promises (15:6) and walk with Him in obedience (6:9,22; 7:1).

18:27 which am but dust and ashes. “Though I am just dust and ashes,” a humble recognition of the infinite difference between God and man.

18:33 left communing. Finished talking.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 18

1. When it is hard to trust God’s promises, let us remember who God is. Though your problems overwhelm you, nothing is too hard for Him. He created the universe out of nothing and raised Christ from the dead. If you fear His judgments on sin, remember that He knows how to save those who trust Him.
2. If God is your God, then you can pray to Him claiming His attributes by faith, for even His righteousness is your friend. Have you learned to place all your hope in His righteousness, both in terms of your justification and your sanctification?

Chapter 19: God’s angels rescue Lot from Sodom and destroy it, but Lot’s life remained a disgraceful tragedy.

19:1–3 Two of the “men” who visited Abraham are now called angels. at even. In the evening. Lot moved near wicked Sodom two decades earlier (13:12), taking up residence in the city (14:12) and appearing at its gate, the center of commercial and legal business. Yet Lot showed hospitality like Abraham (18:2–8); he too was a righteous man, though backslidden (2 Peter 2:7–8). Lot pressed upon them greatly to stay with him, no doubt to protect them from danger (13:13; 18:20).

19:3 unleavened bread. Only here in Genesis; perhaps a hint at Israel’s deliverance from Egypt (Ex. 12:8).

19:4 compassed the house round. Surrounded the house to prevent escape.

19:5 know them. Have sex with them (4:1,17,25; 19:8; 24:16; 38:26). In addition to its sins of pride, luxury, and neglect of the poor (Ezek. 16:49), Sodom was guilty of unnatural sexual lust (Jude 7), highlighted here in its homosexual violence.

19:7–8 Lot boldly rebuked their sin and defended his guests. Tragically, however, he failed to protect his daughters but tried to use them to appease the wicked mob.

19:9 sojourn. Stay for a time in a foreign nation. pressed sore. Pressed hard. The wicked Sodomites responded to Lot's rebuke by accusing him of presuming to be their judge and by rejecting his misguided offer. Nothing but men would satisfy their lusts.

19:13 the cry of them is waxen great. The cry of those whom Sodom oppressed and abused had grown loud in God's ears (18:20), demanding His just punishment.

19:14 as one that mocked. His sons-in-law were so blind to God's wrath against Sodom's sins they thought Lot was joking. He betrothed his daughters to men who did not fear God.

19:16 he lingered. Lot came to Sodom with great wealth and yet sought more (13:5,10–12). Now his love for possessions nearly destroyed him. the LORD being merciful unto him. God's compassion saved His backslidden servant despite his worldliness. without. Outside.

19:24–25 brimstone. Sulphur. The destruction of Sodom points to Christ's sudden coming with fire (Luke 17:28–30). Those who reject the gospel will face judgment worse than Sodom (Matt. 10:15; 11:23–24).

19:26 Lot's wife disobeyed the heavenly call (v. 17) and looked back to her destruction (Luke 9:62), probably because she loved this world. Salt was part of the desolation that came on the area (Deut. 29:23). Christ said, "Remember Lot's wife," when he warned of the necessity of losing one's life in this world to escape divine judgment (Luke 17:32–33).

19:27 gat up. Got up.

19:29 God remembered Abraham. The Lord answered Abraham's prayer not by saving Sodom which did not have ten righteous people (18:32), but by having mercy on its only righteous man (v. 16).

19:30–36 Instead of starting over or returning to Abraham, Lot degenerated into fearful isolation. His daughters lured him into a drunken stupor and then incestuously abused him to gain children.

19:34 yesternight. Last night.

19:37–38 Moab. Meaning, "from father." Ben-ammi. Meaning, "son of my people." God provided the descendants of Lot with land (Deut. 2:9,19), but the Moabites and Ammonites became enemies of God and Israel (Deut. 23:3) with one notable exception (Ruth 1:4,16). Ultimately, these nations fell under the same wrath that consumed Sodom (Zeph. 2:9).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 19

1. Lot shows us the bitterness of backsliding. Peter tells us that he was a righteous man, but he took one step after another into worldliness. In the end, he lost his wealth, his wife, the purity of his children, his mental health, and his own dignity—and nearly lost his life. When the world promises to please us with sin, how can we use the history of Lot and his wife to reject the world's pleasures?
2. The Lord is a God of both justice and mercy. He will punish sin with flaming fire that will suddenly fall on the wicked when Christ returns. He disciplines His children when they do not repent of sin. Yet He has mercy upon His children, and hears the prayers of their great intercessor, Jesus Christ. Let us therefore flee from sin and flee to Christ.

Chapter 20: Abraham sins again in cowardice, endangering the fulfillment of God's promise, but God defends Sarah and their future offspring.

20:1 Kadesh and Shur. See notes at 16:7 and 16:14. Gerar. Southwest of the land, an area associated with the Philistines (26:1). Just as the famine tested Abram's faith and drove him to Egypt (12:10), so it may be that witnessing the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah (19:28) despite his prayers (18:32) drove him to Gerar. Abraham perhaps did not know Lot's fate.

20:2 She is my sister. Again, Abraham's faith stumbled and he used Sarah to protect himself (12:13). Abimelech. Literally, "my father-king," a common name attributed to several men (26:1; Judg. 8:31; 2 Sam. 11:21; 1 Chron. 18:16; Ps. 34:1). Sarah was 90 years old, but she would live to 127 years (23:1), and so could have been like a very attractive woman in her late forties or early fifties. The giving away of Sarah threatened to defeat God's promise, for how could Abraham and Sarah have a son if she was in the arms of another man?

20:3 But God came. God intervened with His word and providence to protect Sarah and ensure the fulfillment of His promise of offspring.

20:6 I also withheld thee from sinning against me: therefore suffered I thee not to touch her. "I, even I, restrained you from sinning against me. Therefore, I did not give to you to have sex with her." God can restrain sin in unbelievers and often does to protect His people (35:5; Ex. 34:24).

20:7 Though God appeared to Abimelech in a dream, he was not a prophet like Abraham, and so Abraham must pray for the healing of Abimelech's household (v. 17). Moses also was a prophet whose intercession delivered sinners from divine punishments (Ex. 10:16–19; 32:7–14).

20:8 sore afraid. Very afraid.

20:9 Ironically, though Abraham is a prophet, he must be rebuked for his sin by an unbeliever.

20:14 Assyrian documents attest to a custom that if a man ignorantly takes another man's wife into his company (even without sexual relations), he must pay compensation to the husband.

20:16 she was reproved. The verb can mean to decide a legal case (31:37), "her case was judged." He protected Sarah from shame (covering of the eyes) by a public legal transaction.

20:18 the LORD had fast closed up all the wombs. This statement of God's control over pregnancy prepares the reader for His miraculous gift of a child to His servant (ch. 21).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 20

1. God rebukes husbands who do not trust Him enough to cherish their wives. Abimelech showed more concern for honoring Sarah than her own husband! If Christian men fail to give honor and care to their own families, they act worse than many unbelievers. God may discipline them with public embarrassment. Let men repent of their cowardice and stand up to protect and provide for their wives and children.
2. The Lord remains faithful despite the weak faith of believers. God could have come in judgment against Abraham's sin and failure to trust God fully, but instead He came in grace. God's promises cannot fail, for they do not depend upon man's unstable will but upon God's eternal will. Trust in the Lord; do not let the fear of man rule you.

Chapter 21: Isaac is born, and conflict and divine revelation prompt Abraham to send away Hagar and Ishmael. Abimelech makes a covenant with Abraham.

21:1–2 as he had said . . . as he had spoken . . . at the set time of which God had spoken. The Word of God proves true in all its details (Prov. 30:5).

21:3 Isaac. See note at 17:19.

21:4 as God had commanded him. God's covenant faithfulness was echoed in Abraham's faithfulness to keep the covenant and place its sign on his son (17:9–14).

21:5 hundred years old. The emphasis on Abraham's "old age" (vv. 2,7) points to the supernatural origin of the covenant seed. See note at 18:14.

21:6 laugh. Isaac's name became a note of triumphant joy when God fulfilled His promise. God's people sing for joy when He multiplies them despite their barrenness in sin (Isa. 54:1–8).

21:7 given children suck. Breastfeed children.

21:9 mocking. Ironically, the same verb as "laugh" (v. 6), the root of "Isaac." In this intensified form it means to joke, mock, or play, sometimes with sexual connotations (19:14; 26:8; Ex. 32:6; Judg. 16:25). The mockery of a teenager may have posed a real threat to a toddler, an example of the persecution of believers (Gal. 4:29).

21:10 bondwoman. Female slave. Ishmael is an example of merely human religion under the law because of his bondage and origins in human wisdom and strength, not God's promise and Spirit (Gal. 4:21–31).

21:12–13 hearken unto her voice. Listen to her and do what she says. in Isaac shall thy seed be called. God had promised to be the covenant God of Abraham's seed or "offspring" and to give them the land (12:7; 13:15; 15:18; 17:7–8). Ishmael was Abraham's physical offspring, circumcised in the flesh, but God did not choose him to be a true member of the covenant people (17:18–23; Rom. 9:6–9,11,16). Nevertheless, God gave him many physical blessings because he is thy (Abraham's) seed.

21:14 rose up early in the morning. He was quick to obey God's painful command, trusting in God's promise to care for Ishmael (v. 13). bottle. Soft canteen made of an animal skin or bladder. wilderness of Beer-sheba. The Negev or southern area of the land between the Dead Sea and the Mediterranean Sea (20:1).

21:17 God heard . . . God hath heard. A reminder of God's promise when He named Ishmael ("God hears," 16:11). The Lord is good to those who call to Him in trouble (Ps. 107:4–9).

21:21 wilderness of Paran. Sinai (see note at 25:18). Egypt. The land of Hagar's origin (16:1).

21:22 God is with thee. The Lord was present with him to bless and protect him. God had promised to be with His people (26:3; 28:15; 31:3; 39:2–3,21,23; 46:4).

21:26 I wot not. I do not know.

21:33 the LORD, THE EVERLASTING GOD. Literally, "Jehovah, God of eternity" (17:7,19; Deut. 33:27; Isa. 40:27–28).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 21

1. The Lord is faithful. Keep trusting Him even if waiting stretches from days into decades. Though we may have to wait a lifetime, He will keep His promises. If men often keep the solemn oaths of their covenants, surely the Lord will keep His covenant forever. How can God's covenant faithfulness help us in life's daily callings?
2. Never mock the people of God, no matter how weak they may appear. The everlasting God is with them, and one day they will laugh with joy. Those who are wise will join in covenant with them, taking them as their people and the Lord as their God.

Chapter 22: God tests Abraham and provides a lamb to die in Isaac's place.

22:1 God did tempt. In the sense of "tested." God tempts no one to sin (James 1:13). Rather, God tested Abraham's faith and obedience (Ex. 16:4).

22:2 thy son, thine only son Isaac, whom thou lovest. A type or shadow of the sacrifice God made of His beloved and only begotten Son (Luke 3:22; John 3:16). Moriah. Future location of the temple (2 Chron. 3:1). God hates child sacrifice (Lev. 20:1–5); this command seemed to contradict God's character and promises (17:19; 21:12).

22:3 rose up early. Again, Abraham was quick to obey God (21:14). his young men. His servants. clave the wood. Split the wood.

22:5 lad. Young man, a term used for boys but also fully grown young adults (1 Chron. 12:28). and come again. The verb form implies, "We will come again." Abraham believed that, if necessary, God would raise Isaac from the dead to keep His promises (Heb. 11:17–19).

22:8 God will provide. Literally, "God will see" (v. 14). Abraham trusted that the Lord of whom Hagar said, "God seest me" (16:13) would certainly look out for the covenant Seed.

22:11 angel of the LORD. The Son sent by the Father (see note at 16:7). God already knew Abraham's heart (15:6; Jer. 17:10) and future (Isa. 46:10). Why then test him? Because it matured his faith and demonstrated that he was a righteous man (James 1:3; 2:21–22).

22:12 The Lord was delighted (now I know; Ps. 37:18; Nah. 1:7) that Abraham esteemed (fearest) Him above all else. thou has not withheld thy son. The same verb used here and in v. 16 in the ancient Greek Septuagint translation appears in Rom. 8:32, "He that spared not his own Son."

22:13 Isaac would be the father of the people of God, but as a fallen sinner in Adam he deserved to die (2:17; 3:19). God provided a ram (male sheep) as a substitute to die in place of (in the stead of) the covenant people, a burnt offering to atone for sin (Lev. 1:4).

22:14 mount of the LORD. Mt. Zion, where David reigned and the temple was built (Ps. 24:3; Isa. 2:3; Zech. 8:3). There Christ would die like a lamb as the substitute for sinners (Isa. 53:5–7).

22:16–17 By myself have I sworn, saith the LORD. God confirmed the promises by an oath so that believers in Christ may have strong assurance (Heb. 6:13–20). blessing I will bless . . . multiplying I will multiply. "I will surely bless, I will surely multiply." The gate was the center of a city's political, legal, and commercial life (23:10; 34:20; Ruth 4:1); to possess the gate of his enemies is to conquer and rule them (24:60; Matt. 16:18).

22:18 because thou hast obeyed my voice. God's blessing to all nations comes through the obedience of His servant, and ultimately because of the obedience of Christ unto death on the cross.

22:20–24 Bethuel begat Rebekah. God was already providing a wife for Isaac so that the covenant seed would continue (24:15).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 22

1. What is your "Isaac"? What earthly relationship or possession do you treasure most? If obedience to God required you to let go of it, do you fear Him enough to make the sacrifice? Pray for grace to show the Lord that this too is His.
2. God made the highest sacrifice. The covenant people of God deserve eternal death in hell. To provide a substitute to take their place, God did not spare His own Son, His only begotten Son whom He loves. Christ Himself became the Lamb of God's provision. So trust in His redeeming love; trust that if God gave His Son for us, He will certainly provide us with all that is good for us.

Chapter 23: Sarah dies and Abraham grieves and negotiates to purchase a burial plot for her from the people dwelling in the land.

23:2 Kirjath-arba . . . Hebron. West of the Dead Sea (13:18). to mourn . . . and to weep. To lament with wailing and tears. Abraham grieved with open and intense emotion. Sarah had faithfully walked with him for well over sixty years since their days at Ur (11:31).

23:3 sons of Heth. The Hittites (v. 10), descendants of Canaan (10:15; 15:20). They may have been related to the Hittite kingdom formed to the north (in modern Turkey).

23:4 a stranger and a sojourner. Believers are pilgrims in this world (Heb. 11:13; 1 Peter 2:11).

23:6 mighty prince. Literally, "prince of God," perhaps another acknowledgement that God was with him and made him great (21:22). sepulchre. Same word as "buryingplace" (v. 4).

23:7 bowed himself to the people. Abraham showed humility, courtesy, and respect for others in his business dealings (Titus 3:1–2). Though the Hittites did not worship the Lord and would one day forfeit the land for their sins (15:16–21; 26:34–35), he still honored them (1 Peter 2:17).

23:8 communed with them. Said to them. intreat. Request.

23:11 Abraham asked to buy the "cave" (v. 9), but Ephron added the field. Under Hittite law, he must sell the whole property in order to transfer the obligation to pay tax to the local king.

23:13 in the audience. In the ears or hearing.

23:15 hearken unto me. Listen to me. four hundred shekels. Not a number of coins here but a measure of weight: perhaps about ten pounds of silver, apparently a very high cost.

23:20 possession. Same word (vv. 4,9) used in God's promise that He would give Abraham's seed "all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession" (17:8). Yet Abraham had to pay a high price and even incur taxes to get a tiny portion of the land (23:11,15). He and Sarah lived by faith in the promises, not receiving the inheritance in their lifetime. This shows their hope in the resurrection and a heavenly city (Heb. 11:13–16).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 23

1. By their union with Christ, God's people are kings and heirs of a great inheritance. Yet in this world they may have little; they must live by faith, not by sight. Pray for the God of hope to fill you with all joy and peace in believing the promises about Christ, so that by the power of the Holy Spirit, you may abound in hope.
2. God calls believers to live as strangers and aliens—not entangled among the wicked Sodomites and Hittites in their pursuit of this world, but pilgrims waiting for the city of God. This separation from sin does not excuse isolation or rudeness, but instead demands that we do business in this world with honor and courtesy to all. What ways can you practice this in the spheres where God has called you to live and work?

Chapter 24: Abraham sends his servant to find a wife for Isaac, and God leads him to Rebekah through a remarkable providence.

24:1 well stricken in age. Literally, “went on in days,” that is, became advanced in age.

24:3 The divine name Lord (Hebrew, Jehovah) appears nineteen times in this chapter, more than any other chapter in Genesis. The Lord is the Creator and Owner of heaven and earth (v. 7; 1:1; 14:22). He is also the God of Abraham (vv. 12,27,42,48) and will use His power over all things to bless and multiply the covenant seed. Abraham sought a wife for Isaac who was not one of the Canaanites, a warning to Israel not to intermarry with the wicked (26:34–35).

24:4 kindred. Extended family.

24:5 Peradventure. Perhaps.

24:6 thither. There.

24:7 Abraham depended upon the promises of the Lord to provide for the future of the covenant seed. his angel. Probably the divine angel of the Lord (16:7–13; 22:11–18).

24:10 camels. See note at 12:16. to Mesopotamia, unto the city of Nahor. To Haran by the Euphrates River (11:28; 27:43), a journey of about five hundred miles.

24:11 without the city. Outside the city.

24:12 send me good speed. Literally, “cause it to happen before me,” that is, give me success (27:20). kindness. God’s loyal love and faithful goodness (v. 14), particularly to His people.

24:14 damsel. Young woman. pitcher. Earthenware water jar. The servant’s prayer and its answer imply that God controls the choices of human beings.

24:16 Since Rebekah was quite attractive (very fair), her sexual innocence as a virgin whom no man had known sexually (4:1) attested to her personal purity.

24:18 hasted. Acted quickly.

24:20 drew for all his camels. A camel can drink dozens of gallons of water in a few minutes, so drawing water for ten camels required many trips to the well with the water jar. Rebekah’s service and hospitality (like that of Abraham, 18:2–8) showed her godly character.

24:21 to wit. To know.

24:22 half a shekel weight . . . ten shekels weight. Perhaps a fifth of an ounce of gold (6 g) and a quarter of a pound of gold (113 g)—suggesting large pieces of jewelry.

24:25 provender. Fodder, food for livestock.

24:27 The Lord’s mercy (same word as “kindness,” v. 12) and truth (or faithfulness) are at the core of His character as a covenant-keeping God (32:10; Ex. 34:6; Ps. 25:10; 86:15; Mic. 7:19–20). His goodness calls for our worship (Blessed be the Lord) and our imitation (v. 49).

24:28 damsel. Young woman.

24:31 without. Outside.

24:32 ungirded. Untied and took the gear off the camels.

24:33 meat. Food of any kind.

24:37–48 The repetition of the earlier part of the story (vv. 2–27) serves to reinforce the sense of wonder at how God answered the prayers of His servants, as well as the clarity of His will (v. 50).

24:39 Peradventure. Perhaps.

24:53 jewels of silver, and jewels of gold. Silver and gold items. raiment. Clothing.

24:54 tarried all night. Stayed overnight.

24:55 damsel. Young woman.

24:57–58 enquire at her mouth. Ask her to speak for herself. Rebekah's simple but resolute response, I will go, echoes Abraham's faith in leaving his kindred to follow God (12:1,4), and a believer's faith when surrendering to the God-man and perfect Husband, Jesus Christ, to follow Him unconditionally.

24:59 her nurse. Deborah (35:8), the servant who had cared for Rebekah in her childhood and perhaps breastfed her (Ex. 2:7–9; 2 Sam. 4:4).

24:60 possess the gate. See note at 22:16–17.

24:62–63 Isaac went out to meditate (literally, "talk to himself") in the evening (eventide), perhaps on his mother's death (v. 67), on the faithful love of "the Living One who sees me" (Hebrew, Lahairoi, 16:13–14), and on His promises (Ps. 1:2; 119:148).

24:64 lighted off. Came down quickly.

24:67 she became his wife; and he loved her. The beloved son (22:2) gained a beloved wife, just as by God's grace His beloved Son will gain a beloved bride, the church.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 24

1. Our God is the Lord of heaven and earth, controlling even the little details of a young woman's kindness to a stranger. This chapter bears strong testimony to how we should trust Him completely and show love and faithfulness to the people around us. Who knows how He will use our acts of kindness?
2. We can especially trust that the sovereign Lord will multiply the covenant seed and win a bride for His Son. Such faith should express itself in courageous work to increase the church, joined to confident prayer and humble praise for His great works of power.
3. Like Rebekah, are you willing to follow Jesus Christ unconditionally for your salvation and as Lord?

Chapter 25: Abraham dies, Ishmael multiplies, and the covenant seed continues in Isaac.

25:3 begat. Fathered a child.

25:7 hundred threescore and fifteen. One hundred and seventy-five. See note at 50:22.

25:8 gathered to his people. Implies the continued existence of the spirits of the dead in another realm, but not in every case a blessed afterlife (15:15; 25:17; 35:29; 49:29,33; Num. 20:24,26; 27:13; 31:2; Deut. 32:50; Judg. 2:10; 2 Kings 22:20; 2 Chron. 17:11; 34:28; Ps. 49:19).

25:12 these are the generations. A marker of transition to a new focus in Genesis (2:4; 5:1; 6:9; 10:1; 11:10,27; 25:19; 36:1; 37:1). Ishmael. See ch. 16; 17:18–26.

25:13–18 The sons of Ishmael became nomadic peoples of the Arabian wilderness between Egypt and Babylon. God multiplied Ishmael into twelve princes as He promised (17:20).

25:16 castles. Either walled cities or, more likely, tent encampments.

The Grace of God to Isaac and Jacob (25:19—36:43)

25:19 These are the generations of Isaac. This phrase (see note at v. 12) opens a new section in Genesis, switching the focus from Abraham (11:27—25:18) to Isaac and his seed.

25:21–22 intreated. Prayed. enquire. Seek or ask. Isaac and Rebekah were people of prayer.

25:23 two manner of people shall be separated from thy bowels. The two children in your womb will become two distinct nations. God revealed His election of the younger before the two were born, showing that His calling was of grace, not works (Rom. 9:10–12). This reversed the primacy of the firstborn (v. 31); God's calling is contrary to man's wisdom (1 Cor. 1:26–29).

25:27 cunning hunter. Literally, "a man who knows hunting." plain man. A complete man, ordinarily meaning a man of integrity (Job 1:1,8), but perhaps here cultured or thoughtful.

25:28 of his venison. Of his hunting (same word as in v. 27). Sadly, Isaac loved Esau more than Jacob in disregard of God's word (v. 23). He was blinded by his love for food (27:4,9,14).

25:29 sod pottage. Cooked soup, literally, "stewed stew." faint. Weary, exhausted.

25:30 Literally, he ravenously babbled, "Let me gulp down some of the red, this red." The name Edom sounds like "red" in Hebrew. Edom's character was stained "red" by his unthinking preoccupation with physical satisfaction (Heb. 12:16).

25:31 birthright. The right of the firstborn son to special honor (43:33) and a double portion of the inheritance (Deut. 21:17), in this case the blessing of the Lord. Jacob's demand reflects his determination to get God's blessing (32:26) and his sinful grasping after it by manipulation.

25:34 pottage of lentiles. Stew of red lentil beans. did eat and drink, and rose up, and went his way. Without regret or concern. despised. Regarded God's blessing as trivial.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 25

1. We must prepare our estates and prepare our children for the time when we will die. Most of all, we must prepare ourselves for the day when our spirits will be gathered to another place. Will that place be heaven or hell?
2. God elected His people before they were born, apart from their works. In one family, God may select one and pass by another. Such election means that the Holy Spirit will produce a change in the sinner so that he hungers for grace. But if God does not elect and call him, then he hungers for this world and despises God's grace, and thus his condemnation is just. Do you hunger and thirst for God, or do you despise His Word?

Chapter 26: Isaac sojourns among the Philistines and repeats his father's sin, but the Lord reaffirms the promise of His presence.

26:1 the first famine. See 12:10. Abimelech. Not the same man met by Abraham (see note at 20:2). This chapter showed the similarity between Abraham and Isaac in their trials, sins, and experiences of God's grace (vv. 1,3,7,18,24–25,28). Rather than the clumsy work of a hypothetical editor, as some scholars believe, this similarity reveals that God keeps the covenant with His people even as they face the same challenges as their fathers.

26:2–5 The LORD appeared to Isaac as He did to Abraham (12:7; 18:1; 26:24). As Abraham had to walk by faith by leaving Ur, so Isaac had to live by faith by staying in the land of famine. He had to sojourn as a landless foreigner while he waited for God's promised inheritance (20:1; 21:34; 23:4). God confirmed His promise to bless him and his seed (12:1–3; 22:17–18), the oath that He swore unto Abraham (22:16). The blessing came because that Abraham obeyed God (22:16) and taught his family to follow God's ways (18:19). my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws. The same four Hebrew words are used of the law of Moses, for God's moral law does not change (1 Kings 2:3; cf. Ex. 24:12; Lev. 26:46; Deut. 4:40; 11:1).

26:7 fair to look upon. Beautiful. Isaac fell into the same cowardice as his father (12:11; 20:2).

26:8 sporting. Playfully “flirting” as husband and wife, an intensified form of “laugh,” Isaac’s name.

26:9 of a surety. Surely.

26:10 lightly have lien with. Easily could have had sexual relations with her. Abimelech shows us that even people who do not worship the Lord can be concerned about justice and mercy.

26:13 Literally, “And the man became great and walked walking and became great until he was very great.” He became extremely wealthy.

26:14 great store of servants. Many servants.

26:15 all the wells . . . the Philistines had stopped them, and filled them. Cutting off access to wells and springs in an arid land threatened Isaac's family and flocks with disaster.

26:16–22 Though he was much mightier than the Philistines, Isaac sought peace rather than a fight, as Abraham did when he had a conflict with Lot (13:8).

26:24 fear not, for I am with thee, and will bless thee. Rather than rebuking Isaac for his weakness, the Lord called him to faith instead of fear. He was still the shield of Abraham (15:1).

26:25 Isaac responded to God's words with worship, just as Abraham had (12:7–8; 13:18).

26:28–31 Cutting a covenant involved swearing a oath and sharing a meal together, representing solemn commitment and joyful fellowship (Ex. 24:7–11). betimes. Early.

26:34–35 Abraham had been careful to seek a wife for Isaac from the worshipers of the Lord, not the Canaanites (24:3), but Esau neglected his grandfather's ways and grieved his parents. While business and political cooperation with unbelievers may be helpful, marriages with them are foolish.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 26

1. The Lord is the same yesterday, today, and forever. He still can be trusted to bless His people with physical provision and the hope of future glory. But the richest blessings that believers presently enjoy are the fruits and gifts of the Holy Spirit. In the midst of famines and other trials, let us seek these riches diligently in prayer.
2. Christians must be wise in their relationships with the world. We must not flee to worldly powers when trials come but trust the promises and obey God's moral law. Do not be surprised when the world is hostile, but do not let the fear of man lead you into lies and sin. Beware of relationships that entangle you with unbelievers.

Chapter 27: At his mother's instigation, Jacob tricks Isaac into giving him the blessing of the firstborn, enraging Esau but fulfilling God's prophecy.

27:1–4 Just as Isaac's eyes were dim, so he was blind to Esau's ungodliness (25:34; 26:34) and failed to lead his family by God's promise to exalt Jacob (25:23). Instead he let his love for Esau's savoury meat control him (vv. 4,9,14). God's purpose to bless the elect seed still would prevail. The verb bless appears seventeen times in this chapter, and the related noun "blessing" six times.

27:5–6 Isaac spake to Esau his son . . . Rebekah spake unto Jacob her son. The family is fractured by favoritism (25:28). Rebekah called Esau thy brother, but called Jacob her son. Conversely, Isaac called Jacob thy brother but only Esau his son, not even addressing Jacob as his son when he sent him away (28:1–4). The family did not communicate openly, and only at the end did Rebekah speak directly to Isaac.

27:11–12 peradventure. Perhaps. Jacob feared getting caught, but not sinning (contrast with 39:9).

27:15 goodly raiment. Delightful clothes.

27:19 badest. Said.

27:20 the LORD thy GOD brought it to me. He did not shrink from blasphemy by bringing God's name into his lie. In an ironic contrast of deception against dependence, he used the same Hebrew expression that Abraham's servant did in his prayer to God (24:12).

27:21–27 Inclined to gratify his senses of touch, taste, and smell through food, Isaac was vulnerable to manipulation through those same senses.

27:28–29 dew. Important in an arid region (Ps. 133:3; Prov. 19:12). fatness of the earth. Fertile and productive soil. corn. General term for grain. thy brethren. The extended family (31:46). Isaac blessed him with prosperity and royalty.

27:33 yea, and he shall be blessed. Perhaps a father's blessing was irrevocable, but it may also be that Isaac realized that God was fulfilling His word to lift up the younger son (25:23).

27:35 subtilty. Deceit, fraud.

27:36 Jacob . . . supplanted me. One could render it, "Jacob jacobed me." The name Jacob means to take by the heel (25:26), suggesting to attack from behind or cheat.

27:40 yoke. Subjection to authority. Edom would be subjugated by David (2 Sam. 8:14), but later rebelled against Solomon, Joram, and future kings (1 Kings 11:14–22; 2 Kings 8:20–22).

27:42–45 Though Jacob received the blessing as God ordained, he and his mother paid a high price for their deceitful scheming. Despite Rebekah's hopes, Jacob would stay (tarry) with his uncle far from his parents not a few days, but for twenty years (31:38,41).

27:46 Rebekah again manipulated her husband, her last words in Genesis; she next appears in the tomb (49:31).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 27

1. The sins of believers can hurt and divide their families. Favoritism, broken lines of communication, lies, the love of the world, nominal religion, and seeking God's blessing through sinful means can tear Christian families apart. While God's purposes of grace cannot fail, He will discipline His people, possibly through broken relationships. Let us therefore repent of our sins, speak openly with each other in love, and seek peace.
2. God is sovereign over sin. He does not command it or cause it, but He decreed each sin as part of His plan to fulfill His good purposes (50:20). He is in control. This gives us a powerful reason to seek His blessing by prayer rather than manipulating others.

Chapter 28: The Lord appears to Jacob on the road to Haran, revealing His promises of grace and moving the son of Isaac to fear and worship.

28:1 charged. Commanded him, to which Jacob responded with obedience (v. 7).

28:2 Padan-aram. Northwest Mesopotamia near Haran (v. 10), about five hundred miles to the north. In contrast to the caravan of Abraham's servant (24:10,32,54), Jacob appears to travel alone.

28:3–4 Almighty. See note at 17:1. multitude of people. An assembly of peoples (35:11; 48:4). The word meaning "assembly" is often used of the congregation of Israel (Ps. 22:22–31); here it is many nations called together to worship the Lord. Isaac pronounced on Jacob the covenantal blessing given to Abraham by the Lord (12:1–3; 17:1–8).

28:9 Mahalath. See note at 36:3.

28:10–11 lighted upon. Happened to come to. tarried. Stayed. From Beer-sheba to Beth-el (v. 19) is about fifty miles, a few days' journey. pillows. Some ancient people did use hard headrests, but this may mean placed by his head (1 Kings 19:6), possibly for ready self-defense (1 Sam. 26:7).

28:12 ladder. Staircase or ramp. Christ implied that this bridge between heaven and earth was a type of Himself, God and man, the only way to the Father (John 1:51; cf. John 1:1,14; 14:6). angels of God. Powerful spirits who are messengers of the Lord (19:1,11,13,15; 32:1–3).

28:13–15 the LORD stood above it. Or possibly, the Lord stood "over him" on earth (v. 16). The Lord gave His promises to Jacob as He had done earlier with Isaac (26:24). God of Abraham. Title of covenant faithfulness (17:7; Ex. 3:13–17). I will not leave thee. Believers reject greedy grasping like Jacob and rest content in what we have, for we have God Himself forever (Heb. 13:5).

28:16–18 the LORD is in this place . . . the house of GOD . . . the gate of heaven. The dream of heaven joined to earth (v. 12) revealed God's intent to dwell permanently with His people (v. 15). As the gate was not just an entrance but the hub of a city's trade, so the Lord was bringing the very business of heaven to earth. God's Word develops this great theme in the tabernacle, the temple, Christ, the church, and the heavenly city of Jerusalem (Ex. 29:45; 1 Kings 8:13; Matt. 1:23; Eph. 2:22; Rev. 21:3). dreadful. Fearful, awe-inspiring. Even when God comes in grace, His presence inspires fear (31:42).

28:20–22 Jacob took a solemn vow that if the Lord would be with him, protect him in his travels, and give him the necessities of food (bread) and clothing (raiment), then he would worship the Lord as his covenant God and give Him tithes of his income (the tenth; cf. 14:20).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 28

1. Man attempts to grasp heaven but his efforts fail, whether they are the proud labors of the Tower of Babel or the deceitful manipulations of Jacob. However, God bridges the gap with Jesus Christ. He is the only Mediator, the stairway to heaven. Let us repent of our pride and deceitful ways, and rest content in Christ alone as the Almighty Savior.
2. The church of Christ is the greatest wonder on earth. It is the assembly of many peoples, diverse nations united by the worship of the one true God. It is the house of God and the gate of heaven. Sadly, though "the LORD is in this place," many would have to confess, "I knew it not." Do you come to church with holy fear, since God dwells with His people?

Chapter 29: Jacob comes to his uncle Laban, marries Leah and Rachel, and Leah begins bearing him children.

29:1 the people of the east. A hint that Laban is a worshiper of other gods (31:19,30), as the east in Genesis sometimes implies away from God's presence (3:24; 4:16; 11:1–3).

29:3 thither. To there.

29:4 whence be ye. From where do you come?

29:10 Jacob was a strong man, able to roll a large stone that ordinarily required more than one man to move (vv. 2–3). The stone of ch. 28 symbolized God's grace; here the stone reveals Jacob's strength. In contrast to the servant of Abraham, who traveled to this same region but approached the well with prayer to the Lord (24:11–14), Jacob depended on his own strength.

29:11 lifted up his voice, and wept. Jacob was overwhelmed at God's providence leading him quickly to the daughter of Laban, exactly the person his father sent him to find (28:2).

29:15 nought. Nothing. Six times this chapter says that Jacob had to serve Laban (vv. 15,18,20,25,27,30; cf. 30:26,29; 31:6,41), a term associated with the labor of servants and slaves (15:13–14; Ex. 1:13–14). Though Isaac had blessed Jacob with supremacy so that nations would serve him (27:29), for now God forced Jacob to serve others in order to teach humility.

29:17 tender eyed. Leah's eyes were "soft," either weak or gentle. beautiful and well favoured. Literally, "attractive of form and attractive of appearance." Jacob foolishly allowed physical desires to dictate his choices (39:6–7), just as Isaac followed his appetite for food (25:28).

29:25 wherefore then hast thou beguiled me? Why did you trick me? Jacob who had tricked his brother and father now finds himself the target of treachery, at the cost of another seven years of his labor. Jacob the younger son had disguised himself as the older son to trick Isaac; now Laban disguised the older daughter as the younger daughter to trick Jacob. God was wrestling with Jacob to discipline him and to teach him to hate deception.

29:31–35 In the midst of the rivalry between Jacob's two wives, the Lord revealed His glory in several ways. He showed His compassion for the suffering, such as an unloved (hated) wife. He exercised His power over conception and birth. He demonstrated His faithfulness to keep His promises in multiplying the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. He used His sovereignty over suffering to draw out of evil the praise of His name (now I will praise the LORD). And He glorified His wisdom by making the wife Jacob did not prefer into the mother of Moses, Aaron, and the priesthood (by Levi) and of David, the kings, and Christ Himself (by Judah).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 29

1. God disciplines His children, at times with poetic justice, when the sinning Christian must suffer similar sins from others. God's faithfulness to His people should not diminish our fear of displeasing Him. He is a strong and holy Father. Let us tremble at the thought of sinning against such a God and not despise His discipline.
2. Are you relying on your own strength to move obstacles or crying out to the Lord? Our God has abundant compassion, power, and faithfulness. He is always at work even through human sin. Take your painful situation to Him in prayer, and give Him the praise when He answers you.

Chapter 30: Jacob's wives bear children in bitter rivalry, and Jacob and Laban seek to swindle each other.

30:1–2 in God's stead. In the place of God. fruit of the womb. Children. Childlessness provoked Jacob and Rachel to quarrel, revealing the shallowness of their attraction for each other.

30:3 upon my knees. As Rachel's children (50:23).

30:6–8 Leah's naming of her children revolved around longing for her husband's love, but Rachel's naming of Bilhah's children smacks of self-righteousness and pride.

30:11 troop. Or good fortune.

30:14 mandrakes. Plant believed to increase sexual desire (Song 7:13).

30:15 The scenario suggests that Jacob had ceased having regular sexual relations with Leah.

30:16 Jacob did not lead his family with fatherly wisdom and love, but acted like a mere pawn or hired man in the struggle between Rachel and Leah.

30:17 Rachel used mandrakes, but Leah called upon the Lord and He heard (hearkened) Leah's request and gave her more children.

30:20 endued me with a good dowry. Given me a good gift.

30:22 God remembered Rachel. Refers to God acting according to His covenant faithfulness and love (6:18; 8:1; 9:15–16; Ex. 2:24; 6:5; Lev. 26:42,45).

30:23 reproach. Disgrace.

30:24 Rachel learned to look not to mandrakes but to her Maker for children. God appears over a dozen times in the account of the birth of Jacob's children: the LORD (Hebrew, Jehovah) four times in 29:31–35

(Leah), “God” twice in 30:1–16 (Bilhah and Zilpah), “God” three times in 30:17–21 (Leah), “God” three times in 30:22–23 (Rachel), and the LORD in 30:24 (Rachel). God overruled the ugliness of polygamy and strife to multiply the covenant seed as He promised.

30:27 experience. Divination, the use of magic and omens to gain secret knowledge—forbidden by the Lord (Deut. 18:10–14). blessed me for thy sake. God’s presence with His people blesses even their unbelieving family and neighbors (v. 30; 39:5).

30:32 cattle. Not only cows and bulls, but in the old sense of livestock in general, particularly here sheep and goats. Only a fraction of them would be of mixed colors.

30:35–36 ringstraked. Striped. white. The Hebrew word for “white” is laban (v. 37), a pun with the name of Laban, reminding us of Jacob’s bartering with Esau or Edom whose name means “red” (25:29–34). betwixt. Between. Laban treacherously isolated the flocks with mixed colors from those tended by Jacob in order to rob him of his share of their bargain.

30:37–42 hazel. Almond tree. chesnut. Plane tree. pilled. Peeled. strakes. Stripes. Jacob made a foolish attempt to manipulate the breeding of the sheep through superstition, as if the colors of the wood controlled the colors of the sheep’s offspring as a mandrake controlled fertility. He also employed the science of selective breeding to favor the stronger animals. The Lord later revealed to Jacob that his success came from God (31:11–12).

30:43 increased exceedingly. Literally, Jacob “broke out very much” or “spread out very much,” exactly what the Lord had promised (28:14). Despite the oppression of Laban and their own sins, God blessed the family of Jacob with many offspring, servants, and livestock.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 30

1. Few matters touch a woman’s heart more than her children and her husband’s love. Men are often driven to seek success in their work and wealth; let us beware lest these natural desires become idols and lead us into sins such as deception and injustice.
2. Sin has consequences but can never defeat God’s purposes. Multiple sexual relationships and dishonest and selfish business practices create sorrow, envy, and hatred. But the Lord uses sin to fulfill His promises and to multiply His people throughout the world. If you are in a family or business situation marred by sin, wait on the Lord and put your trust in His Word. He will bless you and build His kingdom.

Chapter 31: Jacob flees toward Canaan and Laban pursues him, resulting in a confrontation that again reveals God’s faithful mercy.

31:1 glory. Wealth.

31:2 countenance. Face, that is, favor and approval (v. 5; 32:20).

31:3 Return unto the land of thy fathers. The Lord called Jacob to Canaan like Abraham. kindred. Extended family. I will be with thee. God offered His promise and presence to overcome Jacob’s fear of Laban and Esau.

31:7–9 suffered. Literally, “gave,” as in sovereign permission. cattle. Livestock. ringstraked. Striped. Laban repeatedly changed their business agreement (vv. 31–34), but divine providence protected and prospered Jacob.

31:10 leaped upon. Mated with. grisled. Spotted.

31:11–13 angel of God . . . I have seen. The divine Mediator, the Living One who sees and has compassion (16:7,13–14). God of Beth-el. The Lord reminded Jacob of God's promise to bless him and give him the land, and of Jacob's vow to worship the Lord as his God (28:13–33).

31:19 images. Figures of household gods (vv. 30,32; Judg. 17:5; 18:14–20). Rachel may have taken them for protection, monetary value, revenge, or symbolism of owning the inheritance.

31:20 stole away unawares. Jacob obeyed God's call, but snuck away in fear rather than dealing openly with Laban in the fear of God (vv. 27,31).

31:21 the mount Gilead. Hilly country east of Jordan River.

31:24 Take heed. Watch yourself. either good or bad. The Lord did not prohibit Laban from speaking, but from passing a legal judgment over Jacob (v. 29; 2 Sam. 13:22; 1 Kings 3:9). Once the Lord reveals His verdict in a case, His judgment stands (24:50).

31:26–27 mirth. Gladness. tabret. Tambourine. Laban hypocritically depicted Jacob as an oppressive kidnapper and himself as a loving father.

31:29 yesternight. Last night.

31:30 thou wouldest needs be gone because thou sore longedst after. You must go because you greatly desired. wherefore. Why.

31:31 Peradventure. Perhaps.

31:34 furniture. Saddle. These "gods" can be stolen, hidden, and sat upon!

31:35 custom of women. Menstruation.

31:36 wroth. Angry. chode. Literally, "contended" as in a lawsuit. trespass. Sin.

31:37 betwixt. Between.

31:38–41 cast their young. Miscarried. I bare the loss of it. Ordinarily he would not be obligated to repay Laban for animals lost to predators and thieves (Ex. 22:12–13). Jacob protested his hard work and honesty in serving Laban, who did not reward him rightly.

31:42 God of Abraham. The covenant Lord of Abraham and his descendants (26:24; 28:13). fear of Isaac. Title similar to "the Holy One of Israel" (Isa. 41:14), depicting the Lord in His majesty and faithfulness to the covenant seed. The God of Abraham rescued Jacob from the oppressor and brought him to the land, just as He later did with the nation of Israel (Ex. 3:6,15–17). yesternight. Last night.

31:49–50 the LORD watch between me and thee . . . GOD is witness betwixt me and thee. Not a blessing, but a covenant curse that God would judge Jacob if he harmed Laban or his children.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 31

1. Laban is an example of a bully, oppressor, and tyrant. He robs the righteous, envies their prosperity, breaks his promises, alienates his family, worships idols, accuses others falsely, puts on a show of kindness, uses force to take what deceit will not get him, cheats honest employees, constantly changes his words, sees everything he takes as his right, and uses religion to protect his interests. But God will rebuke and judge him. Believers may face and overcome such people with truth, justice, and faith in the Lord.
2. The Lord stands in stark contrast to the gods of this world. Their little idols are ridiculous and helpless, but tragically the world pursues them and treasures them. The Lord however is the fearsome and faithful God. He is with His people, and He alone is worthy of our trust. Are you one of His children and are you presently trusting Him in and for all things?

Chapter 32: Jacob prepares to meet a hostile Esau, and the Lord comes to wrestle with him.

32:1–2 angels of God. See note at 28:12. God's host. Camp of God's army. The forces of heaven surround God's servants to defend them (2 Kings 6:17; Ps. 91:11; Heb. 1:14). The same word for host or camp appears as "band" (vv. 7,10), "company" (vv. 8,21), and "drove" (33:8).

32:3–5 Jacob sought reconciliation with Esau. Seir. Mountainous region southeast of the Dead Sea (36:6–8). Jacob used lord-servant language to show his humble repentance of stealing from Esau the blessing of lordship belonging to the firstborn (27:29,37,40).

32:6 four hundred men. Esau had grown as powerful as his grandfather (14:14), but unlike Abraham he mobilized his army not to save his relative but to destroy him.

32:8 smite. Strike, attack.

32:9 kindred. Extended family. Jacob leaned on God's covenant (God of my father) and His specific command and promise.

32:10 mercies . . . truth. See note at 24:27. He sought God without self-righteousness (Luke 18:13).

32:11 Deliver me. Save me. I fear him. He poured out his heart to the Lord (1 Sam. 1:15; Ps. 62:8).

32:12 sand of the sea. Promised to Abraham (22:17). cannot be numbered for multitude. Too many to count. Jacob pleaded with the God of Abraham to keep His promises (v. 9; 31:42).

32:14–15 milch camels. Camels nursing their young. kine. Cows or heifers. Jacob sent 550 head of livestock, a gift fit for a king. Thus he made restitution for stealing the birthright.

32:16 betwixt drove and drove. Between each group of livestock. The gifts would arrive one wave after another to win over the heart of Esau.

32:17 foremost. First. whither. To where.

32:20 appease. Propitiate or turn away anger (Prov. 16:14); same word used for sacrifices of atonement to obtain forgiveness from God (Lev. 4:20). see his face. Receive favor from him (Num. 6:24–26). peradventure he will accept of me. Literally, "perhaps he will lift up my face."

32:22 Jabbok. A river which flows into the Jordan River (v. 10) from the east in Gilead.

32:24 God (v. 30) appeared as a man, a shadow of the coming of Christ (see note at 18:1–2). He wrestled with Jacob; God humbles and sanctifies His elect. The Hebrew word for wrestled suggests "dust;" God lowered Himself in the incarnation when He came to make men holy.

32:25 he prevailed not. Literally, "he was not able," a surprising verb to use of the Lord (18:14). touched. Or possibly struck. the hollow of his thigh. His hip joint. The result was a limp (v. 31). God is not able to fulfill His purposes of grace for His elect without wounding them.

32:26 God defeated Jacob's trickery, so now Jacob clung tenaciously and tearfully to the Lord until He would bless him (Hos. 12:3–4).

32:28 He was no longer Jacob the deceiver, but Israel who conquered with God. Israel means both "he struggles with God," and "God struggles." On the gift of a new name, see 17:5,15.

32:29 Wherefore. Why. God's name is not just a word, but His glory, which cannot be fully known by our limited minds (Deut. 28:58; Judg. 13:17–18; Neh. 9:5; Ps. 148:13).

32:31 halted upon his thigh. Limping because of his hip injury, Jacob must now face Esau in weakness and pain, unable to fight or run and utterly dependent on God.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 32

1. Like Jacob, we should call upon the covenant God and Father of Jesus Christ, pray His words back to Him, confess that we are unworthy of His grace, thank Him for His mercies, ask for salvation, pour out the fears of our hearts, and strengthen our faith with His promises. This is true prayer.
2. If we have sinned against other people, let us first humble ourselves before God and find peace with Him. Then let us humble ourselves before them, ask for forgiveness, and seek to pay back any losses that we caused them. Most of all, we must cling to God that He would bless us whether or not people will make peace with us.

Chapter 33: Esau meets Jacob, and the brothers make peace and yet go in different directions.

33:1–3 handmaids. Female servants. foremost . . . hindermost. First and last. That his wives and children ranked high in Jacob's affections was plain to see. Still, Jacob no longer sent them ahead of him (32:23), but passed over before them, sacrificially taking the most dangerous position as the first to approach Esau.

33:4 fell on his neck. Hugged him and held him close (46:29). A picture of reconciliation; compare the actions of the father of the prodigal son (Luke 15:20).

33:5 God hath graciously given. Jacob's humility is evident in how he credited God's grace for all his blessings (v. 11). Esau never mentions God in this conversation.

33:8 all this drove. All these livestock (see note at 32:2).

33:10 I have seen thy face, as though I had seen the face of God. Jacob's reconciliation with Esau was linked to his encounter with God (32:30), where he gained humility and blessing.

33:11 Take . . . my blessing. Jacob's gift of the livestock aimed to make up for the stolen blessing (27:36).

33:13–14 tender. Weak. softly. Gently. The children and herds with young may indeed have been weary after fleeing from Laban for ten days (31:22–23). until I come unto my lord unto Seir. Perhaps a lie motivated by fear, or a polite but noncommittal way of saying Jacob might visit Esau someday. God had called the seed of Abraham to live in Canaan, not Seir.

33:16–19 Esau traveled one hundred miles south to Seir, but Jacob journeyed to Succoth and then to Shechem, moving west into Canaan. He did not go immediately to Beth-el to worship God (28:19–22; 35:1), a hint of incomplete obedience. to Shalem. The word could be understood as a place name (as the KJV translates) or as an adverb meaning "peacefully, safely" (34:21). bought a parcel of a field. Piece of land given to Joseph (see note at 48:22). Jacob's purchase of property in the land of Canaan showed his intention to dwell in the land of God's promise.

33:20 El-elohe-Israel. The Lord had appeared to Abraham at Shechem, promising to give the land to his offspring (12:6–7), and Abraham built an altar there. By building another altar at Shechem and naming it "God is the God of Israel," Jacob affirmed his faith in the promises and kept part of his vow to take the Lord as his God if He would bring Jacob safely home (28:21).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 33

1. How beautiful when God reconciles enemies and heals broken relationships! It is a picture of divine grace. Repentance is shown for sins committed, restitution is made for damages done, forgiveness is granted to the guilty, and tenderhearted friendship is renewed. Reconciliation is costly—most of all to our pride—but it is sweet and precious. Insofar as it depends upon us, let us pursue peace with all.

2. The best reconciliation is reconciliation with God and returning home to Him. Jacob had gone on an exile of sorts because of his sins, but the Lord brought him home to the land of promise. Perhaps you have backslidden away from the Lord, and as a result have gone far from Him. God delights to bring the exiles home. Turn back to Him today.

Chapter 34: Jacob's daughter Dinah consorts with the wicked and is raped, and his sons respond with deceit and violence.

34:1 Jacob's daughter (fourteen times in this chapter) went out to socialize with the daughters of the land, women and girls of the wicked Canaanites (27:46; 38:1–2).

34:2 defiled. Humiliated, here by rape, a crime in Israel (Deut. 22:28–29).

34:3 his soul clave. He became attached to her after she pleased him sexually, reversing God's order for marriage of commitment and then physical union (2:24). damsel. Young woman.

34:5 defiled. Not the same word used earlier (v. 2), but a term meaning made her unclean by sexual sin, though not of her own choice (vv. 13,27; Num. 5:13; Deut. 24:4; Ezek. 18:6; 22:11). held his peace. Jacob remained passive and silent until the end (v. 30), perhaps because of fear or a lack of compassion for a daughter of Leah (v. 1), his unwanted wife (29:31).

34:6 commune. Speak.

34:7 wroth. Angry. wrought folly. Committed a crime (Isa. 32:6; Jer. 29:23), associated with sexual sins on more than one occasion (Deut. 22:21; Judg. 19:23–24; 20:6,10; 2 Sam. 13:12).

34:8 The Canaanites made no mention of, much less apology for, Shechem's horrendous crime, only a proposal of marriage. Throughout the chapter, men treated Dinah and other women as objects to be taken (vv. 2,4,9,16–17,21,26,28–29).

34:9–10 The covenant seed was often tempted to intermarry with pagans, raising the danger of becoming one people with them (v. 16) and losing their holiness as God's chosen people (Deut. 7:1–6).

34:12 damsel. Young woman.

34:13 deceitfully. They acted as Jacob had when he acted "with subtilty" (same word) and stole the blessing (27:35).

34:14–15 uncircumcised . . . circumcised. Jacob's sons sinned greatly against God by treating the holy sign of the Lord's covenant (17:10–11) as a means of gain, deception, and revenge.

34:17 hearken. Listen.

34:19 deferred not. Did not delay.

34:20 gate of their city. See note at 22:16–17.

34:22 Only herein. Only by this.

34:23 substance. Wealth.

34:24 all that went out of the gate. Every participant in the business of their city (23:10,18).

34:25 boldly. Or possibly when the city thought it was "safe" (v. 21). Simeon and Levi were liars and murderers. Jacob now knew the Lord as his God, but his sons needed redemption.

34:26 took Dinah out of Shechem's house. She was still a captive in the home of her rapist, some days after suffering sexual assault. It was right for her brothers to rescue her, but not like this.

34:30 make me to stink. Made them hate me (Ex. 5:21; 2 Sam. 10:6). Even unbelievers would be outraged by treachery against an ally. Jacob's words revolve around self-centered fear (I shall be destroyed), not a love for righteousness.

34:31 harlot. Prostitute.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 34

1. Christians should not entangle themselves with the world. Close relationships with ungodly friends may draw us into or make us the victims of their sins. Is there any such relationship alive in your life?
2. We must neither take revenge nor remain passive and quiet in the face of great crimes. Instead, let each person use the rightful power he has to seek justice for the oppressed.
3. Men often treat women as mere objects to be taken and used for their sexual pleasure. Fathers should teach their girls to avoid making themselves naive, and train their boys to honor and protect women as God's precious image bearers.

Chapter 35: Jacob experiences both the blessing of God's presence at Beth-el and sin and death in his family.

35:1 go up to Beth-el . . . make there an altar. God called Jacob to draw near to Him in worship and so keep his vow (28:20–22; see note at 33:20). fleddest. Fled.

35:2 Jacob obeyed God's call to lead his family in worship. strange gods. Idols worshiped by people outside Abraham's household (31:19,30–35; Deut. 31:16). Idols must be rejected to worship the Lord with all our hearts (Josh. 24:23; 1 Sam. 7:3). be clean, and change your garments. Ceremonial preparations to enter the holy presence of God (Ex. 19:10–11; 29:4–5).

35:4 Perhaps these earrings bore some idolatrous image.

35:5 God put His terror upon the Canaanite cities so they would not avenge the people of Shechem (34:30), perhaps by showing His glory in the divine angel of the Lord (Ex. 23:23,27).

35:8 Deborah had traveled with Rebekah since her departure from Mesopotamia (24:59). Deborah's presence with Jacob implies that he had visited Isaac and that Rebekah had died. The "oak of weeping" (Allon-bachuth) emphasizes the family's sorrow.

35:9–12 The blessing of God Almighty, restatement of Jacob's new name, and promises to multiply him, raise up kings, and give him the land echo God's words to Abraham (17:1–9), thus renewing the covenant. The Lord remained faithful as the God of His unworthy people.

35:14 drink offering. Wine poured out to God in old covenant worship (Ex. 29:40; Lev. 23:13).

35:16 travailed. Went into labor to give birth.

35:18 as her soul was in departing. Literally, "when her soul/life went out" (1 Kings 17:22; Job 11:20; Jer. 15:9).

35:22 Reuben committed immorality (Lev. 18:8; Deut. 22:30) and dishonored his father. To lay sexually with his father's concubine was to grasp at his position of authority (2 Sam. 3:7; 16:20–22), but instead Reuben lost his right as firstborn (49:3–4; 1 Chron. 5:1).

35:23–26 Note the divisions in Jacob's family (sons of four mothers).

35:28 hundred and fourscore years. One hundred eighty years. On the life-spans of the patriarchs, see note at 50:22.

35:29 gave up the ghost. Expired. gathered unto his people. See note at 25:8. Isaac was still alive when Joseph was sold into slavery (25:26; 37:2; 41:46–47; 45:6; 47:9), but Genesis includes his death to highlight Jacob's sorrows and then to move on to the story of his sons. The sons of Isaac appear at his grave in peace; Esau did not murder Jacob as he once wished to do (27:41).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 35

1. Fathers should lead their families to worship the Lord alone. God calls men to exhort their families to bury their idols and to gather their wives and children together to offer God the sacrifices of praise. Just when His people appear at their worst, the Lord surprises them with blessing. Shall we not worship and praise Him in our homes?
2. God's grace has not yet fully rescued us from the miseries of sin and death. It is striking how God's promises of blessing to Jacob come in the midst of weeping by the graves of three beloved family members, plus grieving over the sin of children. Grace and tears mingle together in this life; do not be surprised when believers suffer and die. Take hope that they have a great reward waiting.

Chapter 36: Esau departs from the Promised Land, but receives from the Lord the material blessings of children, wealth, and land.

36:1 these are the generations. Just as with Ishmael and Isaac (see notes at 25:12,19), Genesis closes off its consideration of the family of Esau to focus on Jacob's sons (37:2).

36:2–3 By comparison to other Scriptures (26:34; 28:9), it appears that Esau had four wives: (1) Judith, the daughter of Beeri, who bore him no children and is omitted from this genealogy, (2) Adah the daughter of Elon the Hittite, who was also named Bashemath, (3) Aholibamah the daughter of Anah, and (4) Bashemath Ishmael's daughter, also known as Mahalath. Persons often have more than one name, and certain names are commonly found among a people. Bashemath means "fragrance" or "perfume" and could have been a popular name for girls.

36:6–8 Esau was in the land of Seir before Jacob returned (32:3), but he may have received an inheritance of livestock at Isaac's death, pastured them for a time in Canaan, and then moved back to Seir. Though at peace with Jacob, he did not remain in his presence (face). He left the Promised Land, like Lot (13:6,12–13), Ishmael, and Abraham's other sons (25:6). The name Edom reminds the reader of his contempt for his birthright (25:29–34). Yet Edom's possession of Seir was still a gift from the Lord (Deut. 2:5; Josh. 24:4), who gave Esau material blessings just as he did Ishmael (17:20). Indeed God gives all nations their homes (Acts 17:26).

36:9 Edomites. Later enemies of Israel (Num. 20:18–21; 24:18; 1 Sam. 14:47; 2 Sam. 8:14), but still counted as close relatives (Deut. 23:7) until their treachery against Israel brought them under God's wrath, as the book of Obadiah declares.

36:11 Eliphaz . . . Teman. Eliphaz the Temanite was the name of one of Job's friends (Job 2:11), suggesting that Job's friend was an Edomite.

36:12 Amalek. The tribe by this name attacked Israel and came under God's curse (Ex. 17:8,16; Num. 24:20; Deut. 25:17–19).

36:15 dukes. Chief men, a title particularly associated with the Edomites (Ex. 15:15; 1 Chron. 1:51–54). Also called "kings" (v. 31).

36:20–30 The area was evidently named after Seir the Horite whose dynasty ruled it until Esau's family conquered them by God's providence (Deut. 2:12,22).

36:33 in his stead. In his place.

36:40 dukes. Chief men.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 36

1. The Lord reigns over all nations. We must not treat Him like a tribal god who belongs to one people or place; He is not a white god or a black god, a Jewish god or an American god. He is God over all nations. He gives every people their land and every person his life. Let us therefore give Him glory for every good thing in the entire world.
2. Children often reap many benefits from being raised by Christian parents. God may bless their marriages, children, and finances. He may give them property and positions of leadership. But for all this, they should never assume that they are in a saving relationship with the Lord and the heirs of His promises. Abraham had Ishmael, and Isaac had Esau. Therefore, children, do not rest in your family privileges and covenant privileges, but seek true conversion through repentance and faith so that you rest in Christ alone.

THE CRISIS OF ISRAEL REGARDING JOSEPH AND JUDAH (37:1—50:26)

The Humiliation of Joseph and Sin of Judah (37:1—40:23)

Chapter 37: Joseph, Jacob's favored son, receives dreams of exaltation but is captured and enslaved by his wicked brothers.

37:1 stranger. Foreigner. In contrast to Esau, who departed for Seir (36:8), Jacob remained a sojourner in the Promised Land.

37:2 the generations of Jacob. The expected genealogy is delayed (46:8–26), and instead the reader finds the story of Joseph, Jacob's first son by Rachel. sons of Bilhah . . . sons of Zilpah. Dan, Naphtali, Gad, and Asher. their evil report. A bad report about them. Jacob appointed Joseph to oversee his brothers' work (v. 14), an early sign of his leadership ability.

37:3 coat of many colours. Perhaps a sign of royalty (2 Sam. 13:18). A mural at the palace of Mari from the eighteenth century BC shows men wearing robes of different colored panels of cloth.

37:6 I pray you. Please.

37:7 binding sheaves. Tying up cut stalks of grain in a bundle during the harvest. made obeisance. Bowed down. God revealed key elements of Joseph's future: interpreting dreams, gathering food, and exercising authority.

37:9 another dream. The doubling of the dream of exaltation indicated that it was God's fixed will and He would begin implementing it soon (41:32). Yet He would use strange means.

37:11 observed. Literally, "kept," that is, meditated on these revelations (Luke 1:66; 2:19).

37:12 feed. Shepherd or lead to pasture.

37:14 Shechem is fifty miles north of Hebron. The name is also a reminder of how murderous Jacob's sons could be (34:25–26).

37:15 God's providence secretly guided Joseph while he was wandering looking for his brothers, so that he met the particular man who could direct him to them (1 Sam. 9:1–16).

37:17 Joseph had to travel another fifteen miles or more from Shechem to Dothan.

37:19 dreamer. Literally, "master of dreams," a scornful reference to Joseph's dreams of his future reign over his brothers.

37:20 let us slay him. Jacob's sons were liars and murderers like Cain and the serpent (3:1–5; 4:8–9; John 8:44; 1 John 3:12). They needed salvation.

37:22 rid him out of their hands. Snatch him out of their power.

37:25 sat down to eat. They were remarkably callous, eating while Joseph cried out for help (42:21). behold, a company of Ishmeelites. Another seemingly random encounter (v. 15) as God's providence preserved Joseph's life and sent him into Egypt. spicery and balm and myrrh. Gum or resin used for fragrance, cosmetics, and medicine.

37:26 What profit. Judah's first words in Genesis and the first display of his wickedness (ch. 38). Sadly, he cared more for a little silver than for his brother.

37:27–28 Ishmeelites . . . Midianites. These two words are sometimes used of the same people (Judg. 8:22–24). twenty pieces of silver. Also the price of a slave in Babylon c. 2000 BC.

37:29 rent. Tore.

37:30 whither. Where.

37:34 rent his clothes. Tore his clothes. put sackcloth upon his loins. Put on undergarments of rough, uncomfortable cloth. These are signs of mourning (2 Kings 19:1; Est. 4:1).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 37

1. God promises to exalt His servants, but they must often face great humiliations and sufferings first. This was the case for Joseph, as it would later be for Jesus Christ. These experiences test our faith, but we can look back to those who suffered before us, especially the Son of God, and find hope that God has a plan for us.
2. God made families to be havens of love, righteousness, and safety, but sin can twist them into dens of jealousy, hatred, murder, enslavement, lies, and great grief. If you or a friend come from a family like that, have hope. God can use the horrors of an evil family background to bring great blessing, as the story of Joseph will reveal.

Chapter 38: Judah's offspring are threatened by their worldliness and wickedness, but the Lord preserves his seed.

38:1–2 Adullamite. Man from Canaanite city of Adullam (Josh. 12:15). Taking a friend (vv. 12,20) and a wife from the Canaanites revealed Judah's worldliness (24:3; Ex. 34:14–16).

38:8–9 seed. Offspring. The brother-in-law of a widow with no children married her in order to produce children to carry on the name of his deceased brother (Deut. 25:5–6). Thus Onan's sin consisted of his selfish and deceptive avoidance of providing offspring for his brother's name.

38:11 Lest peradventure. Unless perhaps. Judah showed his spiritual blindness when he blamed Tamar for the death of his sons instead of their own wickedness.

38:13 The time for a man to shear his sheep was a festival (2 Sam. 13:23–24); agricultural festivals were sometimes associated with prostitution (Hos. 9:1–2).

38:14–16 vail. Veil. harlot. Prostitute. Go to, I pray thee. Please grant. Two interpretations of Tamar's actions are possible. She may have veiled herself to remind Judah that she should be given to Shelah—betrothed and married women were veiled (24:65)—but when Judah mistook her for a prostitute, she played along so that he would fulfill his son's responsibility of giving her children. Or it may be that she intentionally presented herself as a prostitute to seduce Judah in order to obtain children and preserve her husband's name. However, it appears that prostitutes generally did not wear veils, but painted their faces (Jer. 4:30; Ezek. 23:40).

38:18 signet. Ring or other artistically designed object used to mark writings with a personal seal. bracelets. Cord, probably holding the signet.

38:21–22 harlot. Unlike "harlot" in v. 15, the word used here refers specifically to a woman who sells sex as part of ritual worship (Deut. 23:17; Hos. 4:14), suggesting that Tamar was near a pagan temple—another reason why Judah might think she was a prostitute.

38:23 lest we be shamed. Judah probably did not want everyone to know he had given his signet to a prostitute, a foolish act that showed how much lust controlled him.

38:24 whoredom. Prostitution. let her be burnt. Death by fire was the penalty for immorality by the daughter of a priest because she had desecrated his holy calling (Lev. 21:8–9). Ironically, Judah was hypocritical, not holy.

38:26 knew her again no more. Did not have sexual relations with her again (4:1). Judah was humbled for his sin, for he acknowledged that Tamar was more righteous than he was, and confessed his specific sin in not giving her to Shelah. He will play a noble role later (chs. 43–44).

38:27 travail. Labor pains in giving birth. The wrestling of twins reminds us of Jacob and Esau in the womb of Rebekah, suggesting that God had a special purpose for one of the boys.

38:29 breach. Breaking out. Judah's son Pharez (sometimes spelled Phares or Perez) was the forefather of David (Ruth 4:18–22), and ultimately of Jesus Christ (Matt. 1:1–3).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 38

1. Apart from grace, sin and God's wrath would destroy His covenant people, just as He killed Judah's two sons. The visible church is too easily drawn into the world. We need more than godly parents; we need grace to forgive our sins and change our hearts.
2. Let us humble ourselves for our sins and glorify God for His power to bring good out of evil. This is one of the most sordid chapters in the Bible, and yet through these sins the Lord preserved the line of Judah and made Tamar into the ancestor of our Savior.

Chapter 39: The Lord was with Joseph in his service in Egypt, and Joseph walked with God in righteousness, but he suffered from the wicked.

39:1 down thither. Down to there. In God's providence, Joseph was bought as a slave by one of the most powerful men of Egypt and put to work not in the fields or mine, but in his household.

39:2 the LORD was with JOSEPH. God's promise to be with His people is a major theme of Scripture (vv. 21,23; see 21:22; 26:3; 28:15; 31:3; 39:2–3,21,23; 46:4).

39:6 Joseph's hand. His power and authority. he knew not ought he had. He entrusted the management of his household and property completely to Joseph. save. Except. a goodly person, and well favoured. Handsome, the same words used of his mother's physical beauty (29:17).

39:8 he refused. Joseph was between seventeen and twenty-eight years old (37:2; 41:1,46), single, far from family, and thus vulnerable to sexual temptation. His moral purity stands in direct contrast to the lust of Reuben and Judah (35:22; 38:15–16). wotteth not. Does not know or pay attention. Joseph was horrified at the thought of violating his master's trust, an attitude of gratitude and integrity.

39:9 how then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God? Joseph feared the Lord and turned away from evil (Job 28:28; Prov. 3:7).

39:10 hearkened not. Did not listen. or to be with her. Joseph wisely avoided temptation as much as possible, which must have taken great thought and care since she persisted day by day.

39:12 left his garment in her hand, and fled. Joseph is a model of a man who faithfully flees youthful lusts (2 Tim. 2:22).

39:19–20 his wrath was kindled. His anger became hot or fierce. put him into the prison. Joseph lost what liberty he had and was bound in painful iron chains (Ps. 105:18). One would expect that a slave convicted of sexually assaulting his master's wife would be killed. It may be that Potiphar's anger was directed primarily at his wife, but social custom demanded that he punish Joseph (see note at 40:3–4). a place where the king's prisoners were bound. Not the prison for common criminals, but for persons of some rank (40:1–4).

39:21 mercy. Variously translated as kindness, goodness, or mercy; especially God's loyal love to those in covenant with Him (24:12,14,27; 32:10; Ex. 20:6; 34:6).

39:23 the LORD was with him . . . the LORD made it to prosper. Repeated from v. 3, enclosing this chapter with reminders of God's purpose and power to bless His servant.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 39

1. Doing right may bring great pain. Few things are more painful than false accusations, but that is often how the wicked respond when we refuse to join them in sin. We must learn to fear the Lord more than we fear the slanders of men and women.
2. What does it mean that God is with us? It certainly does not mean that we will escape mistreatment at home and at work. Joseph experienced both, but God was with him. How? God blessed his soul with the fear of the Lord, hatred of sin, diligence in labor, and perseverance under both trial and temptation. He blessed him with wisdom and skill in his work and made him a blessing to those around him, gaining the respect of those who knew him. Though God's people suffer, God is with them in a real and powerful way.

Chapter 40: Joseph meets two officials of the king in prison, and God uses him to reveal their future, but he remains in prison.

40:1 butler. Cupbearer (v. 21), a trusted official with direct access to the king (41:9; Neh. 1:11; 2:1–8).

40:2 wroth. Angry.

40:3–4 in ward. In custody or under arrest. captain of the guard. This exact phrase was used of Potiphar (37:36; 39:1), suggesting that he retained Joseph as his servant in the prison (41:12) despite his wife's accusations. Entrusting these high-level officials to his care speaks of Potiphar's continuing trust in Joseph.

40:5 dream. A reminder of Joseph's dreams (ch. 37) and hint that his exaltation was near. each man according to the interpretation of his dream. Each man's dream had its own meaning.

40:7 Wherefore. Why.

40:8 interpreter. Ancient people relied upon wise men and sorcerers to explain the meaning of strange dreams (41:8; Dan. 2:2). interpretations belong to God. Joseph gave glory to God, not himself, spirits, or magic as the source of wisdom (41:16; Dan. 2:20–28).

40:13 butler. Cupbearer.

40:15 dungeon. Pit; the same word used when Joseph's brothers cast him into a pit (37:20).

40:16 white. White bread or cake.

40:17 bakemeats. Baked goods.

40:22 as Joseph had interpreted to them. Everything happened exactly as Joseph said, a sign that he was a true prophet of the Lord (Deut. 18:22; 1 Sam. 3:19).

40:23 forgat him. After this reminder that God's revelations come true and the golden opportunity for his release, one can imagine the bitter disappointment for Joseph to remain forgotten in prison. God's people not only experience injustice, but sometimes must endure it for years while they cry, "How long, O Lord?" (Ps. 6:3; 13:1; 35:17; 74:10; 79:5; 80:4; 89:46; 90:13; 94:3).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 40

1. Though false teachers deny that God can know what people will choose to do tomorrow, in reality God knows every day of our lives before we are even born. He is able to declare the end from the beginning. We can trust Him with the future; He has plans to do good to all His redeemed people.
2. Painful circumstances in our lives may drag on for years. Sometimes, we must endure great disappointments when our hopes get raised only to be dashed to the ground. We must wait on the Lord. Nothing is more difficult than waiting, but nothing is more profitable for our souls. By grace, waiting cultivates faith, prayer, submission, and humility; it prepares us for greater fruitfulness in the future. Above all, it focuses our hope not on earthly things or relationships, but upon the Lord Himself. Have you, too, learned to wait actively, prayerfully, and expectantly on God?

The Exaltation of Joseph and Nobility of Judah (41:1—45:28)

Chapter 41: Pharaoh's dreams lead to the appointment of Joseph as lord over Egypt.

41:1 the river. The Nile, the great river of Egypt.

41:2 well favoured kine and fatfleshed. Attractive and well-fed cows.

41:3 ill favoured and leanfleshed. Ugly and thin. The cow was a symbol of the Egyptian goddess of fertility, so a dream of the destruction of healthy cows would disturb the Egyptians.

41:5 corn. Grain, not necessarily corn (maize). rank. Healthy.

41:9 butler. Cupbearer.

41:10 wroth. Angry. in ward. In custody or under arrest.

41:14 shaved. Egyptian men were clean-shaven, unlike Hebrew men (2 Sam. 10:5). raiment. Clothing.

41:16 It is not in me: God shall give Pharaoh an answer. Despite the opportunity to promote himself before Pharaoh, Joseph chose to humble himself and honor God (40:8).

41:25 God hath shewed Pharaoh what he is about to do. God could declare the future because He controls the future (vv. 28,32; 2 Chron. 20:6; Isa. 14:24,27). The pharaoh was an absolute dictator, called a son of the sun god. But Joseph proclaimed God to be ruler over Egypt's future.

41:33–36 plenteous. Abundant. hand of Pharaoh. Authority of Pharaoh. God had prepared Joseph with years of experience, and now his wisdom shone in his plan for the coming crisis.

41:38 the Spirit of God. Though this could be translated, "spirit of the gods," Pharaoh's statement in the next verse that "God hath shewed thee" confirms the KJV translation. All wisdom comes from the Spirit (Job 32:8; 33:4), especially spiritual wisdom (1 Cor. 2:9–16; 12:3).

41:39 Forasmuch. Since.

41:40 A pharaoh often appointed a vizier, (civil officer) in Egypt, to oversee his government, but it would be shocking for the pharaoh to promote an imprisoned slave to this position.

41:42 vestures of fine linen. Clothing made from flax fibers. It was cool in hot weather—a popular fabric for the rich (Ex. 28:5; 1 Chron. 15:27; Est. 8:15; Isa. 3:23; Luke 16:19).

41:45 Poti-pherah. Not the same as Potiphar. On. City in Egypt, also known as Heliopolis. A granite obelisk of the temple of the sun god from this period still stands there, some sixty-eight feet tall.

41:46 thirty years old. Joseph spent thirteen years in bondage (37:2). Thirty years old was also the age inaugurating the work of the Levites, David, and Jesus Christ (Num. 4:3; 2 Sam. 5:4; Luke 3:23).

41:51–52 Joseph glorified God for his exaltation by Pharaoh. God's ways were mysterious, but Joseph now saw how God decreed his family's sins and his afflictions for good (50:20), so that he was able to forget the bitterness of the past and be fruitful in serving God in the present.

41:54 dearth. Famine.

41:56 waxed sore. Grew severe.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 41

1. Wisdom comes from the Spirit of God. The Spirit gives gifts and abilities to serve, the Word of God to guide us, and experiences of suffering to sanctify us. Pray that the Spirit would fill you with wisdom, developing your knowledge, character, and skills.
2. God glorifies Himself by exalting His humbled servants. Christ suffered from His people's envy and false accusations. He went down into humiliation, even an accursed death on the cross. But just as Joseph's enslavement and imprisonment prepared for his service as Pharaoh's vizier, so Christ's suffering for our sins laid the foundation for His exaltation as the living Savior reigning at God's right hand. Let us praise the wisdom of God for the strange yet necessary humiliation of His Son, for without it no one would ever be saved.

Chapter 42: Jacob's sons go to Egypt seeking food in the famine and meet Joseph there, but they do not recognize him and he tests them.

42:1 corn. Grain of any kind, not just corn (maize). Why do ye look one upon another? Jacob's interactions with his sons in chs. 42–43 show his exasperation. They still needed conversion.

42:2 down thither. Down to there. from thence. From there. live, and not die. Life-threatening famine must have raised questions in Jacob's family of whether God was displeased with them.

42:4 Lest peradventure mischief befall him. Perhaps something bad might happen to him. Jacob continued to show favoritism to the sons of Rachel by sending all his sons but Benjamin.

42:6 bowed down. Fulfilling what God revealed in Joseph's dreams (v. 9; 37:5–11).

42:7 made himself strange. Acted like a stranger instead of their brother.

42:9 nakedness of the land. Ways in which Egypt was vulnerable to attack. Spies could be killed.

42:11 true men. Just or honest—not an accurate statement of their overall character.

42:13 one is not. Joseph's questions bring to their remembrance their former sin against him.

42:15 proved. Tested. By the life of Pharaoh. An oath. hence . . . hither. From here . . . to here.

42:16 fetch. Bring. Joseph desired to see Benjamin, his only full brother, to make sure that they had not harmed him also.

42:17 into ward. In custody or under arrest. With poetic justice, the brothers got a small taste of the false accusation and imprisonment that Joseph suffered for years in Egypt.

42:18 This do, and live. Moses reported Joseph's words in a way that echoed the demands of the law (Lev. 18:5; Neh. 9:29; Luke 10:28; Rom. 10:5; Gal. 3:12). I fear God. Joseph reminded his brothers that God is the righteous Judge (18:25; 39:9).

42:21–22 verily guilty. Truly guilty. Once deaf to his cries, now the memory of the anguish of our brother moved their hearts. his blood is required. God's justice demands punishment against the oppressor. The interrogation awakened in them conviction of sin and judgment.

42:24 wept. Though outwardly rough with them, Joseph's heart was warm with compassion. communed. Talked.

42:26 laded their asses. Loaded their donkeys.

42:27 provender. Feed for livestock. in the inn. At a place to lodge or spend the night, perhaps just a place to camp (Josh. 4:3). espied. Saw.

42:28 What is this that God hath done unto us? The strange mercy of finding their money increased the fear of God's judgment in them (v. 35).

42:29 befell unto them. Happened to them.

42:34 traffick. Travel for business.

42:36 Me have ye bereaved of my children: Joseph is not. Jacob implicitly accused his sons of responsibility for Joseph's death—another arrow of conviction in their hearts.

42:37 Slay my two sons. Reuben seems to have offered Jacob the chance to avenge Joseph and Benjamin if the latter was also lost. Guilt often seeks atonement through punishing oneself.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 42

1. The exalted lord of Egypt tested his brothers to convict them of their sins against him. Notice the similarities to the first regal act of the Lord after His ascension: He poured out the Spirit and convicted Israel of their sins against Him. Pray for the Spirit of Christ to convict the lost, so that they may begin to long for salvation and be open to hear the gospel.
2. When God uses the Word, the Spirit, and providence to convict us of sin, let us not avoid Him but seek His grace. We will find no help in punishing ourselves. Behind the Lord's fearsome convictions is a warm heart of mercy for all who repent.

Chapter 43: Famine compels the brothers to return to Egypt with Benjamin, and Joseph receives them with surprising mercy.

43:1 sore. Severe.

43:3 protest. Testify. see my face. Receive favor from me (32:20).

43:6 Wherefore dealt ye so ill with me. Why did you cause me harm?

43:7 straitly. Rigorously.

43:8 lad. Young man. Benjamin was in his twenties or thirties; see note at 22:5. Joseph was now thirty-nine.

43:9 surety. A person who promises to pay the debt or fulfill the obligation of another, like a cosigner on a loan (Prov. 6:1–5; 20:16; 22:26–27). Judah, once immoral and hypocritical (ch. 38), now took responsibility to guarantee Benjamin's safety at his own expense so that the family would have food.

43:11 Israel unwittingly mentioned the goods (balm, spices, and myrrh) carried by the traders to whom his sons sold Joseph as a slave (37:25)—another reminder of their sin.

43:12 peradventure. Perhaps.

43:14 God Almighty. See note at 17:1. Israel leaned on the power of his covenant God in this time of desperation.

43:16 slay. Butcher an animal for meat.

43:17 bade. Said.

43:18 fall upon us. Attack us. bondmen. Slaves, as Joseph had once been.

43:19 communed. Talked.

43:21 inn. See note at 42:27.

43:23 Joseph taught wisdom to the Egyptians (Ps. 105:22), and though this servant may have known that the money was put in their sacks at Joseph's command (42:25), he rightly attributed it to God's providence over all things, as had the brothers (42:28). They had seen it as a fearful judgment, but he offered them peace and comfort by faith in the covenant God of Israel.

43:24 gave them water, and they washed their feet. A courtesy of ancient hospitality (18:4; 19:2; 24:32). gave their asses provender. Fed their donkeys.

43:25 against Joseph came. Until Joseph came.

43:28 made obeisance. Bowed low. Again, Joseph's dream was fulfilled (37:7), a reminder that the Lord rules all events according to His plan (Eph. 1:11).

43:29 God be gracious unto thee. Joseph could not contain his love for Benjamin, and in so doing reminded all his brothers of the grace of God.

43:30 made haste. Quickly left. his bowels did yearn. His compassion grew warm, that is, his feelings of affection were deeply stirred. This is the same word used of God's mercy (v. 14).

43:31 refrained himself. Controlled himself. Set on bread. Put out the food for the meal.

43:32 abomination. Something hated. Egyptian culture required separation from the Hebrews (46:34; Ex. 8:26). This suggests that they still needed reconciliation with Joseph.

43:33 There is only a 1 in 39,916,800 chance of seating eleven adult men in birth order by accident. Joseph may have intended to humble them by suggesting his supernatural knowledge (44:15) or to raise questions and thus prepare them to learn that he was their brother.

43:34 messes. Portions of food. were merry. They all had plenty to eat and drink, but Benjamin was favored, just as Joseph once was by his father—perhaps a test of their envy.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 43

1. God uses hard times to compel us to seek Him, just as He compelled Joseph's brothers to return to Him again. What afflictions can you use as opportunities to seek God?
2. Whereas ch. 42 focused on the sins of the sons of Israel, ch. 43 reveals the mercy of God in His power, peace, compassion, grace, and hospitality. Though God uses conviction of sin to awaken sinners to their need for reconciliation with Him, He also wins their hearts with displays of His mercy in Christ. Let us remember this when raising our children, evangelizing our neighbors, or bringing the gospel to the lost.

Chapter 44: Joseph gives his brothers a final test of their loyalty, and Judah displays a remarkable spirit of self-sacrifice.

44:4 Wherefore. Why.

44:5 divineth. See note at 30:27. It is very unlikely that Joseph used the cup for divination, a magical and idolatrous practice hated by the Lord (Lev. 19:26). He believed in the sovereign providence of the God of Israel (41:25,28; 45:5,7–8; 50:20). When speaking to his steward, he simply called it his silver cup and did not mention divination (v. 2). However, it may be that Egyptians called him a diviner, having no other category to describe his supernatural wisdom and insight (41:38–39). When Joseph used such terminology, he may have used the idiom of Egypt for divine revelation or intended to deceive his brothers until revealing himself.

44:9 bondmen. Slaves.

44:13 rent their clothes. A sign of grief. laded every man his ass. Each man loaded his donkey. They did not hand over Benjamin and depart, but returned together, a notable act of loyalty.

44:14 Moses highlighted Judah for he has begun to act as the leader among his brethren.

44:15 wot ye not. Do you not know. I can certainly divine. See note at v. 5.

44:16 Judah showed his humility in his repeated use of lord-servant language in this chapter, the same language his father Jacob used in seeking reconciliation with Esau (chs. 32–33). God hath found out the iniquity of thy servants. Though only Benjamin appeared to be a thief, Judah confessed that they all were guilty, probably thinking of their sin against Joseph (42:21).

44:17 as for you, get you up in peace. Joseph offered his brothers an opportunity to abandon Benjamin to slavery as they had once done to him. unto your father. A subtle reminder that to return without their brother would break Jacob's heart again.

44:18–34 Judah interceded for Benjamin, retelling the story recorded in previous chapters in order to appeal to the Egyptian ruler's compassion for Benjamin's old father. His words reveal a dramatically changed man compared to the Judah of chs. 37–38.

44:20 little one. Not a reference to Benjamin's size, but to his lower age than his brothers and his father's affection for the "baby" of the house. his brother is dead. Twenty-two years after Joseph was sold into slavery, it was reasonable to believe he probably was dead from hard labor.

44:32–33 Out of love for his father to whom he promised to be Benjamin's surety (43:9), Judah asked to suffer his punishment so that his brother might go free—an act of substitution. Christ is the surety of the new covenant, the priest who, in order to please His Father, once for all suffered the punishment deserved by His people to set them free (Heb. 7:22,27; 10:5–7).

44:34 lest peradventure. Unless perhaps.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 44

1. How precious is Jesus Christ, the Son of Judah, who intercedes for the condemned on the basis of His office as their Surety! He died as a substitute for sins He did not commit so that the guilty may go free. Is Christ your Surety? Have you confessed that God has found out your iniquity? Have you cried out for mercy to the Savior? He is full of mercy.
2. When God converts a sinner, he starts becoming like the Savior. He ceases to live for money and pleasure. He loves other people—beginning with his family. He shows a willingness to sacrifice himself in order to serve others. Does this describe you?

Chapter 45: Joseph stuns his brothers by revealing his identity, and sends them back to Canaan to tell Jacob and bring the family to Egypt.

45:1 refrain. Control.

45:2 wept aloud. Or, "gave forth his voice in weeping." Now that his brothers have demonstrated their change of heart, Joseph released his pent-up emotions of love (42:24; 43:30).

45:4 I pray you. Please. Joseph gently invited them, Come near to me. Despite thirteen years of slavery and prison and twenty-two years of exile from his father, Joseph had no bitterness but loved and forgave his brothers.

45:5 hither. To here, that is, to Egypt. Joseph's forgiveness was empowered by the knowledge that though they were responsible for their sin (ye sold me), God's providence was behind it all (God did send me) for His good and loving purpose (to preserve life).

45:6 earing. Plowing.

45:7 Their sin against Joseph was the means by which they were saved from starvation—such is the wisdom of God. posterity. Descendants, literally, "a remnant." a great deliverance. Literally, "many survivors." The terms "remnant" and "survivors" are used in the prophets for those in Israel whom God will save from sin and misery (Isa. 4:2; 10:20; 37:32–33; 46:3–4; Jer. 23:3–6; 31:7; Joel 2:32; Mic. 7:18). Similarly, Israel's rejection of Christ was God's ordained means to save His people from sin (Acts 2:23; 4:28; 10:38–43), including the elect remnant of Israel (Rom. 9:21–24,27).

45:8 not you . . . but God. As the primary and sovereign cause of events, God overrules the intentions of mere men, who are but secondary and dependent causes. father. Not an authority over Pharaoh, but one who gave him counsel and care (Judg. 17:10; Isa. 22:21). Egyptian officials sometimes bore the title of "god's father" where Pharaoh was the "god," but scholars debate whether Joseph's words refer to this.

45:9 Haste ye. Hurry. tarry not. Do not stand (doing nothing).

45:10 Goshen. Probably a fertile delta area east of the Nile. In God's providence, it was ideally located for the Israelites to escape Egypt and return to Canaan.

45:13 hither. To here.

45:14 fell upon his brother Benjamin's neck. Embraced him (33:4).

45:16 fame. Sound, as in, news.

45:17 lade. Load.

45:18 eat the fat. Enjoy the best. Though Pharaoh did not know Joseph's family, he was eager to bless them richly because he was so pleased with Joseph. Similarly, the Father blesses those in union with Christ because He is well pleased with His Son.

45:22 raiment. Clothing.

45:23 laden. Loaded. meat. Food of any kind.

45:24 fall not out by the way. Do not get upset or quarrel on the road.

45:26 Jacob's heart fainted. He was shocked by the good news that Joseph is yet alive, just as Christ's disciples were amazed by the news of His resurrection (Mark 16:8).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 45

1. Christ's humiliation and exaltation served the purpose of saving many people. Praise God's wisdom, for the very sins of mankind against Christ serve for our salvation. Even when His purposes seemed defeated by the murder of His Son, God was performing the plans He made in eternity to rescue wicked sinners.

2. When Joseph's brothers first heard Joseph identify himself, they were afraid, but when he added that he was their brother, they drew near. Today when sinners are converted, Christ's heart overflows with love and joy toward them. How does He bring them near to Him as their elder brother and welcome them with the embraces and kisses of His Spirit? Can you draw more parallels between Joseph's encounters with his brothers and a sinner's encounter with Jesus Christ?
3. In union with Christ, we share in His humiliation and one day will share in His exaltation. The Father will welcome us into His presence and give us His best to enjoy forever. Christians should grow in their hope and anticipation of the glory of God; in the twinkling of an eye, poor and persecuted believers will become kings forever.

The Sojourning of Israel in Egypt (46:1—50:26)

Chapter 46: The Lord assures Jacob that he should go to Egypt, the whole family makes the trip, and Jacob is reunited with Joseph.

46:1 Beer-sheba. City in southern Canaan along the road between Hebron (37:14) and Egypt. offered sacrifices. Perhaps on the altar built there by Isaac after the Lord appeared and made similar promises to him as He was about to do to Jacob (26:23–25).

46:4 bring thee up again. The Lord had revealed to Abraham that his offspring would be foreigners in another land and subject to dependence ultimately leading to slavery, but God would bring them out again (15:13–14). For a while they prospered but due to the generosity of the Egyptians. Since God expressly prohibited Isaac from going to Egypt during a famine (26:2), He now assured Jacob that he may rightly accept Joseph's invitation.

46:6 seed. Offspring.

46:8 The genealogy anticipated by, "These are the generations of Jacob" (37:2), finally appears, for Israel has now passed successfully through the crisis of chs. 37–45. There are some questions about the details of this genealogy and its numbers; it is possible that some of the people listed here were born in Egypt, such as the sons of Pharez (v. 12; 38:29) or some of the sons of Benjamin (v. 21).

46:15 souls. Persons.

46:26 came out of his loins. Were his biological children. threescore and six. Sixty-six.

46:27 threescore and ten. Seventy. Factors of seven, the number of perfection, figure prominently in this genealogy: there were forty-nine descendants of Leah and Zilpah, fourteen of Rachel, and seven of Bilhah. The whole family of Jacob (v. 6) went together into Egypt.

46:28 Again Judah appears as a leader. direct his face. Difficult to translate; probably, "to present him." they came into the land of Goshen. A painting in the Beni Hasan tomb of the Egyptian Khnum-Hotep (nineteenth century BC) shows a group of bearded men in multi-colored clothing coming from Canaan to trade in Egypt.

46:29 fell on his neck. Embraced him.

46:30 Now let me die. Jacob felt his life had been fulfilled in seeing Joseph, much as Simeon felt when he saw the Christ child (Luke 2:29–30).

46:34 Joseph schooled his family in how to approach the pharaoh with diplomacy and tact. abomination. See note at 43:32.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 46

1. The Lord says to His people, “Fear not.” Sometimes we must travel to a strange or dangerous place or take some step into the unknown. Fear is a natural response, and it is aggravated by our sinful pride. How then can we overcome fear? We must meditate on the promise of God, “I will go with thee.” If the company of a strong and competent friend gives us peace, how much more the company of the strong, covenant God?
2. The prosperity of Israel’s family in Egypt rested entirely upon Joseph. His position and intercession with the pharaoh was their key to unlock blessing. So we too must realize that our place in the kingdom of heaven rests entirely upon Jesus Christ. We must depend upon Him, and approach the Father only through Him and according to His Word. In the Mediator we are welcome; apart from Him we are enemies of the King.

Chapter 47: Joseph presents his family to Pharaoh and uses the food stored up for the famine to provide for the hungry and to increase Pharaoh’s wealth and power.

47:4 sojourn. Live as a foreigner for a time in another nation. sore. Severe.

47:6 men of activity. Able men, capable leaders (Ex. 18:21,25).

47:7 Jacob blessed Pharaoh (v. 10). Pharaoh had blessed Jacob and his family, and so Jacob pronounced God’s blessing on Pharaoh. This fulfilled God’s promise to Abraham that all nations would be blessed through him, particularly those who blessed him (12:3).

47:9 pilgrimage. Same root at “sojourn” (v. 4). See note at 23:4. few and evil. Ancient Egyptian literature spoke of the ideal life-span as 110 years. Though Jacob had already exceeded that by twenty years, he did not aim to impress Pharaoh, but frankly stated that his life had been hard and could not compare to the prosperity and endurance of his fathers.

47:11 Rameses. Located in the northeastern delta of the Nile. The name Rameses, based on a chief Egyptian god, was in use long before Rameses I of the nineteenth dynasty.

47:13 sore. Severe. fainted. Became weak.

47:14 corn. Grain of various kinds, not just corn (maize).

47:15 money faileth. They had spent all their money already.

47:20 bought all the land . . . for Pharaoh. Comparing biblical chronology with Egyptian dates, Joseph’s rise to power might have occurred during the administration of Sesostris III of the twelfth Dynasty. Significantly, Sesostris III is credited with reunifying Egypt under a centralized administration. And even more significantly, the Bible explains how that happened.

47:21 he removed them to cities. This, the reading of the Hebrew Masoretic text, may indicate a temporary relocation of people to centers of food distribution. However, the Greek Septuagint, Samaritan Pentateuch, and Latin Vulgate read, “he made servants of them.” This reading would be obtained by a slight scribal error in copying two Hebrew letters.

47:24 in the increase. When the land produces again and harvest comes.

47:25 thou hast saved our lives . . . we will be Pharaoh’s servants. This was not oppression or exploitation, but salvation for a starving people, and they were grateful. Joseph did not enslave them so much as he instituted a feudal system where the people gave a relatively small portion of their produce to the king. In this he was a type of Christ, who uses the riches of His grace to save perishing people and to make them servants of the living God.

47:29 drew nigh. Came near.

47:31 Israel bowed himself. An act of worshiping God by faith (Heb. 11:21). the bed's head. The Greek Septuagint reads, "the top of his staff/stick." The Hebrew words for "bed" and "staff" have the same consonants and sound very similar.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 47

1. Though we are pilgrims in this evil world, we are to be a blessing to our neighbors. We must show respect to whom respect is due, such as government officials, and we must pray for God's blessing upon those who do not yet know Him. Do you pray regularly for your leaders? Do you pray for the physical and spiritual needs of your neighbors?
2. Christ's sufferings and obedience have obtained a vast treasure of blessings for perishing sinners. Unlike Joseph, He offers them for free to all who come to Him. But like Joseph, Christ makes all whom He saves into servants of God to do His will. Praise God that our brother, the Lord Jesus, is rich in blessings and glorious in majesty. By grace, offer yourself to God through Him as a servant, ready to do His will and eager to give back some of what He gives to you.

Chapter 48: Israel blesses Joseph and his sons, adopting them as his own, but blessing the younger over the firstborn.

48:3 God Almighty appeared unto me at Luz. See 28:10–22.

48:4 give this land. Though they now lived in Egypt, and Canaan has been withered by years of famine, Jacob still looked by faith for the fulfillment of God's promise of a good inheritance.

48:5 thy two sons . . . are mine. Jacob adopted his grandsons Ephraim and Manasseh as his own sons, increasing their honor and inheritance in the family. as Reuben. Jacob's firstborn lost his birthright by immorality (35:22), and Jacob gave it to Joseph's sons instead (1 Chron. 5:1).

48:6 thy issue, which thou begettest. Your biological children.

48:8 Who are these? The question might spring of his blindness, but also could be a formality in the adoption process similar to the wedding question, "Who gives this woman to this man?"

48:9 whom God hath given me. Joseph was full of gratitude, knowing that children are gifts from God (29:31; 30:2; Ps. 127:3).

48:11 seed. Offspring. Jacob also gratefully acknowledged that their blessings come from God.

48:12 from between his knees. Probably "by" his knees, as the grandsons were now grown.

48:14 wittingly. Intentionally.

48:15–16 walk. See note at 17:1. Jacob blessed Joseph and his sons by faith (Heb. 11:21), trusting in the character of the Lord. He is God, strong and mighty, and also the Angel, sent to save His people (Isa. 63:9). See notes at 16:7; 22:11. He is the shepherd (the meaning of fed) who daily guides and provides for them (49:24; Ps. 23:1), and the kinsman-redeemer (redeemed me) who pays the price to powerfully set them free from all evil (Ex. 6:6; 15:13; Lev. 25:48).

48:18–20 As with Jacob and Esau (25:23), God reversed the rights of the firstborn and placed special blessing upon the younger son. Ephraim would become such a powerful tribe that the entire northern part of Israel would take its name from him (Hos. 11:3,8). God does not give grace according to human status, but according to His freedom (1 Cor. 1:26–31).

48:21 Behold I die: but God shall be with you. This is the great comfort of believers when their loved ones die (50:24). God will never leave them but will bring them to their inheritance.

48:22 portion. Literally, "Shechem." Jacob had bought a field near Shechem (33:19), and now bequeathed it to Joseph, an act of faith that they would return as God promised. with my sword and with my bow. Jacob originally obtained the property by purchase, but it may be that he later had to recapture it from the Amorite after he had moved to Hebron. Centuries later, Christ met the Samaritan woman at the well there (John 4:5).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 48

1. How beautiful it is to hear an old saint glorify God for His faithfulness! God's character is a rich feast and solid support for both old and young believers. His power gives us hope that His promises will not fail despite the darkest times. Let us seek grace to walk closely with this God all our days, so that when we are old we may give Him glory.
2. When death breaks our fellowship with parents, siblings, and dear friends, we must look to the God who is always there. Let us make use of times of mourning to seek a deeper communion with our Father through Christ, that His Spirit may fill us with comfort.

Chapter 49: Israel speaks prophetically of the future of the twelve tribes which will arise from his sons, especially Judah and Joseph.

49:1 that which shall befall. What will happen.

49:2 hearken. Listen.

49:4 Unstable as water. Driven by boiling passion. excel. Rise above the others. thy father's bed. Reuben had sex with Jacob's concubine (35:22).

49:6 their secret. Their company or counsel, namely, their deceitful plan of murder (34:13,25). digged down a wall. Better, "hamstrung oxen."

49:7 divide . . . scatter. The tribe of Simeon would be distributed through the territory of Judah (Josh. 19:1), and the Levites throughout the whole land (Num. 35:7–8). The same prophecy was literally fulfilled in two different ways: Simeon essentially lost its identity being assimilated into Judah whereas Levi received an honored status as the priestly tribe receiving an inheritance throughout the nation.

49:8 Judah means praise, originally given to the Lord (29:35), but here directed to Judah.

49:9 whelp. Cub. couched. Crouched. lion. A metaphor for power. Though Joseph received the right of the firstborn, from Judah came the Davidic line of kings (1 Chron. 5:2). Christ is the Lion of the tribe of Judah, and He has overcome all the powers of the Devil (Rev. 5:5; 17:14).

49:10 sceptre. Rod used by a king (Num. 24:17; Ps. 2:9; 45:6). lawgiver. A king (Isa. 33:22), or possibly another word for rod. Shiloh. Difficult to translate, but could mean "him to whom [the kingdom] belongs." See the similar expression in Ezek. 21:27. the gathering of the people. Literally, "the obedience of the peoples," the nations who will submit to Christ the Lord.

49:11–12 vine . . . wine . . . grapes . . . milk. Images of prosperity and beauty in the kingdom.

49:13 Zebulun would settle near Phoenicia, by the Sea of Galilee on the route to the Mediterranean Sea (Isa. 9:1–2).

49:14 couching. Crouching.

49:17 The tribe of Dan became a center for idolatry and would massacre an unsuspecting people (Judg. 18; 1 Kings 12:28–30; 2 Kings 10:29). The words serpent and heels may allude to the ancient tempter and his violent but unsuccessful attack on the Seed of the Woman (3:1–5,15).

49:18 After declaring the serpentlike character of Dan's descendants (v. 17), Jacob cried out with words of enduring hope in God (I have waited). If the previous verse alludes to 3:15, then thy salvation, O LORD may refer to victory over Satan through the suffering Seed, Jesus Christ.

49:20 his bread shall be fat. His food will be rich. royal dainties. Fine foods enjoyed by a king.

49:21 hind. Female deer (Ps. 18:33; Hab. 3:19). giveth goodly words. The Hebrew is uncertain.

49:23 archers. Metaphor for the attacks Joseph and his offspring suffer from enemies.

49:24–25 from thence. An ancient Syriac version reads "from the name of." Jacob gloried in several attributes or names of God, declaring His power (mighty), love (shepherd), dependability (stone), covenant faithfulness through the generations (God of thy father), and sufficiency to do all He promises (Almighty).

49:26 progenitors. Forefathers.

49:27 ravin. Tear to pieces. Strong warriors such as Ehud, Saul, and Jonathan came from Benjamin (Judg. 3:15; 1 Sam. 9:1–2; 1 Chron. 8:40; 12:2).

49:29 Jacob's request to be buried in the family tomb in Canaan (23:9–20; 25:9) showed his hope in the promise and in the resurrection (see notes at 22:5; 23:20).

49:33 yielded up the ghost. Expired. gathered unto his people. See note at 25:8.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 49

1. Many centuries before Jesus was born, God revealed His purpose that from Judah would arise a king to rule the nations. He decreed before the creation of the world that His Son would have a kingdom. Though God's people had to wait for millennia for the Savior, their salvation was certain. How much more, then, should sinners like us have hope?
2. Do not grow weary in waiting upon the Lord. God's plan will not fail; Christ's kingdom will come. Make Jacob's prayer your own: "I have waited for thy salvation, O LORD."

Chapter 50: Joseph buries Jacob in Canaan, comforts his brothers with God's sovereignty, and dies with his own hope set upon the promise.

50:3 threescore and ten. Seventy.

50:10 sore lamentation. Heavy grief. It is right to mourn the dead (23:2; John 11:35; Acts 8:2; 9:39), though believers need not mourn as those without hope (1 Thess. 4:13,18).

50:15 peradventure. Perhaps. requite. Pay back.

50:17 trespass. Sin.

50:19–21 Fear not. Joseph's love and forgiveness of his brothers sprang from humility before God's majesty (am I in the place of God?) and faith in God's loving providence. ye thought evil against me; but God meant it unto good. The same Hebrew word is translated by thought and meant, signifying to think or plan. It comes from a root meaning "to skillfully weave" or "artistically design" (Ex. 26:1). The Hebrew text makes it clear that it in meant it refers to evil. Joseph's brothers had formed a cunning plan to destroy him, but God had planned their evil for the good not just of Joseph but much people. God has decreed all things, including sin and evil, to glorify Himself through the salvation of many (see notes at 45:5–8).

50:22 hundred and ten years. The ideal life-span mentioned often in Egyptian writings. Terah lived 205 years (11:32), Abraham 175 years (25:7), Isaac 180 years (35:28), Jacob 147 years (47:28), and Joseph 110 years.

50:23 Surrounded in old age by his children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren, Joseph was an emblem of God's covenant to continue His blessing through the generations (17:7; Deut. 7:9).

50:24 Joseph was a high official of the mighty land where the Great Pyramid rose 481 feet into the air, but on his deathbed his mind was not on the glories of Egypt but on the inheritance of the land which the Lord sware to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. By faith in the promise, he saw what was not yet visible (Heb. 11:22).

50:26 coffin. Box, same word used of the "ark" of the covenant. Genesis ends on a note of death, a reminder of the consequences of the fall of man (2:17; 3:19). But it also ends on a note of anticipation that God would keep His covenant oath (v. 24). The tomb of Joseph would remind Israel of God's promises while they suffered in slavery. Joseph's bones remained in Egypt for hundreds of years; then Moses took them in the exodus and the people buried them in the plot of land that Jacob gave to Joseph (48:22; Ex. 13:19; Josh. 24:32).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 50

1. Joseph is a model of forgiveness. A robust view of God's majesty above us, His providence over evil, and His goodness sets us free from bitterness to love the people who have hurt us. Learn to see all things under the banner of "God meant it for good."
2. Genesis began with an account of how God made all things good, but Satan and sin brought evil to man and his world. Surely it is no accident that Genesis ends by declaring that what sinners planned for evil, God planned for good. Furthermore, the account of Joseph's life gives us a type of how God would save many perishing sinners. The fall of man and the curse of death would lead to the humiliation of God's faithful servant, but His very suffering would become the foundation for His exaltation as the Lord of the kingdom and Savior of the nations. Thus Genesis calls us to hope in God's decree to use evil to bring salvation for His glory. Cling to that hope to your dying day.

Creation and God's Glory

Whether it is in the beauty, power, or complexity of creation, a taste of God's wonder is engraved on all things as an unmistakable testament of His incomprehensible glory. The glory of God has been disclosed in the whole workmanship of the universe: "The heavens declare the glory of God" (Ps. 19:1) and "the whole earth is full of his glory" (Isa. 6:3).

There are two helpful ways to express the presentation of God's glory in creation. First, His glory is like a brilliant light shed abroad—even to the darkest reaches of the earth. This flashing light penetrates all men's minds (Rom. 1:19–20). It radiates richly throughout all the heavens, where the Lord's majesty is shed forth (Ps. 104:2). There is no place where the sparks of His glory cannot be discerned. Second, the glory of God is revealed in creation like an image in a mirror. The glory of the invisible God is reflected visibly by His creation (Heb. 11:3). This allows all to gaze upon the invisible nature of God, as portrayed in His creation. Whether God's glory appears like a light or like an image in a mirror, truly men cannot open their eyes without being compelled to see Him.

Though God's whole creation displays His glory, it is man himself, as the pinnacle of creation, who reveals God's glory most explicitly. He is a rare spectacle of God's power, goodness, and wisdom. Infants have tongues so eloquent to preach God's glory that there is no need at all for other orators (cf. Ps. 8:2). The human body—from its mouth and eyes to its very toenails—exhibits exquisite workmanship. Man's soul, in intelligence, imagination, memory, and even in dreaming, speaks of his Creator. The image of God has been so fully stamped upon men that, as all are adorned with an air of His glory, God readily testifies that He is the Father of all (Acts 17:28). God has made man His masterpiece, surpassing all else in creation. Further, as the church is conformed to the express image of the invisible God, Jesus Christ (Col. 1:15; Heb. 1:3), the glory of God becomes more distinct.

For the unbeliever, the expression of God in creation cannot be missed, even if the darkness of his mind causes the image to appear clouded. For him, the glory of God displayed in creation is a testimony against unbelief (Rom. 1:19–20). In addition to the inward witness of the heart, God has provided innumerable evidences in the world of His existence and of man's duty to submit to his Creator (cf. Acts 14:16–17). The glory of God is inscribed in creation with bold letters, yet the unbeliever has exchanged the glory of the incorruptible for images of corruptible things (Rom. 1:23). This confusion of the creation with the Creator supplants the true God with a shadow deity, depriving God of His right as Creator and denying creation's proper place as an announcement of the glories of its Maker. Though God sweetly attracts men with semblances of His glory, man's rashness and superficiality, joined with ignorance and darkness, have led to disdain for creation's testimony and, ultimately, to a rejection of the Creator Himself.

For the believer, the beauty of creation speaks of the majestic beauty of his God. With Scripture's revelation and the Spirit's work, the believer is able rightly to understand and appreciate the glory of God displayed in creation. He hears God's awesome voice upon the waters, breaking the cedars, shaking the wilderness, and causing new birth; thus, the believer worships the Lord in the beauty of holiness (Ps. 29). Examining creation brings him to praise and submit to his sovereign Creator—who sustains the mass of heaven and earth by His Word. God's nod alone shakes the heavens with thunderbolts; kindles the air with flashes; disturbs the earth with storms, and then silences them; and compels the sea to hang as though in midair, only to make it calm again. All of this incites reverential awe and adoration in the heart of every believer for the glorious God heralded by creation.

The Fall of Man

No event has cast a darker shadow over human life throughout the centuries than the fall of our first parents from their state of original righteousness, life, and communion with God into the state of sin, death, and corruption in all faculties and parts of soul and body. No aspect of human experience is more crucial for understanding the world we live in, the desperation of its plight, and how necessary it was for God to intervene by sending His Son into the world, "that the world through him might be saved" (John 3:17).

The fall of man was a major turning point for humanity. In Eden, Adam and Eve lived a life far different from ours. They were at home in their world, happy in their marriage, blessed in their life and work, and at peace with their God. Guilt and shame, disease and death, lust and longing, heartache and loss, and enmity and danger were unknown. There was no thorn to prick them, no thistle to mar the beauty of their garden home, no sweat upon their brow. Everything changed when they succumbed to the lies of the serpent and defied the law of God.

Trivial questions can detract from rightly understanding the fall of man. Was the serpent real? He was real enough to serve Satan's purposes! Did the serpent actually speak, or was Satan simply voicing thoughts in Eve's mind? Either way, she got the message. Did Adam really join with Eve to sin against God? The tragic truth is simple: the evidence that he did is incontrovertible.

The imputation of Adam's sin to all his natural offspring is a presupposition of the gospel. Human beings are lost from conception and birth, even before they begin their personal careers of sin. The Son of God became the Son of Man to atone for sin by dying in the place of sinners. To deny the fall of man into sin is to rob the death of Christ of its redemptive meaning and saving power.

The reality of the fall as historical fact is demonstrated by its many bitter and persistent effects on human beings today:

> There is none righteous, no, not one: there is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God. They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one. Their throat is an open sepulcher; with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips: whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness: their feet are swift to shed blood: destruction and misery are in their ways: and the way of peace they have not known: there is no fear of God before their eyes. (Rom. 3:10–18)

Every line of this passage was taken from the Hebrew Bible. Paul did not need to do any original thinking about man's fallen state; it was all attested in Scripture long before his time.

Theologians describe fallen man as being totally depraved or corrupted. Some understand the term to mean that men and women are as bad as they can be, something human experience refutes. Thanks to God's restraining hand, men and nations seldom realize their full potential for sin. There have been Herods and Hitlers throughout history, but far fewer than we might have expected. The Roman Empire was idolatrous and debauched, but not beyond the power of the gospel to transform it into the world's first Christian superpower.

Limiting the extent of the fall by exempting some aspect of man's being from its effects opens the way for fallen man to be his own savior. If his intellect is not darkened, then he can find salvation by the use of reason and improve himself through education. If his will is not enslaved, then man has the final say in his salvation, quite apart from God's will. If man's body does not bear the marks of the fall, then defects, deformities, disease, aging, and death are natural and normal for our race, not evils to be opposed and overcome or enemies Christ died to defeat. Let us ask God to show us ever more profoundly the tragic results of our fall, that we might understand ever more profoundly the amazing wonders of the gospel.

Faith in God

Faith is the resting of the heart on God, the Author of life and eternal salvation, so that we may be saved from all evil through Him and may follow all good unto Him (Ps. 37:5; Isa. 10:20; Jer. 17:7). Faith welcomes a sweet exchange of sins for righteousness, wherein a sinful man is credited as righteous in Christ, Christ having been made sin for him (Rom. 3:21–26). Faith then follows with outward evidences of itself, which are commonly called "good works."

Faith is comprised of two distinct but inseparable tenets: an act of understanding and an act of will. First, faith involves an act of understanding wherein the mind gives assent to evidence. This is a knowledge of the declarations in Scripture regarding the gospel of Christ (1 Cor. 1:23; 2:2; 2 Cor. 5:19). However, the message itself is not the object of faith (John 20:31). The true object of faith is the Person in whom faith is placed—that is, God Himself through Jesus Christ (1 Tim. 4:10). Man not only believes about God but in God. Moreover, God is the ultimate object of faith, while Christ is the mediate object of faith (Rom. 6:11; 2 Cor. 3:4; 1 Peter 1:21). This means that true, saving faith is an understanding placed in God through Jesus Christ.

However, bare belief in God through Christ divorced from an act of will is not saving faith (John 7:17; 8:31,32; 1 John 2:3). This act of will is the second necessary aspect of saving faith. Not a mere act of intellect, the exercising of faith involves an act of choice by the whole man. Faith is a determined resolve. It is a genuine turning of the will away from reliance on self toward dependence on God. This entails surrender by a consent of the will (John 6:35). To believe in God through Christ, then, is to cling to God, to lean on God, and to rest in God as our all-sufficient life and salvation (Deut. 30:20; Pss. 37:3–5; 62:7; Prov. 3:5; Isa. 10:20; 31:1; 50:10; Rom. 10:11).

Faith is a genuine receiving (John 1:12)—a sure dependence upon God (Prov. 3:5). Accordingly, faith is not uncertain and doubtful, a result of man's imperfect knowledge of a testimony alone. Though scriptural testimony is sure in itself (John 9:29; Rom. 3:4; 1 Cor. 2:5; 2 Peter 1:20–21), faith is most certain because it unites itself to God's Person. He who is infallible lends infallibility to true, saving faith itself. Faith lays hold of the power of the whole triune God in salvation (Mark 11:23; Luke 17:6; Rom. 1:16–17). Unfortunately, due to man's imperfect inclinations, the surety of true faith often feels debilitated. This is why man supposes that the assurance of his faith is questionable—and why he needs the inner persuasion and strengthening of faith by the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 12:3; cf. Mark 9:24). Nonetheless, true faith, whether a feeble hand or a strong grasp, is faith in God—and therein lies assurance (cf. Matt. 9:21; Heb. 11). Therefore, faith so certainly unites man to God in Christ that none can remove him or separate him from God (John 10:28–29; Rom. 8:35–39).

In addition, though, general intellectual assent and reliance without any life is no saving faith (James 2:24). Faith is an assent based on knowledge whereby man lives to God in Christ. Faith entails declaring God our God in Christ; this is known as submission to the Sovereign. While it is the first act whereby we are saved by God in Christ, faith evokes many resultant acts of good works. Faith brings with itself man's living to God. From the spring of faith flow sincere resolutions to a life of obedience. Furthermore, because faith in God guarantees a progressive holiness—both a separation from sin and a clinging to righteousness—the test of true, saving faith is summarized simply: faith that saves is faith that works.

God's Covenants

Looking death in the face, Joseph rallies in Genesis 50 for one final act of faith. He recalls God's promise to Abram (Gen. 15:13,14) and assures his brothers that God will bring them out of Egypt and back to the Promised Land. He commands them to "carry up my bones from hence," binding them with an oath. Accordingly, Moses takes the bones of Joseph with him when Israel goes out of Egypt (Ex. 13:19).

Why was Joseph sure that God would keep His promises? It was because he knew the promises were stipulations of God's covenant with Abraham, sealed with God's oath, "two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie" (Heb. 6:18). God had spoken. That was enough for Joseph.

The notion of covenant is older than the Bible and embedded in the culture of the ancient Near East. The human authors of Scripture use the word without explanation or elaboration for their readers. The basic meaning of the Hebrew word berith is "agreement." The Greek word diatheke means "arrangement" and was applied to a will, the legal instrument by which one disposes of earthly goods and property after death. The two words have in common the binding character of what is "agreed" upon or "arranged" (Gal. 3:15). Promises must be kept and obligations performed, no matter what.

God's covenants are "agreements" between Himself and His people, defining their relationship to Him. There are two parts: first, what God promises to do for them, and second, what they are obliged to do in response. Many covenants are recorded in Scripture: the covenant of works implicit in the history of Adam and Eve, and their life in Eden as regulated by God's commandments (Gen. 1,2); the creation covenant with Noah after the destruction of the old world by the flood (Gen. 9); the covenant with Israel enacted at Sinai (Ex. 19,20); and the covenant with David and his house (2 Sam. 7).

These covenants are overshadowed by the covenant of grace made with Abraham (Gen. 17:7), confirmed and renewed as "the new covenant" in Christ's blood (Jer. 31:31–34; Matt. 26:28) and proclaimed as "the promise" by Peter at Pentecost (Acts 2:39). The other covenants are applications of the covenant of grace to particular people or to their special needs or circumstances. Some continue to bind God and man (the covenant of works, the creation covenant with Noah), but others have been fulfilled in Christ (the covenants with Israel and the house of David) and are no longer binding.

Justified by faith in Christ, Christians are the blessed seed of "faithful Abraham" (Gen. 15:6; Rom. 4:11–12; Gal. 3:7–9). Together with their children, they are bound to God as His people, and He has bound Himself to them as their God (Gen. 17:7; Acts 2:39). The children of believers, however, are not saved by the covenant relationship automatically; rather, they must personally be brought to repentance and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. By God's grace, and through saving faith, they are heirs to all that God has promised them in Christ; they are obliged, for Christ's sake, to cleave to this one God, trusting in Him and loving Him with all their hearts, forsaking the world, crucifying the old nature, and walking in newness and holiness of life.

The New Testament gives much attention to the development and varying emphases between the old covenant made with Israel at Sinai through Moses and the new covenant established in Christ in fulfillment of the promises made to Abraham. The epistle to the Hebrews expounds this development at length, showing the superiority of Christ and His new covenant to anything given to Israel through Moses.

Noting this difference, some have argued that the moral law, summarized in the Ten Commandments (Ex. 20, Deut. 5) as part of the Mosaic covenant, is not binding on Christians under the gospel. But long before Moses, the moral law was written in the human heart (Rom. 2:14). Sin was imputed and punished by death, from Adam to Moses (Rom. 5:13–14). Christ Himself declared that He did not come to destroy the law (Matt. 5:17). As a rule of life for believers, the moral law is an essential part of the covenant of grace.

INTRODUCTION TO THE BOOK OF

EXODUS

Authorship and Date

On the authorship and date of the book, see Introduction to the Pentateuch. The date of Israel's exodus is debated. Some scholars propose a late date around 1290 BC based upon an interpretation of archaeological evidence. However, other archaeologists have found additional evidence that calls into question this conclusion. More importantly, the Scriptures indicate a much earlier date, c. 1446 BC, by placing the exodus about 300 years before the judge Jephthah (Judg. 11:26) and 480 years before Solomon's fourth year on the throne (1 Kings 6:1). Even if one or both of these are round numbers, they point to an exodus in the fifteenth century BC.

Theme

God keeps His covenant through the gifts of redemption, law, and divine presence.

Purpose

To reveal the Lord as the gracious and powerful God who keeps His covenant though His people are lawbreakers.

Synopsis

The Contribution of Exodus to Redemptive Revelation

The word "exodus," the ancient Greek title of the book, means "the way out" or "departure," referring to the Lord's deliverance of Israel out of Egypt. The book's history reaches back to the death of Joseph circa 1875 BC. However, most of its events (chs. 3–40) take place in the time of the exodus from Egypt in the mid-fifteenth century BC.

Exodus builds upon Genesis as the continuing history of God's mighty works to bless the offspring of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (1:1; 2:24; 3:15). It also echoes Genesis in many smaller ways. The multiplication of Israel in Egypt alludes to God's blessing upon newly created man to be fruitful and multiply (1:7; Gen. 1:28). Little Moses is set afloat in a miniature "ark" coated with tar and pitch like Noah's great ark (Gen. 6:14; Ex. 2:3;). The same God who created the "herb," "fruit," and "tree" also destroyed them in His plague of locusts on Egypt (Gen. 1:11; Ex. 10:15).

Genesis is a book of promises to Abraham and his offspring, and Exodus is a book where the God of Abraham continues fulfilling those promises. Exodus especially declares how the covenant Lord of Israel kept His promise to redeem His people and dwelt with them as their King and Lawgiver (6:2–8; 19:4–6; 29:43–46).

This message may be summed up in the following key themes.

First, God revealed His glory in His works: "I am the LORD" (20:2). In one sense, the book revolves around the revelation of the meaning of God's name, Jehovah or "the LORD" (3:13–14; 6:2–8). The purpose of His mighty works in Exodus is that people of all nations would know who He is (9:16; 10:1–2). Thus we find the repeated statement that God acts so that people will "know that I am the LORD" (6:7; 7:5,17; 8:22; 14:4,18; 16:12; 29:46; 31:13; also many times in Ezek.). The Lord will glorify His great name, and even His enemies will serve that purpose (Ex. 14:4,17–18).

However, His great works are meant not only to instruct people about Him intellectually, but to know Him personally and live in His presence as His covenant people (29:46). This is the essence of the eternal life given to sinners: that they know God through Christ's mediation (John 17:3). One of the core promises of the new covenant is that all of God's people will know Him experientially (Heb. 8:11) as the only real treasure (Jer. 9:23–24).

Second, the Creator waged war against the false gods of Egypt to display His sovereignty (12:12; Num. 33:4). Egypt regarded the Pharaoh as a divine being. The God of Israel opposed their "thus saith Pharaoh" with "thus saith the LORD" in a titanic contest of sovereignty (Ex. 5:1,10). In the ancient world, people worshiped many gods and believed that each god ruled a particular part of life. The Lord sent Moses and Aaron with miracles to humiliate the sorcerers of Egypt, who invoked the powers of their gods (7:8–12; 8:18–19; 9:11). The ten plagues displayed the impotence of Egypt's gods to defend their land against the Lord, with some plagues (if not all) targeting the domain of a specific idol (see notes at chs. 7–10). The Lord's total control over the river, frogs, insects, livestock, weather, light, and life of Pharaoh's own son demonstrate that He is the Creator who is sovereign over all things.

God was training His people to understand Him as the only true God. Thus Israel sang at the banks of the Red Sea, "Who is like unto thee, O LORD, among the gods? . . . The LORD shall reign for ever and ever" (15:11,18). This is the backdrop of the first commandment: "Thou shalt have no other gods before me" (20:3). It is also the thrust of the book of Revelation, which calls men to cease worshiping the pleasures and idols of this world and to give glory to Him who sits on the throne and to the Lamb. "The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever" (Rev. 11:15).

Third, God revealed His righteous sovereignty over sin. The Lord not only entered into battle against sinners, but also staged and controlled the battle for His own glory. Before Pharaoh even heard the Lord's command to "let my people go," God told Moses that He would harden Pharaoh's heart so that he would not comply (4:21). Exodus uses three terms for God hardening Pharaoh's heart: eight times the Lord is said to have "hardened" his heart (4:21; 9:12; 10:20,27; 11:10; 14:4,8,17; cf. Josh. 11:20; Ps. 95:8); once He "made stubborn" his heart (Ex. 7:3; cf. Deut. 2:30); and once He "made heavy" his heart (Ex. 10:1), in the sense of making it insensitive and unresponsive (Isa. 6:10). This was not a passive permission on God's part, but an active control according to His plan, giving Pharaoh over to the power of sin.

Pharaoh is not thereby excused for his stubborn pride: three times it says that he "made heavy" his own heart (8:15,32) and so he "sinned" (9:34). Several times Exodus simply says that Pharaoh's heart was hardened without giving a cause (7:14,22; 8:19; 9:7,35). The very mention of his "heart," however, implies that Pharaoh acted as an agent with a mind and a will. Therefore, Pharaoh was not reduced to the level of a robot; he chose this course of action and was held responsible for his sin (10:16). Nor did God have any pleasure in his sin, but instead commanded him to release Israel and rebuked him for his stubbornness (10:3). God is not the author of sin.

However, the Lord's holy will ruled over Pharaoh's sinful will, so that Pharaoh's choices were set by God's decree and determined by providence: "But the LORD hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he would not [literally, "was not willing to"] let them go" (10:27). When Pharaoh hardened his heart, it was "as the LORD had said" (8:15)—man's sin fulfilling God's Word (7:13,22; 8:19; 9:35). Pharaoh's resistance against God served God's purpose to display His glory and sovereignty through His mighty works (7:3; 9:16; 10:1; 14:4). Though the Egyptians believed that the heart of Pharaoh was sovereign over the world, God held the heart of the king in His hand, turning it wherever He pleased (Prov. 21:1).

Exodus expands on the theme of the Joseph narrative in Genesis: sinners plan evil but God planned their evil for good (Gen. 50:20). The hardening of Pharaoh's heart demonstrated that God reigns over the sinful hearts of His enemies. We observe the same theme in the New Testament accounts of Christ's crucifixion, which teach that sinful men were guilty of the murder of Jesus Christ, and yet God controlled everything to fulfill the plan of redemption He had revealed in the Scriptures (Matt. 26:54,56; 27:9,35; Mark 15:28; Luke 9:22; 22:22; John 19:36; Acts 2:23; 4:27–28; 1 Cor. 15:3–4).

Fourth, the Lord redeemed sinners to be His covenant people (6:6–7). In the law, the redemption of a criminal was the payment of a compensation price to release him from punishment (21:29–30). The redemption of a slave required a kinsman to pay the price to purchase him out of bondage (Lev. 25:47–48). The Lord redeemed His people from their slavery to the Egyptians, though Israel was guilty of idol worship and deserved divine punishment (Josh. 24:14; Ezek. 20:5–9; cf. Ex. 32). When His wrath fell on Egypt, Israel was spared only because God covered them with His redemption (8:23). The blood of the Passover lamb turned away divine judgment (12:13) so that death to Egypt was freedom for Israel. Christ is our Passover sacrifice (1 Cor. 5:7), for His bloody death as the Lamb of God sets people from all nations free from their sins (John 1:29; 1 Peter 1:18–19; Rev. 1:5; 5:9).

In redemption, the Lord took Israel as His special treasure (19:5; Deut. 7:6). Their redemption was not merely for the sake of liberation from political oppression; God redeemed Israel so that they would be His people under His covenant. God said to Pharaoh, "Let my people go, that they may serve me" (Ex. 7:16; 8:1,20; 9:1,13; 10:3). Yet their service was not slavery, but worship (5:1,3)—adoration of the God who saved them (15:1–2). The Ten Commandments open with a reminder of redeeming grace: "I am the LORD thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage" (20:2). To be sure, God's law regulated every facet of Israel's life, asserting His authority as Lord over all. Israel could not be God's holy covenant people without obedience to the covenant Lord (19:5–6). But obedience to the commandments must spring from faith in the God who already accomplished salvation and in His Mediator (4:1; 14:31; 19:9). God's grace trains us to do righteousness because Christ redeemed His people from the penalty and power of sin (Titus 2:11–14).

The physical hub of Israel's covenant relationship with the Lord was the sanctuary where God lived (25:8). Mankind lost their dwelling with God when expelled from the garden of Eden (Gen. 3:23–24). God revealed to Jacob that He intended to join heaven and earth so that He would dwell with His people in His house (Gen. 28:10–22). It was the very purpose of redemption that God should dwell with His people (Ex. 29:46). In the tabernacle, this plan advanced in a significant way. As the notes at chs. 25–31 show, the design of the tabernacle and the ordination of the priesthood reveal much about how Christ would open the way for His people to enter the holy place (Heb. 10:19–22) and bring them to a heavenly Eden (Rev. 22:2).

Fifth, God worked salvation and judgment through a human mediator. Moses was not merely a recorder of God's acts but was central to everything God did in this book. In a limited sense, we may use the word "mediator" of Moses (Gal. 3:19), for he was a type of Christ.

Moses was foremost a prophetic mediator of God's truth. Exodus states dozens of times that the Lord spoke to Moses, from his call at the burning bush to the refrain "as the LORD commanded Moses" that pulses like a drumbeat through the last two chapters of the book. God put His words in the prophet's mouth; he spoke only what God had given to him (4:12,15–16; 6:29; 7:1–2; Jer. 1:9; 2 Peter 1:20–21). Yet he was a man like those he served, and a human prophet was a gift of mercy because the people feared they would die when God spoke directly to them (Ex. 20:18–19). Moses experienced amazing face-to-face access to God (24:15–18; 33:9–11). His unusual ministry foreshadowed the great Prophet (Deut. 18:18; 34:10; Acts 3:22; 7:37), the Son who dwells in the heart of the Father and alone makes Him known (Matt. 11:27; John 1:18).

Moses also served as a kingly mediator of God's power. The Lord was with him to bring Israel out of Egypt (3:10–12) by working wonders through him (9:8–10). The "rod of God" (4:20) in the hand of Moses (and Aaron), though perhaps only a shepherd's staff, became like a king's scepter whereby God challenged the sovereignty of Pharaoh (4:2,4,17; 7:9–10,12). By this instrument the Lord sent judgment upon Egypt (7:15,17,19–20; 8:5,16–17; 9:23; 10:13) and gave salvation and life to Israel (14:16; 17:5,9). Moses became the head of a large administration of rulers over Israel (18:18–27). Later, after the debacle of the golden calf, Moses disciplined the people forcefully (32:19–29). Thus he was a type of the royal Son of God, who defends, rules, and disciplines His church (Rev. 3:7–8,19).

Lastly, Exodus reveals a priestly mediator of God's mercy. The priestly office of Christ was foreshadowed in the ministry of Aaron and his sons (Heb. 5:1–6). Moses did not bear a priesthood of this order, but he shared in its work (Ps. 99:6) and in some ways exceeded its privileges. Aaron could handle the holy things of God only when consecrated and clothed in sacred garments (Ex. 28–29), but Moses was the one who consecrated the first priests and holy places (Lev. 8–9). His inauguration of the tabernacle created an external way for the Lord to dwell with His people—a way superseded only when the Son became the living tabernacle, together with all united to Him (John 1:14; 1 Cor. 3:16). The priestly character of Moses' office also appears in his intercession with the Lord. His prayers ended specific plagues (Ex. 8:8–14,28–31; 9:27–33; 10:16–19), and saved Israel from the wrath of God when he offered himself to die as their substitute and obtained a marvelous revelation of God's love (chs. 32–34).

However, Moses was an imperfect mediator, and not a mediator of saving grace. In this book, he faithfully records his own unbelief and provoking of God's anger (4:13–14,24–25). His "uncircumcised lips" resulted in him delegating part of his ministry to Aaron (6:12–13). His responsibility to rule wearied him; no mere man could bear the burden of leading the people alone (18:18). Moses gave the law written on stone tablets but could not write it on their hearts. The Lord did not accept his offer to die as a substitute (32:32–33), and the priestly system instituted through him consisted of sinful men and mere animal sacrifices. In the end, Moses was only a shadow of Him who was to come, the one Mediator between God and man (1 Tim. 2:5).

God designed Exodus to be a rich book, and yet an incomplete book in two senses. First, it ends without a full revelation of the ritual laws necessary to instruct Israel in how to live with a holy God, thereby leading directly into Leviticus. Second and more significantly, Exodus is incomplete because it recounts physical redemption but reveals spiritual bondage, thereby pointing to the need for Christ. For all the glory of the old covenant, it was but moonlight waiting for the rising of the Sun of righteousness with healing in His wings (Mal. 4:2).

THE SECOND BOOK OF MOSES CALLED

EXODUS

Exodus 1 [†]

1 [†] Now these are the names of the children of Israel, which came into Egypt; every man and his household came with Jacob.
2 Reuben, Simeon, Levi, and Judah,
3 Issachar, Zebulun, and Benjamin,
4 Dan, and Naphtali, Gad, and Asher.
5 [†] And all the souls that came out of the loins of Jacob were seventy souls: for Joseph was in Egypt already.
6 And Joseph died, and all his brethren, and all that generation.
7 [†] ¶ And the children of Israel were fruitful, and increased abundantly, and multiplied, and waxed exceeding mighty; and the land was filled with them.
8 [†] Now there arose up a new king over Egypt, which knew not Joseph.
9 And he said unto his people, Behold, the people of the children of Israel are more and mightier than we:
10 [†] Come on, let us deal wisely with them; lest they multiply, and it come to pass, that, when there falleth out any war, they join also unto our enemies, and fight against us, and so get them up out of the land.
11 [†] Therefore they did set over them taskmasters to afflict them with their burdens. And they built for Pharaoh treasure cities, Pithom and Raamses.
12 [†] But the more they afflicted them, the more they multiplied and grew. And they were grieved because of the children of Israel.
13 [†] And the Egyptians made the children of Israel to serve with rigour:
14 And they made their lives bitter with hard bondage, in morter, and in brick, and in all manner of service in the field: all their service, wherein they made them serve, was with rigour.
15 [†] ¶ And the king of Egypt spake to the Hebrew midwives, of which the name of the one was Shiphrah, and the name of the other Puah:
16 [†] And he said, When ye do the office of a midwife to the Hebrew women, and see them upon the stools; if it be a son, then ye shall kill him: but if it be a daughter, then she shall live.
17 [†] But the midwives feared God, and did not as the king of Egypt commanded them, but saved the men children alive.
18 And the king of Egypt called for the midwives, and said unto them, Why have ye done this thing, and have saved the men children alive?
19 [†] And the midwives said unto Pharaoh, Because the Hebrew women are not as the Egyptian women; for they are lively, and are delivered ere the midwives come in unto them.
20 [†] Therefore God dealt well with the midwives: and the people multiplied, and waxed very mighty.
21 [†] And it came to pass, because the midwives feared God, that he made them houses.
22 [†] And Pharaoh charged all his people, saying, Every son that is born ye shall cast into the river, and every daughter ye shall save alive.

Exodus 2 [†]

1 [†] And there went a man of the house of Levi, and took to wife a daughter of Levi.
2 [†] And the woman conceived, and bare a son: and when she saw him that he was a goodly child, she hid him three months.
3 [†] And when she could not longer hide him, she took for him an ark of bulrushes, and daubed it with slime and with pitch, and put the child therein; and she laid it in the flags by the river's brink.
4 [†] And his sister stood afar off, to wit what would be done to him.
5 [†] ¶ And the daughter of Pharaoh came down to wash herself at the river; and her maidens walked along by the river's side; and when she saw the ark among the flags, she sent her maid to fetch it.
6 And when she had opened it, she saw the child: and, behold, the babe wept. And she had compassion on him, and said, This is one of the Hebrews' children.
7 Then said his sister to Pharaoh's daughter, Shall I go and call to thee a nurse of the Hebrew women, that she may nurse the child for thee?
8 And Pharaoh's daughter said to her, Go. And the maid went and called the child's mother.
9 [†] And Pharaoh's daughter said unto her, Take this child away, and nurse it for me, and I will give thee thy wages. And the woman took the child, and nursed it.
10 [†] And the child grew, and she brought him unto Pharaoh's daughter, and he became her son. And she called his name Moses: and she said, Because I drew him out of the water.
11 [†] ¶ And it came to pass in those days, when Moses was grown, that he went out unto his brethren, and looked on their burdens: and he spied an Egyptian smiting an Hebrew, one of his brethren.
12 [†] And he looked this way and that way, and when he saw that there was no man, he slew the Egyptian, and hid him in the sand.
13 [†] And when he went out the second day, behold, two men of the Hebrews strove together: and he said to him that did the wrong, Wherefore smitest thou thy fellow?
14 [†] And he said, Who made thee a prince and a judge over us? intendest thou to kill me, as thou killedst the Egyptian? And Moses feared, and said, Surely this thing is known.
15 [†] Now when Pharaoh heard this thing, he sought to slay Moses. But Moses fled from the face of Pharaoh, and dwelt in the land of Midian: and he sat down by a well.
16 Now the priest of Midian had seven daughters: and they came and drew water, and filled the troughs to water their father's flock.
17 [†] And the shepherds came and drove them away: but Moses stood up and helped them, and watered their flock.
18 [†] And when they came to Reuel their father, he said, How is it that ye are come so soon to day?
19 And they said, An Egyptian delivered us out of the hand of the shepherds, and also drew water enough for us, and watered the flock.
20 And he said unto his daughters, And where is he? why is it that ye have left the man? call him, that he may eat bread.
21 And Moses was content to dwell with the man: and he gave Moses Zipporah his daughter.
22 [†] And she bare him a son, and he called his name Gershom: for he said, I have been a stranger in a strange land.
23 [†] ¶ And it came to pass in process of time, that the king of Egypt died: and the children of Israel sighed by reason of the bondage, and they cried, and their cry came up unto God by reason of the bondage.
24 [†] And God heard their groaning, and God remembered his covenant with Abraham, with Isaac, and with Jacob.

25 And God looked upon the children of Israel, and God had respect unto them.

Exodus 3 [†]

(see article: God's Names)

1 [†] Now Moses kept the flock of Jethro his father in law, the priest of Midian: and he led the flock to the backside of the desert, and came to the mountain of God, even to Horeb.
2 [†] And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush: and he looked, and, behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed.
3 And Moses said, I will now turn aside, and see this great sight, why the bush is not burnt.
4 And when the Lord saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush, and said, Moses, Moses. And he said, Here am I.
5 [†] And he said, Draw not nigh hither: put off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground.
6 [†] Moreover he said, I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. And Moses hid his face; for he was afraid to look upon God.
7 [†] ¶ And the Lord said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I know their sorrows;
8 [†] And I am come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them up out of that land unto a good land and a large, unto a land flowing with milk and honey; unto the place of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites.
9 [†] Now therefore, behold, the cry of the children of Israel is come unto me: and I have also seen the oppression wherewith the Egyptians oppress them.
10 Come now therefore, and I will send thee unto Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Egypt.
11 [†] ¶ And Moses said unto God, Who am I, that I should go unto Pharaoh, and that I should bring forth the children of Israel out of Egypt?
12 And he said, Certainly I will be with thee; and this shall be a token unto thee, that I have sent thee: When thou hast brought forth the people out of Egypt, ye shall serve God upon this mountain.
13 And Moses said unto God, Behold, when I come unto the children of Israel, and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you; and they shall say to me, What is his name? what shall I say unto them?
14 [†] And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you.
15 [†] And God said moreover unto Moses, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath sent me unto you: this is my name for ever, and this is my memorial unto all generations.
16 [†] Go, and gather the elders of Israel together, and say unto them, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, appeared unto me, saying, I have surely visited you, and seen that which is done to you in Egypt:
17 And I have said, I will bring you up out of the affliction of Egypt unto the land of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites, unto a land flowing with milk and honey.
18 [†] And they shall hearken to thy voice: and thou shalt come, thou and the elders of Israel, unto the king of Egypt, and ye shall say unto him, The Lord God of the Hebrews hath met with us: and now let us go, we beseech thee, three days' journey into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to the Lord our God.

19 [†] ¶ And I am sure that the king of Egypt will not let you go, no, not by a mighty hand.
20 [†] And I will stretch out my hand, and smite Egypt with all my wonders which I will do in the midst thereof: and after that he will let you go.
21 And I will give this people favour in the sight of the Egyptians: and it shall come to pass, that, when ye go, ye shall not go empty:
22 [†] But every woman shall borrow of her neighbour, and of her that sojourneth in her house, jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment: and ye shall put them upon your sons, and upon your daughters; and ye shall spoil the Egyptians.

Exodus 4 [†]

1 [†] And Moses answered and said, But, behold, they will not believe me, nor hearken unto my voice: for they will say, The Lord hath not appeared unto thee.
2 And the Lord said unto him, What is that in thine hand? And he said, A rod.
3 [†] And he said, Cast it on the ground. And he cast it on the ground, and it became a serpent; and Moses fled from before it.
4 And the Lord said unto Moses, Put forth thine hand, and take it by the tail. And he put forth his hand, and caught it, and it became a rod in his hand:
5 [†] That they may believe that the Lord God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath appeared unto thee.
6 [†] ¶ And the Lord said furthermore unto him, Put now thine hand into thy bosom. And he put his hand into his bosom: and when he took it out, behold, his hand was leprous as snow.
7 And he said, Put thine hand into thy bosom again. And he put his hand into his bosom again; and plucked it out of his bosom, and, behold, it was turned again as his other flesh.
8 [†] And it shall come to pass, if they will not believe thee, neither hearken to the voice of the first sign, that they will believe the voice of the latter sign.
9 [†] And it shall come to pass, if they will not believe also these two signs, neither hearken unto thy voice, that thou shalt take of the water of the river, and pour it upon the dry land: and the water which thou takest out of the river shall become blood upon the dry land.
10 [†] ¶ And Moses said unto the Lord, O my Lord, I am not eloquent, neither heretofore, nor since thou hast spoken unto thy servant: but I am slow of speech, and of a slow tongue.
11 [†] And the Lord said unto him, Who hath made man's mouth? or who maketh the dumb, or deaf, or the seeing, or the blind? have not I the Lord?
12 [†] Now therefore go, and I will be with thy mouth, and teach thee what thou shalt say.
13 [†] And he said, O my Lord, send, I pray thee, by the hand of him whom thou wilt send.
14 [†] And the anger of the Lord was kindled against Moses, and he said, Is not Aaron the Levite thy brother? I know that he can speak well. And also, behold, he cometh forth to meet thee: and when he seeth thee, he will be glad in his heart.
15 [†] And thou shalt speak unto him, and put words in his mouth: and I will be with thy mouth, and with his mouth, and will teach you what ye shall do.
16 And he shall be thy spokesman unto the people: and he shall be, even he shall be to thee instead of a mouth, and thou shalt be to him instead of God.
17 And thou shalt take this rod in thine hand, wherewith thou shalt do signs.
18 [†] ¶ And Moses went and returned to Jethro his father in law, and said unto him, Let me go, I pray thee, and return unto my brethren which are in Egypt, and see whether they be yet alive. And Jethro said to Moses, Go in peace.
19 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses in Midian, Go, return into Egypt: for all the men are dead which sought thy life.
20 [†] And Moses took his wife and his sons, and set them upon an ass, and he returned to the land of Egypt: and Moses took the rod of God in his hand.
21 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, When thou goest to return into Egypt, see that thou do all those wonders before Pharaoh, which I have put in thine hand: but I will harden his heart, that he shall not let the people go.
22 [†] And thou shalt say unto Pharaoh, Thus saith the Lord, Israel is my son, even my firstborn:
23 And I say unto thee, Let my son go, that he may serve me: and if thou refuse to let him go, behold, I will slay thy son, even thy firstborn.

24 [†] ¶ And it came to pass by the way in the inn, that the LORD met him, and sought to kill him.
25 Then Zipporah took a sharp stone, and cut off the foreskin of her son, and cast it at his feet, and said, Surely a bloody husband art thou to me.
26 So he let him go: then she said, A bloody husband thou art, because of the circumcision.
27 ¶ And the LORD said to Aaron, Go into the wilderness to meet Moses. And he went, and met him in the mount of God, and kissed him.
28 And Moses told Aaron all the words of the LORD who had sent him, and all the signs which he had commanded him.
29 ¶ And Moses and Aaron went and gathered together all the elders of the children of Israel:
30 And Aaron spake all the words which the LORD had spoken unto Moses, and did the signs in the sight of the people.
31 And the people believed: and when they heard that the LORD had visited the children of Israel, and that he had looked upon their affliction, then they bowed their heads and worshipped.

Exodus 5 [†]

1 [†] And afterward Moses and Aaron went in, and told Pharaoh, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Let my people go, that they may hold a feast unto me in the wilderness.
2 [†] And Pharaoh said, Who is the Lord, that I should obey his voice to let Israel go? I know not the Lord, neither will I let Israel go.
3 [†] And they said, The God of the Hebrews hath met with us: let us go, we pray thee, three days' journey into the desert, and sacrifice unto the Lord our God; lest he fall upon us with pestilence, or with the sword.
4 [†] And the king of Egypt said unto them, Wherefore do ye, Moses and Aaron, let the people from their works? get you unto your burdens.
5 And Pharaoh said, Behold, the people of the land now are many, and ye make them rest from their burdens.
6 [†] And Pharaoh commanded the same day the taskmasters of the people, and their officers, saying,
7 [†] Ye shall no more give the people straw to make brick, as heretofore: let them go and gather straw for themselves.
8 And the tale of the bricks, which they did make heretofore, ye shall lay upon them; ye shall not diminish ought thereof: for they be idle; therefore they cry, saying, Let us go and sacrifice to our God.
9 [†] Let there more work be laid upon the men, that they may labour therein; and let them not regard vain words.
10 [†] ¶ And the taskmasters of the people went out, and their officers, and they spake to the people, saying, Thus saith Pharaoh, I will not give you straw.
11 Go ye, get you straw where ye can find it: yet not ought of your work shall be diminished.
12 So the people were scattered abroad throughout all the land of Egypt to gather stubble instead of straw.
13 [†] And the taskmasters hasted them, saying, Fulfil your works, your daily tasks, as when there was straw.
14 [†] And the officers of the children of Israel, which Pharaoh's taskmasters had set over them, were beaten, and demanded, Wherefore have ye not fulfilled your task in making brick both yesterday and to day, as heretofore?
15 ¶ Then the officers of the children of Israel came and cried unto Pharaoh, saying, Wherefore dealest thou thus with thy servants?
16 There is no straw given unto thy servants, and they say to us, Make brick: and, behold, thy servants are beaten; but the fault is in thine own people.
17 [†] But he said, Ye are idle, ye are idle: therefore ye say, Let us go and do sacrifice to the Lord.
18 [†] Go therefore now, and work; for there shall no straw be given you, yet shall ye deliver the tale of bricks.
19 [†] And the officers of the children of Israel did see that they were in evil case, after it was said, Ye shall not minish ought from your bricks of your daily task.
20 [†] ¶ And they met Moses and Aaron, who stood in the way, as they came forth from Pharaoh:
21 [†] And they said unto them, The Lord look upon you, and judge; because ye have made our savour to be abhorred in the eyes of Pharaoh, and in the eyes of his servants, to put a sword in their hand to slay us.
22 [†] And Moses returned unto the Lord, and said, Lord, wherefore hast thou so evil entreated this people? why is it that thou hast sent me?
23 For since I came to Pharaoh to speak in thy name, he hath done evil to this people; neither hast thou delivered thy people at all.

Exodus 6 [†]

1 [†] Then the Lord said unto Moses, Now shalt thou see what I will do to Pharaoh: for with a strong hand shall he let them go, and with a strong hand shall he drive them out of his land.
2 [†] And God spake unto Moses, and said unto him, I am the Lord:
3 [†] And I appeared unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, by the name of God Almighty, but by my name JEHOVAH was I not known to them.
4 [†] And I have also established my covenant with them, to give them the land of Canaan, the land of their pilgrimage, wherein they were strangers.
5 [†] And I have also heard the groaning of the children of Israel, whom the Egyptians keep in bondage; and I have remembered my covenant.
6 [†] Wherefore say unto the children of Israel, I am the Lord, and I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians, and I will rid you out of their bondage, and I will redeem you with a stretched out arm, and with great judgments:
7 And I will take you to me for a people, and I will be to you a God: and ye shall know that I am the Lord your God, which bringeth you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians.
8 [†] And I will bring you in unto the land, concerning the which I did swear to give it to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob; and I will give it you for an heritage: I am the Lord.
9 [†] ¶ And Moses spake so unto the children of Israel: but they hearkened not unto Moses for anguish of spirit, and for cruel bondage.
10 [†] And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
11 Go in, speak unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, that he let the children of Israel go out of his land.
12 And Moses spake before the Lord, saying, Behold, the children of Israel have not hearkened unto me; how then shall Pharaoh hear me, who am of uncircumcised lips?
13 And the Lord spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, and gave them a charge unto the children of Israel, and unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, to bring the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.
14 [†] ¶ These be the heads of their fathers' houses: The sons of Reuben the firstborn of Israel; Hanoch, and Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi: these be the families of Reuben.
15 And the sons of Simeon; Jemuel, and Jamin, and Ohad, and Jachin, and Zohar, and Shaul the son of a Canaanitish woman: these are the families of Simeon.
16 ¶ And these are the names of the sons of Levi according to their generations; Gershon, and Kohath, and Merari: and the years of the life of Levi were an hundred thirty and seven years.
17 The sons of Gershon; Libni, and Shimi, according to their families.
18 And the sons of Kohath; Amram, and Izhar, and Hebron, and Uzziel: and the years of the life of Kohath were an hundred thirty and three years.
19 And the sons of Merari; Mahali and Mushi: these are the families of Levi according to their generations.
20 [†] And Amram took him Jochebed his father's sister to wife; and she bare him Aaron and Moses: and the years of the life of Amram were an hundred and thirty and seven years.
21 ¶ And the sons of Izhar; Korah, and Nepheg, and Zichri.
22 And the sons of Uzziel; Mishael, and Elzaphan, and Zithri.
23 And Aaron took him Elisheba, daughter of Amminadab, sister of Naashon, to wife; and she bare him Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.
24 And the sons of Korah; Assir, and Elkanah, and Abiasaph: these are the families of the Korhites.
25 And Eleazar Aaron's son took him one of the daughters of Putiel to wife; and she bare him Phinehas: these are the heads of the fathers of the Levites according to their families.

26 These are that Aaron and Moses, to whom the LORD said, Bring out the children of Israel from the land of Egypt according to their armies.
27 [†] These are they which spake to Pharaoh king of Egypt, to bring out the children of Israel from Egypt: these are that Moses and Aaron.
28 [†] ¶ And it came to pass on the day when the LORD spake unto Moses in the land of Egypt,
29 That the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, I am the LORD: speak thou unto Pharaoh king of Egypt all that I say unto thee.
30 And Moses said before the LORD, Behold, I am of uncircumcised lips, and how shall Pharaoh hearken unto me?

Exodus 7 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, See, I have made thee a god to Pharaoh: and Aaron thy brother shall be thy prophet.
2 [†] Thou shalt speak all that I command thee: and Aaron thy brother shall speak unto Pharaoh, that he send the children of Israel out of his land.
3 [†] And I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and multiply my signs and my wonders in the land of Egypt.
4 [†] But Pharaoh shall not hearken unto you, that I may lay my hand upon Egypt, and bring forth mine armies, and my people the children of Israel, out of the land of Egypt by great judgments.
5 And the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, when I stretch forth mine hand upon Egypt, and bring out the children of Israel from among them.
6 And Moses and Aaron did as the Lord commanded them, so did they.
7 [†] And Moses was fourscore years old, and Aaron fourscore and three years old, when they spake unto Pharaoh.
8 [†] ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying,
9 When Pharaoh shall speak unto you, saying, Shew a miracle for you: then thou shalt say unto Aaron, Take thy rod, and cast it before Pharaoh, and it shall become a serpent.
10 [†] ¶ And Moses and Aaron went in unto Pharaoh, and they did so as the Lord had commanded: and Aaron cast down his rod before Pharaoh, and before his servants, and it became a serpent.
11 [†] Then Pharaoh also called the wise men and the sorcerers: now the magicians of Egypt, they also did in like manner with their enchantments.
12 [†] For they cast down every man his rod, and they became serpents: but Aaron's rod swallowed up their rods.
13 [†] And he hardened Pharaoh's heart, that he hearkened not unto them; as the Lord had said.
14 ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Pharaoh's heart is hardened, he refuseth to let the people go.
15 Get thee unto Pharaoh in the morning; lo, he goeth out unto the water; and thou shalt stand by the river's brink against he come; and the rod which was turned to a serpent shalt thou take in thine hand.
16 [†] And thou shalt say unto him, The Lord God of the Hebrews hath sent me unto thee, saying, Let my people go, that they may serve me in the wilderness: and, behold, hitherto thou wouldest not hear.
17 [†] Thus saith the Lord, In this thou shalt know that I am the Lord: behold, I will smite with the rod that is in mine hand upon the waters which are in the river, and they shall be turned to blood.
18 [†] And the fish that is in the river shall die, and the river shall stink; and the Egyptians shall lothe to drink of the water of the river.
19 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, Say unto Aaron, Take thy rod, and stretch out thine hand upon the waters of Egypt, upon their streams, upon their rivers, and upon their ponds, and upon all their pools of water, that they may become blood; and that there may be blood throughout all the land of Egypt, both in vessels of wood, and in vessels of stone.
20 [†] And Moses and Aaron did so, as the Lord commanded; and he lifted up the rod, and smote the waters that were in the river, in the sight of Pharaoh, and in the sight of his servants; and all the waters that were in the river were turned to blood.
21 [†] And the fish that was in the river died; and the river stank, and the Egyptians could not drink of the water of the river; and there was blood throughout all the land of Egypt.
22 And the magicians of Egypt did so with their enchantments: and Pharaoh's heart was hardened, neither did he hearken unto them; as the Lord had said.
23 And Pharaoh turned and went into his house, neither did he set his heart to this also.
24 And all the Egyptians digged round about the river for water to drink; for they could not drink of the water of the river.

25 And seven days were fulfilled, after that the LORD had smitten the river.

Exodus 8 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, Go unto Pharaoh, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Let my people go, that they may serve me.
2 [†] And if thou refuse to let them go, behold, I will smite all thy borders with frogs:
3 [†] And the river shall bring forth frogs abundantly, which shall go up and come into thine house, and into thy bedchamber, and upon thy bed, and into the house of thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thine ovens, and into thy kneadingtroughs:
4 And the frogs shall come up both on thee, and upon thy people, and upon all thy servants.
5 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, Say unto Aaron, Stretch forth thine hand with thy rod over the streams, over the rivers, and over the ponds, and cause frogs to come up upon the land of Egypt.
6 And Aaron stretched out his hand over the waters of Egypt; and the frogs came up, and covered the land of Egypt.
7 [†] And the magicians did so with their enchantments, and brought up frogs upon the land of Egypt.
8 [†] ¶ Then Pharaoh called for Moses and Aaron, and said, Intreat the Lord, that he may take away the frogs from me, and from my people; and I will let the people go, that they may do sacrifice unto the Lord.
9 [†] And Moses said unto Pharaoh, Glory over me: when shall I intreat for thee, and for thy servants, and for thy people, to destroy the frogs from thee and thy houses, that they may remain in the river only?
10 [†] And he said, To morrow. And he said, Be it according to thy word: that thou mayest know that there is none like unto the Lord our God.
11 And the frogs shall depart from thee, and from thy houses, and from thy servants, and from thy people; they shall remain in the river only.
12 And Moses and Aaron went out from Pharaoh: and Moses cried unto the Lord because of the frogs which he had brought against Pharaoh.
13 [†] And the Lord did according to the word of Moses; and the frogs died out of the houses, out of the villages, and out of the fields.
14 [†] And they gathered them together upon heaps: and the land stank.
15 [†] But when Pharaoh saw that there was respite, he hardened his heart, and hearkened not unto them; as the Lord had said.
16 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Say unto Aaron, Stretch out thy rod, and smite the dust of the land, that it may become lice throughout all the land of Egypt.
17 And they did so; for Aaron stretched out his hand with his rod, and smote the dust of the earth, and it became lice in man, and in beast; all the dust of the land became lice throughout all the land of Egypt.
18 And the magicians did so with their enchantments to bring forth lice, but they could not: so there were lice upon man, and upon beast.
19 [†] Then the magicians said unto Pharaoh, This is the finger of God: and Pharaoh's heart was hardened, and he hearkened not unto them; as the Lord had said.
20 ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh; lo, he cometh forth to the water; and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Let my people go, that they may serve me.
21 [†] Else, if thou wilt not let my people go, behold, I will send swarms of flies upon thee, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thy houses: and the houses of the Egyptians shall be full of swarms of flies, and also the ground whereon they are.
22 [†] And I will sever in that day the land of Goshen, in which my people dwell, that no swarms of flies shall be there; to the end thou mayest know that I am the LORD in the midst of the earth.

23 [†] And I will put a division between my people and thy people: to morrow shall this sign be.
24 And the LORD did so; and there came a grievous swarm of flies into the house of Pharaoh, and into his servants' houses, and into all the land of Egypt: the land was corrupted by reason of the swarm of flies.
25 ¶ And Pharaoh called for Moses and for Aaron, and said, Go ye, sacrifice to your God in the land.
26 [†] And Moses said, It is not meet so to do; for we shall sacrifice the abomination of the Egyptians to the LORD our God: lo, shall we sacrifice the abomination of the Egyptians before their eyes, and will they not stone us?
27 We will go three days' journey into the wilderness, and sacrifice to the LORD our God, as he shall command us.
28 [†] And Pharaoh said, I will let you go, that ye may sacrifice to the LORD your God in the wilderness; only ye shall not go very far away: intreat for me.
29 And Moses said, Behold, I go out from thee, and I will intreat the LORD that the swarms of flies may depart from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people, to morrow: but let not Pharaoh deal deceitfully any more in not letting the people go to sacrifice to the LORD.
30 And Moses went out from Pharaoh, and intreated the LORD.
31 [†] And the LORD did according to the word of Moses; and he removed the swarms of flies from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people; there remained not one.
32 And Pharaoh hardened his heart at this time also, neither would he let the people go.

Exodus 9 [†]

1 Then the Lord said unto Moses, Go in unto Pharaoh, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Hebrews, Let my people go, that they may serve me.
2 For if thou refuse to let them go, and wilt hold them still,
3 [†] Behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thy cattle which is in the field, upon the horses, upon the asses, upon the camels, upon the oxen, and upon the sheep: there shall be a very grievous murrain.
4 [†] And the Lord shall sever between the cattle of Israel and the cattle of Egypt: and there shall nothing die of all that is the children's of Israel.
5 And the Lord appointed a set time, saying, To morrow the Lord shall do this thing in the land.
6 [†] And the Lord did that thing on the morrow, and all the cattle of Egypt died: but of the cattle of the children of Israel died not one.
7 [†] And Pharaoh sent, and, behold, there was not one of the cattle of the Israelites dead. And the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not let the people go.
8 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses and unto Aaron, Take to you handfuls of ashes of the furnace, and let Moses sprinkle it toward the heaven in the sight of Pharaoh.
9 [†] And it shall become small dust in all the land of Egypt, and shall be a boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast, throughout all the land of Egypt.
10 And they took ashes of the furnace, and stood before Pharaoh; and Moses sprinkled it up toward heaven; and it became a boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast.
11 [†] And the magicians could not stand before Moses because of the boils; for the boil was upon the magicians, and upon all the Egyptians.
12 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he hearkened not unto them; as the Lord had spoken unto Moses.
13 ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Hebrews, Let my people go, that they may serve me.
14 [†] For I will at this time send all my plagues upon thine heart, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people; that thou mayest know that there is none like me in all the earth.
15 For now I will stretch out my hand, that I may smite thee and thy people with pestilence; and thou shalt be cut off from the earth.
16 [†] And in very deed for this cause have I raised thee up, for to shew in thee my power; and that my name may be declared throughout all the earth.
17 As yet exaltest thou thyself against my people, that thou wilt not let them go?
18 [†] Behold, to morrow about this time I will cause it to rain a very grievous hail, such as hath not been in Egypt since the foundation thereof even until now.
19 Send therefore now, and gather thy cattle, and all that thou hast in the field; for upon every man and beast which shall be found in the field, and shall not be brought home, the hail shall come down upon them, and they shall die.
20 [†] He that feared the word of the Lord among the servants of Pharaoh made his servants and his cattle flee into the houses:
21 And he that regarded not the word of the Lord left his servants and his cattle in the field.
22 ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Stretch forth thine hand toward heaven, that there may be hail in all the land of Egypt, upon man, and upon beast, and upon every herb of the field, throughout the land of Egypt.
23 [†] And Moses stretched forth his rod toward heaven: and the Lord sent thunder and hail, and the fire ran along upon the ground; and the Lord rained hail upon the land of Egypt.

24 So there was hail, and fire mingled with the hail, very grievous, such as there was none like it in all the land of Egypt since it became a nation.
25 [†] And the hail smote throughout all the land of Egypt all that was in the field, both man and beast; and the hail smote every herb of the field, and brake every tree of the field.
26 [†] Only in the land of Goshen, where the children of Israel were, was there no hail.
27 [†] ¶ And Pharaoh sent, and called for Moses and Aaron, and said unto them, I have sinned this time: the LORD is righteous, and I and my people are wicked.
28 [†] Intreat the LORD (for it is enough) that there be no more mighty thunderings and hail; and I will let you go, and ye shall stay no longer.
29 And Moses said unto him, As soon as I am gone out of the city, I will spread abroad my hands unto the LORD; and the thunder shall cease, neither shall there be any more hail; that thou mayest know how that the earth is the LORD's.
30 But as for thee and thy servants, I know that ye will not yet fear the LORD God.
31 [†] And the flax and the barley was smitten: for the barley was in the ear, and the flax was bolled.
32 But the wheat and the rie were not smitten: for they were not grown up.
33 And Moses went out of the city from Pharaoh, and spread abroad his hands unto the LORD: and the thunders and hail ceased, and the rain was not poured upon the earth.
34 And when Pharaoh saw that the rain and the hail and the thunders were ceased, he sinned yet more, and hardened his heart, he and his servants.
35 And the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, neither would he let the children of Israel go; as the LORD had spoken by Moses.

Exodus 10 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Go in unto Pharaoh: for I have hardened his heart, and the heart of his servants, that I might shew these my signs before him:
2 And that thou mayest tell in the ears of thy son, and of thy son's son, what things I have wrought in Egypt, and my signs which I have done among them; that ye may know how that I am the Lord.
3 [†] And Moses and Aaron came in unto Pharaoh, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Hebrews, How long wilt thou refuse to humble thyself before me? let my people go, that they may serve me.
4 [†] Else, if thou refuse to let my people go, behold, to morrow will I bring the locusts into thy coast:
5 [†] And they shall cover the face of the earth, that one cannot be able to see the earth: and they shall eat the residue of that which is escaped, which remaineth unto you from the hail, and shall eat every tree which groweth for you out of the field:
6 [†] And they shall fill thy houses, and the houses of all thy servants, and the houses of all the Egyptians; which neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers' fathers have seen, since the day that they were upon the earth unto this day. And he turned himself, and went out from Pharaoh.
7 [†] And Pharaoh's servants said unto him, How long shall this man be a snare unto us? let the men go, that they may serve the Lord their God: knowest thou not yet that Egypt is destroyed?
8 And Moses and Aaron were brought again unto Pharaoh: and he said unto them, Go, serve the Lord your God: but who are they that shall go?
9 And Moses said, We will go with our young and with our old, with our sons and with our daughters, with our flocks and with our herds will we go; for we must hold a feast unto the Lord.
10 [†] And he said unto them, Let the Lord be so with you, as I will let you go, and your little ones: look to it; for evil is before you.
11 Not so: go now ye that are men, and serve the Lord; for that ye did desire. And they were driven out from Pharaoh's presence.
12 ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Stretch out thine hand over the land of Egypt for the locusts, that they may come up upon the land of Egypt, and eat every herb of the land, even all that the hail hath left.
13 And Moses stretched forth his rod over the land of Egypt, and the Lord brought an east wind upon the land all that day, and all that night; and when it was morning, the east wind brought the locusts.
14 [†] And the locusts went up over all the land of Egypt, and rested in all the coasts of Egypt: very grievous were they; before them there were no such locusts as they, neither after them shall be such.
15 [†] For they covered the face of the whole earth, so that the land was darkened; and they did eat every herb of the land, and all the fruit of the trees which the hail had left: and there remained not any green thing in the trees, or in the herbs of the field, through all the land of Egypt.
16 ¶ Then Pharaoh called for Moses and Aaron in haste; and he said, I have sinned against the Lord your God, and against you.
17 [†] Now therefore forgive, I pray thee, my sin only this once, and intreat the Lord your God, that he may take away from me this death only.
18 And he went out from Pharaoh, and intreated the Lord.
19 [†] And the Lord turned a mighty strong west wind, which took away the locusts, and cast them into the Red sea; there remained not one locust in all the coasts of Egypt.
20 But the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, so that he would not let the children of Israel go.
21 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Stretch out thine hand toward heaven, that there may be darkness over the land of Egypt, even darkness which may be felt.

22 And Moses stretched forth his hand toward heaven; and there was a thick darkness in all the land of Egypt three days:
23 They saw not one another, neither rose any from his place for three days: but all the children of Israel had light in their dwellings.
24 [†] ¶ And Pharaoh called unto Moses, and said, Go ye, serve the LORD; only let your flocks and your herds be stayed: let your little ones also go with you.
25 And Moses said, Thou must give us also sacrifices and burnt offerings, that we may sacrifice unto the LORD our God.
26 [†] Our cattle also shall go with us; there shall not an hoof be left behind; for thereof must we take to serve the LORD our God; and we know not with what we must serve the LORD, until we come thither.
27 [†] ¶ But the LORD hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he would not let them go.
28 [†] And Pharaoh said unto him, Get thee from me, take heed to thyself, see my face no more; for in that day thou seest my face thou shalt die.
29 And Moses said, Thou hast spoken well, I will see thy face again no more.

Exodus 11 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Yet will I bring one plague more upon Pharaoh, and upon Egypt; afterwards he will let you go hence: when he shall let you go, he shall surely thrust you out hence altogether.
2 [†] Speak now in the ears of the people, and let every man borrow of his neighbour, and every woman of her neighbour, jewels of silver, and jewels of gold.
3 [†] And the Lord gave the people favour in the sight of the Egyptians. Moreover the man Moses was very great in the land of Egypt, in the sight of Pharaoh's servants, and in the sight of the people.
4 [†] And Moses said, Thus saith the Lord, About midnight will I go out into the midst of Egypt:
5 [†] And all the firstborn in the land of Egypt shall die, from the firstborn of Pharaoh that sitteth upon his throne, even unto the firstborn of the maidservant that is behind the mill; and all the firstborn of beasts.
6 [†] And there shall be a great cry throughout all the land of Egypt, such as there was none like it, nor shall be like it any more.
7 [†] But against any of the children of Israel shall not a dog move his tongue, against man or beast: that ye may know how that the Lord doth put a difference between the Egyptians and Israel.
8 And all these thy servants shall come down unto me, and bow down themselves unto me, saying, Get thee out, and all the people that follow thee: and after that I will go out. And he went out from Pharaoh in a great anger.
9 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Pharaoh shall not hearken unto you; that my wonders may be multiplied in the land of Egypt.
10 And Moses and Aaron did all these wonders before Pharaoh: and the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, so that he would not let the children of Israel go out of his land.

Exodus 12 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt, saying,
2 [†] This month shall be unto you the beginning of months: it shall be the first month of the year to you.
3 [†] ¶ Speak ye unto all the congregation of Israel, saying, In the tenth day of this month they shall take to them every man a lamb, according to the house of their fathers, a lamb for an house:
4 [†] And if the household be too little for the lamb, let him and his neighbour next unto his house take it according to the number of the souls; every man according to his eating shall make your count for the lamb.
5 [†] Your lamb shall be without blemish, a male of the first year: ye shall take it out from the sheep, or from the goats:
6 And ye shall keep it up until the fourteenth day of the same month: and the whole assembly of the congregation of Israel shall kill it in the evening.
7 [†] And they shall take of the blood, and strike it on the two side posts and on the upper door post of the houses, wherein they shall eat it.
8 [†] And they shall eat the flesh in that night, roast with fire, and unleavened bread; and with bitter herbs they shall eat it.
9 [†] Eat not of it raw, nor sodden at all with water, but roast with fire; his head with his legs, and with the purtenance thereof.
10 And ye shall let nothing of it remain until the morning; and that which remaineth of it until the morning ye shall burn with fire.
11 [†] ¶ And thus shall ye eat it; with your loins girded, your shoes on your feet, and your staff in your hand; and ye shall eat it in haste: it is the Lord's passover.
12 [†] For I will pass through the land of Egypt this night, and will smite all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, both man and beast; and against all the gods of Egypt I will execute judgment: I am the Lord.
13 [†] And the blood shall be to you for a token upon the houses where ye are: and when I see the blood, I will pass over you, and the plague shall not be upon you to destroy you, when I smite the land of Egypt.
14 [†] And this day shall be unto you for a memorial; and ye shall keep it a feast to the Lord throughout your generations; ye shall keep it a feast by an ordinance for ever.
15 [†] Seven days shall ye eat unleavened bread; even the first day ye shall put away leaven out of your houses: for whosoever eateth leavened bread from the first day until the seventh day, that soul shall be cut off from Israel.
16 [†] And in the first day there shall be an holy convocation, and in the seventh day there shall be an holy convocation to you; no manner of work shall be done in them, save that which every man must eat, that only may be done of you.
17 [†] And ye shall observe the feast of unleavened bread; for in this selfsame day have I brought your armies out of the land of Egypt: therefore shall ye observe this day in your generations by an ordinance for ever.
18 ¶ In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month at even, ye shall eat unleavened bread, until the one and twentieth day of the month at even.
19 [†] Seven days shall there be no leaven found in your houses: for whosoever eateth that which is leavened, even that soul shall be cut off from the congregation of Israel, whether he be a stranger, or born in the land.
20 [†] Ye shall eat nothing leavened; in all your habitations shall ye eat unleavened bread.

21 [†] ¶ Then Moses called for all the elders of Israel, and said unto them, Draw out and take you a lamb according to your families, and kill the passover.
22 [†] And ye shall take a bunch of hyssop, and dip it in the blood that is in the bason, and strike the lintel and the two side posts with the blood that is in the bason; and none of you shall go out at the door of his house until the morning.
23 [†] For the LORD will pass through to smite the Egyptians; and when he seeth the blood upon the lintel, and on the two side posts, the LORD will pass over the door, and will not suffer the destroyer to come in unto your houses to smite you.
24 And ye shall observe this thing for an ordinance to thee and to thy sons for ever.
25 [†] And it shall come to pass, when ye be come to the land which the LORD will give you, according as he hath promised, that ye shall keep this service.
26 [†] And it shall come to pass, when your children shall say unto you, What mean ye by this service?
27 That ye shall say, It is the sacrifice of the LORD's passover, who passed over the houses of the children of Israel in Egypt, when he smote the Egyptians, and delivered our houses. And the people bowed the head and worshipped.
28 And the children of Israel went away, and did as the LORD had commanded Moses and Aaron, so did they.
29 ¶ And it came to pass, that at midnight the LORD smote all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of Pharaoh that sat on his throne unto the firstborn of the captive that was in the dungeon; and all the firstborn of cattle.
30 And Pharaoh rose up in the night, he, and all his servants, and all the Egyptians; and there was a great cry in Egypt; for there was not a house where there was not one dead.
31 [†] ¶ And he called for Moses and Aaron by night, and said, Rise up, and get you forth from among my people, both ye and the children of Israel; and go, serve the LORD, as ye have said.
32 Also take your flocks and your herds, as ye have said, and be gone; and bless me also.
33 And the Egyptians were urgent upon the people, that they might send them out of the land in haste; for they said, We be all dead men.
34 [†] And the people took their dough before it was leavened, their kneadingtroughs being bound up in their clothes upon their shoulders.
35 [†] And the children of Israel did according to the word of Moses; and they borrowed of the Egyptians jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment:
36 [†] And the LORD gave the people favour in the sight of the Egyptians, so that they lent unto them such things as they required. And they spoiled the Egyptians.
37 [†] ¶ And the children of Israel journeyed from Rameses to Succoth, about six hundred thousand on foot that were men, beside children.
38 [†] And a mixed multitude went up also with them; and flocks, and herds, even very much cattle.
39 [†] And they baked unleavened cakes of the dough which they brought forth out of Egypt, for it was not leavened; because they were thrust out of Egypt, and could not tarry, neither had they prepared for themselves any victual.
40 [†] ¶ Now the sojourning of the children of Israel, who dwelt in Egypt, was four hundred and thirty years.
41 [†] And it came to pass at the end of the four hundred and thirty years, even the selfsame day it came to pass, that all the hosts of the LORD went out from the land of Egypt.
42 It is a night to be much observed unto the LORD for bringing them out from the land of Egypt: this is that night of the LORD to be observed of all the children of Israel in their generations.
43 [†] ¶ And the LORD said unto Moses and Aaron, This is the ordinance of the passover: There shall no stranger eat thereof:

44 But every man’s servant that is bought for money, when thou hast circumcised him, then shall he eat thereof.
45 A foreigner and an hired servant shall not eat thereof.
46 [†] In one house shall it be eaten; thou shalt not carry forth ought of the flesh abroad out of the house; neither shall ye break a bone thereof.
47 [†] All the congregation of Israel shall keep it.
48 And when a stranger shall sojourn with thee, and will keep the passover to the LORD, let all his males be circumcised, and then let him come near and keep it; and he shall be as one that is born in the land: for no uncircumcised person shall eat thereof.
49 One law shall be to him that is homeborn, and unto the stranger that sojourneth among you.
50 [†] Thus did all the children of Israel; as the LORD commanded Moses and Aaron, so did they.
51 [†] And it came to pass the selfsame day, that the LORD did bring the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt by their armies.

Exodus 13 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Sanctify unto me all the firstborn, whatsoever openeth the womb among the children of Israel, both of man and of beast: it is mine.
3 [†] ¶ And Moses said unto the people, Remember this day, in which ye came out from Egypt, out of the house of bondage; for by strength of hand the Lord brought you out from this place: there shall no leavened bread be eaten.
4 This day came ye out in the month Abib.
5 [†] ¶ And it shall be when the Lord shall bring thee into the land of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites, which he sware unto thy fathers to give thee, a land flowing with milk and honey, that thou shalt keep this service in this month.
6 Seven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, and in the seventh day shall be a feast to the Lord.
7 [†] Unleavened bread shall be eaten seven days; and there shall no leavened bread be seen with thee, neither shall there be leaven seen with thee in all thy quarters.
8 ¶ And thou shalt shew thy son in that day, saying, This is done because of that which the Lord did unto me when I came forth out of Egypt.
9 [†] And it shall be for a sign unto thee upon thine hand, and for a memorial between thine eyes, that the Lord's law may be in thy mouth: for with a strong hand hath the Lord brought thee out of Egypt.
10 Thou shalt therefore keep this ordinance in his season from year to year.
11 ¶ And it shall be when the Lord shall bring thee into the land of the Canaanites, as he sware unto thee and to thy fathers, and shall give it thee,
12 [†] That thou shalt set apart unto the Lord all that openeth the matrix, and every firstling that cometh of a beast which thou hast; the males shall be the Lord's.
13 And every firstling of an ass thou shalt redeem with a lamb; and if thou wilt not redeem it, then thou shalt break his neck: and all the firstborn of man among thy children shalt thou redeem.
14 [†] ¶ And it shall be when thy son asketh thee in time to come, saying, What is this? that thou shalt say unto him, By strength of hand the Lord brought us out from Egypt, from the house of bondage:
15 [†] And it came to pass, when Pharaoh would hardly let us go, that the Lord slew all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, both the firstborn of man, and the firstborn of beast: therefore I sacrifice to the Lord all that openeth the matrix, being males; but all the firstborn of my children I redeem.
16 [†] And it shall be for a token upon thine hand, and for frontlets between thine eyes: for by strength of hand the Lord brought us forth out of Egypt.
17 [†] ¶ And it came to pass, when Pharaoh had let the people go, that God led them not through the way of the land of the Philistines, although that was near; for God said, Lest peradventure the people repent when they see war, and they return to Egypt:
18 [†] But God led the people about, through the way of the wilderness of the Red sea: and the children of Israel went up harnessed out of the land of Egypt.
19 [†] And Moses took the bones of Joseph with him: for he had straitly sworn the children of Israel, saying, God will surely visit you; and ye shall carry up my bones away hence with you.
20 [†] ¶ And they took their journey from Succoth, and encamped in Etham, in the edge of the wilderness.
21 [†] And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night:
22 He took not away the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, from before the people.

Exodus 14 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, that they turn and encamp before Pi-hahiroth, between Migdol and the sea, over against Baal-zephon: before it shall ye encamp by the sea.
3 [†] For Pharaoh will say of the children of Israel, They are entangled in the land, the wilderness hath shut them in.
4 [†] And I will harden Pharaoh's heart, that he shall follow after them; and I will be honoured upon Pharaoh, and upon all his host; that the Egyptians may know that I am the Lord. And they did so.
5 [†] ¶ And it was told the king of Egypt that the people fled: and the heart of Pharaoh and of his servants was turned against the people, and they said, Why have we done this, that we have let Israel go from serving us?
6 [†] And he made ready his chariot, and took his people with him:
7 And he took six hundred chosen chariots, and all the chariots of Egypt, and captains over every one of them.
8 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and he pursued after the children of Israel: and the children of Israel went out with an high hand.
9 But the Egyptians pursued after them, all the horses and chariots of Pharaoh, and his horsemen, and his army, and overtook them encamping by the sea, beside Pi-hahiroth, before Baal-zephon.
10 [†] ¶ And when Pharaoh drew nigh, the children of Israel lifted up their eyes, and, behold, the Egyptians marched after them; and they were sore afraid: and the children of Israel cried out unto the Lord.
11 [†] And they said unto Moses, Because there were no graves in Egypt, hast thou taken us away to die in the wilderness? wherefore hast thou dealt thus with us, to carry us forth out of Egypt?
12 Is not this the word that we did tell thee in Egypt, saying, Let us alone, that we may serve the Egyptians? For it had been better for us to serve the Egyptians, than that we should die in the wilderness.
13 [†] ¶ And Moses said unto the people, Fear ye not, stand still, and see the salvation of the Lord, which he will shew to you to day: for the Egyptians whom ye have seen to day, ye shall see them again no more for ever.
14 [†] The Lord shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace.
15 ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Wherefore criest thou unto me? speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward:
16 [†] But lift thou up thy rod, and stretch out thine hand over the sea, and divide it: and the children of Israel shall go on dry ground through the midst of the sea.
17 [†] And I, behold, I will harden the hearts of the Egyptians, and they shall follow them: and I will get me honour upon Pharaoh, and upon all his host, upon his chariots, and upon his horsemen.
18 And the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, when I have gotten me honour upon Pharaoh, upon his chariots, and upon his horsemen.
19 [†] ¶ And the angel of God, which went before the camp of Israel, removed and went behind them; and the pillar of the cloud went from before their face, and stood behind them:
20 And it came between the camp of the Egyptians and the camp of Israel; and it was a cloud and darkness to them, but it gave light by night to these: so that the one came not near the other all the night.
21 And Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the Lord caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided.
22 [†] And the children of Israel went into the midst of the sea upon the dry ground: and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left.

23 ¶ And the Egyptians pursued, and went in after them to the midst of the sea, even all Pharaoh's horses, his chariots, and his horsemen.
24 [†] And it came to pass, that in the morning watch the LORD looked unto the host of the Egyptians through the pillar of fire and of the cloud, and troubled the host of the Egyptians,
25 [†] And took off their chariot wheels, that they drave them heavily: so that the Egyptians said, Let us flee from the face of Israel; for the LORD fighteth for them against the Egyptians.
26 ¶ And the LORD said unto Moses, Stretch out thine hand over the sea, that the waters may come again upon the Egyptians, upon their chariots, and upon their horsemen.
27 [†] And Moses stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the sea returned to his strength when the morning appeared; and the Egyptians fled against it; and the LORD overthrew the Egyptians in the midst of the sea.
28 [†] And the waters returned, and covered the chariots, and the horsemen, and all the host of Pharaoh that came into the sea after them; there remained not so much as one of them.
29 But the children of Israel walked upon dry land in the midst of the sea; and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left.
30 [†] Thus the LORD saved Israel that day out of the hand of the Egyptians; and Israel saw the Egyptians dead upon the sea shore.
31 And Israel saw that great work which the LORD did upon the Egyptians: and the people feared the LORD, and believed the LORD, and his servant Moses.

Exodus 15 [†]

1 [†] Then sang Moses and the children of Israel this song unto the Lord, and spake, saying, I will sing unto the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.
2 [†] The Lord is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation: he is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation; my father's God, and I will exalt him.
3 [†] The Lord is a man of war: the Lord is his name.
4 [†] Pharaoh's chariots and his host hath he cast into the sea: his chosen captains also are drowned in the Red sea.
5 [†] The depths have covered them: they sank into the bottom as a stone.
6 [†] Thy right hand, O Lord, is become glorious in power: thy right hand, O Lord, hath dashed in pieces the enemy.
7 [†] And in the greatness of thine excellency thou hast overthrown them that rose up against thee: thou sentest forth thy wrath, which consumed them as stubble.
8 [†] And with the blast of thy nostrils the waters were gathered together, the floods stood upright as an heap, and the depths were congealed in the heart of the sea.
9 [†] The enemy said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoil; my lust shall be satisfied upon them; I will draw my sword, my hand shall destroy them.
10 Thou didst blow with thy wind, the sea covered them: they sank as lead in the mighty waters.
11 [†] Who is like unto thee, O Lord, among the gods? who is like thee, glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders?
12 Thou stretchedst out thy right hand, the earth swallowed them.
13 [†] Thou in thy mercy hast led forth the people which thou hast redeemed: thou hast guided them in thy strength unto thy holy habitation.
14 [†] The people shall hear, and be afraid: sorrow shall take hold on the inhabitants of Palestina.
15 [†] Then the dukes of Edom shall be amazed; the mighty men of Moab, trembling shall take hold upon them; all the inhabitants of Canaan shall melt away.
16 [†] Fear and dread shall fall upon them; by the greatness of thine arm they shall be as still as a stone; till thy people pass over, O Lord, till the people pass over, which thou hast purchased.
17 [†] Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the mountain of thine inheritance, in the place, O Lord, which thou hast made for thee to dwell in, in the Sanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have established.
18 [†] The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.
19 For the horse of Pharaoh went in with his chariots and with his horsemen into the sea, and the Lord brought again the waters of the sea upon them; but the children of Israel went on dry land in the midst of the sea.
20 [†] ¶ And Miriam the prophetess, the sister of Aaron, took a timbrel in her hand; and all the women went out after her with timbrels and with dances.
21 And Miriam answered them, Sing ye to the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously; the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.
22 [†] So Moses brought Israel from the Red sea, and they went out into the wilderness of Shur; and they went three days in the wilderness, and found no water.
23 ¶ And when they came to Marah, they could not drink of the waters of Marah, for they were bitter: therefore the name of it was called Marah.
24 [†] And the people murmured against Moses, saying, What shall we drink?
25 [†] And he cried unto the Lord; and the Lord shewed him a tree, which when he had cast into the waters, the waters were made sweet: there he made for them a statute and an ordinance, and there he proved them,

26 And said, If thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the LORD thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, I will put none of these diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Egyptians: for I am the LORD that healeth thee.
27 [†] ¶ And they came to Elim, where were twelve wells of water, and threescore and ten palm trees: and they encamped there by the waters.

Exodus 16 [†]

1 [†] And they took their journey from Elim, and all the congregation of the children of Israel came unto the wilderness of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai, on the fifteenth day of the second month after their departing out of the land of Egypt.
2 And the whole congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness:
3 [†] And the children of Israel said unto them, Would to God we had died by the hand of the LORD in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the flesh pots, and when we did eat bread to the full; for ye have brought us forth into this wilderness, to kill this whole assembly with hunger.
4 [†] ¶ Then said the LORD unto Moses, Behold, I will rain bread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather a certain rate every day, that I may prove them, whether they will walk in my law, or no.
5 [†] And it shall come to pass, that on the sixth day they shall prepare that which they bring in; and it shall be twice as much as they gather daily.
6 [†] And Moses and Aaron said unto all the children of Israel, At even, then ye shall know that the LORD hath brought you out from the land of Egypt:
7 And in the morning, then ye shall see the glory of the LORD; for that he heareth your murmurings against the LORD: and what are we, that ye murmur against us?
8 And Moses said, This shall be, when the LORD shall give you in the evening flesh to eat, and in the morning bread to the full; for that the LORD heareth your murmurings which ye murmur against him: and what are we? your murmurings are not against us, but against the LORD.
9 ¶ And Moses spake unto Aaron, Say unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, Come near before the LORD: for he hath heard your murmurings.
10 And it came to pass, as Aaron spake unto the whole congregation of the children of Israel, that they looked toward the wilderness, and, behold, the glory of the LORD appeared in the cloud.
11 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
12 I have heard the murmurings of the children of Israel: speak unto them, saying, At even ye shall eat flesh, and in the morning ye shall be filled with bread; and ye shall know that I am the LORD your God.
13 [†] And it came to pass, that at even the quails came up, and covered the camp: and in the morning the dew lay round about the host.
14 And when the dew that lay was gone up, behold, upon the face of the wilderness there lay a small round thing, as small as the hoar frost on the ground.
15 [†] And when the children of Israel saw it, they said one to another, It is manna: for they wist not what it was. And Moses said unto them, This is the bread which the LORD hath given you to eat.
16 [†] ¶ This is the thing which the LORD hath commanded, Gather of it every man according to his eating, an omer for every man, according to the number of your persons; take ye every man for them which are in his tents.
17 And the children of Israel did so, and gathered, some more, some less.
18 [†] And when they did mete it with an omer, he that gathered much had nothing over, and he that gathered little had no lack; they gathered every man according to his eating.
19 And Moses said, Let no man leave of it till the morning.
20 [†] Notwithstanding they hearkened not unto Moses; but some of them left of it until the morning, and it bred worms, and stank: and Moses was wroth with them.
21 [†] And they gathered it every morning, every man according to his eating: and when the sun waxed hot, it melted.

22 [†] ¶ And it came to pass, that on the sixth day they gathered twice as much bread, two omers for one man: and all the rulers of the congregation came and told Moses.
23 [†] And he said unto them, This is that which the LORD hath said, To morrow is the rest of the holy sabbath unto the LORD: bake that which ye will bake to day, and seethe that ye will seethe; and that which remaineth over lay up for you to be kept until the morning.
24 [†] And they laid it up till the morning, as Moses bade: and it did not stink, neither was there any worm therein.
25 And Moses said, Eat that to day; for to day is a sabbath unto the LORD: to day ye shall not find it in the field.
26 Six days ye shall gather it; but on the seventh day, which is the sabbath, in it there shall be none.
27 ¶ And it came to pass, that there went out some of the people on the seventh day for to gather, and they found none.
28 And the LORD said unto Moses, How long refuse ye to keep my commandments and my laws?
29 See, for that the LORD hath given you the sabbath, therefore he giveth you on the sixth day the bread of two days; abide ye every man in his place, let no man go out of his place on the seventh day.
30 So the people rested on the seventh day.
31 [†] And the house of Israel called the name thereof Manna: and it was like coriander seed, white; and the taste of it was like wafers made with honey.
32 [†] ¶ And Moses said, This is the thing which the LORD commandeth, Fill an omer of it to be kept for your generations; that they may see the bread wherewith I have fed you in the wilderness, when I brought you forth from the land of Egypt.
33 And Moses said unto Aaron, Take a pot, and put an omer full of manna therein, and lay it up before the LORD, to be kept for your generations.
34 [†] As the LORD commanded Moses, so Aaron laid it up before the Testimony, to be kept.
35 And the children of Israel did eat manna forty years, until they came to a land inhabited; they did eat manna, until they came unto the borders of the land of Canaan.
36 Now an omer is the tenth part of an ephah.

Exodus 17 [†]

1 [†] And all the congregation of the children of Israel journeyed from the wilderness of Sin, after their journeys, according to the commandment of the Lord, and pitched in Rephidim: and there was no water for the people to drink.
2 [†] Wherefore the people did chide with Moses, and said, Give us water that we may drink. And Moses said unto them, Why chide ye with me? wherefore do ye tempt the Lord?
3 And the people thirsted there for water; and the people murmured against Moses, and said, Wherefore is this that thou hast brought us up out of Egypt, to kill us and our children and our cattle with thirst?
4 [†] And Moses cried unto the Lord, saying, What shall I do unto this people? they be almost ready to stone me.
5 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Go on before the people, and take with thee of the elders of Israel; and thy rod, wherewith thou smotest the river, take in thine hand, and go.
6 [†] Behold, I will stand before thee there upon the rock in Horeb; and thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it, that the people may drink. And Moses did so in the sight of the elders of Israel.
7 [†] And he called the name of the place Massah, and Meribah, because of the chiding of the children of Israel, and because they tempted the Lord, saying, Is the Lord among us, or not?
8 [†] ¶ Then came Amalek, and fought with Israel in Rephidim.
9 [†] And Moses said unto Joshua, Choose us out men, and go out, fight with Amalek: to morrow I will stand on the top of the hill with the rod of God in mine hand.
10 So Joshua did as Moses had said to him, and fought with Amalek: and Moses, Aaron, and Hur went up to the top of the hill.
11 [†] And it came to pass, when Moses held up his hand, that Israel prevailed: and when he let down his hand, Amalek prevailed.
12 [†] But Moses' hands were heavy; and they took a stone, and put it under him, and he sat thereon; and Aaron and Hur stayed up his hands, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side; and his hands were steady until the going down of the sun.
13 [†] And Joshua discomfited Amalek and his people with the edge of the sword.
14 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Write this for a memorial in a book, and rehearse it in the ears of Joshua: for I will utterly put out the remembrance of Amalek from under heaven.
15 [†] And Moses built an altar, and called the name of it Jehovah-nissi:
16 [†] For he said, Because the Lord hath sworn that the Lord will have war with Amalek from generation to generation.

Exodus 18 [†]

1 [†] When Jethro, the priest of Midian, Moses' father in law, heard of all that God had done for Moses, and for Israel his people, and that the Lord had brought Israel out of Egypt;
2 [†] Then Jethro, Moses' father in law, took Zipporah, Moses' wife, after he had sent her back,
3 [†] And her two sons; of which the name of the one was Gershom; for he said, I have been an alien in a strange land:
4 And the name of the other was Eliezer; for the God of my father, said he, was mine help, and delivered me from the sword of Pharaoh:
5 [†] And Jethro, Moses' father in law, came with his sons and his wife unto Moses into the wilderness, where he encamped at the mount of God:
6 And he said unto Moses, I thy father in law Jethro am come unto thee, and thy wife, and her two sons with her.
7 [†] ¶ And Moses went out to meet his father in law, and did obeisance, and kissed him; and they asked each other of their welfare; and they came into the tent.
8 [†] And Moses told his father in law all that the Lord had done unto Pharaoh and to the Egyptians for Israel's sake, and all the travail that had come upon them by the way, and how the Lord delivered them.
9 And Jethro rejoiced for all the goodness which the Lord had done to Israel, whom he had delivered out of the hand of the Egyptians.
10 And Jethro said, Blessed be the Lord, who hath delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of Pharaoh, who hath delivered the people from under the hand of the Egyptians.
11 Now I know that the Lord is greater than all gods: for in the thing wherein they dealt proudly he was above them.
12 [†] And Jethro, Moses' father in law, took a burnt offering and sacrifices for God: and Aaron came, and all the elders of Israel, to eat bread with Moses' father in law before God.
13 [†] ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that Moses sat to judge the people: and the people stood by Moses from the morning unto the evening.
14 [†] And when Moses' father in law saw all that he did to the people, he said, What is this thing that thou doest to the people? why sittest thou thyself alone, and all the people stand by thee from morning unto even?
15 [†] And Moses said unto his father in law, Because the people come unto me to enquire of God:
16 When they have a matter, they come unto me; and I judge between one and another, and I do make them know the statutes of God, and his laws.
17 [†] And Moses' father in law said unto him, The thing that thou doest is not good.
18 [†] Thou wilt surely wear away, both thou, and this people that is with thee: for this thing is too heavy for thee; thou art not able to perform it thyself alone.
19 [†] Hearken now unto my voice, I will give thee counsel, and God shall be with thee: Be thou for the people to God-ward, that thou mayest bring the causes unto God:
20 And thou shalt teach them ordinances and laws, and shalt shew them the way wherein they must walk, and the work that they must do.
21 [†] Moreover thou shalt provide out of all the people able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness; and place such over them, to be rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens:
22 And let them judge the people at all seasons: and it shall be, that every great matter they shall bring unto thee, but every small matter they shall judge: so shall it be easier for thyself, and they shall bear the burden with thee.

23 [†] If thou shalt do this thing, and God command thee so, then thou shalt be able to endure, and all this people shall also go to their place in peace.
24 [†] So Moses hearkened to the voice of his father in law, and did all that he had said.
25 And Moses chose able men out of all Israel, and made them heads over the people, rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens.
26 [†] And they judged the people at all seasons: the hard causes they brought unto Moses, but every small matter they judged themselves.
27 ¶ And Moses let his father in law depart; and he went his way into his own land.

Exodus 19 [†]

1 [†] In the third month, when the children of Israel were gone forth out of the land of Egypt, the same day came they into the wilderness of Sinai.
2 [†] For they were departed from Rephidim, and were come to the desert of Sinai, and had pitched in the wilderness; and there Israel camped before the mount.
3 [†] And Moses went up unto God, and the Lord called unto him out of the mountain, saying, Thus shalt thou say to the house of Jacob, and tell the children of Israel;
4 [†] Ye have seen what I did unto the Egyptians, and how I bare you on eagles' wings, and brought you unto myself.
5 [†] Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine:
6 [†] And ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests, and an holy nation. These are the words which thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel.
7 [†] ¶ And Moses came and called for the elders of the people, and laid before their faces all these words which the Lord commanded him.
8 And all the people answered together, and said, All that the Lord hath spoken we will do. And Moses returned the words of the people unto the Lord.
9 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Lo, I come unto thee in a thick cloud, that the people may hear when I speak with thee, and believe thee for ever. And Moses told the words of the people unto the Lord.
10 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Go unto the people, and sanctify them to day and to morrow, and let them wash their clothes,
11 And be ready against the third day: for the third day the Lord will come down in the sight of all the people upon mount Sinai.
12 [†] And thou shalt set bounds unto the people round about, saying, Take heed to yourselves, that ye go not up into the mount, or touch the border of it: whosoever toucheth the mount shall be surely put to death:
13 There shall not an hand touch it, but he shall surely be stoned, or shot through; whether it be beast or man, it shall not live: when the trumpet soundeth long, they shall come up to the mount.
14 ¶ And Moses went down from the mount unto the people, and sanctified the people; and they washed their clothes.
15 [†] And he said unto the people, Be ready against the third day: come not at your wives.
16 [†] ¶ And it came to pass on the third day in the morning, that there were thunders and lightnings, and a thick cloud upon the mount, and the voice of the trumpet exceeding loud; so that all the people that was in the camp trembled.
17 [†] And Moses brought forth the people out of the camp to meet with God; and they stood at the nether part of the mount.
18 [†] And mount Sinai was altogether on a smoke, because the Lord descended upon it in fire: and the smoke thereof ascended as the smoke of a furnace, and the whole mount quaked greatly.
19 [†] And when the voice of the trumpet sounded long, and waxed louder and louder, Moses spake, and God answered him by a voice.
20 And the Lord came down upon mount Sinai, on the top of the mount: and the Lord called Moses up to the top of the mount; and Moses went up.
21 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Go down, charge the people, lest they break through unto the Lord to gaze, and many of them perish.

22 [†] And let the priests also, which come near to the LORD, sanctify themselves, lest the LORD break forth upon them.
23 [†] And Moses said unto the LORD, The people cannot come up to mount Sinai: for thou chargedst us, saying, Set bounds about the mount, and sanctify it.
24 [†] And the LORD said unto him, Away, get thee down, and thou shalt come up, thou, and Aaron with thee: but let not the priests and the people break through to come up unto the LORD, lest he break forth upon them.
25 So Moses went down unto the people, and spake unto them.

Exodus 20 [†]

1 [†] And God spake all these words, saying,
2 [†] I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.
3 [†] Thou shalt have no other gods before me.
4 [†] Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth:
5 Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me;
6 And shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.
7 [†] Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.
8 [†] Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy.
9 Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work:
10 But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates:
11 For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it.
12 [†] ¶ Honour thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.
13 [†] Thou shalt not kill.
14 [†] Thou shalt not commit adultery.
15 [†] Thou shalt not steal.
16 [†] Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.
17 [†] Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbour's.
18 [†] ¶ And all the people saw the thunderings, and the lightnings, and the noise of the trumpet, and the mountain smoking: and when the people saw it, they removed, and stood afar off.
19 [†] And they said unto Moses, Speak thou with us, and we will hear: but let not God speak with us, lest we die.
20 [†] And Moses said unto the people, Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not.
21 And the people stood afar off, and Moses drew near unto the thick darkness where God was.
22 ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Thus thou shalt say unto the children of Israel, Ye have seen that I have talked with you from heaven.
23 Ye shall not make with me gods of silver, neither shall ye make unto you gods of gold.
24 [†] ¶ An altar of earth thou shalt make unto me, and shalt sacrifice thereon thy burnt offerings, and thy peace offerings, thy sheep, and thine oxen: in all places where I record my name I will come unto thee, and I will bless thee.
25 [†] And if thou wilt make me an altar of stone, thou shalt not build it of hewn stone: for if thou lift up thy tool upon it, thou hast polluted it.
26 [†] Neither shalt thou go up by steps unto mine altar, that thy nakedness be not discovered thereon.

Exodus 21 [†]

1 [†] Now these are the judgments which thou shalt set before them.
2 [†] If thou buy an Hebrew servant, six years he shall serve: and in the seventh he shall go out free for nothing.
3 If he came in by himself, he shall go out by himself: if he were married, then his wife shall go out with him.
4 If his master have given him a wife, and she have born him sons or daughters; the wife and her children shall be her master's, and he shall go out by himself.
5 And if the servant shall plainly say, I love my master, my wife, and my children; I will not go out free:
6 [†] Then his master shall bring him unto the judges; he shall also bring him to the door, or unto the door post; and his master shall bore his ear through with an aul; and he shall serve him for ever.
7 [†] ¶ And if a man sell his daughter to be a maidservant, she shall not go out as the menservants do.
8 [†] If she please not her master, who hath betrothed her to himself, then shall he let her be redeemed: to sell her unto a strange nation he shall have no power, seeing he hath dealt deceitfully with her.
9 And if he have betrothed her unto his son, he shall deal with her after the manner of daughters.
10 [†] If he take him another wife; her food, her raiment, and her duty of marriage, shall he not diminish.
11 And if he do not these three unto her, then shall she go out free without money.
12 [†] ¶ He that smiteth a man, so that he die, shall be surely put to death.
13 And if a man lie not in wait, but God deliver him into his hand; then I will appoint thee a place whither he shall flee.
14 But if a man come presumptuously upon his neighbour, to slay him with guile; thou shalt take him from mine altar, that he may die.
15 ¶ And he that smiteth his father, or his mother, shall be surely put to death.
16 [†] ¶ And he that stealeth a man, and selleth him, or if he be found in his hand, he shall surely be put to death.
17 [†] ¶ And he that curseth his father, or his mother, shall surely be put to death.
18 [†] ¶ And if men strive together, and one smite another with a stone, or with his fist, and he die not, but keepeth his bed:
19 [†] If he rise again, and walk abroad upon his staff, then shall he that smote him be quit: only he shall pay for the loss of his time, and shall cause him to be thoroughly healed.
20 [†] ¶ And if a man smite his servant, or his maid, with a rod, and he die under his hand; he shall be surely punished.
21 Notwithstanding, if he continue a day or two, he shall not be punished: for he is his money.
22 [†] ¶ If men strive, and hurt a woman with child, so that her fruit depart from her, and yet no mischief follow: he shall be surely punished, according as the woman's husband will lay upon him; and he shall pay as the judges determine.
23 And if any mischief follow, then thou shalt give life for life,
24 [†] Eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot,
25 Burning for burning, wound for wound, stripe for stripe.
26 [†] ¶ And if a man smite the eye of his servant, or the eye of his maid, that it perish; he shall let him go free for his eye's sake.
27 And if he smite out his manservant's tooth, or his maidservant's tooth; he shall let him go free for his tooth's sake.

28 [†] ¶ If an ox gore a man or a woman, that they die: then the ox shall be surely stoned, and his flesh shall not be eaten; but the owner of the ox shall be quit.
29 [†] But if the ox were wont to push with his horn in time past, and it hath been testified to his owner, and he hath not kept him in, but that he hath killed a man or a woman; the ox shall be stoned, and his owner also shall be put to death.
30 If there be laid on him a sum of money, then he shall give for the ransom of his life whatsoever is laid upon him.
31 Whether he have gored a son, or have gored a daughter, according to this judgment shall it be done unto him.
32 If the ox shall push a manservant or a maidservant; he shall give unto their master thirty shekels of silver, and the ox shall be stoned.
33 ¶ And if a man shall open a pit, or if a man shall dig a pit, and not cover it, and an ox or an ass fall therein;
34 The owner of the pit shall make it good, and give money unto the owner of them; and the dead beast shall be his.
35 ¶ And if one man's ox hurt another's, that he die; then they shall sell the live ox, and divide the money of it; and the dead ox also they shall divide.
36 Or if it be known that the ox hath used to push in time past, and his owner hath not kept him in; he shall surely pay ox for ox; and the dead shall be his own.

Exodus 22 [†]

1 [†] If a man shall steal an ox, or a sheep, and kill it, or sell it; he shall restore five oxen for an ox, and four sheep for a sheep.
2 [†] ¶ If a thief be found breaking up, and be smitten that he die, there shall no blood be shed for him.
3 If the sun be risen upon him, there shall be blood shed for him; for he should make full restitution; if he have nothing, then he shall be sold for his theft.
4 If the theft be certainly found in his hand alive, whether it be ox, or ass, or sheep; he shall restore double.
5 ¶ If a man shall cause a field or vineyard to be eaten, and shall put in his beast, and shall feed in another man's field; of the best of his own field, and of the best of his own vineyard, shall he make restitution.
6 [†] ¶ If fire break out, and catch in thorns, so that the stacks of corn, or the standing corn, or the field, be consumed therewith; he that kindled the fire shall surely make restitution.
7 ¶ If a man shall deliver unto his neighbour money or stuff to keep, and it be stolen out of the man's house; if the thief be found, let him pay double.
8 [†] If the thief be not found, then the master of the house shall be brought unto the judges, to see whether he have put his hand unto his neighbour's goods.
9 [†] For all manner of trespass, whether it be for ox, for ass, for sheep, for raiment, or for any manner of lost thing, which another challengeth to be his, the cause of both parties shall come before the judges; and whom the judges shall condemn, he shall pay double unto his neighbour.
10 If a man deliver unto his neighbour an ass, or an ox, or a sheep, or any beast, to keep; and it die, or be hurt, or driven away, no man seeing it:
11 [†] Then shall an oath of the LORD be between them both, that he hath not put his hand unto his neighbour's goods; and the owner of it shall accept thereof, and he shall not make it good.
12 And if it be stolen from him, he shall make restitution unto the owner thereof.
13 If it be torn in pieces, then let him bring it for witness, and he shall not make good that which was torn.
14 [†] ¶ And if a man borrow ought of his neighbour, and it be hurt, or die, the owner thereof being not with it, he shall surely make it good.
15 But if the owner thereof be with it, he shall not make it good: if it be an hired thing, it came for his hire.
16 [†] ¶ And if a man entice a maid that is not betrothed, and lie with her, he shall surely endow her to be his wife.
17 If her father utterly refuse to give her unto him, he shall pay money according to the dowry of virgins.
18 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live.
19 [†] ¶ Whosoever lieth with a beast shall surely be put to death.
20 [†] ¶ He that sacrificeth unto any god, save unto the LORD only, he shall be utterly destroyed.
21 [†] ¶ Thou shalt neither vex a stranger, nor oppress him: for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.
22 ¶ Ye shall not afflict any widow, or fatherless child.
23 [†] If thou afflict them in any wise, and they cry at all unto me, I will surely hear their cry;
24 [†] And my wrath shall wax hot, and I will kill you with the sword; and your wives shall be widows, and your children fatherless.
25 [†] ¶ If thou lend money to any of my people that is poor by thee, thou shalt not be to him as an usurer, neither shalt thou lay upon him usury.

26 [†] If thou at all take thy neighbour’s raiment to pledge, thou shalt deliver it unto him by that the sun goeth down:
27 For that is his covering only, it is his raiment for his skin: wherein shall he sleep? and it shall come to pass, when he crieth unto me, that I will hear; for I am gracious.
28 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not revile the gods, nor curse the ruler of thy people.
29 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not delay to offer the first of thy ripe fruits, and of thy liquors: the firstborn of thy sons shalt thou give unto me.
30 [†] Likewise shalt thou do with thine oxen, and with thy sheep: seven days it shall be with his dam; on the eighth day thou shalt give it me.
31 ¶ And ye shall be holy men unto me: neither shall ye eat any flesh that is torn of beasts in the field; ye shall cast it to the dogs.

Exodus 23 [†]

1 [†] Thou shalt not raise a false report: put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness.
2 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil; neither shalt thou speak in a cause to decline after many to wrest judgment:
3 [†] ¶ Neither shalt thou countenance a poor man in his cause.
4 [†] ¶ If thou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou shalt surely bring it back to him again.
5 If thou see the ass of him that hateth thee lying under his burden, and wouldest forbear to help him, thou shalt surely help with him.
6 [†] Thou shalt not wrest the judgment of thy poor in his cause.
7 [†] Keep thee far from a false matter; and the innocent and righteous slay thou not: for I will not justify the wicked.
8 [†] ¶ And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous.
9 [†] ¶ Also thou shalt not oppress a stranger: for ye know the heart of a stranger, seeing ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.
10 [†] And six years thou shalt sow thy land, and shalt gather in the fruits thereof:
11 But the seventh year thou shalt let it rest and lie still; that the poor of thy people may eat: and what they leave the beasts of the field shall eat. In like manner thou shalt deal with thy vineyard, and with thy oliveyard.
12 [†] Six days thou shalt do thy work, and on the seventh day thou shalt rest: that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and the son of thy handmaid, and the stranger, may be refreshed.
13 [†] And in all things that I have said unto you be circumspect: and make no mention of the name of other gods, neither let it be heard out of thy mouth.
14 ¶ Three times thou shalt keep a feast unto me in the year.
15 [†] Thou shalt keep the feast of unleavened bread: (thou shalt eat unleavened bread seven days, as I commanded thee, in the time appointed of the month Abib; for in it thou camest out from Egypt: and none shall appear before me empty:)
16 [†] And the feast of harvest, the firstfruits of thy labours, which thou hast sown in the field: and the feast of ingathering, which is in the end of the year, when thou hast gathered in thy labours out of the field.
17 Three times in the year all thy males shall appear before the Lord God.
18 Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread; neither shall the fat of my sacrifice remain until the morning.
19 [†] The first of the firstfruits of thy land thou shalt bring into the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk.
20 [†] ¶ Behold, I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared.
21 Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke him not; for he will not pardon your transgressions: for my name is in him.
22 But if thou shalt indeed obey his voice, and do all that I speak; then I will be an enemy unto thine enemies, and an adversary unto thine adversaries.
23 For mine Angel shall go before thee, and bring thee in unto the Amorites, and the Hittites, and the Perizzites, and the Canaanites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites: and I will cut them off.
24 [†] Thou shalt not bow down to their gods, nor serve them, nor do after their works: but thou shalt utterly overthrow them, and quite break down their images.

25 And ye shall serve the LORD your God, and he shall bless thy bread, and thy water; and I will take sickness away from the midst of thee.
26 [†] ¶ There shall nothing cast their young, nor be barren, in thy land: the number of thy days I will fulfil.
27 I will send my fear before thee, and will destroy all the people to whom thou shalt come, and I will make all thine enemies turn their backs unto thee.
28 [†] And I will send hornets before thee, which shall drive out the Hivite, the Canaanite, and the Hittite, from before thee.
29 I will not drive them out from before thee in one year; lest the land become desolate, and the beast of the field multiply against thee.
30 By little and little I will drive them out from before thee, until thou be increased, and inherit the land.
31 [†] And I will set thy bounds from the Red sea even unto the sea of the Philistines, and from the desert unto the river: for I will deliver the inhabitants of the land into your hand; and thou shalt drive them out before thee.
32 Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their gods.
33 [†] They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against me: for if thou serve their gods, it will surely be a snare unto thee.

Exodus 24 [†]

1 [†] And he said unto Moses, Come up unto the Lord, thou, and Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel; and worship ye afar off.
2 [†] And Moses alone shall come near the Lord: but they shall not come nigh; neither shall the people go up with him.
3 [†] ¶ And Moses came and told the people all the words of the Lord, and all the judgments: and all the people answered with one voice, and said, All the words which the Lord hath said will we do.
4 [†] And Moses wrote all the words of the Lord, and rose up early in the morning, and builded an altar under the hill, and twelve pillars, according to the twelve tribes of Israel.
5 [†] And he sent young men of the children of Israel, which offered burnt offerings, and sacrificed peace offerings of oxen unto the Lord.
6 [†] And Moses took half of the blood, and put it in basons; and half of the blood he sprinkled on the altar.
7 [†] And he took the book of the covenant, and read in the audience of the people: and they said, All that the Lord hath said will we do, and be obedient.
8 [†] And Moses took the blood, and sprinkled it on the people, and said, Behold the blood of the covenant, which the Lord hath made with you concerning all these words.
9 ¶ Then went up Moses, and Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel:
10 [†] And they saw the God of Israel: and there was under his feet as it were a paved work of a sapphire stone, and as it were the body of heaven in his clearness.
11 [†] And upon the nobles of the children of Israel he laid not his hand: also they saw God, and did eat and drink.
12 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Come up to me into the mount, and be there: and I will give thee tables of stone, and a law, and commandments which I have written; that thou mayest teach them.
13 [†] And Moses rose up, and his minister Joshua: and Moses went up into the mount of God.
14 [†] And he said unto the elders, Tarry ye here for us, until we come again unto you: and, behold, Aaron and Hur are with you: if any man have any matters to do, let him come unto them.
15 And Moses went up into the mount, and a cloud covered the mount.
16 And the glory of the Lord abode upon mount Sinai, and the cloud covered it six days: and the seventh day he called unto Moses out of the midst of the cloud.
17 [†] And the sight of the glory of the Lord was like devouring fire on the top of the mount in the eyes of the children of Israel.
18 [†] And Moses went into the midst of the cloud, and gat him up into the mount: and Moses was in the mount forty days and forty nights.

Exodus 25 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of Israel, that they bring me an offering: of every man that giveth it willingly with his heart ye shall take my offering.
3 [†] And this is the offering which ye shall take of them; gold, and silver, and brass,
4 [†] And blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair,
5 [†] And rams' skins dyed red, and badgers' skins, and shittim wood,
6 Oil for the light, spices for anointing oil, and for sweet incense,
7 [†] Onyx stones, and stones to be set in the ephod, and in the breastplate.
8 [†] And let them make me a sanctuary; that I may dwell among them.
9 [†] According to all that I shew thee, after the pattern of the tabernacle, and the pattern of all the instruments thereof, even so shall ye make it.
10 [†] ¶ And they shall make an ark of shittim wood: two cubits and a half shall be the length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof.
11 [†] And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, within and without shalt thou overlay it, and shalt make upon it a crown of gold round about.
12 And thou shalt cast four rings of gold for it, and put them in the four corners thereof; and two rings shall be in the one side of it, and two rings in the other side of it.
13 [†] And thou shalt make staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold.
14 And thou shalt put the staves into the rings by the sides of the ark, that the ark may be borne with them.
15 The staves shall be in the rings of the ark: they shall not be taken from it.
16 [†] And thou shalt put into the ark the testimony which I shall give thee.
17 And thou shalt make a mercy seat of pure gold: two cubits and a half shall be the length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof.
18 [†] And thou shalt make two cherubims of gold, of beaten work shalt thou make them, in the two ends of the mercy seat.
19 [†] And make one cherub on the one end, and the other cherub on the other end: even of the mercy seat shall ye make the cherubims on the two ends thereof.
20 And the cherubims shall stretch forth their wings on high, covering the mercy seat with their wings, and their faces shall look one to another; toward the mercy seat shall the faces of the cherubims be.
21 And thou shalt put the mercy seat above upon the ark; and in the ark thou shalt put the testimony that I shall give thee.
22 [†] And there I will meet with thee, and I will commune with thee from above the mercy seat, from between the two cherubims which are upon the ark of the testimony, of all things which I will give thee in commandment unto the children of Israel.
23 [†] ¶ Thou shalt also make a table of shittim wood: two cubits shall be the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof.
24 [†] And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, and make thereto a crown of gold round about.
25 [†] And thou shalt make unto it a border of an hand breadth round about, and thou shalt make a golden crown to the border thereof round about.
26 And thou shalt make for it four rings of gold, and put the rings in the four corners that are on the four feet thereof.
27 Over against the border shall the rings be for places of the staves to bear the table.
28 And thou shalt make the staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold, that the table may be borne with them.

29 [†] And thou shalt make the dishes thereof, and spoons thereof, and covers thereof, and bowls thereof, to cover withal: of pure gold shalt thou make them.
30 [†] And thou shalt set upon the table shewbread before me alway.
31 [†] ¶ And thou shalt make a candlestick of pure gold: of beaten work shall the candlestick be made: his shaft, and his branches, his bowls, his knops, and his flowers, shall be of the same.
32 And six branches shall come out of the sides of it; three branches of the candlestick out of the one side, and three branches of the candlestick out of the other side:
33 Three bowls made like unto almonds, with a knop and a flower in one branch; and three bowls made like almonds in the other branch, with a knop and a flower: so in the six branches that come out of the candlestick.
34 And in the candlestick shall be four bowls made like unto almonds, with their knops and their flowers.
35 And there shall be a knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, according to the six branches that proceed out of the candlestick.
36 Their knops and their branches shall be of the same: all it shall be one beaten work of pure gold.
37 And thou shalt make the seven lamps thereof: and they shall light the lamps thereof, that they may give light over against it.
38 [†] And the tongs thereof, and the snuffdishes thereof, shall be of pure gold.
39 [†] Of a talent of pure gold shall he make it, with all these vessels.
40 [†] And look that thou make them after their pattern, which was shewed thee in the mount.

Exodus 26 [†]

1 [†] Moreover thou shalt make the tabernacle with ten curtains of fine twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet: with cherubims of cunning work shalt thou make them.
2 [†] The length of one curtain shall be eight and twenty cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits: and every one of the curtains shall have one measure.
3 The five curtains shall be coupled together one to another; and other five curtains shall be coupled one to another.
4 [†] And thou shalt make loops of blue upon the edge of the one curtain from the selvedge in the coupling; and likewise shalt thou make in the uttermost edge of another curtain, in the coupling of the second.
5 Fifty loops shalt thou make in the one curtain, and fifty loops shalt thou make in the edge of the curtain that is in the coupling of the second; that the loops may take hold one of another.
6 [†] And thou shalt make fifty taches of gold, and couple the curtains together with the taches: and it shall be one tabernacle.
7 ¶ And thou shalt make curtains of goats' hair to be a covering upon the tabernacle: eleven curtains shalt thou make.
8 The length of one curtain shall be thirty cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits: and the eleven curtains shall be all of one measure.
9 [†] And thou shalt couple five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves, and shalt double the sixth curtain in the forefront of the tabernacle.
10 And thou shalt make fifty loops on the edge of the one curtain that is outmost in the coupling, and fifty loops in the edge of the curtain which coupleth the second.
11 And thou shalt make fifty taches of brass, and put the taches into the loops, and couple the tent together, that it may be one.
12 And the remnant that remaineth of the curtains of the tent, the half curtain that remaineth, shall hang over the backside of the tabernacle.
13 And a cubit on the one side, and a cubit on the other side of that which remaineth in the length of the curtains of the tent, it shall hang over the sides of the tabernacle on this side and on that side, to cover it.
14 [†] And thou shalt make a covering for the tent of rams' skins dyed red, and a covering above of badgers' skins.
15 [†] ¶ And thou shalt make boards for the tabernacle of shittim wood standing up.
16 Ten cubits shall be the length of a board, and a cubit and a half shall be the breadth of one board.
17 [†] Two tenons shall there be in one board, set in order one against another: thus shalt thou make for all the boards of the tabernacle.
18 And thou shalt make the boards for the tabernacle, twenty boards on the south side southward.
19 [†] And thou shalt make forty sockets of silver under the twenty boards; two sockets under one board for his two tenons, and two sockets under another board for his two tenons.
20 And for the second side of the tabernacle on the north side there shall be twenty boards:
21 And their forty sockets of silver; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.
22 And for the sides of the tabernacle westward thou shalt make six boards.
23 And two boards shalt thou make for the corners of the tabernacle in the two sides.
24 And they shall be coupled together beneath, and they shall be coupled together above the head of it unto one ring: thus shall it be for them both; they shall be for the two corners.
25 And they shall be eight boards, and their sockets of silver, sixteen sockets; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.

26 ¶ And thou shalt make bars of shittim wood; five for the boards of the one side of the tabernacle,
27 And five bars for the boards of the other side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the side of the tabernacle, for the two sides westward.
28 And the middle bar in the midst of the boards shall reach from end to end.
29 And thou shalt overlay the boards with gold, and make their rings of gold for places for the bars: and thou shalt overlay the bars with gold.
30 [†] And thou shalt rear up the tabernacle according to the fashion thereof which was shewed thee in the mount.
31 [†] ¶ And thou shalt make a vail of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen of cunning work: with cherubims shall it be made:
32 And thou shalt hang it upon four pillars of shittim wood overlaid with gold: their hooks shall be of gold, upon the four sockets of silver.
33 [†] ¶ And thou shalt hang up the vail under the taches, that thou mayest bring in thither within the vail the ark of the testimony: and the vail shall divide unto you between the holy place and the most holy.
34 And thou shalt put the mercy seat upon the ark of the testimony in the most holy place.
35 [†] And thou shalt set the table without the vail, and the candlestick over against the table on the side of the tabernacle toward the south: and thou shalt put the table on the north side.
36 [†] And thou shalt make an hanging for the door of the tent, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, wrought with needlework.
37 [†] And thou shalt make for the hanging five pillars of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold, and their hooks shall be of gold: and thou shalt cast five sockets of brass for them.

Exodus 27 [†]

1 [†] And thou shalt make an altar of shittim wood, five cubits long, and five cubits broad; the altar shall be foursquare: and the height thereof shall be three cubits.
2 [†] And thou shalt make the horns of it upon the four corners thereof: his horns shall be of the same: and thou shalt overlay it with brass.
3 [†] And thou shalt make his pans to receive his ashes, and his shovels, and his basons, and his fleshhooks, and his firepans: all the vessels thereof thou shalt make of brass.
4 [†] And thou shalt make for it a grate of network of brass; and upon the net shalt thou make four brasen rings in the four corners thereof.
5 [†] And thou shalt put it under the compass of the altar beneath, that the net may be even to the midst of the altar.
6 [†] And thou shalt make staves for the altar, staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with brass.
7 And the staves shall be put into the rings, and the staves shall be upon the two sides of the altar, to bear it.
8 [†] Hollow with boards shalt thou make it: as it was shewed thee in the mount, so shall they make it.
9 [†] ¶ And thou shalt make the court of the tabernacle: for the south side southward there shall be hangings for the court of fine twined linen of an hundred cubits long for one side:
10 And the twenty pillars thereof and their twenty sockets shall be of brass; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets shall be of silver.
11 And likewise for the north side in length there shall be hangings of an hundred cubits long, and his twenty pillars and their twenty sockets of brass; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of silver.
12 ¶ And for the breadth of the court on the west side shall be hangings of fifty cubits: their pillars ten, and their sockets ten.
13 And the breadth of the court on the east side eastward shall be fifty cubits.
14 The hangings of one side of the gate shall be fifteen cubits: their pillars three, and their sockets three.
15 And on the other side shall be hangings fifteen cubits: their pillars three, and their sockets three.
16 ¶ And for the gate of the court shall be an hanging of twenty cubits, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, wrought with needlework: and their pillars shall be four, and their sockets four.
17 All the pillars round about the court shall be filleted with silver; their hooks shall be of silver, and their sockets of brass.
18 ¶ The length of the court shall be an hundred cubits, and the breadth fifty every where, and the height five cubits of fine twined linen, and their sockets of brass.
19 All the vessels of the tabernacle in all the service thereof, and all the pins thereof, and all the pins of the court, shall be of brass.
20 ¶ And thou shalt command the children of Israel, that they bring thee pure oil olive beaten for the light, to cause the lamp to burn always.
21 [†] In the tabernacle of the congregation without the vail, which is before the testimony, Aaron and his sons shall order it from evening to morning before the LORD: it shall be a statute for ever unto their generations on the behalf of the children of Israel.

Exodus 28 [†]

1 [†] And take thou unto thee Aaron thy brother, and his sons with him, from among the children of Israel, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office, even Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar, Aaron's sons.
2 And thou shalt make holy garments for Aaron thy brother for glory and for beauty.
3 [†] And thou shalt speak unto all that are wise hearted, whom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom, that they may make Aaron's garments to consecrate him, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office.
4 [†] And these are the garments which they shall make; a breastplate, and an ephod, and a robe, and a broidered coat, a mitre, and a girdle: and they shall make holy garments for Aaron thy brother, and his sons, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office.
5 [†] And they shall take gold, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen.
6 [†] ¶ And they shall make the ephod of gold, of blue, and of purple, of scarlet, and fine twined linen, with cunning work.
7 It shall have the two shoulderpieces thereof joined at the two edges thereof; and so it shall be joined together.
8 And the curious girdle of the ephod, which is upon it, shall be of the same, according to the work thereof; even of gold, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen.
9 And thou shalt take two onyx stones, and grave on them the names of the children of Israel:
10 Six of their names on one stone, and the other six names of the rest on the other stone, according to their birth.
11 With the work of an engraver in stone, like the engravings of a signet, shalt thou engrave the two stones with the names of the children of Israel: thou shalt make them to be set in ouches of gold.
12 And thou shalt put the two stones upon the shoulders of the ephod for stones of memorial unto the children of Israel: and Aaron shall bear their names before the Lord upon his two shoulders for a memorial.
13 ¶ And thou shalt make ouches of gold;
14 And two chains of pure gold at the ends; of wreathen work shalt thou make them, and fasten the wreathen chains to the ouches.
15 ¶ And thou shalt make the breastplate of judgment with cunning work; after the work of the ephod thou shalt make it; of gold, of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, and of fine twined linen, shalt thou make it.
16 Foursquare it shall be being doubled; a span shall be the length thereof, and a span shall be the breadth thereof.
17 [†] And thou shalt set in it settings of stones, even four rows of stones: the first row shall be a sardius, a topaz, and a carbuncle: this shall be the first row.
18 And the second row shall be an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond.
19 And the third row a ligure, an agate, and an amethyst.
20 And the fourth row a beryl, and an onyx, and a jasper: they shall be set in gold in their inclosings.
21 And the stones shall be with the names of the children of Israel, twelve, according to their names, like the engravings of a signet; every one with his name shall they be according to the twelve tribes.
22 ¶ And thou shalt make upon the breastplate chains at the ends of wreathen work of pure gold.
23 And thou shalt make upon the breastplate two rings of gold, and shalt put the two rings on the two ends of the breastplate.
24 And thou shalt put the two wreathen chains of gold in the two rings which are on the ends of the breastplate.

25 And the other two ends of the two wreathen chains thou shalt fasten in the two ouches, and put them on the shoulderpieces of the ephod before it.
26 ¶ And thou shalt make two rings of gold, and thou shalt put them upon the two ends of the breastplate in the border thereof, which is in the side of the ephod inward.
27 And two other rings of gold thou shalt make, and shalt put them on the two sides of the ephod underneath, toward the forepart thereof, over against the other coupling thereof, above the curious girdle of the ephod.
28 And they shall bind the breastplate by the rings thereof unto the rings of the ephod with a lace of blue, that it may be above the curious girdle of the ephod, and that the breastplate be not loosed from the ephod.
29 And Aaron shall bear the names of the children of Israel in the breastplate of judgment upon his heart, when he goeth in unto the holy place, for a memorial before the LORD continually.
30 [†] ¶ And thou shalt put in the breastplate of judgment the Urim and the Thummim; and they shall be upon Aaron's heart, when he goeth in before the LORD: and Aaron shall bear the judgment of the children of Israel upon his heart before the LORD continually.
31 ¶ And thou shalt make the robe of the ephod all of blue.
32 [†] And there shall be an hole in the top of it, in the midst thereof: it shall have a binding of woven work round about the hole of it, as it were the hole of an habergeon, that it be not rent.
33 [†] ¶ And beneath upon the hem of it thou shalt make pomegranates of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, round about the hem thereof; and bells of gold between them round about:
34 A golden bell and a pomegranate, a golden bell and a pomegranate, upon the hem of the robe round about.
35 And it shall be upon Aaron to minister: and his sound shall be heard when he goeth in unto the holy place before the LORD, and when he cometh out, that he die not.
36 [†] ¶ And thou shalt make a plate of pure gold, and grave upon it, like the engravings of a signet, HOLINESS TO THE LORD.
37 [†] And thou shalt put it on a blue lace, that it may be upon the mitre; upon the forefront of the mitre it shall be.
38 [†] And it shall be upon Aaron's forehead, that Aaron may bear the iniquity of the holy things, which the children of Israel shall hallow in all their holy gifts; and it shall be always upon his forehead, that they may be accepted before the LORD.
39 ¶ And thou shalt embroider the coat of fine linen, and thou shalt make the mitre of fine linen, and thou shalt make the girdle of needlework.
40 [†] ¶ And for Aaron's sons thou shalt make coats, and thou shalt make for them girdles, and bonnets shalt thou make for them, for glory and for beauty.
41 [†] And thou shalt put them upon Aaron thy brother, and his sons with him; and shalt anoint them, and consecrate them, and sanctify them, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office.
42 [†] And thou shalt make them linen breeches to cover their nakedness; from the loins even unto the thighs they shall reach:
43 [†] And they shall be upon Aaron, and upon his sons, when they come in unto the tabernacle of the congregation, or when they come near unto the altar to minister in the holy place; that they bear not iniquity, and die: it shall be a statute for ever unto him and his seed after him.

Exodus 29 [†]

1 [†] And this is the thing that thou shalt do unto them to hallow them, to minister unto me in the priest's office: Take one young bullock, and two rams without blemish,
2 And unleavened bread, and cakes unleavened tempered with oil, and wafers unleavened anointed with oil: of wheaten flour shalt thou make them.
3 And thou shalt put them into one basket, and bring them in the basket, with the bullock and the two rams.
4 [†] And Aaron and his sons thou shalt bring unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and shalt wash them with water.
5 [†] And thou shalt take the garments, and put upon Aaron the coat, and the robe of the ephod, and the ephod, and the breastplate, and gird him with the curious girdle of the ephod:
6 And thou shalt put the mitre upon his head, and put the holy crown upon the mitre.
7 [†] Then shalt thou take the anointing oil, and pour it upon his head, and anoint him.
8 And thou shalt bring his sons, and put coats upon them.
9 [†] And thou shalt gird them with girdles, Aaron and his sons, and put the bonnets on them: and the priest's office shall be theirs for a perpetual statute: and thou shalt consecrate Aaron and his sons.
10 And thou shalt cause a bullock to be brought before the tabernacle of the congregation: and Aaron and his sons shall put their hands upon the head of the bullock.
11 And thou shalt kill the bullock before the LORD, by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
12 And thou shalt take of the blood of the bullock, and put it upon the horns of the altar with thy finger, and pour all the blood beside the bottom of the altar.
13 [†] And thou shalt take all the fat that covereth the inwards, and the caul that is above the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and burn them upon the altar.
14 [†] But the flesh of the bullock, and his skin, and his dung, shalt thou burn with fire without the camp: it is a sin offering.
15 ¶ Thou shalt also take one ram; and Aaron and his sons shall put their hands upon the head of the ram.
16 And thou shalt slay the ram, and thou shalt take his blood, and sprinkle it round about upon the altar.
17 And thou shalt cut the ram in pieces, and wash the inwards of him, and his legs, and put them unto his pieces, and unto his head.
18 [†] And thou shalt burn the whole ram upon the altar: it is a burnt offering unto the LORD: it is a sweet savour, an offering made by fire unto the LORD.
19 ¶ And thou shalt take the other ram; and Aaron and his sons shall put their hands upon the head of the ram.
20 Then shalt thou kill the ram, and take of his blood, and put it upon the tip of the right ear of Aaron, and upon the tip of the right ear of his sons, and upon the thumb of their right hand, and upon the great toe of their right foot, and sprinkle the blood upon the altar round about.
21 [†] And thou shalt take of the blood that is upon the altar, and of the anointing oil, and sprinkle it upon Aaron, and upon his garments, and upon his sons, and upon the garments of his sons with him: and he shall be hallowed, and his garments, and his sons, and his sons' garments with him.
22 [†] Also thou shalt take of the ram the fat and the rump, and the fat that covereth the inwards, and the caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and the right shoulder; for it is a ram of consecration:
23 And one loaf of bread, and one cake of oiled bread, and one wafer out of the basket of the unleavened bread that is before the LORD:

24 And thou shalt put all in the hands of Aaron, and in the hands of his sons; and shalt wave them for a wave offering before the LORD.
25 And thou shalt receive them of their hands, and burn them upon the altar for a burnt offering, for a sweet savour before the LORD: it is an offering made by fire unto the LORD.
26 And thou shalt take the breast of the ram of Aaron's consecration, and wave it for a wave offering before the LORD: and it shall be thy part.
27 And thou shalt sanctify the breast of the wave offering, and the shoulder of the heave offering, which is waved, and which is heaved up, of the ram of the consecration, even of that which is for Aaron, and of that which is for his sons:
28 And it shall be Aaron's and his sons' by a statute for ever from the children of Israel: for it is an heave offering: and it shall be an heave offering from the children of Israel of the sacrifice of their peace offerings, even their heave offering unto the LORD.
29 ¶ And the holy garments of Aaron shall be his sons' after him, to be anointed therein, and to be consecrated in them.
30 [†] And that son that is priest in his stead shall put them on seven days, when he cometh into the tabernacle of the congregation to minister in the holy place.
31 [†] ¶ And thou shalt take the ram of the consecration, and seethe his flesh in the holy place.
32 And Aaron and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram, and the bread that is in the basket, by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
33 [†] And they shall eat those things wherewith the atonement was made, to consecrate and to sanctify them: but a stranger shall not eat thereof, because they are holy.
34 [†] And if ought of the flesh of the consecrations, or of the bread, remain unto the morning, then thou shalt burn the remainder with fire: it shall not be eaten, because it is holy.
35 And thus shalt thou do unto Aaron, and to his sons, according to all things which I have commanded thee: seven days shalt thou consecrate them.
36 And thou shalt offer every day a bullock for a sin offering for atonement: and thou shalt cleanse the altar, when thou hast made an atonement for it, and thou shalt anoint it, to sanctify it.
37 Seven days thou shalt make an atonement for the altar, and sanctify it; and it shall be an altar most holy: whatsoever toucheth the altar shall be holy.
38 ¶ Now this is that which thou shalt offer upon the altar; two lambs of the first year day by day continually.
39 The one lamb thou shalt offer in the morning; and the other lamb thou shalt offer at even:
40 [†] And with the one lamb a tenth deal of flour mingled with the fourth part of an hin of beaten oil; and the fourth part of an hin of wine for a drink offering.
41 [†] And the other lamb thou shalt offer at even, and shalt do thereto according to the meat offering of the morning, and according to the drink offering thereof, for a sweet savour, an offering made by fire unto the LORD.
42 This shall be a continual burnt offering throughout your generations at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the LORD: where I will meet you, to speak there unto thee.
43 [†] And there I will meet with the children of Israel, and the tabernacle shall be sanctified by my glory.
44 And I will sanctify the tabernacle of the congregation, and the altar: I will sanctify also both Aaron and his sons, to minister to me in the priest's office.
45 [†] ¶ And I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will be their God.
46 And they shall know that I am the LORD their God, that brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, that I may dwell among them: I am the LORD their God.

Exodus 30 [†]

1 [†] And thou shalt make an altar to burn incense upon: of shittim wood shalt thou make it.
2 [†] A cubit shall be the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof; foursquare shall it be: and two cubits shall be the height thereof: the horns thereof shall be of the same.
3 [†] And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, the top thereof, and the sides thereof round about, and the horns thereof; and thou shalt make unto it a crown of gold round about.
4 [†] And two golden rings shalt thou make to it under the crown of it, by the two corners thereof, upon the two sides of it shalt thou make it; and they shall be for places for the staves to bear it withal.
5 And thou shalt make the staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold.
6 [†] And thou shalt put it before the vail that is by the ark of the testimony, before the mercy seat that is over the testimony, where I will meet with thee.
7 [†] And Aaron shall burn thereon sweet incense every morning: when he dresseth the lamps, he shall burn incense upon it.
8 [†] And when Aaron lighteth the lamps at even, he shall burn incense upon it, a perpetual incense before the LORD throughout your generations.
9 [†] Ye shall offer no strange incense thereon, nor burnt sacrifice, nor meat offering; neither shall ye pour drink offering thereon.
10 [†] And Aaron shall make an atonement upon the horns of it once in a year with the blood of the sin offering of atonements: once in the year shall he make atonement upon it throughout your generations: it is most holy unto the LORD.
11 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
12 [†] When thou takest the sum of the children of Israel after their number, then shall they give every man a ransom for his soul unto the LORD, when thou numberest them; that there be no plague among them, when thou numberest them.
13 [†] This they shall give, every one that passeth among them that are numbered, half a shekel after the shekel of the sanctuary: (a shekel is twenty gerahs:) an half shekel shall be the offering of the LORD.
14 Every one that passeth among them that are numbered, from twenty years old and above, shall give an offering unto the LORD.
15 The rich shall not give more, and the poor shall not give less than half a shekel, when they give an offering unto the LORD, to make an atonement for your souls.
16 [†] And thou shalt take the atonement money of the children of Israel, and shalt appoint it for the service of the tabernacle of the congregation; that it may be a memorial unto the children of Israel before the LORD, to make an atonement for your souls.
17 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
18 [†] Thou shalt also make a laver of brass, and his foot also of brass, to wash withal: and thou shalt put it between the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar, and thou shalt put water therein.
19 [†] For Aaron and his sons shall wash their hands and their feet thereat:
20 [†] When they go into the tabernacle of the congregation, they shall wash with water, that they die not; or when they come near to the altar to minister, to burn offering made by fire unto the LORD:
21 [†] So they shall wash their hands and their feet, that they die not: and it shall be a statute for ever to them, even to him and to his seed throughout their generations.
22 ¶ Moreover the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
23 [†] Take thou also unto thee principal spices, of pure myrrh five hundred shekels, and of sweet cinnamon half so much, even two hundred and fifty shekels, and of sweet calamus two hundred and fifty shekels,

24 [†] And of cassia five hundred shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary, and of oil olive an hin:
25 [†] And thou shalt make it an oil of holy ointment, an ointment compound after the art of the apothecary: it shall be an holy anointing oil.
26 [†] And thou shalt anoint the tabernacle of the congregation therewith, and the ark of the testimony,
27 [†] And the table and all his vessels, and the candlestick and his vessels, and the altar of incense,
28 And the altar of burnt offering with all his vessels, and the laver and his foot.
29 And thou shalt sanctify them, that they may be most holy: whatsoever toucheth them shall be holy.
30 And thou shalt anoint Aaron and his sons, and consecrate them, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office.
31 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel, saying, This shall be an holy anointing oil unto me throughout your generations.
32 Upon man's flesh shall it not be poured, neither shall ye make any other like it, after the composition of it: it is holy, and it shall be holy unto you.
33 [†] Whosoever compoundeth any like it, or whosoever putteth any of it upon a stranger, shall even be cut off from his people.
34 [†] ¶ And the LORD said unto Moses, Take unto thee sweet spices, stacte, and onycha, and galbanum; these sweet spices with pure frankincense: of each shall there be a like weight:
35 [†] And thou shalt make it a perfume, a confection after the art of the apothecary, tempered together, pure and holy:
36 And thou shalt beat some of it very small, and put of it before the testimony in the tabernacle of the congregation, where I will meet with thee: it shall be unto you most holy.
37 And as for the perfume which thou shalt make, ye shall not make to yourselves according to the composition thereof: it shall be unto thee holy for the LORD.
38 [†] Whosoever shall make like unto that, to smell thereto, shall even be cut off from his people.

Exodus 31 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 See, I have called by name Bezaleel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah:
3 [†] And I have filled him with the spirit of God, in wisdom, and in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all manner of workmanship,
4 [†] To devise cunning works, to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass,
5 And in cutting of stones, to set them, and in carving of timber, to work in all manner of workmanship.
6 [†] And I, behold, I have given with him Aholiab, the son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan: and in the hearts of all that are wise hearted I have put wisdom, that they may make all that I have commanded thee;
7 [†] The tabernacle of the congregation, and the ark of the testimony, and the mercy seat that is thereupon, and all the furniture of the tabernacle,
8 [†] And the table and his furniture, and the pure candlestick with all his furniture, and the altar of incense,
9 And the altar of burnt offering with all his furniture, and the laver and his foot,
10 [†] And the cloths of service, and the holy garments for Aaron the priest, and the garments of his sons, to minister in the priest's office,
11 And the anointing oil, and sweet incense for the holy place: according to all that I have commanded thee shall they do.
12 [†] ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
13 [†] Speak thou also unto the children of Israel, saying, Verily my sabbaths ye shall keep: for it is a sign between me and you throughout your generations; that ye may know that I am the Lord that doth sanctify you.
14 [†] Ye shall keep the sabbath therefore; for it is holy unto you: every one that defileth it shall surely be put to death: for whosoever doeth any work therein, that soul shall be cut off from among his people.
15 Six days may work be done; but in the seventh is the sabbath of rest, holy to the Lord: whosoever doeth any work in the sabbath day, he shall surely be put to death.
16 Wherefore the children of Israel shall keep the sabbath, to observe the sabbath throughout their generations, for a perpetual covenant.
17 It is a sign between me and the children of Israel for ever: for in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, and on the seventh day he rested, and was refreshed.
18 [†] ¶ And he gave unto Moses, when he had made an end of communing with him upon mount Sinai, two tables of testimony, tables of stone, written with the finger of God.

Exodus 32 [†]

1 [†] And when the people saw that Moses delayed to come down out of the mount, the people gathered themselves together unto Aaron, and said unto him, Up, make us gods, which shall go before us; for as for this Moses, the man that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.
2 And Aaron said unto them, Break off the golden earrings, which are in the ears of your wives, of your sons, and of your daughters, and bring them unto me.
3 And all the people brake off the golden earrings which were in their ears, and brought them unto Aaron.
4 [†] And he received them at their hand, and fashioned it with a graving tool, after he had made it a molten calf: and they said, These be thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.
5 [†] And when Aaron saw it, he built an altar before it; and Aaron made proclamation, and said, To morrow is a feast to the Lord.
6 [†] And they rose up early on the morrow, and offered burnt offerings, and brought peace offerings; and the people sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to play.
7 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Go, get thee down; for thy people, which thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, have corrupted themselves:
8 [†] They have turned aside quickly out of the way which I commanded them: they have made them a molten calf, and have worshipped it, and have sacrificed thereunto, and said, These be thy gods, O Israel, which have brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.
9 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiffnecked people:
10 [†] Now therefore let me alone, that my wrath may wax hot against them, and that I may consume them: and I will make of thee a great nation.
11 [†] And Moses besought the Lord his God, and said, Lord, why doth thy wrath wax hot against thy people, which thou hast brought forth out of the land of Egypt with great power, and with a mighty hand?
12 Wherefore should the Egyptians speak, and say, For mischief did he bring them out, to slay them in the mountains, and to consume them from the face of the earth? Turn from thy fierce wrath, and repent of this evil against thy people.
13 Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, thy servants, to whom thou swarest by thine own self, and saidst unto them, I will multiply your seed as the stars of heaven, and all this land that I have spoken of will I give unto your seed, and they shall inherit it for ever.
14 [†] And the Lord repented of the evil which he thought to do unto his people.
15 [†] ¶ And Moses turned, and went down from the mount, and the two tables of the testimony were in his hand: the tables were written on both their sides; on the one side and on the other were they written.
16 And the tables were the work of God, and the writing was the writing of God, graven upon the tables.
17 And when Joshua heard the noise of the people as they shouted, he said unto Moses, There is a noise of war in the camp.
18 [†] And he said, It is not the voice of them that shout for mastery, neither is it the voice of them that cry for being overcome: but the noise of them that sing do I hear.
19 [†] ¶ And it came to pass, as soon as he came nigh unto the camp, that he saw the calf, and the dancing: and Moses' anger waxed hot, and he cast the tables out of his hands, and brake them beneath the mount.
20 [†] And he took the calf which they had made, and burnt it in the fire, and ground it to powder, and strawed it upon the water, and made the children of Israel drink of it.

21 And Moses said unto Aaron, What did this people unto thee, that thou hast brought so great a sin upon them?
22 [†] And Aaron said, Let not the anger of my lord wax hot: thou knowest the people, that they are set on mischief.
23 [†] For they said unto me, Make us gods, which shall go before us: for as for this Moses, the man that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.
24 [†] And I said unto them, Whosoever hath any gold, let them break it off. So they gave it me: then I cast it into the fire, and there came out this calf.
25 [†] ¶ And when Moses saw that the people were naked; (for Aaron had made them naked unto their shame among their enemies:)
26 Then Moses stood in the gate of the camp, and said, Who is on the LORD's side? let him come unto me. And all the sons of Levi gathered themselves together unto him.
27 And he said unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Put every man his sword by his side, and go in and out from gate to gate throughout the camp, and slay every man his brother, and every man his companion, and every man his neighbour.
28 And the children of Levi did according to the word of Moses: and there fell of the people that day about three thousand men.
29 [†] For Moses had said, Consecrate yourselves to day to the LORD, even every man upon his son, and upon his brother; that he may bestow upon you a blessing this day.
30 [†] ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that Moses said unto the people, Ye have sinned a great sin: and now I will go up unto the LORD; peradventure I shall make an atonement for your sin.
31 And Moses returned unto the LORD, and said, Oh, this people have sinned a great sin, and have made them gods of gold.
32 Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin—; and if not, blot me, I pray thee, out of thy book which thou hast written.
33 [†] And the LORD said unto Moses, Whosoever hath sinned against me, him will I blot out of my book.
34 [†] Therefore now go, lead the people unto the place of which I have spoken unto thee: behold, mine Angel shall go before thee: nevertheless in the day when I visit I will visit their sin upon them.
35 [†] And the LORD plagued the people, because they made the calf, which Aaron made.

Exodus 33 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Depart, and go up hence, thou and the people which thou hast brought up out of the land of Egypt, unto the land which I sware unto Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, saying, Unto thy seed will I give it:
2 And I will send an angel before thee; and I will drive out the Canaanite, the Amorite, and the Hittite, and the Perizzite, the Hivite, and the Jebusite:
3 [†] Unto a land flowing with milk and honey: for I will not go up in the midst of thee; for thou art a stiffnecked people: lest I consume thee in the way.
4 [†] ¶ And when the people heard these evil tidings, they mourned: and no man did put on him his ornaments.
5 For the Lord had said unto Moses, Say unto the children of Israel, Ye are a stiffnecked people: I will come up into the midst of thee in a moment, and consume thee: therefore now put off thy ornaments from thee, that I may know what to do unto thee.
6 And the children of Israel stripped themselves of their ornaments by the mount Horeb.
7 [†] And Moses took the tabernacle, and pitched it without the camp, afar off from the camp, and called it the Tabernacle of the congregation. And it came to pass, that every one which sought the Lord went out unto the tabernacle of the congregation, which was without the camp.
8 And it came to pass, when Moses went out unto the tabernacle, that all the people rose up, and stood every man at his tent door, and looked after Moses, until he was gone into the tabernacle.
9 And it came to pass, as Moses entered into the tabernacle, the cloudy pillar descended, and stood at the door of the tabernacle, and the Lord talked with Moses.
10 And all the people saw the cloudy pillar stand at the tabernacle door: and all the people rose up and worshipped, every man in his tent door.
11 [†] And the Lord spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. And he turned again into the camp: but his servant Joshua, the son of Nun, a young man, departed not out of the tabernacle.
12 ¶ And Moses said unto the Lord, See, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me. Yet thou hast said, I know thee by name, and thou hast also found grace in my sight.
13 Now therefore, I pray thee, if I have found grace in thy sight, shew me now thy way, that I may know thee, that I may find grace in thy sight: and consider that this nation is thy people.
14 And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest.
15 [†] And he said unto him, If thy presence go not with me, carry us not up hence.
16 [†] For wherein shall it be known here that I and thy people have found grace in thy sight? is it not in that thou goest with us? so shall we be separated, I and thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth.
17 And the Lord said unto Moses, I will do this thing also that thou hast spoken: for thou hast found grace in my sight, and I know thee by name.
18 [†] And he said, I beseech thee, shew me thy glory.
19 [†] And he said, I will make all my goodness pass before thee, and I will proclaim the name of the Lord before thee; and will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and will shew mercy on whom I will shew mercy.
20 [†] And he said, Thou canst not see my face: for there shall no man see me, and live.
21 [†] And the Lord said, Behold, there is a place by me, and thou shalt stand upon a rock:
22 [†] And it shall come to pass, while my glory passeth by, that I will put thee in a clift of the rock, and will cover thee with my hand while I pass by:

23 [†] And I will take away mine hand, and thou shalt see my back parts: but my face shall not be seen.

Exodus 34 [†]

(see article: God's Love and Justice)

1 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Hew thee two tables of stone like unto the first: and I will write upon these tables the words that were in the first tables, which thou brakest.
2 And be ready in the morning, and come up in the morning unto mount Sinai, and present thyself there to me in the top of the mount.
3 And no man shall come up with thee, neither let any man be seen throughout all the mount; neither let the flocks nor herds feed before that mount.
4 ¶ And he hewed two tables of stone like unto the first; and Moses rose up early in the morning, and went up unto mount Sinai, as the Lord had commanded him, and took in his hand the two tables of stone.
5 [†] And the Lord descended in the cloud, and stood with him there, and proclaimed the name of the Lord.
6 [†] And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God, merciful and gracious, longsuffering, and abundant in goodness and truth,
7 [†] Keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty; visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and upon the children's children, unto the third and to the fourth generation.
8 [†] And Moses made haste, and bowed his head toward the earth, and worshipped.
9 [†] And he said, If now I have found grace in thy sight, O Lord, let my Lord, I pray thee, go among us; for it is a stiffnecked people; and pardon our iniquity and our sin, and take us for thine inheritance.
10 [†] ¶ And he said, Behold, I make a covenant: before all thy people I will do marvels, such as have not been done in all the earth, nor in any nation: and all the people among which thou art shall see the work of the Lord: for it is a terrible thing that I will do with thee.
11 Observe thou that which I command thee this day: behold, I drive out before thee the Amorite, and the Canaanite, and the Hittite, and the Perizzite, and the Hivite, and the Jebusite.
12 [†] Take heed to thyself, lest thou make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land whither thou goest, lest it be for a snare in the midst of thee:
13 [†] But ye shall destroy their altars, break their images, and cut down their groves:
14 [†] For thou shalt worship no other god: for the Lord, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God:
15 Lest thou make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land, and they go a whoring after their gods, and do sacrifice unto their gods, and one call thee, and thou eat of his sacrifice;
16 And thou take of their daughters unto thy sons, and their daughters go a whoring after their gods, and make thy sons go a whoring after their gods.
17 [†] Thou shalt make thee no molten gods.
18 ¶ The feast of unleavened bread shalt thou keep. Seven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, as I commanded thee, in the time of the month Abib: for in the month Abib thou camest out from Egypt.
19 [†] All that openeth the matrix is mine; and every firstling among thy cattle, whether ox or sheep, that is male.
20 But the firstling of an ass thou shalt redeem with a lamb: and if thou redeem him not, then shalt thou break his neck. All the firstborn of thy sons thou shalt redeem. And none shall appear before me empty.
21 [†] ¶ Six days thou shalt work, but on the seventh day thou shalt rest: in earing time and in harvest thou shalt rest.
22 ¶ And thou shalt observe the feast of weeks, of the firstfruits of wheat harvest, and the feast of ingathering at the year's end.

23 ¶ Thrice in the year shall all your men children appear before the Lord GOD, the God of Israel.
24 [†] For I will cast out the nations before thee, and enlarge thy borders: neither shall any man desire thy land, when thou shalt go up to appear before the LORD thy God thrice in the year.
25 Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leaven; neither shall the sacrifice of the feast of the passover be left unto the morning.
26 [†] The first of the firstfruits of thy land thou shalt bring unto the house of the LORD thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk.
27 [†] And the LORD said unto Moses, Write thou these words: for after the tenor of these words I have made a covenant with thee and with Israel.
28 [†] And he was there with the LORD forty days and forty nights; he did neither eat bread, nor drink water. And he wrote upon the tables the words of the covenant, the ten commandments.
29 [†] ¶ And it came to pass, when Moses came down from mount Sinai with the two tables of testimony in Moses' hand, when he came down from the mount, that Moses wist not that the skin of his face shone while he talked with him.
30 And when Aaron and all the children of Israel saw Moses, behold, the skin of his face shone; and they were afraid to come nigh him.
31 And Moses called unto them; and Aaron and all the rulers of the congregation returned unto him: and Moses talked with them.
32 And afterward all the children of Israel came nigh: and he gave them in commandment all that the LORD had spoken with him in mount Sinai.
33 [†] And till Moses had done speaking with them, he put a vail on his face.
34 But when Moses went in before the LORD to speak with him, he took the vail off, until he came out. And he came out, and spake unto the children of Israel that which he was commanded.
35 And the children of Israel saw the face of Moses, that the skin of Moses' face shone: and Moses put the vail upon his face again, until he went in to speak with him.

Exodus 35 [†]

1 And Moses gathered all the congregation of the children of Israel together, and said unto them, These are the words which the Lord hath commanded, that ye should do them.
2 [†] Six days shall work be done, but on the seventh day there shall be to you an holy day, a sabbath of rest to the Lord: whosoever doeth work therein shall be put to death.
3 Ye shall kindle no fire throughout your habitations upon the sabbath day.
4 ¶ And Moses spake unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lord commanded, saying,
5 [†] Take ye from among you an offering unto the Lord: whosoever is of a willing heart, let him bring it, an offering of the Lord; gold, and silver, and brass,
6 And blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair,
7 And rams' skins dyed red, and badgers' skins, and shittim wood,
8 And oil for the light, and spices for anointing oil, and for the sweet incense,
9 And onyx stones, and stones to be set for the ephod, and for the breastplate.
10 And every wise hearted among you shall come, and make all that the Lord hath commanded;
11 The tabernacle, his tent, and his covering, his taches, and his boards, his bars, his pillars, and his sockets,
12 [†] The ark, and the staves thereof, with the mercy seat, and the vail of the covering,
13 The table, and his staves, and all his vessels, and the shewbread,
14 [†] The candlestick also for the light, and his furniture, and his lamps, with the oil for the light,
15 And the incense altar, and his staves, and the anointing oil, and the sweet incense, and the hanging for the door at the entering in of the tabernacle,
16 The altar of burnt offering, with his brasen grate, his staves, and all his vessels, the laver and his foot,
17 The hangings of the court, his pillars, and their sockets, and the hanging for the door of the court,
18 The pins of the tabernacle, and the pins of the court, and their cords,
19 The cloths of service, to do service in the holy place, the holy garments for Aaron the priest, and the garments of his sons, to minister in the priest's office.
20 ¶ And all the congregation of the children of Israel departed from the presence of Moses.
21 And they came, every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing, and they brought the Lord's offering to the work of the tabernacle of the congregation, and for all his service, and for the holy garments.
22 [†] And they came, both men and women, as many as were willing hearted, and brought bracelets, and earrings, and rings, and tablets, all jewels of gold: and every man that offered offered an offering of gold unto the Lord.
23 And every man, with whom was found blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair, and red skins of rams, and badgers' skins, brought them.
24 Every one that did offer an offering of silver and brass brought the Lord's offering: and every man, with whom was found shittim wood for any work of the service, brought it.
25 And all the women that were wise hearted did spin with their hands, and brought that which they had spun, both of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, and of fine linen.
26 And all the women whose heart stirred them up in wisdom spun goats' hair.
27 And the rulers brought onyx stones, and stones to be set, for the ephod, and for the breastplate;
28 And spice, and oil for the light, and for the anointing oil, and for the sweet incense.
29 The children of Israel brought a willing offering unto the Lord, every man and woman, whose heart made them willing to bring for all manner of work, which the Lord had commanded to be made by the hand of Moses.

30 [†] ¶ And Moses said unto the children of Israel, See, the LORD hath called by name Bezaleel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah;
31 And he hath filled him with the spirit of God, in wisdom, in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all manner of workmanship;
32 And to devise curious works, to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass,
33 And in the cutting of stones, to set them, and in carving of wood, to make any manner of cunning work.
34 And he hath put in his heart that he may teach, both he, and Aholiab, the son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan.
35 Them hath he filled with wisdom of heart, to work all manner of work, of the engraver, and of the cunning workman, and of the embroiderer, in blue, and in purple, in scarlet, and in fine linen, and of the weaver, even of them that do any work, and of those that devise cunning work.

Exodus 36 [†]

1 Then wrought Bezaleel and Aholiab, and every wise hearted man, in whom the Lord put wisdom and understanding to know how to work all manner of work for the service of the sanctuary, according to all that the Lord had commanded.
2 And Moses called Bezaleel and Aholiab, and every wise hearted man, in whose heart the Lord had put wisdom, even every one whose heart stirred him up to come unto the work to do it:
3 [†] And they received of Moses all the offering, which the children of Israel had brought for the work of the service of the sanctuary, to make it withal. And they brought yet unto him free offerings every morning.
4 And all the wise men, that wrought all the work of the sanctuary, came every man from his work which they made;
5 ¶ And they spake unto Moses, saying, The people bring much more than enough for the service of the work, which the Lord commanded to make.
6 And Moses gave commandment, and they caused it to be proclaimed throughout the camp, saying, Let neither man nor woman make any more work for the offering of the sanctuary. So the people were restrained from bringing.
7 For the stuff they had was sufficient for all the work to make it, and too much.
8 ¶ And every wise hearted man among them that wrought the work of the tabernacle made ten curtains of fine twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet: with cherubims of cunning work made he them.
9 The length of one curtain was twenty and eight cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits: the curtains were all of one size.
10 And he coupled the five curtains one unto another: and the other five curtains he coupled one unto another.
11 And he made loops of blue on the edge of one curtain from the selvedge in the coupling: likewise he made in the uttermost side of another curtain, in the coupling of the second.
12 Fifty loops made he in one curtain, and fifty loops made he in the edge of the curtain which was in the coupling of the second: the loops held one curtain to another.
13 And he made fifty taches of gold, and coupled the curtains one unto another with the taches: so it became one tabernacle.
14 ¶ And he made curtains of goats' hair for the tent over the tabernacle: eleven curtains he made them.
15 The length of one curtain was thirty cubits, and four cubits was the breadth of one curtain: the eleven curtains were of one size.
16 And he coupled five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves.
17 And he made fifty loops upon the uttermost edge of the curtain in the coupling, and fifty loops made he upon the edge of the curtain which coupleth the second.
18 And he made fifty taches of brass to couple the tent together, that it might be one.
19 And he made a covering for the tent of rams' skins dyed red, and a covering of badgers' skins above that.
20 ¶ And he made boards for the tabernacle of shittim wood, standing up.
21 The length of a board was ten cubits, and the breadth of a board one cubit and a half.
22 One board had two tenons, equally distant one from another: thus did he make for all the boards of the tabernacle.
23 And he made boards for the tabernacle; twenty boards for the south side southward:
24 And forty sockets of silver he made under the twenty boards; two sockets under one board for his two tenons, and two sockets under another board for his two tenons.

25 And for the other side of the tabernacle, which is toward the north corner, he made twenty boards,
26 And their forty sockets of silver; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board.
27 And for the sides of the tabernacle westward he made six boards.
28 And two boards made he for the corners of the tabernacle in the two sides.
29 And they were coupled beneath, and coupled together at the head thereof, to one ring: thus he did to both of them in both the corners.
30 And there were eight boards; and their sockets were sixteen sockets of silver, under every board two sockets.
31 ¶ And he made bars of shittim wood; five for the boards of the one side of the tabernacle,
32 And five bars for the boards of the other side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the tabernacle for the sides westward.
33 And he made the middle bar to shoot through the boards from the one end to the other.
34 And he overlaid the boards with gold, and made their rings of gold to be places for the bars, and overlaid the bars with gold.
35 ¶ And he made a vail of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen: with cherubims made he it of cunning work.
36 And he made thereunto four pillars of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold: their hooks were of gold; and he cast for them four sockets of silver.
37 ¶ And he made an hanging for the tabernacle door of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, of needlework;
38 [†] And the five pillars of it with their hooks: and he overlaid their chapiters and their fillets with gold: but their five sockets were of brass.

Exodus 37 [†]

1 [†] And Bezaleel made the ark of shittim wood: two cubits and a half was the length of it, and a cubit and a half the breadth of it, and a cubit and a half the height of it:
2 [†] And he overlaid it with pure gold within and without, and made a crown of gold to it round about.
3 And he cast for it four rings of gold, to be set by the four corners of it; even two rings upon the one side of it, and two rings upon the other side of it.
4 And he made staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold.
5 And he put the staves into the rings by the sides of the ark, to bear the ark.
6 ¶ And he made the mercy seat of pure gold: two cubits and a half was the length thereof, and one cubit and a half the breadth thereof.
7 And he made two cherubims of gold, beaten out of one piece made he them, on the two ends of the mercy seat;
8 One cherub on the end on this side, and another cherub on the other end on that side: out of the mercy seat made he the cherubims on the two ends thereof.
9 [†] And the cherubims spread out their wings on high, and covered with their wings over the mercy seat, with their faces one to another; even to the mercy seatward were the faces of the cherubims.
10 [†] ¶ And he made the table of shittim wood: two cubits was the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof:
11 And he overlaid it with pure gold, and made thereunto a crown of gold round about.
12 Also he made thereunto a border of an handbreadth round about; and made a crown of gold for the border thereof round about.
13 And he cast for it four rings of gold, and put the rings upon the four corners that were in the four feet thereof.
14 Over against the border were the rings, the places for the staves to bear the table.
15 And he made the staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold, to bear the table.
16 And he made the vessels which were upon the table, his dishes, and his spoons, and his bowls, and his covers to cover withal, of pure gold.
17 [†] ¶ And he made the candlestick of pure gold: of beaten work made he the candlestick; his shaft, and his branch, his bowls, his knops, and his flowers, were of the same:
18 And six branches going out of the sides thereof; three branches of the candlestick out of the one side thereof, and three branches of the candlestick out of the other side thereof:
19 Three bowls made after the fashion of almonds in one branch, a knop and a flower; and three bowls made like almonds in another branch, a knop and a flower: so throughout the six branches going out of the candlestick.
20 And in the candlestick were four bowls made like almonds, his knops, and his flowers:
21 And a knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, and a knop under two branches of the same, according to the six branches going out of it.
22 Their knops and their branches were of the same: all of it was one beaten work of pure gold.
23 [†] And he made his seven lamps, and his snuffers, and his snuffdishes, of pure gold.
24 Of a talent of pure gold made he it, and all the vessels thereof.
25 [†] ¶ And he made the incense altar of shittim wood: the length of it was a cubit, and the breadth of it a cubit; it was foursquare; and two cubits was the height of it; the horns thereof were of the same.
26 And he overlaid it with pure gold, both the top of it, and the sides thereof round about, and the horns of it: also he made unto it a crown of gold round about.
27 And he made two rings of gold for it under the crown thereof, by the two corners of it, upon the two sides thereof, to be places for the staves to bear it withal.

28 And he made the staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold.
29 [†] ¶ And he made the holy anointing oil, and the pure incense of sweet spices, according to the work of the apothecary.

Exodus 38 [†]

1 [†] And he made the altar of burnt offering of shittim wood: five cubits was the length thereof, and five cubits the breadth thereof; it was foursquare; and three cubits the height thereof.
2 And he made the horns thereof on the four corners of it; the horns thereof were of the same: and he overlaid it with brass.
3 And he made all the vessels of the altar, the pots, and the shovels, and the basons, and the fleshhooks, and the firepans: all the vessels thereof made he of brass.
4 [†] And he made for the altar a brasen grate of network under the compass thereof beneath unto the midst of it.
5 And he cast four rings for the four ends of the grate of brass, to be places for the staves.
6 And he made the staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with brass.
7 And he put the staves into the rings on the sides of the altar, to bear it withal; he made the altar hollow with boards.
8 [†] ¶ And he made the laver of brass, and the foot of it of brass, of the lookingglasses of the women assembling, which assembled at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
9 [†] ¶ And he made the court: on the south side southward the hangings of the court were of fine twined linen, an hundred cubits:
10 Their pillars were twenty, and their brasen sockets twenty; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets were of silver.
11 And for the north side the hangings were an hundred cubits, their pillars were twenty, and their sockets of brass twenty; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of silver.
12 And for the west side were hangings of fifty cubits, their pillars ten, and their sockets ten; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of silver.
13 And for the east side eastward fifty cubits.
14 The hangings of the one side of the gate were fifteen cubits; their pillars three, and their sockets three.
15 And for the other side of the court gate, on this hand and that hand, were hangings of fifteen cubits; their pillars three, and their sockets three.
16 All the hangings of the court round about were of fine twined linen.
17 [†] And the sockets for the pillars were of brass; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets of silver; and the overlaying of their chapiters of silver; and all the pillars of the court were filleted with silver.
18 And the hanging for the gate of the court was needlework, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen: and twenty cubits was the length, and the height in the breadth was five cubits, answerable to the hangings of the court.
19 And their pillars were four, and their sockets of brass four; their hooks of silver, and the overlaying of their chapiters and their fillets of silver.
20 And all the pins of the tabernacle, and of the court round about, were of brass.
21 ¶ This is the sum of the tabernacle, even of the tabernacle of testimony, as it was counted, according to the commandment of Moses, for the service of the Levites, by the hand of Ithamar, son to Aaron the priest.
22 And Bezaleel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah, made all that the LORD commanded Moses.
23 And with him was Aholiab, son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan, an engraver, and a cunning workman, and an embroiderer in blue, and in purple, and in scarlet, and fine linen.
24 All the gold that was occupied for the work in all the work of the holy place, even the gold of the offering, was twenty and nine talents, and seven hundred and thirty shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary.

25 [†] And the silver of them that were numbered of the congregation was an hundred talents, and a thousand seven hundred and threescore and fifteen shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary:
26 A bekah for every man, that is, half a shekel, after the shekel of the sanctuary, for every one that went to be numbered, from twenty years old and upward, for six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty men.
27 And of the hundred talents of silver were cast the sockets of the sanctuary, and the sockets of the vail; an hundred sockets of the hundred talents, a talent for a socket.
28 And of the thousand seven hundred seventy and five shekels he made hooks for the pillars, and overlaid their chapiters, and filleted them.
29 And the brass of the offering was seventy talents, and two thousand and four hundred shekels.
30 And therewith he made the sockets to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the brasen altar, and the brasen grate for it, and all the vessels of the altar,
31 And the sockets of the court round about, and the sockets of the court gate, and all the pins of the tabernacle, and all the pins of the court round about.

Exodus 39 [†]

1 [†] And of the blue, and purple, and scarlet, they made cloths of service, to do service in the holy place, and made the holy garments for Aaron; as the Lord commanded Moses.
2 [†] And he made the ephod of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen.
3 And they did beat the gold into thin plates, and cut it into wires, to work it in the blue, and in the purple, and in the scarlet, and in the fine linen, with cunning work.
4 They made shoulderpieces for it, to couple it together: by the two edges was it coupled together.
5 And the curious girdle of his ephod, that was upon it, was of the same, according to the work thereof; of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen; as the Lord commanded Moses.
6 ¶ And they wrought onyx stones inclosed in ouches of gold, graven, as signets are graven, with the names of the children of Israel.
7 And he put them on the shoulders of the ephod, that they should be stones for a memorial to the children of Israel; as the Lord commanded Moses.
8 ¶ And he made the breastplate of cunning work, like the work of the ephod; of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen.
9 It was foursquare; they made the breastplate double: a span was the length thereof, and a span the breadth thereof, being doubled.
10 And they set in it four rows of stones: the first row was a sardius, a topaz, and a carbuncle: this was the first row.
11 And the second row, an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond.
12 And the third row, a ligure, an agate, and an amethyst.
13 And the fourth row, a beryl, an onyx, and a jasper: they were inclosed in ouches of gold in their inclosings.
14 And the stones were according to the names of the children of Israel, twelve, according to their names, like the engravings of a signet, every one with his name, according to the twelve tribes.
15 And they made upon the breastplate chains at the ends, of wreathen work of pure gold.
16 And they made two ouches of gold, and two gold rings; and put the two rings in the two ends of the breastplate.
17 And they put the two wreathen chains of gold in the two rings on the ends of the breastplate.
18 And the two ends of the two wreathen chains they fastened in the two ouches, and put them on the shoulderpieces of the ephod, before it.
19 And they made two rings of gold, and put them on the two ends of the breastplate, upon the border of it, which was on the side of the ephod inward.
20 And they made two other golden rings, and put them on the two sides of the ephod underneath, toward the forepart of it, over against the other coupling thereof, above the curious girdle of the ephod.
21 And they did bind the breastplate by his rings unto the rings of the ephod with a lace of blue, that it might be above the curious girdle of the ephod, and that the breastplate might not be loosed from the ephod; as the Lord commanded Moses.
22 [†] ¶ And he made the robe of the ephod of woven work, all of blue.
23 And there was an hole in the midst of the robe, as the hole of an habergeon, with a band round about the hole, that it should not rend.
24 And they made upon the hems of the robe pomegranates of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and twined linen.
25 And they made bells of pure gold, and put the bells between the pomegranates upon the hem of the robe, round about between the pomegranates;

26 A bell and a pomegranate, a bell and a pomegranate, round about the hem of the robe to minister in; as the LORD commanded Moses.
27 [†] ¶ And they made coats of fine linen of woven work for Aaron, and for his sons,
28 And a mitre of fine linen, and goodly bonnets of fine linen, and linen breeches of fine twined linen,
29 And a girdle of fine twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, of needlework; as the LORD commanded Moses.
30 ¶ And they made the plate of the holy crown of pure gold, and wrote upon it a writing, like to the engravings of a signet, HOLINESS TO THE LORD.
31 And they tied unto it a lace of blue, to fasten it on high upon the mitre; as the LORD commanded Moses.
32 ¶ Thus was all the work of the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation finished: and the children of Israel did according to all that the LORD commanded Moses, so did they.
33 [†] ¶ And they brought the tabernacle unto Moses, the tent, and all his furniture, his taches, his boards, his bars, and his pillars, and his sockets,
34 And the covering of rams' skins dyed red, and the covering of badgers' skins, and the vail of the covering,
35 The ark of the testimony, and the staves thereof, and the mercy seat,
36 The table, and all the vessels thereof, and the shewbread,
37 The pure candlestick, with the lamps thereof, even with the lamps to be set in order, and all the vessels thereof, and the oil for light,
38 And the golden altar, and the anointing oil, and the sweet incense, and the hanging for the tabernacle door,
39 The brasen altar, and his grate of brass, his staves, and all his vessels, the laver and his foot,
40 The hangings of the court, his pillars, and his sockets, and the hanging for the court gate, his cords, and his pins, and all the vessels of the service of the tabernacle, for the tent of the congregation,
41 The cloths of service to do service in the holy place, and the holy garments for Aaron the priest, and his sons' garments, to minister in the priest's office.
42 [†] According to all that the LORD commanded Moses, so the children of Israel made all the work.
43 And Moses did look upon all the work, and, behold, they had done it as the LORD had commanded, even so had they done it: and Moses blessed them.

Exodus 40 [†]

(see article: God's Dwelling with Man)

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] On the first day of the first month shalt thou set up the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation.
3 And thou shalt put therein the ark of the testimony, and cover the ark with the vail.
4 And thou shalt bring in the table, and set in order the things that are to be set in order upon it; and thou shalt bring in the candlestick, and light the lamps thereof.
5 And thou shalt set the altar of gold for the incense before the ark of the testimony, and put the hanging of the door to the tabernacle.
6 And thou shalt set the altar of the burnt offering before the door of the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation.
7 And thou shalt set the laver between the tent of the congregation and the altar, and shalt put water therein.
8 And thou shalt set up the court round about, and hang up the hanging at the court gate.
9 And thou shalt take the anointing oil, and anoint the tabernacle, and all that is therein, and shalt hallow it, and all the vessels thereof: and it shall be holy.
10 And thou shalt anoint the altar of the burnt offering, and all his vessels, and sanctify the altar: and it shall be an altar most holy.
11 And thou shalt anoint the laver and his foot, and sanctify it.
12 And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sons unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and wash them with water.
13 And thou shalt put upon Aaron the holy garments, and anoint him, and sanctify him; that he may minister unto me in the priest's office.
14 And thou shalt bring his sons, and clothe them with coats:
15 And thou shalt anoint them, as thou didst anoint their father, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office: for their anointing shall surely be an everlasting priesthood throughout their generations.
16 [†] Thus did Moses: according to all that the Lord commanded him, so did he.
17 ¶ And it came to pass in the first month in the second year, on the first day of the month, that the tabernacle was reared up.
18 And Moses reared up the tabernacle, and fastened his sockets, and set up the boards thereof, and put in the bars thereof, and reared up his pillars.
19 And he spread abroad the tent over the tabernacle, and put the covering of the tent above upon it; as the Lord commanded Moses.
20 ¶ And he took and put the testimony into the ark, and set the staves on the ark, and put the mercy seat above upon the ark:
21 And he brought the ark into the tabernacle, and set up the vail of the covering, and covered the ark of the testimony; as the Lord commanded Moses.
22 ¶ And he put the table in the tent of the congregation, upon the side of the tabernacle northward, without the vail.
23 And he set the bread in order upon it before the Lord; as the Lord had commanded Moses.
24 ¶ And he put the candlestick in the tent of the congregation, over against the table, on the side of the tabernacle southward.
25 And he lighted the lamps before the Lord; as the Lord commanded Moses.
26 ¶ And he put the golden altar in the tent of the congregation before the vail:

27 And he burnt sweet incense thereon; as the LORD commanded Moses.
28 ¶ And he set up the hanging at the door of the tabernacle.
29 And he put the altar of burnt offering by the door of the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation, and offered upon it the burnt offering and the meat offering; as the LORD commanded Moses.
30 ¶ And he set the laver between the tent of the congregation and the altar, and put water there, to wash withal.
31 And Moses and Aaron and his sons washed their hands and their feet thereat:
32 When they went into the tent of the congregation, and when they came near unto the altar, they washed; as the LORD commanded Moses.
33 And he reared up the court round about the tabernacle and the altar, and set up the hanging of the court gate. So Moses finished the work.
34 [†] ¶ Then a cloud covered the tent of the congregation, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle.
35 [†] And Moses was not able to enter into the tent of the congregation, because the cloud abode thereon, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle.
36 And when the cloud was taken up from over the tabernacle, the children of Israel went onward in all their journeys:
37 But if the cloud were not taken up, then they journeyed not till the day that it was taken up.
38 [†] For the cloud of the LORD was upon the tabernacle by day, and fire was on it by night, in the sight of all the house of Israel, throughout all their journeys.

NOTES ON THE BOOK OF

EXODUS

THE LORD REDEEMS ISRAEL OUT OF EGYPT (1:1—18:27)

The Calling of the Deliverer (1:1—7:7)

The Sorrows of Israel and Moses (1:1—2:25)

Chapter 1: God multiplies the descendants of Israel in Egypt despite severe oppression.

1:1 names of the children of Israel. The list of Jacob's sons links Exodus to the last genealogy of Genesis (Gen. 46:8–27), continuing the story of God's blessing on Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and the progress of history toward the promised Seed, the Savior (Gen. 3:15).

1:5 souls. Persons. came out of the loins. Were his biological children.

1:7 children of Israel. Adults and children from Jacob's family. were fruitful. God caused this (Ps. 105:24), thus fulfilling His original mandate for mankind (Gen. 1:28) and His promises to Noah, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (Gen. 9:1; 17:6; 28:3; 35:11). increased abundantly. Teem or swarm like the original creation (Gen. 1:20–21). waxed exceeding mighty. Became a very, very large group of people. The fulfillment of God's promise drew near (Acts 7:17).

1:8 Joseph has been the famous lord of Egypt who saved it from starvation (Gen. 47:25).

1:10 falleth out. Happens to be. Persecution often begins with propaganda depicting God's people as dangerous.

1:11 taskmasters. Literally, "rulers of burdens," slave masters. The tomb of Rekhmire, vizier over Egypt in the fifteenth century BC, depicts slaves making bricks with the caption, "The taskmaster says to the builders, 'The rod is in my hand; do not be lazy.' " God had foretold to Abraham that his offspring would live in dependence on others in a foreign land (Gen. 15:13). That dependence ultimately turned to the bondage of slavery. treasure cities. Fortified cities for storage. Raamses. Probably located at Qantir.

1:12 the more they afflicted them, the more they multiplied. God fulfilled His plan through Israel's enslavement (Ps. 105:25), as with Joseph (Gen. 45:4–5). grieved. Distressed.

1:13–14 rigour. Severe hardship. bondage. Slavery. morter. Mortar.

1:15 midwives. Women who assist in the birth of children, here the chief two of Israel.

1:16 office. Job or service. stools. Literally, "two stones." Perhaps a stool on which women sat to give birth, or possibly meaning, "look for the testicles" to determine the baby's gender.

1:17–18 feared God. Rejoiced and trembled before God's majesty so that they cared more about pleasing God than anything else. men children. Baby boys.

1:19 lively. Vigorous. ere. Before. Perhaps a lie, or perhaps the midwife delayed her arrival until after the birth.

1:20 waxed very mighty. Became a very large or strong group of people.

1:21 houses. Families. Since they saved the children of others, God gave them children.

1:22 charged. Commanded. The killing of infants is the worst kind of murder but sadly common even in the modern world, including the scourge of abortion.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 1

1. God will multiply His people (Matt. 16:18), sometimes even through persecution. For example, the persecution of the church in Jerusalem actually spread the gospel so that "the word of God grew and multiplied" (Acts 8:1–4; 12:1,24). If you face persecution, how can you find the courage to not fear but stand firm with other believers (Phil. 1:27–29)?
2. When bullies and tyrants demand that we sin, we should fear God more than men (Matt. 10:28). God rewards those who fear Him (Ps. 33:18; 34:9–10). Disobedience to civil authority is lawful when necessary to obey God (Acts 4:19; 5:29), but breaking God's laws (such as lying) because of danger is never right.

Chapter 2: Moses was delivered from death and raised by the daughter of Pharaoh, but later chose the people of God over the riches of Egypt, and fled to Midian.

2:1 house of Levi. Family descended from Levi. to wife. As a wife.

2:2 Saw that he was good (goodly) means "she found him delightful" (Gen. 3:6). It also implies that God delighted in Moses (Acts 7:20, Greek) as in a new creation (Gen. 1:4,10). hid him. She defied the king's decree by faith in the Lord (Heb. 11:23).

2:3 ark. Box. Elsewhere in Scripture this only referred to the ark of Noah, an instrument of salvation and new creation (Gen. 6–9). bulrushes. Papyrus, the reeds of which were used to make boats. slime. Tar for waterproofing, like Noah's ark (Gen. 6:14). therein. Into it. flags. Reeds to hide the child.

2:4 wit. Know.

2:5 Pharaoh probably had many children by various women, so this daughter and her children may not have been particularly prominent. maidens . . . maid. Female servants.

2:9 nursed it. God allowed Moses' mother to nurture him at least in his early childhood.

2:10 he became her son. Moses was raised in Egyptian knowledge and leadership skills (Acts 7:22). By God's providence, Pharaoh's decree to destroy the Hebrew boys resulted in the training of the future deliverer of Israel.

2:11 Moses was grown. Forty years old (Acts 7:23). He turned away from the glories of Egypt, and embraced the sorrows of his brethren to share in Christ's reward (Heb. 11:24–26). spied. Saw. smiting. Striking.

2:12 slew. Killed. Moses defended and avenged the oppressed, believing God would save Israel through him (Acts 7:24–25). Yet he did so without authority or commission from God.

2:13 strove. Fought.

2:14 Israel rejected the deliverer sent by God, as they did Christ (Acts 7:25,35). But Christ, unlike Moses, did not set Himself up as an earthly ruler (Luke 12:14).

2:15 Pharaoh. Most likely, Thutmose II according to the widely accepted chronology of Egypt's eighteenth through twentieth dynasties. face. Presence. Midian. Desert of the Sinai peninsula and northwest Arabia.

2:17 helped. Saved, as a deliverer of the oppressed (v. 19). watered their flock. Like Jacob (Gen. 29:10).

2:18 Reuel. Jethro (3:1).

2:22 stranger. Foreigner like Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (Gen. 23:4; 26:3; 47:9; Heb. 11:13). God prepared the deliverer by afflicting him.

2:23 children of Israel. Adults and children descended from Jacob. bondage. Slavery. God uses affliction to humble people and make them long for salvation.

2:24–25 God heard . . . God remembered . . . God looked . . . God had respect. The covenant-keeping God (Gen. 15:13–21) feels great compassion for His hurting people. remembered. Not recovery of lost memories, but thought that stirs a person to action (Gen. 8:1; Ps. 25:6–7). had respect. Or, the Lord "knew" them with love (Ps. 1:6).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 2

1. Moses' parents are examples to us of doing what is right in an oppressive culture of death. We must trust in God's providence even when life makes no sense. Let us persevere in doing good by faith that God overrules this wicked world to save His people. He is not cold to our pain, but has warm compassion for all our sufferings.
2. God's servant must suffer rejection. Christ came to His own people, but they did not receive Him. Nor would we receive Him apart from a new birth (John 1:11–13). By grace, do you manifest the fruits of the new birth in your daily life? As you follow the rejected and crucified Savior, how might you suffer rejection as well?

The Lord's Revelation of Himself to Moses (3:1—4:31)

Chapter 3: The Lord reveals Himself to Moses and calls him to bring Israel out of Egypt.

3:1 Now Moses. Forty years have passed (7:7; Acts 7:30). kept the flock. The son of Pharaoh's daughter was reduced to an occupation despised by Egyptians. backside. Distant parts. mountain of God. Mt. Sinai, where God would appear, traditionally identified as Jebel Musa (elev. 7,500 ft.) in the southern part of the Sinai peninsula. Horeb. Mt. Sinai (1 Kings 19:8).

3:2 angel of the LORD. God (v. 4), the Son sent by the Father (see note at Gen. 16:7). bush. Thorny shrub, a lowly plant. burned. Sign of God's glorious presence (13:21; 19:14,18; 24:17; Gen. 15:17). not consumed. God came not to destroy Israel in wrath but to dwell with His lowly people in grace (Deut. 33:16).

3:5 nigh hither. Close to here. put off thy shoes. A gesture of reverence (Josh. 5:15). holy ground. God's holy presence sets apart people, times, and things as sacred.

3:6 I am . . . the God of Abraham. Abraham yet lived in God's presence (Matt. 22:32) in covenant with the Lord (Gen. 17:7; 26:24). hid his face. As do the seraphim in heaven (Isa. 6:1–3).

3:7 seen . . . heard . . . know. See note at 2:24–25.

3:8 come down. God is present in all places (Ps. 139), but this figure of speech pictures Him as the King of heaven descending to be with His people on earth (2:23), an anticipation of the incarnation (John 3:13). flowing with milk and honey. Rich for livestock and producing sweet luxuries. Canaanites . . . Jebusites. See Gen. 15:18–21.

3:9 wherewith. With which.

3:11–12 Who am I . . . I will be with thee. We must rely not on our strength but on God's covenant-keeping presence with us (Deut. 31:6). serve. Worship with sacrifices (v. 18; 5:1,3).

3:14 I AM. The name "the LORD" (Hebrew, YHWH) means, "He is" or "He will be." The expanded phrase I AM THAT I AM is very similar to "I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious" (33:19), an expression of sovereign freedom (Rom. 9:14–16). Thus when He commits Himself to Moses, "I will be [same word as I AM] with thee" (v. 12), nothing can make Him abandon His people or stop Him from blessing them (Num. 23:19–20; Deut. 31:6).

3:15 Like "Holy One of Israel" (Isa. 12:6), God here joins His sovereign freedom ("the LORD," or, "I AM," v. 14) with His faithfulness to love His covenant people ("God of Abraham"). memorial. Remembrance.

3:16 elders. Leaders. visited. As promised by Joseph (Gen. 50:24–25).

3:18 hearken. Listen. beseech. Plead.

3:19 I am sure. God already knew that Pharaoh would resist until compelled by a mighty hand (6:1; 13:9; 32:11). God knows our future choices because He rules over them (4:21).

3:20 smite. Strike. in the midst thereof. In it.

3:22 borrow. Ask. sojourneth. Dwells. jewels. Jewelry or articles. raiment. Clothing. spoil. Plunder. The Israelite slaves would experience some justice in receiving gifts from their oppressors (11:2–3; 12:35–36), as God had promised Abraham (Gen. 15:14).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 3

1. God's name, YHWH or "the LORD," reveals His eternal being, absolute independence, and freedom from all needs or limitations (Isa. 41:4; 43:10–13; 44:6–8; 48:12–13; John 8:58; Rev. 1:8). His being, will, and works are entirely from Himself. He borrows nothing from us and does not need our help (Acts 17:24–25). Yet we can be loved by Him, for He is the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the God of electing, covenant love. God desires to be known and worshiped for His lordship and love (Ps. 136:1–3).
2. In God's covenant compassion (Eph. 2:4), He comes to His elect in order to deliver them from the oppressive domain of darkness and transfer them into the kingdom of blessing, that is, the kingdom of His dear Son (Col. 1:13). He does not save people to live as they please, but to serve and worship Him in holiness (Eph. 1:4,6,12,14; Col. 3:12). How does salvation from sin and misery motivate Christians to serve and worship God?

Chapter 4: The Lord gives Moses miraculous signs to work and Aaron to assist him, as Moses resists God's call to bring out Israel.

4:1 hearken. Listen. Moses contradicted God's promise, not fully trusting His word (3:18).

4:3 serpent. Snakes were feared in Egypt and used as symbols of power. In their myths, the demonic spirit of evil and chaos was a huge serpent. The Pharaoh's crown featured the uraeus or upright cobra as a symbol of the patron goddess of Egypt who supposedly gave Pharaoh his power. The power of Egypt is sometimes portrayed as a serpent (or "dragon" in Ps. 74:13; Isa. 51:9–10; Ezek. 29:3). Turning a staff into a snake declared the sovereignty of the Lord over false gods.

4:5 That they may believe. Miracles confirmed that the new revelation was from God (Acts 14:3; Heb. 2:3–4).

4:6 into thy bosom. By your chest, that is, inside your garment. leprous as snow. Moses' dark skin was turned pale by a skin disease.

4:8 hearken. Listen.

4:9 water of the river. Egypt lived or died by the Nile, which it regarded as the gift of the gods. The Lord showed that He alone controls life and death.

4:10 heretofore. In the past. Moses set his mind on his inability instead of God's ability.

4:11 dumb. Unable to speak. The Lord declared His sovereignty over all human ability and disability (Dan. 2:20).

4:12 I will be with thy mouth. God repeated the promise of His empowering presence (3:12), applying it to the prophet's ability to speak (vv. 15–16).

4:13 send . . . whom thou wilt send. Polite resistance against God's call.

4:14 kindled. Burned. The stubborn refusal of Moses to fully trust God's promises angered God. Yet God was merciful to Moses and did not reject him.

4:15–16 instead of. In place of. The prophet of the Lord was divinely empowered to speak God's words for Him, as if the prophet were God's own mouth. Some Egyptian officials were titled, "the mouth of the king." The words of the prophets are the Word of God, the King of kings.

4:18 I pray thee. Please.

4:19 God's words to Moses were echoed in the angel's encouragement to Joseph (Matt. 2:20).

4:20 ass. Male donkey.

4:21 harden. Make strong or stubborn. See the third major theme in the Introduction: Synopsis.

4:22–23 The Lord lovingly adopts His covenant people as His children (Deut. 14:1; Jer. 31:9; Hos. 1:10; 11:1; Rom. 8:14–16; 9:4). Here all Israel was counted corporately as my son, the firstborn or oldest male child with special rights to dignity and the inheritance. Pharaoh had been attacking God's son, thus God threatened to strike Pharaoh's son (11:5).

4:24–26 inn. Place to camp or lodge, not necessarily a building. cast. Touched. bloody husband. Literally, "relative of blood," possibly a positive statement of family ties to Moses or Zipporah's son. Moses' failure to circumcise his son violated the covenant with Abraham (Gen. 17:9–14).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 4

1. Trust God's all-sufficiency. He is Lord over the natural world and Lord over all human ability and disability. We should never let our weaknesses become an excuse for disobedience. When God's Word calls us to act, trust that God will be with you.
2. Those who would lead God's people must be faithful in their home life. Moses' failure to circumcise his son nearly cost him his life. David resolved to walk within his house with integrity of heart (Ps. 101:2), but his adultery tore his family apart. Why is it dangerous when leaders neglect to be faithful in marriage and parenting?

Pharaoh's Resistance and the Lord's Promise (5:1—7:7)

Chapter 5: Moses and Aaron confront Pharaoh with the Lord's demands, but Pharaoh only increases the oppression of Israel.

5:1 Pharaoh. Most likely Thutmose III according to the best Egyptian chronology for this period. The key issue is the date demanded by the biblical evidence rather than the name of the Pharaoh. Significantly, Thutmose III was the most powerful military king of the eighteenth Dynasty, putting in bold God's almighty power in the exodus event. Thus saith. A formula introducing the words of a king or ruler (v. 20; Num. 22:16; 1 Kings 2:30; 20:2; 22:27; 2 Kings 9:18–19; 18:19,29,31; 19:3; Ezra 1:2).

As the true King the Lord addressed Pharaoh. Let my people go, that they may hold a feast unto me. Salvation is for worship. See the fourth major theme in the Introduction: Synopsis.

5:2 Who is the LORD, THAT I SHOULD OBEY HIS VOICE. Pharaoh viewed himself as a god. Egyptians claimed that Pharaoh could performs feats of amazing strength like shooting arrows that pierced through 2–3 inches of copper plate. Thus Pharaoh faced the Lord in a contest of sovereignty. However, God had already told Moses that He would harden Pharaoh's heart and he would resist the Lord (3:19; 4:21). So Pharaoh's challenge to God was itself a display of God's sovereignty.

5:3 we pray thee. Please. fall upon us with pestilence. Strike us with disease/death.

5:4 Wherefore do ye . . . let. Why do you make them stop?

5:6 taskmasters. See note at 1:11. their officers. Hebrew officials in the slave administration (v. 14).

5:7–8 heretofore. Before. Straw helped the clay to dry and bound it together to keep the bricks from cracking. tale. Number. diminish ought thereof. Reduce any of it.

5:9 vain words. Pharaoh declared the words of God to be a lie.

5:10–11 Thus saith Pharaoh. The word of a king against the Word of the King (see note at v. 1). not ought . . . diminished. None reduced.

5:13 hasted. Pressed, hurried.

5:14 officers. Officials. Wherefore. Why. heretofore. Before.

5:17 ye are idle: therefore ye say, Let us go. Pharaoh cleverly blamed his oppression on the words of God and the ministry of Moses and Aaron, turning the people against them.

5:18 tale. Number.

5:19 in evil case. In trouble. not minish ought. Not reduce any.

5:20 stood in the way. Stood or waited to meet them.

5:21 the LORD LOOK UPON YOU, AND JUDGE. They cursed Moses and Aaron for their trouble. made our savour to be abhorred. Or, made us "stink," that is, provoked and offended Pharaoh (Gen. 34:30). Moses was broken by the humiliation of apparent failure in God's service.

5:22 wherefore hast thou so evil entreated. Why have you done harm? Moses questioned God because the short-term results of his mission were disastrous. Remarkably, the Lord did not rebuke Moses but answered his doubts with promises (6:1–8).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 5

1. Israel's salvation from Egypt is a type of salvation from sin. When the gospel of redemption comes to a sinner, he may experience the evil of his spiritual bondage even more than before he came under the preaching of the Word. Why? To prepare him to glorify God all the more when salvation comes, for he now knows that only a divine Savior can rescue him. How have you experienced the evil of your sin?
2. Servants of God should not assume that obedience will bring them a life of ease and quick success. The kingdom of darkness never rages so fiercely as when the Word invades the world. God's servants face stiff opposition from the enemy and sometimes from the visible church; they may even find their own hearts rising up against God. But Christ will build His church, and even the rage of Satan will result in His praise.

Chapter 6: The Lord promises to make Himself known by redeeming a people for Himself, and renews the calling of Moses and Aaron.

6:1 Now shalt thou see. Now the stage was set for the Lord to display His glory by overcoming His enemy. with a strong hand. Not by Pharaoh's hand, but because of the Lord's power, represented as a finger, hand, or arm (3:20; 6:6; 7:5; 8:19; 9:15; 13:3,9,14,16; 15:6,12,16).

6:2–9 The repeated I am, I have, and I will stress that salvation is a work of sovereign grace. There is a mirror-image pattern in these verses, framed by divine revelation (vv. 2,9), I am the LORD (vv. 2,8), God's covenant with Abraham (vv. 3–5,8), and again, I am the LORD, the One who brings out His people (vv. 6–7). At the center of this covenant revelation are the promises (vv. 6–7) that structure Exodus: covenant redemption (chs. 1–18) and covenant relationship (chs. 19–40). See the fourth major theme in the Introduction: Synopsis.

6:2 I am the LORD. God designed salvation to make known His lordship. See the first major theme of the Synopsis in the Introduction.

6:3 appeared. See Gen. 12:7; 26:2; 35:1. JEHOVAH. The divine name of four Hebrew letters (YHWH), normally translated as "LORD." See note at 3:14 and comments in the Worship Section for ch. 3. not known to them. The patriarchs knew God's name (Gen. 12:8; 14:22; 15:2), but only in redemption does God fully and experientially make Himself known. God's revelation climaxed in the coming of His Son, our Redeemer (Heb. 1:1–3).

6:4 to give them the land. After four hundred years, God still remembered His promises (Gen. 12:1,7; 13:15; 15:7–21; 17:8; 26:3; 28:13; 35:12; 50:24). God revealed Himself as faithful to keep His covenant. pilgrimage. Dwelling away from home as foreigners (strangers).

6:5 See notes at 2:23 and 2:24–25. God revealed Himself as compassionate and loving.

6:6–7 God's words, I am the LORD, AND I WILL BRING YOU OUT, echo His words to Abraham (Gen. 15:7), as does His promise to take them as His people and to be their God (Gen. 17:7–8).

6:8 God blesses His people with an inheritance (heritage) where they will enjoy His love forever, of which the land was a type (Heb. 11:16; 12:22).

6:9 hearkened. Listened. Their faith (4:31) quickly evaporated under trouble and persecution, showing that the Word had no root in them (Mark 4:17).

6:10–13 Go in, speak. After revealing His name and promises, the Lord renewed Moses' calling as God's prophet despite the opposition of the king. uncircumcised lips. Lips unfit to serve a holy, covenant God (v. 30; Isa. 6:5). charge. Command.

6:14–25 The genealogy links Israel's salvation to the promises of Abraham's blessed Seed (see note at 1:1). It focuses on the line of the priests (Aaron, Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, Ithamar, and Phineas), while also highlighting persons noted elsewhere for their great sins (Reuben, Gen. 35:22; Levi, Gen. 34; Moses, Ex. 2:12; Aaron, Ex. 32; Nadab and Abihu, Lev. 10; Korah, Num. 16).

6:20 to wife. As a wife (vv. 23,25).

6:27 The repetition of king (vv. 11,13,29) hints that for Moses and Aaron to bring out the children of Israel from Egypt, they must have the power of the King of kings.

6:28–30 God renewed Moses' call as a prophet; the same event is described in vv. 10–13. Despite human weakness, the Lord insisted on saving through a man, a foreshadowing of the incarnation.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 6

1. The Lord revealed Himself through redemption to create a relationship with His covenant people.

Thus Exodus foreshadows the work of Christ. The Lord Jesus gave Himself to redeem a people who would know Him, zealously serve Him, and hope in the coming of His glory (Titus 2:13–14). His redemption brings sinners into a relationship of being children of the living God (Gal. 4:4–7). Do you know this Lord? Is He your covenant God, and are you in relationship with Him as one of His covenant people?

2. Redemption requires a faithful prophet to speak God's words, a righteous priest to sacrifice and intercede, and a powerful king to deliver the enslaved. Moses, Aaron, and their family were inadequate to truly redeem God's people, for they were stained by sin. Though mere men are instruments of God's blessings, Christ is the only Mediator of the covenant of grace—the sufficient Prophet, Priest, and King. (See the fifth major theme in the Introduction: Synopsis.) Trust Him for salvation, and trust Him alone.

Chapter 7: Moses and Aaron confront Pharaoh with the power of the Lord, showing signs and working the first plague on the Nile.

7:1 God used Moses and Aaron to illustrate the office of a prophet speaking for God (4:15–16).

7:2 children of Israel. Adults and children descended from Jacob.

7:3 harden. Make stiff or stubborn. See the third major theme in the Introduction: Synopsis. my signs and my wonders. Amazing acts of power that demonstrate God's sovereignty.

7:4–5 hearken. Listen. the Egyptians shall know. God planned redemption not only to take a people (6:6–7) but also to glorify Himself as the LORD in the presence of His enemies.

7:7 fourscore. Eighty. Forty years had passed since Moses departed Egypt.

The Lord against the Gods of Egypt (7:8—15:21)

Confrontation of the Serpents (7:8–13)

7:8–13 This power encounter sets a pattern followed in each of the first three plagues: the Lord's command, His servants' obedience working a sign with the rod, the sorcerers' imitation by magic, and the hardening of Pharaoh's heart. This pattern reinforces the sense that everything was taking place according to God's words (as the LORD HAD COMMANDED and as the LORD HAD SAID).

7:10 serpent. A direct challenge to the power and gods of Pharaoh. See note at 4:3 and the second major theme in the Introduction: Synopsis.

7:11 magicians. Sorcerer-priests who manipulated spirits for power or wisdom. Satan works deceptive wonders (Matt. 24:24; 2 Thess. 2:9; 2 Tim. 3:8; Rev. 13:13–15).

7:12 swallowed up their rods. Just as the Lord would "swallow" the power of Egypt (15:12), destroying its army by the rod of God at the Red Sea (14:16–17,26).

7:13 hearkened. Listened.

Plagues 1–3: No One Like the Lord (7:14—8:19)

The plagues come in three cycles of three, followed by the final plague. In the first plague of each cycle, Moses went in the morning to speak to Pharaoh (v. 15; 8:20; 9:13). The last plague of each cycle lacks any warning to Pharaoh and is more briefly reported (8:16; 9:8; 10:21). In the first cycle, each of the three plagues frames a declaration of God's supremacy (7:17; 8:10,19).

7:16 hitherto. Until now. wouldest not. Did not.

7:17 In this thou shalt know that I am the LORD. The plagues demonstrate that the God of Israel is faithful and sovereign. smite. Strike. Giving Egypt blood to drink was just punishment after it killed babies in the Nile (1:22; Rev. 15:3–7).

7:18 lothe. They were disgusted at the river that they once worshiped.

7:20 as the LORD COMMANDED. The power of the Lord came through the obedience of His servants (vv. 6,10).

7:21–22 The great Nile is 2–5 miles wide and discharges an average of 100,000 cubic feet of water per second. Its water, fish, and agricultural fertility were central to Egypt's economy and religion; they believed that the blessings of the Nile came from their gods. The God of the Hebrews turned "all the waters" (v. 20) of the river into blood! The magicians of Egypt turned some water into blood, or made it appear so, but they could not cleanse the bloody Nile. In one stroke, God showed that He alone is God of gods and Lord of lords (Deut. 10:17).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 7

> God alone is Lord. Physical goods are blessings, but men turn them into gods. Even in a secular culture, people worship money and the pleasures it can buy. They depend upon the experts to manipulate the world and give them happiness. But the Lord wages war against the idols to show that He alone is sovereign. His war will climax in the coming of Christ. Before it is too late, let us turn from idols to serve the living God and hope in His Son, the Savior. What idols tempt you? What does it mean to turn from them to the Lord?

Chapter 8: The Lord works the second (frogs), third (biting insects), and fourth (swarms) plagues through Moses and Aaron.

8:2 frogs. A judgment against the goddess of fertility and childbirth, symbolized by a frog. God's complete control of the animals shows that He is their Creator and Master.

8:3 bedchamber. Bedroom. kneadingtroughs. Bowls for preparing bread dough.

8:7 Satan can imitate God's judgments, but cannot save from them.

8:8 Intreat. Pray. Moses served as an intercessor for the Lord's mercy (v. 28; 9:28; 10:17).

8:9 Glory over me. I give you the honor of picking the time—mocking Pharaoh's sovereignty. The removal of the frogs from the land (but not the river, v. 11) whenever Pharaoh requested it showed it did not arise from natural causes, but from the Lord.

8:10 that thou mayest know that there is none like unto the LORD OUR GOD. The plagues showed God to be beyond all comparison or competitors (15:11; Deut. 33:26; 1 Sam. 2:2; 1 Kings 8:23; Isa. 40:18,25; 46:5; Jer. 10:6).

8:13 the LORD DID ACCORDING TO THE WORD OF MOSES. The intercession of the mediator is effective (v. 31).

8:14 the land stank. More disgusting humiliation for the proud idolaters (7:18,21).

8:15 respite. Relief. hardened his heart. Literally, "made it heavy," an expression in Egyptian literature for damnable guilt on judgment day. Pharaoh was responsible for his hard heart, for he abused God's mercy to avoid repentance (9:34).

8:16 lice. Some kind of biting insect, perhaps lice or mosquitoes. God uses weak, little things to overcome the strong.

8:19 The sorcerers were forced to confess that they had met a power greater than magic can conjure. The power of the Lord's kingdom (finger, 31:18) defeats the forces of the Devil and human idolatry and sorcery (Luke 11:20). No power is like the Lord.

Plagues 4–6: The Lord Sets Apart His People (8:20—9:12)

The second cycle of plagues reveals how the Lord distinguishes between His people and His enemies in His judgments (v. 22; 9:4,11). Plagues 1–3 and 6 were done through Moses and Aaron (7:19–20; 8:5–6,16–17; 9:8), but plagues 4–5 come directly from God (8:24; 9:6), for this was not sorcery but the Lord working through human instruments.

8:21 swarms of flies. Literally, "the swarm"; the kind of swarming creature is not specified.

8:22 sever. Distinguish, set apart. The Lord had chosen Israel for mercy, not judgment. The purpose is that thou mayest know that I am the LORD in the midst of the earth. God is present to judge and save according to His will even in the territory of His enemies.

8:23 division. Literally, "redemption" (Ps. 111:9; 130:7). The root means to pay the price to set free (13:13,15; 21:8), and is used of the Lord's redemption of Israel from Egypt (Deut. 7:8). Here redemption delivers not just from man's slavery but from God's wrath, like the Passover lamb (see note at 12:12–13).

8:26 meet. Fitting. abomination. Egyptians considered certain animals to be sacred, and so the sacrifices would offend.

8:28 intreat. Pray. Requests for prayer do not necessarily indicate saving faith (Acts 8:24).

8:31 there remained not one. God rules over every little creature (10:19; Matt. 10:29).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 8

1. When Christ confronts Satan's power, victory is sure. Sometimes God's people suffer great injustice; sometimes they fall into idolatry. But Christ will prevail, and the church of His elect and called will overcome (Rev. 17:14). There is no one like the Lord. How can this encourage believers in their sufferings and temptations?
2. In the darkest places on earth, Christ is still able to judge His enemies and save His people. Therefore, even if we are in the shadow of Satan's throne, let us hold fast to the Lord, not deny the faith, and bear witness even to death (Rev. 2:13). Christ will destroy our enemies, and His redemption will deliver us from His wrath.

Chapter 9: The Lord sends the fifth (livestock), sixth (boils), and seventh (hail) plagues upon Egypt, while shielding Israel from His judgments.

9:3 grievous murrain. Severe disease; same word as "pestilence" (v. 15; 5:3).

9:4 sever. Distinguish, set apart.

9:6 all the cattle of Egypt died. An insult to the Egyptian god and goddess depicted with bull or cow imagery. All means "many" or "all sorts," not necessarily every single one (Gen. 24:10; 1 Tim. 6:10), for a number of cattle and horses remained (v. 19; 11:5; 14:6).

9:7 not one of the cattle of the Israelites. God's mercy completely shielded His people from His judgment against His enemies (see notes at 8:22–23).

9:8 Hebrew slaves baked bricks in a kiln (furnace), so God used it to punish their masters.

9:9 blains. Sores. The Egyptians worshiped a goddess of war and healing, but she could not help them against the Lord, the true Warrior and Healer (15:3,26).

9:11 magicians could not stand before Moses. The boils particularly inflamed the knees and legs (Deut. 28:27,35). The gods of Egypt had utterly failed to defend their servants. God punishes His enemies with pain and humiliation but honors His servants.

Plagues 7–9: Devastation from the Lord (9:13—10:29)

The third cycle of plagues, like the first two, reveals God's supremacy (vv. 14,29; 10:2) and His selective judgments (9:26; 10:23). This cycle adds the theme of total disaster like nothing seen before (9:18,24; 10:6,14,22–23). The Lord worked plagues 7–9 through Moses alone (9:22–23; 10:12–13,21–22), highlighting Moses' growth into the role of God's prophet.

9:14 all my plagues. The Lord will no longer restrain His wrath but send complete destruction (Rev. 15:1). upon thine heart. God struck Pharaoh with the inward plagues of conviction of sin and horror (v. 27; 10:16–17), and still more hardness of heart (10:1,20,27). none like me in all the earth. God did all this to show His unique glory (see note at 8:10).

9:16 have I raised thee up. The Lord controlled Pharaoh's survival and stubbornness so that by the prolonged battle God could make known His glory (name) throughout all the earth (15:14–16; 18:8–12; Josh. 2:10–11).

9:18 grievous. Heavy or severe. such as hath not been in Egypt. The unique severity of the storm showed that we should fear God above all (v. 20).

9:20 feared the word of the LORD. God shows mercy to those who fear Him (1:17; Ps. 33:18; 103:11,17).

9:23 fire ran along upon the ground. Lightning flashed down to the ground.

9:25 smote every herb. Struck down every plant.

9:26 Only in the land of Goshen. Again, God shielded His people (8:22–23; 9:4,7).

9:27 God's judgments forced the king to confess that he had sinned and the LORD IS RIGHTEOUS, but compelled confessions are not repentance (v. 34).

9:28 Intreat. Pray (see note at 8:8). mighty thunderings. Literally, "thunder of God."

9:31–32 smitten. Struck. in the ear. Produced grain. bolled. Budded. rie. Spelt, a kind of wheat. Egypt harvested flax and barley in February and March, wheat and rie a month later.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 9

1. God will punish His enemies with pain, conviction of sin, and horror at His wrath. All these will fall upon the wicked on judgment day (Rev. 6:12–17; 20:11–15). Even today, the Lord may visit the wicked with these judgments. However, convictions and confessions are not repentance; at times they are accompanied by hardness of heart. Do not rest in them, but strive after the Lord with earnest prayer until you truly turn from sin to God. What is the difference between mere conviction of sin and repentance unto life?
2. Pharaoh's hardening reminds us that the Lord is free to save or to harden sinners as He wills, for He made us all and has the right to glorify Himself by wrath or mercy (Rom. 9:16–23). Therefore, let us fear the Lord and not tremble before the wicked, no matter how stubborn and arrogant they are. God will get glory through them one way or the other.

Chapter 10: The Lord hardens Pharaoh's heart again and strikes Egypt with the eighth (locusts) and ninth (darkness) plagues.

10:1–2 Though Pharaoh sinned by hardening his heart (9:34), the Lord revealed that He ruled over sin for His holy purpose to cause many generations to know that I am the LORD. God's people have a duty to tell their children and grandchildren the mighty works of God (13:14–15).

10:3 How long wilt thou refuse to humble thyself. God's sovereignty does not take away in the least man's responsibility. let my people go, that they may serve me. The seventh and final time the Lord gave this command to Pharaoh (5:1–3; 7:16; 8:1,20; 9:1,13). See note at 5:1.

10:4 coast. Territory.

10:5 residue of that which is escaped. The agricultural produce not yet destroyed.

10:6 which neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers' fathers have seen. This unprecedented disaster (v. 14), like the hail (9:18,24), showed that God's wrath is more terrible than anything on earth.

10:7 snare. Trap.

10:10 Let the LORD be so with you. Sarcasm. He either threatened or accused them of evil.

10:14 coasts. Territories. grievous. Heavy or severe.

10:15 herb. Plant. God gives all men food and He can take it away (Ps. 104:14–15; Acts 14:17).

10:17 I pray thee. Please. intreat. Pray.

10:19 Red sea. Body of water on eastern border of Egypt. not one locust. See note at 8:31. coasts. Territories.

10:21–23 The day of the Lord's wrath is a day of darkness (Joel 2:1–2; Zeph. 1:15). This thick darkness might have been a massive dust storm (which can cause total darkness and zero visibility) or an entirely supernatural phenomenon. In any case, it paralyzed all the land of Egypt except Goshen for three days. The Egyptians viewed the Pharaoh as the son of the sun god, but the God of Israel made a mockery of Pharaoh and showed that He is the only Lord of light (Gen. 1:3).

10:24 only let your flocks and your herds. Pharaoh's offer to release Israel if their livestock remained (be stayed) was his last attempt to make Moses compromise God's clear call (v. 8; 8:25,28).

10:26 not an hoof be left behind. God's servants must not compromise their obedience to God's Word in the least. thither. To there.

10:27 he would not. Literally, "he was not willing." God's hardening did not destroy Pharaoh's will but gave his will over to sin so that he was not willing to repent and obey.

10:28 Get thee from me . . . thou shalt die. With this death threat, Pharaoh cut off all further face-to-face conversation with Moses and shut the door against mercy.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 10

1. Let us bow before God as Lord of all our nation's resources. He gives food and famine as He wills. He can shut down our country's industries and businesses whenever He pleases. It is the height of foolishness to turn away from the Lord and trust in ourselves or our possessions. God can make us helpless in an instant.
2. The Bible reveals both God's total sovereignty over all things and man's real responsibility for his willful choices. If we accept sovereignty but deny responsibility, we fall into fatalism, mysticism, and sin. If we accept responsibility but deny sovereignty, we fall into legalism, self-reliance, and pride. Even if we do not understand how these fit together, we must believe them both. How do both glorify God?

Plague 10: Passover and Exodus from Egypt (11:1—13:22)

Chapter 11: The Lord declares the final plague, the death of the firstborn.

11:1 Yet . . . one plague more. Everything happened according to God's plan. hence. From here. It may be that the content of vv. 1–3 took place before Moses' last meeting with Pharaoh, and is inserted here as an explanation.

11:2 borrow . . . jewels. As the Lord had said before the plagues began (see note at 3:22).

11:3 Once despised and rejected, the Lord's servant had become very great in the esteem of the people, even the enemies of God. God honors those who honor Him (1 Sam. 2:30).

11:4 This verse resumes the narrative of Moses' last encounter with Pharaoh (10:24–29), until Moses left Pharaoh's presence (v. 8).

11:5 firstborn. See note at 4:22–23. Note that this was not limited to children but included the firstborn throughout the population regardless of age. The Egyptians regarded Pharaoh as the keeper of cosmic order and defender against chaos. For the Lord to strike all the firstborn with death shattered Egypt's sense of order and safety under their king. For death to fall upon the son of a female slave (maidservant) showed that all sin (Gen. 8:21; Ps. 51:5; 53:1–3; 58:3). Even livestock (beasts) must suffer, for the Egyptians had turned them into idols (see note at 9:6).

11:6 none like it. See note at 10:6.

11:7 shall not a dog move his tongue. Even the most despised animal (1 Sam. 24:14) could do no harm (Josh. 10:21)—God would shield Israel from the coming death. the LORD doth put a difference between the EGYPTIANS and ISRAEL. He has set apart His people for grace (8:22–23; 9:4,11; 10:23; 33:16; Ps. 4:3).

11:9–10 A summary of chs. 7–11. Compare 7:3–6.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 11

1. The words of the Lord proves true. God told Moses what would happen beforehand (3:19–22; 4:21–23; 11:1)—and it did. God's great message to us in the plagues and Pharaoh's responses is, "I am the LORD." Therefore, let every knee bow and every tongue confess that He is Lord. One word from God outweighs all the wisdom of mankind.
2. Nothing on earth is more precious to us than our children. Yet even here the Lord reigns. When Job heard that his children had all died, he said, "The LORD gave, and the LORD hath taken away; blessed be the name of the LORD" (Job 1:21). Let us pray for grace to learn this submission so that if we lose a child, we can worship God like David (2 Sam. 12:20).

Chapter 12: Moses receives instructions for the Passover, and God brings the people of Israel out of Egypt in triumph by the blood of the lamb.

12:2 This month. March–April, called "Abib" (13:4; Deut. 16:1), or "Nisan" (Neh. 2:1).

12:3 lamb. Young sheep or goat.

12:4 souls. Persons.

12:5 without blemish. Perfection was required for sacrifices (v. 27) to be acceptable to God (Lev. 1:3; 1 Peter 1:19).

12:7 strike. Put. The manipulations of the blood were also done with sin offerings (Lev. 4:1–7).

12:8 unleavened. Flat bread made without yeast. The lamb must be roasted with fire (an emblem of divine wrath, 15:7; Deut. 32:22). It all must be eaten or burnt (v. 10), like the peace offerings (Lev. 7:15–17), a holy meal of fellowship shared between God and His people (24:11).

12:9 sodden. Boiled. purtenance. Middle part.

12:11 loins girded. Robe tied up for quick movement. passover. So called because the Lord passed over the homes of Israel when He came to destroy the firstborn of Egypt (vv. 13,23,27). The Passover is a type of Christ (1 Cor. 5:7).

12:12 smite. Strike, kill. firstborn. God struck down Egypt's pride and joy. See notes at 4:22–23; 11:5. Salvation came through judgment, redeeming God's people by God's just wrath falling upon the wicked (6:6; Ps. 78:49). against all the gods of Egypt. The Lord humiliated their gods by their inability to protect their worshipers from His wrath or to prevent His beloved from going free (Ps. 97:3,7; 136:10). Israel had worshiped Egypt's idols (Josh. 24:14; Ezek. 20:5–9; 23:3), but through this judgment God caused all to know that I am the LORD (6:7).

12:13 token. Sign for the Lord to see so that He did not destroy the firstborn of Israel. The lamb must die so that they would live—salvation by substitution of a sacrifice (v. 27; Gen. 22:8,13). God's loving election of Israel did not by itself protect them from death; His grace must provide redemption through blood, by which sin is atoned (Lev. 17:11).

12:14 memorial. Time for remembering.

12:15 See note at 13:7.

12:16 convocation. Assembly. save. Except.

12:17 selfsame day. Same day.

12:19 stranger. Foreigner.

12:20 habitations. Homes.

12:21 Moses kept the Passover by faith in the mere promise of God's salvation (Heb. 11:28).

12:22 hyssop. Perhaps Syrian oregano (za'atar), an aromatic herb about 2–4 feet tall. It was used for ritual cleansing (Lev. 14:4,6,49–52; Num. 19:6,18), a symbol of spiritual cleansing (Ps. 51:7). bason. basin or bowl. lintel . . . side posts. Frame around a door.

12:23 smite. Strike, kill.

12:25 Israel's first public service of worship as a congregation (v. 16).

12:26 your children. See note at 13:8.

12:31 called for Moses and Aaron by night, and said. Pharaoh did not personally meet them (10:29), but sent a proclamation by messengers (11:8).

12:34 kneadingtroughs. Bowls for preparing dough.

12:35 borrowed. Asked. raiment. Clothing. Redemption makes former slaves rich.

12:36 lent. Gave. required. Asked. spoiled. Plundered.

12:37 Rameses. Or Raamses (see notes at 1:11; Gen. 47:11). Succoth. East of the Nile delta. As He promised Abraham, God had multiplied the family of seventy that went down to Egypt into six hundred thousand fighting men, plus others (see note at 1:7). The word thousand can mean 1,000 individuals (18:21) or a clan or military unit of indefinite number (Judg. 6:15). In this case, the 100-plus talents of silver collected in the census apparently requires the term to be taken as a thousand people (see note at 38:25–26).

12:38 mixed multitude. People from other ethnic groups (Num. 11:4).

12:39 tarry. Wait. victual. Food.

12:40 sojourning. Dwelling as foreigners. four hundred and thirty years. The time since Jacob went to Egypt, when the last covenant promise was given to the patriarchs (Gen. 46:3–4; Gal. 3:16–17).

12:41 selfsame day. Same day. God fulfilled His promise that their enslavement would last four centuries (Gen. 15:13; Acts 7:6). hosts. Armies.

12:43 stranger. Foreigner.

12:46 neither shall ye break a bone thereof. Fulfilled in Christ's crucifixion (John 19:31–37).

12:47–49 sojourn. Dwell as a foreigner. All the congregation but only the circumcised ate the Passover; it was a covenant meal requiring the sign of the covenant (Gen. 17:11).

12:50 as the LORD commanded. Worship must be done in obedience to the Word (v. 28; 39:1).

12:51 selfsame day. Same day.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 12

1. Christ's work of salvation upon the cross was also a work of judgment against Satan and this world for the sake of the glory of God (John 12:27–33; Col. 2:15; Heb. 2:14). Christ is the Lamb that bought people from all nations for God, redeeming them from God's wrath with His blood (John 1:29; Eph. 1:7; Rev. 5:9) and setting them free from sin (1 Peter 1:18–19). He ultimately will save His people by pouring out judgment upon this world (2 Thess. 1:8; Rev. 19:1–3).
2. We must remember His sacrifice by preaching the gospel in public worship, celebrating the Lord's Supper, and catechizing our children. Why is it so important for each generation to train the children in the knowledge of God's saving ways?

Chapter 13: The Lord gives further instructions for the firstborn and feast of unleavened bread and leads Israel out by the fiery cloud of His presence.

13:2 Sanctify. Set apart as holy. mine. When God's judgment fell on the oldest sons of Egypt but Israel was spared by the blood of the lamb, Israel's oldest sons became God's possession (Num. 3:13; 8:17). The firstborn were an example of what was true of all Israel, God's firstborn son (4:22), and His holy people and special possession (19:5–6; Deut. 7:6). Christ is the supreme firstborn, holy to the Lord (Luke 1:35; 2:23).

13:3 by strength of hand the LORD brought you out. This repeated phrase (vv. 9,14,16) calls God's people to never forget their salvation from slavery by the power of grace alone.

13:5 milk and honey. See note at 3:8.

13:7 Unleavened bread was a reminder of their sudden removal from Egypt (12:39; Deut. 16:3). As the feasts reminded Israel, so the Lord's Supper proclaims the Lord's death until He comes (1 Cor. 11:26). leaven. Yeast, a symbol of impurity (23:18; 34:25; Luke 12:1). God's people must worship God in purity (1 Cor. 5:6–8). quarters. Territories.

13:9 memorial. Reminder.

13:12 matrix. Womb. firstling. First offspring.

13:14 when thy son asketh thee. Parents must teach children of God's great works (Ps. 78:4). Discussion with children in the form of questions and answers is a good method for family worship.

13:15 hardly. Stubbornly refused to. matrix. Womb.

13:16 frontlets. Some Jews have applied this command by tying small boxes (phylacteries) containing Scriptures to the head and arm (Matt. 23:5). But it shall be refers to the practice of redeeming the firstborn, an activity of remembrance compared to a reminder tied to the body.

13:17 Lest. Unless. peradventure. Perhaps (not in Hebrew text). The road northeast toward the Philistines was guarded by Egyptian fortresses and blocked by a wide canal. Though the Lord could easily overcome these obstacles, He anticipated the retreat they could provoke.

13:18 Red sea. From the Greek; the Hebrew phrase may be translated "sea of reeds" or "sea of the end." The phrase does not refer to a marshy lake, which would not be deep enough to drown the Egyptian army (15:5), but to the Red Sea and its arms, the Gulf of Suez and the Gulf of Aqaba (Num. 33:10–11; Deut. 2:1). harnessed. Armed and ready for battle.

13:19 straitly sworn the children of Israel. Placed the descendants of Israel under a solemn vow. God was fulfilling purposes revealed centuries earlier to the patriarchs (Gen. 50:24–25).

13:20 Etham. Location uncertain. wilderness. Sparsely populated, rocky desert of Sinai.

13:21–22 The pillar of cloud and fire assured Israel that God was with them, directed them in the way they should go, and filled them with awe at His holy majesty. From it God spoke His word to Moses (33:9–11), and its movements are called the "commandment" (Hebrew, "mouth") of the Lord to direct their journeys (17:1; Num. 9:17–18).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 13

1. If Christ bought us with His blood, then we no longer belong to ourselves but to Him and must live for His glory (1 Cor. 6:19–20). Redeeming love produces personal dedication and holiness, a willing giving of ourselves to the One who saved us (Rom. 12:1; Titus 2:14). Christians, let us live under the banner, "He died for me; I'll live for Him."
2. The Lord is with His people. The cloud of glory was a public revelation to the whole people of God's presence and will, similar to the public revelation of the Scriptures given to the church, in which believers see the glory of Christ (2 Cor. 4:6). Christ assures believers that God is with them, directs them, and fills them with awe at His glory. How can Christians seek a deeper experience of Christ through the Word?

Salvation to the Glory of God (14:1—15:21)

Chapter 14: The Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart to stage total victory for His glory in the parting of the Red Sea.

14:2 Pi-hahiroth. Mouth of the canal. Migdol. Egyptian fortress. the sea. The Red Sea. Baal-zephon. Shrine to a major Canaanite god. The precise locations of these sites are uncertain.

14:3 entangled. Confused. Obedience to God may appear foolish to human nature.

14:4 honoured upon. Glorified over (vv. 17–18). host. Army. God uses His sovereign control over good and evil to stage the battle so that people will know that I am the LORD.

14:5 Why have we done this. The wicked quickly forget the mighty works of the Lord.

14:6–7 chariot. Open, two-wheeled, horse-drawn carriage for driver and archer. Swift, agile, and thunderous, the hundreds of chariots of Egypt understandably terrified their former slaves.

14:10 nigh. Near. sore. Very.

14:11 wherefore. Why. Despite all the displays of the Lord's power against Egypt, Israel quickly fell into despair and accusations against Moses (and, by implication, the Lord).

14:13 The salvation of the LORD rescues from destruction and overcomes enemies. Manpower and technology are nothing compared to God (Ps. 20:7; Isa. 31:1–3).

14:14 The LORD shall fight for you. Salvation is by grace alone. hold your peace. Be quiet. Though God often works through means, He can also work without our help.

14:16 thy rod. Symbolic instrument of God's power (4:2,17; 7:9,15). On the third day, the Creator divided the sea and made dry ground (Gen. 1:9–10). through the midst of the sea. Probably the northern part of the Gulf of Suez. See note at 13:18.

14:17 get me honour upon. Glorify myself over.

14:19 angel of God. The angel of the Lord, who is the Lord (3:2–4; 13:21), a Christophany or preincarnate appearance of Christ. removed. Moved. God is the shield of His people (Ps. 3:3; 27:5; 91:4; Isa. 4:5–6).

14:22 waters were a wall. Supernatural display of the awesome power of the Creator (Ps. 33:6–9). Moses led them into the divided sea by faith (Heb. 11:29).

14:24 morning watch. Early morning hours before dawn. looked unto. Perhaps showed His glory in a thunderstorm (Ps. 77:16–20). troubled. Frightened and confused.

14:25 took off. Turned aside. drave them heavily. Drove them with difficulty.

14:27 to his strength. To its ordinary appearance and depth.

14:28–29 there remained not so much as one of them. Another sign of total sovereignty (8:31; 10:19). The same sea was destruction for one people and salvation for another, for God distinguished between Egypt and Israel (8:22; 9:4,11,26; 10:23; 11:7).

14:30–31 God's great work when He saved Israel moved them to belief and fear toward the Lord and belief in His prophet—sadly, however, not with true conversion.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 14

1. God's ways can seem foolish, but the Lord designs them so that He is glorified in our weakness. God finds us in hopeless situations of spiritual death, only to raise us to life by grace alone for His glory alone (Eph. 2:1–10). Christians continue to experience this as they fight sin, Satan, and the world. We must move forward in obedience to God when all means fail us, waiting upon the Creator and Redeemer (2 Chron. 20:1–30; Ps. 27:14; 130:5; Isa. 30:15). What spiritual challenge or crisis are you facing?
2. Passing through the sea marked a decisive break from Israel's former subjection to Pharaoh, just as baptism is a sign of breaking from sin's mastery and beginning to live to God (Rom. 6:3–4,11). But fear and faith can be superficial and temporary, especially when based on outward signs (John 2:23—3:3; 1 Cor. 10:1–11). Do not rely on outward signs and seals, but rest your hope upon Christ and a living union with Him.

Chapter 15: Moses and Israel sang the praises of their Savior, and experienced the grace of His provision in the wilderness.

15:1 I will sing. Songs of praise are a fitting response to salvation (14:30; Rev. 15:3). triumphed gloriously. Literally, “rose up to rise up,” was super exalted; same root as “excellency” (v. 7).

15:2 my strength and song . . . my salvation. See Ps. 118:14; Isa. 12:2. I will prepare him an habitation. Or, “I will praise Him.” my father's God. Collective reference to godly ancestors back to Abraham (3:6,13–16). exalt. Lift up in honor.

15:3 man of war. Soldier, warrior.

15:4 host. Army.

15:5–10 Pharaoh’s army rose up against the Lord, but He threw them down and they sank as lead into the depths and bottom, and He rose up in victory (v. 1) to be praised (v. 2).

15:6 is become. Is.

15:7 excellency. Majesty. consumed them as stubble. Metaphor of God’s wrath as fire (Lev. 9:24—10:3), expressing His holiness (3:2,5)

15:8 blast of thy nostrils. Figure of speech for God’s powerful anger. congealed. Thickened, as when water stood up like a solid wall (14:22).

15:9–10 lust. Desire, literally, “soul.” The repeated I will highlights the pride of the enemy, suddenly silenced by the single Thou didst of the Lord’s judgment.

15:11 God’s works produce fear (fearful) and awe (wonders) at His holiness, which is not only moral perfection, but incomparable excellence in every way (1 Sam. 2:2; Isa. 6:1–3; 40:25).

15:13 mercy. Faithful love (34:6–7). led . . . guided. Like a shepherd (Ps. 78:52; Isa. 63:11). redeemed. Rescued from slavery and purchased for Himself (v. 16; 6:6–7). habitation. Home; see note at v. 17.

15:14 Palestina. Philistia.

15:15 dukes. See note at Gen. 36:15.

15:16 The news of how God caused the Egyptians to sink “as a stone” (v. 5) will paralyze the peoples of Canaan with fear so they are as still as a stone (Josh. 2:9–11; 9:9; cf. 1 Chron. 14:17).

15:17 mountain of thine inheritance. The singular mountain refers to Canaan as a hilly region (Num. 13:17), the holy land (Sanctuary) of the Lord (Ps. 78:54–55; Zech. 2:12).

15:18 reign for ever. Salvation reveals God’s sovereignty as grace breaks in to conquer, rescue, and establish God’s kingdom (Isa. 52:7; Rev. 11:15; 19:6).

15:20 timbrel. Tambourine.

Israel in the Wilderness with God (15:22—18:27)

Tests and Crises of Faith (15:22—17:16)

15:22 wilderness of Shur. Desert east of Egypt in northern Sinai peninsula. three days . . . no water. They were in danger of dying of thirst.

15:24 murmured. A tragic failure of their faith so soon after God’s miracles (Ps. 106:12–13).

15:25–26 The Lord used trials to test (proved) whether they would hear (hearken) and obey his commandments or fall under God’s judgments like the Egyptians. I am the LORD that healeth thee. He rules over sickness and health (Deut. 32:39; Job 5:18; Ps. 103:3; 107:17–22).

15:27 Israel traveled south through the coastal area of the Sinai peninsula, for the next stop after Elim was by the Red Sea (Num. 33:10). threescore and ten. Seventy. encamped. Set up camp.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 15

1. Sing to the Lord! He is the strength and salvation of His people; He must also be our song. Much worship today revolves around our feelings, but biblical worship revolves around who God is and what He does for His people. The song of Moses teaches Christians to praise Him for His works in Christ, for they reveal His glory.
2. When we go from worship on the Lord's Day to the painful trials of the week, let us be careful not to fall into murmuring. Difficult providences prove our obedience and draw us to depend on the Mediator daily for His sweet grace. How are you being tested? How can you respond in a way that honors God?

Chapter 16: Israel grumbles bitterly again, and the Lord provides meat and manna, training them to trust Him and keep the Sabbath.

16:1 Sin. Not related to the English word "sin."

16:3 Would to God. If only. flesh pots. Containers of meat. Unbelief causes men to forget the oppression of sin, to idealize its pleasures, and to accuse God of hatred.

16:4 I will rain. The word used of the plague of hail (9:18). God might have rightly destroyed such grumblers with a plague, but He rained down mercy. certain rate. Daily portion. prove. Test. The Lord used hunger and manna to train Israel to obey Him by faith, relying humbly on whatever He decrees (Deut. 8:2–3). Obedience to God's law did not begin at Mt. Sinai; Abraham kept it (Gen. 17:1; 18:19; 26:5), and God expected it of Israel (15:26; 18:16).

16:5 sixth day . . . twice. Provision for the Sabbath rest (vv. 22–30).

16:6–12 God's name (the LORD) appears ten times here, twice in the phrase the glory of the LORD (vv. 7,10), framed by the phrase ye shall know (vv. 6,12). The Redeemer abides with Israel to give them life so that they will know His glory, (see the first major theme in the Introduction: Synopsis). The repeated pairing of evening (or even) and morning (vv. 6–8,12–13) echoes the creation week (Gen. 1:1–2:3), reminding us of God's power, goodness, and Sabbath. Christ is the Creator, the bread of life, and the glory of God (John 1:3,14; 6:30–58).

16:13 quails. Small, round, migratory birds used for meat. host. Camp.

16:15 manna. Meaning, "What is it?" wist. Know. Manna was produced by a supernatural work of God, so it is called bread from heaven (v. 4; Neh. 9:15; Ps. 78:24–25; 105:40; John 6:31).

16:16 omer. A tenth of an ephah (v. 36); two to four quarts.

16:18 mete. Measure. no lack. God provided day by day as they gathered and shared.

16:20 hearkened not. Did not listen. They refused to trust God for tomorrow (Matt. 6:34). stank. Relying on God's gifts instead of God can turn gifts into plagues (7:18,21; 8:14). wroth. Angry.

16:21 waxed hot. Grew hot.

16:22–30 The Lord instituted the law of the sabbath as a day of holy rest at creation (Gen. 2:1–3), renewed it here (vv. 23,30), and repeated it in the Ten Commandments (20:8–11).

16:23 seethe. Boil.

16:24 bade. Commanded.

16:31 The coriander seed is round, white, and about one-eighth of an inch in diameter. Manna came in flakes or sheets like "frost" (v. 14). Its sweetness like honey (Ps. 119:103) was a foretaste of their inheritance in the land (3:8,17).

16:32 wherewith. With which.

16:34 Testimony. The Ten Commandments, kept in the ark of the covenant (25:16; 31:18).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 16

1. The Lord can work miracles. Naturalistic explanations of manna from insects or trees fail to account for how it came with the dew, melted in the sun, quickly decomposed, and sustained a hungry people for forty years. God is teaching us to rely on His power. We exercise such faith by observing the holy Sabbath rest, and by sharing what we have (v. 18; 2 Cor. 8:13–15). How do you need to trust God's provision right now?
2. Christ is the true manna (John 6:32,35), the daily bread of His people's spiritual lives. By faith in Him, we enjoy a sweet foretaste of our heavenly inheritance in the graces of the Holy Spirit (Eph. 1:13–14; Rom. 8:23). Daily nourishment for our souls comes by meditation on the promises and faith that receives Christ as a hungry mouth takes food.

Chapter 17: Israel encounters the trials of thirst and war, and the Lord gives water and victory through the hands of Moses.

17:1 journeys. See Num. 33. commandment of the LORD. Literally, "mouth of the Lord"—His will revealed by the movements of the cloud (see note at 13:21–22). pitched. Camped.

17:2 chide. Argue, as in a legal dispute. Wherefore. Why. tempt. Test. Testing the Lord showed the hardness of their hearts and provoked God's wrath (Deut. 9:22; Ps. 95:8–9; Heb. 3:8).

17:4 stone. Capital punishment by breaking the body with rocks (Lev. 24:23; 1 Kings 21:13).

17:5 elders. Leaders, here functioning as legal witnesses (Ruth 4:2). smotest. Struck. Taking the rod of the plagues into this legal setting implies that judgment was coming.

17:6 I will stand. The cloud of glory came down on a cliff (rock). Horeb. Mt. Sinai. smite. Strike. Shockingly, God instructed Moses to strike not at the grumblers but at the Lord, symbolized in the rock (Deut. 32:4; Ps. 78:15,20,35; 1 Cor. 10:4). water. Rivers (Ps. 78:16; 105:41). in the sight of the elders. A judicial setting (Deut. 25:9).

17:7 chiding . . . tempted. See note at v. 2.

17:8 Amalek. Descendants of Esau (Gen. 36:12). They cruelly attacked the weak stragglers behind Israel's armies (Deut. 25:17–18) in the first battle of the redeemed slaves.

17:9 Joshua. A military commander from Ephraim who personally assisted Moses (24:13; 33:11), helped to scout out the land (Num. 13:8; 14:6), and succeeded Moses as the leader of Israel (Num. 27:18). rod of God. Moses' staff, which God used to work miracles (v. 5).

17:11 held up his hand. As he did at the Red Sea (14:16). prevailed. The Amalekites were the superior force, but Israel gained divine power to overcome them through the combined efforts of those on the hill and those in the valley, each fulfilling their appointed tasks.

17:12 thereon. On it. Hur. An assistant of Aaron from Judah and grandfather of Bezalel, who built the tabernacle (24:14; 31:2). stayed. Held. Moses, the instrument of God's power, was himself weak.

17:13 discomfited. Weakened, disabled.

17:14 Write this. Evidence that Moses wrote the Pentateuch (24:4; 34:27). memorial. Reminder.

17:15 Jehovah-nissi. "The Lord my banner." The Lord is like the flag or standard on a pole that rallies, encourages, and leads His army to victory (Isa. 11:10).

17:16 war with Amalek. See Deut. 25:17–19; 1 Sam. 15:1–33; 27:8; 30:1–18; 1 Chron. 4:43.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 17

1. When judgment fell on the Lord through the rod of Moses, rivers of water streamed out to give life to sinners. When God's wrath fell upon Christ through the cross, rivers of the Holy Spirit flowed from heaven to give life to sinners (John 7:37–39; Gal. 3:13–14). Let us marvel at God's grace and drink deeply of the streams of life He bought with blood. Why did judgment have to fall on Christ for the Spirit to give life to men?
2. We face a cruel and powerful enemy in Satan, but we can overcome him while our Mediator stretches out His hands in heaven. Trust not in your own strength, or the Devil will prevail. How can looking to Him who was stretched out on Calvary's hill and who even now intercedes at God's right hand help us overcome evil?

Chapter 18: Moses' father-in-law visits, worships the Lord as the only God because of His great works for Israel, and advises Moses on delegating authority.

Jethro's Worship and Wisdom (18:1–27)

18:1 priest of Midian. An idolatrous nation (Num. 25:1–3). all that God had done. The news of Israel's complete redemption was glorifying God among the nations, as He intended (9:16; 1 Kings 10:1; Ps. 22:27; 96:3; Isa. 2:2).

18:2 after he had sent her back. Sometime after Moses went back to Egypt (4:20,25–26).

18:3 alien . . . strange. Foreigner . . . foreign.

18:5 encamped. Camped. mount of God. Mt. Sinai, where God appeared (3:1).

18:7 went out to meet. Ordinary hospitality to one arriving after a journey (Gen. 14:17; Num. 22:36; 31:13). obesiance. Bowed to honor him. kissed. A normal greeting (4:27).

18:8–11 travail. Trouble. The repetition of all (four times in vv. 1,8–9) emphasizes the complete salvation and rich goodness of the Lord for Israel. This good news won the heart (rejoiced) and worship (Blessed) of this former pagan. God kept His promise to bless all nations (Gen. 12:3) with the knowledge that He is the Lord, greater than all gods (7:5; 15:11–16; 2 Kings 5:15).

18:12 took. Brought. Jethro's sacrificial meal with all the elders of Israel showed the spiritual unity between people of different nations who worship the true God. Jethro's descendants later settled among the people of Judah (Judg. 1:16).

18:13 morrow. Morning.

18:14 all that he did to the people. Echoes earlier statements about "all" that the Lord did for Israel (vv. 1,8–9), suggesting Moses had taken on too much. even. Evening.

18:15 enquire. Seek, consult.

18:17 not good. Even prophets made mistakes when God had not spoken on a particular matter (2 Kings 4:29–31).

18:18 wear away. Wear out. Too much work and responsibility exhausts leaders.

18:19 Hearken. Listen. for the people to God-ward. Stand for the people in God's presence. Moses had a unique role in Israel as its prophet (19:3; 24:15–18; 33:7–11). causes. Legal cases.

18:21–22 Large organizations need a multilayer administration of men with competence and character, entrusted with varying degrees of responsibility (Deut. 1:9–18).

18:23 If . . . God command thee. Human counsel is subject to God's Word.

18:24 hearkened. Listened. Great leaders listen to sound advice and correction.

18:26 hard causes. Difficult legal cases.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 18

1. God's saving work aims at His glory among all nations. He must be praised by all; He must become the joy of all the earth. This is why we must declare His glory among the nations and the gospel of His great works in Christ to all peoples. How will you use your abilities and resources to help your church to make disciples of all nations?
2. Leaders need help or they burn out. For this reason, God gives His churches elders and deacons for the ministry of the Word and the ministry of physical needs (Acts 6:1–7). Paul appointed more than one elder in each church (Acts 14:23). Every Christian should serve as a member in the body of Christ as he is able—all are needed (1 Cor. 12:21).

THE LORD TAKES ISRAEL FOR HIS PEOPLE (19:1—40:38)

God's Gracious Covenant of Law (19:1—24:18)

Chapter 19: The Lord proposes the covenant to Israel, and His holy presence comes down on Mt. Sinai in fire and a thunderstorm.

The Fearsome Majesty of the Lord (19:1–25)

19:1 third month. Late May to early June.

19:2 pitched. Set up camp. Israel arrived at the mountain (mount) where the Lord had appeared to Moses, as promised (3:12). They remained there almost a year (v. 1; Num. 10:11–12).

19:3 Thus shalt thou say. God's relationship with His people is through His Word. house of Jacob. Family or descendants of Jacob, with whom God made His covenant (2:24).

19:4 bare. Carried. on eagles' wings. Image of God's power (Isa. 40:31) and love for His children (Deut. 32:11). unto myself. The goal of redemption is God (6:7; 1 Peter 3:18).

19:5 if ye will obey. The Lord redeemed them out of His free grace promised to Abraham (v. 4; 6:6–8; 20:2), but the enjoyment of the blessings depended on the obedience of the nation (note plural ye). Only those who keep my covenant experience the covenant relationship (Gen. 17:9,14; Ps. 103:17–18). peculiar treasure. God's precious and beloved possession (Deut. 7:6; 14:2; 26:18; Ps. 135:4; Mal. 3:17); term used of a king's gold and silver (1 Chron. 29:3; Eccl. 2:8).

19:6 God defined His covenant relationship with Israel as the gift of His royal reign (kingdom . . . nation) and sacred presence (priests . . . holy). His reign came through the law (chs. 20–23), and His presence appears in the tabernacle (chs. 25–40).

19:7–8 Moses came . . . Moses returned. He acted as a mediator, a communications link between the Holy One and the people. All that the LORD hath spoken we will do. The right response to God's law (Deut. 5:29), but one impossible without saving grace (Deut. 29:4; 30:6).

19:9 The experience of God's glory drives people to trust in a mediator.

19:10 sanctify. Consecrate or set apart as holy (v. 23).

19:12 Take heed. Watch. The old covenant did not allow full access to God's holy presence.

19:15 come not at your wives. Abstain from sexual relations, which made a person ritually unclean though marital sex is not sin (Lev. 15:16–18; 1 Cor. 7:2–4).

19:16 The appearance of the Lord on the third day with lightnings, an earthquake (v. 18), and angels (Ps. 68:17) foreshadowed Christ's resurrection (Matt. 16:21; 28:2–4). With the cloud and trumpet, it also points to Christ's coming in glory (Matt. 13:41–43; 24:7,31; 26:64).

19:17 nether. Lower.

19:18 altogether on a smoke. Entirely engulfed in smoke. In Christ, we may approach God without facing the terrifying wrath of His fiery holiness (Heb. 12:18–24,29).

19:19 waxed. Grew.

19:21 charge. Warn.

19:22 priests. Probably chief men who performed some priestlike functions before Aaron and his sons were ordained to the priesthood (chs. 28–29; Lev. 8–9).

19:23 sanctify it. Treat it as holy because of God's presence (3:5).

19:24 Away. Go.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 19

1. God stands at an infinite distance above fallen mankind in His majesty and holiness. In this day of casual worship and irreverent prayer, let us never forget that He is the holy King. We may draw near to Him only through the blood and righteousness of Christ. How should our worship of God show our reverence for His holiness and majesty?
2. It was marvelous grace that the Lord, who can claim "all the earth is mine," took a small, enslaved people as His treasure. Israel broke the old covenant by disobedience to the law (v. 5), but the Lord accomplished His larger purposes in the new covenant, which promises inward grace to produce obedience for both Jews and Gentiles (Jer. 31:31–34). The church drawn from Jews and Gentiles is now called God's "peculiar" treasure, the kingdom of priests and a holy nation by Christ's blood (Titus 2:14; 1 Peter 2:4–5,9; Rev. 1:5–6; 5:9–10).

Chapter 20: The Lord speaks the moral law to Israel from the cloud of glory on Mt. Sinai, and they respond by fearfully looking to Moses to mediate God's Word.

The Ten Commandments (20:1–21)

20:1–17 The Ten Commandments. The King establishes His constitution for His people as a holy nation. The Lord exalted the Ten Commandments—literally, "ten words" (Decalogue)—above the other laws given to Moses in a number of ways: (1) He spoke them directly to Israel out of the cloud; (2) He wrote them by His power on tablets of stone; (3) He commanded that they be placed in the ark of the covenant; (4) they are called "the covenant," the heart of Israel's obligation to God; (5) Moses repeated them in Deut. 5 before Israel entered the land, and (6) after repeating them, Moses commented, "These words the LORD spake unto all your assembly . . . and he added no more" (Deut. 5:22; see also Ex. 34:28; Deut. 4:12–14; 5:1–22; 9:9,11,15; 10:1–5). The Ten Commandments are a summary of God's moral law, rooted in God's nature, man's nature in the image of God, and the order of creation (Gen. 1:1—2:3). Christ and the apostles taught and applied them in the New Testament (Matt. 5:21,27; 12:1–13; 15:4; 19:18–19; Rom. 7:7; 13:9; Eph. 6:2–3; James 2:11; Rev. 1:10). You will find a detailed, helpful exposition of the law in the Westminster Larger Catechism (Q. 91–153).

20:2 Preface to the Ten Commandments. bondage. Slavery. God motivates obedience by His nature and covenant (the LORD thy GOD) and His sweet grace to His people (brought thee out).

20:3 First Commandment. before me. In His presence, for He sees all things. There is only one God; all else was created by Him (Gen. 1:1). He proved His supremacy by judging Pharaoh and the gods of Egypt (9:14; 12:12; 15:11). Therefore, our first obligation is to give our worship, absolute obedience, and supreme love to Him alone (Deut. 6:4–5; 10:12—11:1).

20:4–6 Second Commandment. graven image. Idol; visible representation of a divine being. God is the Creator of heaven, earth, and the water, and must not be confused with His creations (Rom. 1:19–23). In the plagues, He demonstrated His mastery over the created world and humiliated the idols of Egypt. Therefore, though God blesses some visual arts (31:1–11), we must never make an image of God (including any person of the Trinity) or worship with a man-made image of anything before us. For He is a jealous God, not in a petty or unjust sense, but with a holy zeal for His glory (34:14). upon the children. Insofar as they also hate God (34:7).

20:7 Third Commandment. name. How He makes His glory known and feared (Deut. 28:58). The revelation of God's name is central to the book of Exodus (3:13–15). in vain. For nothing. not hold him guiltless. Will punish him. We must never speak of God without reverence (Lev. 24:16), especially in prayer, worship, or a vow. Pharaoh despised God's name with defiance (5:2) and hypocritical confessions (9:27,30), but God teaches men to fear Him, for "I am the LORD" (20:2).

20:8–11 Fourth Commandment. Remember. Plan and do. sabbath day. Day to stop and rest. manservant . . . maidservant. Male and female servants. stranger that is within thy gates. Foreigner living with the Israelites. wherefore. Therefore. hallowed. Set apart the entire day as holy. By His own example in the creation week, God instituted a pattern of six days of work and the seventh day for rest from ordinary labor and for holy assembly for worship (Gen. 2:1–3; Lev. 23:3). Christ affirmed this law by declaring Himself Lord of the Sabbath (Mark 2:27), which is now called the Lord's Day (Rev. 1:10), the first day of the week when Christ rose (Matt. 28:1).

20:12 Fifth Commandment. God created the family (Gen. 1:27–28). He is the Father of His people, and they must serve Him like a son (4:22–23). Therefore, glorifying God requires honoring thy father and thy mother, including other authorities that are like fathers (2 Kings 5:13; 1 Thess. 5:12–13).

20:13 Sixth Commandment. Human life is sacred above all animals, for God created us in the image of God (Gen. 1:26; 9:6). Therefore we should not desire harm or speak evil against another person (Matt. 5:21–22). This verb kill is used of murder and manslaughter, but never of war; God gave government the authority to use deadly force (Rom. 13:4).

20:14 Seventh Commandment. God is the author of marriage between one man and one woman (Gen. 2:18–25), and demands that we honor its commitments (Heb. 13:4). Christ explained that intentional sexual lust is adultery in the heart, a sin worthy of the fire of hell (Matt. 5:27–30).

20:15 Eighth Commandment. God gave man dominion of the earth (Gen. 1:26), and thus the right to personal property. We must respect and protect each other's property. We should not only cease stealing, but also work hard to give to those in need (Eph. 4:28).

20:16 Ninth Commandment. witness. Testimony with respect to law or covenant (23:1; Gen. 31:44; Deut. 19:15–20; 31:26). God speaks, and His words define reality and deserve trust (Gen. 1:3; 2:16–17; 3:1–5). We, created in His image, must speak only the truth (Lev. 19:11).

20:17 Tenth Commandment. covet. Desire. God's law regulates even the longing and contentment of the heart. He provides for His people, both in the garden (Gen. 2:8–15) and in the wilderness (15:23—17:7). Therefore we must be thankful, not covetous (Eph. 5:3–5).

20:18 removed. Shook.

20:19 Speak thou . . . let not God speak. This was God's intent: to push them to rely on His prophetic mediator (19:9; Deut. 5:23–31).

20:20 prove. Test.

The Book of the Covenant (20:22—23:33)

After speaking the Ten Commandments directly to Israel, the Lord gave Moses instructions for him to write for Israel in the book of the covenant (24:7). These are a mixture of moral, ceremonial, and judicial laws that reveal Christ and His will but bind us only insofar as they express the moral principles summarized in the Ten Commandments, since the ceremonial laws find fulfillment in Christ and the civil laws find fulfillment in Israel's theocracy.

20:24 thereon. On it. record. Cause to be "remembered," as in faith, prayer, and worship (Deut. 8:18–19; Josh. 23:7; Ps. 20:7; 45:17; 119:54–55; Isa. 12:4; 26:13; 48:1).

20:25 hewn. Cut. polluted. Failed to treat the holy as sacred. Shaping the stones of the altar could result in making it into an idol (v. 4).

20:26 discovered. Uncovered.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 20

1. Eight of the Ten Commandments are negative, "Thou shalt not," implying that God gave the law to convict fallen man of sin (Rom. 3:20; 1 Tim. 1:8–11). Conviction is painful and sinners hate the light of God's truth (John 3:19–20), but conviction of sin is a gift of the Holy Spirit (John 16:8) by which the law drives sinners to Christ (Gal. 3:22,24). How do you respond when God's Word makes you feel guilty? How should you respond?
2. The church's status as God's treasured possession is not based on its obedience to the law, but on the death of Christ (Titus 2:14). Significantly, God gave the law after the exodus and not before. Law followed grace, defining how the redeemed people were to live before God. You become part of God's people by faith in Christ alone. Yet obedience to God's Word is still a vital part of the covenant relationship (John 14:23; 15:5), for the law continues on as a rule of life for believers to which they respond with gratitude (Jer. 31:33; 32:40; Ezek. 36:27). So pursue holiness, but never try to keep God's covenant by your own strength. Rely on the work of Christ and God's grace will enable you to live in holiness.

Chapter 21: The Lord gives Moses laws about servants, murder, and personal injury, and liability for harm done by dangerous livestock.

21:1 judgments. Laws of justice.

21:2–11 Laws concerning the rights of Hebrew servants. God's redeemed people were never to suffer the degradations of slavery again (Lev. 25:42–43). God's laws protect them from long-term enslavement (Jer. 34:13–14) and sexual trafficking.

21:6 judges. Literally, "God" or "gods" (perhaps referring to powerful men, Ps. 82:6). bore. Pierce. aul. Sharp tool. See Deut. 15:17. A picture of Christ's submission (Ps. 40:6–8).

21:7 maidservant . . . menservants. Female servants and male servants.

21:8 betrothed. Made a legal commitment leading to marriage. strange. Foreign.

21:10 raiment. Clothing. duty of marriage. Sexual intercourse.

21:12–27 Laws concerning murder and personal injury. All human beings are precious, including the servant (v. 20) and unborn child (vv. 22–23).

21:12–14 smiteth. Strikes. lie not in wait. Does not hunt or pursue. Murder involves the intent to harm. God deliver. If God causes it to happen. God is in control of human accidents and tragedies. whither. Where, to which place. presumptuously. Proudly. guile. Cunning. from mine altar. Seeking refuge from punishment (1 Kings 1:50; 2:28).

21:16 This law condemns the forcible enslavement of innocents (22:3; Deut. 24:7).

21:17 The penalty of death highlights the great obligation to honor our parents (Mark 7:10).

21:18 keepeth his bed. Is bedridden.

21:19 quit. Legally acquitted of the charge of murder.

21:20–21 While corporal punishment was permitted, killing one's servant was murder. However, a master who causes his servant to lose time at work has punished himself, forfeiting his money.

21:22–23 her fruit. Her children. If harm (mischief) comes to the woman or her children, then the offender must be punished because women and unborn children are human beings (Ps. 139:13).

21:24 Eye for eye. Not a justification for personal revenge (Matt. 5:38–39) or for mutilation of the violent (vv. 26–27), but a principle that punishment must be proportionate to the crime.

21:26–27 maid. Female servant. God did not demand a literal "eye for eye" or "tooth for tooth" (v. 24), but the liberation of the servant. This law protects servants from severe mistreatment.

21:28–36 Laws concerning liability for harm done by dangerous property, here an ox or pit. God holds us responsible for the effects of our property, requiring safety measures (22:5–6).

21:28 quit. Legally acquitted of the charge of murder.

21:29 wont to. Accustomed to.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 21

1. While the judicial laws of the old covenant do not bind us today, they contain many moral principles. For instance, punishments should fit the crime; murder is not the same as accidentally killing someone. Another principle in this chapter is that all human beings, including women, servants, and unborn children, are precious persons, not mere property, and they should be protected from injury and death.
2. God's law held people accountable not only for their acts, but for harm done by their property, whether it is an ox, pit, or some modern equivalent. What do you own that could cause harm to others? What reasonable safeguards have you put in place?

Chapter 22: The Lord instructs Moses in laws concerning property loss, social injustice, and various sins.

22:1–15 Laws concerning stolen and damaged property. Not only does God condemn theft, but He demands restitution of the lost goods plus more (Luke 19:8). Ordinarily, restitution adds a fifth to their value (Lev. 6:4–5; Num. 5:7), but livestock are repaid four to five times as much, for these are the life of an agricultural people, especially the oxen that worked the land.

22:2 breaking up. Breaking into a home. smitten. Struck. no blood. No punishment against the homeowner. Self-defense is just, though only within reasonable limits.

22:6 corn. Grain. Men are accountable for negligence that destroys property (21:28–36).

22:8 judges. See note at 21:6.

22:9 trespass. Sin.

22:11 accept thereof. Accept the oath and demand no restitution (Heb. 6:16).

22:14 ought. Anything. thereof. Of it.

22:16–20 Laws concerning sexuality, sorcery, and idolatry. Idolatry is linked to magic and immorality (Num. 25:1–9; 1 Sam. 15:23).

22:16 entice. Seduce sexually. maid. Virgin girl of marriageable age. betrothed. Legally committed to marry someone else. Immorality with a betrothed woman was adultery and punishable by death (Deut. 22:22–27). endow. Pay the dowry for a wife. Sex before marriage ("fornication" or "whoremongering") is condemned by God (1 Cor. 6:9; Heb. 13:4).

22:18 suffer. Allow. witch. Sorceress, a woman who manipulates powers through rituals (Deut. 18:9–14).

22:19 Canaanites engaged in this horrible impurity and believed that their gods did so.

22:20 save. Except.

22:21–28 Laws concerning social injustice. The Lord is gracious (v. 27) and looks with mercy on the poor but with wrath (v. 24) upon those who oppress the weak. His law demands mercy and justice to the foreigner, widow, and fatherless (23:9; Lev. 19:33–34; Deut. 10:18–19; 24:17–18; 27:19).

22:21 vex. Mistreat. stranger. Foreigner.

22:23 any wise. Any way.

22:24 wax hot. Grow warm, burn.

22:25 usurer . . . usury. One who lends money and charges interest of fellow Israelites—a crime under the law (Lev. 25:35–38; Deut. 23:19–20).

22:26 raiment. Clothing. pledge. Security or collateral on a loan. by that. Before.

22:28 revile. Insult. gods. "God" or "judges" (see note at 21:6). We must speak respectfully of authorities (Acts 23:5).

22:29–31 Laws concerning worship. As God's holy people, Israel must bring its offerings and firstborn (13:2,11–16), and avoid uncleanness by not eating animals that suffer natural death (Lev. 22:8).

22:29 liquors. Juice.

22:30 dam. Mother animal.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 22

1. God's law requires justice in relationships and society. Not only is theft a crime, but God requires restitution for possessions stolen or destroyed. The Lord especially hates injustice against those who are weak. Human justice systems may fail, but God's wrath will inevitably strike the unrepentant sinner. In the fear of God, can you honestly say that you have not stolen from others, harmed their property, or oppressed the weak? If you have wronged someone, what must you do to make it right with God and man?
2. The strictly judicial laws like the death penalty for witches were abolished in Christ. He ended the earthly theocracy of Israel, ascending to a heavenly throne and bringing the kingdom of God through the means of the Word and the Spirit (John 18:33–37; Acts 2:33–26). However, these judicial laws point ahead to the coming of His kingdom in glory. Sin deserves death (Rom. 6:23). When Christ returns to judge the world, the wicked, including sorcerers, will be cast into hell (Rev. 21:8).

Chapter 23: The Lord gives laws about justice, kindness, Sabbaths, and feasts and closes the book of the covenant with a call to covenant faithfulness.

23:1–9 Laws concerning justice and love.

23:1 put not thine hand. Do not join or help.

23:2 multitude. Crowd. cause. Legal case. decline after many to wrest judgment. Join the majority in doing injustice.

23:3 countenance. Show favoritism.

23:4–5 wouldest forbear to help him. You shall not allow yourself to leave it. God's law requires us to love even the enemy who hateth us, just as Christ explained (Matt. 5:43–44).

23:6 wrest the judgment of. Distort justice for. cause. Legal case.

23:7 I will not justify the wicked. Justification does not change someone's character, but declares him righteous legally. The righteous God cannot justify sinners on their own merits (34:7; Prov. 17:15), but justifies sinners joined to Christ and His righteousness (Rom. 4:5; 2 Cor. 5:21).

23:8 gift. Bribe.

23:9 stranger. Foreigner.

23:10–19 Laws concerning Sabbath and feasts. In the book of the covenant, the moral law of the weekly holy day of rest (20:8–11; Gen. 2:1–3) was expanded in various regulations (31:13–14; 35:2–3; Lev. 23) that no longer bind us after the death of Christ (Col. 2:16).

23:12 handmaid. Female servant.

23:13 be circumspect. Guard yourself, be watchful. make no mention. Literally, "do not remember," call upon them in worship (see note at 20:24).

23:15 feast of unleavened bread. See 12:15–20; 13:3–10; 34:18; Lev. 23:6–8. appear before me empty. Fail to bring an offering (Deut. 16:16–17).

23:16 feast of harvest . . . feast of ingathering. Also known as Pentecost and the Feast of Tabernacles or Booths (34:22–23; Lev. 23:16–21,33–43).

23:19 seethe a kid. Boil a young goat. This ceremonial law (34:26; Deut. 14:21) is the basis for the separation of meat from dairy products in Judaism. The law most likely prohibits a magical ritual practiced in Canaanite worship though some relate it to laws of compassion for animals (Lev. 22:28; Deut. 22:6).

23:20–33 Promise to lead Israel into the land, and a call to covenant faithfulness.

23:20–23 I send an Angel . . . my name is in him. The angel of the Lord, a Christophany, was both sent by God and yet possessed God's own nature and glory (name). This was God the Son, sent as the Mediator to fulfill the covenant even before His incarnation (3:1–6; see note at Gen. 16:7). Beware. Pay attention.

23:24 quite break. Completely shatter.

23:26 nothing cast. No animal miscarry. fulfil. Make full—give long life.

23:28 hornets. Stinging wasps—apparently a metaphor for God's power to drive out Israel's enemies

(Deut. 7:20; Josh. 24:12), perhaps through fear (v. 27; Deut. 2:25; see note at Ex. 15:16).

23:31 sea of the Philistines. Mediterranean Sea. the river. Euphrates River.

23:33 snare. Trap.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 23

1. Sinful men promote their party, but the Lord delights in truth and justice regardless of whether a person is rich or poor, in the majority or the minority. Why is it so easy to side with the majority or your particular group instead of standing for truth and justice?
2. God sent His Son, the Angel of the covenant (Mal. 3:1). The King and Captain of His people (Josh. 5:14) came to fulfill His covenant and destroy their enemies (Gen. 12:3). Drawing near to man in Immanuel, the angel of God's presence (Isa. 63:9), God increases our obligation to pay attention to Him, obey Him, and reject all others gods (Judg. 2:1–2; Heb. 2:1–4). We must give our devotion to Christ alone.

Chapter 24: God formally makes the covenant with Israel through the blood of sacrifices, and the priests and elders enjoy a meal of fellowship in God's presence.

The Cutting of the Covenant (24:1–18)

24:1 Nadab, and Abihu. Aaron's oldest sons (6:23). worship. As promised (3:12).

24:2 Moses alone. The prophet here acts like a priestly mediator, foreshadowing Christ. nigh. Near. Access to the Holy was not yet opened (19:12; Heb. 9:8).

24:3 God's words (20:1) and regulations (judgments, 21:1) are central to the covenant; man's participation is always a response to the Word. The covenant required obedience to all the words spoken by God (vv. 4,7–8). The Lord made the covenant with Israel as a nation, all the people responding as one. The people's commitment (All . . . will we do) was a noble declaration of love (20:6), but most of them lacked the heart to carry it out (32:8–9; Ps. 95:10).

24:4 Moses wrote all the words of the LORD. See note at 17:14. The altar represented the holy Lord and the twelve pillars the tribes of Israel as the two parties in the covenant.

24:5 Burnt offerings atone for sin and please God (Lev. 1:3–9); the participants ate a portion of the peace offerings as a sacred meal shared with the Lord (vv. 9–11; Lev. 7:11,15–21).

24:6 basons. Basins. sprinkled on the altar. Presenting the atoning blood to God to satisfy His wrath against sin so that God considers His people clean (Lev. 16:11,14–16,19,30).

24:7 book of the covenant. Laws and promises revealed to Moses on Mt. Sinai (20:22—23:33). audience. Ears, hearing. All . . . will we do. The covenant is a bond of loyalty (see note at v. 3).

24:8 sprinkled it on the people. The sacrifice must be applied to the people to sanctify them as a holy priesthood (19:6; 29:19–21). blood of the covenant. The covenant between God and man is a bond of redeeming blood (Zech. 9:11). which the LORD HATH MADE. Literally, "that the Lord has cut," a reference to the cutting apart of the sacrifices (Gen. 15:9–11,17–18; Jer. 34:18–20).

24:10 they saw the God of Israel. Not the divine essence, which is invisible (Col. 1:15), but a sign of His covenantal presence with His people, a foretaste of the incarnation. The fruit of the covenant is communion with God. sapphire . . . body of heaven in his clearness. Like a clear, blue sky (Ezek. 1:26). The covenant is a bond that joins heaven and earth (Gen. 28:12,17).

24:11 nobles. Leaders. he laid not his hand. He did not harm them, though no man may see God's unmediated glory and live (33:20), for the covenant opens the way for friendly fellowship between God and man, celebrated joyfully in a shared meal (eat and drink).

24:12 tables. Tablets. See 31:18; 2 Cor. 3:3.

24:13 minister. Servant.

24:14 Tarry. Wait.

24:17 glory of the LORD . . . DEVOURING FIRE. The covenant does not change God's nature as a glorious flame of absolute holiness, so Christians must worship with reverence (Heb. 12:28–29).

24:18 gat him. Went up.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 24

1. The old covenant came with external ceremonies and the blood of animals, none of which can save (Heb. 10:1,4). These pointed to Christ's blood of the covenant (1 Cor. 11:25; Heb. 12:24; 13:20), for the promised inheritance came only through the redeeming death of Christ, the Mediator (Heb. 9:15–21). The believing remnant in Israel clung by faith to the promise of the coming Redeemer (Gen. 3:15; 49:10). We too must cling by faith to Christ, who has established the new covenant in His blood.
2. Even in covenant mercies, God remains God and we must obey Him. This requires more than a verbal commitment; Israel pledged obedience but had no heart to perform it. We need the Spirit of God to sanctify our hearts by faith so that we experience Christ's blood applied to our guilt and obey God (1 Peter 1:2). Do you have this living hope that produces holiness? Or are you like most of Israel—all words but no reality?

God's Holy Presence in the Tabernacle (25:1—40:38)

The Design of the Tabernacle (25:1—31:18)

Chapter 25: Moses receives the instructions for the materials of the tabernacle and the pattern of its ark, table, and lampstand.

25:3 brass. Alloy of copper, either brass or bronze.

25:4 linen. Cloth made of flax fibers.

25:5 badgers' skins. Leather made of hides of unknown animal. shittim. Acacia, a dark, hard wood avoided by wood-eating insects.

25:7 ephod. Sleeveless outer garment of priests (28:4,6).

25:8 sanctuary. Holy place.

25:9 tabernacle. Literally, "a home" (Num. 16:24).

25:10 ark. Chest, not the same word as Noah's ark. cubit. Eighteen inches. thereof. Of it.

25:11 crown. Formed trim or moulding.

25:13–14 staves. Poles. borne. Carried. The Lord travels with His people.

25:16–17 testimony. The Ten Commandments, as a prophetic witness to the covenant (31:18). mercy seat. Place of turning away wrath and finding forgiveness. There the high priest made propitiation for Israel's sins (Lev. 16:14–16). These types show that God is with His people both in forgiveness and obedience to the law, the double grace of justification and sanctification.

25:18 cherubims (plural of cherub). Heavenly spirits present at the garden of Eden (Gen. 3:24; Ezek. 28:13–14), depicted as huge, winged creatures (1 Kings 6:23; Ezek. 1:5–14; 10:1), usually the guardians or proclaimers of God's holiness.

25:19 thereof. Of it.

25:22 commune. Speak. The King of heaven is present to meet with His people in the Word.

25:23 shittim. Acacia.

25:24 crown. Formed trim or moulding.

25:25 hand breadth. Three inches.

25:29 covers. Jars. to cover withal. With which to pour.

25:30 shewbread. Bread of the presence (Lev. 24:5–9).

25:31 candlestick. Lampstand for burning olive oil (27:20), not candles. knops. Buds from which flowers grow.

25:38 snuffdishes. Pans for holding hot coals.

25:39 talent. Unit of weight, about 75 lbs.

25:40 look that thou make them. God's worship must follow God's Word, neither adding nor subtracting (Deut. 12:32). pattern. A type of heavenly realities (Heb. 8:5).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 25

1. The ark of the covenant (vv. 10–22) symbolized God's chariot-throne carried by the spirits of heaven (Ps. 18:1; 99:1,5), a sign that the King of heaven lived with Israel. Yet there was no image for God Himself (20:4–6) for He is holy, more glorious than all idols (15:11). Christ is the heavenly King who lives with His people (Matt. 28:18,20). He is also our mercy seat, the propitiation of all the sins of believers (Rom. 3:24–25).
2. The table of shewbread (vv. 23–30) represented God's fellowship with His people and pleasure in them (Ps. 149:4; Isa. 62:4–5). The golden lampstand (vv. 31–39), formed in the shape of a flowering tree, was a type of the light and life our Priest gives to His people (Num. 6:24–26; Ps. 36:9; John 1:4; Rev. 1:13; 2:1) through the Holy Spirit (Zech. 4:2,6). How do God's people experience communion with Christ today?

Chapter 26: Moses is taught the design of the holy tent where God dwells.

26:1 tabernacle. See note at 25:9. fine twined linen. White cloth of very thin flax fibers carefully woven together. The colors (blue, and purple, and scarlet) are appropriate for wealth and royalty (Judg. 8:26; 2 Sam. 1:24; Est. 8:15). The combination of blue and cherubims also suggest heaven (see notes at 24:10; 25:18). This was the palace of the King of heaven. cunning. Skillful.

26:2 cubits. About eighteen inches each.

26:4 selvedge. Edge.

26:6 taches. Clasps or hooks.

26:9 forefront. Front.

26:14 rams' skins dyed red. Both the animal and the color are reminders of blood sacrifices. badgers' skins. See note at 25:5.

26:15–29 The tent frame supported the curtains, creating a rectangular tent 15 ft. wide, 15 ft. high, and 45 ft. long.

26:15 shittim. See note at 25:5.

26:17 tenons. Literally, “hands,” projections that fit pieces together.

26:19 sockets. Bases.

26:30 rear up. Set up. according to the fashion. Literally, “according to its judgment/rule,” following the laws revealed by God (25:40).

26:31 vail. Veil or curtain. Abolished in Christ’s death (Luke 23:45).

26:33 thither. There, to that place. the most holy. In the temple this was a perfect cube (1 Kings 6:20), which suggests that here it was a 15 ft. cube, the back third of the tabernacle.

26:35 without. Outside. candlestick. See note at 25:31.

26:36 wrought with needlework. Made by embroidery.

26:37 sockets. Bases.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 26

1. In the tabernacle, God’s glory was both present and hidden. The tent curtains (vv. 1–14) in four layers hid its contents well. Outside it looked quite ordinary; inside were royal colors and sparkling gold. However, even the priests in the holy place faced the veil separating them from the most holy place. God’s holiness separates Him from sinners (Isa. 59:2). Only Christ can open the way to God by His death and intercession (Heb. 9:6–8; 10:19–21). The divine glory comes to us hidden in humble, crucified flesh (John 1:14; 1 Cor. 1:23–24). His glorious presence with His people is seen only by faith and enjoyed by those who are humble and contrite over sin (Isa. 66:2; Phil. 3:3,8–10).
2. The abundance of gold inside the tabernacle, the lampstand shaped like a tree (v. 35), and cherubims (vv. 1,31) point back to the garden of Eden (Gen. 2:9,11–12; 3:24). God’s presence with His people is a return to Paradise with all its sweet fruit (Rev. 2:7; 22:1–5). How does God give His children foretastes of the heavenly paradise even now?

Chapter 27: Moses receives instructions for the altar of burnt offerings, the court of the tabernacle, and the tending of the lamps.

27:1 altar. The large altar of burnt offering (30:28; 40:29), where priests offered the burnt offerings to make propitiation for Israel’s sin (29:38–42; Lev. 1:4). shittim. Acacia. cubits. Eighteen inches each. foursquare. Four-sided. thereof. Of it.

27:2 horns. Projections to which the sacrifice was tied (Ps. 118:27) and on which its blood was put to atone for sin (29:12; Lev. 16:18). Like animal horns, they were symbols of God’s power to save (Ps. 18:2), in which repentant sinners find refuge (1 Kings 1:50–53).

27:3 basons. Basins or bowls. fleshhooks. Forks to pull out meat.

27:4 grate of network. Grill. brasen. Unlike the golden furniture inside the tabernacle, furniture outside was made of copper alloy, either bronze or brass.

27:5 compass. Rim, holding the grill at half the height of the altar.

27:6 staves. Poles.

27:8 as it was shewed thee in the mount. See 25:40; 26:30.

27:9–19 court of the tabernacle. Yard around the Lord’s tent, measuring 150 ft. by 75 ft., fenced off by 7.5-ft.-high curtains hung from pillars to separate the holy places from ritual uncleanness (Lev. 15:31; Num. 5:3; 19:13,20). sockets. Bases. fillets. Bands. pins. Pegs or stakes.

27:21 tabernacle of the congregation. Tent of meeting, using a different word for tabernacle (see note at 25:9). without the vail. Outside the veil. order. Arrange.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 27

1. The only way to draw near to God is through the altar. There the priests killed a sin offering and took its blood into the tabernacle. The Lord Jesus offered Himself once and for all and then brought His human nature into heaven itself to appear on behalf of His people (Heb. 9:11–14,24,28). Christians thus have a greater altar—not a physical object, but Christ Himself who strengthens our hearts with grace (Heb. 13:9–10). Let us pray for grace to be quick to use this altar for all our sins and all our needs.
2. Though outside the tabernacle, the court was still a holy place (Lev. 6:16,26). Here the worshipers would bring their sacrifices to the priests and sing God's praises (Ps. 96:8; 100:4; Isa. 1:11–12). How much more is the church a holy assembly when it gathers to worship on the Lord's Day? Indeed, through faith in Christ, we enter the most holy place and worship before God with the heavenly assembly of saints and angels (Heb. 10:19–22; 12:22–24). How could believing this transform our attitude toward church?

Chapter 28: God calls Aaron and his sons into the priesthood and reveals the sacred garments that the priests must wear for glory and beauty.

28:1 minister unto me in the priest's office. Literally, "serve Me as a priest." The priest is called by God, and his work is primarily toward God (unto me) as the representative of the people (Heb. 5:1,4).

28:3 wise hearted . . . spirit of wisdom. The Holy Spirit is the source of all human ability (Job 32:8), including artistry and craftsmanship (31:3–5; 35:31–35). consecrate. Set apart as holy.

28:4 ephod. Sleeveless vest or apron worn over the robe. broidered. Woven in a checkered pattern. mitre. Turban. girdle. Belt or sash.

28:5 The priests were clothed in the colors and materials of the tabernacle, representing holiness (gold) and royalty (see note at 26:1).

28:6–29 cunning. Skillfully woven. thereof. Of it. curious. Artistic. grave. Engrave. signet. Ring or other object with a seal. ouches. Wires, prongs, or pouches to hold gems. memorial. Remembrance. wreathen. Twisted like cord. doubled. Folded. foursquare. Four-sided. span. Nine inches.

28:17–20 Some of these twelve stones cannot be precisely identified.

28:30 the Urim and the Thummim. Used to receive direction (judgment) from God (Num. 27:21; 1 Sam. 14:41; 28:6; Ezra 2:63). The high priest was a prophet (John 11:51).

28:32 habergeon. Armored shirt; Hebrew uncertain. rent. Torn.

28:33–35 pomegranates. Round, edible fruit, two to five inches in size, found in the land of Canaan (Num. 13:23; Deut. 8:8). bells. The priest must walk with the sounds of holiness (gold) to avoid offending the Lord (that he die not).

28:36 plate. Literally, "shining thing" or "flower." Also called the "holy crown" (29:6).

28:37 mitre. Turban.

28:38 hallow. Set apart as holy. The golden head plate showed that the priest must bear the responsibility to be holy, clean, and obedient in order that the sacrifices (holy gifts) may be accepted before the LORD (Lev. 22:1–9).

28:40 girdles. Belts or sashes. bonnets. Caps.

28:41 anoint . . . consecrate. Explained in ch. 29. minister. See note at v. 1.

28:42 breeches. Underpants. loins. Pelvic area. The need to cover their nakedness points back to the fall of man into sin and misery (Gen. 3:7).

28:43 bear not iniquity. Do not become guilty of sin. seed. Offspring.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 28

1. How glorious and beautiful is our High Priest in the sight of God (Heb. 7:26)—holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens! Surely the Father is delighted to hear His intercession. Are you relying upon this perfect Priest? Have you become experientially acquainted with the value of His constant intercessions (Rom. 8:34; Heb. 7:25)?
2. The presence of our High Priest before the Lord is a constant appeal for God to remember His covenant and show mercy to His people despite their sins (2:24; 6:5; 32:13; Lev. 26:44–45). Their names were on His shoulders (v. 12) as a sign that Christ took responsibility for them as their Surety, and upon His heart (v. 29) because He loves them. What does it mean to you that Christ has His people on what Thomas Goodwin called His "beautiful heart"?

Chapter 29: God reveals the ordination procedure for the priesthood of Aaron and the daily duty of the priests for His purpose of dwelling with Israel.

29:1–2 hallow. Set apart as holy. minister. See note at 28:1. bullock. Bull. rams. Male sheep. tempered. Mixed. wheaten. Of wheat. The lack of blemish or leaven symbolized moral purity.

29:4 tabernacle of the congregation. See note at 27:21.

29:5–6 On these garments, see ch. 28. gird. Tie a belt or sash.

29:7 anoint. Put fragrant olive oil (30:22–33) on the head, a sign of the Holy Spirit's sanctification and power for the office of prophet, priest, or king (1 Sam. 16:13; Isa. 61:1).

29:9 priest's office. Priesthood. consecrate. Ordinarily translates the verb "make holy," but in 28:41 and this chapter it is another verb—literally, "fill the hand," meaning to "ordain."

29:13 inwards. Inner organs.

29:14 without. Outside.

29:18 sweet savour. Pleasing aroma (Eph. 5:2; Phil. 4:18).

29:21 hallowed. Set apart as holy.

29:22 consecration. Literally, "filling" (see note at v. 9).

29:30 stead. Place.

29:31 seethe. Boil.

29:33 wherewith. With which. stranger. Outsider.

29:34 ought. Anything. flesh of the consecrations. Meat of the ram for ordination ("filling," see note at v. 9).

29:40 deal. Measure. hin. Four quarts.

29:41 sweet savour. Pleasing aroma.

29:43 sanctified. Set apart as holy.

29:45–46 The covenantal knowledge of God and enjoyment of His holy presence is the great purpose of redemption from Egypt—and of the church's redemption from sin by Christ.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 29

1. How does God make sinners like us into priests? Priests must be washed, clothed, and anointed (vv. 4–7). These three ideas appear in three sacrifices. The bull of sin offering (vv. 10–14) took the sinner's guilt and punishment so that he would be forgiven (Lev. 4). The ram of burnt offering (vv. 15–18), while making propitiation, also presented God with total self-dedication so that God would be pleased with the sinner (Lev. 1). The blood of the ram of consecration (vv. 19–34) was put on the ear, thumb, and toe like the cleansing of the healed leper (Lev. 14:7,14,25), and its meat was eaten like a peace offering as a sign of fellowship with God (Lev. 7:11,15–21). Therefore, God makes sinners into priests by washing away their guilt, clothing them with imputed righteousness, and anointing them for holy fellowship with Him—all by sacrifice.
2. How do Christians act as priests? By faith in Christ (1 Peter 2:4–6), they offer to God spiritual sacrifices—themselves, their praise and thanksgiving, and their financial gifts and intercessory prayers (Rom. 12:1; Heb. 13:15–16). How can you offer spiritual sacrifices to God?

Chapter 30: God shows Moses the design of the altar of incense, the requirement of ransom money, the design of the basin for washing, and the formula of the holy incense.

30:1 shittim. Acacia.

30:2 cubit. Eighteen inches. thereof. Of it. foursquare. Four-sided.

30:3 crown. Trim.

30:4 staves. Poles. withal. With.

30:6 vail. Veil.

30:7 thereon. On it. dresseth. Cleans and maintains.

30:8 even. Evening.

30:9 strange. Not commanded.

30:10 once in a year. See Lev. 16.

30:12 ransom. Price paid to release a sinner from punishment (21:30); same root as "atonement" (v. 15). God satisfied His justice against sin by the payment of a price (Matt. 20:28; 26:28).

30:13 shekel. Two-fifths of an ounce.

30:16 memorial. Reminder.

30:18 laver. Large basin for cleansing the priests and sacrifices (29:4,17; 40:30–32). foot. Stand. withal. With. tabernacle of the congregation. See note at 27:21. On the laver, see comments in the Worship Section for ch. 38.

30:19 thereat. At it.

30:20 minister. Serve.

30:21 seed. Offspring.

30:23 principal. High quality. myrrh. Somewhat bitter, earthy-smelling resin from a commiphora tree.

calamus. Sweet-smelling plant.

30:24 cassia. Bark from plants in the cinnamon family. hin. Four quarts.

30:25 compound after the art of the apothecary. Blended with the work of a perfumer.

30:26 therewith. With it.

30:27 candlestick. Lampstand.

30:33 compoundeth. Makes a perfume.

30:34 stacte. Resin from a tree. onycha. Uncertain. galbanum. Resin from ferula plants with a musky odor. frankincense. Resin of boswellia tree with a sweet smell reminiscent of pine trees with lemon.

30:35 confection. Perfume. apothecary. Perfume or spice maker. tempered. Salted.

30:38 whosoever shall make like unto that, to smell thereto. Whoever makes anything that smells like this incense.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 30

1. The burning of fragrant spices on the golden altar of incense (vv. 1–10) was a symbol of prayer (Ps. 141:2; Luke 1:10; Rev. 5:8; 8:3–4). Christ's priestly intercession is based on His sacrificial blood (v. 10), and He intercedes morning and evening (vv. 7–8) to shield sinners from God's wrath (Lev. 16:12–13; Num. 16:46–48; Rom. 8:34). How can Christ's priestly intercession encourage us in our prayers to God?
2. The fragrances of the incense were a sign of God's delightful presence meeting with His people (25:22; 29:42–43; 30:6,36). Limiting this fragrance to the holy things showed that one can enjoy God's presence only through a mediator and the means He appointed. To unbelievers, the gospel is only the stench of death in its revelations of divine justice, but to believers it is the fragrance of life in Jesus Christ (2 Cor. 2:15–16).

Chapter 31: God calls workers and fills them with the wisdom of the Holy Spirit to build the tabernacle, reaffirms the Sabbath, and gives Moses the two tablets of the moral law.

31:1 the LORD spake unto MOSES. God spoke seven times in revealing the tabernacle (25:1; 30:11,17,22,34; 31:1,12), an allusion to the week of creation (see notes at 1:7; 2:2; 16:6–12,22–30; 20:4–6,8–11). This is the sixth time He spoke, calling men to build His tabernacle just as on the sixth day God created man to rule the world (Gen. 1:26).

31:3 spirit of God. The Holy Spirit (28:3; 35:31).

31:4 cunning. Artistic.

31:6 wisdom. Here referring to craftsmanship. The list of objects opens and closes by stating that God's Word (all that I have commanded) must rule His worship (see notes at 12:50; 25:40).

31:7 thereupon. On it.

31:8–9 furniture. Utensils and vessels.

31:10 cloths. Clothing.

31:12 the LORD spake unto MOSES. The seventh divine speech in the tabernacle instructions is the regulation of the Sabbath, the seventh day of creation (see note at 31:1). The tabernacle was a kind of new creation, a return to paradise to dwell with God in holy rest.

31:13 Verily. Surely. sanctify. Make holy.

31:14 holy. Set apart for the public and private worship of God. defileth. Treats a holy thing as ordinary. whosoever. Whoever. cut off. Shut out of the covenant people (Gen. 17:14) under the old covenant judicial system by the death penalty (Num. 15:30–36).

31:18 communing. Talking. tables. Tablets. testimony. Ten Commandments. finger. Power.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 31

1. The Spirit of God created the whole world, including us (Gen. 1:2; Job 33:4). All life comes from Him (Ps. 104:30), as does all skill and wisdom. What abilities has He given you? Are you grateful for these gifts and do you rely on His help to use them for His glory?
2. The Sabbath was a sign of the covenant (vv. 13,16), just as the rainbow was for Noah and circumcision for Abraham (Gen. 9:12–13; 17:11). However, the Sabbath was not just a sign of the old covenant with Israel, but a sign of God's created order (Ex. 20:11; 31:17). Therefore, while Christians are not under the ceremonial and judicial system of Israel, they still have an obligation to keep the Sabbath as a day set apart to worship God. It is good to remember that "sabbath" does not mean seventh but rest or cessation. It is a day that is to be different from all other days; thus, it legitimately designates the first day of the week. How is keeping the Sabbath a sign of a covenant relationship with Christ and a foretaste of resting with Christ in the heavenly paradise?

The Problem of God's Presence with Idolaters (32:1—34:35)

Chapter 32: Israel quickly turns to idols and breaks the covenant so that Moses must intercede for God's mercy lest His wrath destroys the people.

32:1 mount. Mountain. wot. Know.

32:4 graving tool. Stylus or chisel. molten. Cast metal.

32:5 feast to the LORD. They mingled idols with the worship of the true God.

32:6 morrow. Morning. play. Possibly sexual play (Gen. 26:8). Though they experienced God's miracles and mercies, they proved to be idolaters—a warning to the church (1 Cor. 10:1–11).

32:7 thy people, which thou broughtest. A threat that the people are in danger of being disowned by God (not "My people"), and a call for Moses to take responsibility for interceding for them.

32:8 thereunto. To it.

32:9 stiffnecked. Stubbornly rebellious (Acts 7:51).

32:10 let me alone. If Moses did not intercede, God's wrath would destroy them, but Moses was chosen by God for this very task (Deut. 9:19; Ps. 106:23). wax hot. Grow warm, burn. I will make of thee a great nation. A test of Moses' humility and love for Israel.

32:11–13 besought. Prayed to. mischief. Evil. repent of this evil. Turn away from doing them harm. swarest. Swore an oath. seed. Offspring. Effective prayer appeals to God on the basis of His redemption, glory, and covenant.

32:14 he thought. Literally, "He said." the LORD repented. God's relationships change, as when He forgives sin and turns away His wrath (Jonah 3:10; 4:2). However, God does not change in His nature or His plans, for He decreed all things (Num. 23:19; Ps. 33:11; Isa. 46:10; Mal. 3:6).

32:15–16 tables. Tablets. testimony. Ten Commandments. graven. Engraved.

32:18 mastery. Great deeds. overcome. Defeated. sing. They rejoiced in idolatry (Acts 7:41).

32:19 nigh. Near. waxed hot. Burned. brake them. Not a temper tantrum, but a symbol of Israel breaking the covenant (Lev. 26:15; Deut. 31:16; Jer. 31:32).

32:20 strawed. Scattered.

32:22 mischief. Evil.

32:23 wot. Know.

32:24 there came out this calf. Minimizing your part in a sin is not true confession.

32:25 naked. Let loose, without restraint.

32:29 Consecrate. Not, "set apart as holy," but literally, "fill the hand," ordain for special ministry (see note at 29:9). upon his brother. Against his brother. It pleased God that they loved His honor more than their own families (Deut. 33:9; Matt. 10:37). bestow. Give. The Lord called the Levites to be the assistants of the priests at the tabernacle (38:21; Num. 1:47–53; 8:5–26).

32:30–32 on the morrow. In the morning. peradventure. Perhaps. blot me . . . out of thy book. Kill me like a condemned criminal (Ps. 69:28): atonement by substitution of a willing sacrifice.

32:33 Whosoever. Whoever. Only the one guilty of sin can be punished for sin (34:7; Ezek. 18:4). Substitution is only possible when the guilt can be transferred from the sinner and imputed to the substitute because of a legal union between them (2 Cor. 5:21; Phil. 3:9).

32:34 mine Angel. See 23:20–23. visit their sin upon them. Punish them for their sin.

32:35 plagued. Struck.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 32

1. Israel's idolatry shows us the corruption of the human heart. They had God's prophet, miracles, and laws; they stood at the foot of Mt. Sinai with God's glory visibly shining over them. Yet they quickly turned aside to idols. Their sin was engraved on their hearts as with a diamond-tipped pen of iron (Jer. 17:1). Unless God gives grace in the heart, there is no hope for fallen man (Titus 3:3–5). What then should we ask for in prayer?
2. Moses here again is a type of Christ. The Lord Jesus is the Prophet preaching against idols, the King bringing the sword of discipline, and the Priest who offered Himself as the substitute for His people and intercedes for them. But where Moses could only bring truth and temporal deliverance, Christ can save from blindness, guilt, and sin.

Chapter 33: Moses prays for God to continue to grant His presence to His people despite their sin and asks for God to show him His glory.

33:1 hence. From here. seed. Offspring.

33:3 I will not go up . . . lest I consume thee. God's holiness cannot tolerate sin (Hab. 1:13). Though He would still go before them to conquer their enemies (v. 2), He threatened to cancel the tabernacle and remove His presence among them because of their idolatry (Ezek. 8:1–18; 11:22–23). stiffnecked. The word "stiff" is of the same root used for Pharaoh's "hardness" (7:3; 13:15). Israel has the same stubborn, idol-worshiping heart as Pharaoh himself.

33:4 tidings. News. ornaments. Beautiful things.

33:7 tabernacle. Not the holy place, but a temporary tent to meet God. without. Outside. When God meets with Moses afar off from the people it implies His presence with them was not yet secure.

33:11–12 face to face . . . I know thee by name. Moses' astonishing intimacy with God (Num. 12:8; Deut. 34:10) qualifies him to intercede for God to dwell with His people—a foreshadowing of the true Mediator (John 1:14,18).

33:15 hence. From here.

33:16 wherein. How. separated. Distinguished. God's presence with His people is the soul of the covenant (29:46; Gen. 26:3,24; 28:15). I and thy people. God's people receive His grace through His relationship with the Mediator. We are blessed in union with Christ (Eph. 1:3).

33:18 I beseech thee. Plead.

33:19 my goodness. Through the intercession of Moses, the Lord's wrath against Israel became the occasion for an unprecedented display of His love to them. I . . . will be gracious to whom I will be gracious. God promised to reveal His glory (name) to Moses, but asserted His freedom to give the knowledge of Himself as He pleases (Matt. 11:25–27). Just as God had the right to harden Pharaoh for His glory (9:16; 14:4), so He has the right to show mercy not on the basis of human will or effort, but to whomever He wills (Rom. 9:14–18).

33:20 there shall no man see me. Literally, "no man shall see Me." God's open glory would destroy sinners, for He dwells in unapproachable light (1 Tim. 6:16). He gently conceals Himself even in His revelations.

33:21 rock. Stone cliff (17:6; Deut. 8:15). The Lord is our rock (Deut. 32:4; 1 Cor. 10:4).

33:22 clift. Opening, fissure, hiding place.

33:23 back parts. Not the literal back as of a man, but a figure of speech for an indirect revelation of God's nature.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 33

1. The coming of the covenant God did not stop Israel from sinning. On the contrary, they plunged into sin before the face of God. The law does not conquer sin, but only expresses it to show that it abounds within us, for we are no better than Pharaoh. Therefore, let us humble ourselves and grieve over our sins. Our sin spits in the face of God's glory and reacts to His law with more rebellion. God would be right to abandon us forever, sentencing every one of us to "depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire" (Matt. 25:41).
2. But where sin abounded, grace abounded all the more (Rom. 5:20). God used Israel's idolatry as an opportunity to display His goodness. He is sovereign and free to be gracious when He wills to be gracious, which means we must bow before His sovereign right to damn sinners or to save them. But it also means we can hope in His sovereign love. No matter how bad our sin is, God is still sovereign and free to save. Yet He always saves through the Mediator because God delights in Him. What strong reasons do we have to hope in Christ and Him alone?

34:1 Hew. Cut. tables. Tablets.

34:5 The remarkable revelation of God's nature (name) in vv. 6–7 became like a creed for Israel, parts of which are repeated through Scripture (Num. 14:18; 2 Sam. 2:6; 15:20; 2 Chron. 30:9; Neh. 9:17,31; Ps. 25:10; 40:10–11; 57:3,10; 61:7; 85:10; 86:15; 89:14; 103:8; 111:4; 117:2; 145:8; Joel 2:13; Jonah 4:2; Nah. 1:3; James 5:11).

34:6 The LORD, The LORD GOD. The God of absolute freedom and sovereignty who reveals Himself in His mighty works of redemption (see notes at 3:14; 6:3). merciful. Having the compassion of a father or mother to a dear child (Ps. 103:13, Jer. 31:20). gracious. Giving kindness to the poor and hearing the prayer of the needy (22:26–27; Ps. 4:1). longsuffering. God is angry against sin, but is patient and slow to act in anger (Nah. 1:3; Rom. 2:4–5). goodness. Loyalty and love, often stated in the refrain, "his mercy [loyal love] endureth forever" (Ps. 100:5; 136:1–26). truth. Faithfulness and trustworthiness (Gen. 24:27; Ps. 31:5; 132:11).

34:7 mercy. Same word as "goodness" (v. 6). keeping mercy. Keeping His covenant promises of faithful love. thousands. Thousands of generations (Deut. 7:9). forgiving iniquity. Releasing sinners and traitors from their guilt and punishment (Neh. 9:16–17; Ps. 103:12). by no means clear the guilty. God's justice requires that sin receive its due penalty (see note at 23:7). upon the children's children. See comments in the Worship Section below.

34:8 made haste. Hurried.

34:9 I pray thee. Please.

34:10 I make. Literally, "I am cutting" (see note at 24:8), renewing the covenant which Israel broke (see note at 32:19). marvels. Amazing works. terrible. Inspiring the fear of God.

34:12 Take heed. Guard.

34:13 groves. Asherah pillars (idols).

34:14–15 Jealous. Righteous, burning zeal for His honor, worship, and kingdom (Deut. 4:24; 5:9; Isa. 9:7), like a husband who passionately cares about his marriage (Song 8:6). whoring. Worshiping other gods is like a wife acting as a prostitute with other men.

34:17 molten. Made of cast metal.

34:19 matrix. Womb. firstling. Firstborn.

34:21 earing. Plowing.

34:24 neither shall any man desire thy land. God restrains sin in the world to protect His people (Gen. 20:6).

34:26 seethe. Boil. See note at 23:19.

34:27 Write thou these words. See 17:14; 24:4. after the tenor. Literally, "according to the mouth," that is, as God had spoken. made a covenant. Literally, "cut a covenant" (see note at v. 10).

34:28 forty days and forty nights. See Matt. 4:2. ten commandments. See notes at 20:1–17.

34:29 wist not. Did not know. skin of his face shown. A foretaste of the saints' glorification by seeing God's glory (Matt. 13:43; 2 Cor. 3:7,18; 1 John 3:2).

34:33 vail. A sign of the blindness of unbelievers to God's glory (2 Cor. 3:12–16; 4:4).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 34

1. The Psalms are full of praise to God for the divine attributes outlined above (vv. 6–7). Moses is a model of how to respond to God's attributes with humble adoration (v. 8). Let us therefore fill our mouths with praises and focus our minds in worship not upon ourselves and our experiences, but upon who God is. What are some of your favorite psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs? How do they declare the attributes of God?
2. God does not punish anyone for the sins of his parents (Deut. 24:16; Ezek. 18:20; John 9:1–3), except for the sins of our covenant head, Adam (Rom. 5:12,18). However, children imitate their parents, and those who hate God often raise children who hate God and fall under the same punishment (Ex. 20:5; 34:7). We need not fear our past if we are in Christ. The blood of Christ redeems us from the futile ways of wicked ancestors (1 Peter 1:18–19), blessing our offspring to thousands of generations (Deut. 7:9). Does this strongly motivate you to follow Christ for the sake of future generations?

The Construction and Filling of the Tabernacle (35:1—40:38)

Chapter 35: Moses directed the people to begin building the tabernacle, and they willingly gave the precious materials for God's holy tent.

35:2–3 sabbath of rest. See 16:22–30; 20:7–11; 31:12–17. habitations. Homes.

35:5 whosoever. Whoever.

35:5–19 These items are discussed in chs. 25–30.

35:12 staves thereof. Its poles. vail. Veil.

35:14 furniture. Utensils and vessels.

35:22 tablets. Jewelry.

35:30–35 See notes at 31:1–11.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 35

1. The resources to build God's dwelling place came from redemption. Slaves do not usually own much gold, but when God redeemed Israel out of slavery, He caused the Egyptians to give them silver and gold (11:2; 12:35–36). Redemption made them rich and provided the resources to build God's tabernacle. Likewise, Christ's redemption won the riches of grace that we need to build the body of Christ (Eph. 4:7–16). Therefore, the only way to build the church is by faith in Christ, obtaining from Him everything His church needs.
2. The motivation to build God's dwelling place comes from a willing heart (v. 29). The church is built through cheerful giving and voluntary service of the people. The best of pastors can do little without a people willing to serve the Lord (Rom. 12:11). How are you using your abilities to serve in the church? What motivates you and how motivated are you?

Chapter 36: Bezaleel and Aholiab oversee the construction of the tent of God's dwelling.

On the design and materials of the tent, see notes at ch. 26.

36:3 withal. With.

36:38 chapiters. Heads or capitals of the pillars. fillets. Bands.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 36

The people's generosity is commendable in itself, for they gave more than enough (v. 5). It is a model to us of cheerful giving. However, their faith in the Lord and obedience to His moral laws were sadly lacking (chs. 14–16; 32; Num. 11; 14). We dare not rest our confidence in external duties such as giving money to church or attending public worship, for these can be done for hypocritical reasons (Matt. 6:1; 23:23; Acts 5:1–11). It is easier to give money than to do justice, love mercy, and walk humbly with God (Mic. 6:8). How can we be zealous in outward things but also avoid hypocrisy?

Chapter 37: Bezaleel makes the ark, table, lampstand, altar of incense, anointing oil, and incense for the tabernacle.

37:1–9 On the ark, see notes at 25:10–22.

37:2 without. Outside.

37:9 to the mercy seatward. Toward the mercy seat.

37:10–16 On the table, see notes at 25:23–30.

37:17–24 On the candlestick, see notes at 25:31–39.

37:23 snuffers. Tongs. snuffdishes. Pans for hot coals.

37:25–28 On the incense altar, see notes at 30:1–10.

37:29 On the anointing oil and incense, see notes at 30:22–38.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 37

> The word "gold" appears no less than twenty times in this chapter. Bronze was used in outside furniture, but gold in the holy places as a sign of God's holiness—not merely His moral purity, but His excellence above all other beings in every way (see note at 15:11). The enormous amount of pure gold used in the holy furniture (38:24) displayed the beauty and precious value of His holiness (28:36; 39:30). This King's wealth reflects Himself. Let us treasure Him above all and cast away everything in order to gain Him (Matt. 13:44; Phil. 3:7–8). Do you view God as your supreme treasure? How do true Christians show they view God as their supreme treasure?

Chapter 38: Bezaleel makes the altar of burnt offering, the laver, and the courtyard, and counts the total gold and silver used.

38:1–7 On the altar of burnt offering, see notes at 27:1–8.

38:4 compass thereof. Its rim.

38:8 On the laver, see note at 30:18 and comments in the Worship Section below. lookingglasses. Mirrors of polished metal. women assembling. Women organized to help the priests, perhaps in preparing and washing various articles (1 Sam. 2:22).

38:9–20 On the court of the tabernacle, see notes at 27:9–19.

38:17 chapiters. Heads or capitals on the pillars. filleted. Banded.

38:25–26 talents. 75 pounds. a thousand seven hundred and threescore and fifteen. 1,775. shekels. 0.4 oz. bekah. 0.2 oz. The calculation is thus 603,550 men x 0.2 oz./man x 1 lb./16 oz. = 7,544.375 lbs. or 100 talents + 1,775 shekels.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 38

> Those consecrated to serve the Lord by the blood of sacrifices still needed regular washing at the laver (30:18–20; 38:8). Jesus taught us the same lesson when He washed the disciples' feet (John 13:1–11). As Christians, we must regularly confess our sins to the Lord so that our conscience can be freshly washed by the blood of Christ (1 John 1:7–10; Heb. 10:22). Confession costs us something. Just as the women gave up their mirrors to make the laver for washing (Ex. 38:8), so we must give up our pride and self-righteousness to find cleansing. Are you able to boldly draw near to God with a cleansed conscience? Why or why not?

Chapter 39: The people make the sacred garments for the priest to wear.

39:1 cloths of service. Priestly clothing.

39:2–21 On the ephod, see notes at 28:6–30.

39:22–26 On the robe, see notes at 28:31–35.

39:27–31 On these articles of clothing, see notes at 28:36–43.

39:33–41 An inventory comparable to 35:11–19.

39:42–43 as the LORD had commanded. Ten times this chapter states that Israel built the parts of the tabernacle according to God's directions (vv. 1,5,7,21,26,29,31–32,42–43).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 39

> God's church must be built "as the LORD commanded." Whether we are considering the officers who govern the church, the church's worship, its evangelism, or any other aspect of church life, we must order the church according to the will of its King, Jesus Christ. Scripture warns against "will worship," forms of religion and spirituality invented by men according to their wisdom, but powerless to please God or conquer sin (Col. 2:20–23). The Bible is sufficient in every way to guide God's ministers to order the house of God (1 Tim. 3:15; 2 Tim. 3:16–17). What sad consequences result from adding to or subtracting from God's will for His church?

Chapter 40: Moses assembles the tabernacle and God fills it with His glory.

40:2 first day of the first month. A new beginning, like a new creation. the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation. Literally, "the home of the tent of meeting."

40:2–15 thou. God's commands were masculine singular, addressed to Moses. This type teaches us that the Mediator, and He alone, can build God's dwelling place.

40:16–33 Eight times the text says that Moses constructed the tabernacle as God commanded him (vv. 16,19,21,23,25,27,29,32). God's home is built on the Mediator's obedience.

40:34 glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle. A foreshadowing of Christ's personal glory and the glory of heaven (1 Kings 8:10–12; Isa. 4:5; Hag. 2:7; Zech. 2:5; John 1:14; Rev. 15:8; 21:23).

40:35 abode thereon. Rested on it.

40:38 throughout all their journeys. The Lord is with His people by the Word and Spirit as they travel like pilgrims to their inheritance and ultimate home.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 40

> God's purpose is to fill His people and the new creation with His glory (Eph. 3:19–21; 4:10; Rev. 21:3). Christ has purchased our enjoyment of the fullness of God by His obedience, and is building God's dwelling now of godly people. The church should be filled with the Holy Spirit (Eph. 5:18), but the riches of spiritual experiences are a mere foretaste of glory (Rom. 8:23). One day Christians will enjoy the glory of God in a way that would kill us now. Our hope is to see His glory and be filled with Him (John 17:24; Rom. 5:2; Col. 1:27). How can we cultivate that hope in our hearts so that it controls our lives?

God's Names

"God is a Spirit, infinite, eternal, and unchangeable, in His being, wisdom, power, holiness, justice, goodness, and truth" (Westminster Shorter Catechism, Q. 4). Consequently, He is incomprehensible; man is incapable of thinking about all that God is. So any self-revelation of God is a gracious act whereby God condescends to man's limited understanding.

God's names or titles are one of the key ways by which God has revealed Himself. These names are more than just labels of identification; they are propositional descriptions of some aspects of His infinite Persons. Consequently, they are not used haphazardly and should not be passed over lightly in the reading of Scripture.

There are generally three categories of God's names: (1) propositional, expressing some fact pertaining to the divine being, such as "God Most High" (Gen. 14:18–22) and "everlasting God" (Gen. 21:33); (2) historical, commemorating some encounter with God (such as Jehovahjireh, "the Lord will provide," Gen. 22:14; see also Gen. 16:13; Ex. 17:15); and (3) personal, declaring some individual experience ("the God of Abraham," "the fear of Isaac," etc.).

Here is a brief explanation of some common propositional names in the Old Testament:

Jehovah. This is God's personal name, especially linked to His covenant grace and mercy. Derived from the verb "I am" (explained at the burning bush in Exodus 3), the name declares God's self-sufficient independence, eternity, and sovereignty. Yet, amazingly, Jehovah is the principal name of God used in contexts of salvation. Although God is infinitely independent of anything outside of Himself, He is willing to have intimate fellowship with man, particularly through the covenant of grace. Jehovah, therefore, is often referred to as God's "covenant name." In the King James Version it is always translated in capital letters as "LORD" or occasionally as "GOD."

God. This is the most general term for deity. The Hebrew word can be either singular (El) or plural (Elohim). Both forms stress God's greatness. He is all-powerful; He possesses all authority; He is able to do whatever He pleases. This title also magnifies God's transcendence; He is exalted far above all creation, including man. The plural form is a plural of majesty or excellence that highlights His power and greatness with even greater emphasis. Significantly, this is His first self-revelation: "In the beginning God . . ." (Gen. 1:1; see Ps. 19:1). He is the Creator.

Lord. The title Adonai describes God as the supreme Owner and Master of everything. Everything belongs to Him, and He governs everything according to His own purposes for His own glory. This name declares His absolute sovereignty or kingship. Earthly kings come and go, but the heavenly King reigns supreme forever (Isa. 6:1). All men and every nation, whether or not they acknowledge Him, are subject to His authority and accountable to Him. He is the Sovereign over all the earth; all will bow before Him (2 Kings 7:6; Ps. 110:5; Dan. 1:2; Amos 1:8). In the KJV this title is translated as "Lord" to distinguish it from Jehovah, which is rendered as "LORD."

God Almighty. Although this title occurs most frequently in the patriarchal period, especially in Job, it is not limited to that period. The Hebrew is El Shaddai. Opinions differ regarding the translation, but most likely it means "the God who is sufficient." He is fully able to keep every word of His promises, even when the fulfillment seems impossible. Nothing is too hard for El Shaddai. So even though the prospect of a great nation descending from Abraham seemed unlikely, behind the promise was El Shaddai, and thus the promise was certain (Gen. 17:1; 35:11–12).

LORD OF HOSTS. This is "Jehovah of armies," a military expression identifying God as the "Commander" who has all authority and infinite rank to order His troops to accomplish His will. This title occurs most frequently during the period of the monarchy (Samuel, Kings, Chronicles, Psalms, and the Prophets). Depending on the context, the army may refer to Israel, the angels, the heavenly bodies (stars and planets), or even all of creation. The point is that God has the power, authority, and resources at His command to do and to achieve all of His plans and purposes. No matter how great the promise or how serious the threat, the LORD of hosts will command and it will be done. Notice, for instance, that Zechariah uses this expression more than fifty times in his prophecy to reinforce the certainty of the Lord's every word (see also Isa. 6:1–4).

God's Love and Justice

The love of God is the peculiar benevolence He possesses as the loving God Himself (1 John 4:8). His intra-trinitarian love is the delight that God has toward Himself (cf. John 5:20). This is the basis for the love God expresses toward His creatures, which can be classified as either general or special. The former relates to God's desire to bless all His creatures (Ps. 145:9), while the latter has the elect particularly as its object (John 3:16; Eph. 5:25). This is God's special fatherly delight in His elect as He views them through the lens of Christ Himself (John 16:27; Col. 2:10). This love causes the elect to be accepted for the sake of God's beloved Son (Eph. 1:4–6). Redemption appointed, redemption accomplished, and redemption applied all flow from this steadfast, ceaseless love of the triune God (Lam. 3:22; cf. Rom. 5:8; 1 John 4:10).

The justice or righteousness of God is His continual perfection according to the standard of what is pure and right—which is Himself. Exercised toward His creatures, the justice of God consists in the execution of judgment, either by reward or punishment, according to what is deserved, as determined by the standard of His holy law. All His works are just (Gen. 18:25; Ps. 7:9).

God's justice is wholly retributive, whether in His rewarding or in His punishing. This is opposed to justice by way of mutual exchange or remunerative justice. Since men's works are vile and filthy (Isa. 59:2–12; Rom. 3:10–18), there can be no proportionate relationship between man's work and God's remuneration. God is never constrained by or indebted to anyone; rather, He executes His justice according to His perfect standard.

Furthermore, because He acts not in response to man but according to His own way, God is just both in damning some (Pss. 51:4; 119:137; Nah. 1:2–3; Rom. 2:5–6) and delivering others (Rom. 3:21–22). "His work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment" (Deut. 32:4).

The love and justice of God are not incompatible; both are natural to Him to the superlative degree. God's love is always exercised within the bounds of justice, and He always enforces His justice in a loving manner. His love is wholly just, and His justice is entirely loving—this is the nature of God.

This means that, on the one hand, while He is loving God will not suffer men to trample on His holy law. For Him to allow the propagation of sin to continue would not be love. He must and will punish sin to the fullest degree. This should engender fear of sinning against a righteous God who "hatest all workers of iniquity" (Ps. 5:5–6). Noting God's justice, men must fear and tremble, allowing the terror of the Lord to move them to seek remission for their great sins through the blood of Christ.

On the other hand, this means that God, within His justice, exercises His wondrous love through His Son, Jesus Christ. We see the love of the Father in sending the Son; the love of the Son in bearing His people's sin; and the love of the Spirit in applying the benefits of salvation. All three Persons exercise the depths of eternal, sovereign, infinite, immutable love. No man, when gazing on this fountain, can help but stand captivated in amazement at the majestic love of the holy God.

The love and justice of God are understood best by observing the contours of the gospel. Therein God displayed publicly His righteousness (Rom. 3:21–26) and demonstrated His love (Rom. 5:8). Calvary's cross is where God's love and justice meet (Ps. 85:10). Within Christ, God's justice is not against but for His people. Christ's people are so fully united to Him that God's justice will not permit them to receive anything but that which is Christ's wage: eternal life in glory. Additionally, within Christ, God's love is unrestrained in bestowing His gifts (Zeph. 3:17; James 1:17). The exercising of His justice and His love come together in the gospel, both for God's glory and for His people's good.

God's Dwelling with Man

God created man in His own image, as a being fitted to be the dwelling place of the triune God and capable of enjoying fellowship with Him. By our fall into sin we forfeited this indescribably wonderful privilege, however, and now, by nature, we find ourselves alienated from the life of God and walking in darkness (Isa. 9:2; Eph. 4:18; 1 John 1:6). Because God is infinitely and inflexibly holy, He can no longer dwell with man unless sin is put away (Pss. 5:4; 15:1–2; 101:7; 2 Cor. 6:16–18). In His infinite love and grace God therefore designed successive sanctuaries to serve as pictures of His saving presence in the world and of the way in which He could dwell and have fellowship with men in a manner consistent with His holy character.

In the Old Testament one such sanctuary was the tabernacle. The tabernacle served as a meeting place between God and sinful men, forming God's ordained point of contact between heaven and earth. There, in that tent pitched in Israel's camp, God took up His abode and indicated His desire to dwell in the midst of His people (Ex. 25:8,22; 29:42–46). The tabernacle also functioned as a place of revelation, proclaiming the holiness and majesty of God and acting as a tangible reminder of the fact that sin brings separation from God and of the need for an atoning sacrifice to make reconciliation (Lev. 16; Isa. 59:2; Rom. 3:25). God cannot be approached on our terms but only on the basis of His revealed will (Ex. 25:40).

God gave the tabernacle a more established form when He commissioned the son of David to build the temple in Jerusalem (1 Kings 6–8). God's covenant with David linked God's dwelling among the Israelites with the royal offspring of David such that God's "house" or temple became inseparable from David's "house" or dynasty (2 Sam. 7:4–17). God's abiding presence with His people depended upon the faithfulness of the son of David to the Lord (1 Kings 9:1–9).

The tabernacle/temple, with the ordinances belonging to it, was thus a type or picture of our Lord Jesus Christ, in whom God would become incarnate as the obedient son of David, and dwell—literally, "tabernacle"—with His people (John 1:14; 2:19–21). On account of the gracious provision of God in the person and work of His beloved Son, Christ Jesus is the only meeting place between the holy God and sinful man (John 14:6). In Christ we have redemption through His blood and the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of His grace (Eph. 1:7). He is the One who spans the gulf between deity and humanity, so that through His blood we who were at one time far off might be brought near and enjoy fellowship with Him (Eph. 2:13,18; 1 Peter 3:18).

The tabernacle/temple of the Old Testament is also a type of the church built by Christ (Matt. 16:18). In the New Testament God no longer dwells in buildings made with hands (1 Kings 8:27; Acts 7:48–50) but in His people as "God's building" (1 Cor. 3:9,16–17). The church is "the house of God" or the "habitation of God through the Spirit" where believers "offer up spiritual sacrifices" (Eph. 2:21–22; 1 Tim. 3:15; 1 Peter 2:5). As the tabernacle was consecrated by the glory of God and set apart as a holy place for the service of God, so believers in the New Testament, who are not their own but have been bought with a price, are to be consecrated and set apart for His use (Rom. 6:13; 1 Cor. 6:19–20).

The return of Christ will bring God's ideal for the tabernacle/temple to its ultimate fulfillment (Rev. 7:15). God will dwell with His redeemed people in the open glory of the Lamb of God, and they will see His face (Rev. 21:3–4,22–23; 22:3–5). Let us therefore seek and desire above all else that we may dwell in the house of the Lord forever, where we shall behold His beauty and be satisfied with His goodness (Pss. 23:6; 27:4; 65:4).

INTRODUCTION TO THE BOOK OF

LEVITICUS

Authorship

Liberal scholarship has denied the Mosaic authorship of Leviticus, but conservatives identify Moses as the author and maintain the unity of the book as a unit as well as an integral part of the Pentateuch. Both external and internal evidence support Mosaic authorship.

Externally, more than two thousand years of tradition has accredited authorship with Moses. This has been maintained for a variety of reasons. First, Christ confirmed Moses as the author or originator of the "Law" (Luke 24:44). The Law (Hebrew, torah) was known to be the collection of Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy. Moreover, the New Testament refers to the laws in Leviticus as given to Moses (Matt. 8:4, referring to Lev. 14:2–3; Luke 2:22–24, citing Lev. 12:8; John 7:22–23, referring to Lev. 12:3).

Second, there is a strong literary and theological connection between Exodus and Leviticus. Exodus ends with the building of the tabernacle and the glory of God coming to settle into the Holy of Holies. From a literary perspective, it appears consistent that Leviticus would pick up with the regulations of worship within the tabernacle and the ordinances to be observed by Israel. There is good internal evidence for Mosaic authorship of Exodus (cf. Ex. 24:4), and given the close connection, most likely Moses simply picks up where he left off, continuing the statues and commandments of the Lord for His people.

Third, Moses (and Aaron) is certainly the dominant mediator between God and Israel. We read 39 times that the Lord spoke to Moses (cf. 1:1; 4:1; 5:14; etc.). Similarly, there are other forms of dictation between God and Moses. Because much of this book is composed of what God said to Moses and what he was commanded to reveal to the people of Israel, it is likely that the primary author of Leviticus was Moses. (For more information, see Introduction to the Pentateuch: Authorship.)

Date

The date is inseparably linked to the date of the exodus. The biblical evidence from 1 Kings 6:1 and Judg. 11:26 (and others) points to the mid-fifteenth century BC. Exodus 40:17 indicates that the tabernacle was erected in the first month of the second year after the exodus. Leviticus 1:1 indicates the tabernacle was standing and Num. 1:1 indicates that Israel planned to leave Sinai on the first day of the second month of the second year after leaving Egypt. All this suggests the date then of 1445 BC for the composition of Leviticus.

Theme

Holiness resulting from atonement is essential to fellowship with God.

Purpose

God teaches His people how they can have fellowship with Him. Leviticus opens with the Lord calling to Moses out of the tabernacle of the congregation. In Exodus He was on Mount Sinai and none dared approach Him (Ex. 19:21). Now however, He dwells in the midst of His people for their sake. And this is possible through the messianic sacrifices with which the book opens. By these He can receive them graciously, both in their wilderness journeys and in the land of Canaan.

Synopsis

The Contribution of Leviticus to Redemptive Revelation

The Jews called the book simply by its opening phrase, “And called” (1:1). The word has the idea of crying out or preaching to someone. God captures Moses’ attention and gives to him the laws and ceremonies of this book. The title “Leviticus” has come from the Septuagint, and means “relating to the Levites.” This title is appropriate because the Levitical priests are central to the book. The Lord through Moses entrusts the laws and ceremonies to the Levitical priests (and the Levites, their helpers) to administer, and He instructs the people to observe the principles of true worship.

Exodus shows God bringing forth a redeemed people. Leviticus shows Him making a holy people. Two great themes dominate the book: atonement (mentioned 43 times) and holiness (77 times). These cannot be separated. In atonement, our guilt is covered and wiped clean; with holiness, we are separated to God and made clean. Atonement is made by offering sacrifices and the intercession of priests, both of which point to the Messiah to come. Holiness is effected by our contact with God, the work of His Spirit within, and our walk in light of His laws—this makes us consecrated to God (Ps. 4:3).

These themes can be seen in Leviticus through the use of types. Our word “types” means “example,” “pattern,” or “figure” (1 Cor. 10:6,11). That is, the laws and ceremonies are picture prophecies finding fulfillment in Christ and the gospel. God was teaching His people through these visual aids, but the reality would be when Jesus Christ came in the fullness of time. The gospel then was the same as now; the means of declaring the gospel was different—then in the visible pictures along with Moses’ explanations, now in the preaching of completed revelation of God in the Scripture. Those who saw Christ in the sacrifices were saved and blessed on the same ground as we are—His finished work. The cross looks back through the ages, because Christ was the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world (Rev. 13:8).

Leviticus is also set forth as “shadows,” as in Heb. 10:1, “a shadow of good things to come” (Hebrews is the New Testament counterpart of Leviticus). Shadow means “an image cast by an object which represents its form.” Imagine someone coming toward you on a sunny day. The sun is behind him, and his shadow reaches you first. His shadow is a rough shape or outline of his person and substance. So it is on the pages of the Old Testament, including Leviticus. Our Lord and His gospel, with heavenly light behind, cast shadows as the fullness of time approaches. These tell us about His person and work. Leviticus gives the “good things to come” their outline and shape. And their blessings were for those who, through them, looked to the promised Redeemer.

THE THIRD BOOK OF MOSES CALLED

LEVITICUS

Leviticus 1 [†]

1 And the Lord called unto Moses, and spake unto him out of the tabernacle of the congregation, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, If any man of you bring an offering unto the Lord, ye shall bring your offering of the cattle, even of the herd, and of the flock.
3 [†] If his offering be a burnt sacrifice of the herd, let him offer a male without blemish: he shall offer it of his own voluntary will at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord.
4 [†] And he shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt offering; and it shall be accepted for him to make atonement for him.
5 [†] And he shall kill the bullock before the Lord: and the priests, Aaron's sons, shall bring the blood, and sprinkle the blood round about upon the altar that is by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
6 [†] And he shall flay the burnt offering, and cut it into his pieces.
7 And the sons of Aaron the priest shall put fire upon the altar, and lay the wood in order upon the fire:
8 And the priests, Aaron's sons, shall lay the parts, the head, and the fat, in order upon the wood that is on the fire which is upon the altar:
9 [†] But his inwards and his legs shall he wash in water: and the priest shall burn all on the altar, to be a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord.
10 [†] ¶ And if his offering be of the flocks, namely, of the sheep, or of the goats, for a burnt sacrifice; he shall bring it a male without blemish.
11 And he shall kill it on the side of the altar northward before the Lord: and the priests, Aaron's sons, shall sprinkle his blood round about upon the altar.
12 And he shall cut it into his pieces, with his head and his fat: and the priest shall lay them in order on the wood that is on the fire which is upon the altar:
13 But he shall wash the inwards and the legs with water: and the priest shall bring it all, and burn it upon the altar: it is a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord.
14 ¶ And if the burnt sacrifice for his offering to the Lord be of fowls, then he shall bring his offering of turtledoves, or of young pigeons.
15 And the priest shall bring it unto the altar, and wring off his head, and burn it on the altar; and the blood thereof shall be wrung out at the side of the altar:
16 [†] And he shall pluck away his crop with his feathers, and cast it beside the altar on the east part, by the place of the ashes:
17 And he shall cleave it with the wings thereof, but shall not divide it asunder: and the priest shall burn it upon the altar, upon the wood that is upon the fire: it is a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord.

Leviticus 2 [†]

1 [†] And when any will offer a meat offering unto the Lord, his offering shall be of fine flour; and he shall pour oil upon it, and put frankincense thereon:
2 [†] And he shall bring it to Aaron's sons the priests: and he shall take thereout his handful of the flour thereof, and of the oil thereof, with all the frankincense thereof; and the priest shall burn the memorial of it upon the altar, to be an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord:
3 [†] And the remnant of the meat offering shall be Aaron's and his sons': it is a thing most holy of the offerings of the Lord made by fire.
4 [†] ¶ And if thou bring an oblation of a meat offering baken in the oven, it shall be unleavened cakes of fine flour mingled with oil, or unleavened wafers anointed with oil.
5 ¶ And if thy oblation be a meat offering baken in a pan, it shall be of fine flour unleavened, mingled with oil.
6 Thou shalt part it in pieces, and pour oil thereon: it is a meat offering.
7 ¶ And if thy oblation be a meat offering baken in the fryingpan, it shall be made of fine flour with oil.
8 And thou shalt bring the meat offering that is made of these things unto the Lord: and when it is presented unto the priest, he shall bring it unto the altar.
9 And the priest shall take from the meat offering a memorial thereof, and shall burn it upon the altar: it is an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord.
10 And that which is left of the meat offering shall be Aaron's and his sons': it is a thing most holy of the offerings of the Lord made by fire.
11 [†] No meat offering, which ye shall bring unto the Lord, shall be made with leaven: for ye shall burn no leaven, nor any honey, in any offering of the Lord made by fire.
12 [†] ¶ As for the oblation of the firstfruits, ye shall offer them unto the Lord: but they shall not be burnt on the altar for a sweet savour.
13 [†] And every oblation of thy meat offering shalt thou season with salt; neither shalt thou suffer the salt of the covenant of thy God to be lacking from thy meat offering: with all thine offerings thou shalt offer salt.
14 And if thou offer a meat offering of thy firstfruits unto the Lord, thou shalt offer for the meat offering of thy firstfruits green ears of corn dried by the fire, even corn beaten out of full ears.
15 And thou shalt put oil upon it, and lay frankincense thereon: it is a meat offering.
16 And the priest shall burn the memorial of it, part of the beaten corn thereof, and part of the oil thereof, with all the frankincense thereof: it is an offering made by fire unto the Lord.

Leviticus 3 [†]

1 [†] And if his oblation be a sacrifice of peace offering, if he offer it of the herd; whether it be a male or female, he shall offer it without blemish before the Lord.
2 [†] And he shall lay his hand upon the head of his offering, and kill it at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and Aaron's sons the priests shall sprinkle the blood upon the altar round about.
3 [†] And he shall offer of the sacrifice of the peace offering an offering made by fire unto the Lord; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,
4 [†] And the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away.
5 [†] And Aaron's sons shall burn it on the altar upon the burnt sacrifice, which is upon the wood that is on the fire: it is an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord.
6 ¶ And if his offering for a sacrifice of peace offering unto the Lord be of the flock; male or female, he shall offer it without blemish.
7 If he offer a lamb for his offering, then shall he offer it before the Lord.
8 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of his offering, and kill it before the tabernacle of the congregation: and Aaron's sons shall sprinkle the blood thereof round about upon the altar.
9 And he shall offer of the sacrifice of the peace offering an offering made by fire unto the Lord; the fat thereof, and the whole rump, it shall he take off hard by the backbone; and the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,
10 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away.
11 [†] And the priest shall burn it upon the altar: it is the food of the offering made by fire unto the Lord.
12 ¶ And if his offering be a goat, then he shall offer it before the Lord.
13 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of it, and kill it before the tabernacle of the congregation: and the sons of Aaron shall sprinkle the blood thereof upon the altar round about.
14 And he shall offer thereof his offering, even an offering made by fire unto the Lord; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,
15 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away.
16 And the priest shall burn them upon the altar: it is the food of the offering made by fire for a sweet savour: all the fat is the Lord's.
17 [†] It shall be a perpetual statute for your generations throughout all your dwellings, that ye eat neither fat nor blood.

Leviticus 4 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, If a soul shall sin through ignorance against any of the commandments of the Lord concerning things which ought not to be done, and shall do against any of them:
3 [†] If the priest that is anointed do sin according to the sin of the people; then let him bring for his sin, which he hath sinned, a young bullock without blemish unto the Lord for a sin offering.
4 [†] And he shall bring the bullock unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord; and shall lay his hand upon the bullock's head, and kill the bullock before the Lord.
5 And the priest that is anointed shall take of the bullock's blood, and bring it to the tabernacle of the congregation:
6 And the priest shall dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle of the blood seven times before the Lord, before the vail of the sanctuary.
7 And the priest shall put some of the blood upon the horns of the altar of sweet incense before the Lord, which is in the tabernacle of the congregation; and shall pour all the blood of the bullock at the bottom of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
8 And he shall take off from it all the fat of the bullock for the sin offering; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards,
9 [†] And the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away,
10 As it was taken off from the bullock of the sacrifice of peace offerings: and the priest shall burn them upon the altar of the burnt offering.
11 And the skin of the bullock, and all his flesh, with his head, and with his legs, and his inwards, and his dung,
12 [†] Even the whole bullock shall he carry forth without the camp unto a clean place, where the ashes are poured out, and burn him on the wood with fire: where the ashes are poured out shall he be burnt.
13 [†] ¶ And if the whole congregation of Israel sin through ignorance, and the thing be hid from the eyes of the assembly, and they have done somewhat against any of the commandments of the Lord concerning things which should not be done, and are guilty;
14 When the sin, which they have sinned against it, is known, then the congregation shall offer a young bullock for the sin, and bring him before the tabernacle of the congregation.
15 And the elders of the congregation shall lay their hands upon the head of the bullock before the Lord: and the bullock shall be killed before the Lord.
16 And the priest that is anointed shall bring of the bullock's blood to the tabernacle of the congregation:
17 And the priest shall dip his finger in some of the blood, and sprinkle it seven times before the Lord, even before the vail.
18 And he shall put some of the blood upon the horns of the altar which is before the Lord, that is in the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall pour out all the blood at the bottom of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
19 And he shall take all his fat from him, and burn it upon the altar.
20 And he shall do with the bullock as he did with the bullock for a sin offering, so shall he do with this: and the priest shall make an atonement for them, and it shall be forgiven them.
21 And he shall carry forth the bullock without the camp, and burn him as he burned the first bullock: it is a sin offering for the congregation.

22 ¶ When a ruler hath sinned, and done somewhat through ignorance against any of the commandments of the LORD his God concerning things which should not be done, and is guilty;
23 Or if his sin, wherein he hath sinned, come to his knowledge; he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a male without blemish:
24 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the goat, and kill it in the place where they kill the burnt offering before the LORD: it is a sin offering.
25 And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out his blood at the bottom of the altar of burnt offering.
26 And he shall burn all his fat upon the altar, as the fat of the sacrifice of peace offerings: and the priest shall make an atonement for him as concerning his sin, and it shall be forgiven him.
27 ¶ And if any one of the common people sin through ignorance, while he doeth somewhat against any of the commandments of the LORD concerning things which ought not to be done, and be guilty;
28 Or if his sin, which he hath sinned, come to his knowledge: then he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a female without blemish, for his sin which he hath sinned.
29 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the sin offering, and slay the sin offering in the place of the burnt offering.
30 And the priest shall take of the blood thereof with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out all the blood thereof at the bottom of the altar.
31 And he shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat is taken away from off the sacrifice of peace offerings; and the priest shall burn it upon the altar for a sweet savour unto the LORD; and the priest shall make an atonement for him, and it shall be forgiven him.
32 And if he bring a lamb for a sin offering, he shall bring it a female without blemish.
33 And he shall lay his hand upon the head of the sin offering, and slay it for a sin offering in the place where they kill the burnt offering.
34 And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out all the blood thereof at the bottom of the altar:
35 And he shall take away all the fat thereof, as the fat of the lamb is taken away from the sacrifice of the peace offerings; and the priest shall burn them upon the altar, according to the offerings made by fire unto the LORD: and the priest shall make an atonement for his sin that he hath committed, and it shall be forgiven him.

Leviticus 5 [†]

1 [†] And if a soul sin, and hear the voice of swearing, and is a witness, whether he hath seen or known of it; if he do not utter it, then he shall bear his iniquity.
2 [†] Or if a soul touch any unclean thing, whether it be a carcase of an unclean beast, or a carcase of unclean cattle, or the carcase of unclean creeping things, and if it be hidden from him; he also shall be unclean, and guilty.
3 Or if he touch the uncleanness of man, whatsoever uncleanness it be that a man shall be defiled withal, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty.
4 Or if a soul swear, pronouncing with his lips to do evil, or to do good, whatsoever it be that a man shall pronounce with an oath, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty in one of these.
5 And it shall be, when he shall be guilty in one of these things, that he shall confess that he hath sinned in that thing:
6 [†] And he shall bring his trespass offering unto the LORD for his sin which he hath sinned, a female from the flock, a lamb or a kid of the goats, for a sin offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his sin.
7 [†] And if he be not able to bring a lamb, then he shall bring for his trespass, which he hath committed, two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, unto the LORD; one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering.
8 [†] And he shall bring them unto the priest, who shall offer that which is for the sin offering first, and wring off his head from his neck, but shall not divide it asunder:
9 And he shall sprinkle of the blood of the sin offering upon the side of the altar; and the rest of the blood shall be wrung out at the bottom of the altar: it is a sin offering.
10 And he shall offer the second for a burnt offering, according to the manner: and the priest shall make an atonement for him for his sin which he hath sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.
11 ¶ But if he be not able to bring two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, then he that sinned shall bring for his offering the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a sin offering; he shall put no oil upon it, neither shall he put any frankincense thereon: for it is a sin offering.
12 Then shall he bring it to the priest, and the priest shall take his handful of it, even a memorial thereof, and burn it on the altar, according to the offerings made by fire unto the LORD: it is a sin offering.
13 And the priest shall make an atonement for him as touching his sin that he hath sinned in one of these, and it shall be forgiven him: and the remnant shall be the priest's, as a meat offering.
14 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
15 [†] If a soul commit a trespass, and sin through ignorance, in the holy things of the LORD; then he shall bring for his trespass unto the LORD a ram without blemish out of the flocks, with thy estimation by shekels of silver, after the shekel of the sanctuary, for a trespass offering:
16 [†] And he shall make amends for the harm that he hath done in the holy thing, and shall add the fifth part thereto, and give it unto the priest: and the priest shall make an atonement for him with the ram of the trespass offering, and it shall be forgiven him.
17 [†] ¶ And if a soul sin, and commit any of these things which are forbidden to be done by the commandments of the LORD; though he wist it not, yet is he guilty, and shall bear his iniquity.
18 And he shall bring a ram without blemish out of the flock, with thy estimation, for a trespass offering, unto the priest: and the priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his ignorance wherein he erred and wist it not, and it shall be forgiven him.
19 It is a trespass offering: he hath certainly trespassed against the LORD.

Leviticus 6 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] If a soul sin, and commit a trespass against the Lord, and lie unto his neighbour in that which was delivered him to keep, or in fellowship, or in a thing taken away by violence, or hath deceived his neighbour;
3 Or have found that which was lost, and lieth concerning it, and sweareth falsely; in any of all these that a man doeth, sinning therein:
4 [†] Then it shall be, because he hath sinned, and is guilty, that he shall restore that which he took violently away, or the thing which he hath deceitfully gotten, or that which was delivered him to keep, or the lost thing which he found,
5 Or all that about which he hath sworn falsely; he shall even restore it in the principal, and shall add the fifth part more thereto, and give it unto him to whom it appertaineth, in the day of his trespass offering.
6 [†] And he shall bring his trespass offering unto the Lord, a ram without blemish out of the flock, with thy estimation, for a trespass offering, unto the priest:
7 And the priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord: and it shall be forgiven him for any thing of all that he hath done in trespassing therein.
8 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
9 Command Aaron and his sons, saying, This is the law of the burnt offering: It is the burnt offering, because of the burning upon the altar all night unto the morning, and the fire of the altar shall be burning in it.
10 [†] And the priest shall put on his linen garment, and his linen breeches shall he put upon his flesh, and take up the ashes which the fire hath consumed with the burnt offering on the altar, and he shall put them beside the altar.
11 And he shall put off his garments, and put on other garments, and carry forth the ashes without the camp unto a clean place.
12 And the fire upon the altar shall be burning in it; it shall not be put out: and the priest shall burn wood on it every morning, and lay the burnt offering in order upon it; and he shall burn thereon the fat of the peace offerings.
13 The fire shall ever be burning upon the altar; it shall never go out.
14 [†] ¶ And this is the law of the meat offering: the sons of Aaron shall offer it before the Lord, before the altar.
15 [†] And he shall take of it his handful, of the flour of the meat offering, and of the oil thereof, and all the frankincense which is upon the meat offering, and shall burn it upon the altar for a sweet savour, even the memorial of it, unto the Lord.
16 And the remainder thereof shall Aaron and his sons eat: with unleavened bread shall it be eaten in the holy place; in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation they shall eat it.
17 [†] It shall not be baken with leaven. I have given it unto them for their portion of my offerings made by fire; it is most holy, as is the sin offering, and as the trespass offering.
18 All the males among the children of Aaron shall eat of it. It shall be a statute for ever in your generations concerning the offerings of the Lord made by fire: every one that toucheth them shall be holy.
19 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
20 [†] This is the offering of Aaron and of his sons, which they shall offer unto the Lord in the day when he is anointed; the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a meat offering perpetual, half of it in the morning, and half thereof at night.

21 In a pan it shall be made with oil; and when it is baken, thou shalt bring it in: and the baken pieces of the meat offering shalt thou offer for a sweet savour unto the LORD.
22 And the priest of his sons that is anointed in his stead shall offer it: it is a statute for ever unto the LORD; it shall be wholly burnt.
23 For every meat offering for the priest shall be wholly burnt: it shall not be eaten.
24 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
25 Speak unto Aaron and to his sons, saying, This is the law of the sin offering: In the place where the burnt offering is killed shall the sin offering be killed before the LORD: it is most holy.
26 The priest that offereth it for sin shall eat it: in the holy place shall it be eaten, in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation.
27 [†] Whatsoever shall touch the flesh thereof shall be holy: and when there is sprinkled of the blood thereof upon any garment, thou shalt wash that whereon it was sprinkled in the holy place.
28 [†] But the earthen vessel wherein it is sodden shall be broken: and if it be sodden in a brasen pot, it shall be both scoured, and rinsed in water.
29 All the males among the priests shall eat thereof: it is most holy.
30 And no sin offering, whereof any of the blood is brought into the tabernacle of the congregation to reconcile withal in the holy place, shall be eaten: it shall be burnt in the fire.

Leviticus 7 [†]

1 Likewise this is the law of the trespass offering: it is most holy.
2 In the place where they kill the burnt offering shall they kill the trespass offering: and the blood thereof shall he sprinkle round about upon the altar.
3 And he shall offer of it all the fat thereof; the rump, and the fat that covereth the inwards,
4 [†] And the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them, which is by the flanks, and the caul that is above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away:
5 And the priest shall burn them upon the altar for an offering made by fire unto the Lord: it is a trespass offering.
6 Every male among the priests shall eat thereof: it shall be eaten in the holy place: it is most holy.
7 As the sin offering is, so is the trespass offering: there is one law for them: the priest that maketh atonement therewith shall have it.
8 And the priest that offereth any man's burnt offering, even the priest shall have to himself the skin of the burnt offering which he hath offered.
9 [†] And all the meat offering that is baken in the oven, and all that is dressed in the fryingpan, and in the pan, shall be the priest's that offereth it.
10 And every meat offering, mingled with oil, and dry, shall all the sons of Aaron have, one as much as another.
11 And this is the law of the sacrifice of peace offerings, which he shall offer unto the Lord.
12 [†] If he offer it for a thanksgiving, then he shall offer with the sacrifice of thanksgiving unleavened cakes mingled with oil, and unleavened wafers anointed with oil, and cakes mingled with oil, of fine flour, fried.
13 Besides the cakes, he shall offer for his offering leavened bread with the sacrifice of thanksgiving of his peace offerings.
14 [†] And of it he shall offer one out of the whole oblation for an heave offering unto the Lord, and it shall be the priest's that sprinkleth the blood of the peace offerings.
15 And the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offerings for thanksgiving shall be eaten the same day that it is offered; he shall not leave any of it until the morning.
16 [†] But if the sacrifice of his offering be a vow, or a voluntary offering, it shall be eaten the same day that he offereth his sacrifice: and on the morrow also the remainder of it shall be eaten:
17 But the remainder of the flesh of the sacrifice on the third day shall be burnt with fire.
18 [†] And if any of the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offerings be eaten at all on the third day, it shall not be accepted, neither shall it be imputed unto him that offereth it: it shall be an abomination, and the soul that eateth of it shall bear his iniquity.
19 And the flesh that toucheth any unclean thing shall not be eaten; it shall be burnt with fire: and as for the flesh, all that be clean shall eat thereof.
20 [†] But the soul that eateth of the flesh of the sacrifice of peace offerings, that pertain unto the Lord, having his uncleanness upon him, even that soul shall be cut off from his people.
21 Moreover the soul that shall touch any unclean thing, as the uncleanness of man, or any unclean beast, or any abominable unclean thing, and eat of the flesh of the sacrifice of peace offerings, which pertain unto the Lord, even that soul shall be cut off from his people.
22 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
23 Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, Ye shall eat no manner of fat, of ox, or of sheep, or of goat.
24 And the fat of the beast that dieth of itself, and the fat of that which is torn with beasts, may be used in any other use: but ye shall in no wise eat of it.

25 For whosoever eateth the fat of the beast, of which men offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD, even the soul that eateth it shall be cut off from his people.
26 Moreover ye shall eat no manner of blood, whether it be of fowl or of beast, in any of your dwellings.
27 Whatsoever soul it be that eateth any manner of blood, even that soul shall be cut off from his people.
28 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
29 Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, He that offereth the sacrifice of his peace offerings unto the LORD shall bring his oblation unto the LORD of the sacrifice of his peace offerings.
30 His own hands shall bring the offerings of the LORD made by fire, the fat with the breast, it shall he bring, that the breast may be waved for a wave offering before the LORD.
31 And the priest shall burn the fat upon the altar: but the breast shall be Aaron's and his sons'.
32 And the right shoulder shall ye give unto the priest for an heave offering of the sacrifices of your peace offerings.
33 He among the sons of Aaron, that offereth the blood of the peace offerings, and the fat, shall have the right shoulder for his part.
34 [†] For the wave breast and the heave shoulder have I taken of the children of Israel from off the sacrifices of their peace offerings, and have given them unto Aaron the priest and unto his sons by a statute for ever from among the children of Israel.
35 ¶ This is the portion of the anointing of Aaron, and of the anointing of his sons, out of the offerings of the LORD made by fire, in the day when he presented them to minister unto the LORD in the priest's office;
36 Which the LORD commanded to be given them of the children of Israel, in the day that he anointed them, by a statute for ever throughout their generations.
37 This is the law of the burnt offering, of the meat offering, and of the sin offering, and of the trespass offering, and of the consecrations, and of the sacrifice of the peace offerings;
38 Which the LORD commanded Moses in mount Sinai, in the day that he commanded the children of Israel to offer their oblations unto the LORD, in the wilderness of Sinai.

Leviticus 8 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Take Aaron and his sons with him, and the garments, and the anointing oil, and a bullock for the sin offering, and two rams, and a basket of unleavened bread;
3 [†] And gather thou all the congregation together unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
4 And Moses did as the Lord commanded him; and the assembly was gathered together unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
5 [†] And Moses said unto the congregation, This is the thing which the Lord commanded to be done.
6 [†] And Moses brought Aaron and his sons, and washed them with water.
7 [†] And he put upon him the coat, and girded him with the girdle, and clothed him with the robe, and put the ephod upon him, and he girded him with the curious girdle of the ephod, and bound it unto him therewith.
8 [†] And he put the breastplate upon him: also he put in the breastplate the Urim and the Thummim.
9 [†] And he put the mitre upon his head; also upon the mitre, even upon his forefront, did he put the golden plate, the holy crown; as the Lord commanded Moses.
10 [†] And Moses took the anointing oil, and anointed the tabernacle and all that was therein, and sanctified them.
11 [†] And he sprinkled thereof upon the altar seven times, and anointed the altar and all his vessels, both the laver and his foot, to sanctify them.
12 And he poured of the anointing oil upon Aaron's head, and anointed him, to sanctify him.
13 [†] And Moses brought Aaron's sons, and put coats upon them, and girded them with girdles, and put bonnets upon them; as the Lord commanded Moses.
14 And he brought the bullock for the sin offering: and Aaron and his sons laid their hands upon the head of the bullock for the sin offering.
15 [†] And he slew it; and Moses took the blood, and put it upon the horns of the altar round about with his finger, and purified the altar, and poured the blood at the bottom of the altar, and sanctified it, to make reconciliation upon it.
16 [†] And he took all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and their fat, and Moses burned it upon the altar.
17 But the bullock, and his hide, his flesh, and his dung, he burnt with fire without the camp; as the Lord commanded Moses.
18 [†] ¶ And he brought the ram for the burnt offering: and Aaron and his sons laid their hands upon the head of the ram.
19 And he killed it; and Moses sprinkled the blood upon the altar round about.
20 And he cut the ram into pieces; and Moses burnt the head, and the pieces, and the fat.
21 And he washed the inwards and the legs in water; and Moses burnt the whole ram upon the altar: it was a burnt sacrifice for a sweet savour, and an offering made by fire unto the Lord; as the Lord commanded Moses.
22 ¶ And he brought the other ram, the ram of consecration: and Aaron and his sons laid their hands upon the head of the ram.
23 [†] And he slew it; and Moses took of the blood of it, and put it upon the tip of Aaron's right ear, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot.
24 And he brought Aaron's sons, and Moses put of the blood upon the tip of their right ear, and upon the thumbs of their right hands, and upon the great toes of their right feet: and Moses sprinkled the blood upon the altar round about.

25 And he took the fat, and the rump, and all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and their fat, and the right shoulder:
26 And out of the basket of unleavened bread, that was before the LORD, he took one unleavened cake, and a cake of oiled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fat, and upon the right shoulder:
27 [†] And he put all upon Aaron's hands, and upon his sons' hands, and waved them for a wave offering before the LORD.
28 And Moses took them from off their hands, and burnt them on the altar upon the burnt offering: they were consecrations for a sweet savour: it is an offering made by fire unto the LORD.
29 And Moses took the breast, and waved it for a wave offering before the LORD: for of the ram of consecration it was Moses' part; as the LORD commanded Moses.
30 [†] And Moses took of the anointing oil, and of the blood which was upon the altar, and sprinkled it upon Aaron, and upon his garments, and upon his sons, and upon his sons' garments with him; and sanctified Aaron, and his garments, and his sons, and his sons' garments with him.
31 [†] ¶ And Moses said unto Aaron and to his sons, Boil the flesh at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and there eat it with the bread that is in the basket of consecrations, as I commanded, saying, Aaron and his sons shall eat it.
32 And that which remaineth of the flesh and of the bread shall ye burn with fire.
33 And ye shall not go out of the door of the tabernacle of the congregation in seven days, until the days of your consecration be at an end: for seven days shall he consecrate you.
34 As he hath done this day, so the LORD hath commanded to do, to make an atonement for you.
35 Therefore shall ye abide at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation day and night seven days, and keep the charge of the LORD, that ye die not: for so I am commanded.
36 So Aaron and his sons did all things which the LORD commanded by the hand of Moses.

Leviticus 9 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass on the eighth day, that Moses called Aaron and his sons, and the elders of Israel;
2 And he said unto Aaron, Take thee a young calf for a sin offering, and a ram for a burnt offering, without blemish, and offer them before the Lord.
3 And unto the children of Israel thou shalt speak, saying, Take ye a kid of the goats for a sin offering; and a calf and a lamb, both of the first year, without blemish, for a burnt offering;
4 [†] Also a bullock and a ram for peace offerings, to sacrifice before the Lord; and a meat offering mingled with oil: for to day the Lord will appear unto you.
5 ¶ And they brought that which Moses commanded before the tabernacle of the congregation: and all the congregation drew near and stood before the Lord.
6 And Moses said, This is the thing which the Lord commanded that ye should do: and the glory of the Lord shall appear unto you.
7 And Moses said unto Aaron, Go unto the altar, and offer thy sin offering, and thy burnt offering, and make an atonement for thyself, and for the people: and offer the offering of the people, and make an atonement for them; as the Lord commanded.
8 [†] ¶ Aaron therefore went unto the altar, and slew the calf of the sin offering, which was for himself.
9 [†] And the sons of Aaron brought the blood unto him: and he dipped his finger in the blood, and put it upon the horns of the altar, and poured out the blood at the bottom of the altar:
10 [†] But the fat, and the kidneys, and the caul above the liver of the sin offering, he burnt upon the altar; as the Lord commanded Moses.
11 And the flesh and the hide he burnt with fire without the camp.
12 And he slew the burnt offering; and Aaron's sons presented unto him the blood, which he sprinkled round about upon the altar.
13 And they presented the burnt offering unto him, with the pieces thereof, and the head: and he burnt them upon the altar.
14 And he did wash the inwards and the legs, and burnt them upon the burnt offering on the altar.
15 ¶ And he brought the people's offering, and took the goat, which was the sin offering for the people, and slew it, and offered it for sin, as the first.
16 [†] And he brought the burnt offering, and offered it according to the manner.
17 And he brought the meat offering, and took an handful thereof, and burnt it upon the altar, beside the burnt sacrifice of the morning.
18 He slew also the bullock and the ram for a sacrifice of peace offerings, which was for the people: and Aaron's sons presented unto him the blood, which he sprinkled upon the altar round about,
19 And the fat of the bullock and of the ram, the rump, and that which covereth the inwards, and the kidneys, and the caul above the liver:
20 And they put the fat upon the breasts, and he burnt the fat upon the altar:
21 And the breasts and the right shoulder Aaron waved for a wave offering before the Lord; as Moses commanded.
22 [†] And Aaron lifted up his hand toward the people, and blessed them, and came down from offering of the sin offering, and the burnt offering, and peace offerings.
23 [†] And Moses and Aaron went into the tabernacle of the congregation, and came out, and blessed the people: and the glory of the Lord appeared unto all the people.
24 [†] And there came a fire out from before the Lord, and consumed upon the altar the burnt offering and the fat: which when all the people saw, they shouted, and fell on their faces.

Leviticus 10 [†]

1 [†] And Nadab and Abihu, the sons of Aaron, took either of them his censer, and put fire therein, and put incense thereon, and offered strange fire before the Lord, which he commanded them not.
2 [†] And there went out fire from the Lord, and devoured them, and they died before the Lord.
3 [†] Then Moses said unto Aaron, This is it that the Lord spake, saying, I will be sanctified in them that come nigh me, and before all the people I will be glorified. And Aaron held his peace.
4 [†] And Moses called Mishael and Elzaphan, the sons of Uzziel the uncle of Aaron, and said unto them, Come near, carry your brethren from before the sanctuary out of the camp.
5 [†] So they went near, and carried them in their coats out of the camp; as Moses had said.
6 [†] And Moses said unto Aaron, and unto Eleazar and unto Ithamar, his sons, Uncover not your heads, neither rend your clothes; lest ye die, and lest wrath come upon all the people: but let your brethren, the whole house of Israel, bewail the burning which the Lord hath kindled.
7 And ye shall not go out from the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: for the anointing oil of the Lord is upon you. And they did according to the word of Moses.
8 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Aaron, saying,
9 [†] Do not drink wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons with thee, when ye go into the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations:
10 And that ye may put difference between holy and unholy, and between unclean and clean;
11 And that ye may teach the children of Israel all the statutes which the Lord hath spoken unto them by the hand of Moses.
12 [†] ¶ And Moses spake unto Aaron, and unto Eleazar and unto Ithamar, his sons that were left, Take the meat offering that remaineth of the offerings of the Lord made by fire, and eat it without leaven beside the altar: for it is most holy:
13 And ye shall eat it in the holy place, because it is thy due, and thy sons' due, of the sacrifices of the Lord made by fire: for so I am commanded.
14 And the wave breast and heave shoulder shall ye eat in a clean place; thou, and thy sons, and thy daughters with thee: for they be thy due, and thy sons' due, which are given out of the sacrifices of peace offerings of the children of Israel.
15 The heave shoulder and the wave breast shall they bring with the offerings made by fire of the fat, to wave it for a wave offering before the Lord; and it shall be thine, and thy sons' with thee, by a statute for ever; as the Lord hath commanded.
16 [†] ¶ And Moses diligently sought the goat of the sin offering, and, behold, it was burnt: and he was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar, the sons of Aaron which were left alive, saying,
17 Wherefore have ye not eaten the sin offering in the holy place, seeing it is most holy, and God hath given it you to bear the iniquity of the congregation, to make atonement for them before the Lord?
18 Behold, the blood of it was not brought in within the holy place: ye should indeed have eaten it in the holy place, as I commanded.
19 [†] And Aaron said unto Moses, Behold, this day have they offered their sin offering and their burnt offering before the Lord; and such things have befallen me: and if I had eaten the sin offering to day, should it have been accepted in the sight of the Lord?
20 [†] And when Moses heard that, he was content.

Leviticus 11 [†]

(see article: God's Holiness and Ours)

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses and to Aaron, saying unto them,
2 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, These are the beasts which ye shall eat among all the beasts that are on the earth.
3 [†] Whatsoever parteth the hoof, and is clovenfooted, and cheweth the cud, among the beasts, that shall ye eat.
4 Nevertheless these shall ye not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the hoof: as the camel, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.
5 [†] And the coney, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.
6 And the hare, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.
7 And the swine, though he divide the hoof, and be clovenfooted, yet he cheweth not the cud; he is unclean to you.
8 [†] Of their flesh shall ye not eat, and their carcase shall ye not touch; they are unclean to you.
9 ¶ These shall ye eat of all that are in the waters: whatsoever hath fins and scales in the waters, in the seas, and in the rivers, them shall ye eat.
10 [†] And all that have not fins and scales in the seas, and in the rivers, of all that move in the waters, and of any living thing which is in the waters, they shall be an abomination unto you:
11 They shall be even an abomination unto you; ye shall not eat of their flesh, but ye shall have their carcases in abomination.
12 Whatsoever hath no fins nor scales in the waters, that shall be an abomination unto you.
13 [†] ¶ And these are they which ye shall have in abomination among the fowls; they shall not be eaten, they are an abomination: the eagle, and the ossifrage, and the ospray,
14 [†] And the vulture, and the kite after his kind;
15 Every raven after his kind;
16 [†] And the owl, and the night hawk, and the cuckow, and the hawk after his kind,
17 [†] And the little owl, and the cormorant, and the great owl,
18 [†] And the swan, and the pelican, and the gier eagle,
19 And the stork, the heron after her kind, and the lapwing, and the bat.
20 [†] All fowls that creep, going upon all four, shall be an abomination unto you.
21 Yet these may ye eat of every flying creeping thing that goeth upon all four, which have legs above their feet, to leap withal upon the earth;
22 Even these of them ye may eat; the locust after his kind, and the bald locust after his kind, and the beetle after his kind, and the grasshopper after his kind.
23 But all other flying creeping things, which have four feet, shall be an abomination unto you.
24 [†] And for these ye shall be unclean: whosoever toucheth the carcase of them shall be unclean until the even.
25 [†] And whosoever beareth ought of the carcase of them shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even.
26 The carcases of every beast which divideth the hoof, and is not clovenfooted, nor cheweth the cud, are unclean unto you: every one that toucheth them shall be unclean.
27 And whatsoever goeth upon his paws, among all manner of beasts that go on all four, those are unclean unto you: whoso toucheth their carcase shall be unclean until the even.
28 And he that beareth the carcase of them shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even: they are unclean unto you.

29 ¶ These also shall be unclean unto you among the creeping things that creep upon the earth; the weasel, and the mouse, and the tortoise after his kind,
30 And the ferret, and the chameleon, and the lizard, and the snail, and the mole.
31 These are unclean to you among all that creep: whosoever doth touch them, when they be dead, shall be unclean until the even.
32 And upon whatsoever any of them, when they are dead, doth fall, it shall be unclean; whether it be any vessel of wood, or raiment, or skin, or sack, whatsoever vessel it be, wherein any work is done, it must be put into water, and it shall be unclean until the even; so it shall be cleansed.
33 And every earthen vessel, whereinto any of them falleth, whatsoever is in it shall be unclean; and ye shall break it.
34 Of all meat which may be eaten, that on which such water cometh shall be unclean: and all drink that may be drunk in every such vessel shall be unclean.
35 [†] And every thing whereupon any part of their carcase falleth shall be unclean; whether it be oven, or ranges for pots, they shall be broken down: for they are unclean, and shall be unclean unto you.
36 Nevertheless a fountain or pit, wherein there is plenty of water, shall be clean: but that which toucheth their carcase shall be unclean.
37 And if any part of their carcase fall upon any sowing seed which is to be sown, it shall be clean.
38 But if any water be put upon the seed, and any part of their carcase fall thereon, it shall be unclean unto you.
39 And if any beast, of which ye may eat, die; he that toucheth the carcase thereof shall be unclean until the even.
40 And he that eateth of the carcase of it shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even: he also that beareth the carcase of it shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even.
41 And every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth shall be an abomination; it shall not be eaten.
42 Whatsoever goeth upon the belly, and whatsoever goeth upon all four, or whatsoever hath more feet among all creeping things that creep upon the earth, them ye shall not eat; for they are an abomination.
43 Ye shall not make yourselves abominable with any creeping thing that creepeth, neither shall ye make yourselves unclean with them, that ye should be defiled thereby.
44 [†] For I am the LORD your God: ye shall therefore sanctify yourselves, and ye shall be holy; for I am holy: neither shall ye defile yourselves with any manner of creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.
45 For I am the LORD that bringeth you up out of the land of Egypt, to be your God: ye shall therefore be holy, for I am holy.
46 This is the law of the beasts, and of the fowl, and of every living creature that moveth in the waters, and of every creature that creepeth upon the earth:
47 To make a difference between the unclean and the clean, and between the beast that may be eaten and the beast that may not be eaten.

Leviticus 12 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, If a woman have conceived seed, and born a man child: then she shall be unclean seven days; according to the days of the separation for her infirmity shall she be unclean.
3 [†] And in the eighth day the flesh of his foreskin shall be circumcised.
4 [†] And she shall then continue in the blood of her purifying three and thirty days; she shall touch no hallowed thing, nor come into the sanctuary, until the days of her purifying be fulfilled.
5 [†] But if she bear a maid child, then she shall be unclean two weeks, as in her separation: and she shall continue in the blood of her purifying threescore and six days.
6 And when the days of her purifying are fulfilled, for a son, or for a daughter, she shall bring a lamb of the first year for a burnt offering, and a young pigeon, or a turtledove, for a sin offering, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, unto the priest:
7 Who shall offer it before the Lord, and make an atonement for her; and she shall be cleansed from the issue of her blood. This is the law for her that hath born a male or a female.
8 [†] And if she be not able to bring a lamb, then she shall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons; the one for the burnt offering, and the other for a sin offering: and the priest shall make an atonement for her, and she shall be clean.

Leviticus 13 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron, saying,
2 [†] When a man shall have in the skin of his flesh a rising, a scab, or bright spot, and it be in the skin of his flesh like the plague of leprosy; then he shall be brought unto Aaron the priest, or unto one of his sons the priests:
3 [†] And the priest shall look on the plague in the skin of the flesh: and when the hair in the plague is turned white, and the plague in sight be deeper than the skin of his flesh, it is a plague of leprosy: and the priest shall look on him, and pronounce him unclean.
4 If the bright spot be white in the skin of his flesh, and in sight be not deeper than the skin, and the hair thereof be not turned white; then the priest shall shut up him that hath the plague seven days:
5 [†] And the priest shall look on him the seventh day: and, behold, if the plague in his sight be at a stay, and the plague spread not in the skin; then the priest shall shut him up seven days more:
6 [†] And the priest shall look on him again the seventh day: and, behold, if the plague be somewhat dark, and the plague spread not in the skin, the priest shall pronounce him clean: it is but a scab: and he shall wash his clothes, and be clean.
7 [†] But if the scab spread much abroad in the skin, after that he hath been seen of the priest for his cleansing, he shall be seen of the priest again:
8 And if the priest see that, behold, the scab spreadeth in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a leprosy.
9 ¶ When the plague of leprosy is in a man, then he shall be brought unto the priest;
10 [†] And the priest shall see him: and, behold, if the rising be white in the skin, and it have turned the hair white, and there be quick raw flesh in the rising;
11 [†] It is an old leprosy in the skin of his flesh, and the priest shall pronounce him unclean, and shall not shut him up: for he is unclean.
12 And if a leprosy break out abroad in the skin, and the leprosy cover all the skin of him that hath the plague from his head even to his foot, wheresoever the priest looketh;
13 [†] Then the priest shall consider: and, behold, if the leprosy have covered all his flesh, he shall pronounce him clean that hath the plague: it is all turned white: he is clean.
14 [†] But when raw flesh appeareth in him, he shall be unclean.
15 And the priest shall see the raw flesh, and pronounce him to be unclean: for the raw flesh is unclean: it is a leprosy.
16 [†] Or if the raw flesh turn again, and be changed unto white, he shall come unto the priest;
17 And the priest shall see him: and, behold, if the plague be turned into white; then the priest shall pronounce him clean that hath the plague: he is clean.
18 ¶ The flesh also, in which, even in the skin thereof, was a boil, and is healed,
19 And in the place of the boil there be a white rising, or a bright spot, white, and somewhat reddish, and it be shewed to the priest;
20 And if, when the priest seeth it, behold, it be in sight lower than the skin, and the hair thereof be turned white; the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a plague of leprosy broken out of the boil.
21 But if the priest look on it, and, behold, there be no white hairs therein, and if it be not lower than the skin, but be somewhat dark; then the priest shall shut him up seven days:
22 And if it spread much abroad in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a plague.
23 [†] But if the bright spot stay in his place, and spread not, it is a burning boil; and the priest shall pronounce him clean.
24 [†] ¶ Or if there be any flesh, in the skin whereof there is a hot burning, and the quick flesh that burneth have a white bright spot, somewhat reddish, or white;

25 Then the priest shall look upon it: and, behold, if the hair in the bright spot be turned white, and it be in sight deeper than the skin; it is a leprosy broken out of the burning: wherefore the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is the plague of leprosy.
26 But if the priest look on it, and, behold, there be no white hair in the bright spot, and it be no lower than the other skin, but be somewhat dark; then the priest shall shut him up seven days:
27 And the priest shall look upon him the seventh day: and if it be spread much abroad in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is the plague of leprosy.
28 And if the bright spot stay in his place, and spread not in the skin, but it be somewhat dark; it is a rising of the burning, and the priest shall pronounce him clean: for it is an inflammation of the burning.
29 [†] ¶ If a man or woman have a plague upon the head or the beard;
30 [†] Then the priest shall see the plague: and, behold, if it be in sight deeper than the skin; and there be in it a yellow thin hair; then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a dry scall, even a leprosy upon the head or beard.
31 And if the priest look on the plague of the scall, and, behold, it be not in sight deeper than the skin, and that there is no black hair in it; then the priest shall shut up him that hath the plague of the scall seven days:
32 And in the seventh day the priest shall look on the plague: and, behold, if the scall spread not, and there be in it no yellow hair, and the scall be not in sight deeper than the skin;
33 He shall be shaven, but the scall shall he not shave; and the priest shall shut up him that hath the scall seven days more:
34 And in the seventh day the priest shall look on the scall: and, behold, if the scall be not spread in the skin, nor be in sight deeper than the skin; then the priest shall pronounce him clean: and he shall wash his clothes, and be clean.
35 But if the scall spread much in the skin after his cleansing;
36 Then the priest shall look on him: and, behold, if the scall be spread in the skin, the priest shall not seek for yellow hair; he is unclean.
37 [†] But if the scall be in his sight at a stay, and that there is black hair grown up therein; the scall is healed, he is clean: and the priest shall pronounce him clean.
38 ¶ If a man also or a woman have in the skin of their flesh bright spots, even white bright spots;
39 Then the priest shall look: and, behold, if the bright spots in the skin of their flesh be darkish white; it is a freckled spot that groweth in the skin; he is clean.
40 [†] And the man whose hair is fallen off his head, he is bald; yet is he clean.
41 And he that hath his hair fallen off from the part of his head toward his face, he is forehead bald: yet is he clean.
42 [†] And if there be in the bald head, or bald forehead, a white reddish sore; it is a leprosy sprung up in his bald head, or his bald forehead.
43 Then the priest shall look upon it: and, behold, if the rising of the sore be white reddish in his bald head, or in his bald forehead, as the leprosy appeareth in the skin of the flesh;
44 He is a leprous man, he is unclean: the priest shall pronounce him utterly unclean; his plague is in his head.
45 [†] And the leper in whom the plague is, his clothes shall be rent, and his head bare, and he shall put a covering upon his upper lip, and shall cry, Unclean, unclean.
46 All the days wherein the plague shall be in him he shall be defiled; he is unclean: he shall dwell alone; without the camp shall his habitation be.
47 [†] ¶ The garment also that the plague of leprosy is in, whether it be a woollen garment, or a linen garment;

48 [†] Whether it be in the warp, or woof; of linen, or of woollen; whether in a skin, or in any thing made of skin;
49 And if the plague be greenish or reddish in the garment, or in the skin, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin; it is a plague of leprosy, and shall be shewed unto the priest:
50 And the priest shall look upon the plague, and shut up it that hath the plague seven days:
51 [†] And he shall look on the plague on the seventh day: if the plague be spread in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in a skin, or in any work that is made of skin; the plague is a fretting leprosy; it is unclean.
52 He shall therefore burn that garment, whether warp or woof, in woollen or in linen, or any thing of skin, wherein the plague is: for it is a fretting leprosy; it shall be burnt in the fire.
53 And if the priest shall look, and, behold, the plague be not spread in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin;
54 Then the priest shall command that they wash the thing wherein the plague is, and he shall shut it up seven days more:
55 [†] And the priest shall look on the plague, after that it is washed: and, behold, if the plague have not changed his colour, and the plague be not spread; it is unclean; thou shalt burn it in the fire; it is fret inward, whether it be bare within or without.
56 And if the priest look, and, behold, the plague be somewhat dark after the washing of it; then he shall rend it out of the garment, or out of the skin, or out of the warp, or out of the woof:
57 And if it appear still in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin; it is a spreading plague: thou shalt burn that wherein the plague is with fire.
58 And the garment, either warp, or woof, or whatsoever thing of skin it be, which thou shalt wash, if the plague be departed from them, then it shall be washed the second time, and shall be clean.
59 This is the law of the plague of leprosy in a garment of woollen or linen, either in the warp, or woof, or any thing of skins, to pronounce it clean, or to pronounce it unclean.

Leviticus 14 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 This shall be the law of the leper in the day of his cleansing: He shall be brought unto the priest:
3 And the priest shall go forth out of the camp; and the priest shall look, and, behold, if the plague of leprosy be healed in the leper;
4 [†] Then shall the priest command to take for him that is to be cleansed two birds alive and clean, and cedar wood, and scarlet, and hyssop:
5 [†] And the priest shall command that one of the birds be killed in an earthen vessel over running water:
6 As for the living bird, he shall take it, and the cedar wood, and the scarlet, and the hyssop, and shall dip them and the living bird in the blood of the bird that was killed over the running water:
7 [†] And he shall sprinkle upon him that is to be cleansed from the leprosy seven times, and shall pronounce him clean, and shall let the living bird loose into the open field.
8 [†] And he that is to be cleansed shall wash his clothes, and shave off all his hair, and wash himself in water, that he may be clean: and after that he shall come into the camp, and shall tarry abroad out of his tent seven days.
9 But it shall be on the seventh day, that he shall shave all his hair off his head and his beard and his eyebrows, even all his hair he shall shave off: and he shall wash his clothes, also he shall wash his flesh in water, and he shall be clean.
10 [†] And on the eighth day he shall take two he lambs without blemish, and one ewe lamb of the first year without blemish, and three tenth deals of fine flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, and one log of oil.
11 [†] And the priest that maketh him clean shall present the man that is to be made clean, and those things, before the Lord, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation:
12 [†] And the priest shall take one he lamb, and offer him for a trespass offering, and the log of oil, and wave them for a wave offering before the Lord:
13 And he shall slay the lamb in the place where he shall kill the sin offering and the burnt offering, in the holy place: for as the sin offering is the priest's, so is the trespass offering: it is most holy:
14 [†] And the priest shall take some of the blood of the trespass offering, and the priest shall put it upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot:
15 And the priest shall take some of the log of oil, and pour it into the palm of his own left hand:
16 And the priest shall dip his right finger in the oil that is in his left hand, and shall sprinkle of the oil with his finger seven times before the Lord:
17 And of the rest of the oil that is in his hand shall the priest put upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot, upon the blood of the trespass offering:
18 And the remnant of the oil that is in the priest's hand he shall pour upon the head of him that is to be cleansed: and the priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord.
19 And the priest shall offer the sin offering, and make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed from his uncleanness; and afterward he shall kill the burnt offering:
20 And the priest shall offer the burnt offering and the meat offering upon the altar: and the priest shall make an atonement for him, and he shall be clean.
21 [†] And if he be poor, and cannot get so much; then he shall take one lamb for a trespass offering to be waved, to make an atonement for him, and one tenth deal of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering, and a log of oil;

22 And two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, such as he is able to get; and the one shall be a sin offering, and the other a burnt offering.
23 And he shall bring them on the eighth day for his cleansing unto the priest, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, before the LORD.
24 And the priest shall take the lamb of the trespass offering, and the log of oil, and the priest shall wave them for a wave offering before the LORD:
25 And he shall kill the lamb of the trespass offering, and the priest shall take some of the blood of the trespass offering, and put it upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot:
26 And the priest shall pour of the oil into the palm of his own left hand:
27 And the priest shall sprinkle with his right finger some of the oil that is in his left hand seven times before the LORD:
28 And the priest shall put of the oil that is in his hand upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot, upon the place of the blood of the trespass offering:
29 And the rest of the oil that is in the priest's hand he shall put upon the head of him that is to be cleansed, to make an atonement for him before the LORD.
30 And he shall offer the one of the turtledoves, or of the young pigeons, such as he can get;
31 Even such as he is able to get, the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, with the meat offering: and the priest shall make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed before the LORD.
32 This is the law of him in whom is the plague of leprosy, whose hand is not able to get that which pertaineth to his cleansing.
33 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying,
34 [†] When ye be come into the land of Canaan, which I give to you for a possession, and I put the plague of leprosy in a house of the land of your possession;
35 And he that owneth the house shall come and tell the priest, saying, It seemeth to me there is as it were a plague in the house:
36 Then the priest shall command that they empty the house, before the priest go into it to see the plague, that all that is in the house be not made unclean: and afterward the priest shall go in to see the house:
37 [†] And he shall look on the plague, and, behold, if the plague be in the walls of the house with hollow strakes, greenish or reddish, which in sight are lower than the wall;
38 Then the priest shall go out of the house to the door of the house, and shut up the house seven days:
39 And the priest shall come again the seventh day, and shall look: and, behold, if the plague be spread in the walls of the house;
40 Then the priest shall command that they take away the stones in which the plague is, and they shall cast them into an unclean place without the city:
41 And he shall cause the house to be scraped within round about, and they shall pour out the dust that they scrape off without the city into an unclean place:
42 And they shall take other stones, and put them in the place of those stones; and he shall take other morter, and shall plaister the house.
43 And if the plague come again, and break out in the house, after that he hath taken away the stones, and after he hath scraped the house, and after it is plaistered;
44 [†] Then the priest shall come and look, and, behold, if the plague be spread in the house, it is a fretting leprosy in the house: it is unclean.

45 [†] And he shall break down the house, the stones of it, and the timber thereof, and all the morter of the house; and he shall carry them forth out of the city into an unclean place.
46 Moreover he that goeth into the house all the while that it is shut up shall be unclean until the even.
47 And he that lieth in the house shall wash his clothes; and he that eateth in the house shall wash his clothes.
48 And if the priest shall come in, and look upon it, and, behold, the plague hath not spread in the house, after the house was plaistered: then the priest shall pronounce the house clean, because the plague is healed.
49 And he shall take to cleanse the house two birds, and cedar wood, and scarlet, and hyssop:
50 And he shall kill the one of the birds in an earthen vessel over running water:
51 And he shall take the cedar wood, and the hyssop, and the scarlet, and the living bird, and dip them in the blood of the slain bird, and in the running water, and sprinkle the house seven times:
52 And he shall cleanse the house with the blood of the bird, and with the running water, and with the living bird, and with the cedar wood, and with the hyssop, and with the scarlet:
53 But he shall let go the living bird out of the city into the open fields, and make an atonement for the house: and it shall be clean.
54 This is the law for all manner of plague of leprosy, and scall,
55 And for the leprosy of a garment, and of a house,
56 And for a rising, and for a scab, and for a bright spot:
57 To teach when it is unclean, and when it is clean: this is the law of leprosy.

Leviticus 15 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses and to Aaron, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When any man hath a running issue out of his flesh, because of his issue he is unclean.
3 [†] And this shall be his uncleanness in his issue: whether his flesh run with his issue, or his flesh be stopped from his issue, it is his uncleanness.
4 Every bed, whereon he lieth that hath the issue, is unclean: and every thing, whereon he sitteth, shall be unclean.
5 [†] And whosoever toucheth his bed shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
6 And he that sitteth on any thing whereon he sat that hath the issue shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
7 And he that toucheth the flesh of him that hath the issue shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
8 And if he that hath the issue spit upon him that is clean; then he shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
9 And what saddle soever he rideth upon that hath the issue shall be unclean.
10 And whosoever toucheth any thing that was under him shall be unclean until the even: and he that beareth any of those things shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
11 And whomsoever he toucheth that hath the issue, and hath not rinsed his hands in water, he shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
12 And the vessel of earth, that he toucheth which hath the issue, shall be broken: and every vessel of wood shall be rinsed in water.
13 [†] And when he that hath an issue is cleansed of his issue; then he shall number to himself seven days for his cleansing, and wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in running water, and shall be clean.
14 And on the eighth day he shall take to him two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, and come before the Lord unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and give them unto the priest:
15 [†] And the priest shall offer them, the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord for his issue.
16 [†] And if any man's seed of copulation go out from him, then he shall wash all his flesh in water, and be unclean until the even.
17 And every garment, and every skin, whereon is the seed of copulation, shall be washed with water, and be unclean until the even.
18 The woman also with whom man shall lie with seed of copulation, they shall both bathe themselves in water, and be unclean until the even.
19 [†] ¶ And if a woman have an issue, and her issue in her flesh be blood, she shall be put apart seven days: and whosoever toucheth her shall be unclean until the even.
20 And every thing that she lieth upon in her separation shall be unclean: every thing also that she sitteth upon shall be unclean.
21 And whosoever toucheth her bed shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
22 And whosoever toucheth any thing that she sat upon shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
23 And if it be on her bed, or on any thing whereon she sitteth, when he toucheth it, he shall be unclean until the even.

24 [†] And if any man lie with her at all, and her flowers be upon him, he shall be unclean seven days; and all the bed whereon he lieth shall be unclean.
25 [†] And if a woman have an issue of her blood many days out of the time of her separation, or if it run beyond the time of her separation; all the days of the issue of her uncleanness shall be as the days of her separation: she shall be unclean.
26 Every bed whereon she lieth all the days of her issue shall be unto her as the bed of her separation: and whatsoever she sitteth upon shall be unclean, as the uncleanness of her separation.
27 And whosoever toucheth those things shall be unclean, and shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even.
28 [†] But if she be cleansed of her issue, then she shall number to herself seven days, and after that she shall be clean.
29 And on the eighth day she shall take unto her two turtles, or two young pigeons, and bring them unto the priest, to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
30 [†] And the priest shall offer the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for her before the LORD for the issue of her uncleanness.
31 [†] Thus shall ye separate the children of Israel from their uncleanness; that they die not in their uncleanness, when they defile my tabernacle that is among them.
32 This is the law of him that hath an issue, and of him whose seed goeth from him, and is defiled therewith;
33 And of her that is sick of her flowers, and of him that hath an issue, of the man, and of the woman, and of him that lieth with her that is unclean.

Leviticus 16 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses after the death of the two sons of Aaron, when they offered before the Lord, and died;
2 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Speak unto Aaron thy brother, that he come not at all times into the holy place within the vail before the mercy seat, which is upon the ark; that he die not: for I will appear in the cloud upon the mercy seat.
3 Thus shall Aaron come into the holy place: with a young bullock for a sin offering, and a ram for a burnt offering.
4 [†] He shall put on the holy linen coat, and he shall have the linen breeches upon his flesh, and shall be girded with a linen girdle, and with the linen mitre shall he be attired: these are holy garments; therefore shall he wash his flesh in water, and so put them on.
5 [†] And he shall take of the congregation of the children of Israel two kids of the goats for a sin offering, and one ram for a burnt offering.
6 And Aaron shall offer his bullock of the sin offering, which is for himself, and make an atonement for himself, and for his house.
7 [†] And he shall take the two goats, and present them before the Lord at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
8 And Aaron shall cast lots upon the two goats; one lot for the Lord, and the other lot for the scapegoat.
9 [†] And Aaron shall bring the goat upon which the Lord's lot fell, and offer him for a sin offering.
10 But the goat, on which the lot fell to be the scapegoat, shall be presented alive before the Lord, to make an atonement with him, and to let him go for a scapegoat into the wilderness.
11 And Aaron shall bring the bullock of the sin offering, which is for himself, and shall make an atonement for himself, and for his house, and shall kill the bullock of the sin offering which is for himself:
12 [†] And he shall take a censer full of burning coals of fire from off the altar before the Lord, and his hands full of sweet incense beaten small, and bring it within the vail:
13 [†] And he shall put the incense upon the fire before the Lord, that the cloud of the incense may cover the mercy seat that is upon the testimony, that he die not:
14 [†] And he shall take of the blood of the bullock, and sprinkle it with his finger upon the mercy seat eastward; and before the mercy seat shall he sprinkle of the blood with his finger seven times.
15 [†] ¶ Then shall he kill the goat of the sin offering, that is for the people, and bring his blood within the vail, and do with that blood as he did with the blood of the bullock, and sprinkle it upon the mercy seat, and before the mercy seat:
16 [†] And he shall make an atonement for the holy place, because of the uncleanness of the children of Israel, and because of their transgressions in all their sins: and so shall he do for the tabernacle of the congregation, that remaineth among them in the midst of their uncleanness.
17 [†] And there shall be no man in the tabernacle of the congregation when he goeth in to make an atonement in the holy place, until he come out, and have made an atonement for himself, and for his household, and for all the congregation of Israel.
18 [†] And he shall go out unto the altar that is before the Lord, and make an atonement for it; and shall take of the blood of the bullock, and of the blood of the goat, and put it upon the horns of the altar round about.
19 [†] And he shall sprinkle of the blood upon it with his finger seven times, and cleanse it, and hallow it from the uncleanness of the children of Israel.
20 [†] ¶ And when he hath made an end of reconciling the holy place, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and the altar, he shall bring the live goat:

21 [†] And Aaron shall lay both his hands upon the head of the live goat, and confess over him all the iniquities of the children of Israel, and all their transgressions in all their sins, putting them upon the head of the goat, and shall send him away by the hand of a fit man into the wilderness:
22 [†] And the goat shall bear upon him all their iniquities unto a land not inhabited: and he shall let go the goat in the wilderness.
23 [†] And Aaron shall come into the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall put off the linen garments, which he put on when he went into the holy place, and shall leave them there:
24 And he shall wash his flesh with water in the holy place, and put on his garments, and come forth, and offer his burnt offering, and the burnt offering of the people, and make an atonement for himself, and for the people.
25 And the fat of the sin offering shall he burn upon the altar.
26 And he that let go the goat for the scapegoat shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water, and afterward come into the camp.
27 And the bullock for the sin offering, and the goat for the sin offering, whose blood was brought in to make atonement in the holy place, shall one carry forth without the camp; and they shall burn in the fire their skins, and their flesh, and their dung.
28 And he that burneth them shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water, and afterward he shall come into the camp.
29 [†] ¶ And this shall be a statute for ever unto you: that in the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month, ye shall afflict your souls, and do no work at all, whether it be one of your own country, or a stranger that sojourneth among you:
30 For on that day shall the priest make an atonement for you, to cleanse you, that ye may be clean from all your sins before the LORD.
31 [†] It shall be a sabbath of rest unto you, and ye shall afflict your souls, by a statute for ever.
32 And the priest, whom he shall anoint, and whom he shall consecrate to minister in the priest's office in his father's stead, shall make the atonement, and shall put on the linen clothes, even the holy garments:
33 And he shall make an atonement for the holy sanctuary, and he shall make an atonement for the tabernacle of the congregation, and for the altar, and he shall make an atonement for the priests, and for all the people of the congregation.
34 And this shall be an everlasting statute unto you, to make an atonement for the children of Israel for all their sins once a year. And he did as the LORD commanded Moses.

Leviticus 17 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 Speak unto Aaron, and unto his sons, and unto all the children of Israel, and say unto them; This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded, saying,
3 [†] What man soever there be of the house of Israel, that killeth an ox, or lamb, or goat, in the camp, or that killeth it out of the camp,
4 And bringeth it not unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer an offering unto the Lord before the tabernacle of the Lord; blood shall be imputed unto that man; he hath shed blood; and that man shall be cut off from among his people:
5 To the end that the children of Israel may bring their sacrifices, which they offer in the open field, even that they may bring them unto the Lord, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, unto the priest, and offer them for peace offerings unto the Lord.
6 And the priest shall sprinkle the blood upon the altar of the Lord at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and burn the fat for a sweet savour unto the Lord.
7 [†] And they shall no more offer their sacrifices unto devils, after whom they have gone a whoring. This shall be a statute for ever unto them throughout their generations.
8 ¶ And thou shalt say unto them, Whatsoever man there be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers which sojourn among you, that offereth a burnt offering or sacrifice,
9 And bringeth it not unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer it unto the Lord; even that man shall be cut off from among his people.
10 ¶ And whatsoever man there be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn among you, that eateth any manner of blood; I will even set my face against that soul that eateth blood, and will cut him off from among his people.
11 [†] For the life of the flesh is in the blood: and I have given it to you upon the altar to make an atonement for your souls: for it is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul.
12 [†] Therefore I said unto the children of Israel, No soul of you shall eat blood, neither shall any stranger that sojourneth among you eat blood.
13 [†] And whatsoever man there be of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn among you, which hunteth and catcheth any beast or fowl that may be eaten; he shall even pour out the blood thereof, and cover it with dust.
14 For it is the life of all flesh; the blood of it is for the life thereof: therefore I said unto the children of Israel, Ye shall eat the blood of no manner of flesh: for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: whosoever eateth it shall be cut off.
15 [†] And every soul that eateth that which died of itself, or that which was torn with beasts, whether it be one of your own country, or a stranger, he shall both wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even: then shall he be clean.
16 [†] But if he wash them not, nor bathe his flesh; then he shall bear his iniquity.

Leviticus 18 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, I am the Lord your God.
3 [†] After the doings of the land of Egypt, wherein ye dwelt, shall ye not do: and after the doings of the land of Canaan, whither I bring you, shall ye not do: neither shall ye walk in their ordinances.
4 Ye shall do my judgments, and keep mine ordinances, to walk therein: I am the Lord your God.
5 [†] Ye shall therefore keep my statutes, and my judgments: which if a man do, he shall live in them: I am the Lord.
6 [†] ¶ None of you shall approach to any that is near of kin to him, to uncover their nakedness: I am the Lord.
7 [†] The nakedness of thy father, or the nakedness of thy mother, shalt thou not uncover: she is thy mother; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.
8 The nakedness of thy father's wife shalt thou not uncover: it is thy father's nakedness.
9 [†] The nakedness of thy sister, the daughter of thy father, or daughter of thy mother, whether she be born at home, or born abroad, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover.
10 [†] The nakedness of thy son's daughter, or of thy daughter's daughter, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover: for theirs is thine own nakedness.
11 [†] The nakedness of thy father's wife's daughter, begotten of thy father, she is thy sister, thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.
12 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's sister: she is thy father's near kinswoman.
13 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister: for she is thy mother's near kinswoman.
14 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's brother, thou shalt not approach to his wife: she is thine aunt.
15 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy daughter in law: she is thy son's wife; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.
16 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy brother's wife: it is thy brother's nakedness.
17 Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of a woman and her daughter, neither shalt thou take her son's daughter, or her daughter's daughter, to uncover her nakedness; for they are her near kinswomen: it is wickedness.
18 [†] Neither shalt thou take a wife to her sister, to vex her, to uncover her nakedness, beside the other in her life time.
19 [†] Also thou shalt not approach unto a woman to uncover her nakedness, as long as she is put apart for her uncleanness.
20 [†] Moreover thou shalt not lie carnally with thy neighbour's wife, to defile thyself with her.
21 [†] And thou shalt not let any of thy seed pass through the fire to Molech, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God: I am the Lord.
22 [†] Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination.
23 [†] Neither shalt thou lie with any beast to defile thyself therewith: neither shall any woman stand before a beast to lie down thereto: it is confusion.
24 [†] Defile not ye yourselves in any of these things: for in all these the nations are defiled which I cast out before you:
25 [†] And the land is defiled: therefore I do visit the iniquity thereof upon it, and the land itself vomiteth out her inhabitants.
26 [†] Ye shall therefore keep my statutes and my judgments, and shall not commit any of these abominations; neither any of your own nation, nor any stranger that sojourneth among you:

27 (For all these abominations have the men of the land done, which were before you, and the land is defiled;)
28 That the land spue not you out also, when ye defile it, as it spued out the nations that were before you.
29 [†] For whosoever shall commit any of these abominations, even the souls that commit them shall be cut off from among their people.
30 Therefore shall ye keep mine ordinance, that ye commit not any one of these abominable customs, which were committed before you, and that ye defile not yourselves therein: I am the LORD your God.

Leviticus 19 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, and say unto them, Ye shall be holy: for I the Lord your God am holy.
3 [†] ¶ Ye shall fear every man his mother, and his father, and keep my sabbaths: I am the Lord your God.
4 [†] ¶ Turn ye not unto idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods: I am the Lord your God.
5 [†] ¶ And if ye offer a sacrifice of peace offerings unto the Lord, ye shall offer it at your own will.
6 It shall be eaten the same day ye offer it, and on the morrow: and if ought remain until the third day, it shall be burnt in the fire.
7 And if it be eaten at all on the third day, it is abominable; it shall not be accepted.
8 Therefore every one that eateth it shall bear his iniquity, because he hath profaned the hallowed thing of the Lord: and that soul shall be cut off from among his people.
9 [†] ¶ And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither shalt thou gather the gleanings of thy harvest.
10 And thou shalt not glean thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather every grape of thy vineyard; thou shalt leave them for the poor and stranger: I am the Lord your God.
11 [†] ¶ Ye shall not steal, neither deal falsely, neither lie one to another.
12 [†] ¶ And ye shall not swear by my name falsely, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God: I am the Lord.
13 ¶ Thou shalt not defraud thy neighbour, neither rob him: the wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until the morning.
14 ¶ Thou shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a stumblingblock before the blind, but shalt fear thy God: I am the Lord.
15 [†] ¶ Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment: thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honour the person of the mighty: but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbour.
16 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not go up and down as a talebearer among thy people: neither shalt thou stand against the blood of thy neighbour: I am the Lord.
17 ¶ Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart: thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbour, and not suffer sin upon him.
18 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, but thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself: I am the Lord.
19 [†] ¶ Ye shall keep my statutes. Thou shalt not let thy cattle gender with a diverse kind: thou shalt not sow thy field with mingled seed: neither shall a garment mingled of linen and woollen come upon thee.
20 [†] ¶ And whosoever lieth carnally with a woman, that is a bondmaid, betrothed to an husband, and not at all redeemed, nor freedom given her; she shall be scourged; they shall not be put to death, because she was not free.
21 And he shall bring his trespass offering unto the Lord, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, even a ram for a trespass offering.
22 And the priest shall make an atonement for him with the ram of the trespass offering before the Lord for his sin which he hath done: and the sin which he hath done shall be forgiven him.
23 [†] ¶ And when ye shall come into the land, and shall have planted all manner of trees for food, then ye shall count the fruit thereof as uncircumcised: three years shall it be as uncircumcised unto you: it shall not be eaten of.
24 But in the fourth year all the fruit thereof shall be holy to praise the Lord withal.

25 And in the fifth year shall ye eat of the fruit thereof, that it may yield unto you the increase thereof: I am the LORD your God.
26 [†] ¶ Ye shall not eat any thing with the blood: neither shall ye use enchantment, nor observe times.
27 Ye shall not round the corners of your heads, neither shalt thou mar the corners of thy beard.
28 [†] Ye shall not make any cuttings in your flesh for the dead, nor print any marks upon you: I am the LORD.
29 [†] ¶ Do not prostitute thy daughter, to cause her to be a whore; lest the land fall to whoredom, and the land become full of wickedness.
30 ¶ Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary: I am the LORD.
31 [†] ¶ Regard not them that have familiar spirits, neither seek after wizards, to be defiled by them: I am the LORD your God.
32 [†] ¶ Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honour the face of the old man, and fear thy God: I am the LORD.
33 ¶ And if a stranger sojourn with thee in your land, ye shall not vex him.
34 But the stranger that dwelleth with you shall be unto you as one born among you, and thou shalt love him as thyself; for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.
35 [†] ¶ Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment, in meteyard, in weight, or in measure.
36 Just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin, shall ye have: I am the LORD your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt.
37 Therefore shall ye observe all my statutes, and all my judgments, and do them: I am the LORD.

Leviticus 20 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Again, thou shalt say to the children of Israel, Whosoever he be of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn in Israel, that giveth any of his seed unto Molech; he shall surely be put to death: the people of the land shall stone him with stones.
3 And I will set my face against that man, and will cut him off from among his people; because he hath given of his seed unto Molech, to defile my sanctuary, and to profane my holy name.
4 And if the people of the land do any ways hide their eyes from the man, when he giveth of his seed unto Molech, and kill him not:
5 Then I will set my face against that man, and against his family, and will cut him off, and all that go a whoring after him, to commit whoredom with Molech, from among their people.
6 [†] ¶ And the soul that turneth after such as have familiar spirits, and after wizards, to go a whoring after them, I will even set my face against that soul, and will cut him off from among his people.
7 [†] ¶ Sanctify yourselves therefore, and be ye holy: for I am the Lord your God.
8 And ye shall keep my statutes, and do them: I am the Lord which sanctify you.
9 [†] ¶ For every one that curseth his father or his mother shall be surely put to death: he hath cursed his father or his mother; his blood shall be upon him.
10 [†] ¶ And the man that committeth adultery with another man's wife, even he that committeth adultery with his neighbour's wife, the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death.
11 And the man that lieth with his father's wife hath uncovered his father's nakedness: both of them shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.
12 [†] And if a man lie with his daughter in law, both of them shall surely be put to death: they have wrought confusion; their blood shall be upon them.
13 If a man also lie with mankind, as he lieth with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.
14 [†] And if a man take a wife and her mother, it is wickedness: they shall be burnt with fire, both he and they; that there be no wickedness among you.
15 And if a man lie with a beast, he shall surely be put to death: and ye shall slay the beast.
16 [†] And if a woman approach unto any beast, and lie down thereto, thou shalt kill the woman, and the beast: they shall surely be put to death; their blood shall be upon them.
17 [†] And if a man shall take his sister, his father's daughter, or his mother's daughter, and see her nakedness, and she see his nakedness; it is a wicked thing; and they shall be cut off in the sight of their people: he hath uncovered his sister's nakedness; he shall bear his iniquity.
18 [†] And if a man shall lie with a woman having her sickness, and shall uncover her nakedness; he hath discovered her fountain, and she hath uncovered the fountain of her blood: and both of them shall be cut off from among their people.
19 [†] And thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister, nor of thy father's sister: for he uncovereth his near kin: they shall bear their iniquity.
20 And if a man shall lie with his uncle's wife, he hath uncovered his uncle's nakedness: they shall bear their sin; they shall die childless.
21 And if a man shall take his brother's wife, it is an unclean thing: he hath uncovered his brother's nakedness; they shall be childless.
22 [†] ¶ Ye shall therefore keep all my statutes, and all my judgments, and do them: that the land, whither I bring you to dwell therein, spue you not out.
23 And ye shall not walk in the manners of the nation, which I cast out before you: for they committed all these things, and therefore I abhorred them.

24 But I have said unto you, Ye shall inherit their land, and I will give it unto you to possess it, a land that floweth with milk and honey: I am the LORD your God, which have separated you from other people.
25 Ye shall therefore put difference between clean beasts and unclean, and between unclean fowls and clean: and ye shall not make your souls abominable by beast, or by fowl, or by any manner of living thing that creepeth on the ground, which I have separated from you as unclean.
26 [†] And ye shall be holy unto me: for I the LORD am holy, and have severed you from other people, that ye should be mine.
27 [†] ¶ A man also or woman that hath a familiar spirit, or that is a wizard, shall surely be put to death: they shall stone them with stones: their blood shall be upon them.

Leviticus 21 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Speak unto the priests the sons of Aaron, and say unto them, There shall none be defiled for the dead among his people:
2 [†] But for his kin, that is near unto him, that is, for his mother, and for his father, and for his son, and for his daughter, and for his brother,
3 And for his sister a virgin, that is nigh unto him, which hath had no husband; for her may he be defiled.
4 But he shall not defile himself, being a chief man among his people, to profane himself.
5 [†] They shall not make baldness upon their head, neither shall they shave off the corner of their beard, nor make any cuttings in their flesh.
6 [†] They shall be holy unto their God, and not profane the name of their God: for the offerings of the Lord made by fire, and the bread of their God, they do offer: therefore they shall be holy.
7 [†] They shall not take a wife that is a whore, or profane; neither shall they take a woman put away from her husband: for he is holy unto his God.
8 Thou shalt sanctify him therefore; for he offereth the bread of thy God: he shall be holy unto thee: for I the Lord, which sanctify you, am holy.
9 [†] ¶ And the daughter of any priest, if she profane herself by playing the whore, she profaneth her father: she shall be burnt with fire.
10 And he that is the high priest among his brethren, upon whose head the anointing oil was poured, and that is consecrated to put on the garments, shall not uncover his head, nor rend his clothes;
11 Neither shall he go in to any dead body, nor defile himself for his father, or for his mother;
12 [†] Neither shall he go out of the sanctuary, nor profane the sanctuary of his God; for the crown of the anointing oil of his God is upon him: I am the Lord.
13 And he shall take a wife in her virginity.
14 A widow, or a divorced woman, or profane, or an harlot, these shall he not take: but he shall take a virgin of his own people to wife.
15 Neither shall he profane his seed among his people: for I the Lord do sanctify him.
16 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
17 [†] Speak unto Aaron, saying, Whosoever he be of thy seed in their generations that hath any blemish, let him not approach to offer the bread of his God.
18 [†] For whatsoever man he be that hath a blemish, he shall not approach: a blind man, or a lame, or he that hath a flat nose, or any thing superfluous,
19 Or a man that is brokenfooted, or brokenhanded,
20 [†] Or crookbackt, or a dwarf, or that hath a blemish in his eye, or be scurvy, or scabbed, or hath his stones broken;
21 No man that hath a blemish of the seed of Aaron the priest shall come nigh to offer the offerings of the Lord made by fire: he hath a blemish; he shall not come nigh to offer the bread of his God.
22 He shall eat the bread of his God, both of the most holy, and of the holy.
23 Only he shall not go in unto the vail, nor come nigh unto the altar, because he hath a blemish; that he profane not my sanctuaries: for I the Lord do sanctify them.
24 And Moses told it unto Aaron, and to his sons, and unto all the children of Israel.

Leviticus 22 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto Aaron and to his sons, that they separate themselves from the holy things of the children of Israel, and that they profane not my holy name in those things which they hallow unto me: I am the Lord.
3 [†] Say unto them, Whosoever he be of all your seed among your generations, that goeth unto the holy things, which the children of Israel hallow unto the Lord, having his uncleanness upon him, that soul shall be cut off from my presence: I am the Lord.
4 [†] What man soever of the seed of Aaron is a leper, or hath a running issue; he shall not eat of the holy things, until he be clean. And whoso toucheth any thing that is unclean by the dead, or a man whose seed goeth from him;
5 Or whosoever toucheth any creeping thing, whereby he may be made unclean, or a man of whom he may take uncleanness, whatsoever uncleanness he hath;
6 [†] The soul which hath touched any such shall be unclean until even, and shall not eat of the holy things, unless he wash his flesh with water.
7 And when the sun is down, he shall be clean, and shall afterward eat of the holy things; because it is his food.
8 That which dieth of itself, or is torn with beasts, he shall not eat to defile himself therewith: I am the Lord.
9 They shall therefore keep mine ordinance, lest they bear sin for it, and die therefore, if they profane it: I the Lord do sanctify them.
10 [†] There shall no stranger eat of the holy thing: a sojourner of the priest, or an hired servant, shall not eat of the holy thing.
11 But if the priest buy any soul with his money, he shall eat of it, and he that is born in his house: they shall eat of his meat.
12 If the priest's daughter also be married unto a stranger, she may not eat of an offering of the holy things.
13 But if the priest's daughter be a widow, or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her father's house, as in her youth, she shall eat of her father's meat: but there shall no stranger eat thereof.
14 [†] ¶ And if a man eat of the holy thing unwittingly, then he shall put the fifth part thereof unto it, and shall give it unto the priest with the holy thing.
15 [†] And they shall not profane the holy things of the children of Israel, which they offer unto the Lord;
16 [†] Or suffer them to bear the iniquity of trespass, when they eat their holy things: for I the Lord do sanctify them.
17 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
18 Speak unto Aaron, and to his sons, and unto all the children of Israel, and say unto them, Whatsoever he be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers in Israel, that will offer his oblation for all his vows, and for all his freewill offerings, which they will offer unto the Lord for a burnt offering;
19 [†] Ye shall offer at your own will a male without blemish, of the beeves, of the sheep, or of the goats.
20 But whatsoever hath a blemish, that shall ye not offer: for it shall not be acceptable for you.
21 [†] And whosoever offereth a sacrifice of peace offerings unto the Lord to accomplish his vow, or a freewill offering in beeves or sheep, it shall be perfect to be accepted; there shall be no blemish therein.
22 [†] Blind, or broken, or maimed, or having a wen, or scurvy, or scabbed, ye shall not offer these unto the LORD, nor make an offering by fire of them upon the altar unto the LORD.

23 Either a bullock or a lamb that hath any thing superfluous or lacking in his parts, that mayest thou offer for a freewill offering; but for a vow it shall not be accepted.
24 Ye shall not offer unto the LORD that which is bruised, or crushed, or broken, or cut; neither shall ye make any offering thereof in your land.
25 Neither from a stranger's hand shall ye offer the bread of your God of any of these; because their corruption is in them, and blemishes be in them: they shall not be accepted for you.
26 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
27 [†] When a bullock, or a sheep, or a goat, is brought forth, then it shall be seven days under the dam; and from the eighth day and thenceforth it shall be accepted for an offering made by fire unto the LORD.
28 And whether it be cow or ewe, ye shall not kill it and her young both in one day.
29 And when ye will offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving unto the LORD, offer it at your own will.
30 On the same day it shall be eaten up; ye shall leave none of it until the morrow: I am the LORD.
31 Therefore shall ye keep my commandments, and do them: I am the LORD.
32 [†] Neither shall ye profane my holy name; but I will be hallowed among the children of Israel: I am the LORD which hallow you,
33 [†] That brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God: I am the LORD.

Leviticus 23 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, Concerning the feasts of the Lord, which ye shall proclaim to be holy convocations, even these are my feasts.
3 [†] Six days shall work be done: but the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, an holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein: it is the sabbath of the Lord in all your dwellings.
4 ¶ These are the feasts of the Lord, even holy convocations, which ye shall proclaim in their seasons.
5 [†] In the fourteenth day of the first month at even is the Lord's passover.
6 [†] And on the fifteenth day of the same month is the feast of unleavened bread unto the Lord: seven days ye must eat unleavened bread.
7 [†] In the first day ye shall have an holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein.
8 But ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord seven days: in the seventh day is an holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein.
9 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
10 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye be come into the land which I give unto you, and shall reap the harvest thereof, then ye shall bring a sheaf of the firstfruits of your harvest unto the priest:
11 And he shall wave the sheaf before the Lord, to be accepted for you: on the morrow after the sabbath the priest shall wave it.
12 And ye shall offer that day when ye wave the sheaf an he lamb without blemish of the first year for a burnt offering unto the Lord.
13 [†] And the meat offering thereof shall be two tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil, an offering made by fire unto the Lord for a sweet savour: and the drink offering thereof shall be of wine, the fourth part of an hin.
14 [†] And ye shall eat neither bread, nor parched corn, nor green ears, until the selfsame day that ye have brought an offering unto your God: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations in all your dwellings.
15 [†] ¶ And ye shall count unto you from the morrow after the sabbath, from the day that ye brought the sheaf of the wave offering; seven sabbaths shall be complete:
16 Even unto the morrow after the seventh sabbath shall ye number fifty days; and ye shall offer a new meat offering unto the Lord.
17 Ye shall bring out of your habitations two wave loaves of two tenth deals: they shall be of fine flour; they shall be baken with leaven; they are the firstfruits unto the Lord.
18 And ye shall offer with the bread seven lambs without blemish of the first year, and one young bullock, and two rams: they shall be for a burnt offering unto the Lord, with their meat offering, and their drink offerings, even an offering made by fire, of sweet savour unto the Lord.
19 Then ye shall sacrifice one kid of the goats for a sin offering, and two lambs of the first year for a sacrifice of peace offerings.
20 And the priest shall wave them with the bread of the firstfruits for a wave offering before the Lord, with the two lambs: they shall be holy to the Lord for the priest.
21 And ye shall proclaim on the selfsame day, that it may be an holy convocation unto you: ye shall do no servile work therein: it shall be a statute for ever in all your dwellings throughout your generations.
22 [†] ¶ And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not make clean riddance of the corners of thy field when thou reapest, neither shalt thou gather any gleaning of thy harvest: thou shalt leave them unto the poor, and to the stranger: I am the Lord your God.

23 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
24 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, In the seventh month, in the first day of the month, shall ye have a sabbath, a memorial of blowing of trumpets, an holy convocation.
25 Ye shall do no servile work therein: but ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD.
26 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
27 [†] Also on the tenth day of this seventh month there shall be a day of atonement: it shall be an holy convocation unto you; and ye shall afflict your souls, and offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD.
28 And ye shall do no work in that same day: for it is a day of atonement, to make an atonement for you before the LORD your God.
29 For whatsoever soul it be that shall not be afflicted in that same day, he shall be cut off from among his people.
30 And whatsoever soul it be that doeth any work in that same day, the same soul will I destroy from among his people.
31 Ye shall do no manner of work: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations in all your dwellings.
32 [†] It shall be unto you a sabbath of rest, and ye shall afflict your souls: in the ninth day of the month at even, from even unto even, shall ye celebrate your sabbath.
33 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
34 Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, The fifteenth day of this seventh month shall be the feast of tabernacles for seven days unto the LORD.
35 On the first day shall be an holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein.
36 Seven days ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD: on the eighth day shall be an holy convocation unto you; and ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD: it is a solemn assembly; and ye shall do no servile work therein.
37 These are the feasts of the LORD, which ye shall proclaim to be holy convocations, to offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD, a burnt offering, and a meat offering, a sacrifice, and drink offerings, every thing upon his day:
38 Beside the sabbaths of the LORD, and beside your gifts, and beside all your vows, and beside all your freewill offerings, which ye give unto the LORD.
39 Also in the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when ye have gathered in the fruit of the land, ye shall keep a feast unto the LORD seven days: on the first day shall be a sabbath, and on the eighth day shall be a sabbath.
40 [†] And ye shall take you on the first day the boughs of goodly trees, branches of palm trees, and the boughs of thick trees, and willows of the brook; and ye shall rejoice before the LORD your God seven days.
41 And ye shall keep it a feast unto the LORD seven days in the year. It shall be a statute for ever in your generations: ye shall celebrate it in the seventh month.
42 Ye shall dwell in booths seven days; all that are Israelites born shall dwell in booths:
43 [†] That your generations may know that I made the children of Israel to dwell in booths, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.
44 And Moses declared unto the children of Israel the feasts of the LORD.

Leviticus 24 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Command the children of Israel, that they bring unto thee pure oil olive beaten for the light, to cause the lamps to burn continually.
3 [†] Without the vail of the testimony, in the tabernacle of the congregation, shall Aaron order it from the evening unto the morning before the Lord continually: it shall be a statute for ever in your generations.
4 He shall order the lamps upon the pure candlestick before the Lord continually.
5 [†] ¶ And thou shalt take fine flour, and bake twelve cakes thereof: two tenth deals shall be in one cake.
6 And thou shalt set them in two rows, six on a row, upon the pure table before the Lord.
7 [†] And thou shalt put pure frankincense upon each row, that it may be on the bread for a memorial, even an offering made by fire unto the Lord.
8 Every sabbath he shall set it in order before the Lord continually, being taken from the children of Israel by an everlasting covenant.
9 [†] And it shall be Aaron's and his sons'; and they shall eat it in the holy place: for it is most holy unto him of the offerings of the Lord made by fire by a perpetual statute.
10 ¶ And the son of an Israelitish woman, whose father was an Egyptian, went out among the children of Israel: and this son of the Israelitish woman and a man of Israel strove together in the camp;
11 [†] And the Israelitish woman's son blasphemed the name of the Lord, and cursed. And they brought him unto Moses: (and his mother's name was Shelomith, the daughter of Dibri, of the tribe of Dan:)
12 [†] And they put him in ward, that the mind of the Lord might be shewed them.
13 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
14 [†] Bring forth him that hath cursed without the camp; and let all that heard him lay their hands upon his head, and let all the congregation stone him.
15 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel, saying, Whosoever curseth his God shall bear his sin.
16 And he that blasphemeth the name of the Lord, he shall surely be put to death, and all the congregation shall certainly stone him: as well the stranger, as he that is born in the land, when he blasphemeth the name of the Lord, shall be put to death.
17 [†] ¶ And he that killeth any man shall surely be put to death.
18 [†] And he that killeth a beast shall make it good; beast for beast.
19 [†] And if a man cause a blemish in his neighbour; as he hath done, so shall it be done to him;
20 [†] Breach for breach, eye for eye, tooth for tooth: as he hath caused a blemish in a man, so shall it be done to him again.
21 And he that killeth a beast, he shall restore it: and he that killeth a man, he shall be put to death.
22 Ye shall have one manner of law, as well for the stranger, as for one of your own country: for I am the Lord your God.
23 ¶ And Moses spake to the children of Israel, that they should bring forth him that had cursed out of the camp, and stone him with stones. And the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded Moses.

Leviticus 25 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses in mount Sinai, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye come into the land which I give you, then shall the land keep a sabbath unto the Lord.
3 Six years thou shalt sow thy field, and six years thou shalt prune thy vineyard, and gather in the fruit thereof;
4 But in the seventh year shall be a sabbath of rest unto the land, a sabbath for the Lord: thou shalt neither sow thy field, nor prune thy vineyard.
5 [†] That which groweth of its own accord of thy harvest thou shalt not reap, neither gather the grapes of thy vine undressed: for it is a year of rest unto the land.
6 [†] And the sabbath of the land shall be meat for you; for thee, and for thy servant, and for thy maid, and for thy hired servant, and for thy stranger that sojourneth with thee,
7 And for thy cattle, and for the beast that are in thy land, shall all the increase thereof be meat.
8 [†] ¶ And thou shalt number seven sabbaths of years unto thee, seven times seven years; and the space of the seven sabbaths of years shall be unto thee forty and nine years.
9 [†] Then shalt thou cause the trumpet of the jubile to sound on the tenth day of the seventh month, in the day of atonement shall ye make the trumpet sound throughout all your land.
10 [†] And ye shall hallow the fiftieth year, and proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof: it shall be a jubile unto you; and ye shall return every man unto his possession, and ye shall return every man unto his family.
11 [†] A jubile shall that fiftieth year be unto you: ye shall not sow, neither reap that which groweth of itself in it, nor gather the grapes in it of thy vine undressed.
12 For it is the jubile; it shall be holy unto you: ye shall eat the increase thereof out of the field.
13 In the year of this jubile ye shall return every man unto his possession.
14 [†] And if thou sell ought unto thy neighbour, or buyest ought of thy neighbour's hand, ye shall not oppress one another:
15 [†] According to the number of years after the jubile thou shalt buy of thy neighbour, and according unto the number of years of the fruits he shall sell unto thee:
16 According to the multitude of years thou shalt increase the price thereof, and according to the fewness of years thou shalt diminish the price of it: for according to the number of the years of the fruits doth he sell unto thee.
17 Ye shall not therefore oppress one another; but thou shalt fear thy God: for I am the Lord your God.
18 ¶ Wherefore ye shall do my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them; and ye shall dwell in the land in safety.
19 And the land shall yield her fruit, and ye shall eat your fill, and dwell therein in safety.
20 [†] And if ye shall say, What shall we eat the seventh year? behold, we shall not sow, nor gather in our increase:
21 Then I will command my blessing upon you in the sixth year, and it shall bring forth fruit for three years.
22 And ye shall sow the eighth year, and eat yet of old fruit until the ninth year; until her fruits come in ye shall eat of the old store.
23 ¶ The land shall not be sold for ever: for the land is mine; for ye are strangers and sojourners with me.
24 And in all the land of your possession ye shall grant a redemption for the land.
25 [†] ¶ If thy brother be waxen poor, and hath sold away some of his possession, and if any of his kin come to redeem it, then shall he redeem that which his brother sold.

26 [†] And if the man have none to redeem it, and himself be able to redeem it;
27 Then let him count the years of the sale thereof, and restore the overplus unto the man to whom he sold it; that he may return unto his possession.
28 [†] But if he be not able to restore it to him, then that which is sold shall remain in the hand of him that hath bought it until the year of jubile: and in the jubile it shall go out, and he shall return unto his possession.
29 [†] And if a man sell a dwelling house in a walled city, then he may redeem it within a whole year after it is sold; within a full year may he redeem it.
30 And if it be not redeemed within the space of a full year, then the house that is in the walled city shall be established for ever to him that bought it throughout his generations: it shall not go out in the jubile.
31 But the houses of the villages which have no wall round about them shall be counted as the fields of the country: they may be redeemed, and they shall go out in the jubile.
32 [†] Notwithstanding the cities of the Levites, and the houses of the cities of their possession, may the Levites redeem at any time.
33 And if a man purchase of the Levites, then the house that was sold, and the city of his possession, shall go out in the year of jubile: for the houses of the cities of the Levites are their possession among the children of Israel.
34 [†] But the field of the suburbs of their cities may not be sold; for it is their perpetual possession.
35 [†] ¶ And if thy brother be waxen poor, and fallen in decay with thee; then thou shalt relieve him: yea, though he be a stranger, or a sojourner; that he may live with thee.
36 [†] Take thou no usury of him, or increase: but fear thy God; that thy brother may live with thee.
37 [†] Thou shalt not give him thy money upon usury, nor lend him thy victuals for increase.
38 [†] I am the LORD your God, which brought you forth out of the land of Egypt, to give you the land of Canaan, and to be your God.
39 ¶ And if thy brother that dwelleth by thee be waxen poor, and be sold unto thee; thou shalt not compel him to serve as a bondservant:
40 But as an hired servant, and as a sojourner, he shall be with thee, and shall serve thee unto the year of jubile:
41 And then shall he depart from thee, both he and his children with him, and shall return unto his own family, and unto the possession of his fathers shall he return.
42 For they are my servants, which I brought forth out of the land of Egypt: they shall not be sold as bondmen.
43 Thou shalt not rule over him with rigour; but shalt fear thy God.
44 Both thy bondmen, and thy bondmaids, which thou shalt have, shall be of the heathen that are round about you; of them shall ye buy bondmen and bondmaids.
45 Moreover of the children of the strangers that do sojourn among you, of them shall ye buy, and of their families that are with you, which they begat in your land: and they shall be your possession.
46 And ye shall take them as an inheritance for your children after you, to inherit them for a possession; they shall be your bondmen for ever: but over your brethren the children of Israel, ye shall not rule one over another with rigour.
47 [†] ¶ And if a sojourner or stranger wax rich by thee, and thy brother that dwelleth by him wax poor, and sell himself unto the stranger or sojourner by thee, or to the stock of the stranger's family:
48 After that he is sold he may be redeemed again; one of his brethren may redeem him:
49 Either his uncle, or his uncle's son, may redeem him, or any that is nigh of kin unto him of his family may redeem him; or if he be able, he may redeem himself.

50 And he shall reckon with him that bought him from the year that he was sold to him unto the year of jubile: and the price of his sale shall be according unto the number of years, according to the time of an hired servant shall it be with him.
51 If there be yet many years behind, according unto them he shall give again the price of his redemption out of the money that he was bought for.
52 And if there remain but few years unto the year of jubile, then he shall count with him, and according unto his years shall he give him again the price of his redemption.
53 And as a yearly hired servant shall he be with him: and the other shall not rule with rigour over him in thy sight.
54 And if he be not redeemed in these years, then he shall go out in the year of jubile, both he, and his children with him.
55 For unto me the children of Israel are servants; they are my servants whom I brought forth out of the land of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.

Leviticus 26 [†]

1 Ye shall make you no idols nor graven image, neither rear you up a standing image, neither shall ye set up any image of stone in your land, to bow down unto it: for I am the Lord your God.
2 ¶ Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary: I am the Lord.
3 ¶ If ye walk in my statutes, and keep my commandments, and do them;
4 [†] Then I will give you rain in due season, and the land shall yield her increase, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit.
5 [†] And your threshing shall reach unto the vintage, and the vintage shall reach unto the sowing time: and ye shall eat your bread to the full, and dwell in your land safely.
6 [†] And I will give peace in the land, and ye shall lie down, and none shall make you afraid: and I will rid evil beasts out of the land, neither shall the sword go through your land.
7 And ye shall chase your enemies, and they shall fall before you by the sword.
8 And five of you shall chase an hundred, and an hundred of you shall put ten thousand to flight: and your enemies shall fall before you by the sword.
9 [†] For I will have respect unto you, and make you fruitful, and multiply you, and establish my covenant with you.
10 [†] And ye shall eat old store, and bring forth the old because of the new.
11 [†] And I will set my tabernacle among you: and my soul shall not abhor you.
12 And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people.
13 [†] I am the Lord your God, which brought you forth out of the land of Egypt, that ye should not be their bondmen; and I have broken the bands of your yoke, and made you go upright.
14 ¶ But if ye will not hearken unto me, and will not do all these commandments;
15 And if ye shall despise my statutes, or if your soul abhor my judgments, so that ye will not do all my commandments, but that ye break my covenant:
16 [†] I also will do this unto you; I will even appoint over you terror, consumption, and the burning ague, that shall consume the eyes, and cause sorrow of heart: and ye shall sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it.
17 [†] And I will set my face against you, and ye shall be slain before your enemies: they that hate you shall reign over you; and ye shall flee when none pursueth you.
18 [†] And if ye will not yet for all this hearken unto me, then I will punish you seven times more for your sins.
19 [†] And I will break the pride of your power; and I will make your heaven as iron, and your earth as brass:
20 And your strength shall be spent in vain: for your land shall not yield her increase, neither shall the trees of the land yield their fruits.
21 ¶ And if ye walk contrary unto me, and will not hearken unto me; I will bring seven times more plagues upon you according to your sins.
22 I will also send wild beasts among you, which shall rob you of your children, and destroy your cattle, and make you few in number; and your high ways shall be desolate.
23 [†] And if ye will not be reformed by me by these things, but will walk contrary unto me;
24 Then will I also walk contrary unto you, and will punish you yet seven times for your sins.
25 [†] And I will bring a sword upon you, that shall avenge the quarrel of my covenant: and when ye are gathered together within your cities, I will send the pestilence among you; and ye shall be delivered into the hand of the enemy.
26 [†] And when I have broken the staff of your bread, ten women shall bake your bread in one oven, and they shall deliver you your bread again by weight: and ye shall eat, and not be satisfied.

27 And if ye will not for all this hearken unto me, but walk contrary unto me;
28 Then I will walk contrary unto you also in fury; and I, even I, will chastise you seven times for your sins.
29 [†] And ye shall eat the flesh of your sons, and the flesh of your daughters shall ye eat.
30 [†] And I will destroy your high places, and cut down your images, and cast your carcases upon the carcases of your idols, and my soul shall abhor you.
31 And I will make your cities waste, and bring your sanctuaries unto desolation, and I will not smell the savour of your sweet odours.
32 And I will bring the land into desolation: and your enemies which dwell therein shall be astonished at it.
33 [†] And I will scatter you among the heathen, and will draw out a sword after you: and your land shall be desolate, and your cities waste.
34 [†] Then shall the land enjoy her sabbaths, as long as it lieth desolate, and ye be in your enemies' land; even then shall the land rest, and enjoy her sabbaths.
35 As long as it lieth desolate it shall rest; because it did not rest in your sabbaths, when ye dwelt upon it.
36 And upon them that are left alive of you I will send a faintness into their hearts in the lands of their enemies; and the sound of a shaken leaf shall chase them; and they shall flee, as fleeing from a sword; and they shall fall when none pursueth.
37 And they shall fall one upon another, as it were before a sword, when none pursueth: and ye shall have no power to stand before your enemies.
38 And ye shall perish among the heathen, and the land of your enemies shall eat you up.
39 And they that are left of you shall pine away in their iniquity in your enemies' lands; and also in the iniquities of their fathers shall they pine away with them.
40 If they shall confess their iniquity, and the iniquity of their fathers, with their trespass which they trespassed against me, and that also they have walked contrary unto me;
41 [†] And that I also have walked contrary unto them, and have brought them into the land of their enemies; if then their uncircumcised hearts be humbled, and they then accept of the punishment of their iniquity:
42 Then will I remember my covenant with Jacob, and also my covenant with Isaac, and also my covenant with Abraham will I remember; and I will remember the land.
43 The land also shall be left of them, and shall enjoy her sabbaths, while she lieth desolate without them: and they shall accept of the punishment of their iniquity: because, even because they despised my judgments, and because their soul abhorred my statutes.
44 [†] And yet for all that, when they be in the land of their enemies, I will not cast them away, neither will I abhor them, to destroy them utterly, and to break my covenant with them: for I am the LORD their God.
45 But I will for their sakes remember the covenant of their ancestors, whom I brought forth out of the land of Egypt in the sight of the heathen, that I might be their God: I am the LORD.
46 These are the statutes and judgments and laws, which the LORD made between him and the children of Israel in mount Sinai by the hand of Moses.

Leviticus 27 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When a man shall make a singular vow, the persons shall be for the Lord by thy estimation.
3 [†] And thy estimation shall be of the male from twenty years old even unto sixty years old, even thy estimation shall be fifty shekels of silver, after the shekel of the sanctuary.
4 And if it be a female, then thy estimation shall be thirty shekels.
5 [†] And if it be from five years old even unto twenty years old, then thy estimation shall be of the male twenty shekels, and for the female ten shekels.
6 And if it be from a month old even unto five years old, then thy estimation shall be of the male five shekels of silver, and for the female thy estimation shall be three shekels of silver.
7 And if it be from sixty years old and above; if it be a male, then thy estimation shall be fifteen shekels, and for the female ten shekels.
8 But if he be poorer than thy estimation, then he shall present himself before the priest, and the priest shall value him; according to his ability that vowed shall the priest value him.
9 [†] And if it be a beast, whereof men bring an offering unto the Lord, all that any man giveth of such unto the Lord shall be holy.
10 He shall not alter it, nor change it, a good for a bad, or a bad for a good: and if he shall at all change beast for beast, then it and the exchange thereof shall be holy.
11 And if it be any unclean beast, of which they do not offer a sacrifice unto the Lord, then he shall present the beast before the priest:
12 And the priest shall value it, whether it be good or bad: as thou valuest it, who art the priest, so shall it be.
13 But if he will at all redeem it, then he shall add a fifth part thereof unto thy estimation.
14 [†] ¶ And when a man shall sanctify his house to be holy unto the Lord, then the priest shall estimate it, whether it be good or bad: as the priest shall estimate it, so shall it stand.
15 And if he that sanctified it will redeem his house, then he shall add the fifth part of the money of thy estimation unto it, and it shall be his.
16 [†] And if a man shall sanctify unto the Lord some part of a field of his possession, then thy estimation shall be according to the seed thereof: an homer of barley seed shall be valued at fifty shekels of silver.
17 If he sanctify his field from the year of jubile, according to thy estimation it shall stand.
18 But if he sanctify his field after the jubile, then the priest shall reckon unto him the money according to the years that remain, even unto the year of the jubile, and it shall be abated from thy estimation.
19 And if he that sanctified the field will in any wise redeem it, then he shall add the fifth part of the money of thy estimation unto it, and it shall be assured to him.
20 And if he will not redeem the field, or if he have sold the field to another man, it shall not be redeemed any more.
21 But the field, when it goeth out in the jubile, shall be holy unto the Lord, as a field devoted; the possession thereof shall be the priest's.
22 And if a man sanctify unto the Lord a field which he hath bought, which is not of the fields of his possession;
23 Then the priest shall reckon unto him the worth of thy estimation, even unto the year of the jubile: and he shall give thine estimation in that day, as a holy thing unto the Lord.
24 In the year of the jubile the field shall return unto him of whom it was bought, even to him to whom the possession of the land did belong.

25 And all thy estimations shall be according to the shekel of the sanctuary: twenty gerahs shall be the shekel.
26 [†] ¶ Only the firstling of the beasts, which should be the LORD's firstling, no man shall sanctify it; whether it be ox, or sheep: it is the LORD's.
27 And if it be of an unclean beast, then he shall redeem it according to thine estimation, and shall add a fifth part of it thereto: or if it be not redeemed, then it shall be sold according to thy estimation.
28 [†] Notwithstanding no devoted thing, that a man shall devote unto the LORD of all that he hath, both of man and beast, and of the field of his possession, shall be sold or redeemed: every devoted thing is most holy unto the LORD.
29 None devoted, which shall be devoted of men, shall be redeemed; but shall surely be put to death.
30 And all the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land, or of the fruit of the tree, is the LORD's: it is holy unto the LORD.
31 And if a man will at all redeem ought of his tithes, he shall add thereto the fifth part thereof.
32 [†] And concerning the tithe of the herd, or of the flock, even of whatsoever passeth under the rod, the tenth shall be holy unto the LORD.
33 He shall not search whether it be good or bad, neither shall he change it: and if he change it at all, then both it and the change thereof shall be holy; it shall not be redeemed.
34 These are the commandments, which the LORD commanded Moses for the children of Israel in mount Sinai.

NOTES ON THE BOOK OF

LEVITICUS

THE OFFERINGS (1:1—7:38)

Chapter 1: The Lord gives laws concerning the burnt offering taken from the herd, flocks, or birds.

The Burnt Offering (1:1–17)

1:3 male without blemish. The selection of an animal without defect taught that salvation had to come from outside of oneself by a pure and innocent substitute and pointed to the perfect and pure Christ, the reality casting the shadow (1 Peter 1:19). voluntary will. Literally, "for his acceptance."

1:4 put his hand. A symbolic act of transferring one's guilt to the animal. make atonement. God's wrath is turned aside and the sin is covered.

1:5 he shall kill the bullock. The act of the offerer killing the bull symbolizes the personal responsibility for the death of the innocent substitute who took sin's penalty. Hence, believers acknowledge that it was for their own sin that Christ died. sprinkle the blood. This act symbolizes that atonement requires more than just death but the presentation and application of blood as well. It is not just the fact of Christ's death that saves but the application of His blood.

1:6 flay. Skin the animal. The hide was not burnt but kept by the priest to be used or sold (7:8).

1:9 altar. Altar in the court of the tabernacle. burnt sacrifice. The whole sacrifice is consumed by fire. The offerer is yielding up everything to God. a sweet savour. Denotes a quieting or peaceful fragrance, a smell of appeasement. Symbolic of God's anger turning to favor.

1:10 Slight details change if the animal is a sheep or another animal.

1:16 crop. The alimentary canal, the whole inner passage through which food passes.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 1

1. The burnt offering, along with all the other types of sacrifice, was a clear yet imperfect picture of the once-for-all sacrifice of Jesus Christ, the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world (Rev. 13:8). Animal sacrifices could never and were never intended to take away sin (Heb. 10:1–4). Only the sacrifice of Christ could do that (Heb. 10:12). But they were graphic sermons of the necessity of a perfect substitute, of death as sin's penalty, of blood shedding as the means of forgiveness, of reconciliation and consecration. Although it would be a sin against Christ to repeat the animal sacrifices, what aspects of their message preach about Him?
2. The peculiarity of the burnt offering was that the entire animal was placed on the altar. It pictures full and complete consecration; everything is given to the Lord with nothing being held back. It testifies of both the total dedication of Christ who gave Himself as a sweet savor (Eph. 5:2) and the consecration of the believer to the Lord of his life in view of gospel grace (Rom. 12:1–2). The burning of all on the altar would not have been a pleasant aroma to us, but it pleased the Lord. So putting ourselves on the altar of consecration may at times be unpleasant to self, but it is pleasing unto the Lord. In view of Christ's sacrifice, how are you offering yourself as a living sacrifice to God?

Chapter 2: The Lord instructs Moses concerning the meat or food offering of grain.

The Meat Offering (2:1–16)

2:1 meat. The Hebrew simply means "gift" or "present" but often refers to a grain offering, the only offering without blood. In the early modern English of the KJV, "meat" meant "food" in general. The meat offering usually accompanied the burnt and peace offerings, one of the bloody sacrifices. fine flour. Finely ground flour.

2:2 the memorial of it. Refers to a portion of the offering that was burned as a token or sign.

2:3 remnant. What was left over.

2:4 oblation. The most general word for "offering" (throughout the book). It is the word "corban" that Christ refers to in Mark 7:11. baken in the oven . . . unleavened. Baked into bread cakes. wafers. A thin unleavened cake of bread. anointed with oil. Literally, "smeared with oil." The references to oil throughout symbolize the presence and work of the Holy Spirit in the activity of worship.

2:11 No meat offering . . . with leaven . . . honey. Likely because the yeast and honey can ferment which signifies corruption.

2:12 oblation of the firstfruits. The first sheaf of the harvest, offered to God to confess that all comes from Him.

2:13 salt. A preserving agent used as a symbol of God's covenant.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 2

1. The meat or grain offering was an expression of the worshiper's confession that his daily bread was from above. With that recognition, the worshiper offered a token in consecration and dedication to the Lord. Similarly, we are to be thankful for outward and temporal benefits! The offering also points to the Lord Jesus who perfectly and completely lived in dedication to His Father. How can you express your dependence on God and your thankfulness for the daily bread He supplies?
2. Significantly, this sacrifice without blood was never offered independently; it was always in connection with one of the bloody sacrifices. To offer the work of our hands to the Lord apart from the blood of Christ is to repeat the sin of Cain who assumed his works would be acceptable on their own merit. It is only through the blood of Christ's sacrifice that anything we offer to the Lord, even in thanksgiving, will be acceptable. How can we keep in mind that all our worship can only be offered with His blood?

Chapter 3: The Lord gives instructions about the peace or fellowship offering taken from the herd or flock.

The Peace Offering (3:1–17)

3:1 peace offering. See also 7:11–34; 19:5–8; 22:21–25. male or female. A female can also be used here, not typical of the previous offerings. The initial steps of the peace offering is the same as other bloody offerings (see notes at the burnt offering, ch. 1).

3:2 door of the tabernacle. The other three bloody offerings (burnt, sin, trespass) were killed on the north side of the altar.

3:3 It was common in the sacrificial laws to separate the fat surrounding the inwards parts and to burn them on the altar (vv. 9–10,14–15). Fat is considered the best and choicest part of the animal and therefore God's rightful portion. The burning of the viscera, representing the seat of emotions, also symbolized the surrender of self to the Lord.

3:4 flanks. Loins. caul. Fatty lobe above the liver (throughout the chapter).

3:5 upon the burnt sacrifice. In connection with the burnt offering. sweet savour. See note at 1:9.

3:11 food of the offering. The peace offering involved a sacrificial meal. Chapter 7 reveals that portions were for God, the priests, and the offerer. Sharing a meal pictured reconciliation.

3:17 perpetual statue. Everlasting commandment. eat neither fat nor blood. Because the fat, representing the best, belonged to God (v. 16) and the blood, the symbol of life, was offered to God in sacrifice for the remission of sin.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 3

1. The peace offering was a shared meal in which the offerer celebrated the benefits of a peaceful relationship with God, a reconciliation accomplished by the shed blood. In this meal, God, the priest, and the offerer all received a portion, symbolizing that all the parties were satisfied with the atonement. The features of the peace offering draw a straight line to the blessings and benefits Christians know and enjoy in the new covenant. Our peace with God flows from Christ's atonement. God is satisfied with Christ's sacrifice; Christ is satisfied with those He purchased; and we are satisfied with peace with God through Him. How does the gospel bring satisfaction to the soul?
2. There are significant parallels between the peace offering and the communal meal that believers can experience at the Lord's Table. The table is not a sacrifice but it declares the fact of the sacrifice Christ offered that removed every barrier, obstacle, and impediment to our fellowship with God as believers; it declares that we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Rejoice in the One who accomplished this on your behalf!

The Sin Offerings (4:1—5:13)

Chapter 4: The Lord directs the priests concerning the sin offering for various kinds of people.

4:2 soul. Person. through ignorance. Inadvertently or unintentionally.

4:3 If the priest . . . sin. Priests were not exempt from sin, unlike Christ, the ideal Priest, who offered Himself without spot (Heb. 9:14).

4:4–7 the door of the tabernacle. The priest brought the blood into the tabernacle and sprinkled some on the incense altar located just in front of the veil, separating the holy place from the holiest place. In contrast, Christ offered His sacrifice behind the veil in the immediate presence of God (Heb. 6:19–20; 9:12).

4:9 flanks . . . caul. See note at 3:4.

4:12 burn. A burning to consume or destroy in contrast to the burning of the burnt offering, meaning to offer up in smoke (1:9).

4:13–21 whole congregation of Israel sin. For national sins, the elders (representing all the people) must place their hands on the head of the sin offering (v. 15). Corporate sins have consequences.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 4

1. Sin is the transgression of the law, and ignorance of the law is no excuse. God is so holy and His law is so inflexible that as fallen mankind we cannot help but offend God. The heart is "deceitful" and "desperately wicked" (Jer. 17:9). Sin is instinctive, and we can commit it carelessly, thoughtlessly, or unintentionally. We can be guilty of such sins more than we know, imagining all is well. But God has devised the means to deal with sin; there is a sacrifice for sins of ignorance. And when we realize and confess them, they are covered by the atonement of Christ. Let us pray with David, "Cleanse thou me from secret faults" (Ps. 19:12). How can you develop a habit of keeping short accounts with God?
2. The chapter ends with a glorious statement that links atonement with forgiveness (v. 35). Since the sacrifice appeases God's wrath and satisfies His justice for the sinner, forgiveness is the wonderful consequence. All those who truly trust Christ alone for salvation are covered by His precious blood and exempt from any personal experience of God's wrath. Christ took the wrath in our place, and God is, therefore, faithful and just to forgive us our sins (1 John 1:9). How would you counsel a person who sincerely trusts in the Lord Jesus Christ, but still feels guilty and afraid of God's wrath?

Chapter 5: God gives more instructions for the sin offering and the trespass offering.

5:1–13 Interpreters differ about whether the sin offering or the trespass offering is in view here. Although different, there are similarities.

5:1 hear the voice of swearing. An oath, referring to someone who withholds evidence in court when charged to tell the truth (1 Kings 22:16; Matt. 26:63).

5:2–3 touch any unclean thing. Contact with anything that is ceremonially unclean renders one unclean. Ignorance does not exempt from guilt.

5:6 bring his trespass offering . . . for a sin offering. The distinction between these two sacrifices are not yet defined; perhaps no distinction in view here.

5:7 for his trespass. Here referring to the actual guilt of the wrong done not the sacrifice. two turtledoves, or two young pigeons. The law allowed for lesser animals depending on one's economic status, suggesting the importance of heart over form or ritual (v. 11).

5:8 divide it asunder. Divide it into parts.

The Trespass Offerings (5:14—6:7)

5:15 commit a trespass. Literally, "act treacherously a treacherous act." the shekel of the sanctuary. The standard weight of measurement kept in the sanctuary.

5:16 amends. Restitution. The key distinction between the sin and trespass offering involved the reparation to the wronged party. Significantly, this is the particular sacrifice Isaiah used to designate the Suffering Servant (Isa. 53:10). fifth part thereto. What was withheld must be paid back plus twenty percent.

5:17 wist. Knew (v. 18).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 5

1. How wonderful is God's grace! If people could not afford to offer the lamb or kid, just some flour would be acceptable. This is important evidence that there was nothing in the animal blood that had the power to deal with sin. God is always more concerned about the condition of the heart than conformity to ritual. Faith could see beyond whatever the sacrifice was to the reality casting the shadow—Jesus Christ. When our Lord fulfilled all these offerings, our forgiveness cost Him everything and cost us nothing (Rom. 6:23). What is the condition of your heart in light of Christ's sacrifice?

2. The trespass offering sees sin as debt to God: compensation must be paid to Him. Thus Christ taught us to pray, "And forgive us our debts" (Matt. 6:12). What we owed, Jesus paid. He made satisfaction to God. His passive obedience paid the Law's penalty; His active obedience paid the debt to the Law's precepts. These comprise His justifying righteousness. With our debts paid, what should be our focus? (See John 14:23–24.)

Chapter 6: The Lord concludes the directions for the trespass offering, and gives further ordinances about the burnt offering, meat offering, priestly consecration, and sin offering.

6:1–7 This passage is actually 5:20–26 in the Hebrew Bible.

6:2 against the LORD. Significantly, sins against men are ultimately against God. in fellowship. Literally, "in security of a hand," referring to property that had been entrusted.

6:4–5 restore. Restitution is required for these trespasses.

6:6 estimation. The value required for reparation, an essential component of the trespass offering as evidence of genuine repentance.

Instructions to Priests Concerning the Offerings (6:8—7:38)

6:10–11 linen garment. The priests must wear two sets of garments, one for clearing away the ashes and one for removing them from the camp.

6:14 the meat offering. This is the offering without blood but made up of grain products.

6:15 sweet savour. See note at 1:9. memorial of it. A token or memorial offering.

6:17 leaven. Yeast.

6:20 a meat offering perpetual. A complete grain offering.

6:27 shall be holy. Such objects must not be put to common use afterward.

6:28 sodden. Boiled. Unlike the metal vessel, the earthen vessel could not be thoroughly cleansed and therefore was to be broken.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 6

1. Wrong done to others is wrong done to God. Verse 2 says, "a trespass against the LORD, and lie unto his neighbour." Sin breaks both tables of the law (James 2:10). Psalm 51 is a classic example of this principle. David's sin was against several people; yet he confessed that he had sinned only against God (Ps. 51:4). Why does God see our sins against others as being foremost against Him?
2. Scooping up ashes and removing them from the camp is humble, yet sacred service for priests. So with us who are priests (1 Peter 2:5,9). Not only worship but also practical service can be done as unto the Lord (Col. 3:17,22–23). Nothing is mundane or secular for us. What little things are you able to do for the Lord that cause divine rejoicing? (See Zech. 4:10.)
3. The perpetual fire in part symbolizes the Holy Spirit (Isa. 4:4; Acts 2:3). His influences are enlightening, warming, comforting, and corrective. He also consumes our sin and purifies our hearts. Just as the priests ensured the continuous burning, how can we be sure to not quench the Spirit (1 Thess. 5:19)?

Chapter 7: The Lord gives further ordinances about the trespass offering and peace offering.

7:4 the flanks, and the caul. See note at 3:4.

7:9 all that is dressed. Literally, "all which is made or done."

7:12 thanksgiving. Spontaneous show of gratitude (cf. 19:5).

7:14 oblation. See note at 2:4. heave offering. That which is lifted up or dedicated in tribute.

7:16 on the morrow. On the next day.

7:18 imputed. Accounted. an abomination. Refuse or something foul.

7:20 cut off from his people. Some form of excommunication from the covenant privileges of God's people. A common discipline noted throughout Leviticus.

7:34 wave breast . . . heave shoulder. Refers to the gestures of moving backward and forward and lifting up to symbolize dedication and presentation to the Lord (23:11; Ex. 29:24–27).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 7

Eating together was a symbol of fellowship and friendship. That the priests shared in some of the offerings and even the people in the peace offering was a beautiful picture of the reconciliation between God and the sinner. Even when the meal was limited to the priests, it points to what Christians enjoy, for we are kings and priests (Rev. 1:6). Rejoice in the fellowship we have with Christ in His love and strength, for He carries us in His bosom (Isa. 40:11; cf. John 13:25) and strengthens us (Phil. 4:13).

INSTITUTION OF THE AARONIC PRIESTHOOD (8:1—10:20)

Chapter 8: Moses clothes and consecrates Aaron and his sons for the priesthood.

Priestly Consecration (8:1–36)

8:1 Moses. Functioning as prophet (God's representative to man), he appoints Aaron and his sons to be priests (Ex. 29). On the garments and consecration of the priests, see notes at Ex. 28–29.

8:2 garments. All the priests had splendid garments (Ex. 28:40), but Aaron's were unique, "for glory and for beauty" (Ex. 28:2). anointing oil. For its composition, see Ex. 30:22–33. bullock for the sin offering, and two rams, and a basket of unleavened bread. Before the priests could minister for others, their own sins had to be addressed—unlike the ideal Priest, Christ, who had no sin of His own.

8:3 all the congregation. Most likely, the appointed representatives and elders.

8:5 Obedient response to the Lord's commands regarding worship is a key theme throughout Leviticus. Man can approach God only in the way He prescribes.

8:6 washed them. For ceremonial cleansing (Ex. 29:4; 30:17–21), a picture of spiritual cleansing (Pss. 24:4; 73:13; Isa. 1:16).

8:7 Aaron is first clothed with his garments, his symbolic dignity (Ex. 28). coat. Undergarment of fine linen. girded him with the girdle. Wrapped him with a sash. ephod. The priestly vest or apron hanging from the shoulders with pouches holding stones engraved with the tribal names. curious girdle. Embroidered cape or sash.

8:8 breastplate. Held the Urim and Thummim which were stones used to discern the Lord's will in addition to the twelve stones bearing the tribal names. This ephod highlights Aaron as the representative of the people before God.

8:9 mitre. A turban.

8:10 anointing oil. The anointing includes the tabernacle and culminates with Aaron. (See Ex. 40:15 for the anointing of all the priests.) sanctified. Set apart or consecrated (throughout the chapter for both people and things).

8:11 laver and his foot. Basin and its pedestal.

8:13 put bonnets upon them. Wrap a headband or turban on them.

8:15 horns of the altar. Refers to protrusions on the corners of the brazen altar in the tabernacle court resembling horns. An imperfect priesthood defiled the altar itself, hence the need for atonement (cf. Heb. 7:19).

8:16 caul. Fatty portion or membrane around the organ (v. 25).

8:18–21 And he brought the ram for the burnt offering. See Ex. 29:15–18.

8:23 Aaron's right ear . . . thumb . . . toe. This symbolizes that they were entirely set apart for God's service.

8:27 wave offering. See note at 7:34.

8:30 the anointing oil, and of the blood. This signified acceptance with God and consecration for service.

8:31–32 Boil the flesh at the door of the tabernacle. By this meal, God counts Aaron and his sons His friends. It pictures reconciliation.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 8

1. God swears no oath when consecrating the Levitical priests because they were to be only temporary pictures of the perfect Priest to come. However, God consecrates His Son as Priest with an oath to an everlasting priesthood after the order of Melchizedek, a more complete type of Christ (Ps. 110:4; Heb. 7:20–21). The most outstanding fact demonstrating Aaron's necessary obsolescence as a priest was his own sin that had to be addressed before he could serve others. Christ was perfect and undefiled with no sins of His own to limit the power of His service and sacrifice. How does Christ's sinless perfection help us to trust Him to make satisfaction to God for our sins?
2. Oil upon Aaron is a symbol of the Holy Spirit equipping him for service. Israel's kings were anointed (1 Sam. 10:1) as were their prophets (Ps. 105:15; Isa. 61:1). Our Lord, by His anointing (Ps. 45:7) is the Prophet, Priest, and King of His elect people. He lovingly teaches them, saves them, and governs them. Pray that God would help you hear Him, rely on His mediation, and obey His gracious will. In Ps. 133:2 the anointing flows down to Christ's members, His church. Believers are all anointed ones, "Christ-ians" (1 John 2:20). How does Christ's anointing upon all believers affect your life choices?

Chapter 9: Moses completes the ordination of the priests, they offer their first sacrifices, and God shows His pleasure with holy fire.

The Priests' Entrance into Office (9:1–24)

9:1 eighth day. The first day of work after their solemn consecration for seven days. On the sacrifices for the consecration of the priest, see notes at Ex. 29.

9:4 meat offering. The grain offering is always offered with a bloody sacrifice.

9:8 for himself. This fuels the anticipation for the ideal Priest who would not have to sacrifice for Himself.

9:9 horns. See note at 8:15.

9:10 caul. See notes at 8:16; 9:19.

9:16 manner. The Hebrew word refers to specifications. Everything was being done in accord with the commands.

9:22 blessed them. Perhaps, as recorded in Num. 6:24–26.

9:23 glory of the LORD appeared. This is in fulfillment of v. 6.

9:24 a fire. Jehovah's benediction, showing His pleasure in the ceremonies inducting the priests into their office (cf. Judg. 13:20; 2 Chron. 7:1; 1 Kings 18:38).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 9

1. The outstanding moment of Aaron's first day of work was the fire of blessing that came out from the Lord (v. 24). The fire that consumed the sacrifice symbolized God's acceptance and pleasure. Three things stand out as points to ponder. First, the fire was preceded by obedience. Throughout the chapter, Aaron did as the Lord commanded (v. 6). Second, the fire revealed the divine glory. Third, the fire was received with reverence as the people enthusiastically shouted for joy and fell in worship. This is a genuine encounter with God. The whole narrative pictures the grace of the gospel. How does the church encounter God and experience His acceptance today?
2. After Aaron offered the sacrifice to the Lord, he lifted up his hand toward the people, and blessed them (v. 22). We are reminded of when our Lord "came out" from death and the grave having finished His work. As He ascended to heaven, "he lifted up his hands, and blessed them" (Luke 24:50). How is the blessing of Christ better than that of Aaron?

Chapter 10: Aaron's older sons offer incense not commanded by God, and God responds with death and further laws.

Nadab and Abihu's Sin (10:1–20)

10:1 strange fire. Refers to illegitimate fire (Ex. 30:9), most likely taking firepans with burning coals and igniting sweet incense. commanded them not. These priests sought to worship God in a way He had not prescribed. God has a zeal for His own worship.

10:2 The fire that signified acceptance (9:24) now slays them in judgment.

10:3 I will be sanctified. An illustration of God's holiness (Ex. 19:22) and the need of approaching God in His appointed way. held his peace. Literally, "kept silent."

10:4–7 Being removed like this would warn others not to trifle with God's ordinances (Acts 5:1–11).

10:5 carried . . . in their coats. Perhaps to avoid direct contact since priests were forbidden to touch dead bodies (21:1,11).

10:6 Uncover not your heads. You are forbidden to mourn.

10:9–10 Do not drink wine. It may be that wine caused Nadab and Abihu to be careless in holy duty.

strong drink. Normally a grain product in contrast to wine from the grape vine. difference between holy and unholy. Priests must abstain from alcohol (Ezek. 44:21) because they need clear minds to lead worship and judge soundly (Prov. 20:1).

10:12–15 These directions reiterate what had been said concerning the meat and peace offerings. See notes at chs. 2–3.

10:16 the goat of the sin offering. His concern is that this should have been eaten by the priests in holy celebration, not burnt (6:24–29).

10:19 Aaron said unto Moses. Aaron justifies their action by the chastisement that fell on him. It may also be that they burnt it because part of it had been offered by Nadab and Abihu, and God's displeasure against them would extend to His displeasure against their sacrifice. Their motive is clearly worthy, and the action can be deemed variation not rebellion.

10:20 he was content. Literally, "it was good in his eyes." He agreed with the explanation.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 10

1. Nadab and Abihu's sin concerned God's worship. Serious consequences followed because they departed from God's Word. There must be no "will worship" (Col. 2:23) such as worshiping as man wants and not as God commands. Divine worship is not a secondary issue. God is jealous for pure worship because it belongs to His glory. The contrast between the fire of blessing in ch. 9 and the fire of wrath here is instructive. Blessing was preceded by obedience; wrath was preceded by disobedience. Both revealed God's glory, and both were received with reverent fear. What principles must direct the church's worship if it is to obey God and honor His holiness?
2. Aaron's silence at the loss of his sons is impressive. Are you able to acknowledge the Lord in His chastisements (Heb. 12:5–6)? When we submit to God, we accept His discipline, then He sanctifies it to our good and His glory.
3. Fleshly and intoxicating worship is an abomination to God. This is why strong drink was forbidden to the priests (1 Tim. 3:8). Today, fleshly excesses mark worship styles in many churches. Use of worldly music and bodily movement appeal to the flesh instead of the understanding (Ps. 47:7), violate Scripture (Isa. 66:2; John 4:24), and resemble the worship of the heathen (Ex. 32:6–8). How can we ensure that we worship God in a reverent and glorifying way as He fills our praises (Ps. 22:3)?

LAWS RELATING TO RITUAL UNCLEANNESS (11:1—15:33)

Chapter 11: The Lord teaches Moses and Aaron how to instruct Israel in avoiding uncleanness due to eating or touching certain animals.

Uncleanness Due to Contact with Animals (11:1–47)

11:2 the beasts which ye shall eat. Opinions differ as to the categories of clean and unclean ranging from health issues to separation issues between Jews and Gentiles. At the very least, God is teaching His people the necessity of discernment, a key theme throughout Leviticus.

11:3 clovenfooted. Parted or divided hoof (vv. 7,26).

11:5 coney. Perhaps a rock badger or hyrax.

11:8 their carcase shall ye not touch. Not only was their meat forbidden, but also contact with their dead bodies.

11:10 an abomination. Something detestable, usually in a ceremonial or religious context.

11:13–23 Flying creatures are named according to their appearance and habits.

11:13 eagle . . . ossifrage . . . ospray. All these are in the vulture family.

11:14 kite. A falcon or hawk.

11:16 cuckow. A gull.

11:17 cormorant. A pelican.

11:18 gier eagle. Carrion vulture.

11:20 All fowls that creep. Refers to anything that flies or swarms, including insects.

11:24–40 The prohibition covers people (vv. 24–31), articles (vv. 32–35), some exceptions (vv. 36–38), and carcasses of clean animals (vv. 39–40).

11:25 even. Evening time when the sun goes down.

11:35 ranges for pots. Refers to a cooking furnace, a small stove.

11:44–47 I am the LORD your GOD. Gratitude for redemption is the mainspring of obedience.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 11

1. The laws of cleanness and uncleanness were designed to teach the meaning of the holiness required if man were to fellowship with God. Things unclean are to be avoided—a stigma is upon them. They are typical of sin, which is spiritual and moral uncleanness (Isa. 6:5). Nothing is literally unclean now under the gospel (Acts 10:13–15), but the principle applies that sin must be branded, repented of, and avoided (Prov. 4:14–15; 2 Cor. 6:17; 7:1). Significantly, the ultimate reason for keeping the laws was redemption. "For I am the LORD that bringeth you up out of the land of Egypt, to be your God: ye shall therefore be holy, for I am holy" (Lev. 11:45). What can we as the redeemed do to be more conformed to the image of our Redeemer (1 Peter 1:13–17)?
2. Some of the restrictions are very specific, naming the things to avoid; some are general, simply identifying characteristics such as fins and scales for water creatures. Even though a catfish is not specifically named, the absence of scales meant it was unclean. God expected His people to think. This parallels the call to walk in holiness in the world. The Bible does not identify every conceivable sin, but the principles of God's Word are clear enough to know what sin looks like. God expects us to think as well. Why is it necessary to cultivate discernment and careful thinking in order to be holy?

Chapter 12: God instructs Moses about the purification and offerings required of a mother after giving birth to a boy or a girl.

Uncleanness Due to Childbirth (12:1–8)

12:2 unclean seven days. The uncleanness is ceremonial, restricting outward behavior and associations; it does not describe the state of the heart before God. days of the separation. Like her monthly menstruation, two weeks (15:19–24).

12:3 circumcised. The mark of the covenant (Gen. 17:9–14).

12:4 three and thirty days. More than a month longer is needed to complete this ritual cleansing.

12:5 maid child. Girl. The purification is twice as long, for unknown reasons.

12:8 turtles. Turtledoves.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 12

1. The ceremonial uncleanness associated with childbirth is a vivid picture sermon of the inherent depravity of mankind from the inception of life. Circumcision, while it is a sign of the covenant, also declares by the removing of the flesh from the infant that sin is a problem from the beginning of life before any conscious transgression occurs. Here is the transmission of sin. The mother is classed as ceremonially unclean because she bears another sinner in Adam—a humbling reminder that "in sin did my mother conceive me" (Ps. 51:5). We need to guard against what is outside us and inside us. What are evidences that sin is in our hearts from our youth?
2. Although childbearing rendered mothers unclean because the children were born sinners, there were sacrifices in place to deal with sin and restore the mother to the place of fellowship. How wonderfully this anticipates the birth of One who would be without sin and would offer Himself as the sacrifice to restore sinners to an offended God. Rejoice that Christ came made of a woman and under the Law so that He could save sinners like us from our sin—actual and original.

Chapter 13: The Lord guides the priests in detecting and identifying leprosy in human skin diseases.

Uncleanness Due to Skin Diseases (13:1—14:57)

13:2 a rising. Refers to a swelling or an eruption of some sort in the skin (vv. 10,19,28,43). plague of leprosy. Literally, "contagion of a skin disease" (throughout chapter), a general designation for skin disorders and diseases perhaps, though disputed, including the leprosy known today as Hansen's disease with its disfiguring symptoms.

13:3 look on the plague. Observe the outbreak to determine if indeed it is a contagious disease or something harmless.

13:5 if the plague . . . be at a stay. Literally, "if the outbreak stood," an idiom for stopping. seven days more. Another week of quarantine to make sure it is not contagious.

13:6 he shall wash his clothes. Although pronounced clean and not contagious, there was still need for cleansing. Even the appearance of sin is to be avoided.

13:7–8 The spreading of the sore indicated it was malignant and infectious.

13:10 quick raw flesh. Literally, "formation of new flesh of living flesh," most likely referring to an oozing sore.

13:11 old leprosy. It has flared up again and cannot be cured.

13:13 covered all his flesh. The whiteness over the body probably shows that the contagious period is over and he can be pronounced clean.

13:14 raw flesh appeareth. See note at v. 10. The sign of a leprous condition.

13:16–17 Or if the raw . . . be changed unto white. If it has healed and is therefore now ritually clean.

13:23 burning boil. Perhaps a scar or scab.

13:24 hot burning. Literally, "burn of fire," probably referring to an accidental burn that has not healed but turned septic.

13:29 upon the head or the beard. Where hair can hide the disease.

13:30 scall. A mark of skin disease (also through v. 37).

13:37 be in his sight at a stay. Is determined to have stopped spreading (literally, "stood").

13:40–41 hair is fallen off his head. Baldness in this case is harmless, although sometimes a reproach (2 Kings 2:23).

13:42–44 a white reddish sore. Leprosy on the head.

13:45–46 covering upon his upper lip. This is a sign of mourning (Mic. 3:7). The cry of unclean warns others of ritual infection, also a sanitary precaution. without the camp. Outside the camp of the Israelites (cf. 2 Kings 7:3).

13:47–59 This section covers cases of damage to material due to fungoid infections. Not only the person but his clothing is affected by the disease. It too can carry infection and render the person ceremonially unclean. When so, it must be burned (vv. 52–57). When not, it must be washed (v. 58).

13:48 warp, or woof. The horizontal and vertical threads in a garment (vv. 49,51–53,57–59).

13:51 fretting. Malignant or painful (v. 52).

13:55 it is fret inward . . . without. The Hebrew is difficult, involving rare words. The idea seems to be referring to the rotten place being on either side of the garment.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 13

1. Many of the details of this chapter are obscure and difficult to understand. Yet the message is remarkably sobering and clear. These leprous skin conditions picture sin and its effect on the whole man. They vividly picture sin as defiling, ugly, loathsome, and disfiguring. The skin sores also show that God is concerned for purity. He cannot have fellowship with iniquity (Hab. 1:13). The leper must dwell alone, outside the camp. Nothing spoils fellowship with God like sin (Isa. 59:2). Ironically and beautifully, lepers also point to Jesus Christ who alone could touch the leper without becoming defiled and who could so graciously provide healing. What more can we do to avoid sin? When we defile ourselves, what should we immediately do to receive the cleansing provided for us in Christ (1 John 1:7,9)?
2. The priests had the responsibility to discern the status of the potential leper, taking time and precautions to make their judgments. They had to patiently examine, wait, and come to conclusions based on evidence. This is a good rule for us when seeing faults in others. “Charity . . . thinketh no evil” (1 Cor. 13:4–7; cf. Zech. 7:10)—always think the best of a person until you are compelled to think otherwise. Why is it important for the church, especially its elders, to discern evil and exclude unrepentant sin from the church?

Chapter 14: The Lord explains to Moses the ritual cleansing of people and houses purified from their leprosy.

14:4 cedar wood . . . scarlet . . . hyssop. The scarlet yarn would be used to tie the hyssop to the stick for the sprinkling of the blood (v. 7; cf. Ps. 51:7).

14:5–7 The sacrificed bird pictured the atonement necessary for cleansing (vv. 51–53). The freed bird may picture the resurrection or newness of life as the consequence of atonement or the removal of guilt by placing it on a substitute (16:21–22).

14:7 And he shall sprinkle the blood and water upon him . . . seven times, the number of completeness (2 Kings 5:10).

14:8 wash his clothes, and shave off all his hair. To ensure eradication of the disease. shall tarry abroad out of his tent. Literally, “will live outside of his tent.”

14:10 Three tenth deals of fine flour. Literally, “three-tenths of fine flour.” The exact measurement is implied, most likely equivalent to three omers or about fourteen pounds dry weight. log. A measurement of oil; about a pint (throughout the chapter).

14:11 maketh him clean. Pronounces or declares him clean.

14:12 wave offering. See note at 7:34 (v. 24).

14:14 the blood . . . upon the tip of the right ear . . . thumb . . . toe. Like the consecration of the high priest (v. 17; 8:23–24).

14:21 tenth deal. A tenth part or tithe.

14:34 leprosy in a house. In the form of mildew or mold.

14:37 hollow strakes . . . lower than the wall. Greenish or reddish streaks in depressions in the wall's surface.

14:44 fretting. Malignant.

14:45 break down the house. It is infected; the only course is destruction and disposal in a safe place.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 14

1. The bleakness of ch. 13 gives way to the hope and rejoicing of ch. 14. The healed sufferer can return to the camp. Leprosy could be cured (Num. 12). Regardless of how terrible the sin and its consequences, there is an appropriate sacrifice to provide its remedy. All of this points wonderfully to the Lord Jesus both in His willingness and ability to heal lepers of His day, but also in His provision of the only sacrifice sufficient to deal with the root cause which is sin. Spend time in worship of Him!
2. All the sacrifices picture some aspect of Christ's atoning work, but the two birds together illustrate the two essential components of the gospel message. The slain bird along with its blood typifies the atoning death of Jesus; the living one that is let loose points to His resurrection (cf. Rom. 4:25; 1 Cor. 15:3–4). At the same time, the pair illustrates something of the nature of the atonement itself that involves both propitiation (the satisfaction of God's wrath) and expiation (the removal of sin and guilt, Ps. 103:12). What blessings are you reminded of as you imagine that bird flying away?

Chapter 15: The Lord instructs Moses and Aaron concerning uncleanness related to the sexual organs.

Uncleanness Due to Bodily Discharges (15:1–33)

15:2 running issue. A genital discharge due to a health disorder.

15:3 flesh be stopped from his issue. Refers to some obstruction to the flow or discharge.

15:5–12 Everything in contact with the man becomes contaminated: a vivid picture of the power of the unclean to affect the clean.

15:13 cleansed of his issue. Healed of his disorder. Seven days probation is to make sure.

15:15 make an atonement. For the removal of the ceremonial defilement; the Lord graciously provides the means of restoration.

15:16 seed of copulation. Perhaps referring specifically to a nocturnal emission (Deut. 23:10).

15:19–23 A woman's menstruation renders her ceremonially unclean and defiles everything.

15:24 flowers. Refers to the menstrual blood (v. 33).

15:25–30 out of the time of her separation. A blood issue that is not related to her menstrual cycle (cf. Mark 5:25).

15:28 cleansed. Healed. The usual seven days were needed to confirm the cure.

15:30 Compare with v. 15.

15:31 These laws taught the Israelites that only ritually clean people may worship in God's holy place.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 15

1. The bodily emissions addressed are part of the normal course of life and are not statements of the individual's personal relationship or standing with God. Inwardly one could be right with God and still be outwardly ceremonially unclean, thus prohibited from the public rituals of worship. These were graphic object lessons of spiritual truth. Discharge from the organs of procreation reminds us of our fall in our first parents and the transmission of sin to us and to our descendants. Sin is internal and oozes from within us, from our nature (Ps. 51:5). It is often secret (Pss. 19:12; 90:8). But what does God deem as essential (Matt 5:8)?
2. This chapter provides an outstanding lesson regarding the contaminating power of the unclean thing. Everything and anyone that had contact with the unclean became unclean. Sin is an impurity that not only defiles us but others (1 Cor. 15:33). It is a warning for every believer to walk through this world circumspectly to avoid anything that would rob us of our fellowship with God. What are some things around you that could contaminate you? How can you avoid their defilement?

THE DAY OF ATONEMENT (16:1–34)

Chapter 16: The Lord instructs Moses about the annual entrance of the high priest into the most holy place to cleanse Israel on the Day of Atonement.

16:2 not at all times into the holy place. Access to the innermost sanctuary, behind the second veil was limited to once a year. In the Old Testament, the way to God was open but restricted, anticipating the perfect sacrifice to come.

16:4 holy linen coat. Instead of his splendid garments worn at other times. This simpler garb befits his penitence and offering of sacrifice for his sins and points to the humiliation of Christ who set aside the evidences of His eternal glory to be clothed in human flesh. breeches. Leggings or trousers. girdle. Sash or wrap around. mitre. A turban-like headband.

16:5 two kids. Although two, they formed one sin offering. for a burnt offering. To give thanks when the atonement was made.

16:7–8 cast lots. Not chance, but expecting the Lord would direct the outcome (Prov. 16:33). scapegoat. The Hebrew has been disputed. Either a proper name referring to where the goat was sent or more likely a compound word meaning "goat of disappearing."

16:9–10 The two goats picture the two aspects of atonement: propitiation and expiation. God is satisfied and sin is removed.

16:12 within the vail. The second curtain behind which was the ark of the covenant, the climactic symbol of God's presence.

16:13 cloud of the incense. Incense on the coals (from the altar of sacrifice) produces fragrant smoke, signifying God's acceptance of Aaron's sin offering. Unlike Christ, he had to offer sacrifice for his own sins.

16:14 blood of the bullock. He brought atoning blood into God's presence and it secured mercy (Heb. 9:7)—picturing propitiation.

16:15 Aaron must sacrifice the goat and repeat the process this time for the people.

16:16 atonement for the holy place. The defiling of the sanctuary underscored the power of sin and the need for a sinless Mediator.

16:17 no man in the tabernacle. Israel could see that atonement depended upon the representative God had chosen and pointed to the ideal Mediator to come (Acts 4:12).

16:18 the altar. The altar of incense in front of the second curtain. horns. Each corner had a protruding horn.

16:19 hallow. Consecrate or declare to be holy. Even the incense altar becomes defiled and must be sanctified.

16:20 reconciling. Making atonement, appeasing, or propitiating. Through the sprinkled blood, God's wrath is quieted into peace.

16:21 lay both his hands. More specifically, "lean his hands," symbolizing sin being transferred to the animal as a substitute.

16:22 let go the goat in the wilderness. A symbolic display of the expiation or the removal of the people's sins.

16:23 Aaron . . . shall put off the linen garments. Now the work of expiation was done, after washing, he could wear his splendid garments. Humiliation gave way to exaltation as in the ministry of Christ. Death gave way to resurrection.

16:29 in the seventh month. September/October, or Hebrew, Tishri. afflict your souls. Humble yourselves, an idiom for fasting. The Day of Atonement was the only fast day ordered by God in Israel's religious calendar (v. 31).

16:31 sabbath of rest. Literally, "a sabbath of special sabbath." This was observed once each year, by a holy rest, holy mourning for sin, and comprehensive pardon. for ever. The Hebrew can refer simply to a long time. As an aspect of ceremonial law, Christ fulfilled it and made it obsolete (Col. 2:16–17).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 16

1. One of the most striking events of the Day of Atonement concerned the two goats, which together picture the effects of the one sacrifice for sin offered by Christ. The slain goat pictures the godward effect of the atonement to propitiate or satisfy God's wrath against sin. The sprinkling of the blood on the mercy seat that covered the righteous demands of the law satisfied the broken law. The scapegoat bearing the sins of the people away pictures expiation, the necessary consequence of propitiation. The guilt of sin was removed never again to appear; the goat did not wander back into camp. All the sins of the people were upon it and away into the wilderness it went forever (Ps. 103:12). The two are inseparably linked: if there is propitiation there must be expiation. Christ did not die in vain. How does this double sacrifice picture the assurance of the believer that God is pleased with him?
2. Aaron's role on the Day of Atonement dramatically portrayed the work of the ideal High Priest to come. When Aaron stripped himself of the royal garments of his office to do the work in the sanctuary, it pictured Christ's work of humiliation whereby He became obedient unto death. When Aaron entered behind the veil, it pictured the death of Christ whereby He presented the evidence of His sacrifice to the Father. But when Aaron exited the veil and put on his royal robes again, it pictured the resurrection of Christ and His earned exaltation. He entered with the blood of sacrifice; he exited as evidence of the accepted sacrifice. As dramatic as the events were, Aaron's sacrifice for himself was a clear indication that One greater than Aaron was necessary and was certain to come. Pray for grace to rejoice in the Savior, the fulfillment of these shadows!

THE HOLINESS GOD REQUIRES OF HIS PEOPLE (17:1—22:33)

Chapter 17: The Lord commands that all blood and sacrifices must be offered at His tabernacle, and no blood or animal that dies naturally may be eaten.

Holiness in Eating Food (17:1–16)

17:3–4 Centralized worship was a safeguard against imitating the heathen practices (2 Kings 16:4) as well as circumventing the chosen mediator. blood shall be imputed. An idiom for guilt being charged to him. cut off. Excluded from the worshiping community, excommunicated. Worshiping outside God's prescription was a serious offense (vv. 9–10,14).

17:7 devils. Suggesting they had already done this, perhaps with the golden calf (Ex. 32). Idolatry is devil worship (1 Cor. 10:20). whoring. Idolatry is a form of spiritual adultery.

17:11 in the blood. "Lifeblood" is from God and is to be reverenced (Gen. 9:6). an atonement. An offering of life through death (the pouring out of the life).

17:12 eat blood. Given the divine definition of blood, this would be sacrilege. sojourneth. Lives as an alien resident (v. 13).

17:13 cover it with dust. Honor it and keep it from wrong use.

17:15 stranger. Resident alien.

17:16 iniquity. Guilt.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 17

1. We must have no do-it-yourself worship. Only what God has prescribed is acceptable and glorifying to Him. To worship otherwise is to serve the Devil (v. 7; 1 Cor. 10:20–21). How are modern Christians tempted to worship God in ways outside His commandments and thus unacceptable to Him?
2. The definition of the blood puts the atonement in view. Blood stands for life. Blood is a vital liquid circulating in our bodies conveying nutrients and oxygen. When blood is shed, life is taken. Sin's penalty is death. "The soul that sinneth, it shall die" (Ezek. 18:4). "The wages of sin is death" (Rom. 6:23). Our Lord shed His blood. This culminated in John 19:34 when one of the soldiers with a spear pierced His side, and blood and water came out. The One who is the Prince of life was sacrificed to the justice of a sin-hating God, which appeased His anger. On the cross Christ poured out His life. Take time to glory in the cross, the heart of the gospel.

Chapter 18: Unlike the surrounding pagans, Israel was to maintain pure sexual relations and family life.

Holiness in the Marriage Relationship (18:1–30)

18:2 I am the LORD your GOD. The context of holiness is the covenant.

18:3 doings of . . . Egypt . . . Canaan. Holiness is contrary to the world.

18:5 live in them. Or by them. God's restraining and directing law is the only standard for life with Him.

18:6 near of kin. Literally, "a flesh relation of his flesh," referring to a close relative.

18:7 uncover her nakedness. Euphemism for sexual intercourse.

18:9 thy sister. See the curse pronounced in Deut. 27:22. Born abroad means not in her father's house.

18:10 thine own nakedness. Grandchildren seen as part of grandparents' bodies (Gen. 31:43).

18:11–12 father's wife's daughter . . . father's sister. Prohibition of marriage relations because of blood relation to the father.

18:18 take a wife to her sister, to vex her. Literally, "woman to her sister you must not take to make her a rival wife."

18:19 uncleanness. Her monthly menstruation.

18:20 lie carnally. Commit an act of adultery (Ex. 20:14,17).

18:21 Molech. The Ammonites' god to whom infants were sacrificed by fire (20:2–5; 1 Kings 11:7). profane. Bring down to the level of the common or ordinary.

18:22 lie with mankind, as with womankind. Homosexuality is unequivocally forbidden.

18:23 lie with any beast. Practice bestiality. confusion. Perversion.

18:24 Defile not ye yourselves. Not only ceremonially, but spiritually and morally also.

18:25 Evidence from the Ancient Near East shows that these sexual perversions were not only practiced but even regulated by civil law.

18:26 sojourneth among you. Dwells for a time as a resident alien.

18:29 cut off. Excommunicated from the people of God.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 18

1. Incest, voyeurism, adultery, homosexuality, and bestiality characterize a degenerate society. They show the unrenewed and unrestrained heart (Jer. 17:9). These perversions were rife in ancient Egypt and throughout Canaan. So perverse was the pagan society that even some Hittite laws identified what kind of animals were permitted for bestiality. Under God's judgment, those civilizations decayed and were destroyed. It is a solemn warning to Western nations with their liberal and relativistic outlook. Have God's standards of holiness changed (see James 1:17)?
2. God takes sexual sin very seriously. In v. 22 abomination means "disgusting," "hated," abhorrent." For such perverted behavior the Canaanites were ejected from their land (vv. 25,28) as Israel was from that same land afterward (Ps. 106:40). Because sin is an outbreak, it needs the bounds and reins of God's laws to keep it in check. Pray to be kept from such sins. How can God's Word help you (Ps. 119:9–10)?

abhorrent

Chapter 19: The Lord calls Israel to be holy as He is holy, especially by loving their neighbors as themselves.

Holiness in Justice and Love toward God and Man (19:1–37)

19:2 Ye shall be holy. These laws guard the sanctity of God's people.

19:3 Ye shall fear every man his mother, and his father, and keep my sabbaths. Reference to the fifth and fourth commandments.

19:4 Turn ye not unto idols. Idols were worthless and inept to help the people of God. This is a reference to the first commandment.

19:5–8 your own will. A voluntary sacrifice. To be eaten within two days to preserve spontaneity and prevent hoarding.

19:9–10 not wholly reap. Divine mercy for the poor and outcasts of society. This behavior imitates the Lord (Deut. 10:18–19). It is loving one's neighbor as self, the second greatest commandment.

19:11 Ye shall not steal, neither deal falsely, neither lie one to another. By the latter two, truth is stolen. Reference to eighth and ninth commandments.

19:12–13 ye shall not swear by my name falsely . . . Thou shalt not defraud thy neighbour. These breaches of the law link the first and second tables.

19:15 respect. Show partiality for. in righteousness. The way of dealing with one's neighbor ought not to be conditioned on economic status but on justice.

19:16 talebearer. Slanderer. stand against. The idea conveyed here is remaining idle while the life of one's neighbor is at stake.

19:18 thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. Jesus and Paul quote this as summarizing the second table of the law (Matt. 22:39; Rom. 13:9). This is one of the most quoted Old Testament passages in the New Testament.

19:19 gender with a diverse kind. Reproduce with a different breed. mingled seed . . . garment mingled. These object lessons of separation taught them to avoid mixture in worship and friendships (2 Cor. 6:14–18).

19:20–22 bondmaid. Her punishment was mitigated due to her inferior position as a slave. Normally the penalty was death (Deut. 22:22). This protects the rights of slaves.

19:23–25 uncircumcised. Left unharvested.

19:26 use enchantment. Resort to occult and superstitious practices.

19:28 cuttings in your flesh . . . marks. Body piercing, self-mutilation, and tattoos can be expressions of worship (1 Kings 18:28; Jer. 41:5) or mourning for the dead (Deut. 14:1; Jer. 16:6–7; 48:37). God forbids degrading the human body, for He created man in His image.

19:29 Prostitute can mean "profane" and may refer to copying the cult prostitution of the Canaanites.

19:31 familiar spirits. Necromancers who seek to communicate with spirits of the dead. wizards. Soothsayers who seek knowledge through spirits.

19:32–34 Respect for the elderly and for the immigrant is enjoined here. hoary head. The gray hair of an old man. stranger. A resident alien. vex. Oppress or mistreat. The commandment to love one's neighbor includes people of other nations and cultures (Luke 10:25–37).

19:35–37 no unrighteousness in judgment. Honesty in judicial and business matters.

19:35 meteyard. Either the instrument used or the act of measuring. in measure. Usually, in reference to liquids.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 19

1. Many of these laws apply to inward feelings and are based on the fact that the Lord is our God. If there were no other reasons for obedience than to acknowledge the Lord and the relationship we have with Him, that would be enough. This is where obedience must begin (Ps. 51:6; Eph. 6:6). According to Rom. 8:13 and Col. 3:5, why must sin be put to death?
2. Leaving some of the corn and grape harvest behind for the poor shows that God is kind, and we also should be kind to those less favored. Even though we may not have fields or vineyards, it is still possible to keep the spirit of the law. However it is manifested, we are to love our neighbors as we love ourselves. It may look different for us than for historic Israel, but what might it look like for you?
3. God prohibited Israel from cutting or permanently marking their bodies as the pagans did (v. 28). Christians should not mar their bodies, for they are God's temple (1 Cor. 6:19–20). They also should not participate in customs that identify them with paganism. What does this imply about tattoos and body piercing?

Chapter 20: Israel is instructed to not follow the sins of Canaanite paganism or sexual immorality.

Various Sins: Their Prohibition and Punishment (20:1–27)

20:2–5 sojourn. Live as resident aliens. Molech. The Ammonite god worshiped by burning infants alive in the hollow belly of its idol. Those who looked the other way were equally guilty.

20:6 familiar spirits . . . wizards. See note at 19:31. The apostate King Saul is an example (1 Sam. 28).

20:7–8 Sanctify yourselves. Holiness comes through obedience to God's Word (John 17:17; Eph. 5:26).

20:9 curseth his father or his mother. The death penalty was the punishment for this because parents are God's representatives in the home.

20:10 committeth adultery. The death penalty was also invoked for this to protect the sanctity of marriage.

20:12–15 with his daughter in law . . . with mankind, as he lieth with a woman . . . a wife and her mother . . . with a beast. Further cases of a man engaging in unnatural sexual relations.

20:12 confusion. That which is disgraceful and contrary to nature and the divine order.

20:14 burnt with fire. Perhaps after being stoned (Josh. 7:25).

20:16 lie down thereto. In order to solicit sex (18:23). All these gross perversions were practiced and even regulated in Egypt and Canaan (v. 23).

20:17 nakedness. Mutual exposure or sexual intercourse.

20:18 her sickness . . . her fountain. Relations with a woman who is menstruating.

20:19–21 Further examples of unlawful relationships. they shall be childless. A great affliction in those times.

20:22 spue. Vomit. A graphic image of the perversions making the land sick.

20:26 be holy unto me: for I the LORD am holy. The logic of holiness (1 Peter 1:16).

20:27 See note at 19:31.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 20

1. A beautiful contrast to horrendous Molech is our Lord Jesus. He took infants in His arms and blessed them! Thank God for revealed religion: we are not left in heathen darkness and barbarity.

How can we stand for the children today, both born and unborn, against those who would sacrifice them to the gods of pleasure, money, and selfish ambition?

2. The Lord who calls for holiness also works it in His people. Verses 7–8 say, "Sanctify yourselves . . . I am the LORD which sanctify you" (cf. v. 26). His will is that we be holy, and His power will make believers holy (1 Thess. 4:3; 5:23–24). This does not excuse laziness, but on the contrary it encourages and empowers our utmost effort, knowing all our efforts to become holy are from Him and through Him (Phil. 2:12–13). How does it encourage you knowing that God makes His children holy?
3. Some of the sexual sins prohibited defy imagination, but they were common practices in the world into which God's people were going to live. Some ancient cultures even had laws to regulate the circumstances in which some of these horrendous acts were permissible. They testify to the depravity that is in man's heart. These perversions were also rife in Paul's day (Rom. 1:24–28) and are becoming so in our day (2 Tim. 3:1–3). We cannot be the friend of this corrupt world (James 4:4). True religion, based on God's law, lifts society's morals; when our true religion declines, so does our society. Remember to pray for those in authority and those who make our laws, so many of which, like Canaan of old, regulate rather than prohibit sin.

Holiness of Priests, Gifts, and Sacrifices (21:1—22:33)

Chapter 21: The Lord instructs Moses that the priests must excel in ritual holiness.

21:1 defiled. Made ceremonially unclean by excessive mourning for the dead (vv. 10–11).

21:2–3 for his kin. Certain exceptions: parents, children, brother, unmarried sister; but the mourning rendered them unclean and temporarily disqualified them from their priestly duties.

21:5 Signs of grieving like the heathen did.

21:6 profane. Make common or bring down (the holy to the ordinary). To profane themselves was to profane the Lord.

21:7 a wife. Priests' wives must be blameless too (vv. 13–15).

21:9 daughter of any priest. She also must be blameless. If the priest tolerates this in his daughter, how can he expect otherwise from his people? The New Testament also places expectations on the conduct of the children of elders (1 Tim. 3:4).

21:12 the crown of the anointing oil. Literally, "the consecration of the anointing oil."

21:17 any blemish. Physical defect, a picture of moral blemish. This pointed to the beauty and perfection of Christ, whom they typified.

21:18 any thing superfluous. Some part too large or out of proportion, disfiguration.

21:20 crookbackt. Hunchbacked. dwarf. Someone overly thin or withered. stones broken. Testicles damaged.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 21

1. The priests were man's representatives before God, and each one foreshadowed the coming of the ideal and perfect Priest, the Lord Jesus Christ. Christ alone was free from blemish without any spot of imperfection, so all of these personal restrictions on the Old Testament imperfect priesthood were means of showing the absolute necessity of the Priest to come. Worship the perfect High Priest (Heb. 3:1–6)!

2. Although they were imperfect, the priests had to guard themselves so as not to distort any more the One they served and represented. So modern-day ministers, elders, and deacons must live beyond reproach so as not to obscure the One they serve and represent (1 Tim. 3). The example of God's servants is important. As chief men among His people (Lev. 21:4), people will look to them. How can you better reflect the image of Christ to those around you?

Chapter 22: The Lord commands Moses that the priests must honor His holiness by rightly handling the holy things of the tabernacle.

22:2 separate. Deal respectfully or treat with awe. profane. Treat as common or ordinary. hallow. Consecrate or set apart as holy.

22:3 uncleanness upon him. State of ceremonial uncleanness, disqualifying him from priestly duty.

22:4 leper. Person suffering from some kind of skin disorder. running issue. Some kind of discharge.

22:6 soul. Person (v. 11).

22:10 stranger. Unauthorized person, perhaps a foreigner (v. 25). sojourner. Resident alien. Food allotted to the priests is only for his and his family's use.

22:14 unwittingly. Unknowingly; the Hebrew refers to an unintentional mistake. Restitution is to be made by an ordinary Israelite who eats consecrated food.

22:15 profane. Treat the holy as common or ordinary.

22:16 suffer them to bear the iniquity of trespass. Literally, "cause them to bear or endure the guilt or punishment of the trespass."

22:19 beeves. Cattle.

22:21–30 perfect to be accepted. Sacrifices for God must be without defects, not from a wrong source, nor of the wrong kind, and must be offered in the right way.

22:22 wen. Malignant sore.

22:27 dam. Literally, "mother."

22:32 profane. Pollute or defile by treating as common. These regulations are to prevent the ultimate dishonor to God. hallowed. Set apart, regarded as distinct from the ordinary or mundane.

22:33 Redemption is the basis for holiness.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 22

1. All believers are priests in Christ (1 Peter 2:5,9). They owe it to their God to be clean and abstain from all appearance of evil (1 Thess. 5:22). Those that belong to the Lord in this special relationship have a responsibility to behave differently and separately from the norms of the world. They must only offer their best to God—their wholehearted devotion. How should the knowledge that he or she is a priest shape a Christian's life?
2. That the Old Testament priests had to be free from outward blemish (v. 21) points to and anticipates the ideal Priest, our Lord Jesus, who alone is free from any inner or moral defect, and whose sacrifice, being perfect, perfects us (Heb. 10:14). When you see your spiritual blemishes, how can you look to Him, who is the righteousness of God for sinners?

THE SABBATH AND THE SACRED CALENDAR (23:1–44)

Chapter 23: The Lord gives Moses instructions about the feasts of Israel.

The Sabbath (23:1–3)

23:2 holy convocations. Sacred assemblies to which all Israel was summoned (the word occurs throughout the chapter). This encourages unity.

23:3 the sabbath of rest. Literally, "a sabbath of sabbath observance," referring to the weekly Sabbath (the fourth commandment). The Hebrew term sabbath means, "cessation." From creation to the resurrection of Christ, the weekly Sabbath was the seventh day in imitation of God ceasing His creative work. From the resurrection, the weekly Sabbath is the first day celebrating Christ's finished work and the new creation. See Isa. 58:13 for guidelines of observance.

The Passover and Unleavened Bread (23:4–8)

23:5 the first month. This was Nisan, in the spring, commemorating the exodus of God's people from Egypt.

23:6 feast of unleavened bread. Commemorating leaving Egypt when the people did not have time to make their bread rise because of their hasty exit from Egypt.

23:7 servile work. Routine labors of life (throughout the chapter).

The Firstfruits (23:9–14)

23:10–11 the sheaf. A bundle of sheaves or small heap of cut grain representing all the harvest. It was waved and dedicated to God, to show He had given it all to them.

23:13 deals. Parts. hin. Approximately one and a half gallons.

23:14 And ye shall eat neither. None for themselves until God had His firstfruits, in recognition that God is the source of daily sustenance. He supplies the daily bread.

The Feast of Weeks or Pentecost (23:15–22)

23:15–16 count unto you from the morrow after the sabbath . . . fifty days. The Feast of Weeks at harvest end, when the crops were gathered in. This is Pentecost, from the Greek word for "fifty."

23:22 clean riddance. A complete harvest or gathering in.

The Blowing of Trumpets (23:23–25)

23:24 blowing of trumpets. A series of blasts on ram's horns, to call the people together for sacred assembly and rest.

The Day of Atonement (23:26–32)

23:27 day of atonement. The greatest of all the annual feasts (ch. 16). afflict your souls. An idiom for fasting.

23:32 sabbath of rest. That this occurred yearly from evening to evening on the ninth to tenth day of the month illustrates that sabbath does not necessarily refer to the seventh day (v. 39). The day of the week would vary from year to year.

The Feast of Tabernacles or Booths (23:33–44)

23:40 boughs. Literally, "fruit."

23:43 booths. Tents. Commemorating their life in the wilderness when they lived in tents before inheriting Canaan and settled dwellings.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 23

1. Whereas the weekly Sabbath belongs to the moral law and is thus timelessly relevant, the feasts are part of the ceremonial law and thus are temporary pictures or object lessons of some aspect of gospel truth, all of which are things to think about when keeping the weekly Sabbath. Notice in v. 3 "in all your dwellings"—we must observe the Sabbath at home as well as in the assembly. How do we keep it as "the sabbath of rest"? How do we keep it as "the sabbath of the LORD"?
2. Worship the Lord as you consider the ways He fulfilled the feasts. The Passover is fulfilled in the Lord's Supper (1 Cor. 5:7), that we might not forget the grace that redeemed us, by an infinitely greater Lamb without blemish (1 Cor. 11:24–25). The firstfruits of the harvest was for God, then the rest for His people. A type of resurrection—Christ first, afterward we all shall follow (1 Cor. 15:20). That this occurred the day following the Sabbath points to the day of Christ's resurrection. The Feast of Weeks is the New Testament day of Pentecost. Similarly, fifty days from the day after the Sabbath means Pentecost lands on the first day of the week—the new day for the Sabbath (Matt. 28:1–6). Thus, the day of Pentecost in Acts 2 fell on the Lord's Day. What more appropriate day for the giving of the Spirit (Acts 2:33; Rev. 1:10)? The blowing of trumpets is a type of gospel preaching which is always music to the convicted sinner's ears (Ps. 89:15). It calls us to rest in Christ (Matt. 11:28–30) and assemble with His people (Gen. 49:10; Acts 2:41–42).

SOME REMAINING MATTERS (24:1—27:34)

Chapter 24: God's gives additional instructions about proper worship and administering His justice.

The Holy Lamps and Shewbread (24:1–9)

24:2 pure oil olive beaten. The olives were pounded, not pressed to produce the best oil.

24:3–4 order it from the evening unto the morning. Preparations were made to ensure continuous burning.

24:5 twelve cakes. Ring-shaped bread to be placed on the table. It was called "shewbread," literally, the "bread of presence" (Ex. 25:30). two tenth deals. Two-tenth parts.

24:7 pure frankincense. An aromatic gum resin that burned as a fragrant incense to signify that God accepted it.

24:9 And it shall be Aaron's and his sons. To eat when replaced by fresh loaves each Sabbath.

The Punishment of a Blasphemer (24:10–23)

24:11 blasphemed. Slandered or uttered a curse against.

24:12 in ward. In a guardhouse under custody. that the mind of the LORD MIGHT BE SHEWED THEM. Literally, "to declare to them distinctly the mouth (word) of the Lord."

24:14–15 stone him. God clarifies the situation, producing a case law for the future (v. 22). This illustrates the universal applicability of the moral law, for his father was an Egyptian. bear his sin. Bear the guilt and punishment due the sin.

24:17 surely be put to death. Murder demands a just punishment (Gen. 9:6; Ex. 21:12,23).

24:18–20 The principle of lex talionis, the law of retaliation, is seen here. The penalty fits the crime. For lesser offenses, a just and equitable penalty was exacted. This principle was to guide civil authorities in executing justice; it was not intended for personal vendettas. Christ corrects the abuse of this principle (Matt. 5:38–42).

24:19 blemish. Injury.

24:20 breach. Fracture.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 24

1. Attention to two features of the tabernacle suggest aspects of worship. The candlestick represents Christ, who is our Light (Luke 2:32). It also represents His churches in a dark world (Phil. 2:15; Rev. 1:13,20). Some friends asked Robert Murray M'Cheyne about preparing sermons. He said, "Beaten oil—beaten oil for the lamps of the sanctuary" (cf. Ex. 27:20; Lev. 24:2). Diligent and thorough preparation, under God, will produce enlightening sermons. The loaves symbolized the Lord's presence with His people, and His provision for them. He is our "staff of life," who always satisfies our needs. Worship our Lord as the Light of the World and the Bread of Life.
2. The fact that the half-Israelite was subject to the Ten Commandments indicates their application to all men. The moral law summarized in the Ten Commandments is universal, timeless, and inflexible. The particular penalties for breaking the law were part of the civil laws given as specific applications of the moral law suited for that society. Whereas the moral law that defines God's unchanging standards retain their relevance, the applications vary. God has ordained governments for the administration of His justice (Rom. 13). Pray for those in authority over you (1 Tim. 2:1–3).

Chapter 25: The Lord gives instructions to Moses about the Sabbath year and the year of Jubilee.

The Sabbatical and Jubilee Years (25:1–55)

25:2 land keep a sabbath. No sowing or harvesting during this year-long rest for the land. Even servants and cattle rest.

25:5 own accord. What has seeded itself and needs harvesting. undressed. Untrimmed with a free-growing crop. All labor is suspended.

25:6–7 meat. Food of any kind. Meaning, what is spontaneously produced can be eaten by people and livestock.

25:8 forty and nine years. The fiftieth year is a sabbath. It immediately follows the land's seventh cycle of sabbatical years.

25:9 jubile. Literally, "blast" and is translated the "joyful sound" (Ps. 89:15).

25:10 liberty throughout all the land. Mortgaged property were to be restored. Men who sold themselves to servitude because of poverty were to be freed. jubile. Remission or release announced with the blowing of a ram's horn. A different word from v. 9 (occurs throughout the chapter).

25:11–12 ye shall not sow, neither reap. The land was to enjoy a release from yielding produce for another year in addition to the sabbath year.

25:14 not oppress one another. The Hebrew means "to mistreat" (v. 17). The full value of anything sold was to be given back again.

25:15–16 according unto the number of years of the fruits. When land is sold and returned. The nearness of the Jubilee year would affect the amount of crops it could yield. To treat others fairly, its value must be estimated accordingly.

25:20–22 What shall we eat? Obedience means God will miraculously provide over three years.

25:25 waxen poor. Impoverished (vv. 35,39). kin. The near kinsman or kinsman-redeemer who was obligated to act for his relative.

25:26–27 able to redeem it. Because his finances have changed for the better. An evenhanded settlement must be made.

25:28 not able to restore it. In this case, the Jubilee would ensure it returns to him.

25:29–30 sell a dwelling house in a walled city. A special case; city dwellings were not subject to the same law.

25:32–34 the cities of the Levites. The exception because they had scattered towns as their possession, to perform their duties throughout the land.

25:34 suburbs. Pastureland or a strip of land outside a city's walls under the jurisdiction of the city.

25:35 fallen in decay. Literally, "his hand is shaky," an idiom for being in economic stress.

25:36 usury. Interest.

25:37 victuals. Food.

25:38 Redemption from Egypt is the grateful motive for kindness and fairness to others.

25:47–55 if a sojourner or stranger wax rich by thee. If a Hebrew has indentured himself to a non-Hebrew in Canaan. The Hebrew still retains his right of redemption. And the last resort is the Jubilee when he can go out free.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 25

1. The land lying fallow each sixth year helps it to replenish and produce more the following year. The Lord's commands are wise and beneficial (Rom. 12:2). Also, if God gives the land a sabbath, He owns it, not the Israelites. All we have is entrusted to us as stewards. How should it change our attitude and use of our possessions when we know that God is the Owner, and we are just servants managing His property?
2. The year of Jubilee foreshadows the blessings of the gospel. Its trumpet was sounded immediately after the Day of Atonement. When sin is put away, God's favor makes joyful blessings abound toward us (Ps. 103:1–5; Isa. 61:1–3). How should we respond (Isa. 61:3)?
3. Throughout the chapter, the responsibility of the near kinsman to act in behalf of his needy relative is in focus. In the most sublime sense, the Lord Jesus is our kinsman-redeemer, who does for us what needs to be done for our welfare. He has the relational right, for through the covenant and incarnation he calls us brothers (Heb. 2:11–14). He has the resources and the love to release us and make us His own (Eph. 3:8; 5:25). According to these same verses, what responsibilities do we have as His redeemed?

Chapter 26: God declares blessings for obedience and curses for disobedience.

Promises and Warnings (26:1–46)

26:4 rain in due season. The early and latter rain, autumn and spring. Essential for good harvests.

26:5 vintage. Grape harvest. dwell in your land safely. God would be their security against enemy nations round them (cf. 1 Kings 4:25).

26:6 evil beasts. Dangerous wild animals or beasts of prey.

26:9 I will have respect unto you. Literally, "I will turn toward you or face you." make you fruitful, and multiply. The original blessing of creation (Gen. 1:28).

26:10 old store. Food from the previous harvest.

26:11 my tabernacle. Refers generally to the fact that God dwelt with His people, rather than specifically to the place where worship was conducted. my soul. An expression designating God's person, equivalent to the pronoun "I."

26:13 upright. Walk in an upright position in contrast to having been bowed down in bondage. This verse is a statement of liberation.

26:16 I also will do this unto you. As blessings accompanied obedience, so certainly curses accompanied disobedience. consumption. A wasting disease. burning ague. Fever.

26:17 set my face against you. The greatest calamity (in contrast with Num. 6:22–27).

26:18 I will punish you seven times. Figure of speech to denote the complete and appropriate chastisement (vv. 21,24,28).

26:19 pride of your power. Your presumption of strength. heaven as iron, . . . earth as brass. No rain and no produce will grow (1 Kings 17:1).

26:23 reformed. Chastened or disciplined.

26:25 quarrel. Literally, "vengeance."

26:26 the staff of your bread. Refers to a device for stacking bread to keep it away from mice.

26:29 eat the flesh of your sons. While besieged by enemies, cities face starvation and it can result in atrocities as in Jehoram's time (2 Kings 6:28–29).

26:30 my soul. Equivalent to the personal pronoun "I."

26:33 scatter you among the heathen. Fulfilled in the Assyrian and Babylonian captivities.

26:34 the land enjoy her sabbaths. The land did have seventy sabbatical years while Judah was in the Babylonian captivity (2 Chron. 36:21).

26:41 uncircumcised hearts. Inner man (will, emotions, mind) with its old nature opposed to God.

26:44–45 I will for their sakes remember the covenant. Though Israel's enjoyment of God's blessing in the land was conditional upon their obedience (18:5; Ex. 19:5), their sin could not ultimately cause God to break His covenant oath with Abraham and his offspring (v. 42; Rom. 11:28–29). Grace prevails over sin.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 26

1. The blessings and curses of the law remind us that God is a righteous Judge who rewards obedience and punishes disobedience. The law threatens sinners with horrifying divine wrath, so that they might flee to the gospel of Christ crucified. Christ won the blessing by His perfect obedience and carried the curse in His death in the place of sinners (Gal. 3:13–14). If you have turned from your sin and trusted in Christ, rejoice that God's blessings are on you and that He will never curse you in His wrath because of what Christ has done (Isa. 54:9–10).

2. The warnings of God's law and the afflictions of His providence should motivate us to repentance, turning us away from sin and back to the Lord. If you are not converted, God is using these things to call you to repent and be saved. If you are converted, then God may still discipline you as a Father lovingly disciplines His erring child to bring him back to Himself. This chapter highlights key elements in true repentance: (1) grieving over sin (v. 39); (2) confession of sin (v. 40); (3) humiliation for it (v. 41); (4) acceptance of God's chastening (v. 41); and (5) divine mercy (v. 42). Do you know the reality of this repentance in your experience?

Chapter 27: The Lord gives Moses instructions regarding vows.

Directions Concerning Vows (27:1–34)

27:2 singular vow. An exceptional and voluntary one. Perhaps an individual devoting himself to work at the tabernacle or donating some property to the Lord.

27:3 thy estimation. A table of penalties if such pledges to God are canceled.

27:5–7 from five years old. The amounts charged to redeem the pledges vary according to the relative ability and usefulness of the individuals in the workplace, not their inherent worth.

27:9–13 a beast. An animal donated. If a lesser beast were substituted, both it and the original animal are forfeited. An unclean animal could be recovered for its value plus 20 percent surcharge.

27:14 sanctify. Set apart.

27:16 homer. A dry measure equivalent to about nine and a half bushels.

27:26 the firstling. This cannot be included because it was set apart for the Lord in the first place (Ex. 13:2).

27:28–29 devoted. Dedicated to the Lord for His sovereign use, given to the Lord by a vow that made it irreversibly the Lord's.

27:32 the rod. The shepherd's crook by which the flock are numbered (Ps. 23:4; Ezek. 20:37).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 27

Beware of rashness in God's service. These people meant well when they vowed but they changed their minds and wanted to redeem their pledges. Much better to consider beforehand, and then follow through with whatever we promise to God (Eccl. 5:2,4). It is easy to act on impulse under pressure. Vows are not a means of bargaining with God. These penalties deter us from doing this. God wants us to be wise as well as zealous. The key point is that God takes vows seriously.

God's Holiness and Ours

Holiness*, in both scriptural languages, carries the definite idea of separation. Both testaments consistently emphasize the idea of being set apart, yet there is often a distinction in their emphases. The Old Testament often identifies holiness in a physical sense, denoting cleanliness of an outward sort (Lev. 11:44–47). The New Testament stresses holiness in the spiritual sense, indicating purity of heart and hands (Rom. 12:1; 1 Peter 2:5).

Throughout the whole of Scripture there occurs a clear command to the believer: "Be ye holy; for I am holy" (Lev. 19:2; 1 Peter 1:16). As children resemble their father, so believers must look like their God (Eph. 4:24; 5:1; Phil. 2:15; 1 John 5:18).

God's Holiness

There is no adjective prefixed to God's name more often than holy. The book of Isaiah, laden with proclamations of holiness, serves as an example of how Scripture expounds the riches of God's holiness: God is the "Holy One" (occurring twenty-six times), and angels cry thrice "Holy!" (Isa. 6:3; cf. Rev. 4:8). God's holiness is said to be the very essence of His being (Isa. 57:15). How majestic—how glorious—is His holiness (Ex. 15:11)!

First, God is holy in His separation from all creation. He is wholly other—that is, entirely distinct and detached from all else: "To whom then will ye liken me, or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One" (Isa. 40:25). "There is none holy as the LORD" (1 Sam. 2:2; also Rev. 15:4).

Second, God is holy specifically in His separation from sin. This is expressed both negatively and positively: He is separated from sin and unto righteousness. Negatively, God is absolutely unpolluted by evil. Indeed, He cannot behold iniquity (Hab. 1:13), His loathing of wickedness is infinite (Amos 5:21), and His hatred is toward those who are workers of iniquity (Ps. 5:5). Woe unto him who approaches this Holy One without the holy robes of Christ!

Positively, God is separated unto righteousness (Ps. 145:17), which He loves (Ps. 11:7; Heb. 1:9). Thus, God gives honor to His law, for such is the substance of His holiness (Isa. 42:21). This holiness causes all else to dim in its brilliant light (Job 4:18). His holiness is His matchless beauty (2 Chron. 20:21; Ps. 29:2). Further, the holiness of God is so great that, rather than accept a sinner, He has seen fit to slay His very Son.

Our Holiness

Though containing no light of its own, a mirror overpowers the eyes when it reflects the sun. As believers we are called to shine with God's holiness to a greater degree than we will be able during this life (1 John 1:10). We must be filled up with holiness inwardly, within our hearts and minds; and we must overflow with holiness outwardly, touching all of life. Holiness is thus a comprehensive, whole-life commitment to live "Godward" (2 Cor. 3:4). Leviticus 20:26 makes plain that God's holiness calls us to be holy: "And ye shall be holy unto me: for I the LORD am holy." We are called to strive for holy lives (Heb. 12:14), as holiness must, and will, follow regeneration (Eph. 1:4; Phil. 3:12). Holiness is our joyous duty unto God as obedient children (Neh. 8:10; 1 Peter 1:14).

Describing the holiness of believers, Stephen Charnock identifies the Father as the fountain, the Son as the pattern, and the Spirit as the imprinter of holiness. The Father is the spring of holiness that sanctifies us (John 17:11,17). To cleanse our filth the Father sends Christ to remove the guilt of sin and His Spirit to remove its stain (Eph. 1:4; Col. 1:22; 2 Tim. 1:9). The Son is the model for our holiness, for it is to His image that we are conformed (Phil. 2:5–8). Even as Christ is pure, so are those who hope in Him (1 John 3:3). The Spirit is the One who stamps us with the holiness of God. He makes sinners holy, bringing us into submission to His mind (1 Cor. 2) and sanctifying us to pursue the things of the Spirit (Rom. 8:5).

God calls each of us to walk in His holiness: "My son, give me thine heart" (Prov. 23:26). May we strive after Him with all holiness of life (1 Peter 1:13–23).

God’s Immutability

INTRODUCTION TO THE BOOK OF

NUMBERS

Authorship

In Hebrew this book is called, “And He spoke,” or, “In the wilderness” (both taken from its first verse). The Greek Septuagint gave it the name “Numbers” due to the focus on the issue of numbering that the book contains. Like the other four books of the Pentateuch, the Mosaic authorship of Numbers has always been unanimously ascribed by the ancient Jews, the custodians of the Old Testament Scriptures. In various Scriptures the term “the law of Moses” is employed, obviously referring to a body of literature that he wrote. An example is 2 Chron. 23:18 where reference is made to the presentation of burnt offerings “as it is written in the law of Moses.” Numbers 28 contains much detail about the burnt offering, so we may legitimately conclude that Numbers belongs to “the law of Moses.” Furthermore, Christ testifies in John 5:46, “Moses . . . wrote of me,” and in v. 47 refers to “his writings.” Thus the Savior verifies that Moses was an authentic person; that he was a writer with a plurality of writings ascribed to him; that his writings were extant in New Testament times; that the Jews had access to them; and that He, Christ, was the theme of them. In the light of these examples, we may deduce that Moses wrote Numbers.

Date

The events of Numbers begin in the second month of the second year after the exodus (1:1) and conclude when the nation is opposite Jericho at the end of their wanderings (35:1; 36:13). This would date Numbers between 1445 and 1405 BC. For further discussion of authorship and date, see Introduction to the Pentateuch.

Theme

Divine discipline, direction, and provision for God’s people.

Purpose

To trace the transition from the old generation, who refused to enter Canaan, to the new generation, who would inherit the Promised Land, and to show the necessity of faith for following the Lord (ch. 14).

Synopsis

The Contribution of Numbers to Redemptive Revelation

Paul's assessment of Hebrew history was that "these things were our examples" and that they "happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come" (1 Cor. 10:6,11). Significantly, most of the events that Paul highlights occurred during the wilderness wanderings recorded in the book of Numbers. Therefore, the relevance of Numbers for the Christian is fixed with apostolic authority. It is an inspired history that teaches more than simple facts; it is replete with spiritual lessons and applications.

The book begins with a record of the Lord's detailed instructions of how the nation was to march into the Promised Land. He set the order of march; He provided the means for sanctified worship; and He promised His presence in the form of the cloud to lead them every step of the way. All they had to do was follow in faith and obedience, but that is exactly what they did not do. The New Testament sums it up this way: "The word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it" (Heb. 4:2). They were brought to the very border of blessing but refused to enter because of unbelief (Num. 14). That is a key gospel lesson underscored over and over again in Numbers, that without faith God will not be pleased (Heb. 11:6). The old generation stood as a warning to every other to trust the Lord (Ps. 95:8–11).

Although the wilderness wanderings were disciplinary, they were also gospel sermons. Since saving faith is always objectively placed in Christ, the book of Numbers sets forth the Messiah in many ways. Indeed, Numbers is full of Christ. The tabernacle worship and sacrifices that were offered regularly were picture prophecies of the Lamb without spot and blemish that would take away sin. But in addition there were other vivid pictures. Jesus Himself compared Moses' lifting up of the bronze serpent to His being lifted up on the cross (Num. 21:4–9; John 3:14). The one reversed the curse of the fiery serpent; the other the curse of sin itself. Similarly, the rock from which the water of life flowed is a type of Christ, who was the Rock (1 Cor. 10:4); the daily manna pointed to Christ as the Bread come down from heaven (John 6:31–33). Hebrews 9:13–14 compares the ashes of the red heifer (Num. 19) with the cleansing obtained through Christ's blood. The cities of refuge picture the safety to be found in Christ. Even the forced prophecies of Balaam look to the coming of Christ, the Star and Scepter, who will subdue every nation under His authority. On the one hand, Numbers chronicles a period when Israel was stalled in the desert. But on the other hand, Numbers records great strides in the progression of redemptive revelation.

THE FOURTH BOOK OF MOSES CALLED

Numbers 1 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord spake unto Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, in the tabernacle of the congregation, on the first day of the second month, in the second year after they were come out of the land of Egypt, saying,
2 [†] Take ye the sum of all the congregation of the children of Israel, after their families, by the house of their fathers, with the number of their names, every male by their polls;
3 From twenty years old and upward, all that are able to go forth to war in Israel: thou and Aaron shall number them by their armies.
4 [†] And with you there shall be a man of every tribe; every one head of the house of his fathers.
5 ¶ And these are the names of the men that shall stand with you: of the tribe of Reuben; Elizur the son of Shedeur.
6 Of Simeon; Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai.
7 Of Judah; Nahshon the son of Amminadab.
8 Of Issachar; Nethaneel the son of Zuar.
9 Of Zebulun; Eliab the son of Helon.
10 Of the children of Joseph: of Ephraim; Elishama the son of Ammihud: of Manasseh; Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur.
11 Of Benjamin; Abidan the son of Gideoni.
12 Of Dan; Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai.
13 Of Asher; Pagiel the son of Ocran.
14 Of Gad; Eliasaph the son of Deuel.
15 Of Naphtali; Ahira the son of Enan.
16 [†] These were the renowned of the congregation, princes of the tribes of their fathers, heads of thousands in Israel.
17 ¶ And Moses and Aaron took these men which are expressed by their names:
18 [†] And they assembled all the congregation together on the first day of the second month, and they declared their pedigrees after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, by their polls.
19 As the Lord commanded Moses, so he numbered them in the wilderness of Sinai.
20 [†] And the children of Reuben, Israel's eldest son, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, by their polls, every male from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;
21 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Reuben, were forty and six thousand and five hundred.
22 ¶ Of the children of Simeon, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, those that were numbered of them, according to the number of the names, by their polls, every male from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;
23 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Simeon, were fifty and nine thousand and three hundred.
24 ¶ Of the children of Gad, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;
25 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Gad, were forty and five thousand six hundred and fifty.
26 ¶ Of the children of Judah, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;

27 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Judah, were threescore and fourteen thousand and six hundred.
28 ¶ Of the children of Issachar, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;
29 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Issachar, were fifty and four thousand and four hundred.
30 ¶ Of the children of Zebulun, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;
31 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Zebulun, were fifty and seven thousand and four hundred.
32 ¶ Of the children of Joseph, namely, of the children of Ephraim, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;
33 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Ephraim, were forty thousand and five hundred.
34 ¶ Of the children of Manasseh, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;
35 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Manasseh, were thirty and two thousand and two hundred.
36 ¶ Of the children of Benjamin, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;
37 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Benjamin, were thirty and five thousand and four hundred.
38 ¶ Of the children of Dan, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;
39 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Dan, were threescore and two thousand and seven hundred.
40 ¶ Of the children of Asher, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;
41 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Asher, were forty and one thousand and five hundred.
42 ¶ Of the children of Naphtali, throughout their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war;
43 Those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Naphtali, were fifty and three thousand and four hundred.
44 [†] These are those that were numbered, which Moses and Aaron numbered, and the princes of Israel, being twelve men: each one was for the house of his fathers.
45 So were all those that were numbered of the children of Israel, by the house of their fathers, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war in Israel;

46 Even all they that were numbered were six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty.
47 [†] ¶ But the Levites after the tribe of their fathers were not numbered among them.
48 For the LORD had spoken unto Moses, saying,
49 Only thou shalt not number the tribe of Levi, neither take the sum of them among the children of Israel:
50 [†] But thou shalt appoint the Levites over the tabernacle of testimony, and over all the vessels thereof, and over all things that belong to it: they shall bear the tabernacle, and all the vessels thereof; and they shall minister unto it, and shall encamp round about the tabernacle.
51 [†] And when the tabernacle setteth forward, the Levites shall take it down: and when the tabernacle is to be pitched, the Levites shall set it up: and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.
52 [†] And the children of Israel shall pitch their tents, every man by his own camp, and every man by his own standard, throughout their hosts.
53 [†] But the Levites shall pitch round about the tabernacle of testimony, that there be no wrath upon the congregation of the children of Israel: and the Levites shall keep the charge of the tabernacle of testimony.
54 And the children of Israel did according to all that the LORD commanded Moses, so did they.

Numbers 2 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying,
2 [†] Every man of the children of Israel shall pitch by his own standard, with the ensign of their father's house: far off about the tabernacle of the congregation shall they pitch.
3 [†] And on the east side toward the rising of the sun shall they of the standard of the camp of Judah pitch throughout their armies: and Nahshon the son of Amminadab shall be captain of the children of Judah.
4 [†] And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were threescore and fourteen thousand and six hundred.
5 And those that do pitch next unto him shall be the tribe of Issachar: and Nethaneel the son of Zuar shall be captain of the children of Issachar.
6 And his host, and those that were numbered thereof, were fifty and four thousand and four hundred.
7 Then the tribe of Zebulun: and Eliab the son of Helon shall be captain of the children of Zebulun.
8 And his host, and those that were numbered thereof, were fifty and seven thousand and four hundred.
9 All that were numbered in the camp of Judah were an hundred thousand and fourscore thousand and six thousand and four hundred, throughout their armies. These shall first set forth.
10 [†] ¶ On the south side shall be the standard of the camp of Reuben according to their armies: and the captain of the children of Reuben shall be Elizur the son of Shedeur.
11 And his host, and those that were numbered thereof, were forty and six thousand and five hundred.
12 [†] And those which pitch by him shall be the tribe of Simeon: and the captain of the children of Simeon shall be Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai.
13 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were fifty and nine thousand and three hundred.
14 Then the tribe of Gad: and the captain of the sons of Gad shall be Eliasaph the son of Reuel.
15 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were forty and five thousand and six hundred and fifty.
16 All that were numbered in the camp of Reuben were an hundred thousand and fifty and one thousand and four hundred and fifty, throughout their armies. And they shall set forth in the second rank.
17 [†] ¶ Then the tabernacle of the congregation shall set forward with the camp of the Levites in the midst of the camp: as they encamp, so shall they set forward, every man in his place by their standards.
18 [†] ¶ On the west side shall be the standard of the camp of Ephraim according to their armies: and the captain of the sons of Ephraim shall be Elishama the son of Ammihud.
19 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were forty thousand and five hundred.
20 And by him shall be the tribe of Manasseh: and the captain of the children of Manasseh shall be Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur.
21 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were thirty and two thousand and two hundred.
22 Then the tribe of Benjamin: and the captain of the sons of Benjamin shall be Abidan the son of Gideoni.
23 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were thirty and five thousand and four hundred.
24 All that were numbered of the camp of Ephraim were an hundred thousand and eight thousand and an hundred, throughout their armies. And they shall go forward in the third rank.
25 [†] ¶ The standard of the camp of Dan shall be on the north side by their armies: and the captain of the children of Dan shall be Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai.
26 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were threescore and two thousand and seven hundred.
27 And those that encamp by him shall be the tribe of Asher: and the captain of the children of Asher shall be Pagiel the son of Ocran.

28 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were forty and one thousand and five hundred.
29 ¶ Then the tribe of Naphtali: and the captain of the children of Naphtali shall be Ahira the son of Enan.
30 And his host, and those that were numbered of them, were fifty and three thousand and four hundred.
31 All they that were numbered in the camp of Dan were an hundred thousand and fifty and seven thousand and six hundred. They shall go hindmost with their standards.
32 ¶ These are those which were numbered of the children of Israel by the house of their fathers: all those that were numbered of the camps throughout their hosts were six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty.
33 But the Levites were not numbered among the children of Israel; as the LORD commanded Moses.
34 And the children of Israel did according to all that the LORD commanded Moses: so they pitched by their standards, and so they set forward, every one after their families, according to the house of their fathers.

Numbers 3 [†]

1 [†] These also are the generations of Aaron and Moses in the day that the Lord spake with Moses in mount Sinai.
2 [†] And these are the names of the sons of Aaron; Nadab the firstborn, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.
3 These are the names of the sons of Aaron, the priests which were anointed, whom he consecrated to minister in the priest's office.
4 [†] And Nadab and Abihu died before the Lord, when they offered strange fire before the Lord, in the wilderness of Sinai, and they had no children: and Eleazar and Ithamar ministered in the priest's office in the sight of Aaron their father.
5 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
6 [†] Bring the tribe of Levi near, and present them before Aaron the priest, that they may minister unto him.
7 [†] And they shall keep his charge, and the charge of the whole congregation before the tabernacle of the congregation, to do the service of the tabernacle.
8 And they shall keep all the instruments of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the charge of the children of Israel, to do the service of the tabernacle.
9 And thou shalt give the Levites unto Aaron and to his sons: they are wholly given unto him out of the children of Israel.
10 [†] And thou shalt appoint Aaron and his sons, and they shall wait on their priest's office: and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.
11 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
12 [†] And I, behold, I have taken the Levites from among the children of Israel instead of all the firstborn that openeth the matrix among the children of Israel: therefore the Levites shall be mine;
13 Because all the firstborn are mine; for on the day that I smote all the firstborn in the land of Egypt I hallowed unto me all the firstborn in Israel, both man and beast: mine shall they be: I am the Lord.
14 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, saying,
15 [†] Number the children of Levi after the house of their fathers, by their families: every male from a month old and upward shalt thou number them.
16 [†] And Moses numbered them according to the word of the Lord, as he was commanded.
17 And these were the sons of Levi by their names; Gershon, and Kohath, and Merari.
18 And these are the names of the sons of Gershon by their families; Libni, and Shimei.
19 And the sons of Kohath by their families; Amram, and Izehar, Hebron, and Uzziel.
20 And the sons of Merari by their families; Mahli, and Mushi. These are the families of the Levites according to the house of their fathers.
21 Of Gershon was the family of the Libnites, and the family of the Shimites: these are the families of the Gershonites.
22 Those that were numbered of them, according to the number of all the males, from a month old and upward, even those that were numbered of them were seven thousand and five hundred.
23 The families of the Gershonites shall pitch behind the tabernacle westward.
24 And the chief of the house of the father of the Gershonites shall be Eliasaph the son of Lael.
25 And the charge of the sons of Gershon in the tabernacle of the congregation shall be the tabernacle, and the tent, the covering thereof, and the hanging for the door of the tabernacle of the congregation,
26 And the hangings of the court, and the curtain for the door of the court, which is by the tabernacle, and by the altar round about, and the cords of it for all the service thereof.

27 ¶ And of Kohath was the family of the Amramites, and the family of the Izeharites, and the family of the Hebronites, and the family of the Uzzielites: these are the families of the Kohathites.
28 In the number of all the males, from a month old and upward, were eight thousand and six hundred, keeping the charge of the sanctuary.
29 The families of the sons of Kohath shall pitch on the side of the tabernacle southward.
30 And the chief of the house of the father of the families of the Kohathites shall be Elizaphan the son of Uzziel.
31 And their charge shall be the ark, and the table, and the candlestick, and the altars, and the vessels of the sanctuary wherewith they minister, and the hanging, and all the service thereof.
32 And Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest shall be chief over the chief of the Levites, and have the oversight of them that keep the charge of the sanctuary.
33 ¶ Of Merari was the family of the Mahlites, and the family of the Mushites: these are the families of Merari.
34 And those that were numbered of them, according to the number of all the males, from a month old and upward, were six thousand and two hundred.
35 And the chief of the house of the father of the families of Merari was Zuriel the son of Abihail: these shall pitch on the side of the tabernacle northward.
36 And under the custody and charge of the sons of Merari shall be the boards of the tabernacle, and the bars thereof, and the pillars thereof, and the sockets thereof, and all the vessels thereof, and all that serveth thereto,
37 And the pillars of the court round about, and their sockets, and their pins, and their cords.
38 [†] ¶ But those that encamp before the tabernacle toward the east, even before the tabernacle of the congregation eastward, shall be Moses, and Aaron and his sons, keeping the charge of the sanctuary for the charge of the children of Israel; and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.
39 All that were numbered of the Levites, which Moses and Aaron numbered at the commandment of the LORD, throughout their families, all the males from a month old and upward, were twenty and two thousand.
40 ¶ And the LORD said unto Moses, Number all the firstborn of the males of the children of Israel from a month old and upward, and take the number of their names.
41 And thou shalt take the Levites for me (I am the LORD) instead of all the firstborn among the children of Israel; and the cattle of the Levites instead of all the firstlings among the cattle of the children of Israel.
42 And Moses numbered, as the LORD commanded him, all the firstborn among the children of Israel.
43 And all the firstborn males by the number of names, from a month old and upward, of those that were numbered of them, were twenty and two thousand two hundred and threescore and thirteen.
44 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
45 Take the Levites instead of all the firstborn among the children of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites instead of their cattle; and the Levites shall be mine: I am the LORD.
46 And for those that are to be redeemed of the two hundred and threescore and thirteen of the firstborn of the children of Israel, which are more than the Levites;
47 [†] Thou shalt even take five shekels apiece by the poll, after the shekel of the sanctuary shalt thou take them: (the shekel is twenty gerahs:)
48 [†] And thou shalt give the money, wherewith the odd number of them is to be redeemed, unto Aaron and to his sons.
49 And Moses took the redemption money of them that were over and above them that were redeemed by the Levites:
50 Of the firstborn of the children of Israel took he the money; a thousand three hundred and threescore and five shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary:

51 And Moses gave the money of them that were redeemed unto Aaron and to his sons, according to the word of the LORD, as the LORD commanded Moses.

Numbers 4 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying,
2 [†] Take the sum of the sons of Kohath from among the sons of Levi, after their families, by the house of their fathers,
3 [†] From thirty years old and upward even until fifty years old, all that enter into the host, to do the work in the tabernacle of the congregation.
4 This shall be the service of the sons of Kohath in the tabernacle of the congregation, about the most holy things:
5 [†] ¶ And when the camp setteth forward, Aaron shall come, and his sons, and they shall take down the covering vail, and cover the ark of testimony with it:
6 [†] And shall put thereon the covering of badgers' skins, and shall spread over it a cloth wholly of blue, and shall put in the staves thereof.
7 [†] And upon the table of shewbread they shall spread a cloth of blue, and put thereon the dishes, and the spoons, and the bowls, and covers to cover withal: and the continual bread shall be thereon:
8 And they shall spread upon them a cloth of scarlet, and cover the same with a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put in the staves thereof.
9 And they shall take a cloth of blue, and cover the candlestick of the light, and his lamps, and his tongs, and his snuffdishes, and all the oil vessels thereof, wherewith they minister unto it:
10 [†] And they shall put it and all the vessels thereof within a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put it upon a bar.
11 And upon the golden altar they shall spread a cloth of blue, and cover it with a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put to the staves thereof:
12 And they shall take all the instruments of ministry, wherewith they minister in the sanctuary, and put them in a cloth of blue, and cover them with a covering of badgers' skins, and shall put them on a bar:
13 And they shall take away the ashes from the altar, and spread a purple cloth thereon:
14 [†] And they shall put upon it all the vessels thereof, wherewith they minister about it, even the censers, the fleshhooks, and the shovels, and the basons, all the vessels of the altar; and they shall spread upon it a covering of badgers' skins, and put to the staves of it.
15 [†] And when Aaron and his sons have made an end of covering the sanctuary, and all the vessels of the sanctuary, as the camp is to set forward; after that, the sons of Kohath shall come to bear it: but they shall not touch any holy thing, lest they die. These things are the burden of the sons of Kohath in the tabernacle of the congregation.
16 [†] ¶ And to the office of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest pertaineth the oil for the light, and the sweet incense, and the daily meat offering, and the anointing oil, and the oversight of all the tabernacle, and of all that therein is, in the sanctuary, and in the vessels thereof.
17 [†] ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying,
18 Cut ye not off the tribe of the families of the Kohathites from among the Levites:
19 But thus do unto them, that they may live, and not die, when they approach unto the most holy things: Aaron and his sons shall go in, and appoint them every one to his service and to his burden:
20 But they shall not go in to see when the holy things are covered, lest they die.
21 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
22 Take also the sum of the sons of Gershon, throughout the houses of their fathers, by their families;
23 [†] From thirty years old and upward until fifty years old shalt thou number them; all that enter in to perform the service, to do the work in the tabernacle of the congregation.
24 This is the service of the families of the Gershonites, to serve, and for burdens:

25 And they shall bear the curtains of the tabernacle, and the tabernacle of the congregation, his covering, and the covering of the badgers' skins that is above upon it, and the hanging for the door of the tabernacle of the congregation,
26 And the hangings of the court, and the hanging for the door of the gate of the court, which is by the tabernacle and by the altar round about, and their cords, and all the instruments of their service, and all that is made for them: so shall they serve.
27 At the appointment of Aaron and his sons shall be all the service of the sons of the Gershonites, in all their burdens, and in all their service: and ye shall appoint unto them in charge all their burdens.
28 This is the service of the families of the sons of Gershon in the tabernacle of the congregation: and their charge shall be under the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.
29 ¶ As for the sons of Merari, thou shalt number them after their families, by the house of their fathers;
30 [†] From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old shalt thou number them, every one that entereth into the service, to do the work of the tabernacle of the congregation.
31 And this is the charge of their burden, according to all their service in the tabernacle of the congregation; the boards of the tabernacle, and the bars thereof, and the pillars thereof, and sockets thereof,
32 And the pillars of the court round about, and their sockets, and their pins, and their cords, with all their instruments, and with all their service: and by name ye shall reckon the instruments of the charge of their burden.
33 This is the service of the families of the sons of Merari, according to all their service, in the tabernacle of the congregation, under the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.
34 ¶ And Moses and Aaron and the chief of the congregation numbered the sons of the Kohathites after their families, and after the house of their fathers,
35 From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that entereth into the service, for the work in the tabernacle of the congregation:
36 And those that were numbered of them by their families were two thousand seven hundred and fifty.
37 These were they that were numbered of the families of the Kohathites, all that might do service in the tabernacle of the congregation, which Moses and Aaron did number according to the commandment of the LORD by the hand of Moses.
38 And those that were numbered of the sons of Gershon, throughout their families, and by the house of their fathers,
39 From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that entereth into the service, for the work in the tabernacle of the congregation,
40 Even those that were numbered of them, throughout their families, by the house of their fathers, were two thousand and six hundred and thirty.
41 These are they that were numbered of the families of the sons of Gershon, of all that might do service in the tabernacle of the congregation, whom Moses and Aaron did number according to the commandment of the LORD.
42 ¶ And those that were numbered of the families of the sons of Merari, throughout their families, by the house of their fathers,
43 From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that entereth into the service, for the work in the tabernacle of the congregation,
44 Even those that were numbered of them after their families, were three thousand and two hundred.
45 These be those that were numbered of the families of the sons of Merari, whom Moses and Aaron numbered according to the word of the LORD by the hand of Moses.
46 All those that were numbered of the Levites, whom Moses and Aaron and the chief of Israel numbered, after their families, and after the house of their fathers,

47 From thirty years old and upward even unto fifty years old, every one that came to do the service of the ministry, and the service of the burden in the tabernacle of the congregation,
48 Even those that were numbered of them, were eight thousand and five hundred and fourscore.
49 According to the commandment of the LORD they were numbered by the hand of Moses, every one according to his service, and according to his burden: thus were they numbered of him, as the LORD commanded Moses.

Numbers 5 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Command the children of Israel, that they put out of the camp every leper, and every one that hath an issue, and whosoever is defiled by the dead:
3 [†] Both male and female shall ye put out, without the camp shall ye put them; that they defile not their camps, in the midst whereof I dwell.
4 And the children of Israel did so, and put them out without the camp: as the Lord spake unto Moses, so did the children of Israel.
5 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
6 Speak unto the children of Israel, When a man or woman shall commit any sin that men commit, to do a trespass against the Lord, and that person be guilty;
7 [†] Then they shall confess their sin which they have done: and he shall recompense his trespass with the principal thereof, and add unto it the fifth part thereof, and give it unto him against whom he hath trespassed.
8 [†] But if the man have no kinsman to recompense the trespass unto, let the trespass be recompensed unto the Lord, even to the priest; beside the ram of the atonement, whereby an atonement shall be made for him.
9 And every offering of all the holy things of the children of Israel, which they bring unto the priest, shall be his.
10 [†] And every man's hallowed things shall be his: whatsoever any man giveth the priest, it shall be his.
11 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
12 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, If any man's wife go aside, and commit a trespass against him,
13 [†] And a man lie with her carnally, and it be hid from the eyes of her husband, and be kept close, and she be defiled, and there be no witness against her, neither she be taken with the manner;
14 [†] And the spirit of jealousy come upon him, and he be jealous of his wife, and she be defiled: or if the spirit of jealousy come upon him, and he be jealous of his wife, and she be not defiled:
15 [†] Then shall the man bring his wife unto the priest, and he shall bring her offering for her, the tenth part of an ephah of barley meal; he shall pour no oil upon it, nor put frankincense thereon; for it is an offering of jealousy, an offering of memorial, bringing iniquity to remembrance.
16 And the priest shall bring her near, and set her before the Lord:
17 [†] And the priest shall take holy water in an earthen vessel; and of the dust that is in the floor of the tabernacle the priest shall take, and put it into the water:
18 [†] And the priest shall set the woman before the Lord, and uncover the woman's head, and put the offering of memorial in her hands, which is the jealousy offering: and the priest shall have in his hand the bitter water that causeth the curse:
19 [†] And the priest shall charge her by an oath, and say unto the woman, If no man have lain with thee, and if thou hast not gone aside to uncleanness with another instead of thy husband, be thou free from this bitter water that causeth the curse:
20 But if thou hast gone aside to another instead of thy husband, and if thou be defiled, and some man have lain with thee beside thine husband:
21 [†] Then the priest shall charge the woman with an oath of cursing, and the priest shall say unto the woman, The Lord make thee a curse and an oath among thy people, when the Lord doth make thy thigh to rot, and thy belly to swell;

22 [†] And this water that causeth the curse shall go into thy bowels, to make thy belly to swell, and thy thigh to rot: And the woman shall say, Amen, amen.
23 And the priest shall write these curses in a book, and he shall blot them out with the bitter water:
24 And he shall cause the woman to drink the bitter water that causeth the curse: and the water that causeth the curse shall enter into her, and become bitter.
25 [†] Then the priest shall take the jealousy offering out of the woman's hand, and shall wave the offering before the LORD, and offer it upon the altar:
26 And the priest shall take an handful of the offering, even the memorial thereof, and burn it upon the altar, and afterward shall cause the woman to drink the water.
27 And when he hath made her to drink the water, then it shall come to pass, that, if she be defiled, and have done trespass against her husband, that the water that causeth the curse shall enter into her, and become bitter, and her belly shall swell, and her thigh shall rot: and the woman shall be a curse among her people.
28 And if the woman be not defiled, but be clean; then she shall be free, and shall conceive seed.
29 [†] This is the law of jealousies, when a wife goeth aside to another instead of her husband, and is defiled;
30 Or when the spirit of jealousy cometh upon him, and he be jealous over his wife, and shall set the woman before the LORD, and the priest shall execute upon her all this law.
31 Then shall the man be guiltless from iniquity, and this woman shall bear her iniquity.

Numbers 6 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When either man or woman shall separate themselves to vow a vow of a Nazarite, to separate themselves unto the Lord:
3 [†] He shall separate himself from wine and strong drink, and shall drink no vinegar of wine, or vinegar of strong drink, neither shall he drink any liquor of grapes, nor eat moist grapes, or dried.
4 All the days of his separation shall he eat nothing that is made of the vine tree, from the kernels even to the husk.
5 [†] All the days of the vow of his separation there shall no razor come upon his head: until the days be fulfilled, in the which he separateth himself unto the Lord, he shall be holy, and shall let the locks of the hair of his head grow.
6 All the days that he separateth himself unto the Lord he shall come at no dead body.
7 He shall not make himself unclean for his father, or for his mother, for his brother, or for his sister, when they die: because the consecration of his God is upon his head.
8 [†] All the days of his separation he is holy unto the Lord.
9 And if any man die very suddenly by him, and he hath defiled the head of his consecration; then he shall shave his head in the day of his cleansing, on the seventh day shall he shave it.
10 [†] And on the eighth day he shall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons, to the priest, to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation:
11 [†] And the priest shall offer the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, and make an atonement for him, for that he sinned by the dead, and shall hallow his head that same day.
12 [†] And he shall consecrate unto the Lord the days of his separation, and shall bring a lamb of the first year for a trespass offering: but the days that were before shall be lost, because his separation was defiled.
13 [†] ¶ And this is the law of the Nazarite, when the days of his separation are fulfilled: he shall be brought unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation:
14 [†] And he shall offer his offering unto the Lord, one he lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering, and one ewe lamb of the first year without blemish for a sin offering, and one ram without blemish for peace offerings,
15 And a basket of unleavened bread, cakes of fine flour mingled with oil, and wafers of unleavened bread anointed with oil, and their meat offering, and their drink offerings.
16 And the priest shall bring them before the Lord, and shall offer his sin offering, and his burnt offering:
17 And he shall offer the ram for a sacrifice of peace offerings unto the Lord, with the basket of unleavened bread: the priest shall offer also his meat offering, and his drink offering.
18 [†] And the Nazarite shall shave the head of his separation at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall take the hair of the head of his separation, and put it in the fire which is under the sacrifice of the peace offerings.
19 [†] And the priest shall take the sodden shoulder of the ram, and one unleavened cake out of the basket, and one unleavened wafer, and shall put them upon the hands of the Nazarite, after the hair of his separation is shaven:
20 [†] And the priest shall wave them for a wave offering before the Lord: this is holy for the priest, with the wave breast and heave shoulder: and after that the Nazarite may drink wine.
21 This is the law of the Nazarite who hath vowed, and of his offering unto the Lord for his separation, beside that that his hand shall get: according to the vow which he vowed, so he must do after the law of his separation.

22 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
23 [†] Speak unto Aaron and unto his sons, saying, On this wise ye shall bless the children of Israel, saying unto them,
24 [†] The LORD bless thee, and keep thee:
25 The LORD make his face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee:
26 The LORD lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace.
27 [†] And they shall put my name upon the children of Israel; and I will bless them.

Numbers 7 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass on the day that Moses had fully set up the tabernacle, and had anointed it, and sanctified it, and all the instruments thereof, both the altar and all the vessels thereof, and had anointed them, and sanctified them;
2 [†] That the princes of Israel, heads of the house of their fathers, who were the princes of the tribes, and were over them that were numbered, offered:
3 And they brought their offering before the Lord, six covered wagons, and twelve oxen; a wagon for two of the princes, and for each one an ox: and they brought them before the tabernacle.
4 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
5 [†] Take it of them, that they may be to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation; and thou shalt give them unto the Levites, to every man according to his service.
6 And Moses took the wagons and the oxen, and gave them unto the Levites.
7 Two wagons and four oxen he gave unto the sons of Gershon, according to their service:
8 [†] And four wagons and eight oxen he gave unto the sons of Merari, according unto their service, under the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.
9 But unto the sons of Kohath he gave none: because the service of the sanctuary belonging unto them was that they should bear upon their shoulders.
10 [†] ¶ And the princes offered for dedicating of the altar in the day that it was anointed, even the princes offered their offering before the altar.
11 And the Lord said unto Moses, They shall offer their offering, each prince on his day, for the dedicating of the altar.
12 ¶ And he that offered his offering the first day was Nahshon the son of Amminadab, of the tribe of Judah:
13 [†] And his offering was one silver charger, the weight thereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them were full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:
14 One spoon of ten shekels of gold, full of incense:
15 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:
16 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:
17 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Nahshon the son of Amminadab.
18 ¶ On the second day Nethaneel the son of Zuar, prince of Issachar, did offer:
19 He offered for his offering one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:
20 One spoon of gold of ten shekels, full of incense:
21 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:
22 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:
23 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Nethaneel the son of Zuar.
24 ¶ On the third day Eliab the son of Helon, prince of the children of Zebulun, did offer:
25 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:
26 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:

27 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:
28 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:
29 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Eliab the son of Helon.
30 ¶ On the fourth day Elizur the son of Shedeur, prince of the children of Reuben, did offer:
31 His offering was one silver charger of the weight of an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:
32 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:
33 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:
34 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:
35 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Elizur the son of Shedeur.
36 ¶ On the fifth day Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai, prince of the children of Simeon, did offer:
37 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:
38 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:
39 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:
40 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:
41 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai.
42 ¶ On the sixth day Eliasaph the son of Deuel, prince of the children of Gad, offered:
43 His offering was one silver charger of the weight of an hundred and thirty shekels, a silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:
44 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:
45 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:
46 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:
47 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Eliasaph the son of Deuel.
48 ¶ On the seventh day Elishama the son of Ammihud, prince of the children of Ephraim, offered:
49 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:
50 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:
51 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:
52 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:
53 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Elishama the son of Ammihud.
54 ¶ On the eighth day offered Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur, prince of the children of Manasseh:
55 His offering was one silver charger of the weight of an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:
56 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:
57 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:
58 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:

59 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur.
60 ¶ On the ninth day Abidan the son of Gideoni, prince of the children of Benjamin, offered:
61 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:
62 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:
63 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:
64 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:
65 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Abidan the son of Gideoni.
66 ¶ On the tenth day Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai, prince of the children of Dan, offered:
67 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:
68 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:
69 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:
70 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:
71 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai.
72 ¶ On the eleventh day Pagiel the son of Ocran, prince of the children of Asher, offered:
73 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:
74 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:
75 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:
76 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:
77 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Pagiel the son of Ocran.
78 ¶ On the twelfth day Ahira the son of Enan, prince of the children of Naphtali, offered:
79 His offering was one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:
80 One golden spoon of ten shekels, full of incense:
81 One young bullock, one ram, one lamb of the first year, for a burnt offering:
82 One kid of the goats for a sin offering:
83 And for a sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five he goats, five lambs of the first year: this was the offering of Ahira the son of Enan.
84 [†] This was the dedication of the altar, in the day when it was anointed, by the princes of Israel: twelve chargers of silver, twelve silver bowls, twelve spoons of gold:
85 Each charger of silver weighing an hundred and thirty shekels, each bowl seventy: all the silver vessels weighed two thousand and four hundred shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary:
86 The golden spoons were twelve, full of incense, weighing ten shekels apiece, after the shekel of the sanctuary: all the gold of the spoons was an hundred and twenty shekels.
87 All the oxen for the burnt offering were twelve bullocks, the rams twelve, the lambs of the first year twelve, with their meat offering: and the kids of the goats for sin offering twelve.
88 And all the oxen for the sacrifice of the peace offerings were twenty and four bullocks, the rams sixty, the he goats sixty, the lambs of the first year sixty. This was the dedication of the altar, after that it was anointed.

89 And when Moses was gone into the tabernacle of the congregation to speak with him, then he heard the voice of one speaking unto him from off the mercy seat that was upon the ark of testimony, from between the two cherubims: and he spake unto him.

Numbers 8 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto Aaron, and say unto him, When thou lightest the lamps, the seven lamps shall give light over against the candlestick.
3 And Aaron did so; he lighted the lamps thereof over against the candlestick, as the Lord commanded Moses.
4 [†] And this work of the candlestick was of beaten gold, unto the shaft thereof, unto the flowers thereof, was beaten work: according unto the pattern which the Lord had shewed Moses, so he made the candlestick.
5 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
6 [†] Take the Levites from among the children of Israel, and cleanse them.
7 [†] And thus shalt thou do unto them, to cleanse them: Sprinkle water of purifying upon them, and let them shave all their flesh, and let them wash their clothes, and so make themselves clean.
8 Then let them take a young bullock with his meat offering, even fine flour mingled with oil, and another young bullock shalt thou take for a sin offering.
9 And thou shalt bring the Levites before the tabernacle of the congregation: and thou shalt gather the whole assembly of the children of Israel together:
10 [†] And thou shalt bring the Levites before the Lord: and the children of Israel shall put their hands upon the Levites:
11 [†] And Aaron shall offer the Levites before the Lord for an offering of the children of Israel, that they may execute the service of the Lord.
12 [†] And the Levites shall lay their hands upon the heads of the bullocks: and thou shalt offer the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, unto the Lord, to make an atonement for the Levites.
13 And thou shalt set the Levites before Aaron, and before his sons, and offer them for an offering unto the Lord.
14 Thus shalt thou separate the Levites from among the children of Israel: and the Levites shall be mine.
15 And after that shall the Levites go in to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation: and thou shalt cleanse them, and offer them for an offering.
16 [†] For they are wholly given unto me from among the children of Israel; instead of such as open every womb, even instead of the firstborn of all the children of Israel, have I taken them unto me.
17 For all the firstborn of the children of Israel are mine, both man and beast: on the day that I smote every firstborn in the land of Egypt I sanctified them for myself.
18 And I have taken the Levites for all the firstborn of the children of Israel.
19 [†] And I have given the Levites as a gift to Aaron and to his sons from among the children of Israel, to do the service of the children of Israel in the tabernacle of the congregation, and to make an atonement for the children of Israel: that there be no plague among the children of Israel, when the children of Israel come nigh unto the sanctuary.
20 And Moses, and Aaron, and all the congregation of the children of Israel, did to the Levites according unto all that the Lord commanded Moses concerning the Levites, so did the children of Israel unto them.
21 And the Levites were purified, and they washed their clothes; and Aaron offered them as an offering before the Lord; and Aaron made an atonement for them to cleanse them.
22 And after that went the Levites in to do their service in the tabernacle of the congregation before Aaron, and before his sons: as the Lord had commanded Moses concerning the Levites, so did they unto them.

23 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
24 [†] This is it that belongeth unto the Levites: from twenty and five years old and upward they shall go in to wait upon the service of the tabernacle of the congregation:
25 [†] And from the age of fifty years they shall cease waiting upon the service thereof, and shall serve no more:
26 [†] But shall minister with their brethren in the tabernacle of the congregation, to keep the charge, and shall do no service. Thus shalt thou do unto the Levites touching their charge.

Numbers 9 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, in the first month of the second year after they were come out of the land of Egypt, saying,
2 [†] Let the children of Israel also keep the passover at his appointed season.
3 [†] In the fourteenth day of this month, at even, ye shall keep it in his appointed season: according to all the rites of it, and according to all the ceremonies thereof, shall ye keep it.
4 And Moses spake unto the children of Israel, that they should keep the passover.
5 [†] And they kept the passover on the fourteenth day of the first month at even in the wilderness of Sinai: according to all that the Lord commanded Moses, so did the children of Israel.
6 [†] ¶ And there were certain men, who were defiled by the dead body of a man, that they could not keep the passover on that day: and they came before Moses and before Aaron on that day:
7 [†] And those men said unto him, We are defiled by the dead body of a man: wherefore are we kept back, that we may not offer an offering of the Lord in his appointed season among the children of Israel?
8 And Moses said unto them, Stand still, and I will hear what the Lord will command concerning you.
9 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
10 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, If any man of you or of your posterity shall be unclean by reason of a dead body, or be in a journey afar off, yet he shall keep the passover unto the Lord.
11 The fourteenth day of the second month at even they shall keep it, and eat it with unleavened bread and bitter herbs.
12 They shall leave none of it unto the morning, nor break any bone of it: according to all the ordinances of the passover they shall keep it.
13 [†] But the man that is clean, and is not in a journey, and forbeareth to keep the passover, even the same soul shall be cut off from among his people: because he brought not the offering of the Lord in his appointed season, that man shall bear his sin.
14 [†] And if a stranger shall sojourn among you, and will keep the passover unto the Lord; according to the ordinance of the passover, and according to the manner thereof, so shall he do: ye shall have one ordinance, both for the stranger, and for him that was born in the land.
15 [†] ¶ And on the day that the tabernacle was reared up the cloud covered the tabernacle, namely, the tent of the testimony: and at even there was upon the tabernacle as it were the appearance of fire, until the morning.
16 So it was alway: the cloud covered it by day, and the appearance of fire by night.
17 [†] And when the cloud was taken up from the tabernacle, then after that the children of Israel journeyed: and in the place where the cloud abode, there the children of Israel pitched their tents.
18 [†] At the commandment of the Lord the children of Israel journeyed, and at the commandment of the Lord they pitched: as long as the cloud abode upon the tabernacle they rested in their tents.
19 [†] And when the cloud tarried long upon the tabernacle many days, then the children of Israel kept the charge of the Lord, and journeyed not.
20 And so it was, when the cloud was a few days upon the tabernacle; according to the commandment of the Lord they abode in their tents, and according to the commandment of the Lord they journeyed.
21 And so it was, when the cloud abode from even unto the morning, and that the cloud was taken up in the morning, then they journeyed: whether it was by day or by night that the cloud was taken up, they journeyed.
22 Or whether it were two days, or a month, or a year, that the cloud tarried upon the tabernacle, remaining thereon, the children of Israel abode in their tents, and journeyed not: but when it was taken up, they journeyed.

23 At the commandment of the LORD they rested in the tents, and at the commandment of the LORD they journeyed: they kept the charge of the LORD, at the commandment of the LORD by the hand of Moses.

Numbers 10 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Make thee two trumpets of silver; of a whole piece shalt thou make them: that thou mayest use them for the calling of the assembly, and for the journeying of the camps.
3 And when they shall blow with them, all the assembly shall assemble themselves to thee at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
4 [†] And if they blow but with one trumpet, then the princes, which are heads of the thousands of Israel, shall gather themselves unto thee.
5 [†] When ye blow an alarm, then the camps that lie on the east parts shall go forward.
6 When ye blow an alarm the second time, then the camps that lie on the south side shall take their journey: they shall blow an alarm for their journeys.
7 [†] But when the congregation is to be gathered together, ye shall blow, but ye shall not sound an alarm.
8 And the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall blow with the trumpets; and they shall be to you for an ordinance for ever throughout your generations.
9 [†] And if ye go to war in your land against the enemy that oppresseth you, then ye shall blow an alarm with the trumpets; and ye shall be remembered before the Lord your God, and ye shall be saved from your enemies.
10 [†] Also in the day of your gladness, and in your solemn days, and in the beginnings of your months, ye shall blow with the trumpets over your burnt offerings, and over the sacrifices of your peace offerings; that they may be to you for a memorial before your God: I am the Lord your God.
11 ¶ And it came to pass on the twentieth day of the second month, in the second year, that the cloud was taken up from off the tabernacle of the testimony.
12 And the children of Israel took their journeys out of the wilderness of Sinai; and the cloud rested in the wilderness of Paran.
13 And they first took their journey according to the commandment of the Lord by the hand of Moses.
14 [†] ¶ In the first place went the standard of the camp of the children of Judah according to their armies: and over his host was Nahshon the son of Amminadab.
15 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Issachar was Nethaneel the son of Zuar.
16 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Zebulun was Eliab the son of Helon.
17 [†] And the tabernacle was taken down; and the sons of Gershon and the sons of Merari set forward, bearing the tabernacle.
18 ¶ And the standard of the camp of Reuben set forward according to their armies: and over his host was Elizur the son of Shedeur.
19 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Simeon was Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai.
20 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Gad was Eliasaph the son of Deuel.
21 [†] And the Kohathites set forward, bearing the sanctuary: and the other did set up the tabernacle against they came.
22 ¶ And the standard of the camp of the children of Ephraim set forward according to their armies: and over his host was Elishama the son of Ammihud.
23 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Manasseh was Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur.
24 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Benjamin was Abidan the son of Gideoni.
25 ¶ And the standard of the camp of the children of Dan set forward, which was the rereward of all the camps throughout their hosts: and over his host was Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai.

26 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Asher was Pagiel the son of Ocran.
27 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Naphtali was Ahira the son of Enan.
28 Thus were the journeyings of the children of Israel according to their armies, when they set forward.
29 [†] ¶ And Moses said unto Hobab, the son of Raguel the Midianite, Moses' father in law, We are journeying unto the place of which the LORD said, I will give it you: come thou with us, and we will do thee good: for the LORD hath spoken good concerning Israel.
30 And he said unto him, I will not go; but I will depart to mine own land, and to my kindred.
31 And he said, Leave us not, I pray thee; forasmuch as thou knowest how we are to encamp in the wilderness, and thou mayest be to us instead of eyes.
32 And it shall be, if thou go with us, yea, it shall be, that what goodness the LORD shall do unto us, the same will we do unto thee.
33 ¶ And they departed from the mount of the LORD three days' journey: and the ark of the covenant of the LORD went before them in the three days' journey, to search out a resting place for them.
34 And the cloud of the LORD was upon them by day, when they went out of the camp.
35 [†] And it came to pass, when the ark set forward, that Moses said, Rise up, LORD, and let thine enemies be scattered; and let them that hate thee flee before thee.
36 And when it rested, he said, Return, O LORD, unto the many thousands of Israel.

Numbers 11 [†]

1 [†] And when the people complained, it displeased the Lord: and the Lord heard it; and his anger was kindled; and the fire of the Lord burnt among them, and consumed them that were in the uttermost parts of the camp.
2 [†] And the people cried unto Moses; and when Moses prayed unto the Lord, the fire was quenched.
3 [†] And he called the name of the place Taberah: because the fire of the Lord burnt among them.
4 [†] ¶ And the mixt multitude that was among them fell a lusting: and the children of Israel also wept again, and said, Who shall give us flesh to eat?
5 We remember the fish, which we did eat in Egypt freely; the cucumbers, and the melons, and the leeks, and the onions, and the garlick:
6 [†] But now our soul is dried away: there is nothing at all, beside this manna, before our eyes.
7 [†] And the manna was as coriander seed, and the colour thereof as the colour of bdellium.
8 And the people went about, and gathered it, and ground it in mills, or beat it in a mortar, and baked it ir pans, and made cakes of it: and the taste of it was as the taste of fresh oil.
9 And when the dew fell upon the camp in the night, the manna fell upon it.
10 [†] ¶ Then Moses heard the people weep throughout their families, every man in the door of his tent: and the anger of the Lord was kindled greatly; Moses also was displeased.
11 [†] And Moses said unto the Lord, Wherefore hast thou afflicted thy servant? and wherefore have I not found favour in thy sight, that thou layest the burden of all this people upon me?
12 [†] Have I conceived all this people? have I begotten them, that thou shouldest say unto me, Carry them in thy bosom, as a nursing father beareth the sucking child, unto the land which thou swarest unto their fathers?
13 Whence should I have flesh to give unto all this people? for they weep unto me, saying, Give us flesh, that we may eat.
14 I am not able to bear all this people alone, because it is too heavy for me.
15 [†] And if thou deal thus with me, kill me, I pray thee, out of hand, if I have found favour in thy sight; and let me not see my wretchedness.
16 ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Gather unto me seventy men of the elders of Israel, whom thou knowest to be the elders of the people, and officers over them; and bring them unto the tabernacle of the congregation, that they may stand there with thee.
17 [†] And I will come down and talk with thee there: and I will take of the spirit which is upon thee, and will put it upon them; and they shall bear the burden of the people with thee, that thou bear it not thyself alone.
18 [†] And say thou unto the people, Sanctify yourselves against to morrow, and ye shall eat flesh: for ye have wept in the ears of the Lord, saying, Who shall give us flesh to eat? for it was well with us in Egypt: therefore the Lord will give you flesh, and ye shall eat.
19 Ye shall not eat one day, nor two days, nor five days, neither ten days, nor twenty days;
20 But even a whole month, until it come out at your nostrils, and it be loathsome unto you: because that ye have despised the Lord which is among you, and have wept before him, saying, Why came we forth out of Egypt?
21 [†] And Moses said, The people, among whom I am, are six hundred thousand footmen; and thou hast said, I will give them flesh, that they may eat a whole month.
22 Shall the flocks and the herds be slain for them, to suffice them? or shall all the fish of the sea be gathered together for them, to suffice them?
23 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Is the Lord's hand waxed short? thou shalt see now whether my word shall come to pass unto thee or not.

24 ¶ And Moses went out, and told the people the words of the LORD, and gathered the seventy men of the elders of the people, and set them round about the tabernacle.
25 [†] And the LORD came down in a cloud, and spake unto him, and took of the spirit that was upon him, and gave it unto the seventy elders: and it came to pass, that, when the spirit rested upon them, they prophesied, and did not cease.
26 But there remained two of the men in the camp, the name of the one was Eldad, and the name of the other Medad: and the spirit rested upon them; and they were of them that were written, but went not out unto the tabernacle: and they prophesied in the camp.
27 And there ran a young man, and told Moses, and said, Eldad and Medad do prophesy in the camp.
28 And Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of Moses, one of his young men, answered and said, My lord Moses, forbid them.
29 [†] And Moses said unto him, Enviest thou for my sake? would God that all the LORD's people were prophets, and that the LORD would put his spirit upon them!
30 [†] And Moses gat him into the camp, he and the elders of Israel.
31 [†] ¶ And there went forth a wind from the LORD, and brought quails from the sea, and let them fall by the camp, as it were a day's journey on this side, and as it were a day's journey on the other side, round about the camp, and as it were two cubits high upon the face of the earth.
32 [†] And the people stood up all that day, and all that night, and all the next day, and they gathered the quails: he that gathered least gathered ten homers: and they spread them all abroad for themselves round about the camp.
33 [†] And while the flesh was yet between their teeth, ere it was chewed, the wrath of the LORD was kindled against the people, and the LORD smote the people with a very great plague.
34 [†] And he called the name of that place Kibroth-hattaavah: because there they buried the people that lusted.
35 And the people journeyed from Kibroth-hattaavah unto Hazeroth; and abode at Hazeroth.

Numbers 12 [†]

1 [†] And Miriam and Aaron spake against Moses because of the Ethiopian woman whom he had married: for he had married an Ethiopian woman.
2 And they said, Hath the Lord indeed spoken only by Moses? hath he not spoken also by us? And the Lord heard it.
3 [†] (Now the man Moses was very meek, above all the men which were upon the face of the earth.)
4 [†] And the Lord spake suddenly unto Moses, and unto Aaron, and unto Miriam, Come out ye three unto the tabernacle of the congregation. And they three came out.
5 And the Lord came down in the pillar of the cloud, and stood in the door of the tabernacle, and called Aaron and Miriam: and they both came forth.
6 [†] And he said, Hear now my words: If there be a prophet among you, I the Lord will make myself known unto him in a vision, and will speak unto him in a dream.
7 [†] My servant Moses is not so, who is faithful in all mine house.
8 [†] With him will I speak mouth to mouth, even apparently, and not in dark speeches; and the similitude of the Lord shall he behold: wherefore then were ye not afraid to speak against my servant Moses?
9 And the anger of the Lord was kindled against them; and he departed.
10 [†] And the cloud departed from off the tabernacle; and, behold, Miriam became leprous, white as snow: and Aaron looked upon Miriam, and, behold, she was leprous.
11 And Aaron said unto Moses, Alas, my lord, I beseech thee, lay not the sin upon us, wherein we have done foolishly, and wherein we have sinned.
12 Let her not be as one dead, of whom the flesh is half consumed when he cometh out of his mother's womb.
13 [†] And Moses cried unto the Lord, saying, Heal her now, O God, I beseech thee.
14 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, If her father had but spit in her face, should she not be ashamed seven days? let her be shut out from the camp seven days, and after that let her be received in again.
15 And Miriam was shut out from the camp seven days: and the people journeyed not till Miriam was brought in again.
16 And afterward the people removed from Hazeroth, and pitched in the wilderness of Paran.

Numbers 13 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 Send thou men, that they may search the land of Canaan, which I give unto the children of Israel: of every tribe of their fathers shall ye send a man, every one a ruler among them.
3 And Moses by the commandment of the Lord sent them from the wilderness of Paran: all those men were heads of the children of Israel.
4 And these were their names: of the tribe of Reuben, Shammua the son of Zaccur.
5 Of the tribe of Simeon, Shaphat the son of Hori.
6 Of the tribe of Judah, Caleb the son of Jephunneh.
7 Of the tribe of Issachar, Igal the son of Joseph.
8 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Oshea the son of Nun.
9 Of the tribe of Benjamin, Palti the son of Raphu.
10 Of the tribe of Zebulun, Gaddiel the son of Sodi.
11 Of the tribe of Joseph, namely, of the tribe of Manasseh, Gaddi the son of Susi.
12 Of the tribe of Dan, Ammiel the son of Gemalli.
13 Of the tribe of Asher, Sethur the son of Michael.
14 Of the tribe of Naphtali, Nahbi the son of Vophsi.
15 Of the tribe of Gad, Geuel the son of Machi.
16 [†] These are the names of the men which Moses sent to spy out the land. And Moses called Oshea the son of Nun Jehoshua.
17 ¶ And Moses sent them to spy out the land of Canaan, and said unto them, Get you up this way southward, and go up into the mountain:
18 And see the land, what it is; and the people that dwelleth therein, whether they be strong or weak, few or many;
19 And what the land is that they dwell in, whether it be good or bad; and what cities they be that they dwell in, whether in tents, or in strong holds;
20 [†] And what the land is, whether it be fat or lean, whether there be wood therein, or not. And be ye of good courage, and bring of the fruit of the land. Now the time was the time of the firstripe grapes.
21 [†] ¶ So they went up, and searched the land from the wilderness of Zin unto Rehob, as men come to Hamath.
22 And they ascended by the south, and came unto Hebron; where Ahiman, Sheshai, and Talmai, the children of Anak, were. (Now Hebron was built seven years before Zoan in Egypt.)
23 [†] And they came unto the brook of Eshcol, and cut down from thence a branch with one cluster of grapes, and they bare it between two upon a staff; and they brought of the pomegranates, and of the figs.
24 The place was called the brook Eshcol, because of the cluster of grapes which the children of Israel cut down from thence.
25 And they returned from searching of the land after forty days.
26 ¶ And they went and came to Moses, and to Aaron, and to all the congregation of the children of Israel, unto the wilderness of Paran, to Kadesh; and brought back word unto them, and unto all the congregation, and shewed them the fruit of the land.
27 [†] And they told him, and said, We came unto the land whither thou sentest us, and surely it floweth with milk and honey; and this is the fruit of it.
28 Nevertheless the people be strong that dwell in the land, and the cities are walled, and very great: and moreover we saw the children of Anak there.
29 The Amalekites dwell in the land of the south: and the Hittites, and the Jebusites, and the Amorites, dwell in the mountains: and the Canaanites dwell by the sea, and by the coast of Jordan.

30 And Caleb stilled the people before Moses, and said, Let us go up at once, and possess it; for we are well able to overcome it.
31 But the men that went up with him said, We be not able to go up against the people; for they are stronger than we.
32 [†] And they brought up an evil report of the land which they had searched unto the children of Israel, saying, The land, through which we have gone to search it, is a land that eateth up the inhabitants thereof; and all the people that we saw in it are men of a great stature.
33 And there we saw the giants, the sons of Anak, which come of the giants: and we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight.

Numbers 14 [†]

1 And all the congregation lifted up their voice, and cried; and the people wept that night.
2 [†] And all the children of Israel murmured against Moses and against Aaron: and the whole congregation said unto them, Would God that we had died in the land of Egypt! or would God we had died in this wilderness!
3 And wherefore hath the Lord brought us unto this land, to fall by the sword, that our wives and our children should be a prey? were it not better for us to return into Egypt?
4 [†] And they said one to another, Let us make a captain, and let us return into Egypt.
5 [†] Then Moses and Aaron fell on their faces before all the assembly of the congregation of the children of Israel.
6 [†] ¶ And Joshua the son of Nun, and Caleb the son of Jephunneh, which were of them that searched the land, rent their clothes:
7 And they spake unto all the company of the children of Israel, saying, The land, which we passed through to search it, is an exceeding good land.
8 If the Lord delight in us, then he will bring us into this land, and give it us; a land which floweth with milk and honey.
9 [†] Only rebel not ye against the Lord, neither fear ye the people of the land; for they are bread for us: their defence is departed from them, and the Lord is with us: fear them not.
10 [†] But all the congregation bade stone them with stones. And the glory of the Lord appeared in the tabernacle of the congregation before all the children of Israel.
11 ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, How long will this people provoke me? and how long will it be ere they believe me, for all the signs which I have shewed among them?
12 [†] I will smite them with the pestilence, and disinherit them, and will make of thee a greater nation and mightier than they.
13 [†] ¶ And Moses said unto the Lord, Then the Egyptians shall hear it, (for thou broughtest up this people in thy might from among them;)
14 And they will tell it to the inhabitants of this land: for they have heard that thou Lord art among this people, that thou Lord art seen face to face, and that thy cloud standeth over them, and that thou goest before them, by day time in a pillar of a cloud, and in a pillar of fire by night.
15 ¶ Now if thou shalt kill all this people as one man, then the nations which have heard the fame of thee will speak, saying,
16 Because the Lord was not able to bring this people into the land which he sware unto them, therefore he hath slain them in the wilderness.
17 [†] And now, I beseech thee, let the power of my Lord be great, according as thou hast spoken, saying,
18 [†] The Lord is longsuffering, and of great mercy, forgiving iniquity and transgression, and by no means clearing the guilty, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation.
19 [†] Pardon, I beseech thee, the iniquity of this people according unto the greatness of thy mercy, and as thou hast forgiven this people, from Egypt even until now.
20 And the Lord said, I have pardoned according to thy word:
21 [†] But as truly as I live, all the earth shall be filled with the glory of the Lord.
22 [†] Because all those men which have seen my glory, and my miracles, which I did in Egypt and in the wilderness, and have tempted me now these ten times, and have not hearkened to my voice;
23 Surely they shall not see the land which I sware unto their fathers, neither shall any of them that provoked me see it:

24 [†] But my servant Caleb, because he had another spirit with him, and hath followed me fully, him will I bring into the land whereinto he went; and his seed shall possess it.
25 (Now the Amalekites and the Canaanites dwelt in the valley.) To morrow turn you, and get you into the wilderness by the way of the Red sea.
26 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying,
27 How long shall I bear with this evil congregation, which murmur against me? I have heard the murmurings of the children of Israel, which they murmur against me.
28 Say unto them, As truly as I live, saith the LORD, as ye have spoken in mine ears, so will I do to you:
29 [†] Your carcases shall fall in this wilderness; and all that were numbered of you, according to your whole number, from twenty years old and upward, which have murmured against me,
30 Doubtless ye shall not come into the land, concerning which I sware to make you dwell therein, save Caleb the son of Jephunneh, and Joshua the son of Nun.
31 [†] But your little ones, which ye said should be a prey, them will I bring in, and they shall know the land which ye have despised.
32 But as for you, your carcases, they shall fall in this wilderness.
33 [†] And your children shall wander in the wilderness forty years, and bear your whoredoms, until your carcases be wasted in the wilderness.
34 [†] After the number of the days in which ye searched the land, even forty days, each day for a year, shall ye bear your iniquities, even forty years, and ye shall know my breach of promise.
35 I the LORD have said, I will surely do it unto all this evil congregation, that are gathered together against me: in this wilderness they shall be consumed, and there they shall die.
36 [†] And the men, which Moses sent to search the land, who returned, and made all the congregation to murmur against him, by bringing up a slander upon the land,
37 [†] Even those men that did bring up the evil report upon the land, died by the plague before the LORD.
38 But Joshua the son of Nun, and Caleb the son of Jephunneh, which were of the men that went to search the land, lived still.
39 And Moses told these sayings unto all the children of Israel: and the people mourned greatly.
40 [†] ¶ And they rose up early in the morning, and gat them up into the top of the mountain, saying, Lo, we be here, and will go up unto the place which the LORD hath promised: for we have sinned.
41 And Moses said, Wherefore now do ye transgress the commandment of the LORD? but it shall not prosper.
42 Go not up, for the LORD is not among you; that ye be not smitten before your enemies.
43 For the Amalekites and the Canaanites are there before you, and ye shall fall by the sword: because ye are turned away from the LORD, therefore the LORD will not be with you.
44 But they presumed to go up unto the hill top: nevertheless the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and Moses, departed not out of the camp.
45 [†] Then the Amalekites came down, and the Canaanites which dwelt in that hill, and smote them, and discomfited them, even unto Hormah.

Numbers 15 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye be come into the land of your habitations, which I give unto you,
3 [†] And will make an offering by fire unto the Lord, a burnt offering, or a sacrifice in performing a vow, or in a freewill offering, or in your solemn feasts, to make a sweet savour unto the Lord, of the herd, or of the flock:
4 [†] Then shall he that offereth his offering unto the Lord bring a meat offering of a tenth deal of flour mingled with the fourth part of an hin of oil.
5 And the fourth part of an hin of wine for a drink offering shalt thou prepare with the burnt offering or sacrifice, for one lamb.
6 Or for a ram, thou shalt prepare for a meat offering two tenth deals of flour mingled with the third part of an hin of oil.
7 And for a drink offering thou shalt offer the third part of an hin of wine, for a sweet savour unto the Lord.
8 And when thou preparest a bullock for a burnt offering, or for a sacrifice in performing a vow, or peace offerings unto the Lord:
9 Then shall he bring with a bullock a meat offering of three tenth deals of flour mingled with half an hin of oil.
10 And thou shalt bring for a drink offering half an hin of wine, for an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord.
11 Thus shall it be done for one bullock, or for one ram, or for a lamb, or a kid.
12 According to the number that ye shall prepare, so shall ye do to every one according to their number.
13 [†] All that are born of the country shall do these things after this manner, in offering an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord.
14 And if a stranger sojourn with you, or whosoever be among you in your generations, and will offer an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord; as ye do, so he shall do.
15 One ordinance shall be both for you of the congregation, and also for the stranger that sojourneth with you, an ordinance for ever in your generations: as ye are, so shall the stranger be before the Lord.
16 One law and one manner shall be for you, and for the stranger that sojourneth with you.
17 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
18 Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye come into the land whither I bring you,
19 [†] Then it shall be, that, when ye eat of the bread of the land, ye shall offer up an heave offering unto the Lord.
20 [†] Ye shall offer up a cake of the first of your dough for an heave offering: as ye do the heave offering of the threshingfloor, so shall ye heave it.
21 Of the first of your dough ye shall give unto the Lord an heave offering in your generations.
22 [†] ¶ And if ye have erred, and not observed all these commandments, which the Lord hath spoken unto Moses,
23 Even all that the Lord hath commanded you by the hand of Moses, from the day that the Lord commanded Moses, and henceforward among your generations;
24 [†] Then it shall be, if ought be committed by ignorance without the knowledge of the congregation, that all the congregation shall offer one young bullock for a burnt offering, for a sweet savour unto the Lord, with his meat offering, and his drink offering, according to the manner, and one kid of the goats for a sin offering.

25 [†] And the priest shall make an atonement for all the congregation of the children of Israel, and it shall be forgiven them; for it is ignorance: and they shall bring their offering, a sacrifice made by fire unto the LORD, and their sin offering before the LORD, for their ignorance:
26 And it shall be forgiven all the congregation of the children of Israel, and the stranger that sojourneth among them; seeing all the people were in ignorance.
27 ¶ And if any soul sin through ignorance, then he shall bring a she goat of the first year for a sin offering.
28 And the priest shall make an atonement for the soul that sinneth ignorantly, when he sinneth by ignorance before the LORD, to make an atonement for him; and it shall be forgiven him.
29 Ye shall have one law for him that sinneth through ignorance, both for him that is born among the children of Israel, and for the stranger that sojourneth among them.
30 [†] ¶ But the soul that doeth ought presumptuously, whether he be born in the land, or a stranger, the same reproacheth the LORD; and that soul shall be cut off from among his people.
31 [†] Because he hath despised the word of the LORD, and hath broken his commandment, that soul shall utterly be cut off; his iniquity shall be upon him.
32 [†] ¶ And while the children of Israel were in the wilderness, they found a man that gathered sticks upon the sabbath day.
33 And they that found him gathering sticks brought him unto Moses and Aaron, and unto all the congregation.
34 [†] And they put him in ward, because it was not declared what should be done to him.
35 [†] And the LORD said unto Moses, The man shall be surely put to death: all the congregation shall stone him with stones without the camp.
36 And all the congregation brought him without the camp, and stoned him with stones, and he died; as the LORD commanded Moses.
37 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
38 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, and bid them that they make them fringes in the borders of their garments throughout their generations, and that they put upon the fringe of the borders a ribband of blue:
39 [†] And it shall be unto you for a fringe, that ye may look upon it, and remember all the commandments of the LORD, and do them; and that ye seek not after your own heart and your own eyes, after which ye use to go a whoring:
40 That ye may remember, and do all my commandments, and be holy unto your God.
41 I am the LORD your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God: I am the LORD your God.

Numbers 16 [†]

1 [†] Now Korah, the son of Izhar, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi, and Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab, and On, the son of Peleth, sons of Reuben, took men:
2 And they rose up before Moses, with certain of the children of Israel, two hundred and fifty princes of the assembly, famous in the congregation, men of renown:
3 [†] And they gathered themselves together against Moses and against Aaron, and said unto them, Ye take too much upon you, seeing all the congregation are holy, every one of them, and the Lord is among them: wherefore then lift ye up yourselves above the congregation of the Lord?
4 And when Moses heard it, he fell upon his face:
5 [†] And he spake unto Korah and unto all his company, saying, Even to morrow the Lord will shew who are his, and who is holy; and will cause him to come near unto him: even him whom he hath chosen will he cause to come near unto him.
6 [†] This do; Take you censers, Korah, and all his company;
7 And put fire therein, and put incense in them before the Lord to morrow: and it shall be that the man whom the Lord doth choose, he shall be holy: ye take too much upon you, ye sons of Levi.
8 And Moses said unto Korah, Hear, I pray you, ye sons of Levi:
9 [†] Seemeth it but a small thing unto you, that the God of Israel hath separated you from the congregation of Israel, to bring you near to himself to do the service of the tabernacle of the Lord, and to stand before the congregation to minister unto them?
10 And he hath brought thee near to him, and all thy brethren the sons of Levi with thee: and seek ye the priesthood also?
11 For which cause both thou and all thy company are gathered together against the Lord: and what is Aaron, that ye murmur against him?
12 ¶ And Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab: which said, We will not come up:
13 Is it a small thing that thou hast brought us up out of a land that floweth with milk and honey, to kill us in the wilderness, except thou make thyself altogether a prince over us?
14 Moreover thou hast not brought us into a land that floweth with milk and honey, or given us inheritance of fields and vineyards: wilt thou put out the eyes of these men? we will not come up.
15 [†] And Moses was very wroth, and said unto the Lord, Respect not thou their offering: I have not taken one ass from them, neither have I hurt one of them.
16 And Moses said unto Korah, Be thou and all thy company before the Lord, thou, and they, and Aaron, to morrow:
17 And take every man his censer, and put incense in them, and bring ye before the Lord every man his censer, two hundred and fifty censers; thou also, and Aaron, each of you his censer.
18 And they took every man his censer, and put fire in them, and laid incense thereon, and stood in the door of the tabernacle of the congregation with Moses and Aaron.
19 And Korah gathered all the congregation against them unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and the glory of the Lord appeared unto all the congregation.
20 And the Lord spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying,
21 [†] Separate yourselves from among this congregation, that I may consume them in a moment.
22 [†] And they fell upon their faces, and said, O God, the God of the spirits of all flesh, shall one man sin, and wilt thou be wroth with all the congregation?
23 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
24 [†] Speak unto the congregation, saying, Get you up from about the tabernacle of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram.

25 And Moses rose up and went unto Dathan and Abiram; and the elders of Israel followed him.
26 And he spake unto the congregation, saying, Depart, I pray you, from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of theirs, lest ye be consumed in all their sins.
27 [†] So they gat up from the tabernacle of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, on every side: and Dathan and Abiram came out, and stood in the door of their tents, and their wives, and their sons, and their little children.
28 And Moses said, Hereby ye shall know that the LORD hath sent me to do all these works; for I have not done them of mine own mind.
29 [†] If these men die the common death of all men, or if they be visited after the visitation of all men; then the LORD hath not sent me.
30 [†] But if the LORD make a new thing, and the earth open her mouth, and swallow them up, with all that appertain unto them, and they go down quick into the pit; then ye shall understand that these men have provoked the LORD.
31 [†] ¶ And it came to pass, as he had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground clave asunder that was under them:
32 [†] And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that appertained unto Korah, and all their goods.
33 They, and all that appertained to them, went down alive into the pit, and the earth closed upon them: and they perished from among the congregation.
34 And all Israel that were round about them fled at the cry of them: for they said, Lest the earth swallow us up also.
35 And there came out a fire from the LORD, and consumed the two hundred and fifty men that offered incense.
36 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
37 [†] Speak unto Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, that he take up the censers out of the burning, and scatter thou the fire yonder; for they are hallowed.
38 The censers of these sinners against their own souls, let them make them broad plates for a covering of the altar: for they offered them before the LORD, therefore they are hallowed: and they shall be a sign unto the children of Israel.
39 And Eleazar the priest took the brasen censers, wherewith they that were burnt had offered; and they were made broad plates for a covering of the altar:
40 [†] To be a memorial unto the children of Israel, that no stranger, which is not of the seed of Aaron, come near to offer incense before the LORD; that he be not as Korah, and as his company: as the LORD said to him by the hand of Moses.
41 ¶ But on the morrow all the congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and against Aaron, saying, Ye have killed the people of the LORD.
42 And it came to pass, when the congregation was gathered against Moses and against Aaron, that they looked toward the tabernacle of the congregation: and, behold, the cloud covered it, and the glory of the LORD appeared.
43 And Moses and Aaron came before the tabernacle of the congregation.
44 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
45 Get you up from among this congregation, that I may consume them as in a moment. And they fell upon their faces.
46 [†] ¶ And Moses said unto Aaron, Take a censer, and put fire therein from off the altar, and put on incense, and go quickly unto the congregation, and make an atonement for them: for there is wrath gone out from the LORD; the plague is begun.
47 And Aaron took as Moses commanded, and ran into the midst of the congregation; and, behold, the plague was begun among the people: and he put on incense, and made an atonement for the people.

48 [†] And he stood between the dead and the living; and the plague was stayed.
49 Now they that died in the plague were fourteen thousand and seven hundred, beside them that died about the matter of Korah.
50 And Aaron returned unto Moses unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and the plague was stayed.

Numbers 17 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Speak unto the children of Israel, and take of every one of them a rod according to the house of their fathers, of all their princes according to the house of their fathers twelve rods: write thou every man's name upon his rod.
3 And thou shalt write Aaron's name upon the rod of Levi: for one rod shall be for the head of the house of their fathers.
4 [†] And thou shalt lay them up in the tabernacle of the congregation before the testimony, where I will meet with you.
5 [†] And it shall come to pass, that the man's rod, whom I shall choose, shall blossom: and I will make to cease from me the murmurings of the children of Israel, whereby they murmur against you.
6 ¶ And Moses spake unto the children of Israel, and every one of their princes gave him a rod apiece, for each prince one, according to their fathers' houses, even twelve rods: and the rod of Aaron was among their rods.
7 And Moses laid up the rods before the Lord in the tabernacle of witness.
8 And it came to pass, that on the morrow Moses went into the tabernacle of witness; and, behold, the rod of Aaron for the house of Levi was budded, and brought forth buds, and bloomed blossoms, and yielded almonds.
9 And Moses brought out all the rods from before the Lord unto all the children of Israel: and they looked, and took every man his rod.
10 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Bring Aaron's rod again before the testimony, to be kept for a token against the rebels; and thou shalt quite take away their murmurings from me, that they die not.
11 And Moses did so: as the Lord commanded him, so did he.
12 [†] And the children of Israel spake unto Moses, saying, Behold, we die, we perish, we all perish.
13 [†] Whosoever cometh any thing near unto the tabernacle of the Lord shall die: shall we be consumed with dying?

Numbers 18 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord said unto Aaron, Thou and thy sons and thy father's house with thee shall bear the iniquity of the sanctuary: and thou and thy sons with thee shall bear the iniquity of your priesthood.
2 And thy brethren also of the tribe of Levi, the tribe of thy father, bring thou with thee, that they may be joined unto thee, and minister unto thee: but thou and thy sons with thee shall minister before the tabernacle of witness.
3 [†] And they shall keep thy charge, and the charge of all the tabernacle: only they shall not come nigh the vessels of the sanctuary and the altar, that neither they, nor ye also, die.
4 [†] And they shall be joined unto thee, and keep the charge of the tabernacle of the congregation, for all the service of the tabernacle: and a stranger shall not come nigh unto you.
5 And ye shall keep the charge of the sanctuary, and the charge of the altar: that there be no wrath any more upon the children of Israel.
6 And I, behold, I have taken your brethren the Levites from among the children of Israel: to you they are given as a gift for the Lord, to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation.
7 [†] Therefore thou and thy sons with thee shall keep your priest's office for every thing of the altar, and within the vail; and ye shall serve: I have given your priest's office unto you as a service of gift: and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.
8 [†] ¶ And the Lord spake unto Aaron, Behold, I also have given thee the charge of mine heave offerings of all the hallowed things of the children of Israel; unto thee have I given them by reason of the anointing, and to thy sons, by an ordinance for ever.
9 [†] This shall be thine of the most holy things, reserved from the fire: every oblation of theirs, every meat offering of theirs, and every sin offering of theirs, and every trespass offering of theirs, which they shall render unto me, shall be most holy for thee and for thy sons.
10 In the most holy place shalt thou eat it; every male shall eat it: it shall be holy unto thee.
11 [†] And this is thine; the heave offering of their gift, with all the wave offerings of the children of Israel: I have given them unto thee, and to thy sons and to thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: every one that is clean in thy house shall eat of it.
12 All the best of the oil, and all the best of the wine, and of the wheat, the firstfruits of them which they shall offer unto the Lord, them have I given thee.
13 And whatsoever is first ripe in the land, which they shall bring unto the Lord, shall be thine; every one that is clean in thine house shall eat of it.
14 [†] Every thing devoted in Israel shall be thine.
15 [†] Every thing that openeth the matrix in all flesh, which they bring unto the Lord, whether it be of men or beasts, shall be thine: nevertheless the firstborn of man shalt thou surely redeem, and the firstling of unclean beasts shalt thou redeem.
16 [†] And those that are to be redeemed from a month old shalt thou redeem, according to thine estimation, for the money of five shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary, which is twenty gerahs.
17 But the firstling of a cow, or the firstling of a sheep, or the firstling of a goat, thou shalt not redeem; they are holy: thou shalt sprinkle their blood upon the altar, and shalt burn their fat for an offering made by fire, for a sweet savour unto the Lord.
18 And the flesh of them shall be thine, as the wave breast and as the right shoulder are thine.
19 [†] All the heave offerings of the holy things, which the children of Israel offer unto the Lord, have I given thee, and thy sons and thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: it is a covenant of salt for ever before the Lord unto thee and to thy seed with thee.
20 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Aaron, Thou shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou have any part among them: I am thy part and thine inheritance among the children of Israel.

21 And, behold, I have given the children of Levi all the tenth in Israel for an inheritance, for their service which they serve, even the service of the tabernacle of the congregation.
22 [†] Neither must the children of Israel henceforth come nigh the tabernacle of the congregation, lest they bear sin, and die.
23 [†] But the Levites shall do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation, and they shall bear their iniquity: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations, that among the children of Israel they have no inheritance.
24 But the tithes of the children of Israel, which they offer as an heave offering unto the LORD, I have given to the Levites to inherit: therefore I have said unto them, Among the children of Israel they shall have no inheritance.
25 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
26 [†] Thus speak unto the Levites, and say unto them, When ye take of the children of Israel the tithes which I have given you from them for your inheritance, then ye shall offer up an heave offering of it for the LORD, even a tenth part of the tithe.
27 And this your heave offering shall be reckoned unto you, as though it were the corn of the threshingfloor, and as the fulness of the winepress.
28 Thus ye also shall offer an heave offering unto the LORD of all your tithes, which ye receive of the children of Israel; and ye shall give thereof the LORD's heave offering to Aaron the priest.
29 [†] Out of all your gifts ye shall offer every heave offering of the LORD, of all the best thereof, even the hallowed part thereof out of it.
30 Therefore thou shalt say unto them, When ye have heaved the best thereof from it, then it shall be counted unto the Levites as the increase of the threshingfloor, and as the increase of the winepress.
31 And ye shall eat it in every place, ye and your households: for it is your reward for your service in the tabernacle of the congregation.
32 [†] And ye shall bear no sin by reason of it, when ye have heaved from it the best of it: neither shall ye pollute the holy things of the children of Israel, lest ye die.

Numbers 19 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying,
2 [†] This is the ordinance of the law which the Lord hath commanded, saying, Speak unto the children of Israel, that they bring thee a red heifer without spot, wherein is no blemish, and upon which never came yoke:
3 [†] And ye shall give her unto Eleazar the priest, that he may bring her forth without the camp, and one shall slay her before his face:
4 And Eleazar the priest shall take of her blood with his finger, and sprinkle of her blood directly before the tabernacle of the congregation seven times:
5 And one shall burn the heifer in his sight; her skin, and her flesh, and her blood, with her dung, shall he burn:
6 And the priest shall take cedar wood, and hyssop, and scarlet, and cast it into the midst of the burning of the heifer.
7 Then the priest shall wash his clothes, and he shall bathe his flesh in water, and afterward he shall come into the camp, and the priest shall be unclean until the even.
8 And he that burneth her shall wash his clothes in water, and bathe his flesh in water, and shall be unclean until the even.
9 [†] And a man that is clean shall gather up the ashes of the heifer, and lay them up without the camp in a clean place, and it shall be kept for the congregation of the children of Israel for a water of separation: it is a purification for sin.
10 [†] And he that gathereth the ashes of the heifer shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even: and it shall be unto the children of Israel, and unto the stranger that sojourneth among them, for a statute for ever.
11 [†] ¶ He that toucheth the dead body of any man shall be unclean seven days.
12 [†] He shall purify himself with it on the third day, and on the seventh day he shall be clean: but if he purify not himself the third day, then the seventh day he shall not be clean.
13 Whosoever toucheth the dead body of any man that is dead, and purifieth not himself, defileth the tabernacle of the Lord; and that soul shall be cut off from Israel: because the water of separation was not sprinkled upon him, he shall be unclean; his uncleanness is yet upon him.
14 [†] This is the law, when a man dieth in a tent: all that come into the tent, and all that is in the tent, shall be unclean seven days.
15 And every open vessel, which hath no covering bound upon it, is unclean.
16 And whosoever toucheth one that is slain with a sword in the open fields, or a dead body, or a bone of a man, or a grave, shall be unclean seven days.
17 [†] And for an unclean person they shall take of the ashes of the burnt heifer of purification for sin, and running water shall be put thereto in a vessel:
18 And a clean person shall take hyssop, and dip it in the water, and sprinkle it upon the tent, and upon all the vessels, and upon the persons that were there, and upon him that touched a bone, or one slain, or one dead, or a grave:
19 And the clean person shall sprinkle upon the unclean on the third day, and on the seventh day: and on the seventh day he shall purify himself, and wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and shall be clean at even.
20 [†] But the man that shall be unclean, and shall not purify himself, that soul shall be cut off from among the congregation, because he hath defiled the sanctuary of the Lord: the water of separation hath not been sprinkled upon him; he is unclean.

21 And it shall be a perpetual statute unto them, that he that sprinkleth the water of separation shall wash his clothes; and he that toucheth the water of separation shall be unclean until even.
22 [†] And whatsoever the unclean person toucheth shall be unclean; and the soul that toucheth it shall be unclean until even.

Numbers 20 [†]

1 [†] Then came the children of Israel, even the whole congregation, into the desert of Zin in the first month: and the people abode in Kadesh; and Miriam died there, and was buried there.
2 [†] And there was no water for the congregation: and they gathered themselves together against Moses and against Aaron.
3 [†] And the people chode with Moses, and spake, saying, Would God that we had died when our brethren died before the Lord!
4 And why have ye brought up the congregation of the Lord into this wilderness, that we and our cattle should die there?
5 [†] And wherefore have ye made us to come up out of Egypt, to bring us in unto this evil place? it is no place of seed, or of figs, or of vines, or of pomegranates; neither is there any water to drink.
6 And Moses and Aaron went from the presence of the assembly unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and they fell upon their faces: and the glory of the Lord appeared unto them.
7 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
8 Take the rod, and gather thou the assembly together, thou, and Aaron thy brother, and speak ye unto the rock before their eyes; and it shall give forth his water, and thou shalt bring forth to them water out of the rock: so thou shalt give the congregation and their beasts drink.
9 And Moses took the rod from before the Lord, as he commanded him.
10 [†] And Moses and Aaron gathered the congregation together before the rock, and he said unto them, Hear now, ye rebels; must we fetch you water out of this rock?
11 [†] And Moses lifted up his hand, and with his rod he smote the rock twice: and the water came out abundantly, and the congregation drank, and their beasts also.
12 [†] ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron, Because ye believed me not, to sanctify me in the eyes of the children of Israel, therefore ye shall not bring this congregation into the land which I have given them.
13 [†] This is the water of Meribah; because the children of Israel strove with the Lord, and he was sanctified in them.
14 [†] ¶ And Moses sent messengers from Kadesh unto the king of Edom, Thus saith thy brother Israel, Thou knowest all the travail that hath befallen us:
15 [†] How our fathers went down into Egypt, and we have dwelt in Egypt a long time; and the Egyptians vexed us, and our fathers:
16 [†] And when we cried unto the Lord, he heard our voice, and sent an angel, and hath brought us forth out of Egypt: and, behold, we are in Kadesh, a city in the uttermost of thy border:
17 Let us pass, I pray thee, through thy country: we will not pass through the fields, or through the vineyards, neither will we drink of the water of the wells: we will go by the king's high way, we will not turn to the right hand nor to the left, until we have passed thy borders.
18 And Edom said unto him, Thou shalt not pass by me, lest I come out against thee with the sword.
19 And the children of Israel said unto him, We will go by the high way: and if I and my cattle drink of thy water, then I will pay for it: I will only, without doing any thing else, go through on my feet.
20 And he said, Thou shalt not go through. And Edom came out against him with much people, and with a strong hand.
21 Thus Edom refused to give Israel passage through his border: wherefore Israel turned away from him.
22 ¶ And the children of Israel, even the whole congregation, journeyed from Kadesh, and came unto mount Hor.

23 [†] And the LORD spake unto Moses and Aaron in mount Hor, by the coast of the land of Edom, saying,
24 Aaron shall be gathered unto his people: for he shall not enter into the land which I have given unto the children of Israel, because ye rebelled against my word at the water of Meribah.
25 Take Aaron and Eleazar his son, and bring them up unto mount Hor:
26 [†] And strip Aaron of his garments, and put them upon Eleazar his son: and Aaron shall be gathered unto his people, and shall die there.
27 And Moses did as the LORD commanded: and they went up into mount Hor in the sight of all the congregation.
28 And Moses stripped Aaron of his garments, and put them upon Eleazar his son; and Aaron died there in the top of the mount: and Moses and Eleazar came down from the mount.
29 And when all the congregation saw that Aaron was dead, they mourned for Aaron thirty days, even all the house of Israel.

Numbers 21 [†]

1 [†] And when king Arad the Canaanite, which dwelt in the south, heard tell that Israel came by the way of the spies; then he fought against Israel, and took some of them prisoners.
2 And Israel vowed a vow unto the Lord, and said, If thou wilt indeed deliver this people into my hand, then I will utterly destroy their cities.
3 [†] And the Lord hearkened to the voice of Israel, and delivered up the Canaanites; and they utterly destroyed them and their cities: and he called the name of the place Hormah.
4 [†] ¶ And they journeyed from mount Hor by the way of the Red sea, to compass the land of Edom: and the soul of the people was much discouraged because of the way.
5 [†] And the people spake against God, and against Moses, Wherefore have ye brought us up out of Egypt to die in the wilderness? for there is no bread, neither is there any water; and our soul loatheth this light bread.
6 [†] And the Lord sent fiery serpents among the people, and they bit the people; and much people of Israel died.
7 ¶ Therefore the people came to Moses, and said, We have sinned, for we have spoken against the Lord, and against thee; pray unto the Lord, that he take away the serpents from us. And Moses prayed for the people.
8 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Make thee a fiery serpent, and set it upon a pole: and it shall come to pass, that every one that is bitten, when he looketh upon it, shall live.
9 [†] And Moses made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole, and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he beheld the serpent of brass, he lived.
10 ¶ And the children of Israel set forward, and pitched in Oboth.
11 [†] And they journeyed from Oboth, and pitched at Ije-abarim, in the wilderness which is before Moab, toward the sunrising.
12 ¶ From thence they removed, and pitched in the valley of Zared.
13 [†] From thence they removed, and pitched on the other side of Arnon, which is in the wilderness that cometh out of the coasts of the Amorites: for Arnon is the border of Moab, between Moab and the Amorites.
14 [†] Wherefore it is said in the book of the wars of the Lord, What he did in the Red sea, and in the brooks of Arnon,
15 And at the stream of the brooks that goeth down to the dwelling of Ar, and lieth upon the border of Moab.
16 And from thence they went to Beer: that is the well whereof the Lord spake unto Moses, Gather the people together, and I will give them water.
17 ¶ Then Israel sang this song, Spring up, O well; sing ye unto it:
18 [†] The princes digged the well, the nobles of the people digged it, by the direction of the lawgiver, with their staves. And from the wilderness they went to Mattanah:
19 And from Mattanah to Nahaliel: and from Nahaliel to Bamoth:
20 And from Bamoth in the valley, that is in the country of Moab, to the top of Pisgah, which looketh toward Jeshimon.
21 [†] ¶ And Israel sent messengers unto Sihon king of the Amorites, saying,
22 Let me pass through thy land: we will not turn into the fields, or into the vineyards; we will not drink of the waters of the well: but we will go along by the king's high way, until we be past thy borders.
23 [†] And Sihon would not suffer Israel to pass through his border: but Sihon gathered all his people together, and went out against Israel into the wilderness: and he came to Jahaz, and fought against Israel.

24 And Israel smote him with the edge of the sword, and possessed his land from Arnon unto Jabbok, even unto the children of Ammon: for the border of the children of Ammon was strong.
25 [†] And Israel took all these cities: and Israel dwelt in all the cities of the Amorites, in Heshbon, and in all the villages thereof.
26 For Heshbon was the city of Sihon the king of the Amorites, who had fought against the former king of Moab, and taken all his land out of his hand, even unto Arnon.
27 Wherefore they that speak in proverbs say, Come into Heshbon, let the city of Sihon be built and prepared:
28 For there is a fire gone out of Heshbon, a flame from the city of Sihon: it hath consumed Ar of Moab, and the lords of the high places of Arnon.
29 [†] Woe to thee, Moab! thou art undone, O people of Chemosh: he hath given his sons that escaped, and his daughters, into captivity unto Sihon king of the Amorites.
30 We have shot at them; Heshbon is perished even unto Dibon, and we have laid them waste even unto Nophah, which reacheth unto Medeba.
31 ¶ Thus Israel dwelt in the land of the Amorites.
32 And Moses sent to spy out Jaazer, and they took the villages thereof, and drove out the Amorites that were there.
33 ¶ And they turned and went up by the way of Bashan: and Og the king of Bashan went out against them, he, and all his people, to the battle at Edrei.
34 And the LORD said unto Moses, Fear him not: for I have delivered him into thy hand, and all his people, and his land; and thou shalt do to him as thou didst unto Sihon king of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heshbon.
35 So they smote him, and his sons, and all his people, until there was none left him alive: and they possessed his land.

Numbers 22 [†]

1 [†] And the children of Israel set forward, and pitched in the plains of Moab on this side Jordan by Jericho.
2 ¶ And Balak the son of Zippor saw all that Israel had done to the Amorites.
3 [†] And Moab was sore afraid of the people, because they were many: and Moab was distressed because of the children of Israel.
4 [†] And Moab said unto the elders of Midian, Now shall this company lick up all that are round about us, as the ox licketh up the grass of the field. And Balak the son of Zippor was king of the Moabites at that time.
5 [†] He sent messengers therefore unto Balaam the son of Beor to Pethor, which is by the river of the land of the children of his people, to call him, saying, Behold, there is a people come out from Egypt: behold, they cover the face of the earth, and they abide over against me:
6 [†] Come now therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people; for they are too mighty for me: peradventure I shall prevail, that we may smite them, and that I may drive them out of the land: for I wot that he whom thou blessest is blessed, and he whom thou cursest is cursed.
7 [†] And the elders of Moab and the elders of Midian departed with the rewards of divination in their hand; and they came unto Balaam, and spake unto him the words of Balak.
8 And he said unto them, Lodge here this night, and I will bring you word again, as the LORD shall speak unto me: and the princes of Moab abode with Balaam.
9 And God came unto Balaam, and said, What men are these with thee?
10 And Balaam said unto God, Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab, hath sent unto me, saying,
11 Behold, there is a people come out of Egypt, which covereth the face of the earth: come now, curse me them; peradventure I shall be able to overcome them, and drive them out.
12 [†] And God said unto Balaam, Thou shalt not go with them; thou shalt not curse the people: for they are blessed.
13 And Balaam rose up in the morning, and said unto the princes of Balak, Get you into your land: for the LORD refuseth to give me leave to go with you.
14 And the princes of Moab rose up, and they went unto Balak, and said, Balaam refuseth to come with us.
15 ¶ And Balak sent yet again princes, more, and more honourable than they.
16 And they came to Balaam, and said to him, Thus saith Balak the son of Zippor, Let nothing, I pray thee, hinder thee from coming unto me:
17 For I will promote thee unto very great honour, and I will do whatsoever thou sayest unto me: come therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people.
18 And Balaam answered and said unto the servants of Balak, If Balak would give me his house full of silver and gold, I cannot go beyond the word of the LORD my God, to do less or more.
19 Now therefore, I pray you, tarry ye also here this night, that I may know what the LORD will say unto me more.
20 [†] And God came unto Balaam at night, and said unto him, If the men come to call thee, rise up, and go with them; but yet the word which I shall say unto thee, that shalt thou do.
21 And Balaam rose up in the morning, and saddled his ass, and went with the princes of Moab.
22 [†] ¶ And God's anger was kindled because he went: and the angel of the LORD stood in the way for an adversary against him. Now he was riding upon his ass, and his two servants were with him.
23 [†] And the ass saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand: and the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field: and Balaam smote the ass, to turn her into the way.

24 But the angel of the LORD stood in a path of the vineyards, a wall being on this side, and a wall on that side.
25 And when the ass saw the angel of the LORD, she thrust herself unto the wall, and crushed Balaam's foot against the wall: and he smote her again.
26 And the angel of the LORD went further, and stood in a narrow place, where was no way to turn either to the right hand or to the left.
27 And when the ass saw the angel of the LORD, she fell down under Balaam: and Balaam's anger was kindled, and he smote the ass with a staff.
28 [†] And the LORD opened the mouth of the ass, and she said unto Balaam, What have I done unto thee, that thou hast smitten me these three times?
29 And Balaam said unto the ass, Because thou hast mocked me: I would there were a sword in mine hand, for now would I kill thee.
30 [†] And the ass said unto Balaam, Am not I thine ass, upon which thou hast ridden ever since I was thine unto this day? was I ever wont to do so unto thee? And he said, Nay.
31 [†] Then the LORD opened the eyes of Balaam, and he saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand: and he bowed down his head, and fell flat on his face.
32 And the angel of the LORD said unto him, Wherefore hast thou smitten thine ass these three times? behold, I went out to withstand thee, because thy way is perverse before me:
33 And the ass saw me, and turned from me these three times: unless she had turned from me, surely now also I had slain thee, and saved her alive.
34 And Balaam said unto the angel of the LORD, I have sinned; for I knew not that thou stoodest in the way against me: now therefore, if it displease thee, I will get me back again.
35 And the angel of the LORD said unto Balaam, Go with the men: but only the word that I shall speak unto thee, that thou shalt speak. So Balaam went with the princes of Balak.
36 [†] ¶ And when Balak heard that Balaam was come, he went out to meet him unto a city of Moab, which is in the border of Arnon, which is in the utmost coast.
37 And Balak said unto Balaam, Did I not earnestly send unto thee to call thee? wherefore camest thou not unto me? am I not able indeed to promote thee to honour?
38 And Balaam said unto Balak, Lo, I am come unto thee: have I now any power at all to say any thing? the word that God putteth in my mouth, that shall I speak.
39 And Balaam went with Balak, and they came unto Kirjath-huzoth.
40 And Balak offered oxen and sheep, and sent to Balaam, and to the princes that were with him.
41 [†] And it came to pass on the morrow, that Balak took Balaam, and brought him up into the high places of Baal, that thence he might see the utmost part of the people.

Numbers 23 [†]

(see article: God's Immutability)

1 And Balaam said unto Balak, Build me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven oxen and seven rams.
2 And Balak did as Balaam had spoken; and Balak and Balaam offered on every altar a bullock and a ram.
3 [†] And Balaam said unto Balak, Stand by thy burnt offering, and I will go: peradventure the Lord will come to meet me: and whatsoever he sheweth me I will tell thee. And he went to an high place.
4 And God met Balaam: and he said unto him, I have prepared seven altars, and I have offered upon every altar a bullock and a ram.
5 [†] And the Lord put a word in Balaam's mouth, and said, Return unto Balak, and thus thou shalt speak.
6 [†] And he returned unto him, and, lo, he stood by his burnt sacrifice, he, and all the princes of Moab.
7 [†] And he took up his parable, and said, Balak the king of Moab hath brought me from Aram, out of the mountains of the east, saying, Come, curse me Jacob, and come, defy Israel.
8 How shall I curse, whom God hath not cursed? or how shall I defy, whom the Lord hath not defied?
9 [†] For from the top of the rocks I see him, and from the hills I behold him: lo, the people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations.
10 [†] Who can count the dust of Jacob, and the number of the fourth part of Israel? Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his!
11 And Balak said unto Balaam, What hast thou done unto me? I took thee to curse mine enemies, and, behold, thou hast blessed them altogether.
12 And he answered and said, Must I not take heed to speak that which the Lord hath put in my mouth?
13 [†] And Balak said unto him, Come, I pray thee, with me unto another place, from whence thou mayest see them: thou shalt see but the utmost part of them, and shalt not see them all: and curse me them from thence.
14 ¶ And he brought him into the field of Zophim, to the top of Pisgah, and built seven altars, and offered a bullock and a ram on every altar.
15 And he said unto Balak, Stand here by thy burnt offering, while I meet the Lord yonder.
16 And the Lord met Balaam, and put a word in his mouth, and said, Go again unto Balak, and say thus.
17 And when he came to him, behold, he stood by his burnt offering, and the princes of Moab with him. And Balak said unto him, What hath the Lord spoken?
18 And he took up his parable, and said, Rise up, Balak, and hear; hearken unto me, thou son of Zippor:
19 [†] God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good?
20 [†] Behold, I have received commandment to bless: and he hath blessed; and I cannot reverse it.
21 [†] He hath not beheld iniquity in Jacob, neither hath he seen perverseness in Israel: the Lord his God is with him, and the shout of a king is among them.
22 [†] God brought them out of Egypt; he hath as it were the strength of an unicorn.
23 [†] Surely there is no enchantment against Jacob, neither is there any divination against Israel: according to this time it shall be said of Jacob and of Israel, What hath God wrought!
24 Behold, the people shall rise up as a great lion, and lift up himself as a young lion: he shall not lie down until he eat of the prey, and drink the blood of the slain.
25 ¶ And Balak said unto Balaam, Neither curse them at all, nor bless them at all.

26 But Balaam answered and said unto Balak, Told not I thee, saying, All that the LORD speaketh, that I must do?
27 [†] ¶ And Balak said unto Balaam, Come, I pray thee, I will bring thee unto another place; peradventure it will please God that thou mayest curse me them from thence.
28 And Balak brought Balaam unto the top of Peor, that looketh toward Jeshimon.
29 And Balaam said unto Balak, Build me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven bullocks and seven rams.
30 And Balak did as Balaam had said, and offered a bullock and a ram on every altar.

Numbers 24 [†]

1 [†] And when Balaam saw that it pleased the Lord to bless Israel, he went not, as at other times, to seek for enchantments, but he set his face toward the wilderness.
2 [†] And Balaam lifted up his eyes, and he saw Israel abiding in his tents according to their tribes; and the spirit of God came upon him.
3 [†] And he took up his parable, and said, Balaam the son of Beor hath said, and the man whose eyes are open hath said:
4 He hath said, which heard the words of God, which saw the vision of the Almighty, falling into a trance, but having his eyes open:
5 [†] How goodly are thy tents, O Jacob, and thy tabernacles, O Israel!
6 [†] As the valleys are they spread forth, as gardens by the river's side, as the trees of lign aloes which the Lord hath planted, and as cedar trees beside the waters.
7 He shall pour the water out of his buckets, and his seed shall be in many waters, and his king shall be higher than Agag, and his kingdom shall be exalted.
8 [†] God brought him forth out of Egypt; he hath as it were the strength of an unicorn: he shall eat up the nations his enemies, and shall break their bones, and pierce them through with his arrows.
9 [†] He couched, he lay down as a lion, and as a great lion: who shall stir him up? Blessed is he that blesseth thee, and cursed is he that curseth thee.
10 ¶ And Balak's anger was kindled against Balaam, and he smote his hands together: and Balak said unto Balaam, I called thee to curse mine enemies, and, behold, thou hast altogether blessed them these three times.
11 Therefore now flee thou to thy place: I thought to promote thee unto great honour; but, lo, the Lord hath kept thee back from honour.
12 And Balaam said unto Balak, Spake I not also to thy messengers which thou sentest unto me, saying,
13 If Balak would give me his house full of silver and gold, I cannot go beyond the commandment of the Lord, to do either good or bad of mine own mind; but what the Lord saith, that will I speak?
14 [†] And now, behold, I go unto my people: come therefore, and I will advertise thee what this people shall do to thy people in the latter days.
15 ¶ And he took up his parable, and said, Balaam the son of Beor hath said, and the man whose eyes are open hath said:
16 He hath said, which heard the words of God, and knew the knowledge of the most High, which saw the vision of the Almighty, falling into a trance, but having his eyes open:
17 [†] I shall see him, but not now: I shall behold him, but not nigh: there shall come a Star out of Jacob, and a Sceptre shall rise out of Israel, and shall smite the corners of Moab, and destroy all the children of Sheth.
18 And Edom shall be a possession, Seir also shall be a possession for his enemies; and Israel shall do valiantly.
19 Out of Jacob shall come he that shall have dominion, and shall destroy him that remaineth of the city.
20 [†] ¶ And when he looked on Amalek, he took up his parable, and said, Amalek was the first of the nations; but his latter end shall be that he perish for ever.
21 And he looked on the Kenites, and took up his parable, and said, Strong is thy dwellingplace, and thou puttest thy nest in a rock.
22 Nevertheless the Kenite shall be wasted, until Asshur shall carry thee away captive.
23 And he took up his parable, and said, Alas, who shall live when God doeth this!
24 And ships shall come from the coast of Chittim, and shall afflict Asshur, and shall afflict Eber, and he also shall perish for ever.

25 And Balaam rose up, and went and returned to his place: and Balak also went his way.

Numbers 25 [†]

1 [†] And Israel abode in Shittim, and the people began to commit whoredom with the daughters of Moab.
2 And they called the people unto the sacrifices of their gods: and the people did eat, and bowed down to their gods.
3 [†] And Israel joined himself unto Baal-peor: and the anger of the Lord was kindled against Israel.
4 [†] And the Lord said unto Moses, Take all the heads of the people, and hang them up before the Lord against the sun, that the fierce anger of the Lord may be turned away from Israel.
5 And Moses said unto the judges of Israel, Slay ye every one his men that were joined unto Baal-peor.
6 ¶ And, behold, one of the children of Israel came and brought unto his brethren a Midianitish woman in the sight of Moses, and in the sight of all the congregation of the children of Israel, who were weeping before the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.
7 And when Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, saw it, he rose up from among the congregation, and took a javelin in his hand;
8 [†] And he went after the man of Israel into the tent, and thrust both of them through, the man of Israel, and the woman through her belly. So the plague was stayed from the children of Israel.
9 And those that died in the plague were twenty and four thousand.
10 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
11 [†] Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, hath turned my wrath away from the children of Israel, while he was zealous for my sake among them, that I consumed not the children of Israel in my jealousy.
12 [†] Wherefore say, Behold, I give unto him my covenant of peace:
13 [†] And he shall have it, and his seed after him, even the covenant of an everlasting priesthood; because he was zealous for his God, and made an atonement for the children of Israel.
14 [†] Now the name of the Israelite that was slain, even that was slain with the Midianitish woman, was Zimri, the son of Salu, a prince of a chief house among the Simeonites.
15 And the name of the Midianitish woman that was slain was Cozbi, the daughter of Zur; he was head over a people, and of a chief house in Midian.
16 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
17 [†] Vex the Midianites, and smite them:
18 [†] For they vex you with their wiles, wherewith they have beguiled you in the matter of Peor, and in the matter of Cozbi, the daughter of a prince of Midian, their sister, which was slain in the day of the plague for Peor’s sake.

Numbers 26 [†]

1 And it came to pass after the plague, that the Lord spake unto Moses and unto Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, saying,
2 Take the sum of all the congregation of the children of Israel, from twenty years old and upward, throughout their fathers' house, all that are able to go to war in Israel.
3 And Moses and Eleazar the priest spake with them in the plains of Moab by Jordan near Jericho, saying,
4 [†] Take the sum of the people, from twenty years old and upward; as the Lord commanded Moses and the children of Israel, which went forth out of the land of Egypt.
5 ¶ Reuben, the eldest son of Israel: the children of Reuben; Hanoch, of whom cometh the family of the Hanochites: of Pallu, the family of the Palluites:
6 Of Hezron, the family of the Hezronites: of Carmi, the family of the Carmites.
7 These are the families of the Reubenites: and they that were numbered of them were forty and three thousand and seven hundred and thirty.
8 And the sons of Pallu; Eliab.
9 And the sons of Eliab; Nemuel, and Dathan, and Abiram. This is that Dathan and Abiram, which were famous in the congregation, who strove against Moses and against Aaron in the company of Korah, when they strove against the Lord:
10 And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up together with Korah, when that company died, what time the fire devoured two hundred and fifty men: and they became a sign.
11 [†] Notwithstanding the children of Korah died not.
12 ¶ The sons of Simeon after their families: of Nemuel, the family of the Nemuelites: of Jamin, the family of the Jaminites: of Jachin, the family of the Jachinites:
13 Of Zerah, the family of the Zarhites: of Shaul, the family of the Shaulites.
14 These are the families of the Simeonites, twenty and two thousand and two hundred.
15 ¶ The children of Gad after their families: of Zephon, the family of the Zephonites: of Haggi, the family of the Haggites: of Shuni, the family of the Shunites:
16 Of Ozni, the family of the Oznites: of Eri, the family of the Erites:
17 Of Arod, the family of the Arodites: of Areli, the family of the Arelites.
18 These are the families of the children of Gad according to those that were numbered of them, forty thousand and five hundred.
19 ¶ The sons of Judah were Er and Onan: and Er and Onan died in the land of Canaan.
20 And the sons of Judah after their families were; of Shelah, the family of the Shelanites: of Pharez, the family of the Pharzites: of Zerah, the family of the Zarhites.
21 And the sons of Pharez were; of Hezron, the family of the Hezronites: of Hamul, the family of the Hamulites.
22 These are the families of Judah according to those that were numbered of them, threescore and sixteen thousand and five hundred.
23 ¶ Of the sons of Issachar after their families: of Tola, the family of the Tolaites: of Pua, the family of the Punites:
24 Of Jashub, the family of the Jashubites: of Shimron, the family of the Shimronites.
25 These are the families of Issachar according to those that were numbered of them, threescore and four thousand and three hundred.
26 ¶ Of the sons of Zebulun after their families: of Sered, the family of the Sardites: of Elon, the family of the Elonites: of Jahleel, the family of the Jahleelites.

27 These are the families of the Zebulunites according to those that were numbered of them, threescore thousand and five hundred.
28 ¶ The sons of Joseph after their families were Manasseh and Ephraim.
29 Of the sons of Manasseh: of Machir, the family of the Machirites: and Machir begat Gilead: of Gilead come the family of the Gileadites.
30 These are the sons of Gilead: of Jeezer, the family of the Jeezerites: of Helek, the family of the Helekites:
31 And of Asriel, the family of the Asrielites: and of Shechem, the family of the Shechemites:
32 And of Shemida, the family of the Shemidaites: and of Hepher, the family of the Hepherites.
33 ¶ And Zelophehad the son of Hepher had no sons, but daughters: and the names of the daughters of Zelophehad were Mahlah, and Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah.
34 These are the families of Manasseh, and those that were numbered of them, fifty and two thousand and seven hundred.
35 ¶ These are the sons of Ephraim after their families: of Shuthelah, the family of the Shuthalhites: of Becher, the family of the Bachrites: of Tahan, the family of the Tahanites.
36 And these are the sons of Shuthelah: of Eran, the family of the Eranites.
37 These are the families of the sons of Ephraim according to those that were numbered of them, thirty and two thousand and five hundred. These are the sons of Joseph after their families.
38 ¶ The sons of Benjamin after their families: of Bela, the family of the Belaites: of Ashbel, the family of the Ashbelites: of Ahiram, the family of the Ahiramites:
39 Of Shupham, the family of the Shuphamites: of Hupham, the family of the Huphamites.
40 And the sons of Bela were Ard and Naaman: of Ard, the family of the Ardites: and of Naaman, the family of the Naamites.
41 These are the sons of Benjamin after their families: and they that were numbered of them were forty and five thousand and six hundred.
42 ¶ These are the sons of Dan after their families: of Shuham, the family of the Shuhamites. These are the families of Dan after their families.
43 All the families of the Shuhamites, according to those that were numbered of them, were threescore and four thousand and four hundred.
44 ¶ Of the children of Asher after their families: of Jimna, the family of the Jimnites: of Jesui, the family of the Jesuites: of Beriah, the family of the Beriites.
45 Of the sons of Beriah: of Heber, the family of the Heberites: of Malchiel, the family of the Malchielites.
46 And the name of the daughter of Asher was Sarah.
47 These are the families of the sons of Asher according to those that were numbered of them; who were fifty and three thousand and four hundred.
48 ¶ Of the sons of Naphtali after their families: of Jahzeel, the family of the Jahzeelites: of Guni, the family of the Gunites:
49 Of Jezer, the family of the Jezerites: of Shillem, the family of the Shillemites.
50 These are the families of Naphtali according to their families: and they that were numbered of them were forty and five thousand and four hundred.
51 These were the numbered of the children of Israel, six hundred thousand and a thousand seven hundred and thirty.
52 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
53 Unto these the land shall be divided for an inheritance according to the number of names.
54 To many thou shalt give the more inheritance, and to few thou shalt give the less inheritance: to every one shall his inheritance be given according to those that were numbered of him.

55 Notwithstanding the land shall be divided by lot: according to the names of the tribes of their fathers they shall inherit.
56 According to the lot shall the possession thereof be divided between many and few.
57 ¶ And these are they that were numbered of the Levites after their families: of Gershon, the family of the Gershonites: of Kohath, the family of the Kohathites: of Merari, the family of the Merarites.
58 These are the families of the Levites: the family of the Libnites, the family of the Hebronites, the family of the Mahlites, the family of the Mushites, the family of the Korathites. And Kohath begat Amram.
59 And the name of Amram's wife was Jochebed, the daughter of Levi, whom her mother bare to Levi in Egypt: and she bare unto Amram Aaron and Moses, and Miriam their sister.
60 And unto Aaron was born Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.
61 [†] And Nadab and Abihu died, when they offered strange fire before the LORD.
62 And those that were numbered of them were twenty and three thousand, all males from a month old and upward: for they were not numbered among the children of Israel, because there was no inheritance given them among the children of Israel.
63 ¶ These are they that were numbered by Moses and Eleazar the priest, who numbered the children of Israel in the plains of Moab by Jordan near Jericho.
64 [†] But among these there was not a man of them whom Moses and Aaron the priest numbered, when they numbered the children of Israel in the wilderness of Sinai.
65 For the LORD had said of them, They shall surely die in the wilderness. And there was not left a man of them, save Caleb the son of Jephunneh, and Joshua the son of Nun.

Numbers 27 [†]

1 Then came the daughters of Zelophehad, the son of Hepher, the son of Gilead, the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh, of the families of Manasseh the son of Joseph: and these are the names of his daughters; Mahlah, Noah, and Hoglah, and Milcah, and Tirzah.
2 [†] And they stood before Moses, and before Eleazar the priest, and before the princes and all the congregation, by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, saying,
3 [†] Our father died in the wilderness, and he was not in the company of them that gathered themselves together against the Lord in the company of Korah; but died in his own sin, and had no sons.
4 [†] Why should the name of our father be done away from among his family, because he hath no son? Give unto us therefore a possession among the brethren of our father.
5 And Moses brought their cause before the Lord.
6 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
7 [†] The daughters of Zelophehad speak right: thou shalt surely give them a possession of an inheritance among their father's brethren; and thou shalt cause the inheritance of their father to pass unto them.
8 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel, saying, If a man die, and have no son, then ye shall cause his inheritance to pass unto his daughter.
9 And if he have no daughter, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his brethren.
10 And if he have no brethren, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his father's brethren.
11 And if his father have no brethren, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his kinsman that is next to him of his family, and he shall possess it: and it shall be unto the children of Israel a statute of judgment, as the Lord commanded Moses.
12 ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Get thee up into this mount Abarim, and see the land which I have given unto the children of Israel.
13 [†] And when thou hast seen it, thou also shalt be gathered unto thy people, as Aaron thy brother was gathered.
14 [†] For ye rebelled against my commandment in the desert of Zin, in the strife of the congregation, to sanctify me at the water before their eyes: that is the water of Meribah in Kadesh in the wilderness of Zin.
15 ¶ And Moses spake unto the Lord, saying,
16 Let the Lord, the God of the spirits of all flesh, set a man over the congregation,
17 [†] Which may go out before them, and which may go in before them, and which may lead them out, and which may bring them in; that the congregation of the Lord be not as sheep which have no shepherd.
18 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Take thee Joshua the son of Nun, a man in whom is the spirit, and lay thine hand upon him;
19 [†] And set him before Eleazar the priest, and before all the congregation; and give him a charge in their sight.
20 [†] And thou shalt put some of thine honour upon him, that all the congregation of the children of Israel may be obedient.
21 [†] And he shall stand before Eleazar the priest, who shall ask counsel for him after the judgment of Urim before the Lord: at his word shall they go out, and at his word they shall come in, both he, and all the children of Israel with him, even all the congregation.
22 And Moses did as the Lord commanded him: and he took Joshua, and set him before Eleazar the priest, and before all the congregation:

23 And he laid his hands upon him, and gave him a charge, as the LORD commanded by the hand of Moses.

Numbers 28 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Command the children of Israel, and say unto them, My offering, and my bread for my sacrifices made by fire, for a sweet savour unto me, shall ye observe to offer unto me in their due season.
3 [†] And thou shalt say unto them, This is the offering made by fire which ye shall offer unto the Lord; two lambs of the first year without spot day by day, for a continual burnt offering.
4 The one lamb shalt thou offer in the morning, and the other lamb shalt thou offer at even;
5 [†] And a tenth part of an ephah of flour for a meat offering, mingled with the fourth part of an hin of beaten oil.
6 It is a continual burnt offering, which was ordained in mount Sinai for a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord.
7 [†] And the drink offering thereof shall be the fourth part of an hin for the one lamb: in the holy place shalt thou cause the strong wine to be poured unto the Lord for a drink offering.
8 And the other lamb shalt thou offer at even: as the meat offering of the morning, and as the drink offering thereof, thou shalt offer it, a sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord.
9 [†] ¶ And on the sabbath day two lambs of the first year without spot, and two tenth deals of flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, and the drink offering thereof:
10 [†] This is the burnt offering of every sabbath, beside the continual burnt offering, and his drink offering.
11 ¶ And in the beginnings of your months ye shall offer a burnt offering unto the Lord; two young bullocks, and one ram, seven lambs of the first year without spot;
12 And three tenth deals of flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, for one bullock; and two tenth deals of flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, for one ram;
13 And a several tenth deal of flour mingled with oil for a meat offering unto one lamb; for a burnt offering of a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord.
14 And their drink offerings shall be half an hin of wine unto a bullock, and the third part of an hin unto a ram, and a fourth part of an hin unto a lamb: this is the burnt offering of every month throughout the months of the year.
15 And one kid of the goats for a sin offering unto the Lord shall be offered, beside the continual burnt offering, and his drink offering.
16 And in the fourteenth day of the first month is the passover of the Lord.
17 And in the fifteenth day of this month is the feast: seven days shall unleavened bread be eaten.
18 [†] In the first day shall be an holy convocation; ye shall do no manner of servile work therein:
19 But ye shall offer a sacrifice made by fire for a burnt offering unto the Lord; two young bullocks, and one ram, and seven lambs of the first year: they shall be unto you without blemish:
20 And their meat offering shall be of flour mingled with oil: three tenth deals shall ye offer for a bullock, and two tenth deals for a ram;
21 A several tenth deal shalt thou offer for every lamb, throughout the seven lambs:
22 And one goat for a sin offering, to make an atonement for you.
23 Ye shall offer these beside the burnt offering in the morning, which is for a continual burnt offering.
24 After this manner ye shall offer daily, throughout the seven days, the meat of the sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord: it shall be offered beside the continual burnt offering, and his drink offering.
25 And on the seventh day ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work.

26 ¶ Also in the day of the firstfruits, when ye bring a new meat offering unto the LORD, after your weeks be out, ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work:
27 But ye shall offer the burnt offering for a sweet savour unto the LORD; two young bullocks, one ram, seven lambs of the first year;
28 And their meat offering of flour mingled with oil, three tenth deals unto one bullock, two tenth deals unto one ram,
29 A several tenth deal unto one lamb, throughout the seven lambs;
30 And one kid of the goats, to make an atonement for you.
31 Ye shall offer them beside the continual burnt offering, and his meat offering, (they shall be unto you without blemish) and their drink offerings.

Numbers 29 [†]

1 [†] And in the seventh month, on the first day of the month, ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work: it is a day of blowing the trumpets unto you.
2 And ye shall offer a burnt offering for a sweet savour unto the Lord; one young bullock, one ram, and seven lambs of the first year without blemish:
3 [†] And their meat offering shall be of flour mingled with oil, three tenth deals for a bullock, and two tenth deals for a ram,
4 And one tenth deal for one lamb, throughout the seven lambs:
5 And one kid of the goats for a sin offering, to make an atonement for you:
6 Beside the burnt offering of the month, and his meat offering, and the daily burnt offering, and his meat offering, and their drink offerings, according unto their manner, for a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord.
7 [†] ¶ And ye shall have on the tenth day of this seventh month an holy convocation; and ye shall afflict your souls: ye shall not do any work therein:
8 But ye shall offer a burnt offering unto the Lord for a sweet savour; one young bullock, one ram, and seven lambs of the first year; they shall be unto you without blemish:
9 And their meat offering shall be of flour mingled with oil, three tenth deals to a bullock, and two tenth deals to one ram,
10 A several tenth deal for one lamb, throughout the seven lambs:
11 One kid of the goats for a sin offering; beside the sin offering of atonement, and the continual burnt offering, and the meat offering of it, and their drink offerings.
12 ¶ And on the fifteenth day of the seventh month ye shall have an holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work, and ye shall keep a feast unto the Lord seven days:
13 And ye shall offer a burnt offering, a sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the Lord; thirteen young bullocks, two rams, and fourteen lambs of the first year; they shall be without blemish:
14 And their meat offering shall be of flour mingled with oil, three tenth deals unto every bullock of the thirteen bullocks, two tenth deals to each ram of the two rams,
15 And a several tenth deal to each lamb of the fourteen lambs:
16 And one kid of the goats for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering, and his drink offering.
17 ¶ And on the second day ye shall offer twelve young bullocks, two rams, fourteen lambs of the first year without spot:
18 And their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:
19 And one kid of the goats for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, and the meat offering thereof, and their drink offerings.
20 ¶ And on the third day eleven bullocks, two rams, fourteen lambs of the first year without blemish;
21 And their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:
22 And one goat for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, and his meat offering, and his drink offering.
23 ¶ And on the fourth day ten bullocks, two rams, and fourteen lambs of the first year without blemish:
24 Their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:
25 And one kid of the goats for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering, and his drink offering.

26 ¶ And on the fifth day nine bullocks, two rams, and fourteen lambs of the first year without spot:
27 And their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:
28 And one goat for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, and his meat offering, and his drink offering.
29 ¶ And on the sixth day eight bullocks, two rams, and fourteen lambs of the first year without blemish:
30 And their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:
31 And one goat for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering, and his drink offering.
32 ¶ And on the seventh day seven bullocks, two rams, and fourteen lambs of the first year without blemish:
33 And their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:
34 And one goat for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering, and his drink offering.
35 ¶ On the eighth day ye shall have a solemn assembly: ye shall do no servile work therein:
36 But ye shall offer a burnt offering, a sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD: one bullock, one ram, seven lambs of the first year without blemish:
37 Their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullock, for the ram, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner:
38 And one goat for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, and his meat offering, and his drink offering.
39 These things ye shall do unto the LORD in your set feasts, beside your vows, and your freewill offerings, for your burnt offerings, and for your meat offerings, and for your drink offerings, and for your peace offerings.
40 And Moses told the children of Israel according to all that the LORD commanded Moses.

Numbers 30 [†]

1 And Moses spake unto the heads of the tribes concerning the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded.
2 [†] If a man vow a vow unto the Lord, or swear an oath to bind his soul with a bond; he shall not break his word, he shall do according to all that proceedeth out of his mouth.
3 If a woman also vow a vow unto the Lord, and bind herself by a bond, being in her father's house in her youth;
4 [†] And her father hear her vow, and her bond wherewith she hath bound her soul, and her father shall hold his peace at her: then all her vows shall stand, and every bond wherewith she hath bound her soul shall stand.
5 [†] But if her father disallow her in the day that he heareth; not any of her vows, or of her bonds wherewith she hath bound her soul, shall stand: and the Lord shall forgive her, because her father disallowed her.
6 And if she had at all an husband, when she vowed, or uttered ought out of her lips, wherewith she bound her soul;
7 And her husband heard it, and held his peace at her in the day that he heard it: then her vows shall stand, and her bonds wherewith she bound her soul shall stand.
8 [†] But if her husband disallowed her on the day that he heard it; then he shall make her vow which she vowed, and that which she uttered with her lips, wherewith she bound her soul, of none effect: and the Lord shall forgive her.
9 But every vow of a widow, and of her that is divorced, wherewith they have bound their souls, shall stand against her.
10 And if she vowed in her husband's house, or bound her soul by a bond with an oath;
11 And her husband heard it, and held his peace at her, and disallowed her not: then all her vows shall stand, and every bond wherewith she bound her soul shall stand.
12 [†] But if her husband hath utterly made them void on the day he heard them; then whatsoever proceeded out of her lips concerning her vows, or concerning the bond of her soul, shall not stand: her husband hath made them void; and the Lord shall forgive her.
13 Every vow, and every binding oath to afflict the soul, her husband may establish it, or her husband may make it void.
14 But if her husband altogether hold his peace at her from day to day; then he establisheth all her vows, or all her bonds, which are upon her: he confirmeth them, because he held his peace at her in the day that he heard them.
15 [†] But if he shall any ways make them void after that he hath heard them; then he shall bear her iniquity.
16 [†] These are the statutes, which the Lord commanded Moses, between a man and his wife, between the father and his daughter, being yet in her youth in her father's house.

Numbers 31 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Avenge the children of Israel of the Midianites: afterward shalt thou be gathered unto thy people.
3 And Moses spake unto the people, saying, Arm some of yourselves unto the war, and let them go against the Midianites, and avenge the Lord of Midian.
4 Of every tribe a thousand, throughout all the tribes of Israel, shall ye send to the war.
5 So there were delivered out of the thousands of Israel, a thousand of every tribe, twelve thousand armed for war.
6 And Moses sent them to the war, a thousand of every tribe, them and Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest, to the war, with the holy instruments, and the trumpets to blow in his hand.
7 And they warred against the Midianites, as the Lord commanded Moses; and they slew all the males.
8 And they slew the kings of Midian, beside the rest of them that were slain; namely, Evi, and Rekem, and Zur, and Hur, and Reba, five kings of Midian: Balaam also the son of Beor they slew with the sword.
9 And the children of Israel took all the women of Midian captives, and their little ones, and took the spoil of all their cattle, and all their flocks, and all their goods.
10 [†] And they burnt all their cities wherein they dwelt, and all their goodly castles, with fire.
11 [†] And they took all the spoil, and all the prey, both of men and of beasts.
12 And they brought the captives, and the prey, and the spoil, unto Moses, and Eleazar the priest, and unto the congregation of the children of Israel, unto the camp at the plains of Moab, which are by Jordan near Jericho.
13 ¶ And Moses, and Eleazar the priest, and all the princes of the congregation, went forth to meet them without the camp.
14 [†] And Moses was wroth with the officers of the host, with the captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, which came from the battle.
15 And Moses said unto them, Have ye saved all the women alive?
16 [†] Behold, these caused the children of Israel, through the counsel of Balaam, to commit trespass against the Lord in the matter of Peor, and there was a plague among the congregation of the Lord.
17 Now therefore kill every male among the little ones, and kill every woman that hath known man by lying with him.
18 But all the women children, that have not known a man by lying with him, keep alive for yourselves.
19 [†] And do ye abide without the camp seven days: whosoever hath killed any person, and whosoever hath touched any slain, purify both yourselves and your captives on the third day, and on the seventh day.
20 And purify all your raiment, and all that is made of skins, and all work of goats' hair, and all things made of wood.
21 ¶ And Eleazar the priest said unto the men of war which went to the battle, This is the ordinance of the law which the Lord commanded Moses;
22 [†] Only the gold, and the silver, the brass, the iron, the tin, and the lead,
23 [†] Every thing that may abide the fire, ye shall make it go through the fire, and it shall be clean: nevertheless it shall be purified with the water of separation: and all that abideth not the fire ye shall make go through the water.
24 And ye shall wash your clothes on the seventh day, and ye shall be clean, and afterward ye shall come into the camp.
25 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

26 Take the sum of the prey that was taken, both of man and of beast, thou, and Eleazar the priest, and the chief fathers of the congregation:
27 And divide the prey into two parts; between them that took the war upon them, who went out to battle, and between all the congregation:
28 [†] And levy a tribute unto the LORD of the men of war which went out to battle: one soul of five hundred, both of the persons, and of the beeves, and of the asses, and of the sheep:
29 Take it of their half, and give it unto Eleazar the priest, for an heave offering of the LORD.
30 And of the children of Israel's half, thou shalt take one portion of fifty, of the persons, of the beeves, of the asses, and of the flocks, of all manner of beasts, and give them unto the Levites, which keep the charge of the tabernacle of the LORD.
31 And Moses and Eleazar the priest did as the LORD commanded Moses.
32 [†] And the booty, being the rest of the prey which the men of war had caught, was six hundred thousand and seventy thousand and five thousand sheep,
33 And threescore and twelve thousand beeves,
34 And threescore and one thousand asses,
35 And thirty and two thousand persons in all, of women that had not known man by lying with him.
36 And the half, which was the portion of them that went out to war, was in number three hundred thousand and seven and thirty thousand and five hundred sheep:
37 And the LORD's tribute of the sheep was six hundred and threescore and fifteen.
38 And the beeves were thirty and six thousand; of which the LORD's tribute was threescore and twelve.
39 And the asses were thirty thousand and five hundred; of which the LORD's tribute was threescore and one.
40 And the persons were sixteen thousand; of which the LORD's tribute was thirty and two persons.
41 And Moses gave the tribute, which was the LORD's heave offering, unto Eleazar the priest, as the LORD commanded Moses.
42 And of the children of Israel's half, which Moses divided from the men that warred,
43 (Now the half that pertained unto the congregation was three hundred thousand and thirty thousand and seven thousand and five hundred sheep,
44 And thirty and six thousand beeves,
45 And thirty thousand asses and five hundred,
46 And sixteen thousand persons;)
47 Even of the children of Israel's half, Moses took one portion of fifty, both of man and of beast, and gave them unto the Levites, which kept the charge of the tabernacle of the LORD; as the LORD commanded Moses.
48 ¶ And the officers which were over thousands of the host, the captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds, came near unto Moses:
49 And they said unto Moses, Thy servants have taken the sum of the men of war which are under our charge, and there lacketh not one man of us.
50 [†] We have therefore brought an oblation for the LORD, what every man hath gotten, of jewels of gold, chains, and bracelets, rings, earrings, and tablets, to make an atonement for our souls before the LORD.
51 And Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold of them, even all wrought jewels.
52 [†] And all the gold of the offering that they offered up to the LORD, of the captains of thousands, and of the captains of hundreds, was sixteen thousand seven hundred and fifty shekels.
53 (For the men of war had taken spoil, every man for himself.)
54 And Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold of the captains of thousands and of hundreds, and brought it into the tabernacle of the congregation, for a memorial for the children of Israel before the LORD.

Numbers 32 [†]

1 Now the children of Reuben and the children of Gad had a very great multitude of cattle: and when they saw the land of Jazer, and the land of Gilead, that, behold, the place was a place for cattle;
2 [†] The children of Gad and the children of Reuben came and spake unto Moses, and to Eleazar the priest, and unto the princes of the congregation, saying,
3 Ataroth, and Dibon, and Jazer, and Nimrah, and Heshbon, and Elealeh, and Shebam, and Nebo, and Beon,
4 Even the country which the Lord smote before the congregation of Israel, is a land for cattle, and thy servants have cattle:
5 Wherefore, said they, if we have found grace in thy sight, let this land be given unto thy servants for a possession, and bring us not over Jordan.
6 [†] ¶ And Moses said unto the children of Gad and to the children of Reuben, Shall your brethren go to war, and shall ye sit here?
7 And wherefore discourage ye the heart of the children of Israel from going over into the land which the Lord hath given them?
8 Thus did your fathers, when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea to see the land.
9 For when they went up unto the valley of Eshcol, and saw the land, they discouraged the heart of the children of Israel, that they should not go into the land which the Lord had given them.
10 And the Lord's anger was kindled the same time, and he sware, saying,
11 Surely none of the men that came up out of Egypt, from twenty years old and upward, shall see the land which I sware unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob; because they have not wholly followed me:
12 Save Caleb the son of Jephunneh the Kenezite, and Joshua the son of Nun: for they have wholly followed the Lord.
13 And the Lord's anger was kindled against Israel, and he made them wander in the wilderness forty years, until all the generation, that had done evil in the sight of the Lord, was consumed.
14 [†] And, behold, ye are risen up in your fathers' stead, an increase of sinful men, to augment yet the fierce anger of the Lord toward Israel.
15 For if ye turn away from after him, he will yet again leave them in the wilderness; and ye shall destroy all this people.
16 ¶ And they came near unto him, and said, We will build sheepfolds here for our cattle, and cities for our little ones:
17 But we ourselves will go ready armed before the children of Israel, until we have brought them unto their place: and our little ones shall dwell in the fenced cities because of the inhabitants of the land.
18 We will not return unto our houses, until the children of Israel have inherited every man his inheritance.
19 [†] For we will not inherit with them on yonder side Jordan, or forward; because our inheritance is fallen to us on this side Jordan eastward.
20 ¶ And Moses said unto them, If ye will do this thing, if ye will go armed before the Lord to war,
21 And will go all of you armed over Jordan before the Lord, until he hath driven out his enemies from before him,
22 And the land be subdued before the Lord: then afterward ye shall return, and be guiltless before the Lord, and before Israel; and this land shall be your possession before the Lord.
23 But if ye will not do so, behold, ye have sinned against the Lord: and be sure your sin will find you out.

24 Build you cities for your little ones, and folds for your sheep; and do that which hath proceeded out of your mouth.
25 And the children of Gad and the children of Reuben spake unto Moses, saying, Thy servants will do as my lord commandeth.
26 Our little ones, our wives, our flocks, and all our cattle, shall be there in the cities of Gilead:
27 But thy servants will pass over, every man armed for war, before the LORD to battle, as my lord saith.
28 So concerning them Moses commanded Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun, and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel:
29 And Moses said unto them, If the children of Gad and the children of Reuben will pass with you over Jordan, every man armed to battle, before the LORD, and the land shall be subdued before you; then ye shall give them the land of Gilead for a possession:
30 But if they will not pass over with you armed, they shall have possessions among you in the land of Canaan.
31 And the children of Gad and the children of Reuben answered, saying, As the LORD hath said unto thy servants, so will we do.
32 We will pass over armed before the LORD into the land of Canaan, that the possession of our inheritance on this side Jordan may be ours.
33 [†] And Moses gave unto them, even to the children of Gad, and to the children of Reuben, and unto half the tribe of Manasseh the son of Joseph, the kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites, and the kingdom of Og king of Bashan, the land, with the cities thereof in the coasts, even the cities of the country round about.
34 ¶ And the children of Gad built Dibon, and Ataroth, and Aroer,
35 And Atroth, Shophan, and Jaazer, and Jogbehah,
36 And Beth-nimrah, and Beth-haran, fenced cities: and folds for sheep.
37 And the children of Reuben built Heshbon, and Elealeh, and Kirjathaim,
38 And Nebo, and Baal-meon, (their names being changed,) and Shibmah: and gave other names unto the cities which they builded.
39 And the children of Machir the son of Manasseh went to Gilead, and took it, and dispossessed the Amorite which was in it.
40 And Moses gave Gilead unto Machir the son of Manasseh; and he dwelt therein.
41 And Jair the son of Manasseh went and took the small towns thereof, and called them Havoth-jair.
42 And Nobah went and took Kenath, and the villages thereof, and called it Nobah, after his own name.

Numbers 33 [†]

1 These are the journeys of the children of Israel, which went forth out of the land of Egypt with their armies under the hand of Moses and Aaron.
2 [†] And Moses wrote their goings out according to their journeys by the commandment of the Lord: and these are their journeys according to their goings out.
3 [†] And they departed from Rameses in the first month, on the fifteenth day of the first month; on the morrow after the passover the children of Israel went out with an high hand in the sight of all the Egyptians.
4 For the Egyptians buried all their firstborn, which the Lord had smitten among them: upon their gods also the Lord executed judgments.
5 [†] And the children of Israel removed from Rameses, and pitched in Succoth.
6 And they departed from Succoth, and pitched in Etham, which is in the edge of the wilderness.
7 And they removed from Etham, and turned again unto Pi-hahiroth, which is before Baal-zephon: and they pitched before Migdol.
8 [†] And they departed from before Pi-hahiroth, and passed through the midst of the sea into the wilderness, and went three days' journey in the wilderness of Etham, and pitched in Marah.
9 And they removed from Marah, and came unto Elim: and in Elim were twelve fountains of water, and threescore and ten palm trees; and they pitched there.
10 And they removed from Elim, and encamped by the Red sea.
11 And they removed from the Red sea, and encamped in the wilderness of Sin.
12 And they took their journey out of the wilderness of Sin, and encamped in Dophkah.
13 And they departed from Dophkah, and encamped in Alush.
14 And they removed from Alush, and encamped at Rephidim, where was no water for the people to drink.
15 And they departed from Rephidim, and pitched in the wilderness of Sinai.
16 And they removed from the desert of Sinai, and pitched at Kibroth-hattaavah.
17 And they departed from Kibroth-hattaavah, and encamped at Hazeroth.
18 And they departed from Hazeroth, and pitched in Rithmah.
19 And they departed from Rithmah, and pitched at Rimmon-parez.
20 And they departed from Rimmon-parez, and pitched in Libnah.
21 And they removed from Libnah, and pitched at Rissah.
22 And they journeyed from Rissah, and pitched in Kehelathah.
23 And they went from Kehelathah, and pitched in mount Shapher.
24 And they removed from mount Shapher, and encamped in Haradah.
25 And they removed from Haradah, and pitched in Makheloth.
26 And they removed from Makheloth, and encamped at Tahath.
27 And they departed from Tahath, and pitched at Tarah.
28 And they removed from Tarah, and pitched in Mithcah.
29 And they went from Mithcah, and pitched in Hashmonah.
30 And they departed from Hashmonah, and encamped at Moseroth.
31 And they departed from Moseroth, and pitched in Bene-jaakan.
32 And they removed from Bene-jaakan, and encamped at Hor-hagidgad.
33 And they went from Hor-hagidgad, and pitched in Jotbathah.
34 And they removed from Jotbathah, and encamped at Ebronah.
35 And they departed from Ebronah, and encamped at Ezion-gaber.

36 And they removed from Ezion-gaber, and pitched in the wilderness of Zin, which is Kadesh.
37 And they removed from Kadesh, and pitched in mount Hor, in the edge of the land of Edom.
38 And Aaron the priest went up into mount Hor at the commandment of the LORD, and died there, in the fortieth year after the children of Israel were come out of the land of Egypt, in the first day of the fifth month.
39 And Aaron was an hundred and twenty and three years old when he died in mount Hor.
40 And king Arad the Canaanite, which dwelt in the south in the land of Canaan, heard of the coming of the children of Israel.
41 And they departed from mount Hor, and pitched in Zalmonah.
42 And they departed from Zalmonah, and pitched in Punon.
43 And they departed from Punon, and pitched in Oboth.
44 And they departed from Oboth, and pitched in Ije-abarim, in the border of Moab.
45 And they departed from Iim, and pitched in Dibon-gad.
46 And they removed from Dibon-gad, and encamped in Almon-diblathaim.
47 And they removed from Almon-diblathaim, and pitched in the mountains of Abarim, before Nebo.
48 And they departed from the mountains of Abarim, and pitched in the plains of Moab by Jordan near Jericho.
49 And they pitched by Jordan, from Beth-jesimoth even unto Abel-shittim in the plains of Moab.
50 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Moses in the plains of Moab by Jordan near Jericho, saying,
51 Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye are passed over Jordan into the land of Canaan;
52 [†] Then ye shall drive out all the inhabitants of the land from before you, and destroy all their pictures, and destroy all their molten images, and quite pluck down all their high places:
53 And ye shall dispossess the inhabitants of the land, and dwell therein: for I have given you the land to possess it.
54 And ye shall divide the land by lot for an inheritance among your families: and to the more ye shall give the more inheritance, and to the fewer ye shall give the less inheritance: every man's inheritance shall be in the place where his lot falleth; according to the tribes of your fathers ye shall inherit.
55 [†] But if ye will not drive out the inhabitants of the land from before you; then it shall come to pass, that those which ye let remain of them shall be pricks in your eyes, and thorns in your sides, and shall vex you in the land wherein ye dwell.
56 Moreover it shall come to pass, that I shall do unto you, as I thought to do unto them.

Numbers 34 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
2 [†] Command the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye come into the land of Canaan; (this is the land that shall fall unto you for an inheritance, even the land of Canaan with the coasts thereof:)
3 [†] Then your south quarter shall be from the wilderness of Zin along by the coast of Edom, and your south border shall be the outmost coast of the salt sea eastward:
4 [†] And your border shall turn from the south to the ascent of Akrabbim, and pass on to Zin: and the going forth thereof shall be from the south to Kadesh-barnea, and shall go on to Hazar-addar, and pass on to Azmon:
5 [†] And the border shall fetch a compass from Azmon unto the river of Egypt, and the goings out of it shall be at the sea.
6 [†] And as for the western border, ye shall even have the great sea for a border: this shall be your west border.
7 And this shall be your north border: from the great sea ye shall point out for you mount Hor:
8 From mount Hor ye shall point out your border unto the entrance of Hamath; and the goings forth of the border shall be to Zedad:
9 ¶ And the border shall go on to Ziphron, and the goings out of it shall be at Hazar-enan: this shall be your north border.
10 And ye shall point out your east border from Hazar-enan to Shepham:
11 [†] And the coast shall go down from Shepham to Riblah, on the east side of Ain; and the border shall descend, and shall reach unto the side of the sea of Chinnereth eastward:
12 And the border shall go down to Jordan, and the goings out of it shall be at the salt sea: this shall be your land with the coasts thereof round about.
13 And Moses commanded the children of Israel, saying, This is the land which ye shall inherit by lot, which the Lord commanded to give unto the nine tribes, and to the half tribe:
14 For the tribe of the children of Reuben according to the house of their fathers, and the tribe of the children of Gad according to the house of their fathers, have received their inheritance; and half the tribe of Manasseh have received their inheritance:
15 [†] The two tribes and the half tribe have received their inheritance on this side Jordan near Jericho eastward, toward the sunrising.
16 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
17 These are the names of the men which shall divide the land unto you: Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun.
18 [†] And ye shall take one prince of every tribe, to divide the land by inheritance.
19 And the names of the men are these: Of the tribe of Judah, Caleb the son of Jephunneh.
20 And of the tribe of the children of Simeon, Shemuel the son of Ammihud.
21 Of the tribe of Benjamin, Elidad the son of Chislon.
22 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Dan, Bukki the son of Jogli.
23 The prince of the children of Joseph, for the tribe of the children of Manasseh, Hanniel the son of Ephod.
24 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Ephraim, Kemuel the son of Shiphtan.
25 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Zebulun, Elizaphan the son of Parnach.
26 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Issachar, Paltiel the son of Azzan.
27 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Asher, Ahihud the son of Shelomi.
28 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Naphtali, Pedahel the son of Ammihud.

29 These are they whom the LORD commanded to divide the inheritance unto the children of Israel in the land of Canaan.

Numbers 35 [†]

1 And the Lord spake unto Moses in the plains of Moab by Jordan near Jericho, saying,
2 [†] Command the children of Israel, that they give unto the Levites of the inheritance of their possession, cities to dwell in; and ye shall give also unto the Levites suburbs for the cities round about them.
3 And the cities shall they have to dwell in; and the suburbs of them shall be for their cattle, and for their goods, and for all their beasts.
4 And the suburbs of the cities, which ye shall give unto the Levites, shall reach from the wall of the city and outward a thousand cubits round about.
5 And ye shall measure from without the city on the east side two thousand cubits, and on the south side two thousand cubits, and on the west side two thousand cubits, and on the north side two thousand cubits; and the city shall be in the midst: this shall be to them the suburbs of the cities.
6 [†] And among the cities which ye shall give unto the Levites there shall be six cities for refuge, which ye shall appoint for the manslayer, that he may flee thither: and to them ye shall add forty and two cities.
7 [†] So all the cities which ye shall give to the Levites shall be forty and eight cities: them shall ye give with their suburbs.
8 And the cities which ye shall give shall be of the possession of the children of Israel: from them that have many ye shall give many; but from them that have few ye shall give few: every one shall give of his cities unto the Levites according to his inheritance which he inheriteth.
9 ¶ And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,
10 Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye be come over Jordan into the land of Canaan;
11 [†] Then ye shall appoint you cities to be cities of refuge for you; that the slayer may flee thither, which killeth any person at unawares.
12 [†] And they shall be unto you cities for refuge from the avenger; that the manslayer die not, until he stand before the congregation in judgment.
13 And of these cities which ye shall give six cities shall ye have for refuge.
14 Ye shall give three cities on this side Jordan, and three cities shall ye give in the land of Canaan, which shall be cities of refuge.
15 [†] These six cities shall be a refuge, both for the children of Israel, and for the stranger, and for the sojourner among them: that every one that killeth any person unawares may flee thither.
16 And if he smite him with an instrument of iron, so that he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.
17 And if he smite him with throwing a stone, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.
18 Or if he smite him with an hand weapon of wood, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.
19 [†] The revenger of blood himself shall slay the murderer: when he meeteth him, he shall slay him.
20 [†] But if he thrust him of hatred, or hurl at him by laying of wait, that he die;
21 Or in enmity smite him with his hand, that he die: he that smote him shall surely be put to death; for he is a murderer: the revenger of blood shall slay the murderer, when he meeteth him.
22 But if he thrust him suddenly without enmity, or have cast upon him any thing without laying of wait,
23 Or with any stone, wherewith a man may die, seeing him not, and cast it upon him, that he die, and was not his enemy, neither sought his harm:

24 Then the congregation shall judge between the slayer and the revenger of blood according to these judgments:
25 And the congregation shall deliver the slayer out of the hand of the revenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to the city of his refuge, whither he was fled: and he shall abide in it unto the death of the high priest, which was anointed with the holy oil.
26 But if the slayer shall at any time come without the border of the city of his refuge, whither he was fled;
27 And the revenger of blood find him without the borders of the city of his refuge, and the revenger of blood kill the slayer; he shall not be guilty of blood:
28 Because he should have remained in the city of his refuge until the death of the high priest: but after the death of the high priest the slayer shall return into the land of his possession.
29 So these things shall be for a statute of judgment unto you throughout your generations in all your dwellings.
30 Whoso killeth any person, the murderer shall be put to death by the mouth of witnesses: but one witness shall not testify against any person to cause him to die.
31 [†] Moreover ye shall take no satisfaction for the life of a murderer, which is guilty of death: but he shall be surely put to death.
32 [†] And ye shall take no satisfaction for him that is fled to the city of his refuge, that he should come again to dwell in the land, until the death of the priest.
33 So ye shall not pollute the land wherein ye are: for blood it defileth the land: and the land cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that shed it.
34 Defile not therefore the land which ye shall inhabit, wherein I dwell: for I the LORD dwell among the children of Israel.

Numbers 36 [†]

1 And the chief fathers of the families of the children of Gilead, the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh, of the families of the sons of Joseph, came near, and spake before Moses, and before the princes, the chief fathers of the children of Israel:
2 And they said, The Lord commanded my lord to give the land for an inheritance by lot to the children of Israel: and my lord was commanded by the Lord to give the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother unto his daughters.
3 [†] And if they be married to any of the sons of the other tribes of the children of Israel, then shall their inheritance be taken from the inheritance of our fathers, and shall be put to the inheritance of the tribe whereunto they are received: so shall it be taken from the lot of our inheritance.
4 [†] And when the jubile of the children of Israel shall be, then shall their inheritance be put unto the inheritance of the tribe whereunto they are received: so shall their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers.
5 And Moses commanded the children of Israel according to the word of the Lord, saying, The tribe of the sons of Joseph hath said well.
6 This is the thing which the Lord doth command concerning the daughters of Zelophehad, saying, Let them marry to whom they think best; only to the family of the tribe of their father shall they marry.
7 [†] So shall not the inheritance of the children of Israel remove from tribe to tribe: for every one of the children of Israel shall keep himself to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.
8 And every daughter, that possesseth an inheritance in any tribe of the children of Israel, shall be wife unto one of the family of the tribe of her father, that the children of Israel may enjoy every man the inheritance of his fathers.
9 Neither shall the inheritance remove from one tribe to another tribe; but every one of the tribes of the children of Israel shall keep himself to his own inheritance.
10 Even as the Lord commanded Moses, so did the daughters of Zelophehad:
11 For Mahlah, Tirzah, and Hoglah, and Milcah, and Noah, the daughters of Zelophehad, were married unto their father's brothers' sons:
12 And they were married into the families of the sons of Manasseh the son of Joseph, and their inheritance remained in the tribe of the family of their father.
13 These are the commandments and the judgments, which the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses unto the children of Israel in the plains of Moab by Jordan near Jericho.

NOTES ON THE BOOK OF

NUMBERS

ISRAEL AT SINAI (1:1—10:10)

Census and Organization of Israel (1:1—4:49)

Chapter 1: Moses is commissioned by the Lord to take the sum of the tribes still assembled at Mt. Sinai.

Numbering of Warriors (1:1–54)

1:1 the tabernacle of the congregation. Literally, "the tent of meeting."

1:2 polls. Heads, to take an individual "head count" (throughout the chapter).

1:4 with you . . . a man of every tribe. Twelve men to assist Moses and Aaron in the numbering of the men fit for war.

1:16 renowned. Literally, "the called ones," referring to those who were famous with a good reputation. princes. Exalted ones, referring to leaders in general, not sons of royalty (v. 44).

1:18 declared their pedigrees. Literally, "to be entered in a family registry," so as to have one's descent acknowledged.

1:20 by their generations. Their genealogical divisions (throughout the chapter).

1:44–46 These are those that were numbered. Precisely the same number as in Ex. 38:26 for the atonement money (Ex. 30:11–17; Num. 2:32).

1:47 But the Levites . . . were not numbered. Not numbered among the other tribes, but separate in order to serve in the tabernacle as the Lord had directed through Moses (vv. 48–54; see also 2:33).

1:50 bear. Carry. minister. Serve, referring specifically to liturgical service.

1:51 setteth forward. Breaks camp, pull up stakes. stranger. Any unauthorized person.

1:52 standard. A flag or banner to identify where each tribe was to camp.

1:53 keep the charge. To observe or keep the service or ceremonial functions.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 1

1. The numbering of the tribes of Israel reminds us that the Lord "knoweth them that are his" (2 Tim. 2:19). By this count an exact figure was revealed (Num. 1:46). Likewise, as God gathers a people from all nations, He knows their number, and He will keep each one. How does this truth bring comfort to your soul?
2. God revealed through Moses that every man numbered had to give "a ransom for his soul" (Ex. 30:12). God's numbered people are a ransomed people. No one can be in their ranks except on the basis of a price paid, and that price is the precious blood of Christ. Sinner, have you sought a place in the company of the saints through faith in Jesus' blood and righteousness?
3. Those numbered were to be "able to go forth to war." God's people are by nature and calling soldiers of the cross, for they are in warfare with sin, Satan, the flesh, and the world. Many would desire to be counted among the ranks of the redeemed, but they are not prepared to engage in the spiritual conflict that comes to the believer. We must enter the kingdom of heaven through much tribulation. In what ways is the church of Jesus Christ like an army at war? How is this spiritual warfare different from earthly wars?

Chapter 2: The Lord orders the arrangement of the tribes around the tabernacle for encampment and for marching.

Arrangement of Tribes (2:1–34)

2:2 pitch. "Encamp" (v. 17), signifying tent dwellers, a nomadic culture. by his own standard, with the ensign of their father's house. Each tribe had a banner and every family in each tribe had its own sign flag. far off about. Literally, "from before surrounding," the idea being that tribes were camped facing and surrounding the tabernacle (throughout the chapter).

2:3 And on the east side . . . Judah. Judah was appointed to be the leading tribe, Messiah's tribe (1 Chron. 5:2). captain. An exalted one functioning as a leader (throughout the chapter).

2:4 host. Army (throughout the chapter).

2:10–11 On the south side . . . Reuben. Though the firstborn, Reuben, due to his immorality, forfeited the place of leadership (Gen. 49:3–4; 1 Chron. 5:1).

2:12,14 those which pitch by him shall be . . . Simeon . . . Then the tribe of Gad. Simeon by birth was next to Reuben and so occupies the second place on the south side. Gad, son of Zilpah, Leah's maid, is suitably placed with Reuben and Simeon.

2:17 shall set forward. Break camp, pull up stakes (v. 34). the Levites in the midst of the camp. Since they had charge of the service or the tabernacle, including its transport. as they encamp, so shall they set forward. Their marching sequence corresponded to the camp arrangement.

2:18–22 On the west side shall be . . . Ephraim . . . Manasseh . . . Benjamin. The first two were the sons of Joseph, who along with Benjamin are sons of Rachel. In keeping with his grandfather Jacob's blessing, Ephraim is the leading tribe in this arrangement on the west side (Gen. 48:15–20; 1 Chron. 5:1–2).

2:25–31 the north side . . . They shall go hindmost. After Judah's encampment this was the most numerous; thus it was placed at the rear to provide greater security.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 2

1. In the human heart there is the tendency to do that which is right in one's own eyes. But the arrangement of the tribes reminds us that God is the God of order not confusion (1 Cor. 14:33). Every tribe had to be in its own place contributing to a smoother passage through the wilderness. Our steps must be ordered according to His Word so that our walk to the heavenly Canaan will be less complicated with self-imposed difficulties. In the arrangement of the tribes the command was, "every man shall pitch by his own standard." In this way the entire company kept rank, providing for the unity and cohesion of the congregation. God's people need to know where they belong in the spiritual life of Christ's church and seek to remain there faithfully. How can this strengthen the whole life of Christ's church?
2. The tribes were all ranged around the tabernacle, on which the cloud of glory descended, the assurance of God's presence in the wilderness sojourning. Psalm 46 reminds us that "God is in the midst of her." To be in the center is the Lord's place alone and must be guarded against all usurpers. To have Him in the midst is a comforting truth. In the midst, He goes with us, secures us from all danger, and will bring us safely to our haven of eternal rest. How does the church know and experience that God is in its midst?

Numbering and Duties of Levites (3:1—4:49)

Chapter 3: The Levites are numbered.

3:1 the generations. An account of men and their descendants.

3:2–3 the names of the sons of Aaron, the priests. The focus in this chapter is on Aaron and his descendants, to whom the priesthood was specifically entrusted. Moses and his branch of the Levitical family did not possess entitlement to the priesthood and are only obscurely in view in this chapter (v. 29; Ex. 6:18–20). anointed. To be spread over with a liquid, the verbal root for the noun, "Messiah." The priesthood, along with kings and prophets, constituted messianic offices and thus served as types or picture prophecies of the ideal Messiah, who was Prophet, Priest, and King in one person. consecrated. Literally, "to fill the hand" in the sense of being given a ministry.

3:4 Nadab and Abihu died. See Lev. 10:1–4; 16:1. strange fire. Alien or prohibited, fire that was foreign to the mind of the Lord, not being by His appointment.

3:6 that they may minister unto him. To be an attendant or engaged in liturgical service; the Levites specifically were given to Aaron and the priesthood to serve him in the tabernacle (v. 9). All priests were Levites, but not all Levites were priests.

3:7 charge. That which is to be watched. before the tabernacle. The Levites served outside the tabernacle itself, the priests alone being permitted to enter.

3:10 they shall wait. Literally, "they will carefully attend to." the stranger. Any unauthorized person (v. 38).

3:12–13 matrix. Womb. hallowed. Set apart (Ex. 13:12). The firstborn were the Lord's by right of redemption, but in this new arrangement the Levites take the place of the firstborn, thus the Levite is a reminder of what the believer is to be to the Lord—a redeemed workman.

3:15 from a month old. The age when the firstborn was offered to God (18:15–16).

3:16–20 Gershon, and Kohath, and Merari. The sons of Levi, whose descendants were numbered and assigned specific tasks in the service of the Lord. Note the summary of duties: Gershon (vv. 25–26; 4:24–28), Kohath (3:30–31; 4:4–15), and Merari (3:35–37; 4:29–33).

Family	Camp Location	Task
Gershon	West side of tabernacle	To carry its curtains
Kohath	South side of tabernacle	To carry its furniture
Merari	North side of tabernacle	To carry its pillars and framework

3:38 those that encamp before the tabernacle toward the east. The eastward side was essentially the front and was occupied by Moses, Aaron, and his sons—the priests.

3:47 five shekels apiece by the poll. Literally, "five five shekels for the head." The Hebrew uses repetition for a distributive idea. shekel. A weight of about one-half ounce. gerahs. Each a twentieth of a shekel weight.

3:48 the odd number of them is to be redeemed. Literally, "the redemption of the excess or surplus."

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 3

1. The Levites were given to Aaron to keep his charge, and to keep the charge of the whole congregation. They remind us of the ministers of Christ and the charge given them, which is to keep the holy things that belong to the great High Priest, things centered on His sacrifice for sin. They are also to be faithful to the souls charged to them, being instant in season and out of season too (2 Tim. 4:2). Negligence is forbidden. How often do you pray for your pastors, that they would be faithful?

2. "The Levites shall be mine; because all the firstborn are mine" (vv. 12–13). The Lord laid claim to the Levites on the ground of redemption. The Levites stood in the place of the firstborn of the Israelites, and the firstborn child was redeemed (Ex. 13:13). God's claim to His people is based on Christ's redemptive work by which they are rescued from the stroke of death and become the Lord's. To be regarded as the firstborn is to enjoy privilege and honor. How can we more consciously claim this wonderful allotment as believers and the ownership of our Redeemer over us?

Chapter 4: The Lord gives more specific instructions concerning the Levitical duties.

4:2 Take the sum of the sons of Kohath. Kohath, the second son, has the place of preeminence in this numbering because the Kohathites were charged to carry the most holy things of the tabernacle. Sadly, these with the most honor later rebelled because they wanted more (16:1–11).

4:3 From thirty years old . . . until fifty. Their ministry did not begin until in the prime of life, not as novices (1 Tim. 3:6). host. Army or warfare, underlining that God's work is a holy war.

4:5 setteth forward. Breaks camp, pulls up stakes. Aaron shall come, and his sons. The priests were the dismantlers of the tabernacle; the Kohathites were the transporters (v. 15).

4:6 staves. Poles or staffs (vv. 8,11,14).

4:7 continual bread. "The bread of continuance," referring to the regular shewbread.

4:10 upon a bar. On a frame for carrying.

4:14 fleshhooks. Forks to retrieve meat from a pot. basons. Bowls.

4:15 bear. Carry (v. 25). the burden. The load to be carried (throughout the chapter).

4:16 the office of Eleazar. See 3:32.

4:17–19 And the LORD spake unto MOSES and unto AARON . . . Cut ye not off . . . the KOHATHITES. Moses and Aaron were not to be guilty of carelessness in their oversight of the Kohathites. Making clear their job description was a means of preserving them.

4:23 to perform the service. Literally, "to war the warfare" or to be on duty in the war (see note at v. 3).

4:30 service. Warfare.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 4

1. In their enlistment for service the Levites were said "to perform the service," or "war the warfare" (v. 23). Serving the Lord brings the believer into a spiritual battle, for the enemy is opposed to the things of Christ. From this conflict there is no escape. He who is a servant of Christ is a soldier of Christ too. Read Eph. 6:10–18 and consider how to prepare for our battle.
2. The Levites did not commence their actual service until the age of thirty, after they had passed through a probationary period of five years (8:24). The principle is clear—the servants of Christ must not be novices. Tried and proven men are needed to serve the Lord and then He will be well served. Who can help to mentor you as you prepare?

3. “So shall they serve”—these words spoken of the Gershonites’ service are striking. Their sentiment was true for all the Levites: their service was to be rendered according to the revealed will of God. Scripture directs the believer to serve within the framework of the divine will. Not all have the same abilities and gifts, and some are more in the public eye than others. But God distributes His gifts according to His sovereign purpose, and as each member of the body functions according to its place and purpose all goes well. There is harmony when each part functions with a view to the whole, and there is discord when any one part becomes too concerned with self. Pray that God would help you to be satisfied with the calling He has given you and to serve Him with all your heart.

Various Laws and Events (5:1—9:14)

Chapter 5: The Lord gives instructions for maintaining purity in the camp.

Uncleanness, Restitution, and a Test for Adultery (5:1–31)

5:2 See Lev. 13–15 for specific details. All of these matters rendered a person ceremonially unclean, and therefore, excluded from community and worship rituals.

5:3 without the camp. Outside the boundary of the camp (v. 4). defile. To render unclean. whereof I dwell. God’s presence was the reason for safeguarding the purity of the camp. Approaching God requires clean hands and pure hearts (Ps. 24:3–4).

5:7 with the principal . . . add. This offering required restitution of what was taken plus interest to the offended party.

5:8 kinsman. The near relative who stands legally in the place of his relative, when the relative is incapable of fulfilling his own responsibilities. He is responsible for doing whatever is necessary. atonement. A covering, to appease the Lord.

5:10 hallowed things. The things set apart.

5:12 go aside. In this case, to commit adultery.

5:13 lie with her carnally. The physical act of adultery. be kept close. To be hidden. she be defiled. Made unclean in a moral sense. neither she be taken. She is not caught.

5:14 The husband is suspicious regardless of the facts of the matter.

5:15 ephah. A dry measure of about a bushel. offering of jealousy. Offering brought because of jealousy. offering of memorial. Offering intended to bring something to mind, an appeal to the Lord’s omniscience to reveal the facts. bringing iniquity to remembrance. Making iniquity known (vv. 18,26).

5:17 holy water. Water set apart for a sacred use.

5:18 uncover the woman’s head. Or unbind the hair, allowing it to hang loosely.

5:19 And the priest shall charge her by an oath. Make her swear, solemnly adjuring her to tell the truth. uncleanness. Referring here to adultery. be thou free. Her innocence would be proved by the curse not coming upon her in its physical manifestation.

5:21 charge . . . with an oath of cursing. Make her swear an oath of the curse, in the sense of agreement with the curse or oath. thigh to rot. A thigh that falls or gives way (vv. 22,27).

5:22 Amen, amen. Hebrew words, meaning “truly, truly,” expressing her agreement with the transaction.

5:25 wave the offering. Hold it up in presentation.

5:29 This is the law. Or instruction to follow regarding suspicious jealousy. The ritual described and the consequences incurred remain obscure. But the point is clear: God was obviously in control of the whole matter to ensure the proper verdict. He would expose the guilty or exonerate the innocent according to His omniscience.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 5

1. The expulsion of people from Israel's camp for ceremonial uncleanness reminds us that "the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous" (Ps. 1:5). What a solemn matter! Have you been to Jesus for the cleansing from sin found only in His blood? If we are in Christ then we know that we have been made fit to approach the Lord and we can enjoy fellowship with Him.
2. As odd as the trial of jealousy seems to us, it teaches vital spiritual lessons. Sins hidden will eventually be revealed. Sometimes the discovery of the concealed iniquity will be made in this life, like it would have been for the adulterous woman. But, if not, it most certainly will be at the coming of the Lord. "Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment; and some men they follow after" (1 Tim. 5:24). Then Christ the Judge of all "will bring to light the hidden things of darkness" (1 Cor. 4:5). Do not cover your sin; you will not prosper. Confess and forsake them and you will have mercy.

Chapter 6: The Lord gives the law for the Nazarites and the Aaronic blessing.

Nazarites and the Priestly Blessing (6:1–27)

6:2 Nazarite. One who is devoted or consecrated to the Lord.

6:3–4 wine. The product of the vine. strong drink. The product of grain. liquor of grapes. Liquid or juice. moist grapes, or dried. Fresh grapes or raisins. separation. His special consecration. The Nazarite was forbidden to partake of any fruit of the vine (Luke 1:15). Given the prominence of grape products in that culture, this was a major restriction of the daily diet.

6:5 The uncut hair would be the visible sign of Nazariteship, making a public testimony of the consecration to God (Judg. 13:5; 16:17).

6:8 holy unto the LORD. Separated or set apart to the Lord.

6:10 turtles. Turtledoves.

6:11 he sinned by the dead. Unavoidable contact with the dead caused him to fall short of or miss the standard of his vow. hallow his head. Consecrate his head, a commitment to renew the vow.

6:12 the days that were before shall be lost. They will fall, signifying forfeiture. He would have had to start again to keep his vow.

6:13 law. Instruction.

6:14–17 And he shall offer his offering. As strict as his vow was, it was not kept sinlessly; sacrifices were necessary.

6:18 shall take the hair . . . and put it in the fire. The symbol of his separation was burned under the sacrifice to signify that consecration is an offering to God, yet is only acceptable through the blood of a sacrifice.

6:19 sodden. Cooked or boiled.

6:20 wave. Lift back and forth before the altar, symbolic gesture of presenting the offering to the Lord.

6:23 ye shall bless. Declare blessed (vv. 24,27).

6:24–26 keep. Watch over. make his face shine . . . lift up his countenance [his face]. Show evidences of divine favor (Pss. 4:6; 31:16; 44:3; 67:1; 80:3,7,19; 89:15; 119:135; Dan. 9:17; 2 Cor. 4:6); an anthropomorphic expression as God "smiles" and rejoices over His people (cf. Job 29:24; Prov. 16:14–15; Eccl. 8:1). peace. A state of well-being, harmony, health, and prosperity.

6:27 they shall put my name upon the children of Israel. Signifies being identified with the Lord and being owned by Him (15:40–41).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 6

1. Christ was not a Nazarite, yet in Him there converged all that the Nazarite vow signified. As the God-man He is the personification of all purity. He who could not sin was holy, harmless, undefiled, and separate from sinners. Spend time worshiping Christ as the Savior of sinners, who offered Himself without spot to God, to procure redemption for men and to save them from their sins.
2. To mark the close of the time of his vow the Nazarite brought an offering to the Lord. Though he had been specially set apart to the Lord he was not without sin. Even among the holiest of the saints, none is pure before a holy God. Thankfully, we are accepted in the Beloved (Eph. 1:6). Because God is pleased with Christ, He is pleased with those in Him. It is union with Christ and the power of His cleansing blood that makes any of our service to the Lord acceptable. For the remaining sin that taints the very best of our service, flee to Christ's merits and atonement.
3. Aaron pronounced blessing on Israel. Likewise, Christ our High Priest was sent into the world to bless sinners by turning them from their sins (Acts 3:26). At His ascension, Christ's final act was to bless His disciples with His uplifted hands (Luke 24:50–51). On those hands were the marks of His suffering—suffering that bought all spiritual blessings for us. The Aaronic blessing should be wonderfully directed to the living church through Christ's merits. Do you believe that, in Christ, God's face is shining upon you with grace and peace? Why or why not?

Chapter 7: Each of the tribes brings its contributions for the service of the tabernacle.

Gifts for the Tabernacle (7:1–89)

7:1 anointed it, and sanctified it. The anointing was the ritual; being set apart was the consequence. The verb "anoint" is the root word for "Messiah" (the Anointed One.)

7:2 the princes. The exalted ones, the tribal leaders (throughout the chapter).

7:5 give them unto the Levites, to every man according to his service. The wagons and oxen were delegated to the Levites for their work, particularly in transporting the tabernacle.

7:8 Twice the number of oxen and wagons in comparison with the Gershonites (v. 7) because the Merarites had more to transport (4:31–32).

7:10–83 And the princes offered. Each prince brought exactly the same offering, and the complete list is repeated twelve times. See comments in the Worship Section below for the significance of the repetition.

7:13 charger. Dish or platter. shekel of the sanctuary. Weight of about one-half ounce.

7:84–88 A sum of the princes' offerings.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 7

1. The twelve-fold repetition of the gifts offered to the Lord, on the surface, appears redundant, but it teaches a wonderful lesson. We should remember that what is offered to the Lord is not to enrich Him but to praise Him. The principle is that God does not tire of the sincere offerings of His people even when they are all the same. Some Christians get discouraged because they think they have no special talents and cannot really do anything special for the Lord. The Lord knows the heart and that is what He desires more than "stuff." Take to heart that the Lord "is not unrighteous to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed toward his name" (Heb. 6:10). How can this encourage the Lord's people?
2. The offerings of the princes were for the dedicating of the altar, where the offerings for sin were made. Such liberal giving in relation to this altar of sacrifice underlines that the preaching of the cross must be richly supported (1 Cor. 9:13–14; Phil. 4:14–19). The message of Christ and Him crucified deserves the willing, liberal, and cheerful giving of God's people. How are you giving to this great cause?
3. To the sons of Kohath no wagons or oxen were given, for in their service they were to "bear upon their shoulders." They carried the most sacred things that especially pointed to Christ, a great privilege but one that brought a weighty burden. They needed to be strong men, just as gospel ministers must, to lift up Christ in this world. Pray that such men will be strengthened in the inward man by the Spirit of God.

Chapter 8: Aaron is instructed regarding the lighting of the lamps and the Levites are consecrated for service.

Consecration of the Levites (8:1–26)

8:2–3 over against the candlestick. In front of the lampstand.

8:4 beaten. Hammered work, signifying the shaping of the lampstand from one piece of gold (Ex. 25:31).

8:6 cleanse them. To pronounce ceremonially clean and fit for their tabernacle service.

8:7 Sprinkle. Common practice for rites of purification, symbolic of the ultimate spiritual sprinkling accomplished by Christ (Isa. 52:15). water of purifying. See 19:9,17.

8:10 the children of Israel shall put their hands upon the Levites. Most likely, leaders from each tribe, to signify the Levites' representation of all the people before the Lord as living offerings to the Lord (cf. v. 12).

8:11 offer . . . an offering. Specifically, "wave the wave offering." Obviously not literal, but the Levites realized what the wave offering symbolized; they were presented to the Lord for His use (vv. 13,15,21).

8:12 upon the heads of the bullocks. The action signifies the imputation of sin to the substitute. God's true servants rest in the atonement.

8:16 they are wholly given. Literally, "ones being given, ones being given are they." The Hebrew uses repetition to express a superlative idea.

8:19 no plague. No affliction of any kind.

8:24 to wait upon the service. Literally, "to war the warfare" (4:23).

8:25 from the age of fifty. Perhaps because so much of the Levitical service involved heavy labor, the work was restricted to those in the prime of strength. cease waiting. To return from the warfare.

8:26 shall minister . . . to keep the charge. Released from Levitical service but not from the responsibility of oversight.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 8

1. The Levites were set apart to serve by the laying on of hands, signifying their presentation to the Lord as a sacrifice (vv. 10–11). In that manner they were truly "living sacrifice[s]" just as the believer is to be (Rom. 12:1–2). The Christian is the New Testament Levite (Jer. 33:19–22). In light of Christ's atonement and the benefits enjoyed from it, serving the Lord is our reasonable service. Let us be careful that everything about us in body and soul is the Lord's and is spent in unceasing labor for Him, His glory, and His kingdom. If you are a Christian, what does it mean, practically speaking, for you to offer yourself to God as a living sacrifice today?
2. When the Levites officially retired from their set period of service, they did not cease from all work for the Lord (vv. 23–26). By ministering "with their brethren in the tabernacle," they brought their years of experience to good profit. Long after the earlier and more active years have passed, the child of God has much to contribute to Christ's cause, still bringing forth fruit in old age (Ps. 92:13–14). There is a wonderful sense in which servants of the Lord never retire. How can we honor this principle today?

Chapter 9: The Lord gives instructions concerning the celebration of the Passover.

Celebration of Passover (9:1–14)

9:2 appointed season. See Ex. 12:2,14,25,43–49.

9:3 at even. Literally, "between the evenings." according to all the rites. God's worship is regulated by His Word (v. 5).

9:5 in the wilderness. The remote place was no barrier to the worship of God (Ps. 63:1–2).

9:6 defiled by the dead body of a man. Contact with death rendered one ceremonially unclean and prohibited participation in the rituals of worship.

9:7 kept back. Restrained. The laws of cleanness and uncleanness were object lessons teaching that God requires sanctified worship, but the laws did not always correspond to the reality of the heart. A person could be ceremonially unclean but in a right relationship to the Lord as suggested by those men who had a desire to keep the Passover but could not.

9:10–12 The Lord knows the heart and makes provision for those who desired to worship but were providentially hindered (2 Chron. 30:13–20). nor break any bone. A type fulfilled in Christ's death (John 19:36).

9:13 The converse is true as well; a person could be ceremonially clean but not in a right relationship with God. forbeareth. To refrain from. the same soul. That person. be cut off. Excommunicated, placed outside the covenant community. There is no excuse for willful negligence of worship.

9:14 a stranger. A resident alien, who lives as a citizen in the land. Whether Jew or Gentile the regulations are the same; there is one way of approach to God.

Instructions for Moving the Camp (9:15—10:10)

Cloud (9:15–23)

9:15–16 the cloud . . . fire. Theophany, an appearance of God's presence that was visible day and night.

9:17–23 The moving or the resting of the cloud were the signs for the nation to travel or to camp.

9:18 commandment of the LORD. Literally, “mouth of the Lord” (Ex. 17:1). The motion of the cloud was God’s visible Word publicly revealing His will, as the Scriptures do today.

9:19 kept the charge. Observed the injunction (v. 23).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 9

1. The purpose of the Passover was much like the purpose of the Lord’s Supper: an occasion for remembering God’s gracious redemption through the sacrificed Lamb. Just as Moses reminded Israel of certain regulations about the Passover, so Paul reiterates to the Christian church the Lord’s will concerning the communion feast (1 Cor. 11). God’s people are forgetful. Often our minds grow so dull that it becomes essential to be taught again “the first principles of the oracles of God” (Heb. 5:12). But, knowing our infirmities, the Lord graciously repeats His truth in both the written and visible Word. Do not resent it when a preacher repeats truth you already know, but pray for grace to hear and see with profit.
2. That the Lord made provision for those who were providentially hindered from keeping the Passover at the designated time reminds us that God is more concerned about the heart than mere external performances of religion. Though unavoidably defiled by a dead body the Israelite was not permitted to keep the Passover. It is good when the Lord’s people are so anxious for fellowship that they mourn when unable to partake of the means of grace. We need more of the spirit of the psalmist when, in his exile, he was jealous of the sparrow and the swallow enjoying their access to God’s house (Ps. 84:3). But at the same time, it warns us that some can go through the motions of religion without any real heart of worship for the Lord. In our sin, we can turn the very best of religious means into empty acts that mean nothing to God. How can we, as Paul admonished, “keep the feast . . . with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth” (1 Cor. 5:8)?
3. The cloud and the fiery pillar, representing the presence of God, made it clear to Israel that wherever they were they were in God’s presence. It was not for them to speculate or wonder where they might be next, but just to enjoy where they were and to serve the Lord in the place He had put them. The equivalent for Christians today is the Word of God illuminated by the Spirit of God. Too often, we tend to fixate on where the Lord will lead us next rather than serving Him to our fullest in the place He has put us now. How can we balance contentment with where we are, experiencing God’s presence in the Spirit, and at the same time, sensitivity to obey the commands of God’s Word, following His directions promptly and eagerly?

Trumpets (10:1–10)

10:2–3 of a whole piece. Hammered work, the trumpets being fashioned from one piece of silver to give a good sound. for the calling. For summons, to alert the people to assemble at the tabernacle, the place of worship and revelation. The word silver may link the trumpets to redemption (3:49–51; 18:16; Lev. 25:48–51; 27:15; Isa. 52:3, where silver is translated “money” as the price of redemption).

10:4–10 The trumpet sounds varied depending on the intended message. It was important for the people to listen carefully to discern the proper action to take.

10:4 princes. The exalted ones, specifically the tribal leaders.

10:5 alarm. Signal blast.

10:7 sound an alarm. Produce a sustained note as a signal for war or march.

10:9 the enemy that oppresseth. The adversary that attacks or harasses. ye shall be remembered before the LORD. At the sound of the trumpets by the priests (v. 8), the Lord would take note of their danger and bring deliverance (be saved).

10:10 As a reminder to heaven that their worship was offered on the basis of redemption.

JOURNEY FROM SINAI TO KADESH-BARNEA (10:11—14:45)

Procedures for Departure from Sinai (10:11–36)

10:14 standard. Flag or banner (throughout the chapter).

10:17 set forward. Break camp, pull up stakes (throughout the chapter).

10:21 and the other did set up the tabernacle against they came. The sons of Gershon and Merari set up the tabernacle structure until or before the sons of Korah came with the furniture.

10:29 Moses' father in law. See Ex. 2:18; 18:1–27; Judg. 4:11.

10:35 Rise up, LORD, AND LET THINE ENEMIES BE SCATTERED. See Ps. 68:1.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 10

1. The preaching of God's Word is symbolized by the blowing of the trumpet. The silver trumpets were blown for various purposes but obviously in such a manner that all were sure of the meaning of the sounds heard. How can we ensure that the Lord's message goes out with a clear sound that men will know the mind of the Lord (1 Cor. 14:8)?
2. The Levites remind us of the need to labor together in harmony. The Gershonites and the Merarites went first in the marching order to set up the tabernacle to receive the sacred furniture carried by the Kohathites. God has set each member of Christ's church to function in a certain way for the good of the whole body. Are you a member of a church? What is your place in the body? How has God equipped and called you to serve? Are you serving there in harmony with the other church members?
3. Just as Moses pled with Hobab to go with Israel to Canaan, so the child of God longs to take every family member to glory. To take loved ones to heaven with us is all we can take. All earthly things will be left behind, for they are temporal. But the souls of family and friends are eternal and will live forever in heaven or hell. What more can you be doing to plead with them, to win them, and to bring them to the better country?

Chapter 11: Israel complains, provoking the Lord to anger, and seventy elders are appointed to aid Moses.

Provision of Quail and the Seventy Elders (11:1–35)

11:1 the people complained. Murmured. The first of several murmurings in Numbers, each provoking the Lord with significant consequence (14:1–4; 16:3,41; 20:2–3; 21:5). it displeased the LORD. Literally, "it was evil in the ears of the Lord." the fire of the LORD BURNT AMONG THEM. Complaining is a sin of the tongue and is likened to a fire (James 3:5–6), which here kindles divine fire.

11:2 Moses prayed. His intercession for the people was frequent and effective, one of the greatest ways Moses typifies Christ, the great Intercessor. the fire was quenched. It died or sunk down.

11:3 Taberah. Transliteration of, "a burning."

11:4 the mixt multitude. A bunch of vagabonds or rabble. Perhaps including non-Israelites, but most likely not exclusively so. fell a lusting. Literally, "they lusted a lust" or "craved a craving," signifying intense covetousness or greed (1 Cor. 10:6). the children of Israel. Complaining is infectious and spread throughout the nation. Who shall give. A Hebrew idiom expressing desire, "O that we had flesh to eat."

11:6 our soul. Equates to "we." this manna. Unusual food that God had given in grace as His daily provision (Ex. 16) and typical of Christ (John 6:48–51).

11:7 coriander seed. Small, round, spicy seeds.

11:10 Moses also was displeased. Literally, "it was evil in the eyes of Moses," a response mirroring the Lord (v. 1).

11:11 Wherefore hast thou afflicted. Literally, "Why have you hurt." burden. Load, a heavy responsibility.

11:12 nursing father. Guardian, a keeper of children.

11:15 kill me . . . out of hand. Literally, "kill me . . . a killing," expressing Moses' desire for immediate execution. my wretchedness. My evil or hurtful situation. Moses expresses his frustration, desiring death over the prospect of constantly dealing with the rebellious people.

11:17 the spirit which is upon thee. The empowering by the Holy Spirit to enable ministry (24:2; 27:18; Ex. 28:3; 31:3–5; 35:31–35; Deut. 34:9).

11:18 Sanctify yourselves. In the sense of getting ready. The Lord was going to give them what they wanted (Ps. 78:26–31; 106:14–15).

11:21 six hundred thousand footmen. An indication of the immensity of the congregation of Israel, thus Moses' incredulity at the thought of the amount of food required to feed them.

11:23 Is the LORD'S HAND WAXED SHORT? Has the Lord's hand become too short (ineffective or powerless)?

11:25 prophesied. Evidence of the Spirit's empowering (1 Sam. 10:5–6; 19:23–24). Prophesying includes Spirit-inspired praise and thanksgiving (1 Chron. 25:1–3).

11:29 Moses' desire that all the Lord's people would be empowered by the Spirit anticipated Pentecost (Joel 2:28; Acts 2:4,16–21).

11:30 gat him into the camp. They gathered in the camp.

11:31 cubits. About 18 inches.

11:32 homers. Each about 9.5 bushels.

11:33 plague. A blow, strike, or defeat.

11:34 Kibroth-hattaavah. Transliteration of, "the graves of lust."

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 11

1. Complaining is a prevalent sin among those who profess to be the Lord's. It is easy to become discontent with whatever the situation of life may be. The first instance of murmuring in this chapter gives no reason, and that in itself is instructive. Complaining is never justified. It seems clear too, that this complaining was in secret. Moses appears to have known nothing of it, but the Lord heard it. How foolish to conclude that complaining can be concealed from an omniscient God. Why is complaining such a great sin and offense to God?
2. It was "the mixt multitude" who "fell a lusting" (v. 4). These rabble-rousers had no heart for the Lord, but instead yearned for Egypt. Their complaining spread like wildfire throughout the entire camp. They had a leavening influence and the lusting spread among the Lord's people, quickly developing into contempt for the manna, that wonderful reminder of God's provision. The church should guard from impurity and purge the leaven whenever it is known. The protection of the body as a whole requires sometimes the discipline and expulsion of the few. Pray for your church, that it would be spared division, but that it would be preserved in faithfulness if some members desire to return to worldliness.

Chapter 12: The Lord defends Moses against charges by Aaron and Miriam.

Complaint of Miriam and Aaron against Moses (12:1–16)

12:1–2 Ethiopian woman. Cushite woman. Apparently jealous of Moses' unique ministry, they found no other point of criticism.

12:3 meek. Humble before God and gentle with men.

12:4 spake suddenly. Or spoke surprisingly.

12:6 in a vision . . . in a dream. Common modes of divine revelation (Heb. 1:1).

12:7 As great as Moses was, Christ is greater (Heb. 3:1–6).

12:8 mouth to mouth. Direct, face-to-face communication. dark speeches. Riddles, words not easily understood. similitude of the LORD. A visible appearance of the Lord's presence.

12:10 Aaron looked upon Miriam. It was Aaron's responsibility as priest to judge in cases of leprosy (Lev. 13:2–3).

12:13 Again Moses was the intercessor, even when personally wronged.

12:14 Exclusion for seven days was standard procedure for lepers (Lev. 13:50–51; 14:8).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 12

1. The meekness of Moses was unparalleled in the Old Testament. He did not retaliate when Aaron and Miriam spoke against him. The natural response against criticism is to respond in kind, to answer fire with fire. Meekness or godly humility stops us from leaping to our own defense and is content to leave all injustices with the Lord, believing that He will defend and vindicate us as He sees fit. In this way, Moses is a good example for us all—and an image of Christ (1 Peter 2:21–23). How do you respond to criticism? How can you grow more like Christ in this?
2. How Moses responded to Aaron's request to him in behalf of Miriam is also a good pattern. Immediately, Moses interceded in her behalf to the Lord. It would have been so easy to rejoice in her affliction. But that kind of bitterness is never right, and Moses held no bitterness against Miriam though she led the rebellion against him. Nor did he find pleasure in her chastisement. Instead he prayed for her healing. Here also is a likeness to Christ who prayed for His crucifiers, who acted out of ignorance, to be forgiven (Luke 23:34). It is good to follow the example of Moses, but far better to follow the example of Christ, whom Moses had in view from the beginning (Heb. 11:26). For whom should you be praying, instead of stewing in bitterness?

Chapter 13: Moses sends spies into Canaan who return confirming the land to be all God had promised.

Mission and Report of the Spies (13:1–33)

13:16 Oshea. The same name as the prophet Hosea, meaning "salvation," whereas Jehoshua means

“Jehovah is salvation.”

13:20 fat or lean. Fertile or barren.

13:21 from . . . Zin unto Rehob. From south to north.

13:23 brook of Eshcol. Valley of Eshcol, meaning “cluster.”

13:27 surely it floweth with milk and honey. An expression of prosperity, and a reminder of God’s promise (14:8; Ex. 3:8,17).

13:32 evil report. Bad report.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 13

> The nation had reached the southern frontier of Canaan, the Promised Land. They were right on the border of blessing, but faced another crisis of faith. The spies returned from the land with vivid proof that the land was all God promised it would be. The evidence of blessing was unmistakable, but ten spies also reported a serious risk in claiming the promises. The grapes testified to incomparable blessing, but the giants threatened immense opposition, particularly when they saw themselves as grasshoppers in comparison. They were not adequate to face the risk. So they admired the blessing but failed to possess it. Many professing Christians tend to live on the border of blessing as well. It is one thing to consider all that we have in Christ, to theorize about it from every theological angle. We know it is good and we want it but for whatever reasons we stay on the fringes and do not lay claim by faith to all the promises we have in Christ which are yea and amen. God is greater than all the giants and can enable the grasshoppers to conquer. Caleb understood that and so should we. How can we overcome fear and unbelief in our hearts?

Chapter 14: The people concur with the majority report, and the Lord sentences the nation to forty years in the wilderness.

Failure of the People to Enter Canaan (14:1–45)

14:2–3 Ironically, they desired death in bondage to Egypt or in the waste of the wilderness but hesitated at the prospect of death by the sword. They failed to believe the promise that God would give them the land. prey. Plunder or spoil (v. 31).

14:4 make a captain. Appoint a head or leader. return into Egypt. Unbelief causes the world to become attractive by causing forgetfulness of its bondage (Acts 7:39).

14:5 fell on their faces. Gesture expressing their horror at the attack against God’s holiness and Word.

14:6 rent their clothes. Gesture expressing contrition and grief.

14:9 they are bread for us. We will utterly consume them. defence. Shadow, figurative for protection. the LORD is with us: fear them not. The Lord’s presence, which is invisible, dispels the fear of the enemy, who is visible. This is walking by faith and not by sight.

14:10 bade. Said.

14:12 disinherit them . . . make of thee a greater nation. Cut this generation off from being the Lord’s people and start over with Moses. This would have delayed the Abrahamic promise but would not have reversed it since Moses was of Abraham’s seed.

14:13–16 The logic of Moses’ intercession was based on jealousy for God’s glory.

14:17 according as thou hast spoken. He pleads God’s Word in prayer, a good pattern to emulate.

14:18 Moses quoted the Lord's revelation of His character (see notes at Ex. 34:6 and 7), again appealed to Him on the basis of His Word and nature.

14:19–20 Pardon . . . I have pardoned. How remarkably, specifically, and graciously the Lord answers prayer!

14:21 all the earth shall be filled with the glory of the LORD. God's great purpose in Christ (Ps. 72:19; Isa. 11:9; Hab. 2:14; Eph. 4:10).

14:22 these ten times. Trace their failures at (1) the Red Sea (Ex. 14:11–12); (2) Marah (Ex. 15:24); (3) the wilderness of Sin (Ex. 16:3); (4) hoarding manna (Ex. 16:20); (5) violating the Sabbath (Ex. 16:27–29); (6) Rephidim (Ex. 17:2–3); (7) the golden calf (Ex. 32); (8) Taberah (Num. 11:1); (9) more complaining about food (11:4); and (10) their refusal to enter Canaan (14:1–4).

14:24 Caleb . . . followed me fully. Literally, "he made it full or complete after me," a repeated commendation of Caleb (32:11–12; Deut. 1:36; Josh. 14:8–9,14) that means his heart was not divided but wholly given to pursuing God (1 Sam. 12:20; 1 Kings 11:4–6).

14:29 Your carcases shall fall. All that generation of men, except Caleb and Joshua, would die in this wilderness for their unbelief, a warning to all that hear the Word that they not harden their hearts (Ps. 95:10–11; Heb. 3:7—4:13)

14:31 despised. Rejected.

14:33 bear your whoredoms. Endure your unfaithfulness. Although the next generation was not responsible for the wanderings, they endured them. What was punishment for one generation became a means of testing and growth for the next. This highlights one of the themes of Numbers: out with the old, in with new.

14:34 my breach of promise. Literally, "my opposition or displeasure." God never breaks a promise (23:19).

14:36 slander. Unfavorable report.

14:37 died by the plague before the LORD. A sudden judgment for their sin, and thus a warning and precursor of what was ahead.

14:40 gat them up. They went up.

14:45 discomfited them. Defeated them. Going without the Lord's presence was certain defeat and disaster.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 14

1. In the midst of all the unbelief and doubt, Joshua and Caleb sought to counter the report of their colleagues by drawing attention away from the greatness of the dangers to the greatness of God. They highlighted the invincible power of God, who could remove every defense of the enemy (v. 9); the immutable purpose of God, who, based on His sovereign good pleasure, would give them the land (v. 8); and the immediate presence of God, who would dispel every reason for being afraid (v. 9). The truths about God that should have encouraged ancient Israel to trust the Lord should encourage us today. The God of then is the God of now. How can these truths help you to follow the Lord fully, just as Caleb and Joshua did?
2. Apart from Jesus Christ, none was a more fervent intercessor than Moses. His intercessory prayer in this chapter is a great example not only of what prayer should look like but of his noble character. God had offered to make him the father of a nation, a prospect that most would have taken. But instead, he put thoughts of his glory aside and argued for God's reputation. His burden was that if the Lord destroyed Israel, then the enemy would mock the Lord and allege that He was not able to bring His people into the land as He had sworn to do. Prayer that is jealous for the Lord's name and glory will prevail. He prayed that God would pardon and He did. As remarkable as Moses' prayers are, they should point us to the One at God's right hand who ever lives to make intercession for us—One whose prayers are always answered. What encouragement do you find in that today?

PERIOD OF WILDERNESS WANDERING (15:1—21:35)

Chapter 15: The Lord repeats instructions concerning sacrifices, punishes the sin of presumption, and gives instruction concerning the ribbon of blue on the garment.

Sacrifices, Sabbath Breakers, and Tassels (15:1–41)

15:2 When ye be come into the land. A gracious reassurance after being sentenced to forty years in the wilderness that they would inhabit the land (v. 18).

15:3 Right after the dark events of the preceding chapter, the Lord points to the sacrifices that pictured Christ's atoning work as the assurance that there is forgiveness with Him.

15:4–12 See Lev. 1–6 for detailed explanations of the various offerings. This repetition of details underlines that there is to be no divergence from God's way of redemption.

15:4 a tenth deal. A tenth part. hin. Approximately 1.5 gallons (throughout the chapter).

15:13–16 The requirements and procedures are the same for either a native Israelite or one who resides as a resident alien (v. 30). God is no respecter of persons. There is but one way: Jesus, whom all the sacrifices picture (John 14:6).

15:19 bread. Food in general. heave offering. The contribution which is lifted up (vv. 20–21).

15:20 cake of the first of your dough. Literally, "firstfruit or choicest portion of your whole-grain flour or dough [made into] a ring-shaped bread."

15:22 have erred. Have done wrong carelessly or ignorantly without evil intention.

15:24 if ought be committed by ignorance. Literally, "if from the eyes of the congregation it is done by unintentional sin."

15:25 ignorance. Careless or unintentional sin (vv. 26–29). Careless sins are still transgressions of God's law and require sacrifice.

15:30 presumptuously. Literally, "with a high hand." reproacheth the LORD. Blasphemes the Lord. that soul. That person (v. 31).

15:31 despised. Regarded with contempt. shall utterly be cut off; his iniquity shall be upon him. The one guilty of the sin of high hand was without hope under the rigor of the law.

15:32 they found a man that gathered sticks upon the sabbath day. An example of presumptuous sin: it was done directly against the fourth commandment and God's specific instructions (Ex. 16:23).

15:34 in ward. Under custody, in a guardhouse. it was not declared. It had not been explained.

15:35 The severity of the penalty indicates this was an intentional transgression, an affront against God's law.

15:38 fringes. Tassels. borders. Hems. ribband. Ribbon. blue. The color of the wrapping of the ark, the symbol of God's throne (4:5–6), the curtains of the tabernacle as the palace of the King (Ex. 26:1), and the uniform of the High Priest (Ex. 28:6), reminding them that they were a kingdom of priests and a holy nation (Ex. 19:6). What God intended as a humbling reminder some would take as an occasion for proud hypocrisy (Matt. 23:5).

15:39 remember. Think about intentionally.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 15

1. "Sin is the transgression of the law" (1 John 3:4). God's moral law is inflexible, timeless, universal, and unchangeable. Any violation of it constitutes sin and is subject to penalty, even those violations that are unintentional or accidental. Ignorance of the law is no excuse. God in His mercy and grace has made provision by which sins may be forgiven, and we should make use of that cleansing in Jesus Christ. But it is a reminder that we should also walk carefully lest even by carelessness we offend the Lord. In what ways might you be tempted to live carelessly?
2. The tassels on the hems of the garments were visible reminders to the people of the special relationship they had with the Lord. Every step they took reminded them of a relationship with the Lord their God that was based on His grace and redemption. The tassels also declared to others that they belonged to the Lord, and must live as God's holy people. We no longer wear tassels but the Lord has given to us something to look at to remind us of redemption and our obligation as the redeemed to be marked as different from the world. The Lord's Supper is a visible Word to declare these truths. How can observing the Lord's Supper help us to remember what Christ has done and who we are in Him?
3. God's sacrificial ordinances had a place for the Gentile. Those foreigners who embraced Israel's God on the grounds of the shed blood were as fully accepted as those of Israel. The Lord testified, "as ye are, so shall the stranger be before the Lord" (v. 15)—that is both the believing Jew and Gentile are children of God by faith in Christ Jesus (Gal. 3:28–29). Rejoice in the Lord's lack of favoritism!
4. The man gathering sticks on the Sabbath day was stoned to death. The ungodly object at the severity of the penalty, yet in this manner the Lord teaches that "the soul that sinneth, it shall die" (Ezek. 18:4). God's law demands perfect obedience and disobedience will bring the wrath of God. Thank God for the perfect obedience of Christ for therein lies our shelter from the terrible stroke of judgment.

Rebellion against and Confirmation of Aaron's Priesthood (16:1—17:13)

Chapter 16: The Lord judges Korah for his rebellion along with those who followed and sympathized with him.

16:1–2 Korah. A son of Kohath, the most prominent of the Levites responsible for the sacred furniture, but not a priest. Dathan and Abiram . . . sons of Reuben. From the tribe that had been stripped of the place of preeminence because of Reuben's sin (Gen. 49:3–4). princes. Exalted ones or leaders. famous in the congregation, men of renown. Literally, "called ones of the assembly, men of name." They were well-known and important.

16:3 Ye take too much upon you. They alleged that Moses and Aaron had arrogated to themselves their leadership roles. False teachers in the church act similarly (Jude 11). all the congregation are holy. Any of the nation were equally qualified.

16:5 the LORD will shew who are his. The Greek Septuagint translation of this text, "the Lord knoweth them that are his," is quoted by Paul (2 Tim. 2:19).

16:6 censers. Small pans with burning coals from the altar of sacrifice.

16:9–10 They were dissatisfied with their position and desired to be priests. They rejected the way of mediation God had set up and assumed they could get to God on their own, a fatal assumption.

16:15 very wroth. Extremely hot with anger.

16:21 Separate yourselves. An urgent command to take sides either with Korah or Aaron.

16:22 God of the spirits of all flesh. Life-giver who sustains all creatures (27:16; Job 12:10; Ps. 104:29–30; Dan. 5:23; Acts 17:25). wroth. Furious, a different word than in v. 15.

16:24 tabernacle of Korah. His tent or dwelling place.

16:27 gat up. Went up.

16:29 If these men die the common death of all men. Literally, "if as all men die these die." visited after the visitation of all men. Punished with the punishment of all men.

16:30 make a new thing. Literally, "create a creation," do something unique. quick. Alive. pit. In Hebrew, sheol, which can refer to death, the grave, or the abode of departed wicked spirits. Since Moses is speaking of the manner of death, the idea would be to be buried alive (v. 32).

16:31 clave asunder. Split apart.

16:32 all the men. This is later qualified to indicate that some of Korah's family survived (26:11).

16:37 hallowed. Holy, set apart (v. 38).

16:40 stranger. Any unauthorized person.

16:46 the plague. The blow or affliction.

16:48 he stood between the dead and the living. Where the plague had struck, to prevent it from proceeding any farther. was stayed. Was restrained or brought to a halt (v. 50).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 16

1. Korah's rebellion teaches the necessity of the divinely chosen Mediator. Trying to get to God otherwise is fatal. The rebellion of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram was an attempt to usurp the divinely appointed priesthood. Consequently, the attempt was answered with holy wrath. Aaron's priesthood typified Christ's. The lessons are clear. Man cannot approach God on his own because his sin is too great and God's holiness is too glorious. The punishment for standing alone before God is eternally severe. Korah's death was unusual and inescapable, teaching us to fear the Lord. According to Matt. 10:28, what other reasons are we given for fearing God?
2. The plague that occurred after Korah's destruction teaches the effectiveness of the divinely chosen Mediator. After the drama of the burial and charred remains of the rebels, many accused God of not being fair because they had a faulty understanding of how holy God is and how sinful man is. So God's glory again was revealed in judgment. But Moses rushed to grace and instructed Aaron to stand between the living and the dead. The plague could not get past the priest. Here is the gospel lesson. God's wrath against sin is just, but God in grace sent His Son, the Mediator, to make atonement. Christ and the power of His sacrifice stands between the sinner and God's justice, and God's wrath cannot get past our great High Priest. Christ's sacrifice was successful. So this is our only hope: to have Christ stand between us and God. Are you trusting arrogantly in yourself or trusting dependently on the Mediator?

Chapter 17: Aaron's rod buds to confirm him as the divinely chosen priest.

17:2 every one of them a rod. Literally, “a rod a rod from the house of a father” (or a staff). The Hebrew uses repetition to express a distributive idea. the princes. The exalted ones or leaders (v. 6).

17:4 before the testimony. Before the ark that contained the stone tables on which were written the Ten Commandments (Ex. 25:16; 31:18; Heb. 9:4).

17:5 the man’s rod, whom I shall choose, shall blossom. An event supernatural in nature as divine confirmation. Some interpreters see the budding rod as a picture of resurrection, life coming to the lifeless. Although that may be involved, the primary intent is to show that God has chosen the only Mediator.

17:10 to be kept for a token. To be held in trust as a sign or memorial. quite take away. Exhaust or bring to an end.

17:12 we die, we perish. The people realized that unless they approached God in His appointed way through His appointed priest, His holiness would destroy them (1 Sam. 6:19–20).

17:13 A key lesson learned: approaching God on one’s own apart from His chosen priest is fatal.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 17

1. Aaron’s rod that budded teaches the uniqueness of the divinely chosen Mediator. It confirmed God’s choice of Aaron and his line to be the priestly line in the old covenant, and it was to be kept as a reminder of that uniqueness. This all points to Christ, the eternal Priest (Ps. 110:4; Heb. 5). It underscores the vital truth that Christ is the only Mediator between God and men (1 Tim. 2:5), the only way by which man can be saved (John 14:6). Praise Him for His provision!
2. The rod was kept inside the ark (Heb. 9:4), where only God could see, for it declares that the covenant Mediator is always before Him. The central work of the High Priest is toward God, appearing in His presence for the sake of the people (Heb. 9:24). God sees His Son and the glorified scars of His atonement and remembers the covenant. What assurance does this give to those of us who are united with God’s Son about our relationship with the Father?
3. For the sake of review put chs. 16–17 together for important lessons regarding the mediation of Christ. From the pit, we learn the necessity of the Mediator. From the plague, we learn the effectiveness of the Mediator. From the budding rod, we learn the uniqueness of the Mediator. Looking at John 14:6, how do these all come together in the person of Christ?

Chapter 18: The Lord gives further instructions concerning the priests and Levites.

Instructions regarding the Levites (18:1–32)

18:1 bear the iniquity of the sanctuary. Be responsible for all profaning of the holy area under their charge. bear the iniquity of your priesthood. Bear the blame for sins committed in relation to their ministry.

18:3 charge. Service or function.

18:4 stranger. Any unauthorized person (v. 7).

18:7 within the vail. The curtain that divided the tabernacle from the outer court.

18:8 heave offerings. General term for the contributions offered. hallowed things. Consecrated or set apart things. the anointing. The portion.

18:9 oblation. Offering or sacrifice.

18:11 clean. In regard to ceremonial participation.

18:14 devoted. What is dedicated exclusively to the Lord.

18:15 matrix. Womb.

18:16 estimation. Calculation of value. shekel of the sanctuary. Approximately one-half ounce. gerahs. Each a twentieth of a shekel.

18:19 covenant of salt. See Lev. 2:13.

18:22 lest they bear sin, and die. See 17:12–13.

18:23 iniquity. The guilt of sin.

18:26 The Levites had to tithe their portion of the tithe received from the people.

18:29 hallowed part. The sacred offering.

18:32 pollute. Treat as common or ordinary.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 18

1. His office having been vindicated, Aaron, along with his sons and the Levites, is now solemnly charged with preserving the sanctity of the tabernacle. Those whom God honors with office in His church He solemnly charges to preserve the holiness of His cause. Those who fail will "bear the iniquity of the sanctuary." They will be held accountable if they do not strive against sin. The ministry is a sacred task with extreme responsibility and accountability (James 3:1). Pray for your ministers that they may remain faithful to the charge to which God has called them.
2. The Levitical family was allowed a portion of the offerings of the people. Paul alludes to this provision and applies it to the support of God's servants in the New Testament church (1 Cor. 9:13–14). Let none who are taught in the Word fail to provide for those who teach (Gal. 6:6). What can you do to show gratitude for the blessing of having a faithful minister?

Chapter 19: The Lord gives instruction concerning rites of purification.

Purification Rites and the Red Heifer (19:1–22)

19:2 upon which never came yoke. Had never been used in any form of agricultural work.

19:3 without the camp. Outside the camp (v. 9).

19:9 a man that is clean. A man ceremonially clean. water of separation. Water of impurity. purification for sin. Elsewhere the "sin offering." Thus this water typified the purification for sin that Christ obtained by His death.

19:10 stranger that sojourneth. One who lives as a resident alien.

19:11 Contact with death caused ceremonial uncleanness since death was the very curse of sin.

19:12 with it. With the water of separation or impurity (v. 9).

19:14 the law. The revealed instruction.

19:17 running water. Literally, "living waters."

19:20 that soul. That person (v. 22).

19:22 Uncleanness is contagious (Hag. 2:13).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 19

Death is the ultimate evidence of the curse of sin, and its effects are pervasive. But the beauty of the gospel is that God has devised the means to reverse the curse. The ashes of the red heifer and the water to be used for the ceremonial cleansings were shadows pointing to the real curse-reverser, the Lord Jesus. The red heifer was only a type, and the water of purification could only provide a symbolic cleansing. “The ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh,” but “the blood of Christ” can “purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God” (Heb. 9:13–14). The red heifer was slain outside the camp, the place of the curse. This is a picture of Christ who “suffered without the gate” (Heb. 13:12). He was made a curse for us to give us a place in the camp of God. How can we find cleansing in Jesus Christ? How should a Christian wash his conscience daily?

Chapter 20: Miriam and Aaron die, and Moses smites the rock to supply water for the murmuring people.

Disobedience at Meribah, Deaths of Miriam and Aaron, and Conflict with Edom (20:1–29)

20:1 the first month. The first month of the fortieth year from the exodus (33:38). The wanderings were coming to an end.

20:2 the congregation. The new generation with the same tendencies of the old.

20:3 chode. Quarreled or strived in a legal controversy.

20:5 this evil place. A bad or troublesome place.

20:10 must we fetch you water out. Cause to come out, bring out. Part of Moses’ sin was that he was provoked to anger and spoke rashly (Ps. 106:32–33)

20:11 smote. Struck.

20:12 ye believed me not, to sanctify me. He was not living by faith in the Lord so as to honor His holiness (Lev. 10:3). Any sin can be described in terms of unbelief.

20:13 Meribah. Translated, “strife.” See where this place is also named Meribah-Kadesh (Deut. 32:51) to distinguish it from the other Meribah they visited earlier (Ex. 17:7).

20:14 Edom. The nation descending from Esau. the travail that hath befallen us. The hardship which we have found.

20:15 vexed. Treated badly, inflicted injury.

20:16 sent an angel. Most likely referring to the Angel of the Lord, a Christophany or a preincarnate appearance of Christ (Ex. 23:20; Isa. 63:9). uttermost. Edge.

20:23 coast. Border.

20:26 strip Aaron of his garments. The holy garments of his high priesthood (Ex. 28; Lev. 8:6–9).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 20

1. Because of his disobedience, Moses would not enter the Promised Land. God ordered him clearly to speak to the rock, yet Moses twice struck the rock (which symbolized Christ, 1 Cor. 10:4). The essence of Moses’ sin was not how he handled the rod but how he spoke to the people (Num. 20:10; Ps. 106:32), driven by a heart that failed to trust and honor God. The penalty seemed harsh, but his position of leadership increased his accountability. It is a reminder to us all how important it is to obey God completely so that all glory is His. Though the water was given when Moses smote the rock, yet it would have been a greater miracle and more glorifying to the Lord had the water been obtained as a result of simply speaking. Let us seek to do His will without fail for then the Lord will make known that He is the glorious and holy God. What are some ways that you have a responsibility to obey God exactly as He commands?

2. One of the great tragedies in this episode is that it was the new generation that grumbled and complained against Moses. The wilderness wanderings were about to end; the old generation was out and the new was in. This generation had seen over and over again the complaining of their parents and how God had disciplined them. But they had failed to learn the lessons. Proverbs 19:25 says, “Smite a scorner, and the simple will beware.” The simple refer to those who should be easily influenced and taught. How have you learned from the sins and punishments of others?

Chapter 21: Israel defeats Arad, suffers from the fiery serpents, and gains victories over Sihon and Og.

Fiery Serpents and Defeat of Various Enemies (21:1–35)

21:1 way of the spies. Or road of Atharim, a location.

21:3 Hormah. Transliteration of, “utter destruction,” named to commemorate the victory.

21:4 compass. Make a circuit around, bypass. was much discouraged. Literally, “became impatient.”

21:5 our soul loatheth this light bread. Literally, “we hate the wretched bread,” a reference to manna, the bread from heaven (Ex. 16).

21:6 fiery serpents. Thus described either because of the bright appearance or the burning pain of the venom, which was a deadly poison.

21:8 pole. Flag or a standard.

21:9 brass. Bronze. put it upon a pole. Christ compared the lifting up of the serpent and looking to it for healing with His crucifixion and faith in Him (John 3:14–15; cf. John 12:32–33).

21:11 sunrising. East.

21:13 coasts. Borders or regions.

21:14 book of the wars of the LORD. An uninspired record of events that has not been preserved.

21:18 lawgiver. Moses. staves. Staffs.

21:21 Amorites. General term referring to Canaanites.

21:23 suffer. Allow.

21:25 in Heshbon, and in all the villages thereof. The territories east of the Jordan River that ultimately became the possession of Reuben, Gad, and the half tribe of Manasseh.

21:29 Chemosh. The Baal (master god) of Moab.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 21

1. Meditating on Christ’s comparison of Himself to the bronze serpent (John 3:15) teaches important lessons about sin (Num. 21:5). The people accused God of being evil, not good, in His ways toward them. They refused to be content with God’s good provision of food and turned from it in disgust and ingratitude. The penalty was severe; the fiery serpents brought death. This is essentially what happened in the fall of man when he was tempted by another serpent: he rejected God’s goodness and provision in the garden and so broke His law (Gen. 3:1–6). We, the fallen children of Adam, validate this hatred of God every time we turn discontentedly from God's will and choose to sin. According to Rev. 21:8, what penalty do we face if we do not look to Christ for salvation?

2. Christ's analogy also teaches us lessons about salvation. Provision for dying sinners was made in the bronze serpent on the pole. The symbolic curse-reverser took the shape of the curse. So God sent His Son in the likeness of sinful flesh to deal with sin (Rom. 8:3). He had to be lifted up on the cross becoming the curse (Gal. 3:13). Appropriation of salvation was by gazing at the serpent. Simply having the serpent on the pole was not enough; there had to be the look of faith. How does this help you understand your need for trust and faith in Christ alone for eternal life (John 3:15–16)?

STORY OF BALAAM (22:1—24:25)

Chapter 22: Balak, king of Moab, fears Israel and sends for Balaam to curse them.

Balaam's Resistance to God's Will (22:1–41)

22:1 set forward. Broke camp, pulled up stakes. pitched. Set up camp.

22:3 sore afraid. Very afraid, but without cause since it was not the Lord's intention to give their land to Israel (Deut. 2:9).

22:4 Midian. A neighboring people to the Moabites.

22:5 Balaam. A prophet for hire, a pagan diviner not related to the true God but used by Him (2 Peter 2:15–16; Jude 11).

22:6 peradventure. Perhaps (v. 11). I wot. I know. he whom thou blessest is blessed, and he whom thou cursest is cursed. Balaam had a reputation as being a powerful sorcerer.

22:7 rewards of divination. The fees for divination; there would be a cost for his services (according to 2 Peter 2:15, "the wages of unrighteousness").

22:12 thou shalt not curse the people: for they are blessed. God's covenant blessing is irreversible (23:19–20; Rom. 11:27–29).

22:20 God permitted Balaam to go but held him under divine restraint to only speak the words revealed to Him.

22:22 God's anger was kindled because he went. God's permission for Balaam to go did not diminish His displeasure at his evil motives. the angel of the LORD. The Angel who is Jehovah, most likely a Christophany, a preincarnate appearance of Christ.

22:23 the ass saw the angel. Ironically, the dumb donkey was able to see what Balaam, the professional seer, could not.

22:28 the LORD opened the mouth of the ass. A demonstration of sovereign power over all His creation. Ironically, whereas Moses communicated with God "mouth to mouth" (12:8), Balaam received God's rebuke from the mouth of a donkey (2 Peter 2:16).

22:30 was I ever wont to do? Have I been in the habit of doing?

22:31 fell flat on his face. Literally, "he bowed down to his nose," not in worship but in fearful subjection (Phil. 2:10).

22:36 utmost coast. Edge of the border.

22:41 uttermost part. Edge or extremity.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 22

1. All of these events were happening behind Israel's back. They had no knowledge of the conspiracy that was being schemed against them. But what was unknown to Israel was openly known to God. It is a wonderful blessing to know that God is with us when we are in the midst of difficulties and dangers. Here we learn that God's protection extends to unknown dangers as well. The extent to which God has kept us from danger is something we may never know (Ps. 139:5–6). Take time to rejoice and be thankful for these truths.
2. God is not fickle; unlike a sorcerer-for-hire, He cannot be paid off to change His ways. God's blessing is irreversible. No one can curse what God has blessed (v. 12). The unchanging and constant truth for everyone united to Christ is "if God be for us, who can be against us?" (Rom. 8:31). How can these truths help us when it seems that everything is against us and when the enemy gloats over our failures and desires our demise?

Chapter 23: Balaam's attempts to curse Israel are frustrated.

Balaam's First Two Prophecies (23:1–30)

23:3 peradventure. Perhaps (v. 27). high place. Bare place or mountain.

23:5 the LORD put a word in BALAAM'S mouth. God uses His sovereign control over men, even wicked men, so that the words of the prophets are exactly what He gave them to say (vv. 12,16,26; 24:2,4,13,16).

23:6 lo, he stood. Referring to Balak.

23:7 parable. A prophetic discourse in figurative language. defy. Denounce or express indignation in speech (v. 8).

23:9 the people shall dwell alone. Distinct and separate from all other peoples.

23:10 Who can count the dust of Jacob, and the number of the fourth part of Israel? An innumerable people (Gen. 13:16; 28:14). Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his! An admission that those who are the Lord's will never come under the curse.

23:13 utmost part. Edge or extremity.

23:19 Unlike man, God is unable to lie (full of integrity, cf. Titus 1:2; Heb. 6:18), and He is unchanging (immutable, cf. Mal. 3:6; James 1:17). not . . . repent. Scripture speaks of God "repenting" when His relationships or ways with people change (Gen. 6:6–7; Ex. 32:12,14; Judg. 2:18; 1 Sam. 15:11,35; 2 Sam. 24:16), but God cannot "repent" in the sense of changing His nature or plans (see notes at 1 Sam. 15:11 and 29).

23:20 The key truth of the narrative is the irreversibility of God's blessing—the heart of His covenant oath (Gen. 12:2; 22:16–17; Ps. 89:33–37; Heb. 6:13–14).

23:21 iniquity. Not the usual word for iniquity; this word most often refers to "trouble" or "harm." perverseness. Distress or disaster. Balaam observed the special protection Israel experienced because his God is with him as a great king sounding the battle cry (shout) against His enemies.

23:22 unicorn. Wild bull or ox, a symbol of power (Ps. 92:10).

23:23 enchantment. Magic curse. divination. Prediction by magic or supernatural means. Both are associated with pagan practices, most likely involving demonic activity. wrought. Done.

23:27 please. Literally, "be right in the eyes of."

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 23

1. Balaam's efforts to curse Israel highlight some amazing realities about God's blessings on His covenant people. (1) God's people are special: they dwell alone (v. 9). All the earth is the Lord's but His people are unique; there is no people like God's people. (2) God's people are saved, redeemed from bondage by power, by blood, and by grace (v. 22). (3) God's people are strong (v. 24), like a strong beast, powerful and relentless in the pursuit of prey. Grace has made the believer capable of doing all things through Christ, more than conquerors through Him. (4) God's people are serene (v. 10). There is a peace for believers in death that the wicked can only envy. (5) God's people are secure (vv. 21,23). Those whom God has blessed cannot be cursed now; they will be free from the curse forever (Rom. 8:31–39). Balaam confessed "he hath blessed; and I cannot reverse it" (Num. 23:20). This was really Satan's admission of defeat. Believer, how can you keep the knowledge of the irreversible blessing that you have in Christ before you every day?
2. The exclamation, "What hath God wrought!" (v. 23) stands over the whole chapter. It was because God is who He is that Israel was protected from Balaam's efforts to curse. The whole episode highlights three truths about God worthy of meditation. (1) He is sovereign, a king in the midst (v. 21). His sovereignty is evident in His choice of Israel (no inherent worth), His use of Balaam (contrary to his will and efforts), His use of a donkey (contrary to nature), and His dominion over nations then and nations to come. (2) He is immutable (v. 19). It is because He does not change that Jacob is not consumed (Mal. 3:6). (3) He is active (Num. 23:23). God is not a spectator rooting for His people; He is actively engaged in their behalf. His activity covers the past (v. 22), the present (v. 21), and the future (24:8). Rejoice that Israel's God is our God and He neither slumbers nor sleeps (Ps. 121:3–4).

Chapter 24: God sovereignly uses Balaam to utter remarkable prophecies of sure blessings to come.

Balaam's Third and Fourth Oracles (24:1–25)

24:1 it pleased the LORD. It was good in the eyes of the Lord. seek for enchantments. Resort to omens or sorcery. toward the wilderness. Toward the camp of Israel assembled in the wilderness.

24:2 the spirit of God came upon him. The Holy Spirit gave him unusual ability to serve (11:25; Judg. 3:10; 11:29; 1 Sam. 19:23; 2 Chron. 15:1; 20:14), here through prophecy. Such spiritual gifts do not imply that a person is godly (Matt. 7:22–23).

24:3 the man whose eyes are open. Literally, "a strong man whose eyes had been shut," implying that now they are open (v. 4).

24:5 tabernacles. Dwelling places.

24:6 trees of lign aloes. Sweet smelling trees (Prov. 7:17; John 19:39).

24:8 unicorn. Wild bull or ox, proverbial symbol of power.

24:9 Blessed is he that blesseth thee. The promise of God to Abram (Gen. 12:3).

24:14 advertise. Tell.

24:17–18 Star out of Jacob. A prophecy of Christ, the great Seed of Abraham and true Israel (Gen. 15:5; 22:17; 26:4; Ex. 32:13; Deut. 1:10; 10:22; 28:62). He will be the promised King (Scepter, Gen. 49:10) and Light of the World (Isa. 9:2–7; 42:6; 49:6; 60:1–3; Eph. 5:14; Rev. 22:16; cf. Matt. 2:2). Moab and Edom are symbolic of all those hostile to God (Isa. 25:10; 63:1).

24:20 Amalek was the first of the nations. The first to enter into conflict with Israel (Ex. 17:14).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 24

Balaam tried his best to curse Israel, but God used him to utter grand prophecies concerning His unfailing promise of Christ (vv. 17–19). Under the forced influence of God's Spirit, Balaam declared that all the promises of God are yea and amen in Christ. The welfare of Israel by covenant was linked to Christ, and so it is for every true believer. He declared two particular truths about the coming Messiah. The "Star" title declares the glory of Christ. All the radiant glory of God is in the face of Jesus Christ. The "Scepter" declares the might of Christ, His royal authority. This is a fuller development of Jacob's prophecy of the scepter or kingship being in Judah (Gen. 49:10). He will crush every enemy from then until the distant future. This victory is not just by the coming judgment, but is evidenced every time a sinner surrenders to King Jesus, being conquered by His grace. In a sense every conversion marks a fulfillment of Balaam's prophecy. Christ links Jacob's and Balaam's prophecies when He says, "I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star" (Rev. 22:16). Is Christ shining in your heart? Is He ruling as your King?

ISRAEL ON THE PLAINS OF MOAB (25:1—36:13)

Chapter 25: Israel commits fornication at Baal-peor, and the Lord commends Phinehas for his zeal in slaying the guilty.

Sin of Baal-Peor (25:1–18)

25:1 whoredom. Fornication, sexual immorality.

25:3 Baal-peor. A Moabite god. On Baal worship, see notes at 1 Kings 16:31–32; 17:1. the anger of the LORD. Balaam could not manipulate God into anger (chs. 22–24), but he did teach the Moabites how to entice Israel into sin that provoked God's anger (31:16).

25:4 heads of the people. The ringleaders in this sin. against the sun. To the east.

25:8 tent. The word occurs only here and refers to the women's quarters. stayed. Restrained.

25:11 zealous for my sake. Literally, "zealous with my zeal."

25:12 my covenant of peace. See Ps. 106:28–31; Mal. 2:4–7.

25:13 everlasting. A long time, sometimes for an age but not necessarily eternal. The old covenant priesthood lasted a long time, but only until the Christ came, the ideal Priest.

25:14 prince of a chief house. Literally, "exalted one of a house of a father" (v. 15).

25:17 Vex. Treat with hostility or enmity; attack or harass (v. 18).

25:18 wiles. Deception.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 25

1. The fornication committed by Israel with the daughters of Moab was followed by idolatry. One sin leads to another. When the visible church gives way to the fleshly allurements of a corrupt world, it will not be long until she entertains and joins with its false religion. Purity of life and purity in worship go hand in hand. How are you guarding the purity of yourself, your family, and your church?
2. Phinehas was not deterred by the failure of others. The judge of this tribe of Simeon failed to carry out the command, thus Phinehas acted. What a dreadful day when there is no man to stand in the gap to deal with sin (Ezek. 22:30–31)! But the Lord had His Phinehas. Pray for Christlike men to stand and deal with sin and turn away the judgments of God.

3. Phinehas's zeal was like his God's, for literally the Lord said he was "zealous with my zeal" (v. 11). He had imbibed the nature of his God, who is a jealous God. Indeed this is one of His names (Ex. 34:14). He is jealous for His own holiness, and Phinehas had the same holy jealousy in his soul. What does God's holy jealousy desire for the people of God today? (See 2 Cor. 11:2.)

Chapter 26: The Lord orders a new census to be taken of Israel.

Second Census (26:1–65)

26:4 This second numbering followed the same regulations as the first. The second census noted that four of the tribes were reduced in number and seven were higher.

26:11 the children of Korah died not. Some of Korah's family survived God's judgment (1 Chron. 26:1–9), probably because they listened to God's call to separate from their father so as to avoid sharing in his doom (16:23–27). Children who repent of the sinful ways of their fathers escape the punishment that falls on their fathers (Ezek. 18). Some of the descendants of Korah later became leaders in Israel's worship (1 Chron. 9:19; Pss. 42:1; 44:1; etc.).

26:61 strange fire. Unauthorized or illegitimate fire (Lev. 10:1–3).

26:64–65 not a man. The old generation perished in the wilderness according to the divine sentence, except (save) faithful Caleb and Joshua (14:28–29,38).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 26

1. Those who died in the rebellion incited by Korah "became a sign" (v. 10). They were monuments of justice and served as an example both then and now (see comments in the Worship Sections for chs. 16–17). That the children of Korah did not die in the overthrow (26:11) stand out as a monument of divine mercy. Obviously they had not partaken of their father's sin and so did not die as God's law stipulated (Deut. 24:16). Every man will be judged for his own sin. Neither the sins of your parents nor their godliness will determine your eternal destiny. What will determine whether or not you escape the wrath that swallows up the ungodly and disobedient? (See Titus 3.)
2. In this second numbering there was not one of those adult men who had been numbered at Sinai, except for Caleb and Joshua. God had sworn that they would surely die and so it came to pass (vv. 64–65). The divine Word that threatens judgment for sin will certainly be executed. Do not cling to the empty notion that you will escape the due reward of your evil deeds if you do not repent. It took almost forty years for the completion of the divine sentence, but it was completed. Judgment delayed is not judgment denied. Why must unrepentant sinners certainly be punished?

Chapter 27: The daughters of Zelophehad obtain their inheritance, Moses is informed of his impending death, and Joshua is appointed to be Moses' successor.

Daughters of Zelophehad and Selection of Joshua to Follow Moses (27:1–23)

27:2 princes. Exalted ones, perhaps the seventy appointed to help Moses (11:16). It required considerable courage for these fatherless women to stand before such leaders and publicly make their request.

27:3 not in the company . . . of Korah. The rebels (ch. 16) lost their inheritance in the land for their sin

(cf. 1 Kings 21:3,10–16).

27:4 name of our father be done away. A father with no sons could pass on his name or lineage through a daughter when she married and had a son (1 Chron. 2:34–35; Neh. 7:63), but his name would have no value if it did not include an inheritance (possession) in the land. Therefore, daughters of Zelophehad requested that their dead father's name be included in the distribution of the inheritance when Israel took the land, so their children might receive it.

27:7 The daughters of Zelophehad speak right. The Lord honored these women and granted their request (Josh. 17:3–4), establishing it as a principle of justice with further instructions (vv. 8–11). On an important qualification to their liberty regarding this principle, see ch. 36.

27:13 shalt be gathered unto thy people. Will die (Gen. 25:8).

27:14 sanctify me. Set the Lord apart as being the Holy One that He is.

27:17 sheep which have no shepherd. Lacking a ruler's direction (1 Kings 22:17; Matt. 9:36).

27:18 in whom is the spirit. The Holy Spirit (11:25,29; 24:2). lay thine hand upon him. Symbolic of setting him aside to office (v. 23; Deut. 34:9).

27:19 charge. Command (v. 23).

27:20 honour. Dignity and authority.

27:21 Urim. An object in the priest's ephod by which they could inquire of God's will (Ex. 28:30; 1 Sam. 28:6; Ezra 2:63; cf. 1 Sam. 22:10; 30:7–8).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 27

1. Zelophehad's daughters wanted a place for their father's name to continue in the Promised Land. He was a sinner, but had not forfeited his familial inheritance. However, they needed a mediator to bring their case to the Lord. So Moses brought their cause before the Lord, and they received their portion. This illustrates the need of sinners who on their own have no inheritance in heaven with the saints. They too need a mediator, and the only Mediator is the Lord Jesus Christ. According to 2 Cor. 5:20, what part can you play in bringing others to understand the work of Christ on their behalf?
2. Moses was a most selfless man. When the Lord reminded him that he was not permitted to enter Canaan, his only concern was that there would be a man to bring Israel into their possession. He did not want the Lord's people to be "as sheep which have no shepherd" (v. 17).This is the compassionate spirit of Christ (Matt. 9:36–38). The Lord indicated to Moses that Joshua was the man qualified to lead Israel. But the only quality He underlined was that Joshua had the Spirit in him (Num. 27:18). When a man has the Spirit of God filling him he will have everything required to minister. Spirit-filled men are always the need of the hour (Acts 6:3). Are you prepared to serve?

Various Regulations (28:1—30:16)

Chapter 28: The Lord gives instructions concerning various sacrifices and feast days.

Regular Offerings (28:1–15)

28:2 a sweet savour. Literally, "an aroma of my rest or pleasure," signifying God's satisfaction or appeasement through the sacrifices.

28:3 day by day. In a day, thus two lambs daily.

28:5 ephah. Approximately a bushel. hin. Approximately, a gallon and a half (throughout the chapter).

28:7 strong wine. The product of grain rather than the vine.

28:9 two tenth deals. Two-tenth parts (throughout the chapter).

28:10 Offerings on the sabbath day were doubled. The Sabbath was a day of worship and rest in the experience of God's presence. It was not a day of idleness. The priests, whose ministry was worship, had double the labor in their service (Matt. 12:5). So the minister of the gospel labors on the Christian Sabbath as he leads others in the worship of God.

Festival Offerings (28:16—29:40)

28:18 convocation. Literally, "a calling together." servile. The work of employment or occupation (vv. 25–26).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 28

1. The constant repetition of the sacrifices in the old dispensation was evidence of their inherent ineffectiveness to address the sin problem and pointed to the need for the once and for all sacrifice of Jesus Christ (Heb. 10:1–4). This is a key argument in the book of Hebrews to show the superiority of Christ and His sacrifice over the priests and sacrifices in the old order. Yet they were graphic pictures of the necessity of blood shedding if man were to be accepted before the Lord (Heb. 9:22). From the old we can learn the necessity of atonement by the death of a substitute. Rejoice that Christ, the spotless Lamb of God, has offered Himself as the only atonement that directly and finally satisfies God for sins.
2. On the "day of the firstfruits" (v. 26) a new meat offering was brought to the Lord, an offering of thankfulness. The feast in view is the Feast of Pentecost when the Holy Spirit was poured out and a great harvest of sinners was gathered to the Lord by the apostles. Those converted were the firstfruits of a great harvest still to come, a harvest that continues to be gathered and is presented to Christ continually. Read Eph. 1:15–16 and then offer your own offering of thanks for those in your life who have been converted.

Chapter 29: The Lord gives further instructions concerning offerings and feast days.

29:1 convocation. Literally, "a calling together." servile work. Work of employment or occupation (vv. 12,35).

29:3 tenth deals. Tenth parts (throughout the chapter).

29:7 afflict your souls. Fast. This is the spiritual discipline of setting aside normal meals to feed the body to devote oneself to feeding the inner man in a posture of humility and need before the Lord.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 29

1. The blowing of the trumpets that called the congregation together suggests a couple of important principles of worship. First, corporate worship is important. When the trumpets sounded the people gathered together. Likewise, we are not to forsake the assembling together (Heb. 10:25). The mutual exhortation and edification is important. Second, worship requires a frame of mind that is free from the distractions of life. Hence, they were to refrain from their normal occupations to have the time and mindset to worship. Thus observing the Sabbath is a key component of worship. How can you free yourself from the normal routines of life so that you are able to think about spiritual matters with undivided attention in your weekly worship services?

2. The repetition of the details for the various offerings and particularly the eight days of the Feast of Tabernacles teach the vital lesson that we must worship the Lord according to His revealed will. The fallen fleshly mind cannot be trusted, so the Lord leaves no room for figuring out on our own how to worship Him. We are too susceptible to deception and to deviation from the Lord's mind. While we can thank God that new covenant worship does not have such complicated ceremonies to follow, we should also thank God that still today the church has clear instructions in the Scriptures about how God commands us to worship. How are we tempted to add to them or subtract from them?

Chapter 30: The Lord gives instructions concerning vows.

Vows (30:1–16)

30:2 his soul. Himself. break. Profane or make invalid. Vows are binding (Eccl. 5:4–5). Every word of the believer should be his bond (Matt. 5:33–37).

30:4 hold his peace. Remain silent (vv. 7,11,14). stand. Stand firm in the sense of being unbreakable. her soul. Herself (throughout the chapter).

30:5 disallow. Express disapproval, restrain, or forbid (vv. 8,11).

30:8 make . . . of none effect. Break or make void.

30:12 made them void. Same word as "make of none effect" (vv. 8,15).

30:15 iniquity. Guilt.

30:16 youth. When she is single and not married.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 30

1. The solemn comment about the one who made a vow was, "He shall not break his word" (v. 2). In the life of the believer his word should be his oath. A Christian essentially is one who claims to have bound himself to be the Lord's, so he must be careful not to violate that claim. "He shall do according to all that proceedeth out of his mouth" (v. 2) is a striking reminder of the Lord, who keeps His Word and will never alter it (Ps. 89:34). Let us be conformed to His image in everything (Rom. 8:29), including the words of our mouths. In what ways are you tempted to fail to live consistently with what you have said?
2. In the making of vows, daughters were under the jurisdiction of fathers, and wives under husbands. In this manner it was shown that the man is to be the head of his house and is to guide prudently and properly (1 Cor. 11:3; Eph. 5:23). It is not a position of dictatorship, but it is a position of authority that demands spiritual perception and maturity. To be responsible for others in leading them in the proper path is daunting and one that requires dependence on the Lord. Pray that God will help you to fulfill your role in a way that honors Him.

Chapter 31: The Lord instructs Moses to war against the Midianites.

War against Midianites (31:1–54)

31:2 shalt thou be gathered unto thy people. You will die.

31:10 goodly castles. Literally, "their encampments."

31:11–12 prey. Plunder or booty from the war (vv. 26–27,32).

31:14 wroth. Angry or furious.

31:16 counsel of Balaam. Literally, “word of Balaam.” Ironically, the man whom God constrained to speak His divine Word (22:20,35), proved himself an enemy of Israel when allowed to speak his own words, perhaps to win honor and reward from Balak despite his noble prophecies (24:10–13). matter of Peor. Immorality and idolatry with Moab. There is no hint in the previous account of this event (ch. 25) that Balaam instigated it.

31:19 abide without the camp. Literally, “camp outside the encampment.”

31:22 brass. Bronze.

31:23 abide. Endure. water of separation. Water for purifying the ceremonial unclean (ch. 19).

31:28 levy a tribute. Lift up a tax. beeves. Herds, cattle (vv. 30,33,38,44).

31:32 booty. “Prey,” but a different word than the one for prey in the same verse.

31:50 oblation. Literally, “a thing brought near,” referring to the offering. gotten. Obtained. tablets. Necklaces.

31:52 shekels. Each approximately one-half ounce.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 31

1. God gave the command for Israel to take just vengeance on the Midianites because vengeance belongs to Him (Deut. 32:35). By the deceptions of the Midianite women the men of Israel had been seduced into immorality and idol worship. Now the divine dictate came for divine vengeance. Sinner, remember that “God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap” (Gal. 6:7). How have you seen this principle at work in your own life or the lives of those around you?
2. This battle also marked God’s vengeance against Balaam. He expressed his desire earlier that he would die the death of the righteous (23:10). But tragically, what a sad end he met! He had sold himself to do evil. Even when God frustrated him from pronouncing a curse on Israel, he schemed against them. He forsook the right way and went astray (2 Peter 2:15), and eventually his sin found him out. Hypocrisy can only have one of two ends: true repentance or total destruction. How do hypocrites fool themselves into thinking they will escape judgment? Why are they fools to think so?
3. Of all those who went to war against Midian, not one was lost (v. 49). Consequently the officers of Israel’s army brought an offering of thanks to the Lord for their preservation in the battle. They were fighting the Lord’s battle, and the Lord preserved them. Engagement in warfare for the Lord does not necessarily guarantee exemption from casualties, but it does ensure victory for all those enlisted in the Lord’s army. How can this serve to encourage you as you fight the good fight?

Chapter 32: Reuben, Gad, and the half tribe of Manasseh receive their inheritance on the east side of Jordan along with some strict warnings from Moses.

Inheritance of Transjordan Tribes (32:1–42)

32:2 princes of the congregation. Exalted ones, most likely the seventy appointed to help Moses.

32:6 sit. Dwell.

32:14 in your fathers’ stead. Instead of or in the place of your fathers.

32:19 forward. Beyond.

32:33 coasts. Borders or circuits.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 32

1. Moses put a very relevant question to Reuben, Gad, and the half tribe of Manasseh who had gained their inheritance easily on the east of Jordan: "Shall your brethren go to war, and shall ye sit here?" (v. 6). Christ's body is one, thus none can be at ease when other members are facing the conflict. We are to bear one another's burdens. We are to remember those in bonds as bound with them. There is a unity in the body of Christ that cannot be overlooked and should be cherished. How are you fighting alongside other Christians to support them in their spiritual battles?
2. "Be sure your sin will find you out" (v. 23) is a classic text with a sobering message. The consequences of sin will catch up to the sinner eventually. Some men's sins are openly found out in this life. But the sins of all who die impenitent will be found out at the great day of judgment. Then the Lord will bring to light the hidden things of darkness and will judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ. Cover your sins and you will not prosper. Read Ps. 51, then spend some time confessing and forsaking your sins and resting in God's great mercy.

Various Lists (33:1—35:34)

Chapter 33: Moses reviewed the trek of the wilderness wanderings and warned that Canaanites must be destroyed.

Instructions for Encampment (33:1–56)

33:2 Moses wrote. More evidence that Moses wrote the first five books of the Bible, being authorized by the commandment of the LORD (Ex. 17:14; 24:4). See the Introduction to the Pentateuch: Authorship.

33:3 departed. Broke camp and marched on (throughout the chapter). with an high hand. Expressing the victory of the exodus.

33:5 pitched. Encamped (throughout the chapter).

33:8 the sea. The Red Sea.

33:52 pictures. Idols in the form of sculptures or carved figures. quite pluck down. Exterminate or destroy.

33:55 pricks. Thorns. vex. Treat with hostility, harass.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 33

1. The Lord commanded the record of the journeys of Israel from Egypt to Canaan. God's people are to keep in mind all the ways in which the Lord leads them, both as individuals yet especially through the history of His people. God led them out of Egypt through every turn and circle through the wilderness. There were times when Israel thought that they were lost; where they were did not make any sense. But Moses makes it clear that God had led all the way. Even though the trek goes through the wilderness of trouble, looking back makes it clear that goodness and mercy followed them all the days of their lives. How does this encourage you as you move ahead?
2. Once they entered the land, Israel was to drive out the inhabitants of Canaan and destroy the relics of their idolatry. Toleration of their enemies would place God's people in jeopardy. Likewise, sin must be put to death in the lives of the saints. If not it will vex the soul and rob of the Lord's blessing. Every true Christian has crucified the flesh with its affections and lusts and labors to progressively kill remaining sin in his life. What sins and inward idols do you regularly confront that you must destroy?

Chapter 34: Moses outlines the borders of the land and identifies the men responsible for the divisions.

Borders of Canaan and Procedures for Its Division (34:1–29)

34:2 coasts. Borders or circuits (v. 12).

34:3 coast of Edom. Literally, "hands of Edom," referring to the borders. outmost coast. End or extremity. salt sea. Dead Sea.

34:4 the ascent. The rising or the climb.

34:5 fetch a compass. Go round about, encircle, or surround.

34:6 great sea. Mediterranean Sea.

34:11 sea of Chinnereth. Sea of Galilee.

34:15 The two tribes and the half tribe. Reuben, Gad, and the half tribe of Manasseh.

34:18 prince. Exalted one, a leader, not a son of royalty (throughout the chapter).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 34

1. The Lord set Israel's borders. The Lord appoints the bounds of our earthly existence, in space, time, and influence (Job 14:5; Ps. 31:15; Dan. 4:25,35; Acts 17:26). There is a border to life in this world that cannot be passed for "it is appointed unto men once to die" (Heb. 9:27). As you recognize the limits within which God has placed you, are you able to live with contentment within them and know that all is well with your soul?
2. The delineation of Israel's border began and ended at "the salt sea" (the Dead Sea, vv. 3,12). The salt sea was an enduring monument of the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah (Gen. 19; Deut. 29:23). In this manner Israel had at their border a reminder not to cross the boundaries of God's law, a warning of the destruction that sin brings. How has God given you reminders of the consequences of sin? How can you use them like boundaries that hold you from evil?
3. The land of Canaan was comparatively small, nothing like the great empires that rose and fell in the Ancient Near East. Its smallness reminds the saints that, though they may possess little in this world, they are to be content. How can they do that? They must stay focused on the "better country, that is, an heavenly" inheritance, just as the patriarchs did (Heb. 11:16). Great lands and wealth will slip from the rich man's fingers at death, but the Christian will receive, "an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you" (1 Peter 1:4). How should this help you live in contentment?

Chapter 35: The Levites are allotted their cities, including the cities of refuge.

Levitical Cities and Cities of Refuge (35:1–34)

35:2 suburbs. The area outside the city limits but under the jurisdiction of the city (throughout the chapter).

35:6 manslayer. Killer, same word as "murderer" (vv. 16–19, etc.), and as that used in the sixth commandment (Ex. 20:13).

35:7–8 The Levites were to settle in cities distributed proportionately throughout the land (Josh. 21:1–42), perhaps so that every area would have access to their spiritual guidance (cf. 2 Chron. 17:8–9; 30:22; 35:3; Neh. 8:9). Every locality needs a gospel preacher.

35:11 at unawares. By error, thus not premeditated murder (v. 15).

35:12 avenger. Near kinsman (Deut. 19:6,12), same root word as "redeem" (Ex. 6:6; 15:13), indicating the responsibility of a kinsman-redeemer to protect the family (Lev. 25:25–33,48–54).

35:15 stranger . . . sojourner. A resident alien.

35:19 revenger. Same word as "avenger" (v. 12; throughout the chapter).

35:20–29 These caveats indicate that the real issue was a matter of the heart not just the act. This parallels Christ's exposition of the spiritual aspect of the law of murder (Matt. 5:21–22).

35:31 satisfaction. Ransom price (Ex. 30:12; Ps. 49:7), same root as "atonement" (v. 32).

35:32 death of the priest. The high priest (vv. 25,28). The priestly family settled in Hebron, one of the cities of refuge (Josh. 21:13; 1 Chron. 6:57). Just as the Levites acted as living sacrifices (ch. 8), so the death of the high priest functioned like an atoning sacrifice releasing the manslayer from his exile to return home.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 35

1. Israel was commanded to provide cities as dwelling places for the Levites, the ministers of God. Thus, God clearly reveals that His servants are to be supported by His people. They that preach the gospel should live by the gospel—this the Lord has ordained (1 Cor. 9:13–14). How well does your church provide for its pastor?
2. Christ is the sinner's city of refuge. Every sinner desperately needs to flee for refuge to lay hold on the hope set before men in Jesus Christ, the great High Priest (Heb. 6:18–20). His death releases sinners from the danger of divine vengeance so that they may return from their exile back to God. Even if you have not physically murdered anyone, your heart contains the inner murder of hatred and sinful anger (Matt. 5:21–22; 1 John 3:15). Go to Christ at once and find refuge for your soul.
3. The city of refuge was not only for the Israelite but for the stranger and sojourner (v. 15), revealing the glorious truth that the gospel is for the Gentile as well as the Jew. Irrespective of the differences that exist among men, all who enter into Christ are one and enjoy the same privileges. In Christ there is no difference. How should that affect the way Christians evangelize and welcome people of other nations and ethnicities?

Chapter 36: Moses gives further instructions concerning the inheritance of daughters.

Regulations Insuring Inheritances (36:1–13)

36:3–9 Regulations are given to ensure that allotted land stayed within the jurisdiction of the tribe in which the lands was located. The Lord had assigned the land, and it was not to be passed from tribe to tribe (1 Kings 21:3).

36:4 jubile. Jubilee, the year of release (Lev. 25:10).

36:7 keep himself to the inheritance. Cleave or cling to the inheritance.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 36

1. If the daughters of Zelophehad married into other tribes that part of the inheritance of Manasseh would have been lost. The leaders of God's work should be watchful lest any part of what the Lord has given His people should be forfeited. Our spiritual inheritance has been dearly won. Let us seek by wisdom and prudence to retain and enjoy it. This issue pertaining to Zelophehad's daughters resulted in an injunction for every Israelite. Each man was to cleave or cling intensely and faithfully to "the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers" (v. 7). How can we cleave to the Lord's inheritance and preserve God's work as a whole?
2. The daughters of Zelophehad were to marry within their own tribe, as the Lord commanded. Personal choices must be governed by more than personal desires; we must take into consideration the needs of others, especially our families and churches. This is especially true of whom we marry. This principle illustrates the point that God's people are to marry only those who are their people in the spiritual sense. They are to marry in the Lord and not be yoked together with unbelievers (1 Cor. 7:39; 2 Cor. 6:14). Disobedience in this matter will usually bring sorrow to the entire family.

God's Immutability

In the final section of the epistle to the Hebrews, where the author delineates the implications of our having received "a kingdom which cannot be moved," we are told that Jesus Christ is "the same yesterday, and today, and forever" (Heb. 13:8). The character of Jesus as we find it depicted in the Gospels—loving and kind toward sinners, holy and utterly free from sin—has not changed one iota, even though He is now seated at the right hand of God and is the Sustainer of all that exists. Christ is eternal, holy love. If He were mutable, He simply would not be God. So the same has to be true of His Father (Ex. 34:6–7). God the Father also is immutable, and like His Son—and, we should add, the Holy Spirit—He is holy love.

God's moral character is the same now as it was when He created the universe, when He called Abram to faith in Himself and when He led Israel out of bondage to the Promised Land. He has always hated sin and always loved righteousness—God never acts in ways that are contrary to His character (James 1:17). Therefore, God's Word does not change: "For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven" (Ps. 119:89); it is "true from the beginning," and every one of God's "righteous judgments endureth for ever" (Ps. 119:160).

Neither do God's plans and purposes change: God's "counsel . . . standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations" (Ps. 33:11). God never has to reevaluate his plans, for they are based on His absolutely exhaustive knowledge of all things past, present, and future. Men, on the other hand, even the best of them, are inconstant, for their knowledge is incomplete and they frequently have to make alternative plans. They are unable to prevent emergencies that alter the landscape of their lives entirely and force change upon them. Thus, God says of Himself by way of contrast with men: "the Strength of Israel will not lie nor repent: for he is not a man, that he should repent" (1 Sam. 15:29). Humanity, and indeed all of creation, is in this present time in the process of becoming. But not God.

Because God does not change, His people have hope: "I am the Lord, I change not; therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed" (Mal. 3:6). It is for this reason, Herman Bavinck observed, that God is so frequently called "the Rock" in Scripture (e.g., Deut. 32:4,15,18,30–31; 1 Sam. 2:2; 2 Sam. 22:32; Pss. 19:14; 31:3; 62:2,7). In Bavinck's words, "We humans can rely on him; he does not change in his being, knowing, or willing."

Yes, there are passages in Holy Scripture that speak of God repenting (Gen. 6:6; 1 Sam. 15:11; Amos 7:3,6; Jonah 3:9–10; 4:2). How are we to understand such texts? Some contain what theologians call anthropomorphisms, that is, descriptions of God in human terms. Also, some of these texts involve changes in man's relationship with God and thus depict changes in orientation on the part of God. So when the inhabitants of Nineveh repented God did not punish them. There was no alteration in God's plan. He had intended to punish the city if its occupants did not repent of their sin. They changed and so were spared; thus, it was the people of Nineveh who changed, not God.

Therefore, those who argue today that God, like the rest of reality, is in the process of becoming (the advocates of so-called open theism and those who adhere to process theology) have no biblical justification. In the minds of these thinkers, God is learning and developing, ever changing into a more perfect being. This perspective not only flounders because of philosophical problems but also flies in the face of the clear biblical evidence noted above and in many other passages of Scripture.

The Uses of the Moral Law

INTRODUCTION TO THE BOOK OF

DEUTERONOMY

Authorship

In the early 1800s, liberal scholars proposed that Deuteronomy was written by King Josiah and the high priest Hilkiah (2 Kings 22) to concentrate political unity and finances in Jerusalem. They argued that Josiah and Hilkiah conspired to produce a document that would eliminate worship outside of Jerusalem, ensuring that offerings would be brought to the temple and national unity cultivated. They invoked Moses as its author, staged its discovery, and with great drama proclaimed it as God's Word in a large, formal assembly.

Such an approach necessitated a compositional date of 621 BC, the date of Josiah's reformation. Whereas Christians throughout history have accepted Deuteronomy upon its own claims of Mosaic authorship some 800 years earlier, liberal scholars en masse opted for the later date. Since that time multiple theories, revisions, reversals, and contradictions have marked the stream of thinking regarding the date of Deuteronomy. Conservative scholars, though a minority, have consistently reaffirmed the claims of the book: "And it came to pass in the fortieth year, in the eleventh month, on the first day of the month, that Moses spake unto the children of Israel" (1:3).

Deuteronomy is divine revelation, and consequently reliable when it states that Moses is the author. Several considerations verify the conservative reading. Deuteronomy is written in the form of treaties dating from the second millennium BC—the time Moses lived—not in the form used in Josiah's day. Treaties from the second millennium included a review of history (chs. 1–4), stipulations of the treaty (chs. 5–26), and consequences of heeding or violating the treaty's terms (chs. 27–32). Treaties from Josiah's era generally include neither history nor consequences. Moreover, the treaty format indicates a single author, which militates against notions that Deuteronomy was compiled by multiple scribes.

In addition, the writer of Deuteronomy does not write like one living in Jerusalem in 621 BC, but like someone with Egyptian experience who is also very familiar with wilderness living. Animals named are native to the Sinai and Upper Egypt, not Palestine (14:5). The same is true of the acacia wood (10:3) and the sanitary instructions (23:12–14), which are clearly for a nomadic, desert existence, not for settled communities such as existed in Josiah's time. The author writes as an outsider to Canaan, as one would expect Moses to write.

Moreover, Deuteronomy claims Mosaic authorship (1:3; 31:9), and other biblical writers affirm the same. Second Chronicles 25:4, reporting events more than 200 years prior to Josiah, cites Deut. 24:16 and calls it "the book of Moses." Nehemiah refers to Deut. 23:3 as "the book of Moses" (Neh. 13:1). The Jewish leaders of Christ's day, like those since Christ, knew that Moses wrote Deuteronomy, and Christ confirmed their understanding (Matt. 19:7–8 citing Deut. 24:1–4; Matt. 22:24 citing Deut. 25:5). The New Testament quotes from Deuteronomy more than eighty times—this ought to be conclusive confirmation of the conservative position.

This has led a majority of Jewish and Christian scholars and writings to accept the opening words of Deuteronomy: "These be the words which Moses spake unto all Israel" (1:1). This and more than twenty other similar statements settle the question of authorship. Deuteronomy was written by Moses. (See also Introduction to the Pentateuch.)

Date

Trusting the authorship of Moses and the reliability of the historicity of Deuteronomy, we know that Moses received these words “in the fortieth year, in the eleventh month, on the first day of the month, that Moses spake unto the children of Israel” (1:3) and wrote them down shortly thereafter. This places the date of authorship near the end of Israel’s wilderness wandering, forty years after the exodus and just prior to the entrance into Canaan, approximately 1406 BC.

Theme

Covenantal love between God and His people.

Purpose

To remind Israel of God’s covenant as they prepare to enter into Canaan.

Synopsis

The Contribution of Deuteronomy to Redemptive Revelation

The title "Deuteronomy" means "second lawgiving" and is the Greek title found in the Greek Septuagint (LXX). Compare the statement that the future king shall write for himself "a copy of this law [Greek deuteronomion]" (17:18, LXX). Since the lawgiving on Sinai, Israel's adult population had died. The new generation had not heard Sinai's trumpets; they needed to hear from Moses what God had commanded.

A record of legal infractions, applications, and interpretations had been established during four decades in the wilderness. The relevance of the law could now be recognized in ways that it had not been earlier. Moses articulates the law again in a recitation that reflects Israel's temperament and four decades of experience in the wilderness.

He affirms again the precepts of Jehovah for the conduct of His chosen people. They were people of the divine covenant. The blessings of that covenant were sustained by their adherence to its terms.

Soon Israel would cross the Jordan River and enter the land covenanted to Abraham, a land inhabited by idolatrous nations. Israel's propensity toward idolatry was evident in the golden calf incident at Sinai (Ex. 32–34) and in the fact that the first prohibitions of God's law forbade other gods and graven images. In the land of promise Israel would face serious temptation in an area of great vulnerability. It was of primary urgency, therefore, that the law of God be repeated to Israel as a prelude to entering Canaan and to a new era of her history.

Moses would soon be dead. In a sense, he had been the embodiment of the law to Israel, for his very presence affirmed God's law. As if determined to make one last, memorable affirmation of the law, Moses speaks Deuteronomy, the "second lawgiving," at the border of Canaan.

Deuteronomy affirms God's love for His people and expounds the love they must have for Him. One of the most significant verses of all of Deuteronomy is "Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God is one LORD: and thou shalt love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might" (Deut. 6:4–5).

Israel's privileged position came from God's unconditional election of them (7:7–8). Just as divine love was demonstrated when God chose Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob he now shows this love by preserving their descendants throughout the Egyptian sojourn. Their deliverance and Pharaoh's destruction at the Red Sea exhibited God's unique love for His people.

God's love was further exhibited at Sinai, where Moses received the law. No other people received this manifestation of divine love. Israel's responding love was to be exhibited in obedience to the terms of the covenant.

Deuteronomy codifies the love covenant. Written in the form of a vassal-treaty, its affirmation of love includes instructions for respondent love exhibited in submission. Israel's obedience to the terms of that treaty would confirm to them the continuation of favors such as no other people would receive, repeatedly reinforcing that love.

A parent's love for offspring is demonstrated in careful guidance and discipline. God's love for His people is expressed in the precepts and promises of Deuteronomy. God loves His people and will therefore care for them, eliminating their enemies and giving them the land promised to Abraham. But to ensure these favors they must acknowledge His lordship through obedience to His law. As a people chosen for His special possession, they must be holy as He is holy.

THE FIFTH BOOK OF MOSES
CALLED

DEUTERONOMY

Deuteronomy 1 [†]

1 [†] These be the words which Moses spake unto all Israel on this side Jordan in the wilderness, in the plain over against the Red sea, between Paran, and Tophel, and Laban, and Hazeroth, and Dizahab.
2 [†] (There are eleven days' journey from Horeb by the way of mount Seir unto Kadesh-barnea.)
3 [†] And it came to pass in the fortieth year, in the eleventh month, on the first day of the month, that Moses spake unto the children of Israel, according unto all that the Lord had given him in commandment unto them;
4 [†] After he had slain Sihon the king of the Amorites, which dwelt in Heshbon, and Og the king of Bashan, which dwelt at Astaroth in Edrei:
5 [†] On this side Jordan, in the land of Moab, began Moses to declare this law, saying,
6 [†] The Lord our God spake unto us in Horeb, saying, Ye have dwelt long enough in this mount:
7 [†] Turn you, and take your journey, and go to the mount of the Amorites, and unto all the places nigh thereunto, in the plain, in the hills, and in the vale, and in the south, and by the sea side, to the land of the Canaanites, and unto Lebanon, unto the great river, the river Euphrates.
8 [†] Behold, I have set the land before you: go in and possess the land which the Lord sware unto your fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, to give unto them and to their seed after them.
9 [†] ¶ And I spake unto you at that time, saying, I am not able to bear you myself alone:
10 [†] The Lord your God hath multiplied you, and, behold, ye are this day as the stars of heaven for multitude.
11 (The Lord God of your fathers make you a thousand times so many more as ye are, and bless you, as he hath promised you!)
12 [†] How can I myself alone bear your cumbrance, and your burden, and your strife?
13 Take you wise men, and understanding, and known among your tribes, and I will make them rulers over you.
14 And ye answered me, and said, The thing which thou hast spoken is good for us to do.
15 So I took the chief of your tribes, wise men, and known, and made them heads over you, captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, and captains over fifties, and captains over tens, and officers among your tribes.
16 [†] And I charged your judges at that time, saying, Hear the causes between your brethren, and judge righteously between every man and his brother, and the stranger that is with him.
17 [†] Ye shall not respect persons in judgment; but ye shall hear the small as well as the great; ye shall not be afraid of the face of man; for the judgment is God's: and the cause that is too hard for you, bring it unto me, and I will hear it.
18 And I commanded you at that time all the things which ye should do.
19 [†] ¶ And when we departed from Horeb, we went through all that great and terrible wilderness, which ye saw by the way of the mountain of the Amorites, as the Lord our God commanded us; and we came to Kadesh-barnea.
20 [†] And I said unto you, Ye are come unto the mountain of the Amorites, which the Lord our God doth give unto us.
21 Behold, the Lord thy God hath set the land before thee: go up and possess it, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath said unto thee; fear not, neither be discouraged.
22 ¶ And ye came near unto me every one of you, and said, We will send men before us, and they shall search us out the land, and bring us word again by what way we must go up, and into what cities we shall come.
23 And the saying pleased me well: and I took twelve men of you, one of a tribe:

24 And they turned and went up into the mountain, and came unto the valley of Eshcol, and searched it out.
25 [†] And they took of the fruit of the land in their hands, and brought it down unto us, and brought us word again, and said, It is a good land which the LORD our God doth give us.
26 Notwithstanding ye would not go up, but rebelled against the commandment of the LORD your God:
27 And ye murmured in your tents, and said, Because the LORD hated us, he hath brought us forth out of the land of Egypt, to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites, to destroy us.
28 [†] Whither shall we go up? our brethren have discouraged our heart, saying, The people is greater and taller than we; the cities are great and walled up to heaven; and moreover we have seen the sons of the Anakims there.
29 Then I said unto you, Dread not, neither be afraid of them.
30 The LORD your God which goeth before you, he shall fight for you, according to all that he did for you in Egypt before your eyes;
31 And in the wilderness, where thou hast seen how that the LORD thy God bare thee, as a man doth bear his son, in all the way that ye went, until ye came into this place.
32 Yet in this thing ye did not believe the LORD your God,
33 Who went in the way before you, to search you out a place to pitch your tents in, in fire by night, to shew you by what way ye should go, and in a cloud by day.
34 [†] And the LORD heard the voice of your words, and was wroth, and sware, saying,
35 Surely there shall not one of these men of this evil generation see that good land, which I sware to give unto your fathers,
36 Save Caleb the son of Jephunneh; he shall see it, and to him will I give the land that he hath trodden upon, and to his children, because he hath wholly followed the LORD.
37 Also the LORD was angry with me for your sakes, saying, Thou also shalt not go in thither.
38 [†] But Joshua the son of Nun, which standeth before thee, he shall go in thither: encourage him: for he shall cause Israel to inherit it.
39 [†] Moreover your little ones, which ye said should be a prey, and your children, which in that day had no knowledge between good and evil, they shall go in thither, and unto them will I give it, and they shall possess it.
40 [†] But as for you, turn you, and take your journey into the wilderness by the way of the Red sea.
41 [†] Then ye answered and said unto me, We have sinned against the LORD, we will go up and fight, according to all that the LORD our God commanded us. And when ye had girded on every man his weapons of war, ye were ready to go up into the hill.
42 [†] And the LORD said unto me, Say unto them, Go not up, neither fight; for I am not among you; lest ye be smitten before your enemies.
43 So I spake unto you; and ye would not hear, but rebelled against the commandment of the LORD, and went presumptuously up into the hill.
44 And the Amorites, which dwelt in that mountain, came out against you, and chased you, as bees do, and destroyed you in Seir, even unto Hormah.
45 [†] And ye returned and wept before the LORD; but the LORD would not hearken to your voice, nor give ear unto you.
46 So ye abode in Kadesh many days, according unto the days that ye abode there.

Deuteronomy 2 [†]

1 [†] Then we turned, and took our journey into the wilderness by the way of the Red sea, as the Lord spake unto me: and we compassed mount Seir many days.
2 And the Lord spake unto me, saying,
3 Ye have compassed this mountain long enough: turn you northward.
4 And command thou the people, saying, Ye are to pass through the coast of your brethren the children of Esau, which dwell in Seir; and they shall be afraid of you: take ye good heed unto yourselves therefore:
5 [†] Meddle not with them; for I will not give you of their land, no, not so much as a foot breadth; because I have given mount Seir unto Esau for a possession.
6 Ye shall buy meat of them for money, that ye may eat; and ye shall also buy water of them for money, that ye may drink.
7 For the Lord thy God hath blessed thee in all the works of thy hand: he knoweth thy walking through this great wilderness: these forty years the Lord thy God hath been with thee; thou hast lacked nothing.
8 [†] And when we passed by from our brethren the children of Esau, which dwelt in Seir, through the way of the plain from Elath, and from Ezion-gaber, we turned and passed by the way of the wilderness of Moab.
9 [†] And the Lord said unto me, Distress not the Moabites, neither contend with them in battle: for I will not give thee of their land for a possession; because I have given Ar unto the children of Lot for a possession.
10 The Emims dwelt therein in times past, a people great, and many, and tall, as the Anakims;
11 Which also were accounted giants, as the Anakims; but the Moabites call them Emims.
12 [†] The Horims also dwelt in Seir beforetime; but the children of Esau succeeded them, when they had destroyed them from before them, and dwelt in their stead; as Israel did unto the land of his possession, which the Lord gave unto them.
13 Now rise up, said I, and get you over the brook Zered. And we went over the brook Zered.
14 [†] And the space in which we came from Kadesh-barnea, until we were come over the brook Zered, was thirty and eight years; until all the generation of the men of war were wasted out from among the host, as the Lord sware unto them.
15 For indeed the hand of the Lord was against them, to destroy them from among the host, until they were consumed.
16 ¶ So it came to pass, when all the men of war were consumed and dead from among the people,
17 That the Lord spake unto me, saying,
18 Thou art to pass over through Ar, the coast of Moab, this day:
19 [†] And when thou comest nigh over against the children of Ammon, distress them not, nor meddle with them: for I will not give thee of the land of the children of Ammon any possession; because I have given it unto the children of Lot for a possession.
20 (That also was accounted a land of giants: giants dwelt therein in old time; and the Ammonites call them Zamzummims;
21 A people great, and many, and tall, as the Anakims; but the Lord destroyed them before them; and they succeeded them, and dwelt in their stead:
22 As he did to the children of Esau, which dwelt in Seir, when he destroyed the Horims from before them; and they succeeded them, and dwelt in their stead even unto this day:
23 And the Avims which dwelt in Hazerim, even unto Azzah, the Caphtorims, which came forth out of Caphtor, destroyed them, and dwelt in their stead.)

24 [†] ¶ Rise ye up, take your journey, and pass over the river Arnon: behold, I have given into thine hand Sihon the Amorite, king of Heshbon, and his land: begin to possess it, and contend with him in battle.
25 This day will I begin to put the dread of thee and the fear of thee upon the nations that are under the whole heaven, who shall hear report of thee, and shall tremble, and be in anguish because of thee.
26 ¶ And I sent messengers out of the wilderness of Kedemoth unto Sihon king of Heshbon with words of peace, saying,
27 Let me pass through thy land: I will go along by the high way, I will neither turn unto the right hand nor to the left.
28 Thou shalt sell me meat for money, that I may eat; and give me water for money, that I may drink: only I will pass through on my feet;
29 (As the children of Esau which dwell in Seir, and the Moabites which dwell in Ar, did unto me;) until I shall pass over Jordan into the land which the LORD our God giveth us.
30 But Sihon king of Heshbon would not let us pass by him: for the LORD thy God hardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinate, that he might deliver him into thy hand, as appeareth this day.
31 And the LORD said unto me, Behold, I have begun to give Sihon and his land before thee: begin to possess, that thou mayest inherit his land.
32 Then Sihon came out against us, he and all his people, to fight at Jahaz.
33 And the LORD our God delivered him before us; and we smote him, and his sons, and all his people.
34 And we took all his cities at that time, and utterly destroyed the men, and the women, and the little ones, of every city, we left none to remain:
35 [†] Only the cattle we took for a prey unto ourselves, and the spoil of the cities which we took.
36 From Aroer, which is by the brink of the river of Arnon, and from the city that is by the river, even unto Gilead, there was not one city too strong for us: the LORD our God delivered all unto us:
37 Only unto the land of the children of Ammon thou camest not, nor unto any place of the river Jabbok, nor unto the cities in the mountains, nor unto whatsoever the LORD our God forbad us.

Deuteronomy 3 [†]

1 [†] Then we turned, and went up the way to Bashan: and Og the king of Bashan came out against us, he and all his people, to battle at Edrei.
2 And the Lord said unto me, Fear him not: for I will deliver him, and all his people, and his land, into thy hand; and thou shalt do unto him as thou didst unto Sihon king of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heshbon.
3 So the Lord our God delivered into our hands Og also, the king of Bashan, and all his people: and we smote him until none was left to him remaining.
4 [†] And we took all his cities at that time, there was not a city which we took not from them, threescore cities, all the region of Argob, the kingdom of Og in Bashan.
5 [†] All these cities were fenced with high walls, gates, and bars; beside unwalled towns a great many.
6 And we utterly destroyed them, as we did unto Sihon king of Heshbon, utterly destroying the men, women, and children, of every city.
7 But all the cattle, and the spoil of the cities, we took for a prey to ourselves.
8 And we took at that time out of the hand of the two kings of the Amorites the land that was on this side Jordan, from the river of Arnon unto mount Hermon;
9 [†] (Which Hermon the Sidonians call Sirion; and the Amorites call it Shenir;)
10 [†] All the cities of the plain, and all Gilead, and all Bashan, unto Salchah and Edrei, cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan.
11 [†] For only Og king of Bashan remained of the remnant of giants; behold, his bedstead was a bedstead of iron; is it not in Rabbath of the children of Ammon? nine cubits was the length thereof, and four cubits the breadth of it, after the cubit of a man.
12 [†] And this land, which we possessed at that time, from Aroer, which is by the river Arnon, and half mount Gilead, and the cities thereof, gave I unto the Reubenites and to the Gadites.
13 And the rest of Gilead, and all Bashan, being the kingdom of Og, gave I unto the half tribe of Manasseh; all the region of Argob, with all Bashan, which was called the land of giants.
14 [†] Jair the son of Manasseh took all the country of Argob unto the coasts of Geshuri and Maachathi; and called them after his own name, Bashan-havoth-jair, unto this day.
15 And I gave Gilead unto Machir.
16 And unto the Reubenites and unto the Gadites I gave from Gilead even unto the river Arnon half the valley, and the border even unto the river Jabbok, which is the border of the children of Ammon;
17 The plain also, and Jordan, and the coast thereof, from Chinnereth even unto the sea of the plain, even the salt sea, under Ashdoth-pisgah eastward.
18 [†] ¶ And I commanded you at that time, saying, The Lord your God hath given you this land to possess it: ye shall pass over armed before your brethren the children of Israel, all that are meet for the war.
19 [†] But your wives, and your little ones, and your cattle, (for I know that ye have much cattle,) shall abide in your cities which I have given you;
20 Until the Lord have given rest unto your brethren, as well as unto you, and until they also possess the land which the Lord your God hath given them beyond Jordan: and then shall ye return every man unto his possession, which I have given you.
21 ¶ And I commanded Joshua at that time, saying, Thine eyes have seen all that the Lord your God hath done unto these two kings: so shall the Lord do unto all the kingdoms whither thou passest.
22 Ye shall not fear them: for the Lord your God he shall fight for you.
23 [†] And I besought the Lord at that time, saying,

24 O Lord God, thou hast begun to shew thy servant thy greatness, and thy mighty hand: for what God is there in heaven or in earth, that can do according to thy works, and according to thy might?
25 I pray thee, let me go over, and see the good land that is beyond Jordan, that goodly mountain, and Lebanon.
26 But the Lord was wroth with me for your sakes, and would not hear me: and the Lord said unto me, Let it suffice thee; speak no more unto me of this matter.
27 [†] Get thee up into the top of Pisgah, and lift up thine eyes westward, and northward, and southward, and eastward, and behold it with thine eyes: for thou shalt not go over this Jordan.
28 But charge Joshua, and encourage him, and strengthen him: for he shall go over before this people, and he shall cause them to inherit the land which thou shalt see.
29 [†] So we abode in the valley over against Beth-peor.

Deuteronomy 4 [†]

1 Now therefore hearken, O Israel, unto the statutes and unto the judgments, which I teach you, for to do them, that ye may live, and go in and possess the land which the Lord God of your fathers giveth you.
2 [†] Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it, that ye may keep the commandments of the Lord your God which I command you.
3 [†] Your eyes have seen what the Lord did because of Baal-peor: for all the men that followed Baal-peor, the Lord thy God hath destroyed them from among you.
4 [†] But ye that did cleave unto the Lord your God are alive every one of you this day.
5 Behold, I have taught you statutes and judgments, even as the Lord my God commanded me, that ye should do so in the land whither ye go to possess it.
6 [†] Keep therefore and do them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people.
7 For what nation is there so great, who hath God so nigh unto them, as the Lord our God is in all things that we call upon him for?
8 And what nation is there so great, that hath statutes and judgments so righteous as all this law, which I set before you this day?
9 [†] Only take heed to thyself, and keep thy soul diligently, lest thou forget the things which thine eyes have seen, and lest they depart from thy heart all the days of thy life: but teach them thy sons, and thy sons' sons;
10 Specially the day that thou stoodest before the Lord thy God in Horeb, when the Lord said unto me, Gather me the people together, and I will make them hear my words, that they may learn to fear me all the days that they shall live upon the earth, and that they may teach their children.
11 And ye came near and stood under the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire unto the midst of heaven, with darkness, clouds, and thick darkness.
12 [†] And the Lord spake unto you out of the midst of the fire: ye heard the voice of the words, but saw no similitude; only ye heard a voice.
13 [†] And he declared unto you his covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even ten commandments; and he wrote them upon two tables of stone.
14 ¶ And the Lord commanded me at that time to teach you statutes and judgments, that ye might do them in the land whither ye go over to possess it.
15 [†] Take ye therefore good heed unto yourselves; for ye saw no manner of similitude on the day that the Lord spake unto you in Horeb out of the midst of the fire:
16 [†] Lest ye corrupt yourselves, and make you a graven image, the similitude of any figure, the likeness of male or female,
17 [†] The likeness of any beast that is on the earth, the likeness of any winged fowl that flieth in the air,
18 The likeness of any thing that creepeth on the ground, the likeness of any fish that is in the waters beneath the earth:
19 And lest thou lift up thine eyes unto heaven, and when thou seest the sun, and the moon, and the stars, even all the host of heaven, shouldest be driven to worship them, and serve them, which the Lord thy God hath divided unto all nations under the whole heaven.
20 [†] But the Lord hath taken you, and brought you forth out of the iron furnace, even out of Egypt, to be unto him a people of inheritance, as ye are this day.
21 Furthermore the Lord was angry with me for your sakes, and sware that I should not go over Jordan, and that I should not go in unto that good land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance:

22 [†] But I must die in this land, I must not go over Jordan: but ye shall go over, and possess that good land.
23 [†] Take heed unto yourselves, lest ye forget the covenant of the LORD your God, which he made with you, and make you a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, which the LORD thy God hath forbidden thee.
24 For the LORD thy God is a consuming fire, even a jealous God.
25 ¶ When thou shalt beget children, and children's children, and ye shall have remained long in the land, and shall corrupt yourselves, and make a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, and shall do evil in the sight of the LORD thy God, to provoke him to anger:
26 I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that ye shall soon utterly perish from off the land whereunto ye go over Jordan to possess it; ye shall not prolong your days upon it, but shall utterly be destroyed.
27 [†] And the LORD shall scatter you among the nations, and ye shall be left few in number among the heathen, whither the LORD shall lead you.
28 And there ye shall serve gods, the work of men's hands, wood and stone, which neither see, nor hear, nor eat, nor smell.
29 But if from thence thou shalt seek the LORD thy God, thou shalt find him, if thou seek him with all thy heart and with all thy soul.
30 When thou art in tribulation, and all these things are come upon thee, even in the latter days, if thou turn to the LORD thy God, and shalt be obedient unto his voice;
31 (For the LORD thy God is a merciful God;) he will not forsake thee, neither destroy thee, nor forget the covenant of thy fathers which he sware unto them.
32 For ask now of the days that are past, which were before thee, since the day that God created man upon the earth, and ask from the one side of heaven unto the other, whether there hath been any such thing as this great thing is, or hath been heard like it?
33 Did ever people hear the voice of God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as thou hast heard, and live?
34 [†] Or hath God assayed to go and take him a nation from the midst of another nation, by temptations, by signs, and by wonders, and by war, and by a mighty hand, and by a stretched out arm, and by great terrors, according to all that the LORD your God did for you in Egypt before your eyes?
35 [†] Unto thee it was shewed, that thou mightest know that the LORD he is God; there is none else beside him.
36 Out of heaven he made thee to hear his voice, that he might instruct thee: and upon earth he shewed thee his great fire; and thou heardest his words out of the midst of the fire.
37 [†] And because he loved thy fathers, therefore he chose their seed after them, and brought thee out in his sight with his mighty power out of Egypt;
38 To drive out nations from before thee greater and mightier than thou art, to bring thee in, to give thee their land for an inheritance, as it is this day.
39 Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the LORD he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: there is none else.
40 Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the LORD thy God giveth thee, for ever.
41 [†] ¶ Then Moses severed three cities on this side Jordan toward the sunrising;
42 [†] That the slayer might flee thither, which should kill his neighbour unawares, and hated him not in times past; and that fleeing unto one of these cities he might live:
43 Namely, Bezer in the wilderness, in the plain country, of the Reubenites; and Ramoth in Gilead, of the Gadites; and Golan in Bashan, of the Manassites.

44 [†] ¶ And this is the law which Moses set before the children of Israel:
45 These are the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgments, which Moses spake unto the children of Israel, after they came forth out of Egypt,
46 On this side Jordan, in the valley over against Beth-peor, in the land of Sihon king of the Amorites, who dwelt at Heshbon, whom Moses and the children of Israel smote, after they were come forth out of Egypt:
47 And they possessed his land, and the land of Og king of Bashan, two kings of the Amorites, which were on this side Jordan toward the sunrising;
48 From Aroer, which is by the bank of the river Arnon, even unto mount Sion, which is Hermon,
49 And all the plain on this side Jordan eastward, even unto the sea of the plain, under the springs of Pisgah.

Deuteronomy 5 [†]

(see article: The Uses of the Moral Law)

1 And Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them.
2 The Lord our God made a covenant with us in Horeb.
3 [†] The Lord made not this covenant with our fathers, but with us, even us, who are all of us here alive this day.
4 [†] The Lord talked with you face to face in the mount out of the midst of the fire,
5 [†] (I stood between the Lord and you at that time, to shew you the word of the Lord: for ye were afraid by reason of the fire, and went not up into the mount;) saying,
6 [†] ¶ I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.
7 [†] Thou shalt have none other gods before me.
8 [†] Thou shalt not make thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters beneath the earth:
9 [†] Thou shalt not bow down thyself unto them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me,
10 And shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me and keep my commandments.
11 [†] Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain: for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.
12 [†] Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee.
13 Six days thou shalt labour, and do all thy work:
14 But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thine ox, nor thine ass, nor any of thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates; that thy manservant and thy maidservant may rest as well as thou.
15 [†] And remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and that the Lord thy God brought thee out thence through a mighty hand and by a stretched out arm: therefore the Lord thy God commanded thee to keep the sabbath day.
16 [†] ¶ Honour thy father and thy mother, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee; that thy days may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee, in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.
17 [†] Thou shalt not kill.
18 [†] Neither shalt thou commit adultery.
19 Neither shalt thou steal.
20 [†] Neither shalt thou bear false witness against thy neighbour.
21 Neither shalt thou desire thy neighbour's wife, neither shalt thou covet thy neighbour's house, his field, or his manservant, or his maidservant, his ox, or his ass, or any thing that is thy neighbour's.
22 [†] ¶ These words the Lord spake unto all your assembly in the mount out of the midst of the fire, of the cloud, and of the thick darkness, with a great voice: and he added no more. And he wrote them in two tables of stone, and delivered them unto me.
23 And it came to pass, when ye heard the voice out of the midst of the darkness, (for the mountain did burn with fire,) that ye came near unto me, even all the heads of your tribes, and your elders;
24 And ye said, Behold, the Lord our God hath shewed us his glory and his greatness, and we have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire: we have seen this day that God doth talk with man, and he liveth.

25 Now therefore why should we die? for this great fire will consume us: if we hear the voice of the LORD our God any more, then we shall die.
26 For who is there of all flesh, that hath heard the voice of the living God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as we have, and lived?
27 [†] Go thou near, and hear all that the LORD our God shall say: and speak thou unto us all that the LORD our God shall speak unto thee; and we will hear it, and do it.
28 And the LORD heard the voice of your words, when ye spake unto me; and the LORD said unto me, I have heard the voice of the words of this people, which they have spoken unto thee: they have well said all that they have spoken.
29 O that there were such an heart in them, that they would fear me, and keep all my commandments always, that it might be well with them, and with their children for ever!
30 Go say to them, Get you into your tents again.
31 But as for thee, stand thou here by me, and I will speak unto thee all the commandments, and the statutes, and the judgments, which thou shalt teach them, that they may do them in the land which I give them to possess it.
32 [†] Ye shall observe to do therefore as the LORD your God hath commanded you: ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left.
33 Ye shall walk in all the ways which the LORD your God hath commanded you, that ye may live, and that it may be well with you, and that ye may prolong your days in the land which ye shall possess.

Deuteronomy 6 [†]

1 [†] Now these are the commandments, the statutes, and the judgments, which the Lord your God commanded to teach you, that ye might do them in the land whither ye go to possess it:
2 [†] That thou mightest fear the Lord thy God, to keep all his statutes and his commandments, which I command thee, thou, and thy son, and thy son's son, all the days of thy life; and that thy days may be prolonged.
3 [†] ¶ Hear therefore, O Israel, and observe to do it; that it may be well with thee, and that ye may increase mightily, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath promised thee, in the land that floweth with milk and honey.
4 [†] Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord:
5 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.
6 And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart:
7 [†] And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.
8 [†] And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes.
9 And thou shalt write them upon the posts of thy house, and on thy gates.
10 And it shall be, when the Lord thy God shall have brought thee into the land which he sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give thee great and goodly cities, which thou buildedst not,
11 And houses full of all good things, which thou filledst not, and wells digged, which thou diggedst not, vineyards and olive trees, which thou plantedst not; when thou shalt have eaten and be full;
12 Then beware lest thou forget the Lord, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.
13 [†] Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God, and serve him, and shalt swear by his name.
14 Ye shall not go after other gods, of the gods of the people which are round about you;
15 (For the Lord thy God is a jealous God among you) lest the anger of the Lord thy God be kindled against thee, and destroy thee from off the face of the earth.
16 [†] ¶ Ye shall not tempt the Lord your God, as ye tempted him in Massah.
17 [†] Ye shall diligently keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and his testimonies, and his statutes, which he hath commanded thee.
18 And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord: that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and possess the good land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers,
19 To cast out all thine enemies from before thee, as the Lord hath spoken.
20 [†] And when thy son asketh thee in time to come, saying, What mean the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgments, which the Lord our God hath commanded you?
21 Then thou shalt say unto thy son, We were Pharaoh's bondmen in Egypt; and the Lord brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand:
22 [†] And the Lord shewed signs and wonders, great and sore, upon Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his household, before our eyes:
23 And he brought us out from thence, that he might bring us in, to give us the land which he sware unto our fathers.
24 And the Lord commanded us to do all these statutes, to fear the Lord our God, for our good always, that he might preserve us alive, as it is at this day.
25 [†] And it shall be our righteousness, if we observe to do all these commandments before the Lord our God, as he hath commanded us.

Deuteronomy 7 [†]

1 [†] When the Lord thy God shall bring thee into the land whither thou goest to possess it, and hath cast out many nations before thee, the Hittites, and the Girgashites, and the Amorites, and the Canaanites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites, seven nations greater and mightier than thou;
2 [†] And when the Lord thy God shall deliver them before thee; thou shalt smite them, and utterly destroy them; thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor shew mercy unto them:
3 Neither shalt thou make marriages with them; thy daughter thou shalt not give unto his son, nor his daughter shalt thou take unto thy son.
4 For they will turn away thy son from following me, that they may serve other gods: so will the anger of the Lord be kindled against you, and destroy thee suddenly.
5 [†] But thus shall ye deal with them; ye shall destroy their altars, and break down their images, and cut down their groves, and burn their graven images with fire.
6 [†] For thou art an holy people unto the Lord thy God: the Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth.
7 The Lord did not set his love upon you, nor choose you, because ye were more in number than any people; for ye were the fewest of all people:
8 [†] But because the Lord loved you, and because he would keep the oath which he had sworn unto your fathers, hath the Lord brought you out with a mighty hand, and redeemed you out of the house of bondmen, from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt.
9 Know therefore that the Lord thy God, he is God, the faithful God, which keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments to a thousand generations;
10 And repayeth them that hate him to their face, to destroy them: he will not be slack to him that hateth him, he will repay him to his face.
11 Thou shalt therefore keep the commandments, and the statutes, and the judgments, which I command thee this day, to do them.
12 [†] ¶ Wherefore it shall come to pass, if ye hearken to these judgments, and keep, and do them, that the Lord thy God shall keep unto thee the covenant and the mercy which he sware unto thy fathers:
13 [†] And he will love thee, and bless thee, and multiply thee: he will also bless the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy land, thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep, in the land which he sware unto thy fathers to give thee.
14 Thou shalt be blessed above all people: there shall not be male or female barren among you, or among your cattle.
15 [†] And the Lord will take away from thee all sickness, and will put none of the evil diseases of Egypt, which thou knowest, upon thee; but will lay them upon all them that hate thee.
16 [†] And thou shalt consume all the people which the Lord thy God shall deliver thee; thine eye shall have no pity upon them: neither shalt thou serve their gods; for that will be a snare unto thee.
17 If thou shalt say in thine heart, These nations are more than I; how can I dispossess them?
18 Thou shalt not be afraid of them: but shalt well remember what the Lord thy God did unto Pharaoh, and unto all Egypt;
19 [†] The great temptations which thine eyes saw, and the signs, and the wonders, and the mighty hand, and the stretched out arm, whereby the Lord thy God brought thee out: so shall the Lord thy God do unto all the people of whom thou art afraid.
20 [†] Moreover the Lord thy God will send the hornet among them, until they that are left, and hide themselves from thee, be destroyed.
21 Thou shalt not be affrighted at them: for the Lord thy God is among you, a mighty God and terrible.

22 And the LORD thy God will put out those nations before thee by little and little: thou mayest not consume them at once, lest the beasts of the field increase upon thee.
23 But the LORD thy God shall deliver them unto thee, and shall destroy them with a mighty destruction, until they be destroyed.
24 And he shall deliver their kings into thine hand, and thou shalt destroy their name from under heaven: there shall no man be able to stand before thee, until thou have destroyed them.
25 [†] The graven images of their gods shall ye burn with fire: thou shalt not desire the silver or gold that is on them, nor take it unto thee, lest thou be snared therein: for it is an abomination to the LORD thy God.
26 Neither shalt thou bring an abomination into thine house, lest thou be a cursed thing like it: but thou shalt utterly detest it, and thou shalt utterly abhor it; for it is a cursed thing.

Deuteronomy 8 [†]

1 [†] All the commandments which I command thee this day shall ye observe to do, that ye may live, and multiply, and go in and possess the land which the Lord sware unto your fathers.
2 And thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God led thee these forty years in the wilderness, to humble thee, and to prove thee, to know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keep his commandments, or no.
3 [†] And he humbled thee, and suffered thee to hunger, and fed thee with manna, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers know; that he might make thee know that man doth not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord doth man live.
4 [†] Thy raiment waxed not old upon thee, neither did thy foot swell, these forty years.
5 [†] Thou shalt also consider in thine heart, that, as a man chasteneth his son, so the Lord thy God chasteneth thee.
6 [†] Therefore thou shalt keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, and to fear him.
7 For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills;
8 A land of wheat, and barley, and vines, and fig trees, and pomegranates; a land of oil olive, and honey;
9 A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack any thing in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass.
10 When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the Lord thy God for the good land which he hath given thee.
11 Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, in not keeping his commandments, and his judgments, and his statutes, which I command thee this day:
12 Lest when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt therein;
13 And when thy herds and thy flocks multiply, and thy silver and thy gold is multiplied, and all that thou hast is multiplied;
14 [†] Then thine heart be lifted up, and thou forget the Lord thy God, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage;
15 Who led thee through that great and terrible wilderness, wherein were fiery serpents, and scorpions, and drought, where there was no water; who brought thee forth water out of the rock of flint;
16 Who fed thee in the wilderness with manna, which thy fathers knew not, that he might humble thee, and that he might prove thee, to do thee good at thy latter end;
17 And thou say in thine heart, My power and the might of mine hand hath gotten me this wealth.
18 But thou shalt remember the Lord thy God: for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth, that he may establish his covenant which he sware unto thy fathers, as it is this day.
19 [†] And it shall be, if thou do at all forget the Lord thy God, and walk after other gods, and serve them, and worship them, I testify against you this day that ye shall surely perish.
20 As the nations which the Lord destroyeth before your face, so shall ye perish; because ye would not be obedient unto the voice of the Lord your God.

Deuteronomy 9 [†]

1 Hear, O Israel: Thou art to pass over Jordan this day, to go in to possess nations greater and mightier than thyself, cities great and fenced up to heaven,
2 A people great and tall, the children of the Anakims, whom thou knowest, and of whom thou hast heard say, Who can stand before the children of Anak!
3 Understand therefore this day, that the Lord thy God is he which goeth over before thee; as a consuming fire he shall destroy them, and he shall bring them down before thy face: so shalt thou drive them out, and destroy them quickly, as the Lord hath said unto thee.
4 [†] Speak not thou in thine heart, after that the Lord thy God hath cast them out from before thee, saying, For my righteousness the Lord hath brought me in to possess this land: but for the wickedness of these nations the Lord doth drive them out from before thee.
5 Not for thy righteousness, or for the uprightness of thine heart, dost thou go to possess their land: but for the wickedness of these nations the Lord thy God doth drive them out from before thee, and that he may perform the word which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.
6 [†] Understand therefore, that the Lord thy God giveth thee not this good land to possess it for thy righteousness; for thou art a stiffnecked people.
7 ¶ Remember, and forget not, how thou provokedst the Lord thy God to wrath in the wilderness: from the day that thou didst depart out of the land of Egypt, until ye came unto this place, ye have been rebellious against the Lord.
8 Also in Horeb ye provoked the Lord to wrath, so that the Lord was angry with you to have destroyed you.
9 [†] When I was gone up into the mount to receive the tables of stone, even the tables of the covenant which the Lord made with you, then I abode in the mount forty days and forty nights, I neither did eat bread nor drink water:
10 [†] And the Lord delivered unto me two tables of stone written with the finger of God; and on them was written according to all the words, which the Lord spake with you in the mount out of the midst of the fire in the day of the assembly.
11 And it came to pass at the end of forty days and forty nights, that the Lord gave me the two tables of stone, even the tables of the covenant.
12 And the Lord said unto me, Arise, get thee down quickly from hence; for thy people which thou hast brought forth out of Egypt have corrupted themselves; they are quickly turned aside out of the way which I commanded them; they have made them a molten image.
13 Furthermore the Lord spake unto me, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiffnecked people:
14 [†] Let me alone, that I may destroy them, and blot out their name from under heaven: and I will make of thee a nation mightier and greater than they.
15 So I turned and came down from the mount, and the mount burned with fire: and the two tables of the covenant were in my two hands.
16 And I looked, and, behold, ye had sinned against the Lord your God, and had made you a molten calf: ye had turned aside quickly out of the way which the Lord had commanded you.
17 And I took the two tables, and cast them out of my two hands, and brake them before your eyes.
18 And I fell down before the Lord, as at the first, forty days and forty nights: I did neither eat bread, nor drink water, because of all your sins which ye sinned, in doing wickedly in the sight of the Lord, to provoke him to anger.
19 [†] For I was afraid of the anger and hot displeasure, wherewith the Lord was wroth against you to destroy you. But the LORD hearkened unto me at that time also.

20 And the LORD was very angry with Aaron to have destroyed him: and I prayed for Aaron also the same time.
21 And I took your sin, the calf which ye had made, and burnt it with fire, and stamped it, and ground it very small, even until it was as small as dust: and I cast the dust thereof into the brook that descended out of the mount.
22 [†] And at Taberah, and at Massah, and at Kibroth-hattaavah, ye provoked the LORD to wrath.
23 Likewise when the LORD sent you from Kadesh-barnea, saying, Go up and possess the land which I have given you; then ye rebelled against the commandment of the LORD your God, and ye believed him not, nor hearkened to his voice.
24 Ye have been rebellious against the LORD from the day that I knew you.
25 Thus I fell down before the LORD forty days and forty nights, as I fell down at the first; because the LORD had said he would destroy you.
26 [†] I prayed therefore unto the LORD, and said, O Lord GOD, destroy not thy people and thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed through thy greatness, which thou hast brought forth out of Egypt with a mighty hand.
27 Remember thy servants, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; look not unto the stubbornness of this people, nor to their wickedness, nor to their sin:
28 Lest the land whence thou broughtest us out say, Because the LORD was not able to bring them into the land which he promised them, and because he hated them, he hath brought them out to slay them in the wilderness.
29 Yet they are thy people and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest out by thy mighty power and by thy stretched out arm.

Deuteronomy 10 [†]

1 [†] At that time the Lord said unto me, Hew thee two tables of stone like unto the first, and come up unto me into the mount, and make thee an ark of wood.
2 And I will write on the tables the words that were in the first tables which thou brakest, and thou shalt put them in the ark.
3 [†] And I made an ark of shittim wood, and hewed two tables of stone like unto the first, and went up into the mount, having the two tables in mine hand.
4 [†] And he wrote on the tables, according to the first writing, the ten commandments, which the Lord spake unto you in the mount out of the midst of the fire in the day of the assembly: and the Lord gave them unto me.
5 And I turned myself and came down from the mount, and put the tables in the ark which I had made; and there they be, as the Lord commanded me.
6 [†] ¶ And the children of Israel took their journey from Beeroth of the children of Jaakan to Mosera: there Aaron died, and there he was buried; and Eleazar his son ministered in the priest's office in his stead.
7 From thence they journeyed unto Gudgodah; and from Gudgodah to Jotbath, a land of rivers of waters.
8 ¶ At that time the Lord separated the tribe of Levi, to bear the ark of the covenant of the Lord, to stand before the Lord to minister unto him, and to bless in his name, unto this day.
9 Wherefore Levi hath no part nor inheritance with his brethren; the Lord is his inheritance, according as the Lord thy God promised him.
10 And I stayed in the mount, according to the first time, forty days and forty nights; and the Lord hearkened unto me at that time also, and the Lord would not destroy thee.
11 And the Lord said unto me, Arise, take thy journey before the people, that they may go in and possess the land, which I sware unto their fathers to give unto them.
12 [†] ¶ And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul,
13 [†] To keep the commandments of the Lord, and his statutes, which I command thee this day for thy good?
14 [†] Behold, the heaven and the heaven of heavens is the Lord's thy God, the earth also, with all that therein is.
15 Only the Lord had a delight in thy fathers to love them, and he chose their seed after them, even you above all people, as it is this day.
16 [†] Circumcise therefore the foreskin of your heart, and be no more stiffnecked.
17 [†] For the Lord your God is God of gods, and Lord of lords, a great God, a mighty, and a terrible, which regardeth not persons, nor taketh reward:
18 [†] He doth execute the judgment of the fatherless and widow, and loveth the stranger, in giving him food and raiment.
19 Love ye therefore the stranger: for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.
20 [†] Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God; him shalt thou serve, and to him shalt thou cleave, and swear by his name.
21 [†] He is thy praise, and he is thy God, that hath done for thee these great and terrible things, which thine eyes have seen.
22 Thy fathers went down into Egypt with threescore and ten persons; and now the Lord thy God hath made thee as the stars of heaven for multitude.

Deuteronomy 11 [†]

1 [†] Therefore thou shalt love the Lord thy God, and keep his charge, and his statutes, and his judgments, and his commandments, alway.
2 And know ye this day: for I speak not with your children which have not known, and which have not seen the chastisement of the Lord your God, his greatness, his mighty hand, and his stretched out arm,
3 And his miracles, and his acts, which he did in the midst of Egypt unto Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and unto all his land;
4 And what he did unto the army of Egypt, unto their horses, and to their chariots; how he made the water of the Red sea to overflow them as they pursued after you, and how the Lord hath destroyed them unto this day;
5 And what he did unto you in the wilderness, until ye came into this place;
6 [†] And what he did unto Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab, the son of Reuben: how the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their households, and their tents, and all the substance that was in their possession, in the midst of all Israel:
7 But your eyes have seen all the great acts of the Lord which he did.
8 Therefore shall ye keep all the commandments which I command you this day, that ye may be strong, and go in and possess the land, whither ye go to possess it;
9 And that ye may prolong your days in the land, which the Lord sware unto your fathers to give unto them and to their seed, a land that floweth with milk and honey.
10 [†] ¶ For the land, whither thou goest in to possess it, is not as the land of Egypt, from whence ye came out, where thou sowedst thy seed, and wateredst it with thy foot, as a garden of herbs:
11 But the land, whither ye go to possess it, is a land of hills and valleys, and drinketh water of the rain of heaven:
12 A land which the Lord thy God careth for: the eyes of the Lord thy God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year even unto the end of the year.
13 ¶ And it shall come to pass, if ye shall hearken diligently unto my commandments which I command you this day, to love the Lord your God, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul,
14 [†] That I will give you the rain of your land in his due season, the first rain and the latter rain, that thou mayest gather in thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil.
15 And I will send grass in thy fields for thy cattle, that thou mayest eat and be full.
16 [†] Take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them;
17 [†] And then the Lord's wrath be kindled against you, and he shut up the heaven, that there be no rain, and that the land yield not her fruit; and lest ye perish quickly from off the good land which the Lord giveth you.
18 [†] ¶ Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul, and bind them for a sign upon your hand, that they may be as frontlets between your eyes.
19 And ye shall teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.
20 And thou shalt write them upon the door posts of thine house, and upon thy gates:
21 That your days may be multiplied, and the days of your children, in the land which the Lord sware unto your fathers to give them, as the days of heaven upon the earth.
22 ¶ For if ye shall diligently keep all these commandments which I command you, to do them, to love the Lord your God, to walk in all his ways, and to cleave unto him;
23 Then will the Lord drive out all these nations from before you, and ye shall possess greater nations and mightier than yourselves.

24 Every place whereon the soles of your feet shall tread shall be yours: from the wilderness and Lebanon, from the river, the river Euphrates, even unto the uttermost sea shall your coast be.
25 There shall no man be able to stand before you: for the LORD your God shall lay the fear of you and the dread of you upon all the land that ye shall tread upon, as he hath said unto you.
26 [†] ¶ Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse;
27 A blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the LORD your God, which I command you this day:
28 And a curse, if ye will not obey the commandments of the LORD your God, but turn aside out of the way which I command you this day, to go after other gods, which ye have not known.
29 And it shall come to pass, when the LORD thy God hath brought thee in unto the land whither thou goest to possess it, that thou shalt put the blessing upon mount Gerizim, and the curse upon mount Ebal.
30 [†] Are they not on the other side Jordan, by the way where the sun goeth down, in the land of the Canaanites, which dwell in the champaign over against Gilgal, beside the plains of Moreh?
31 For ye shall pass over Jordan to go in to possess the land which the LORD your God giveth you, and ye shall possess it, and dwell therein.
32 And ye shall observe to do all the statutes and judgments which I set before you this day.

Deuteronomy 12 [†]

1 These are the statutes and judgments, which ye shall observe to do in the land, which the Lord God of thy fathers giveth thee to possess it, all the days that ye live upon the earth.
2 Ye shall utterly destroy all the places, wherein the nations which ye shall possess served their gods, upon the high mountains, and upon the hills, and under every green tree:
3 [†] And ye shall overthrow their altars, and break their pillars, and burn their groves with fire; and ye shall hew down the graven images of their gods, and destroy the names of them out of that place.
4 Ye shall not do so unto the Lord your God.
5 [†] But unto the place which the Lord your God shall choose out of all your tribes to put his name there, even unto his habitation shall ye seek, and thither thou shalt come:
6 And thither ye shall bring your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, and your tithes, and heave offerings of your hand, and your vows, and your freewill offerings, and the firstlings of your herds and of your flocks:
7 [†] And there ye shall eat before the Lord your God, and ye shall rejoice in all that ye put your hand unto, ye and your households, wherein the Lord thy God hath blessed thee.
8 [†] Ye shall not do after all the things that we do here this day, every man whatsoever is right in his own eyes.
9 For ye are not as yet come to the rest and to the inheritance, which the Lord your God giveth you.
10 But when ye go over Jordan, and dwell in the land which the Lord your God giveth you to inherit, and when he giveth you rest from all your enemies round about, so that ye dwell in safety;
11 Then there shall be a place which the Lord your God shall choose to cause his name to dwell there; thither shall ye bring all that I command you; your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, your tithes, and the heave offering of your hand, and all your choice vows which ye vow unto the Lord:
12 [†] And ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God, ye, and your sons, and your daughters, and your menservants, and your maidservants, and the Levite that is within your gates; forasmuch as he hath no part nor inheritance with you.
13 Take heed to thyself that thou offer not thy burnt offerings in every place that thou seest:
14 But in the place which the Lord shall choose in one of thy tribes, there thou shalt offer thy burnt offerings, and there thou shalt do all that I command thee.
15 [†] Notwithstanding thou mayest kill and eat flesh in all thy gates, whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, according to the blessing of the Lord thy God which he hath given thee: the unclean and the clean may eat thereof, as of the roebuck, and as of the hart.
16 Only ye shall not eat the blood; ye shall pour it upon the earth as water.
17 [†] ¶ Thou mayest not eat within thy gates the tithe of thy corn, or of thy wine, or of thy oil, or the firstlings of thy herds or of thy flock, nor any of thy vows which thou vowest, nor thy freewill offerings, or heave offering of thine hand:
18 But thou must eat them before the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Levite that is within thy gates: and thou shalt rejoice before the Lord thy God in all that thou puttest thine hands unto.
19 Take heed to thyself that thou forsake not the Levite as long as thou livest upon the earth.
20 ¶ When the Lord thy God shall enlarge thy border, as he hath promised thee, and thou shalt say, I will eat flesh, because thy soul longeth to eat flesh; thou mayest eat flesh, whatsoever thy soul lusteth after.
21 If the place which the Lord thy God hath chosen to put his name there be too far from thee, then thou shalt kill of thy herd and of thy flock, which the Lord hath given thee, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt eat in thy gates whatsoever thy soul lusteth after.

22 Even as the roebuck and the hart is eaten, so thou shalt eat them: the unclean and the clean shall eat of them alike.
23 Only be sure that thou eat not the blood: for the blood is the life; and thou mayest not eat the life with the flesh.
24 Thou shalt not eat it; thou shalt pour it upon the earth as water.
25 Thou shalt not eat it; that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, when thou shalt do that which is right in the sight of the LORD.
26 Only thy holy things which thou hast, and thy vows, thou shalt take, and go unto the place which the LORD shall choose:
27 And thou shalt offer thy burnt offerings, the flesh and the blood, upon the altar of the LORD thy God: and the blood of thy sacrifices shall be poured out upon the altar of the LORD thy God, and thou shalt eat the flesh.
28 Observe and hear all these words which I command thee, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee for ever, when thou doest that which is good and right in the sight of the LORD thy God.
29 ¶ When the LORD thy God shall cut off the nations from before thee, whither thou goest to possess them, and thou succeedest them, and dwellest in their land;
30 [†] Take heed to thyself that thou be not snared by following them, after that they be destroyed from before thee; and that thou enquire not after their gods, saying, How did these nations serve their gods? even so will I do likewise.
31 Thou shalt not do so unto the LORD thy God: for every abomination to the LORD, which he hateth, have they done unto their gods; for even their sons and their daughters they have burnt in the fire to their gods.
32 [†] What thing soever I command you, observe to do it: thou shalt not add thereto, nor diminish from it.

Deuteronomy 13 [†]

1 [†] If there arise among you a prophet, or a dreamer of dreams, and giveth thee a sign or a wonder,
2 And the sign or the wonder come to pass, whereof he spake unto thee, saying, Let us go after other gods, which thou hast not known, and let us serve them;
3 [†] Thou shalt not hearken unto the words of that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams: for the Lord your God proveth you, to know whether ye love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul.
4 Ye shall walk after the Lord your God, and fear him, and keep his commandments, and obey his voice, and ye shall serve him, and cleave unto him.
5 [†] And that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams, shall be put to death; because he hath spoken to turn you away from the Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed you out of the house of bondage, to thrust thee out of the way which the Lord thy God commanded thee to walk in. So shalt thou put the evil away from the midst of thee.
6 [†] ¶ If thy brother, the son of thy mother, or thy son, or thy daughter, or the wife of thy bosom, or thy friend, which is as thine own soul, entice thee secretly, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which thou hast not known, thou, nor thy fathers;
7 Namely, of the gods of the people which are round about you, nigh unto thee, or far off from thee, from the one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth;
8 Thou shalt not consent unto him, nor hearken unto him; neither shall thine eye pity him, neither shalt thou spare, neither shalt thou conceal him:
9 But thou shalt surely kill him; thine hand shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterwards the hand of all the people.
10 And thou shalt stone him with stones, that he die; because he hath sought to thrust thee away from the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.
11 And all Israel shall hear, and fear, and shall do no more any such wickedness as this is among you.
12 [†] ¶ If thou shalt hear say in one of thy cities, which the Lord thy God hath given thee to dwell there, saying,
13 [†] Certain men, the children of Belial, are gone out from among you, and have withdrawn the inhabitants of their city, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which ye have not known;
14 Then shalt thou enquire, and make search, and ask diligently; and, behold, if it be truth, and the thing certain, that such abomination is wrought among you;
15 Thou shalt surely smite the inhabitants of that city with the edge of the sword, destroying it utterly, and all that is therein, and the cattle thereof, with the edge of the sword.
16 [†] And thou shalt gather all the spoil of it into the midst of the street thereof, and shalt burn with fire the city, and all the spoil thereof every whit, for the Lord thy God: and it shall be an heap for ever; it shall not be built again.
17 And there shall cleave nought of the cursed thing to thine hand: that the Lord may turn from the fierceness of his anger, and shew thee mercy, and have compassion upon thee, and multiply thee, as he hath sworn unto thy fathers;
18 When thou shalt hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, to keep all his commandments which I command thee this day, to do that which is right in the eyes of the Lord thy God.

Deuteronomy 14 [†]

1 [†] Ye are the children of the Lord your God: ye shall not cut yourselves, nor make any baldness between your eyes for the dead.
2 [†] For thou art an holy people unto the Lord thy God, and the Lord hath chosen thee to be a peculiar people unto himself, above all the nations that are upon the earth.
3 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not eat any abominable thing.
4 These are the beasts which ye shall eat: the ox, the sheep, and the goat,
5 [†] The hart, and the roebuck, and the fallow deer, and the wild goat, and the pygarg, and the wild ox, and the chamois.
6 [†] And every beast that parteth the hoof, and cleaveth the cleft into two claws, and cheweth the cud among the beasts, that ye shall eat.
7 [†] Nevertheless these ye shall not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the cloven hoof; as the camel, and the hare, and the coney: for they chew the cud, but divide not the hoof; therefore they are unclean unto you.
8 And the swine, because it divideth the hoof, yet cheweth not the cud, it is unclean unto you: ye shall not eat of their flesh, nor touch their dead carcase.
9 ¶ These ye shall eat of all that are in the waters: all that have fins and scales shall ye eat:
10 And whatsoever hath not fins and scales ye may not eat; it is unclean unto you.
11 ¶ Of all clean birds ye shall eat.
12 [†] But these are they of which ye shall not eat: the eagle, and the ossifrage, and the ospray,
13 And the glede, and the kite, and the vulture after his kind,
14 And every raven after his kind,
15 [†] And the owl, and the night hawk, and the cuckow, and the hawk after his kind,
16 The little owl, and the great owl, and the swan,
17 And the pelican, and the gier eagle, and the cormorant,
18 [†] And the stork, and the heron after her kind, and the lapwing, and the bat.
19 And every creeping thing that flieth is unclean unto you: they shall not be eaten.
20 But of all clean fowls ye may eat.
21 [†] ¶ Ye shall not eat of any thing that dieth of itself: thou shalt give it unto the stranger that is in thy gates, that he may eat it; or thou mayest sell it unto an alien: for thou art an holy people unto the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother’s milk.
22 [†] Thou shalt truly tithe all the increase of thy seed, that the field bringeth forth year by year.
23 And thou shalt eat before the Lord thy God, in the place which he shall choose to place his name there, the tithe of thy corn, of thy wine, and of thine oil, and the firstlings of thy herds and of thy flocks; that thou mayest learn to fear the Lord thy God always.
24 [†] And if the way be too long for thee, so that thou art not able to carry it; or if the place be too far from thee, which the Lord thy God shall choose to set his name there, when the Lord thy God hath blessed thee:
25 Then shalt thou turn it into money, and bind up the money in thine hand, and shalt go unto the place which the Lord thy God shall choose:
26 [†] And thou shalt bestow that money for whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, for oxen, or for sheep, or for wine, or for strong drink, or for whatsoever thy soul desireth: and thou shalt eat there before the Lord thy God, and thou shalt rejoice, thou, and thine household,
27 And the Levite that is within thy gates; thou shalt not forsake him; for he hath no part nor inheritance with thee.

28 [†] ¶ At the end of three years thou shalt bring forth all the tithe of thine increase the same year, and shalt lay it up within thy gates:
29 And the Levite, (because he hath no part nor inheritance with thee,) and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, which are within thy gates, shall come, and shall eat and be satisfied; that the LORD thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hand which thou doest.

Deuteronomy 15 [†]

1 [†] At the end of every seven years thou shalt make a release.
2 [†] And this is the manner of the release: Every creditor that lendeth ought unto his neighbour shall release it; he shall not exact it of his neighbour, or of his brother; because it is called the Lord's release.
3 Of a foreigner thou mayest exact it again: but that which is thine with thy brother thine hand shall release;
4 Save when there shall be no poor among you; for the Lord shall greatly bless thee in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance to possess it:
5 [†] Only if thou carefully hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all these commandments which I command thee this day.
6 For the Lord thy God blesseth thee, as he promised thee: and thou shalt lend unto many nations, but thou shalt not borrow; and thou shalt reign over many nations, but they shall not reign over thee.
7 ¶ If there be among you a poor man of one of thy brethren within any of thy gates in thy land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt not harden thine heart, nor shut thine hand from thy poor brother:
8 But thou shalt open thine hand wide unto him, and shalt surely lend him sufficient for his need, in that which he wanteth.
9 [†] Beware that there be not a thought in thy wicked heart, saying, The seventh year, the year of release, is at hand; and thine eye be evil against thy poor brother, and thou givest him nought; and he cry unto the Lord against thee, and it be sin unto thee.
10 Thou shalt surely give him, and thine heart shall not be grieved when thou givest unto him: because that for this thing the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thy works, and in all that thou puttest thine hand unto.
11 For the poor shall never cease out of the land: therefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt open thine hand wide unto thy brother, to thy poor, and to thy needy, in thy land.
12 ¶ And if thy brother, an Hebrew man, or an Hebrew woman, be sold unto thee, and serve thee six years; then in the seventh year thou shalt let him go free from thee.
13 And when thou sendest him out free from thee, thou shalt not let him go away empty:
14 [†] Thou shalt furnish him liberally out of thy flock, and out of thy floor, and out of thy winepress: of that wherewith the Lord thy God hath blessed thee thou shalt give unto him.
15 [†] And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God redeemed thee: therefore I command thee this thing to day.
16 [†] And it shall be, if he say unto thee, I will not go away from thee; because he loveth thee and thine house, because he is well with thee;
17 Then thou shalt take an aul, and thrust it through his ear unto the door, and he shall be thy servant for ever. And also unto thy maidservant thou shalt do likewise.
18 It shall not seem hard unto thee, when thou sendest him away free from thee; for he hath been worth a double hired servant to thee, in serving thee six years: and the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all that thou doest.
19 [†] ¶ All the firstling males that come of thy herd and of thy flock thou shalt sanctify unto the Lord thy God: thou shalt do no work with the firstling of thy bullock, nor shear the firstling of thy sheep.
20 [†] Thou shalt eat it before the Lord thy God year by year in the place which the Lord shall choose, thou and thy household.
21 And if there be any blemish therein, as if it be lame, or blind, or have any ill blemish, thou shalt not sacrifice it unto the Lord thy God.

22 [†] Thou shalt eat it within thy gates: the unclean and the clean person shall eat it alike, as the roebuck, and as the hart.
23 Only thou shalt not eat the blood thereof; thou shalt pour it upon the ground as water.

Deuteronomy 16 [†]

1 [†] Observe the month of Abib, and keep the passover unto the Lord thy God: for in the month of Abib the Lord thy God brought thee forth out of Egypt by night.
2 [†] Thou shalt therefore sacrifice the passover unto the Lord thy God, of the flock and the herd, in the place which the Lord shall choose to place his name there.
3 [†] Thou shalt eat no leavened bread with it; seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread therewith, even the bread of affliction; for thou camest forth out of the land of Egypt in haste: that thou mayest remember the day when thou camest forth out of the land of Egypt all the days of thy life.
4 [†] And there shall be no leavened bread seen with thee in all thy coast seven days; neither shall there any thing of the flesh, which thou sacrificedst the first day at even, remain all night until the morning.
5 Thou mayest not sacrifice the passover within any of thy gates, which the Lord thy God giveth thee:
6 [†] But at the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to place his name in, there thou shalt sacrifice the passover at even, at the going down of the sun, at the season that thou camest forth out of Egypt.
7 And thou shalt roast and eat it in the place which the Lord thy God shall choose: and thou shalt turn in the morning, and go unto thy tents.
8 [†] Six days thou shalt eat unleavened bread: and on the seventh day shall be a solemn assembly to the Lord thy God: thou shalt do no work therein.
9 [†] ¶ Seven weeks shalt thou number unto thee: begin to number the seven weeks from such time as thou beginnest to put the sickle to the corn.
10 And thou shalt keep the feast of weeks unto the Lord thy God with a tribute of a freewill offering of thine hand, which thou shalt give unto the Lord thy God, according as the Lord thy God hath blessed thee:
11 And thou shalt rejoice before the Lord thy God, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Levite that is within thy gates, and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are among you, in the place which the Lord thy God hath chosen to place his name there.
12 [†] And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in Egypt: and thou shalt observe and do these statutes.
13 [†] ¶ Thou shalt observe the feast of tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in thy corn and thy wine:
14 And thou shalt rejoice in thy feast, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Levite, the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are within thy gates.
15 [†] Seven days shalt thou keep a solemn feast unto the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord shall choose: because the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thine increase, and in all the works of thine hands, therefore thou shalt surely rejoice.
16 ¶ Three times in a year shall all thy males appear before the Lord thy God in the place which he shall choose; in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles: and they shall not appear before the Lord empty:
17 Every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the Lord thy God which he hath given thee.
18 [†] ¶ Judges and officers shalt thou make thee in all thy gates, which the Lord thy God giveth thee, throughout thy tribes: and they shall judge the people with just judgment.
19 Thou shalt not wrest judgment; thou shalt not respect persons, neither take a gift: for a gift doth blind the eyes of the wise, and pervert the words of the righteous.

20 That which is altogether just shalt thou follow, that thou mayest live, and inherit the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee.
21 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not plant thee a grove of any trees near unto the altar of the LORD thy God, which thou shalt make thee.
22 Neither shalt thou set thee up any image; which the LORD thy God hateth.

Deuteronomy 17 [†]

1 [†] Thou shalt not sacrifice unto the Lord thy God any bullock, or sheep, wherein is blemish, or any evilfavouredness: for that is an abomination unto the Lord thy God.
2 [†] ¶ If there be found among you, within any of thy gates which the Lord thy God giveth thee, man or woman, that hath wrought wickedness in the sight of the Lord thy God, in transgressing his covenant,
3 And hath gone and served other gods, and worshipped them, either the sun, or moon, or any of the host of heaven, which I have not commanded;
4 And it be told thee, and thou hast heard of it, and enquired diligently, and, behold, it be true, and the thing certain, that such abomination is wrought in Israel:
5 Then shalt thou bring forth that man or that woman, which have committed that wicked thing, unto thy gates, even that man or that woman, and shalt stone them with stones, till they die.
6 [†] At the mouth of two witnesses, or three witnesses, shall he that is worthy of death be put to death; but at the mouth of one witness he shall not be put to death.
7 The hands of the witnesses shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterward the hands of all the people. So thou shalt put the evil away from among you.
8 [†] ¶ If there arise a matter too hard for thee in judgment, between blood and blood, between plea and plea, and between stroke and stroke, being matters of controversy within thy gates: then shalt thou arise, and get thee up into the place which the Lord thy God shall choose;
9 And thou shalt come unto the priests the Levites, and unto the judge that shall be in those days, and enquire; and they shall shew thee the sentence of judgment:
10 [†] And thou shalt do according to the sentence, which they of that place which the Lord shall choose shall shew thee; and thou shalt observe to do according to all that they inform thee:
11 [†] According to the sentence of the law which they shall teach thee, and according to the judgment which they shall tell thee, thou shalt do: thou shalt not decline from the sentence which they shall shew thee, to the right hand, nor to the left.
12 [†] And the man that will do presumptuously, and will not hearken unto the priest that standeth to minister there before the Lord thy God, or unto the judge, even that man shall die: and thou shalt put away the evil from Israel.
13 And all the people shall hear, and fear, and do no more presumptuously.
14 [†] ¶ When thou art come unto the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, and shalt possess it, and shalt dwell therein, and shalt say, I will set a king over me, like as all the nations that are about me;
15 [†] Thou shalt in any wise set him king over thee, whom the Lord thy God shall choose: one from among thy brethren shalt thou set king over thee: thou mayest not set a stranger over thee, which is not thy brother.
16 [†] But he shall not multiply horses to himself, nor cause the people to return to Egypt, to the end that he should multiply horses: forasmuch as the Lord hath said unto you, Ye shall henceforth return no more that way.
17 [†] Neither shall he multiply wives to himself, that his heart turn not away: neither shall he greatly multiply to himself silver and gold.
18 And it shall be, when he sitteth upon the throne of his kingdom, that he shall write him a copy of this law in a book out of that which is before the priests the Levites:
19 And it shall be with him, and he shall read therein all the days of his life: that he may learn to fear the Lord his God, to keep all the words of this law and these statutes, to do them:
20 [†] That his heart be not lifted up above his brethren, and that he turn not aside from the commandment, to the right hand, or to the left: to the end that he may prolong his days in his kingdom, he, and his children, in the midst of Israel.

Deuteronomy 18 [†]

1 [†] The priests the Levites, and all the tribe of Levi, shall have no part nor inheritance with Israel: they shall eat the offerings of the Lord made by fire, and his inheritance.
2 Therefore shall they have no inheritance among their brethren: the Lord is their inheritance, as he hath said unto them.
3 [†] ¶ And this shall be the priest's due from the people, from them that offer a sacrifice, whether it be ox or sheep; and they shall give unto the priest the shoulder, and the two cheeks, and the maw.
4 The firstfruit also of thy corn, of thy wine, and of thine oil, and the first of the fleece of thy sheep, shalt thou give him.
5 For the Lord thy God hath chosen him out of all thy tribes, to stand to minister in the name of the Lord, him and his sons for ever.
6 ¶ And if a Levite come from any of thy gates out of all Israel, where he sojourned, and come with all the desire of his mind unto the place which the Lord shall choose;
7 Then he shall minister in the name of the Lord his God, as all his brethren the Levites do, which stand there before the Lord.
8 [†] They shall have like portions to eat, beside that which cometh of the sale of his patrimony.
9 [†] ¶ When thou art come into the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt not learn to do after the abominations of those nations.
10 [†] There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch,
11 [†] Or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer.
12 For all that do these things are an abomination unto the Lord: and because of these abominations the Lord thy God doth drive them out from before thee.
13 [†] Thou shalt be perfect with the Lord thy God.
14 [†] For these nations, which thou shalt possess, hearkened unto observers of times, and unto diviners: but as for thee, the Lord thy God hath not suffered thee so to do.
15 [†] ¶ The Lord thy God will raise up unto thee a Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me; unto him ye shall hearken;
16 According to all that thou desiredst of the Lord thy God in Horeb in the day of the assembly, saying, Let me not hear again the voice of the Lord my God, neither let me see this great fire any more, that I die not.
17 And the Lord said unto me, They have well spoken that which they have spoken.
18 [†] I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren, like unto thee, and will put my words in his mouth; and he shall speak unto them all that I shall command him.
19 [†] And it shall come to pass, that whosoever will not hearken unto my words which he shall speak in my name, I will require it of him.
20 But the prophet, which shall presume to speak a word in my name, which I have not commanded him to speak, or that shall speak in the name of other gods, even that prophet shall die.
21 And if thou say in thine heart, How shall we know the word which the Lord hath not spoken?
22 [†] When a prophet speaketh in the name of the Lord, if the thing follow not, nor come to pass, that is the thing which the Lord hath not spoken, but the prophet hath spoken it presumptuously: thou shalt not be afraid of him.

Deuteronomy 19 [†]

1 [†] When the Lord thy God hath cut off the nations, whose land the Lord thy God giveth thee, and thou succeedest them, and dwellest in their cities, and in their houses;
2 Thou shalt separate three cities for thee in the midst of thy land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee to possess it.
3 [†] Thou shalt prepare thee a way, and divide the coasts of thy land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee to inherit, into three parts, that every slayer may flee thither.
4 [†] ¶ And this is the case of the slayer, which shall flee thither, that he may live: Whoso killeth his neighbour ignorantly, whom he hated not in time past;
5 [†] As when a man goeth into the wood with his neighbour to hew wood, and his hand fetcheth a stroke with the axe to cut down the tree, and the head slippeth from the helve, and lighteth upon his neighbour, that he die; he shall flee unto one of those cities, and live:
6 [†] Lest the avenger of the blood pursue the slayer, while his heart is hot, and overtake him, because the way is long, and slay him; whereas he was not worthy of death, inasmuch as he hated him not in time past.
7 Wherefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt separate three cities for thee.
8 And if the Lord thy God enlarge thy coast, as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, and give thee all the land which he promised to give unto thy fathers;
9 If thou shalt keep all these commandments to do them, which I command thee this day, to love the Lord thy God, and to walk ever in his ways; then shalt thou add three cities more for thee, beside these three:
10 That innocent blood be not shed in thy land, which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance, and so blood be upon thee.
11 ¶ But if any man hate his neighbour, and lie in wait for him, and rise up against him, and smite him mortally that he die, and fleeth into one of these cities:
12 [†] Then the elders of his city shall send and fetch him thence, and deliver him into the hand of the avenger of blood, that he may die.
13 [†] Thine eye shall not pity him, but thou shalt put away the guilt of innocent blood from Israel, that it may go well with thee.
14 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not remove thy neighbour's landmark, which they of old time have set in thine inheritance, which thou shalt inherit in the land that the Lord thy God giveth thee to possess it.
15 [†] ¶ One witness shall not rise up against a man for any iniquity, or for any sin, in any sin that he sinneth: at the mouth of two witnesses, or at the mouth of three witnesses, shall the matter be established.
16 ¶ If a false witness rise up against any man to testify against him that which is wrong;
17 Then both the men, between whom the controversy is, shall stand before the Lord, before the priests and the judges, which shall be in those days;
18 [†] And the judges shall make diligent inquisition: and, behold, if the witness be a false witness, and hath testified falsely against his brother;
19 Then shall ye do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother: so shalt thou put the evil away from among you.
20 [†] And those which remain shall hear, and fear, and shall henceforth commit no more any such evil among you.
21 [†] And thine eye shall not pity; but life shall go for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

Deuteronomy 20 [†]

1 When thou goest out to battle against thine enemies, and seest horses, and chariots, and a people more than thou, be not afraid of them: for the Lord thy God is with thee, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.
2 [†] And it shall be, when ye are come nigh unto the battle, that the priest shall approach and speak unto the people,
3 And shall say unto them, Hear, O Israel, ye approach this day unto battle against your enemies: let not your hearts faint, fear not, and do not tremble, neither be ye terrified because of them;
4 For the Lord your God is he that goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, to save you.
5 [†] ¶ And the officers shall speak unto the people, saying, What man is there that hath built a new house, and hath not dedicated it? let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man dedicate it.
6 And what man is he that hath planted a vineyard, and hath not yet eaten of it? let him also go and return unto his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man eat of it.
7 [†] And what man is there that hath betrothed a wife, and hath not taken her? let him go and return unto his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man take her.
8 And the officers shall speak further unto the people, and they shall say, What man is there that is fearful and fainthearted? let him go and return unto his house, lest his brethren's heart faint as well as his heart.
9 And it shall be, when the officers have made an end of speaking unto the people, that they shall make captains of the armies to lead the people.
10 [†] ¶ When thou comest nigh unto a city to fight against it, then proclaim peace unto it.
11 [†] And it shall be, if it make thee answer of peace, and open unto thee, then it shall be, that all the people that is found therein shall be tributaries unto thee, and they shall serve thee.
12 [†] And if it will make no peace with thee, but will make war against thee, then thou shalt besiege it:
13 And when the Lord thy God hath delivered it into thine hands, thou shalt smite every male thereof with the edge of the sword:
14 But the women, and the little ones, and the cattle, and all that is in the city, even all the spoil thereof, shalt thou take unto thyself; and thou shalt eat the spoil of thine enemies, which the Lord thy God hath given thee.
15 Thus shalt thou do unto all the cities which are very far off from thee, which are not of the cities of these nations.
16 But of the cities of these people, which the Lord thy God doth give thee for an inheritance, thou shalt save alive nothing that breatheth:
17 [†] But thou shalt utterly destroy them; namely, the Hittites, and the Amorites, the Canaanites, and the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites; as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee:
18 That they teach you not to do after all their abominations, which they have done unto their gods; so should ye sin against the Lord your God.
19 [†] ¶ When thou shalt besiege a city a long time, in making war against it to take it, thou shalt not destroy the trees thereof by forcing an axe against them: for thou mayest eat of them, and thou shalt not cut them down (for the tree of the field is man's life) to employ them in the siege:
20 [†] Only the trees which thou knowest that they be not trees for meat, thou shalt destroy and cut them down; and thou shalt build bulwarks against the city that maketh war with thee, until it be subdued.

Deuteronomy 21 [†]

1 [†] If one be found slain in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee to possess it, lying in the field, and it be not known who hath slain him:
2 [†] Then thy elders and thy judges shall come forth, and they shall measure unto the cities which are round about him that is slain:
3 [†] And it shall be, that the city which is next unto the slain man, even the elders of that city shall take an heifer, which hath not been wrought with, and which hath not drawn in the yoke;
4 [†] And the elders of that city shall bring down the heifer unto a rough valley, which is neither eared nor sown, and shall strike off the heifer's neck there in the valley:
5 [†] And the priests the sons of Levi shall come near; for them the Lord thy God hath chosen to minister unto him, and to bless in the name of the Lord; and by their word shall every controversy and every stroke be tried:
6 And all the elders of that city, that are next unto the slain man, shall wash their hands over the heifer that is beheaded in the valley:
7 And they shall answer and say, Our hands have not shed this blood, neither have our eyes seen it.
8 [†] Be merciful, O Lord, unto thy people Israel, whom thou hast redeemed, and lay not innocent blood unto thy people of Israel's charge. And the blood shall be forgiven them.
9 So shalt thou put away the guilt of innocent blood from among you, when thou shalt do that which is right in the sight of the Lord.
10 [†] ¶ When thou goest forth to war against thine enemies, and the Lord thy God hath delivered them into thine hands, and thou hast taken them captive,
11 And seest among the captives a beautiful woman, and hast a desire unto her, that thou wouldest have her to thy wife;
12 [†] Then thou shalt bring her home to thine house; and she shall shave her head, and pare her nails;
13 [†] And she shall put the raiment of her captivity from off her, and shall remain in thine house, and bewail her father and her mother a full month: and after that thou shalt go in unto her, and be her husband, and she shall be thy wife.
14 And it shall be, if thou have no delight in her, then thou shalt let her go whither she will; but thou shalt not sell her at all for money, thou shalt not make merchandise of her, because thou hast humbled her.
15 [†] ¶ If a man have two wives, one beloved, and another hated, and they have born him children, both the beloved and the hated; and if the firstborn son be hers that was hated:
16 Then it shall be, when he maketh his sons to inherit that which he hath, that he may not make the son of the beloved firstborn before the son of the hated, which is indeed the firstborn:
17 [†] But he shall acknowledge the son of the hated for the firstborn, by giving him a double portion of all that he hath: for he is the beginning of his strength; the right of the firstborn is his.
18 ¶ If a man have a stubborn and rebellious son, which will not obey the voice of his father, or the voice of his mother, and that, when they have chastened him, will not hearken unto them:
19 Then shall his father and his mother lay hold on him, and bring him out unto the elders of his city, and unto the gate of his place;
20 [†] And they shall say unto the elders of his city, This our son is stubborn and rebellious, he will not obey our voice; he is a glutton, and a drunkard.
21 And all the men of his city shall stone him with stones, that he die: so shalt thou put evil away from among you; and all Israel shall hear, and fear.
22 ¶ And if a man have committed a sin worthy of death, and he be to be put to death, and thou hang him on a tree:

23 [†] His body shall not remain all night upon the tree, but thou shalt in any wise bury him that day; (for he that is hanged is accursed of God;) that thy land be not defiled, which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance.

Deuteronomy 22 [†]

1 Thou shalt not see thy brother's ox or his sheep go astray, and hide thyself from them: thou shalt in any case bring them again unto thy brother.
2 And if thy brother be not nigh unto thee, or if thou know him not, then thou shalt bring it unto thine own house, and it shall be with thee until thy brother seek after it, and thou shalt restore it to him again.
3 In like manner shalt thou do with his ass; and so shalt thou do with his raiment; and with all lost thing of thy brother's, which he hath lost, and thou hast found, shalt thou do likewise: thou mayest not hide thyself.
4 ¶ Thou shalt not see thy brother's ass or his ox fall down by the way, and hide thyself from them: thou shalt surely help him to lift them up again.
5 [†] ¶ The woman shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man, neither shall a man put on a woman's garment: for all that do so are abomination unto the Lord thy God.
6 [†] ¶ If a bird's nest chance to be before thee in the way in any tree, or on the ground, whether they be young ones, or eggs, and the dam sitting upon the young, or upon the eggs, thou shalt not take the dam with the young:
7 But thou shalt in any wise let the dam go, and take the young to thee; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days.
8 [†] ¶ When thou buildest a new house, then thou shalt make a battlement for thy roof, that thou bring not blood upon thine house, if any man fall from thence.
9 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with divers seeds: lest the fruit of thy seed which thou hast sown, and the fruit of thy vineyard, be defiled.
10 ¶ Thou shalt not plow with an ox and an ass together.
11 ¶ Thou shalt not wear a garment of divers sorts, as of woollen and linen together.
12 [†] ¶ Thou shalt make thee fringes upon the four quarters of thy vesture, wherewith thou coverest thyself.
13 [†] ¶ If any man take a wife, and go in unto her, and hate her,
14 [†] And give occasions of speech against her, and bring up an evil name upon her, and say, I took this woman, and when I came to her, I found her not a maid:
15 [†] Then shall the father of the damsel, and her mother, take and bring forth the tokens of the damsel's virginity unto the elders of the city in the gate:
16 And the damsel's father shall say unto the elders, I gave my daughter unto this man to wife, and he hateth her;
17 [†] And, lo, he hath given occasions of speech against her, saying, I found not thy daughter a maid; and yet these are the tokens of my daughter's virginity. And they shall spread the cloth before the elders of the city.
18 And the elders of that city shall take that man and chastise him;
19 [†] And they shall amerce him in an hundred shekels of silver, and give them unto the father of the damsel, because he hath brought up an evil name upon a virgin of Israel: and she shall be his wife; he may not put her away all his days.
20 But if this thing be true, and the tokens of virginity be not found for the damsel:
21 [†] Then they shall bring out the damsel to the door of her father's house, and the men of her city shall stone her with stones that she die: because she hath wrought folly in Israel, to play the whore in her father's house: so shalt thou put evil away from among you.
22 ¶ If a man be found lying with a woman married to an husband, then they shall both of them die, both the man that lay with the woman, and the woman: so shalt thou put away evil from Israel.

23 [†] ¶ If a damsel that is a virgin be betrothed unto an husband, and a man find her in the city, and lie with her;
24 [†] Then ye shall bring them both out unto the gate of that city, and ye shall stone them with stones that they die; the damsel, because she cried not, being in the city; and the man, because he hath humbled his neighbour's wife: so thou shalt put away evil from among you.
25 ¶ But if a man find a betrothed damsel in the field, and the man force her, and lie with her: then the man only that lay with her shall die:
26 [†] But unto the damsel thou shalt do nothing; there is in the damsel no sin worthy of death: for as when a man riseth against his neighbour, and slayeth him, even so is this matter:
27 For he found her in the field, and the betrothed damsel cried, and there was none to save her.
28 ¶ If a man find a damsel that is a virgin, which is not betrothed, and lay hold on her, and lie with her, and they be found;
29 Then the man that lay with her shall give unto the damsel's father fifty shekels of silver, and she shall be his wife; because he hath humbled her, he may not put her away all his days.
30 [†] ¶ A man shall not take his father's wife, nor discover his father's skirt.

Deuteronomy 23 [†]

1 [†] He that is wounded in the stones, or hath his privy member cut off, shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord.
2 A bastard shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord.
3 [†] An Ammonite or Moabite shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to their tenth generation shall they not enter into the congregation of the Lord for ever:
4 Because they met you not with bread and with water in the way, when ye came forth out of Egypt; and because they hired against thee Balaam the son of Beor of Pethor of Mesopotamia, to curse thee.
5 [†] Nevertheless the Lord thy God would not hearken unto Balaam; but the Lord thy God turned the curse into a blessing unto thee, because the Lord thy God loved thee.
6 Thou shalt not seek their peace nor their prosperity all thy days for ever.
7 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not abhor an Edomite; for he is thy brother: thou shalt not abhor an Egyptian; because thou wast a stranger in his land.
8 The children that are begotten of them shall enter into the congregation of the Lord in their third generation.
9 [†] ¶ When the host goeth forth against thine enemies, then keep thee from every wicked thing.
10 [†] ¶ If there be among you any man, that is not clean by reason of uncleanness that chanceth him by night, then shall he go abroad out of the camp, he shall not come within the camp:
11 But it shall be, when evening cometh on, he shall wash himself with water: and when the sun is down, he shall come into the camp again.
12 [†] ¶ Thou shalt have a place also without the camp, whither thou shalt go forth abroad:
13 And thou shalt have a paddle upon thy weapon; and it shall be, when thou wilt ease thyself abroad, thou shalt dig therewith, and shalt turn back and cover that which cometh from thee:
14 [†] For the Lord thy God walketh in the midst of thy camp, to deliver thee, and to give up thine enemies before thee; therefore shall thy camp be holy: that he see no unclean thing in thee, and turn away from thee.
15 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not deliver unto his master the servant which is escaped from his master unto thee:
16 He shall dwell with thee, even among you, in that place which he shall choose in one of thy gates, where it liketh him best: thou shalt not oppress him.
17 [†] ¶ There shall be no whore of the daughters of Israel, nor a sodomite of the sons of Israel.
18 Thou shalt not bring the hire of a whore, or the price of a dog, into the house of the Lord thy God for any vow: for even both these are abomination unto the Lord thy God.
19 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not lend upon usury to thy brother; usury of money, usury of victuals, usury of any thing that is lent upon usury:
20 Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury: that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all that thou settest thine hand to in the land whither thou goest to possess it.
21 [†] ¶ When thou shalt vow a vow unto the Lord thy God, thou shalt not slack to pay it: for the Lord thy God will surely require it of thee; and it would be sin in thee.
22 [†] But if thou shalt forbear to vow, it shall be no sin in thee.
23 That which is gone out of thy lips thou shalt keep and perform; even a freewill offering, according as thou hast vowed unto the Lord thy God, which thou hast promised with thy mouth.
24 ¶ When thou comest into thy neighbour's vineyard, then thou mayest eat grapes thy fill at thine own pleasure; but thou shalt not put any in thy vessel.

25 [†] When thou comest into the standing corn of thy neighbour, then thou mayest pluck the ears with thine hand; but thou shalt not move a sickle unto thy neighbour’s standing corn.

Deuteronomy 24 [†]

1 [†] When a man hath taken a wife, and married her, and it come to pass that she find no favour in his eyes, because he hath found some uncleanness in her: then let him write her a bill of divorcement, and give it in her hand, and send her out of his house.
2 And when she is departed out of his house, she may go and be another man's wife.
3 And if the latter husband hate her, and write her a bill of divorcement, and giveth it in her hand, and sendeth her out of his house; or if the latter husband die, which took her to be his wife;
4 Her former husband, which sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife, after that she is defiled; for that is abomination before the LORD: and thou shalt not cause the land to sin, which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance.
5 ¶ When a man hath taken a new wife, he shall not go out to war, neither shall he be charged with any business: but he shall be free at home one year, and shall cheer up his wife which he hath taken.
6 [†] ¶ No man shall take the nether or the upper millstone to pledge: for he taketh a man's life to pledge.
7 [†] ¶ If a man be found stealing any of his brethren of the children of Israel, and maketh merchandise of him, or selleth him; then that thief shall die; and thou shalt put evil away from among you.
8 ¶ Take heed in the plague of leprosy, that thou observe diligently, and do according to all that the priests the Levites shall teach you: as I commanded them, so ye shall observe to do.
9 [†] Remember what the LORD thy God did unto Miriam by the way, after that ye were come forth out of Egypt.
10 [†] ¶ When thou dost lend thy brother any thing, thou shalt not go into his house to fetch his pledge.
11 [†] Thou shalt stand abroad, and the man to whom thou dost lend shall bring out the pledge abroad unto thee.
12 [†] And if the man be poor, thou shalt not sleep with his pledge:
13 In any case thou shalt deliver him the pledge again when the sun goeth down, that he may sleep in his own raiment, and bless thee: and it shall be righteousness unto thee before the LORD thy God.
14 ¶ Thou shalt not oppress an hired servant that is poor and needy, whether he be of thy brethren, or of thy strangers that are in thy land within thy gates:
15 [†] At his day thou shalt give him his hire, neither shall the sun go down upon it; for he is poor, and setteth his heart upon it: lest he cry against thee unto the LORD, and it be sin unto thee.
16 The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers: every man shall be put to death for his own sin.
17 ¶ Thou shalt not pervert the judgment of the stranger, nor of the fatherless; nor take a widow's raiment to pledge:
18 But thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in Egypt, and the LORD thy God redeemed thee thence: therefore I command thee to do this thing.
19 [†] ¶ When thou cuttest down thine harvest in thy field, and hast forgot a sheaf in the field, thou shalt not go again to fetch it: it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherless, and for the widow: that the LORD thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hands.
20 When thou beatest thine olive tree, thou shalt not go over the boughs again: it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherless, and for the widow.
21 When thou gatherest the grapes of thy vineyard, thou shalt not glean it afterward: it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherless, and for the widow.
22 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt: therefore I command thee to do this thing.

Deuteronomy 25 [†]

1 If there be a controversy between men, and they come unto judgment, that the judges may judge them; then they shall justify the righteous, and condemn the wicked.
2 [†] And it shall be, if the wicked man be worthy to be beaten, that the judge shall cause him to lie down, and to be beaten before his face, according to his fault, by a certain number.
3 [†] Forty stripes he may give him, and not exceed: lest, if he should exceed, and beat him above these with many stripes, then thy brother should seem vile unto thee.
4 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn.
5 [†] ¶ If brethren dwell together, and one of them die, and have no child, the wife of the dead shall not marry without unto a stranger: her husband's brother shall go in unto her, and take her to him to wife, and perform the duty of an husband's brother unto her.
6 [†] And it shall be, that the firstborn which she beareth shall succeed in the name of his brother which is dead, that his name be not put out of Israel.
7 And if the man like not to take his brother's wife, then let his brother's wife go up to the gate unto the elders, and say, My husband's brother refuseth to raise up unto his brother a name in Israel, he will not perform the duty of my husband's brother.
8 [†] Then the elders of his city shall call him, and speak unto him: and if he stand to it, and say, I like not to take her;
9 Then shall his brother's wife come unto him in the presence of the elders, and loose his shoe from off his foot, and spit in his face, and shall answer and say, So shall it be done unto that man that will not build up his brother's house.
10 [†] And his name shall be called in Israel, The house of him that hath his shoe loosed.
11 [†] ¶ When men strive together one with another, and the wife of the one draweth near for to deliver her husband out of the hand of him that smiteth him, and putteth forth her hand, and taketh him by the secrets:
12 Then thou shalt cut off her hand, thine eye shall not pity her.
13 [†] ¶ Thou shalt not have in thy bag divers weights, a great and a small.
14 Thou shalt not have in thine house divers measures, a great and a small.
15 But thou shalt have a perfect and just weight, a perfect and just measure shalt thou have: that thy days may be lengthened in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.
16 For all that do such things, and all that do unrighteously, are an abomination unto the Lord thy God.
17 [†] ¶ Remember what Amalek did unto thee by the way, when ye were come forth out of Egypt;
18 [†] How he met thee by the way, and smote the hindmost of thee, even all that were feeble behind thee, when thou wast faint and weary; and he feared not God.
19 [†] Therefore it shall be, when the Lord thy God hath given thee rest from all thine enemies round about, in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance to possess it, that thou shalt blot out the remembrance of Amalek from under heaven; thou shalt not forget it.

Deuteronomy 26 [†]

1 And it shall be, when thou art come in unto the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee for an inheritance, and possessest it, and dwellest therein;
2 [†] That thou shalt take of the first of all the fruit of the earth, which thou shalt bring of thy land that the Lord thy God giveth thee, and shalt put it in a basket, and shalt go unto the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to place his name there.
3 And thou shalt go unto the priest that shall be in those days, and say unto him, I profess this day unto the Lord thy God, that I am come unto the country which the Lord sware unto our fathers for to give us.
4 And the priest shall take the basket out of thine hand, and set it down before the altar of the Lord thy God.
5 And thou shalt speak and say before the Lord thy God, A Syrian ready to perish was my father, and he went down into Egypt, and sojourned there with a few, and became there a nation, great, mighty, and populous:
6 And the Egyptians evil entreated us, and afflicted us, and laid upon us hard bondage:
7 And when we cried unto the Lord God of our fathers, the Lord heard our voice, and looked on our affliction, and our labour, and our oppression:
8 And the Lord brought us forth out of Egypt with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with great terribleness, and with signs, and with wonders:
9 And he hath brought us into this place, and hath given us this land, even a land that floweth with milk and honey.
10 And now, behold, I have brought the firstfruits of the land, which thou, O Lord, hast given me. And thou shalt set it before the Lord thy God, and worship before the Lord thy God:
11 And thou shalt rejoice in every good thing which the Lord thy God hath given unto thee, and unto thine house, thou, and the Levite, and the stranger that is among you.
12 [†] ¶ When thou hast made an end of tithing all the tithes of thine increase the third year, which is the year of tithing, and hast given it unto the Levite, the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, that they may eat within thy gates, and be filled;
13 [†] Then thou shalt say before the Lord thy God, I have brought away the hallowed things out of mine house, and also have given them unto the Levite, and unto the stranger, to the fatherless, and to the widow, according to all thy commandments which thou hast commanded me: I have not transgressed thy commandments, neither have I forgotten them:
14 I have not eaten thereof in my mourning, neither have I taken away ought thereof for any unclean use, nor given ought thereof for the dead: but I have hearkened to the voice of the Lord my God, and have done according to all that thou hast commanded me.
15 Look down from thy holy habitation, from heaven, and bless thy people Israel, and the land which thou hast given us, as thou swarest unto our fathers, a land that floweth with milk and honey.
16 ¶ This day the Lord thy God hath commanded thee to do these statutes and judgments: thou shalt therefore keep and do them with all thine heart, and with all thy soul.
17 [†] Thou hast avouched the Lord this day to be thy God, and to walk in his ways, and to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and to hearken unto his voice:
18 [†] And the Lord hath avouched thee this day to be his peculiar people, as he hath promised thee, and that thou shouldest keep all his commandments;
19 And to make thee high above all nations which he hath made, in praise, and in name, and in honour; and that thou mayest be an holy people unto the Lord thy God, as he hath spoken.

Deuteronomy 27 [†]

1 And Moses with the elders of Israel commanded the people, saying, Keep all the commandments which I command you this day.
2 [†] And it shall be on the day when ye shall pass over Jordan unto the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, that thou shalt set thee up great stones, and plaister them with plaister:
3 And thou shalt write upon them all the words of this law, when thou art passed over, that thou mayest go in unto the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, a land that floweth with milk and honey; as the Lord God of thy fathers hath promised thee.
4 [†] Therefore it shall be when ye be gone over Jordan, that ye shall set up these stones, which I command you this day, in mount Ebal, and thou shalt plaister them with plaister.
5 [†] And there shalt thou build an altar unto the Lord thy God, an altar of stones: thou shalt not lift up any iron tool upon them.
6 Thou shalt build the altar of the Lord thy God of whole stones: and thou shalt offer burnt offerings thereon unto the Lord thy God:
7 And thou shalt offer peace offerings, and shalt eat there, and rejoice before the Lord thy God.
8 [†] And thou shalt write upon the stones all the words of this law very plainly.
9 [†] ¶ And Moses and the priests the Levites spake unto all Israel, saying, Take heed, and hearken, O Israel; this day thou art become the people of the Lord thy God.
10 Thou shalt therefore obey the voice of the Lord thy God, and do his commandments and his statutes, which I command thee this day.
11 ¶ And Moses charged the people the same day, saying,
12 These shall stand upon mount Gerizim to bless the people, when ye are come over Jordan; Simeon, and Levi, and Judah, and Issachar, and Joseph, and Benjamin:
13 And these shall stand upon mount Ebal to curse; Reuben, Gad, and Asher, and Zebulun, Dan, and Naphtali.
14 ¶ And the Levites shall speak, and say unto all the men of Israel with a loud voice,
15 [†] Cursed be the man that maketh any graven or molten image, an abomination unto the Lord, the work of the hands of the craftsman, and putteth it in a secret place. And all the people shall answer and say, Amen.
16 [†] Cursed be he that setteth light by his father or his mother. And all the people shall say, Amen.
17 [†] Cursed be he that removeth his neighbour's landmark. And all the people shall say, Amen.
18 [†] Cursed be he that maketh the blind to wander out of the way. And all the people shall say, Amen.
19 Cursed be he that perverteth the judgment of the stranger, fatherless, and widow. And all the people shall say, Amen.
20 [†] Cursed be he that lieth with his father's wife; because he uncovereth his father's skirt. And all the people shall say, Amen.
21 Cursed be he that lieth with any manner of beast. And all the people shall say, Amen.
22 Cursed be he that lieth with his sister, the daughter of his father, or the daughter of his mother. And all the people shall say, Amen.
23 Cursed be he that lieth with his mother in law. And all the people shall say, Amen.
24 Cursed be he that smiteth his neighbour secretly. And all the people shall say, Amen.
25 Cursed be he that taketh reward to slay an innocent person. And all the people shall say, Amen.
26 [†] Cursed be he that confirmeth not all the words of this law to do them. And all the people shall say, Amen.

Deuteronomy 28 [†]

1 [†] And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the Lord thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth:
2 And all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee, if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God.
3 Blessed shalt thou be in the city, and blessed shalt thou be in the field.
4 [†] Blessed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattle, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep.
5 [†] Blessed shall be thy basket and thy store.
6 [†] Blessed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and blessed shalt thou be when thou goest out.
7 [†] The Lord shall cause thine enemies that rise up against thee to be smitten before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and flee before thee seven ways.
8 The Lord shall command the blessing upon thee in thy storehouses, and in all that thou settest thine hand unto; and he shall bless thee in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.
9 The Lord shall establish thee an holy people unto himself, as he hath sworn unto thee, if thou shalt keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways.
10 And all people of the earth shall see that thou art called by the name of the Lord; and they shall be afraid of thee.
11 And the Lord shall make thee plenteous in goods, in the fruit of thy body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy ground, in the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers to give thee.
12 The Lord shall open unto thee his good treasure, the heaven to give the rain unto thy land in his season, and to bless all the work of thine hand: and thou shalt lend unto many nations, and thou shalt not borrow.
13 And the Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath; if that thou hearken unto the commandments of the Lord thy God, which I command thee this day, to observe and to do them:
14 And thou shalt not go aside from any of the words which I command thee this day, to the right hand, or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them.
15 ¶ But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee:
16 Cursed shalt thou be in the city, and cursed shalt thou be in the field.
17 Cursed shall be thy basket and thy store.
18 Cursed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy land, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep.
19 Cursed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and cursed shalt thou be when thou goest out.
20 [†] The Lord shall send upon thee cursing, vexation, and rebuke, in all that thou settest thine hand unto for to do, until thou be destroyed, and until thou perish quickly; because of the wickedness of thy doings, whereby thou hast forsaken me.
21 The Lord shall make the pestilence cleave unto thee, until he have consumed thee from off the land, whither thou goest to possess it.
22 [†] The Lord shall smite thee with a consumption, and with a fever, and with an inflammation, and with an extreme burning, and with the sword, and with blasting, and with mildew; and they shall pursue thee until thou perish.

23 [†] And thy heaven that is over thy head shall be brass, and the earth that is under thee shall be iron.
24 The LORD shall make the rain of thy land powder and dust: from heaven shall it come down upon thee, until thou be destroyed.
25 The LORD shall cause thee to be smitten before thine enemies: thou shalt go out one way against them, and flee seven ways before them: and shalt be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.
26 [†] And thy carcase shall be meat unto all fowls of the air, and unto the beasts of the earth, and no man shall fray them away.
27 [†] The LORD will smite thee with the botch of Egypt, and with the emerods, and with the scab, and with the itch, whereof thou canst not be healed.
28 [†] The LORD shall smite thee with madness, and blindness, and astonishment of heart:
29 [†] And thou shalt grope at noonday, as the blind gropeth in darkness, and thou shalt not prosper in thy ways: and thou shalt be only oppressed and spoiled evermore, and no man shall save thee.
30 Thou shalt betroth a wife, and another man shall lie with her: thou shalt build an house, and thou shalt not dwell therein: thou shalt plant a vineyard, and shalt not gather the grapes thereof.
31 Thine ox shall be slain before thine eyes, and thou shalt not eat thereof: thine ass shall be violently taken away from before thy face, and shall not be restored to thee: thy sheep shall be given unto thine enemies, and thou shalt have none to rescue them.
32 Thy sons and thy daughters shall be given unto another people, and thine eyes shall look, and fail with longing for them all the day long: and there shall be no might in thine hand.
33 The fruit of thy land, and all thy labours, shall a nation which thou knowest not eat up; and thou shalt be only oppressed and crushed alway:
34 So that thou shalt be mad for the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see.
35 The LORD shall smite thee in the knees, and in the legs, with a sore botch that cannot be healed, from the sole of thy foot unto the top of thy head.
36 The LORD shall bring thee, and thy king which thou shalt set over thee, unto a nation which neither thou nor thy fathers have known; and there shalt thou serve other gods, wood and stone.
37 [†] And thou shalt become an astonishment, a proverb, and a byword, among all nations whither the LORD shall lead thee.
38 Thou shalt carry much seed out into the field, and shalt gather but little in; for the locust shall consume it.
39 Thou shalt plant vineyards, and dress them, but shalt neither drink of the wine, nor gather the grapes; for the worms shall eat them.
40 [†] Thou shalt have olive trees throughout all thy coasts, but thou shalt not anoint thyself with the oil; for thine olive shall cast his fruit.
41 Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, but thou shalt not enjoy them; for they shall go into captivity.
42 All thy trees and fruit of thy land shall the locust consume.
43 The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low.
44 He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail.
45 Moreover all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and overtake thee, till thou be destroyed; because thou hearkenedst not unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which he commanded thee:
46 And they shall be upon thee for a sign and for a wonder, and upon thy seed for ever.
47 Because thou servedst not the LORD thy God with joyfulness, and with gladness of heart, for the abundance of all things;
48 Therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies which the LORD shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things: and he shall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee.

49 The LORD shall bring a nation against thee from far, from the end of the earth, as swift as the eagle flieth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand;
50 A nation of fierce countenance, which shall not regard the person of the old, nor shew favour to the young:
51 And he shall eat the fruit of thy cattle, and the fruit of thy land, until thou be destroyed: which also shall not leave thee either corn, wine, or oil, or the increase of thy kine, or flocks of thy sheep, until he have destroyed thee.
52 And he shall besiege thee in all thy gates, until thy high and fenced walls come down, wherein thou trustedst, throughout all thy land: and he shall besiege thee in all thy gates throughout all thy land, which the LORD thy God hath given thee.
53 [†] And thou shalt eat the fruit of thine own body, the flesh of thy sons and of thy daughters, which the LORD thy God hath given thee, in the siege, and in the straitness, wherewith thine enemies shall distress thee:
54 [†] So that the man that is tender among you, and very delicate, his eye shall be evil toward his brother, and toward the wife of his bosom, and toward the remnant of his children which he shall leave:
55 So that he will not give to any of them of the flesh of his children whom he shall eat: because he hath nothing left him in the siege, and in the straitness, wherewith thine enemies shall distress thee in all thy gates.
56 [†] The tender and delicate woman among you, which would not adventure to set the sole of her foot upon the ground for delicateness and tenderness, her eye shall be evil toward the husband of her bosom, and toward her son, and toward her daughter,
57 And toward her young one that cometh out from between her feet, and toward her children which she shall bear: for she shall eat them for want of all things secretly in the siege and straitness, wherewith thine enemy shall distress thee in thy gates.
58 If thou wilt not observe to do all the words of this law that are written in this book, that thou mayest fear this glorious and fearful name, THE LORD THY GOD;
59 [†] Then the LORD will make thy plagues wonderful, and the plagues of thy seed, even great plagues, and of long continuance, and sore sicknesses, and of long continuance.
60 Moreover he will bring upon thee all the diseases of Egypt, which thou wast afraid of; and they shall cleave unto thee.
61 Also every sickness, and every plague, which is not written in the book of this law, them will the LORD bring upon thee, until thou be destroyed.
62 And ye shall be left few in number, whereas ye were as the stars of heaven for multitude; because thou wouldest not obey the voice of the LORD thy God.
63 And it shall come to pass, that as the LORD rejoiced over you to do you good, and to multiply you; so the LORD will rejoice over you to destroy you, and to bring you to nought; and ye shall be plucked from off the land whither thou goest to possess it.
64 And the LORD shall scatter thee among all people, from the one end of the earth even unto the other; and there thou shalt serve other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known, even wood and stone.
65 And among these nations shalt thou find no ease, neither shall the sole of thy foot have rest: but the LORD shall give thee there a trembling heart, and failing of eyes, and sorrow of mind:
66 And thy life shall hang in doubt before thee; and thou shalt fear day and night, and shalt have none assurance of thy life:
67 In the morning thou shalt say, Would God it were even! and at even thou shalt say, Would God it were morning! for the fear of thine heart wherewith thou shalt fear, and for the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

68 And the LORD shall bring thee into Egypt again with ships, by the way whereof I spake unto thee, Thou shalt see it no more again: and there ye shall be sold unto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shall buy you.

Deuteronomy 29 [†]

1 [†] These are the words of the covenant, which the Lord commanded Moses to make with the children of Israel in the land of Moab, beside the covenant which he made with them in Horeb.
2 ¶ And Moses called unto all Israel, and said unto them, Ye have seen all that the Lord did before your eyes in the land of Egypt unto Pharaoh, and unto all his servants, and unto all his land;
3 [†] The great temptations which thine eyes have seen, the signs, and those great miracles:
4 [†] Yet the Lord hath not given you an heart to perceive, and eyes to see, and ears to hear, unto this day.
5 [†] And I have led you forty years in the wilderness: your clothes are not waxen old upon you, and thy shoe is not waxen old upon thy foot.
6 Ye have not eaten bread, neither have ye drunk wine or strong drink: that ye might know that I am the Lord your God.
7 And when ye came unto this place, Sihon the king of Heshbon, and Og the king of Bashan, came out against us unto battle, and we smote them:
8 And we took their land, and gave it for an inheritance unto the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, and to the half tribe of Manasseh.
9 Keep therefore the words of this covenant, and do them, that ye may prosper in all that ye do.
10 ¶ Ye stand this day all of you before the Lord your God; your captains of your tribes, your elders, and your officers, with all the men of Israel,
11 [†] Your little ones, your wives, and thy stranger that is in thy camp, from the hewer of thy wood unto the drawer of thy water:
12 That thou shouldest enter into covenant with the Lord thy God, and into his oath, which the Lord thy God maketh with thee this day:
13 That he may establish thee to day for a people unto himself, and that he may be unto thee a God, as he hath said unto thee, and as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob.
14 Neither with you only do I make this covenant and this oath;
15 But with him that standeth here with us this day before the Lord our God, and also with him that is not here with us this day:
16 (For ye know how we have dwelt in the land of Egypt; and how we came through the nations which ye passed by;
17 And ye have seen their abominations, and their idols, wood and stone, silver and gold, which were among them:)
18 [†] Lest there should be among you man, or woman, or family, or tribe, whose heart turneth away this day from the Lord our God, to go and serve the gods of these nations; lest there should be among you a root that beareth gall and wormwood;
19 [†] And it come to pass, when he heareth the words of this curse, that he bless himself in his heart, saying, I shall have peace, though I walk in the imagination of mine heart, to add drunkenness to thirst:
20 The Lord will not spare him, but then the anger of the Lord and his jealousy shall smoke against that man, and all the curses that are written in this book shall lie upon him, and the Lord shall blot out his name from under heaven.
21 And the Lord shall separate him unto evil out of all the tribes of Israel, according to all the curses of the covenant that are written in this book of the law:
22 So that the generation to come of your children that shall rise up after you, and the stranger that shall come from a far land, shall say, when they see the plagues of that land, and the sicknesses which the Lord hath laid upon it;

23 [†] And that the whole land thereof is brimstone, and salt, and burning, that it is not sown, nor beareth, nor any grass groweth therein, like the overthrow of Sodom, and Gomorrah, Admah, and Zeboim, which the LORD overthrew in his anger, and in his wrath:
24 Even all nations shall say, Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this land? what meaneth the heat of this great anger?
25 Then men shall say, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD God of their fathers, which he made with them when he brought them forth out of the land of Egypt:
26 For they went and served other gods, and worshipped them, gods whom they knew not, and whom he had not given unto them:
27 And the anger of the LORD was kindled against this land, to bring upon it all the curses that are written in this book:
28 And the LORD rooted them out of their land in anger, and in wrath, and in great indignation, and cast them into another land, as it is this day.
29 The secret things belong unto the LORD our God: but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law.

Deuteronomy 30 [†]

1 And it shall come to pass, when all these things are come upon thee, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before thee, and thou shalt call them to mind among all the nations, whither the Lord thy God hath driven thee,
2 And shalt return unto the Lord thy God, and shalt obey his voice according to all that I command thee this day, thou and thy children, with all thine heart, and with all thy soul;
3 [†] That then the Lord thy God will turn thy captivity, and have compassion upon thee, and will return and gather thee from all the nations, whither the Lord thy God hath scattered thee.
4 [†] If any of thine be driven out unto the outmost parts of heaven, from thence will the Lord thy God gather thee, and from thence will he fetch thee:
5 And the Lord thy God will bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possess it; and he will do thee good, and multiply thee above thy fathers.
6 [†] And the Lord thy God will circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seed, to love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, that thou mayest live.
7 And the Lord thy God will put all these curses upon thine enemies, and on them that hate thee, which persecuted thee.
8 And thou shalt return and obey the voice of the Lord, and do all his commandments which I command thee this day.
9 And the Lord thy God will make thee plenteous in every work of thine hand, in the fruit of thy body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy land, for good: for the Lord will again rejoice over thee for good, as he rejoiced over thy fathers:
10 If thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which are written in this book of the law, and if thou turn unto the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul.
11 ¶ For this commandment which I command thee this day, it is not hidden from thee, neither is it far off.
12 [†] It is not in heaven, that thou shouldest say, Who shall go up for us to heaven, and bring it unto us, that we may hear it, and do it?
13 Neither is it beyond the sea, that thou shouldest say, Who shall go over the sea for us, and bring it unto us, that we may hear it, and do it?
14 But the word is very nigh unto thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart, that thou mayest do it.
15 [†] ¶ See, I have set before thee this day life and good, and death and evil;
16 In that I command thee this day to love the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, and to keep his commandments and his statutes and his judgments, that thou mayest live and multiply: and the Lord thy God shall bless thee in the land whither thou goest to possess it.
17 But if thine heart turn away, so that thou wilt not hear, but shalt be drawn away, and worship other gods, and serve them;
18 [†] I denounce unto you this day, that ye shall surely perish, and that ye shall not prolong your days upon the land, whither thou passest over Jordan to go to possess it.
19 [†] I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live:
20 That thou mayest love the Lord thy God, and that thou mayest obey his voice, and that thou mayest cleave unto him: for he is thy life, and the length of thy days: that thou mayest dwell in the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give them.

Deuteronomy 31 [†]

1 And Moses went and spake these words unto all Israel.
2 [†] And he said unto them, I am an hundred and twenty years old this day; I can no more go out and come in: also the Lord hath said unto me, Thou shalt not go over this Jordan.
3 The Lord thy God, he will go over before thee, and he will destroy these nations from before thee, and thou shalt possess them: and Joshua, he shall go over before thee, as the Lord hath said.
4 And the Lord shall do unto them as he did to Sihon and to Og, kings of the Amorites, and unto the land of them, whom he destroyed.
5 And the Lord shall give them up before your face, that ye may do unto them according unto all the commandments which I have commanded you.
6 [†] Be strong and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them: for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee.
7 ¶ And Moses called unto Joshua, and said unto him in the sight of all Israel, Be strong and of a good courage: for thou must go with this people unto the land which the Lord hath sworn unto their fathers to give them; and thou shalt cause them to inherit it.
8 And the Lord, he it is that doth go before thee; he will be with thee, he will not fail thee, neither forsake thee: fear not, neither be dismayed.
9 [†] ¶ And Moses wrote this law, and delivered it unto the priests the sons of Levi, which bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and unto all the elders of Israel.
10 And Moses commanded them, saying, At the end of every seven years, in the solemnity of the year of release, in the feast of tabernacles,
11 [†] When all Israel is come to appear before the Lord thy God in the place which he shall choose, thou shalt read this law before all Israel in their hearing.
12 Gather the people together, men, and women, and children, and thy stranger that is within thy gates, that they may hear, and that they may learn, and fear the Lord your God, and observe to do all the words of this law:
13 And that their children, which have not known any thing, may hear, and learn to fear the Lord your God, as long as ye live in the land whither ye go over Jordan to possess it.
14 ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Behold, thy days approach that thou must die: call Joshua, and present yourselves in the tabernacle of the congregation, that I may give him a charge. And Moses and Joshua went, and presented themselves in the tabernacle of the congregation.
15 And the Lord appeared in the tabernacle in a pillar of a cloud: and the pillar of the cloud stood over the door of the tabernacle.
16 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Moses, Behold, thou shalt sleep with thy fathers; and this people will rise up, and go a whoring after the gods of the strangers of the land, whither they go to be among them, and will forsake me, and break my covenant which I have made with them.
17 Then my anger shall be kindled against them in that day, and I will forsake them, and I will hide my face from them, and they shall be devoured, and many evils and troubles shall befall them; so that they will say in that day, Are not these evils come upon us, because our God is not among us?
18 And I will surely hide my face in that day for all the evils which they shall have wrought, in that they are turned unto other gods.
19 Now therefore write ye this song for you, and teach it the children of Israel: put it in their mouths, that this song may be a witness for me against the children of Israel.
20 [†] For when I shall have brought them into the land which I sware unto their fathers, that floweth with milk and honey; and they shall have eaten and filled themselves, and waxen fat; then will they turn unto other gods, and serve them, and provoke me, and break my covenant.

21 [†] And it shall come to pass, when many evils and troubles are befallen them, that this song shall testify against them as a witness; for it shall not be forgotten out of the mouths of their seed: for I know their imagination which they go about, even now, before I have brought them into the land which I sware.
22 ¶ Moses therefore wrote this song the same day, and taught it the children of Israel.
23 And he gave Joshua the son of Nun a charge, and said, Be strong and of a good courage: for thou shalt bring the children of Israel into the land which I sware unto them: and I will be with thee.
24 ¶ And it came to pass, when Moses had made an end of writing the words of this law in a book, until they were finished,
25 That Moses commanded the Levites, which bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, saying,
26 [†] Take this book of the law, and put it in the side of the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God, that it may be there for a witness against thee.
27 For I know thy rebellion, and thy stiff neck: behold, while I am yet alive with you this day, ye have been rebellious against the LORD; and how much more after my death?
28 ¶ Gather unto me all the elders of your tribes, and your officers, that I may speak these words in their ears, and call heaven and earth to record against them.
29 For I know that after my death ye will utterly corrupt yourselves, and turn aside from the way which I have commanded you; and evil will befall you in the latter days; because ye will do evil in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger through the work of your hands.
30 And Moses spake in the ears of all the congregation of Israel the words of this song, until they were ended.

Deuteronomy 32 [†]

1 [†] Give ear, O ye heavens, and I will speak; and hear, O earth, the words of my mouth.
2 [†] My doctrine shall drop as the rain, my speech shall distil as the dew, as the small rain upon the tender herb, and as the showers upon the grass:
3 [†] Because I will publish the name of the Lord: ascribe ye greatness unto our God.
4 [†] He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he.
5 [†] They have corrupted themselves, their spot is not the spot of his children: they are a perverse and crooked generation.
6 [†] Do ye thus requite the Lord, O foolish people and unwise? is not he thy father that hath bought thee? hath he not made thee, and established thee?
7 ¶ Remember the days of old, consider the years of many generations: ask thy father, and he will shew thee; thy elders, and they will tell thee.
8 [†] When the most High divided to the nations their inheritance, when he separated the sons of Adam, he set the bounds of the people according to the number of the children of Israel.
9 For the Lord's portion is his people; Jacob is the lot of his inheritance.
10 [†] He found him in a desert land, and in the waste howling wilderness; he led him about, he instructed him, he kept him as the apple of his eye.
11 As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings:
12 [†] So the Lord alone did lead him, and there was no strange god with him.
13 He made him ride on the high places of the earth, that he might eat the increase of the fields; and he made him to suck honey out of the rock, and oil out of the flinty rock;
14 [†] Butter of kine, and milk of sheep, with fat of lambs, and rams of the breed of Bashan, and goats, with the fat of kidneys of wheat; and thou didst drink the pure blood of the grape.
15 [†] ¶ But Jeshurun waxed fat, and kicked: thou art waxen fat, thou art grown thick, thou art covered with fatness; then he forsook God which made him, and lightly esteemed the Rock of his salvation.
16 They provoked him to jealousy with strange gods, with abominations provoked they him to anger.
17 [†] They sacrificed unto devils, not to God; to gods whom they knew not, to new gods that came newly up, whom your fathers feared not.
18 Of the Rock that begat thee thou art unmindful, and hast forgotten God that formed thee.
19 And when the Lord saw it, he abhorred them, because of the provoking of his sons, and of his daughters.
20 [†] And he said, I will hide my face from them, I will see what their end shall be: for they are a very froward generation, children in whom is no faith.
21 [†] They have moved me to jealousy with that which is not God; they have provoked me to anger with their vanities: and I will move them to jealousy with those which are not a people; I will provoke them to anger with a foolish nation.
22 [†] For a fire is kindled in mine anger, and shall burn unto the lowest hell, and shall consume the earth with her increase, and set on fire the foundations of the mountains.
23 [†] I will heap mischiefs upon them; I will spend mine arrows upon them.
24 [†] They shall be burnt with hunger, and devoured with burning heat, and with bitter destruction: I will also send the teeth of beasts upon them, with the poison of serpents of the dust.
25 [†] The sword without, and terror within, shall destroy both the young man and the virgin, the suckling also with the man of gray hairs.

26 I said, I would scatter them into corners, I would make the remembrance of them to cease from among men:
27 Were it not that I feared the wrath of the enemy, lest their adversaries should behave themselves strangely, and lest they should say, Our hand is high, and the LORD hath not done all this.
28 For they are a nation void of counsel, neither is there any understanding in them.
29 O that they were wise, that they understood this, that they would consider their latter end!
30 How should one chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight, except their Rock had sold them, and the LORD had shut them up?
31 For their rock is not as our Rock, even our enemies themselves being judges.
32 For their vine is of the vine of Sodom, and of the fields of Gomorrah: their grapes are grapes of gall, their clusters are bitter:
33 [†] Their wine is the poison of dragons, and the cruel venom of asps.
34 Is not this laid up in store with me, and sealed up among my treasures?
35 To me belongeth vengeance, and recompence; their foot shall slide in due time: for the day of their calamity is at hand, and the things that shall come upon them make haste.
36 [†] For the LORD shall judge his people, and repent himself for his servants, when he seeth that their power is gone, and there is none shut up, or left.
37 And he shall say, Where are their gods, their rock in whom they trusted,
38 Which did eat the fat of their sacrifices, and drank the wine of their drink offerings? let them rise up and help you, and be your protection.
39 See now that I, even I, am he, and there is no god with me: I kill, and I make alive; I wound, and I heal: neither is there any that can deliver out of my hand.
40 For I lift up my hand to heaven, and say, I live for ever.
41 [†] If I whet my glittering sword, and mine hand take hold on judgment; I will render vengeance to mine enemies, and will reward them that hate me.
42 I will make mine arrows drunk with blood, and my sword shall devour flesh; and that with the blood of the slain and of the captives, from the beginning of revenges upon the enemy.
43 Rejoice, O ye nations, with his people: for he will avenge the blood of his servants, and will render vengeance to his adversaries, and will be merciful unto his land, and to his people.
44 [†] ¶ And Moses came and spake all the words of this song in the ears of the people, he, and Hoshea the son of Nun.
45 And Moses made an end of speaking all these words to all Israel:
46 And he said unto them, Set your hearts unto all the words which I testify among you this day, which ye shall command your children to observe to do, all the words of this law.
47 For it is not a vain thing for you; because it is your life: and through this thing ye shall prolong your days in the land, whither ye go over Jordan to possess it.
48 And the LORD spake unto Moses that selfsame day, saying,
49 Get thee up into this mountain Abarim, unto mount Nebo, which is in the land of Moab, that is over against Jericho; and behold the land of Canaan, which I give unto the children of Israel for a possession:
50 And die in the mount whither thou goest up, and be gathered unto thy people; as Aaron thy brother died in mount Hor, and was gathered unto his people:
51 [†] Because ye trespassed against me among the children of Israel at the waters of Meribah-Kadesh, in the wilderness of Zin; because ye sanctified me not in the midst of the children of Israel.
52 Yet thou shalt see the land before thee; but thou shalt not go thither unto the land which I give the children of Israel.

Deuteronomy 33 [†]

1 [†] And this is the blessing, wherewith Moses the man of God blessed the children of Israel before his death.
2 [†] And he said, The LORD came from Sinai, and rose up from Seir unto them; he shined forth from mount Paran, and he came with ten thousands of saints: from his right hand went a fiery law for them.
3 Yea, he loved the people; all his saints are in thy hand: and they sat down at thy feet; every one shall receive of thy words.
4 Moses commanded us a law, even the inheritance of the congregation of Jacob.
5 [†] And he was king in Jeshurun, when the heads of the people and the tribes of Israel were gathered together.
6 ¶ Let Reuben live, and not die; and let not his men be few.
7 ¶ And this is the blessing of Judah: and he said, Hear, LORD, the voice of Judah, and bring him unto his people: let his hands be sufficient for him; and be thou an help to him from his enemies.
8 [†] ¶ And of Levi he said, Let thy Thummim and thy Urim be with thy holy one, whom thou didst prove at Massah, and with whom thou didst strive at the waters of Meribah;
9 [†] Who said unto his father and to his mother, I have not seen him; neither did he acknowledge his brethren, nor knew his own children: for they have observed thy word, and kept thy covenant.
10 They shall teach Jacob thy judgments, and Israel thy law: they shall put incense before thee, and whole burnt sacrifice upon thine altar.
11 [†] Bless, LORD, his substance, and accept the work of his hands: smite through the loins of them that rise against him, and of them that hate him, that they rise not again.
12 [†] ¶ And of Benjamin he said, The beloved of the LORD shall dwell in safety by him; and the LORD shall cover him all the day long, and he shall dwell between his shoulders.
13 [†] ¶ And of Joseph he said, Blessed of the LORD be his land, for the precious things of heaven, for the dew, and for the deep that coucheth beneath,
14 And for the precious fruits brought forth by the sun, and for the precious things put forth by the moon,
15 And for the chief things of the ancient mountains, and for the precious things of the lasting hills,
16 [†] And for the precious things of the earth and fulness thereof, and for the good will of him that dwelt in the bush: let the blessing come upon the head of Joseph, and upon the top of the head of him that was separated from his brethren.
17 [†] His glory is like the firstling of his bullock, and his horns are like the horns of unicorns: with them he shall push the people together to the ends of the earth: and they are the ten thousands of Ephraim, and they are the thousands of Manasseh.
18 ¶ And of Zebulun he said, Rejoice, Zebulun, in thy going out; and, Issachar, in thy tents.
19 [†] They shall call the people unto the mountain; there they shall offer sacrifices of righteousness: for they shall suck of the abundance of the seas, and of treasures hid in the sand.
20 ¶ And of Gad he said, Blessed be he that enlargeth Gad: he dwelleth as a lion, and teareth the arm with the crown of the head.
21 And he provided the first part for himself, because there, in a portion of the lawgiver, was he seated; and he came with the heads of the people, he executed the justice of the LORD, and his judgments with Israel.
22 [†] ¶ And of Dan he said, Dan is a lion's whelp: he shall leap from Bashan.
23 ¶ And of Naphtali he said, O Naphtali, satisfied with favour, and full with the blessing of the LORD: possess thou the west and the south.

24 [†] ¶ And of Asher he said, Let Asher be blessed with children; let him be acceptable to his brethren, and let him dip his foot in oil.
25 Thy shoes shall be iron and brass; and as thy days, so shall thy strength be.
26 ¶ There is none like unto the God of Jeshurun, who rideth upon the heaven in thy help, and in his excellency on the sky.
27 The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms: and he shall thrust out the enemy from before thee; and shall say, Destroy them.
28 Israel then shall dwell in safety alone: the fountain of Jacob shall be upon a land of corn and wine; also his heavens shall drop down dew.
29 Happy art thou, O Israel: who is like unto thee, O people saved by the LORD, the shield of thy help, and who is the sword of thy excellency! and thine enemies shall be found liars unto thee; and thou shalt tread upon their high places.

Deuteronomy 34 [†]

1 [†] And Moses went up from the plains of Moab unto the mountain of Nebo, to the top of Pisgah, that is over against Jericho. And the Lord shewed him all the land of Gilead, unto Dan,
2 And all Naphtali, and the land of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and all the land of Judah, unto the utmost sea,
3 And the south, and the plain of the valley of Jericho, the city of palm trees, unto Zoar.
4 And the Lord said unto him, This is the land which I sware unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, saying, I will give it unto thy seed: I have caused thee to see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not go over thither.
5 [†] ¶ So Moses the servant of the Lord died there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the Lord.
6 [†] And he buried him in a valley in the land of Moab, over against Beth-peor: but no man knoweth of his sepulchre unto this day.
7 ¶ And Moses was an hundred and twenty years old when he died: his eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated.
8 ¶ And the children of Israel wept for Moses in the plains of Moab thirty days: so the days of weeping and mourning for Moses were ended.
9 ¶ And Joshua the son of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdom; for Moses had laid his hands upon him: and the children of Israel hearkened unto him, and did as the Lord commanded Moses.
10 [†] ¶ And there arose not a prophet since in Israel like unto Moses, whom the Lord knew face to face,
11 In all the signs and the wonders, which the Lord sent him to do in the land of Egypt to Pharaoh, and to all his servants, and to all his land,
12 And in all that mighty hand, and in all the great terror which Moses shewed in the sight of all Israel.

NOTES ON THE BOOK OF

DEUTERONOMY

INTRODUCTION (1:1–5)

Chapter 1: Moses recounts God's guidance and Israel's rebellion and defeat when they were first to have entered Canaan.

1:1 All Israel appears fourteen times in Deuteronomy, signifying Israel's unity. on this side of Jordan. East side, used seven times. the plain over against the Red sea. The Syrian-African Rift, a 4,500-mile geologic fault, stretches from the Lebanon Mountains into southeast Africa. It cradles the Sea of Galilee, Jordan River, Dead Sea, Gulf of Aqaba, and "way of the Red sea" (v. 40). This desert route connected sea and gulf. Israel followed it from Aqaba (Red Sea) to the northeast quadrant of the Dead Sea, encamping in Moab, named for Lot's descendants (Gen. 19:37). Paran, and Tophel, and Laban, and Hazeroth. The exact location of these places is unknown.

1:2 Horeb. Sinai. From Horeb to Kadesh-barnea was eleven days' journey, possibly a mode of expressing distance rather than actual time. The way of mount Seir was an ancient travel route, roughly 175 miles.

1:3 fortieth year. Following the exodus, likely 1406 BC. Deuteronomy is written as the Israelites prepare to enter into the Promised Land.

1:4 Heshbon is a city less than twenty miles northeast of the Dead Sea. Bashan is north of Heshbon, east and south of the Sea of Galilee. Victory over these kings was an oft-repeated reminder of God's care (2:24—3:11; 3:1–13; Josh. 2:10; 9:10; Pss. 135–136).

1:5 declare. Elucidate or expound. This was Moses' final sermon.

PREPARATORY ADDRESS (1:6—4:43)

From Horeb to Kadesh (1:6–46)

1:6 Biblical writers, conscious of divine inspiration, affirm that they spoke God's Word (cf. 2 Peter 1:21).

1:7 nigh. Near. vale. Valley.

1:8 Behold. Look! I have set the land before you. A challenge to catch the vision (v. 21). This is not merely national expansion but divine action in accordance with God's covenant to Abraham and his descendants.

1:9–18 Enlarged population necessitated multi-level government, which Moses established on the counsel of Jethro, his father-in-law (Ex. 18:24–26).

1:9 bear. Literally, "to lift" or "to carry." Moses was unable to care for the people by himself.

1:10 as the stars of heaven for multitude. A great multitude as God had promised (Gen. 15:5; 22:17).

1:12 cumbrance. Burden or cares.

1:16 causes. The Hebrew and context likely means "the conflicts" or "issues" between brothers. judge righteously. Judges must be objective, resisting convenience, self-gain, and impulse. the stranger. A foreigner.

1:17 respect. Literally, “to regard faces.” Not referring to honor but to unjust discrimination. small as well as the great. Rich and poor were to be treated equally. There was to be no favoritism. be afraid of the face of man. An idiom meaning “to fear the thoughts or attitudes of men.” judgment is God’s. Justice originates and is sustained only by His sovereign rule (Ps. 98:8–9).

1:19 great and terrible wilderness. A 100-mile, waterless plateau through which Israel passed. Kadesh-barnea. An oasis with many springs sixty miles southwest of the Dead Sea.

1:20–21 God gave the land, yet Israel had to take possession. Divine sovereignty does not diminish human responsibility.

1:25–27 Note the contradiction of human wisdom. Israel acknowledged it as the land which the LORD our GOD doth give us but would not go up. Murmuring and rebellion often accompany one another. Israel viewed blessings (i.e., deliverance from Egypt) as divine disfavor—the LORD hated us.

1:28 Whither. Where.

1:34 wroth. Angry.

1:38 Joshua is repeatedly mentioned by Moses, who is passing the baton to his successor (3:21,28; 31:3,7,14,23; 34:9).

1:39 Unbelief says our little ones . . . should be a prey (spoil or booty). God says, they shall go in thither, and unto them will I give it, and they shall possess it.

1:40 The way of the Red sea is the Reed Sea Road, east of Kadesh-barnea connecting north Aqaba Gulf and the Dead Sea.

1:41 girded. Put on or fastened.

1:42 I am not among you. Israel’s first priority was to be the divine presence (Judg. 16:20). They were not to presume upon God’s presence. smitten. Killed or destroyed by the enemies.

1:45 hearken. Listen to.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 1

1. God led Israel “as a man doth bare [carry] his son” (v. 31). This picture of God’s loving care should inspire love and trust for Him. “He shall feed his flock like a shepherd: he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young” (Isa. 40:11). Our Good Shepherd seeks the lost sheep, “and when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing” (Luke 15:4–6).
2. God set the land before Israel and instructed her to take it (1:21), but Israel hesitated, yielded to human wisdom (v. 22), then succumbed to human fear (vv. 26,27) and unbelief (v. 32), resulting in loss of blessing (vv. 34–39), rebellion (vv. 26,40–43), defeat (v. 44), and alienation from God (v. 45). God’s people must take Him at His Word (Prov. 3:5). Caleb “wholly followed the LORD” (Deut. 1:36). He and Joshua, a tiny minority, entered Canaan. Obedience may be a lonely, bumpy road, but its travelers always reach their destination. Why is it necessary to trust in God’s wisdom if we will obey Him over the long term?

From Kadesh to Conquest (2:1—3:29)

Chapter 2: Moses recounts Israel’s journey in the wilderness, the peoples they encountered, and their responses.

2:1–8 From Kadesh-barnea God led Israel southeast, away from Canaan, toward the Gulf of Aqaba, then northward through Mt. Seir, a mountain range southeast of the Dead Sea (v. 5). God gave this to Edom, Esau's descendants (Gen. 36:1–8), exhibiting divine sovereignty over lands and peoples.

2:1,3 compassed. Surrounded.

2:5 Meddle. Provoke or stir up strife.

2:8 Elath and Ezion-gaber were at the northern tip of Aqaba Gulf. Israel departed northward, following the Way of the Wilderness of Moab along the eastern flank of Edom.

2:9–13 Moab and Ar were descendants of Lot (Gen. 19:33–38). God gave them land east of the Dead Sea, where they displaced the Emims, just as Esau's descendants had displaced the Horims. Emims were compared to the Anakims, considered to be giants by Israel (Num. 13:28–33).

2:9 Distress. Harass. contend. Provoke (cf. v. 5).

2:12 succeeded. Dispossessed or conquered. stead. In place of.

2:14–18 Zered's location is unknown, but it appears to have flowed westward into the southern tip of the Dead Sea and comprised the southern boundary of Moab. After thirty-eight years, most who sinned at Kadesh-barnea were dead. They are called men of war, probably sarcastically. God led Israel across Zered and into Moab, where Deuteronomy was given.

2:19–23 the children of Ammon. Lot's descendants (Gen. 19:33–38). God gave them land occupied by the giant Anakims whom He destroyed, just as He destroyed the Horims so that Esau's descendants could possess their land (vv. 21–22).

2:24–37 River Arnon, located at the eastern midpoint of the Dead Sea, marked the entrance into Ammonite territory. God made surrounding nations fear Israel by rousing King Sihon of Heshbon against Israel and defeating him. This conquest continued northward to Gilead, southeast of the Sea of Galilee, where Israel subdued every city except those of the Ammonites.

2:35 prey. Plunder.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 2

1. Moses told Israel that God "knoweth thy walking through this great wilderness" (v. 7). God knew their experience, for He was with them in the cloud and fire (Ex. 40:34–38). It is comforting to know that "the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us" (John 1:14); that Christ was made like His people (Rom. 8:3; Heb. 2:17) to experience the believer's plight in this sin-cursed wilderness. "For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted" (Heb. 2:18). Christian, how can this comfort you, to know that the Lord understands your experience and has suffered Himself?
2. "For indeed the hand of the LORD was against them, to destroy them from among the host, until they were consumed" (2:15). Disobedience wreaks horrible consequences. Even among God's people, those who rebelled made themselves God's enemies. They became the focus of God's progressive elimination, until all were gone.

Chapter 3: Moses recounts Israel's progress toward possessing Canaan, and conquest of land east of the Jordan River.

3:1 Bashan was an area southeast of the Sea of Galilee, north of the point where Israel would cross the Jordan into Canaan.

3:4 Argob was a region within Bashan (1 Kings 4:13) and may refer to a confederation of cities. The region appears to have been fertile, more populated than it is today, and prosperous, for sixty (threescore) cities were captured by Israel (Amos 4:1).

3:5 fenced. Literally, "inaccessible" or "unassailable."

3:9 Mt. Hermon is a group of mountains with three summits, the highest measuring 9,232 feet, northeast of the Sea of Galilee and forming natural boundaries between nations, each of which called it a different name (4:48).

3:10 Edrei was Og's home (1:4; 3:10).

3:11 bedstead. Couch or sarcophagus. Its length (thirteen feet) suggests Og's immense stature. Rabbath (modern Amman, Jordan) was inhabited by descendants of Lot's son Ben-ammi (Gen. 19:38), from which Amman gets its name.

3:12–20 Land east of the Jordan River was divided among Reuben, Gad, and Manasseh. Their separation from other tribes by the Jordan resulted in misunderstandings later on (Josh. 1:10–16; 22:1–34). Moses commanded them to assist those tribes in possessing lands west of the Jordan (Deut. 3:20).

3:14 coasts. Regions. Bashan-havoth-jair. Literally, "Bashan the villages of Jair," who was likely a son of Manasseh.

3:18 meet for the war. Literally, "all sons of army," referring to those prepared to fight.

3:19 much cattle. Reuben, Gad, and Manasseh were prosperous. In a nomadic, noncommercial society, livestock constitute wealth. Moses includes this reminder of God's blessing, as he does when describing Israel's conquests (2:35; 3:7).

3:23 besought. Pleaded.

3:27 Pisgah. Slope where plateau gives way to mountain. Some scholars believe it is a mountain range of which Nebo is the summit. From Nebo Moses viewed the Promised Land, then died (32:49–51; 34:1–6).

3:29 abode. Dwelt.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 3

1. God gave to Israel "all Bashan, which was called the land of giants" (v. 13). God would have His people remember the magnitude of His power to save. They went against giants and prevailed. Though God may lead His people into circumstances that appear insurmountable, they are attainable when undertaken with God's help (Eph. 6:12–17).
2. For forty years Moses led Israel through desolate wilderness, bringing them to the edge of Canaan. But one reason Moses himself could not enter was because the people had rebelled in unbelief at Kadesh-barnea (v. 26). Although Moses speaks to the children of those who rebelled, he reminds them of the price he is paying for their parents' sin. He speaks as if they and their parents are one, stressing again the unity of Israel. It is important to remember that our unbelief and rebellion affect others (1:37; 4:21). How have your sins hurt others?

Chapter 4: Moses exhorts Israel to heed God's law, warns against disobedience, promises restoration upon repentance, and recalls God's greatness and love evidenced in the cities of refuge and lands given to Israel.

Exhortation to Heed God's Law (4:1–40)

4:2 Moses equated the word which I command you with the commandments of the LORD your GOD and affirmed its sufficiency. Ye shall not add unto the word. Biblical writers were conscious of its inspiration (2 Tim. 3:16; 2 Peter 1:21). The sufficiency of Scripture for our spiritual instruction is its final affirmation and warning (Rev. 22:18–19). diminish ought. Take away.

4:3 Baal-peor was a horrible memory. Israel's immoral, idolatrous unions with Moabites resulted in judgment and 24,000 deaths (Num. 24).

4:4 cleave. Hold fast.

4:6–8 Obedience to God's law is your wisdom and your understanding. Fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom and of understanding (Ps. 111:10; Prov. 1:7; 9:10; 15:33).

4:9 keep thy soul. Guard yourself. thy sons, and thy sons' sons. Great emphasis is placed upon multi-generational biblical instruction (6:7; 11:19).

4:12 similitude. Likeness or form.

4:13 ten commandments. Literally, "ten words," hence, the designation "Decalogue."

4:15–19 Graven images are prohibited because ye saw no manner of similitude on the day that the LORD spake unto you. Depiction of the invisible God (Col. 1:15; 1 Tim. 1:17) is a contradiction, prohibited as the very core of idolatry (John 4:24).

4:15 heed. Carefully keep watch over.

4:16 likeness. The form.

4:17 winged fowl. Birds.

4:20,24 The iron furnace represented the hottest fire and described Israel's suffering in Egypt. Yet it had not consumed Israel. God is a consuming fire, a jealous God (5:9; 6:15; 29:20; 32:16,21). A husband is jealous for his wife; so God's love for His people exhibits in His zeal to possess them exclusively.

4:22 I must die. For Moses' sin of striking the rock he was barred from entering into the Promised Land (Num. 20).

4:23 graven image. Idol.

4:27 scatter you. Living in the land was conditioned on obedience and covenant faithfulness since rest in the land was symbolic of enjoying God's presence. heathen. Literally, "nations."

4:34 hath God. The KJV translates the Hebrew here as referring to Israel's God, which shows that the Lord is unlike any other god. Some translations take God here as a reference to the pagan gods (cf. v. 28) and their non-covenantal nature. assayed. Tested, tried, or proved.

4:35 True religion is monotheistic: there is only one God (6:4; Mark 12:32).

4:37–38 God's love for Israel was exclusive and effectual, exhibited in her deliverance from Egypt and entrance into Canaan (6:10–11).

Cities of Refuge East of Jordan (4:41–43)

4:41–43 Cities of refuge (Num. 35; Deut. 19:1–13).

4:41 severed. Separated or divided. sunrising. To the east.

4:42 unawares. In ignorance or unknowingly.

EXPOUNDING GOD'S LAW (4:44—26:19)

Introductory Explanation (4:44–49)

4:44–45 this is the law . . . These are the testimonies. This introduces the restatement and exposition of the law that will continue through ch. 26.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 4

1. God's love is inseparable from His omnipotence. It is therefore effective in all of His purposes. His love for Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (Mal. 1:1–4; Rom. 9:10–13) brought Israel into Canaan (Deut. 4:37) and will bring all of His elect to glorification. Believers are sons of God because the Father bestowed His love upon them (1 John 3:1–2). He has loved believers with an everlasting love (Jer. 31:3). Why are both God's love and His power necessary for the hope of believers to be secure?
2. If a stranger who never saw your father purported to draw a picture of him, you might be offended. Should not this be our response when imagination produces drawings of unseen persons of the godhead? Such misrepresentation of God was a reason graven images were prohibited. Revelation, not imagination, is the only legitimate portrait of God. Ultimately, the only legitimate image or manifestation of God is Jesus Christ, the eternal Son of God (Heb. 1:3).

Commandments and Related Exhortations (5:1—11:32)

Chapter 5: God's law is a necessary foundation to taking possession of Canaan

The Ten Commandments (5:1–33)

5:3 our fathers. The patriarchs, the preceding generations. but with us. Many hearing this were not at Sinai but are one with their fathers who were.

5:4 Face to face is not to be taken literally (4:12; cf. John 1:18; 1 John 4:12) but is a Hebrew idiom meaning "personally" or "directly."

5:5 stood between. Moses interceded for the people.

5:6–21 See the Ten Commandments notes at Ex. 20:1–17; Rom. 13:9.

5:6 God redeemed Israel from Pharaoh's bondage that He might rule them in love. His deliverance is foundational to His rule. God's law expressed how they were to live within a covenant relationship. Its obligations, unlike Pharaoh's, were for their good (vv. 16,29,33). Significantly, the commandments were not in order for redemption but because of redemption.

5:7 before me. The sin of having any other god. God demands total allegiance.

5:8 God is to be represented in word only; thus the preeminence of God's Word must be embraced (4:15–19).

5:9–10 Sin affects generations yet unborn. Visiting has the idea of inspecting. God will examine future generations regarding the sins of past generations. Conversely, obedience reaps multi-generational covenantal mercy.

5:11 God's name, an expression of His nature, is not to be used carelessly (in vain). God will not be manipulated by invoking His name for useless and selfish purposes.

5:12–15 On the seventh day God rested (Gen. 2:1–3). Man, made in God's image, was to rest (Mark 2:27). Whereas in Ex. 20, keeping the Sabbath was an imitation of God, Moses here connects it to the remembrance of redemption. Rest and worship go together.

5:12 sanctify. To set apart. The Sabbath was to be distinct from other days.

5:15 servant. Slave.

5:16 Children who dishonor parents transgress the principles of their preservation (v. 9) and would thus be short-lived in the land of promise (Matt. 15:4; Eph. 6:1–3).

5:17 On murder, see Gen. 9:6; Matt. 5:21–26; 1 John 3:15.

5:18 On adultery, see Gen. 2:24; Matt. 5:27–32.

5:20 false witness. Lie.

5:22 assembly. Congregation or localized gathering.

5:27 God's august majesty calls for obedience, though the people were terrified to hear God's voice.

5:32 right hand or to the left. Denotes a close watching with no slight straying.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 5

1. At Mt. Sinai the people could not bear the terrifying manifestation of God. They needed a mediator. God provided in Moses a foreshadowing of Christ, who was given to be the one Mediator between God and men (1 Tim. 2:5). He is our only access unto God (John 14:6), by whom we come to God with confidence (Heb. 4:14–16).
2. Israel was awestruck in God's presence. So are the seraphim and inspired prophets (Isa. 6:1–5). Worship should manifest this sense of wonder and awe. It is not a venue for entertainment or novelties, but a time when the realization of our inadequacy compels us to desire the one Mediator, Jesus Christ, and to offer Him humble adoration.
3. God's law is given to aid, not to burden. Man's religion lays burdens upon people, but God's laws, given by grace, are given "that it may be well with you" (v. 33). What are some ways that keeping the Ten Commandments brings blessing to a person's life?

Chapter 6: Moses proclaims the "great commandment" and affirms the need to teach future generations to keep God's law continually in view and to remember the deliverance represented by the law of God.

Love God and Remember His Commandments (6:1–25)

6:1 The commandments (Hebrew is singular) is the whole law. The statutes and the judgments are specific elements.

6:2 Prolonged days suggests long life and long occupancy in the land.

6:3 mightily. Greatly.

6:4–5 The Shema (from the Hebrew word for hear) is the confession of monotheism affirmed by Christ as the greatest commandment (Matt. 22:36–40), showing that love is the heart of the law. This declares the foundation of true religion.

6:7–9 The law was acknowledged in every facet of life, promoting continual meditation (Ps. 1:2) and God-consciousness.

6:8 sign . . . frontlets. These later became little leather boxes tied to both the forearm and forehead. They were called "tefillin" or "phylacteries" and held sections of the law (Ex. 13:1–10,11–16). Sadly, they were reduced to outward gestures devoid of spiritual experience. Wearing the letter of law replaced living in the spirit of law.

6:13 To swear by his name makes God the guarantor of our truthfulness. It is not taking His name in vain (5:11) unless one's words are false or meaningless, which Christ rebuked (Matt. 5:34–36; 23:16–22). serve him. Worship Him alone (Matt. 4:10).

6:16 not tempt the LORD. Test Him by demanding that He do your will (Matt. 4:7). Massah means "testing" and is the place where Israel murmured for water (Ex. 17:1–7).

6:17 Diligence is commanded in spiritual matters (Ex. 15:26; Deut. 4:9; 6:5,7,17; Heb. 11:6; 2 Peter 1:5–10).

6:20–25 God's liberating law replaced Pharaoh's enslavement and would make Israel unique among nations.

6:22 sore. Very severe.

6:25 our righteousness. An approximate righteousness that relates to a man's attitude toward God's law. This does not suggest that justification is by keeping the law; rather, it simply says that obeying God is the right thing to do.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 6

1. We need continual God-consciousness. Israel was commanded to talk of God's laws, to bind them to their hands and to write them upon their houses (Ex. 13:9,16; Deut. 6:7–10; 11:18–21). In Christ's day this was observed, yet without conscience toward God (Matt. 23:1–5). Righteous people meditate on God's law day and night (Ps. 1:2; 119:97–99). They "pray without ceasing" (1 Thess. 5:17). Their life is a growing exercise in God-consciousness.
2. God's law is never a burden but a delight for those who love God (Pss. 1:2; 119:70; 1 John 5:3). This was Christ's testimony through the psalmist (Ps. 40:8; Heb. 10:5–7), when He was made "under the law" (Gal. 4:4–5) and did only those things that pleased the Father (John 8:29). He came to fulfill it (Matt. 5:17) because it was delightful to Him. How can God's people cultivate their delight in the written Word and communion with the living Word, Jesus Christ?
3. This chapter is a great summary of the theme of total devotion to God. The imperative of devotion is to love God completely (v. 5). The logic of devotion is based on who God is (the one true God, v. 4) and what God has done in redeeming His people (vv. 12,20–23). The performance of devotion includes fearing God (vv. 2,13,24), serving Him (v. 13), obeying Him (vv. 6,17,25), and remembering Him (vv. 7–9,12).

Chapter 7: God's love is exhibited in His giving the land to His people, who were to abhor sin and love Him exclusively.

Separation from Idolators, God's Blessing (7:1–26)

7:1 nations. Canaan consisted of independent city states. Each nation typically included a fortified city and its surrounding area. Combined, they were larger and stronger than Israel, but would be given by God to her (Gen. 15:20; Ex. 3:8).

7:2–6 Destruction of these nations would protect Israel from idolatry. Commingling and marriage often lead one to idolatry. See Solomon's tragic example (1 Kings 11:1–8).

7:5 groves. Poles erected in worship of Asherah, a Canaanite goddess (12:3; Judg. 6:25).

7:6–11 God's sovereign electing love makes a holy people (Jer. 31:3; Rom. 5:7; Eph. 1:4). The wonders wrought for Israel exhibit the extremes by which God powerfully works in His love (Rom. 8:28–39).

7:8–13 See Gen. 15:1.

7:12 keep unto thee. God will be faithful.

7:13 kine. Cattle.

7:15 evil diseases. Perhaps referring to elephantiasis and boils. Israel would be spared, but not her enemies (28:27,60).

7:16 shalt consume. See Num. 14:9.

7:19 temptations. The Hebrew literally means "trials" (6:16).

7:20 hornet. Interpreters differ as to whether this refers to a literal hornet or is a figurative designation of some menace that will be used to rout the enemy.

7:25 No reminder of idols was to be kept; they were to be wholly separated (1 John 2:15–16).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 7

1. God's zeal for holiness compels us to forsake the ways of wicked people. We are not to be fascinated by their gods. Israel was to destroy images, not to keep gold or silver parts of an idol. These would have been valuable in Israel's economy, but their association with idols was repugnant to God, so they were to be destroyed. We must recognize God's abhorrence of things that seduce man's devotion, and hate the things God hates.
2. God's delivering over the Canaanites and Israel's smiting the Canaanites (v. 2; 9:3) illustrate what happens in sanctification. God assured the victory, but Israel had to fight. Similarly, on the one hand, sin has been thoroughly defeated by Christ, who crushed the serpent's head. By faith we live in the reality of Christ's victory by not allowing sin to have dominion over us (Rom. 6:1–14). What sins do you need to conquer? How must you look to Christ for victory? How must you fight?
3. God's sovereign dominion extends to every creature. Even insects serve His kingdom. It is edifying to contemplate those instances where He utilized animals for His purposes (Ex. 8; 10; Num. 21:5–9; 22:21–31; 1 Sam. 6:7–14; 1 Kings 17:2–7; Dan. 6:16–24; Jonah 1–2; Luke 5:1–11; John 21:5–11).

Exhortations, Blessings, and Curses (8:1—11:32)

Chapter 8: God tested Israel in the wilderness to reveal the thoughts and intents of their hearts.

8:1–5 The title Lord thy God occurs ten times in this chapter (including your God, v. 20). God's personal nature and covenantal relationship with His people are emphasized.

8:3 suffered thee to hunger. God let them be hungry. not live by bread alone. Trusting and obeying God are more important than food (Matt. 4:4; John 4:34).

8:4 waxed. Became.

8:5 chasteneth. Instructs, warns, or disciplines.

8:6 Because God delivered them and preserved them, they must keep His commandments.

8:14 Prosperity often leads to neglecting God.

8:19 Continuation of blessing depends on obedience.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 8

1. "They that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts" (1 Tim. 6:9). God's goodness to Israel included abundance (Deut. 8:7–10). But blessings can be perverted in curses by forgetting that they are God-given (v. 17). Thus, the church of Laodicea said, "I am rich," ignorant that it was "wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked"

(Rev. 3:17). How can you guard your heart from this?
2. God does not always take His people on an easy path. He led Israel through the wilderness. Serpents and scorpions assaulted; drought and hunger oppressed. But trials were for their good, to humble them and to expose what was in their hearts. God purposes all things to conform His people to the image of His Son (Rom. 8:28–29). Christ Himself faced the most severe trials of all, and overcame them (Matt. 4:1–11; Heb. 5:7–9).

Chapter 9: Moses encourages, warns, and recites the record of Israel's wickedness and his intercession.

9:4–5 The destruction of Israel's enemies was not arbitrary injustice.

9:6 stiffnecked. Stubborn, disobedient (Prov. 29:1).

9:9,18,25 Repeatedly. Moses spent forty days and forty nights in communion with God.

9:9 abode. Dwelt or remained.

9:10 finger of God. Revelation immediately from God (Dan. 5:5; John 8:8).

9:14 See Num. 12:3.

9:19 wroth. Angry.

9:22–23 Taberah relates to the burning of God's wrath (Num. 11:1–3). Massah. See 6:16; Ex. 17:7. Kibroth-hattaavah. Literally, "graves of lust," a place where many died from a plague after grumbling for meat (Num. 11:31–35). Kadesh-barnea. Where Israel refused to enter Canaan (Num. 13–14).

9:26–28 Moses' prayer focused upon God's works recounted throughout this section. He expresses his primary concern for God's glory and God's reputation among the heathen.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 9

1. Israel "turned aside quickly out of the way" (v. 16). How quickly we are ensnared in sin! Our lusts war against our souls (1 Peter 2:11), and we remain one thought away from yielding. Satan is swift like a lion, so we must be sober and vigilant (1 Peter 5:8). "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall" (1 Cor. 10:12). How can we strive to be humble and watchful against sin?
2. Great men will be great in prayer. When God offered to make Moses the father of a greater nation, replacing Israel, he prayed for Israel's preservation. His praying was self-denying. He prayed persistently (forty days with fasting), and powerfully: "the LORD hearkened unto me" (v. 19). The intercessory prayer of Moses points to the even greater intercession of Christ in behalf of His people. In a sense, Israel owed their existence to the intercession of Moses. Believers owe all to Christ, who ever lives to make intercession for us.

Chapter 10: God's law is reissued and encased in the ark, Levi is chosen for sacred service, and the people are instructed regarding their conduct and heart.

10:1 at that time. After Moses' intercession (9:18–29). Hew. Form by cutting.

10:3 shittim. Acacia, a common timber tree in Sinai.

10:4 ten commandments. Literally, "ten words."

10:6–7 The location of these places is uncertain (Num. 33:31–33). Aaron's death confirms that Moses' intercession was effectual (9:19–20).

10:12–13 Compare the condensed summary of divine requirements in Mic. 6:8.

10:13 God's commands are for thy good (1 John 5:3).

10:14–15 above all people. Electing love favored Israel's fathers and their descendants.

10:16 Circumcise . . . your heart. A metaphor for removing worldly affections (see note at 30:6), an image of regeneration, receiving a new heart. Significantly, Moses was more concerned about the heart than the flesh, even though fleshly circumcision had not been practiced during the wilderness experience. The condition of the heart is always more important than that of the flesh.

10:17–19 God of gods and Lord of lords. God as absolute King is unimpressed with human genius, wealth, or power (Ps. 136:2–3; 1 Tim. 6:15; Rev. 17:14; 19:16). Yet He is tender toward the oppressed, as His people must be (Ex. 22:22–24; Matt. 11:28–30).

10:18 raiment. Clothes.

10:20 cleave. Cling to.

10:21–22 God's care for the oppressed is evident in Israel's experience of redemption. God had multiplied seventy people (threescore and ten) to become as numerous as the stars (Gen. 15:5; 22:17; 26:4).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 10

1. "Fear the LORD thy God" (vv. 12,20). Reverent awe of our Creator will result in obedience, love, and service for God. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom and knowledge (Ps. 111:10; Prov. 1:7; 9:10). It hates evil (Prov. 8:13), prolongs life (Prov. 10:27), and brings prosperity (Prov. 14:26–27; 16:6; 19:23; 22:4). The Spirit of Christ is the Spirit of the fear of the Lord (Isa. 11:2). Why is the fear of God right for those in Christ?
2. "What doth the LORD thy God require of thee?" (v. 12). This question must penetrate the conscience. Nothing else matters. God is worthy of wholehearted devotion, "with all thy heart and with all thy soul" (v. 12). Significantly, right in the middle of the five things God requires is to love Him, the greatest of all the commandments. "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment" (Mark 12:30).

Chapter 11: Remembering God's dealing with rebels, Israel must obey and teach their children obedience.

11:1 love. Prominent theme. God's love is expressed in covenant (4:37). Israel must love God (6:5) and exhibit that love by obedience (11:13,22). alway. Literally, "all the days."

11:6 See Num. 16.

11:10 wateredst it with thy foot. An idiom referring to an irrigation system.

11:14 first rain . . . latter rain. Around October to April. Marked the start and end of the rainy season. The appropriate amount and timing of rain were symbolic of God's blessing and favor.

11:16 heed. Watch over.

11:17 Obedience is essential.

11:18–21 God's law was acknowledged in every facet of daily existence, fostering multi-generational prosperity.

11:18 frontlets. Some sort of headband.

11:26–32 Moses prescribes a ceremony, which is further expounded in chs. 27–28 and which Joshua celebrated in Canaan (Josh. 8:30–35).

11:30 champaign. A desert plain.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 11

1. That God gives rain in recognition of Israel's obedience demonstrates His sovereign power and authority. God is the author of both biblical law and natural law. Thus, they harmonize, and obedience to the former will usually be in sync with the latter, producing blessing. Psalm 1 illustrates the principle: attention to God's Word results in divine blessing, here symbolized by the appropriate and timely rain.
2. Although possessing Canaan would involve military conflict, Israel's preparation to enter Canaan did not involve basic training in combat, but was rather to focus on spiritual readiness. God would deliver Canaan to Israel, and they were simply to follow Him to victory. He must therefore be the highest priority, demonstrated by obeying His commandments. Israel's strength was in obedience (v. 8). The strength of Christ's church is not in human schemes and methods, but by wholehearted adherence to God's Word.

Statutes and Judgments (12:1—26:15)

Chapter 12: Israel is to destroy places of pagan idolatry and worship God in the place He has chosen and according to His instructions.

God's Sanctuary (12:1–32)

12:3 groves. The wooden poles erected in worship of Asherah, a Canaanite goddess. hew. Chop.

12:5 the place. Thirteen times Deuteronomy states that God will reveal one place for sacrifice. These instructions are referred to as the laws of the central sanctuary, fulfilled by the tabernacle/temple (Gen. 22:2–3,9,14; 2 Sam. 24:10–25; 1 Chron. 21:18; 22:1; 2 Chron. 3:1–2). habitation. Dwelling place.

12:7 eat before the LORD. Sacrifices eaten at the tabernacle/temple signified the spiritual partaking of Christ's sacrifice by those for whom it was offered (John 6:32–25,53–58). Family, servants, and Levite[s] partook with joy (vv. 7,12,18).

12:8 See Judg. 21:25.

12:12 nor inheritance. Levites belonged to the Lord.

12:15 lusteth. Not a negative term, "desires" (v. 21). roebuck. Gazelle. hart. Deer. Neither were sacrificial animals (v. 22).

12:17 not eat . . . the tithe. The tithe was God's, and was to be eaten only at the God-selected place of sacrifice. All other foods could be eaten at home (v. 15). firstlings. Firstborn.

12:30 enquire. Seek after.

12:32 diminish. Take away. See 4:2.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 12

1. Israel was not to ask, "How did these nations serve their gods?" (v. 30). God's people must never pattern their worship after unregenerate men. True worship is done according to the directives of God's law—the Scriptures. Worship is defined and designed by God, not by man (v. 32). When seeking a church in which to worship, many look for one that pleases them. But we should ask, "Does it please God? Does it worship by the Word?"

2. Israel was to destroy every place where idolatry was practiced, to leave nothing of ungodly religious activity. So we must "have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them" (Eph. 5:11). We must separate ourselves from the idolatry and uncleanness of this world (2 Cor. 6:16–17). What idols does your nation worship? How must you separate yourself from this idolatry?

Chapter 13: God prescribes drastic measures to guard against apostasy from worshiping the one true God.

Deceivers and Idolaters (13:1–18)

13:1–18 Here are three transgressions: the prophet who speaks falsely, the family member who seduces unto idolatry, and the community that has succumbed to idolatry (Ezek. 13:1–8; Zech. 10:2; Matt. 7:15; Gal. 1:8–9). In each case, the guilty parties are to be put to death, a severe punishment.

13:1–3 Conformity to truth is the criterion for acceptable ministry. False teachers may arise in order to test the allegiance of God's people.

13:3 hearken. Listen. proveth. Tests or tries. Significantly, the heart is more important than the head in discerning false teaching.

13:5 thrust. Drive away by force.

13:6 Enticement to depart from truth may come from our dearest friends.

13:12–15 Truth is known by Scripture. The entire community might be misled (v. 13), but we must not succumb to popular opinion or peer pressure.

13:13 Belial. Sons of worthlessness (2 Cor. 6:15).

13:16–17 An apostate community was to be utterly destroyed. God's people must not memorialize anything associated with ungodliness.

13:16 whit. The whole of it.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 13

1. Satan will employ our dearest friends to distract us from God: "thy brother . . . or thy son, or thy daughter, or the wife of they bosom, or thy friend, which is as thine own soul" (v. 6). Judas was one of Christ's disciples. Jesus warned, "If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple" (Luke 14:26). Nadab and Abihu, Aaron's sons, were destroyed for their godless action, and God forbade Aaron to mourn (Lev. 10:1–6). Allegiance to Christ must supersede all other relationships (Luke 9:59–62). How can you prepare your heart now to follow Christ above all others when temptation comes?
2. False teachers do not announce that they are deceivers. Rather, they come with an "improvement" to the gospel message, with a "truth" everyone else has missed. Jesus said, "Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves" (Matt. 7:15). Like Paul, Christians must recognize and reject false teachers, for they are under the curse of God (Gal. 1:8; 2:1–5).

Chapter 14: God's people must be distinctive in their customs, their diet, and their tithe.

Customs: Mourning, Diet, and Levite's Care (14:1–29)

14:1 not cut yourselves. Laceration was part of pagan worship (1 Kings 18:25–28). make any baldness. Probably a pagan mourning ritual (Lev. 19:27–28).

14:2 peculiar people. The Hebrew refers to "a prized possession, a treasure" (translated "jewels" in Mal. 3:17). Everything belongs to the Lord, but His people are special to Him.

14:3–22 Israel's dietary code made God's people distinctive, separate unto Him. Some suggest that unclean animals posed health risks, others that they were associated with pagan worship and thus an abominable thing (v. 4; 7:25; 12:31). The modern inability to identify all the specific creatures is irrelevant to the spiritual truth that God has a right to restrict His people's behavior. A holy people are a different people.

14:5 pygarg. Antelope (1 Sam. 24:2). chamois. Mountain sheep.

14:6 parteth the hoof. Split hooves.

14:7 hare. Rabbit. coney. Rock badger.

14:12–20 Twenty birds, one flying mammal, and flying insects were unclean. Identity of these is not always clear.

14:12 ossifrage. Vulture. ospray. A bird of prey.

14:15 cuckow. Seagull.

14:18 lapwing. Hoopoe.

14:21 dieth of itself. Likely because death from natural causes would not bleed the animal (12:16,23–25,27). seethe a kid. Boil a young one; a Canaanite ritual.

14:22 tithe. One tenth. These verses speak of the harvest tithe brought to the place God chose for worship (12:5–6).

14:24–26 God makes concession for those who live far away. See the perversion in Christ's time (Matt. 21:12–13; John 2:13–17).

14:26 bestow. Give.

14:28–29 Every third year the tithe was given locally for needs within the community: Levites, widows, orphans, and aliens who had no land for agriculture production. God shows special care for the needy (Lev. 19:9–10; 23:22; Deut. 24:21).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 14

1. God's people must be separated unto Him. This was prescribed in Israel's customs of mourning (v. 1), their diet (vv. 2–21), and their tithes (vv. 22–29). We are not to be poured into the world's mold: "be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind" (Rom. 12:2). We are not to love this world system or its traditions and fads, which consist of "the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life" (1 John 2:16). As Israel was a holy people unto the Lord, chosen to be a peculiar people (Deut. 14:2), God's people in every age are "an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light" (1 Peter 2:9). Christians must be different, as pilgrims in this world.
2. God's goodness is evident in His care for the needy (Matt. 6:25–34). He designated that every third year the tithe be used for widows, orphans, and aliens who had no land on which to cultivate food (Deut. 14:28–29). He instructed that grain in the corners of fields be left for the needy to glean

(Lev. 19:9–10; 23:22). Believers should honor this principle. They must "remember the poor" (Gal. 2:10), and "visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction" (James 1:27). Whereas this is not the gospel, it is an important part of Christian living. How are you caring for the poor and needy?

Chapter 15: Moses gives instructions regarding the year of release.

Sabbath Release (15:1–23)

15:1–23 In this God-ordered economy every seventh year required indebtedness to be forgiven, indentured servants to be released (vv. 1–15), and land to be given rest (Lev. 25:1–7). This is not man's way to prosper. It teaches that prosperity is a divine gift, not ambition's reward (vv. 4–6,10–18).

15:1 release. A remitting of obligations.

15:2–3 exact. Demand precise payment.

15:5 hearken. Listen.

15:9 nought. Nothing.

15:14 furnish . . . liberally. Give freely.

15:15 Amid prosperity, Israel must remember its former state, and live compassionately.

15:16–18 aul. An awl or a pointed tool. Pierced, the slave was marked for life (Ex. 21:6). This love bond of servant for master foreshadowed the submission of Christ to God (Ps. 40:6; Isa. 50:5). Christ's servants desire His mark upon their lives (Gal. 6:17).

15:19 firstling. Firstborn. bullock. Ox. shear. To cut or trim the hair.

15:20 See note at 12:7.

15:22 roebuck. Gazelle.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 15

1. Christ came "not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many" (Matt. 20:28). This spirit should thrive within God's people. The law required creditors to forgive debtors (Deut. 15:1–2), avoid greed (vv. 7–11), show compassion toward the poor, release bond slaves, and supply them with life's necessities (vv. 12–14). From their herds and flocks they gave their first and best unto God. All of these requirements were fulfilled to the fullest by Christ. Therefore, strive to be conformed to the image of God's Son (Rom. 8:29).
2. When servants were released, the master shared his bounty with them: "wherewith the LORD thy God hath blessed thee thou shalt give unto him" (v. 14). This demonstrated that possessions come from God, that "the earth is the LORD's, and the fulness thereof" (Ps. 24:1), and that man is but a steward of God's possessions. We are to treat everything within our sphere of influence as the Lord's, not our own. How will this change the way we use our money and possessions?

Chapter 16: Moses prescribes the solemn feasts, provides for just judgments, and prohibits idolatry.

Religious Feasts (16:1–22)

16:1–8 Passover was the fourteenth day of Abib (March/April), the date of the exodus (Ex. 12; Lev. 23:5–8; Num. 28:16–25) and of Christ's death (Matt. 26:17). It foreshadowed Christ's sacrifice for His people (1 Cor. 5:7).

16:2 Both feast and lamb are called the passover.

16:3 leavened bread. Bread containing yeast. in haste. Quickly. The events of the exodus did not allow time for the normal preparation of bread.

16:4 coast. Border.

16:6 at the place. God set both the location and the time for observing the feast. This became one of the pilgrimage feasts requiring journey to the central sanctuary (v. 16). even. Evening. season. Appointed time.

16:8 thou shalt do no work. The Passover had Sabbath status.

16:9–12 seven weeks. Fifty days after Passover, the Feast of Weeks celebrated the God-given harvest (Ex. 23:16; Num. 28:26). Later called "Pentecost," meaning "fifty," it foreshadowed the coming of the Holy Spirit (Acts 2).

16:12 wast. Was.

16:13–15 Feast of Tabernacles, or booths, marked the end of harvest (Ex. 23:16; 34:22). People lived in temporary huts for seven days, commemorating their homeless days in the wilderness (Lev. 23:42–43), during which they daily depended on God for all their sustenance.

16:15 increase. Harvest.

16:18–20 God establishes justice and requires undistracted, exclusive worship. Bribes pervert judges and wrest judgment (i.e., distort justice).

16:21–22 Idolatry perverts truth and violates the first commandment. Moses directly prohibited the erecting of any kind of wooden pole (grove) alongside an altar to God. God demands exclusive worship and prohibits mixing worldly religious practices with true worship. The grove or wooden pole was a central piece in Canaanite rituals.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 16

1. God instructed men of Israel to assemble three times annually for feasts: Passover, Weeks, and Tabernacles (v. 16; Ex. 34:23–24). One reason for this was to maintain national and spiritual unity among Israel. It is important for God's people to assemble, and He commands this. Attendance at public worship should be a priority with every believer, just as it is with God. How is our public worship like a feast?
2. God also established the feasts to memorialize His works for Israel. God desires that we remember His works. "Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits" (Ps. 103:2). "I meditate on all thy works" (Ps. 143:5). Remembering God's works reminded Israel to remember His law (Deut. 8:11). God would have us remember His great work when Christ fulfilled the law through His sacrifice at Calvary. God has given us two (and only two) visible means of remembering Christ's work: baptism and the Lord's Supper.

Sacrifices, Idolaters, Adjudication, and Kings (17:1–20)

Chapter 17: Moses gives instructions regarding the execution of justice and the duties of future kings.

17:1 evilfavouredness. Literally, "any bad thing." In this case, an animal with a defect.

17:2–3 God hates idolatry, shown in His demand to stone idolaters (v. 5), thus eliminating idolatrous influence.

17:6–7 God guarded against false accusation by requiring two or more eyewitnesses (19:15–20; Matt.

18:16; 2 Cor. 13:1; 1 Tim. 5:19). Accusers' integrity was checked by requiring them to initiate capital penalty (John 8:7). If later evidence vindicated the one they stoned, they would be judged. The hands of all the people implied that the idolater sinned against countrymen also, inasmuch as idolatry brought national judgment.

17:6 At the mouth. By the testimony.

17:8–9 Complex cases required the sophisticated discernment of priests. blood and blood. Cases involving bloodshed. plea and plea. An offense or legal claim. stroke and stroke. An assault or an accidental injury (19:4–6). Judgment at the place which the LORD thy GOD shall choose, administered by priests and Levites, signified that God is the source of justice.

17:10–13 Refusal of priestly judgment was rejection of divine rule, punishable by death.

17:11 decline from the sentence. To turn aside from by refusing to carry out the punishment.

17:12 presumptuously. To act proudly.

17:14–20 A monarchy was not opposed to God's will; indeed, it was central to God's redemptive purpose and promise (Gen. 49:10).

17:15 any wise. Literally, "you will certainly set over you." brother. A fellow Israelite.

17:16 multiply horses. Perhaps referring to building up the military, which would foster self-confidence rather than divine dependence.

17:17 that his heart not turn away. Precisely what happened with Solomon (1 Kings 11:1–4).

17:20 lifted up. Prided himself above others.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 17

1. God's instruction to kings pertained to personal discipline and obeying God's law, not to skill in governing. "When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn" (Prov. 29:2; cf. 2 Sam. 23:3). The ideal of a perfectly righteous king points to King Jesus, who alone fulfilled all the requirements of God's expectation. What does Deut. 17:16–20 teach us about the kingdom of Christ?
2. Two or more accusers were necessary to convict a man of a crime. This protected the innocent who might be accused and also restrained the schemer who might bear false witness out of jealousy or hatred. It also shows the high value God places upon truth. He is truth. God and truth are inseparable, thus truth will always stand.

Chapter 18: Moses explains the rights of the Levites, exhorts against false worship, and expounds the function of the prophetic office, pointing to the ideal Prophet.

Care of Priests, Idolaters, the Great Prophet (18:1–22)

18:1–8 Levites had no land (10:9; Num. 18:20; 26:62), and thus no livelihood except the offerings of the people. They shared also in the joys of the people (12:12,18; 16:11,14; 26:11), who were to give them the same care as widows and orphans (14:29; 26:12–13), making them dependent upon God through His people. Without inheritance, they were scattered throughout the tribes in forty-two cities (Num. 35:1–6; fulfilling the patriarchal declaration of Gen. 49:7) and thus representative of God among His people.

18:3 maw. Stomach.

18:8 patrimony. Inheritance.

18:9–14 Idolatry, human sacrifice, and forms of witchcraft are named together as abominations for which nations were driven from the land God gave to Israel.

18:10 pass through the fire. Child sacrifice. divination. Using magic. observer of times. One who tells the future.

18:11 charmer. Spell caster. familiar spirits . . . necromancer. One who uses rituals attempting to contact the dead.

18:13 perfect. Upright, sincere, having integrity.

18:14 suffered. Permitted.

18:15 Prophet. Ultimately, a reference to Christ (John 6:14; Acts 3:22–23). God promised Israel a revelation of Himself. The Prophet is God's representative to man, fulfilled completely in Christ (Heb. 1:3).

18:18 The Prophet's authority consisted in his declaring what God had declared to him. The Prophet was the messenger of the Lord (Hag. 1:13).

18:19 require it of him. Avenge or demand; hold him accountable.

18:22 The fulfillment of predictions, as well as conformity to revealed truth (13:1–3), were the two principal tests of the true prophet. Significantly, Christ Himself was subject to these tests. His own resurrection was the confirming prediction (John 2:19–22), and He defined His words as being in accordance with the Father's (John 8:14–18).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 18

1. False prophets "presume to speak a word in my name" (v. 20). Christ warned that there will be many of these (Matt. 7:22–23). The test of their legitimacy is whether they do "the will of my Father which is in heaven" (Matt. 7:21). The will of God is revealed in Scripture; thus, teachers must be measured by its truth. It is imperative that we know what God says in His Word in order to guard against the false teaching that is more and more rampant as time progresses (1 Tim. 4:1; 1 John 4:1–2).
2. Priests and Levites were sustained by the offerings brought to God. This should have been a guard against greed, of which ministers are warned (1 Tim. 6:6–11). However, the Old Testament records violations of the principle (1 Sam. 2:12–17). Although the mechanics of application are different today, this remains the pattern of sustaining ministers (Matt. 10:9–10; Gal. 6:6; 1 Thess. 5:13; 1 Tim. 5:17–18). Will the Lord commend your church on judgment day for how it paid its pastor? Why or why not?

Chapter 19: The Lord's concern for justice provides protection for the innocent and assures punishment for the guilty.

Cities of Refuge, False Witnesses (19:1–21)

19:1–13 Six cities, three on each side of the Jordan River, were cities of refuge (4:41–49; Ex. 21:13; Num. 35; Josh. 20). The cities of refuge typify Christ. All who come to Him find refuge from the curse and judgment against sinners (Rom. 8:1,28–39; Heb. 6:16–20).

19:1 succeedest. Inherits.

19:3 coasts. Borders or territories (v. 8).

19:4 ignorantly. Literally, “without knowledge,” referring to killing by accident or without premeditation.

19:5 fetcheth. Goes to make a cut. head slippeth from the helve. Axehead slips off. A clear illustration of accidental and unintentional killing.

19:6 the avenger. The near kinsman or kinsman-redeemer. heart is hot. Is angry.

19:12 Cities of refuge were not meant to circumvent justice. The real crime was in the heart, not in the act (Matt. 5:22).

19:13 pity. Feel remorse for. from Israel. Individual sins brought national guilt.

19:14 landmark. Property marker. Removal of a neighbour's landmark transgressed the One who established personal ownership and divided the land (27:17; Job 24:2; Prov. 22:28). This may refer to rich landowners pressuring the poor to sell their land (Prov. 23:10–11). Consider Ahab and Naboth (1 Kings 21).

19:15–21 Perjury is condemned (Ex. 20:16; see note at Deut. 17:6–7).

19:18 make diligent inquisition. Search out carefully.

19:20 The execution of justice serves in part to be a deterrent.

19:21 eye for eye, tooth for tooth. This is the principle of lex talionis, the law of retaliation. The penalty was to fit the crime. This protected the offender from punishment exceeding his offense (Ex. 21:23–25; Lev. 24:17–20).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 19

1. God authored Israel's judicial plan and specified who its judges should be (16:18). God also prescribed the penalty for one who defended a false claim before those judges (19:16–19). To appear before the judges was to appear in God's court. An intentional misrepresentation there exhibited unbelief and contempt toward God Himself. Ultimately, deceit assaults God, its author and sustainer. God is truth, and every lie is against Him. Are you lying about something? What will repentance involve?
2. Without uttering a word, you can tell a lie: removing an established landmark (v. 14), misrepresented property boundaries. As long as that misrepresentation stood, the perpetrator lived a lie without speaking a word. Often people have misrepresented truth by various means of fraud and deception. But ultimately, the Lord is a God of truth (32:4), so the truth will prevail.

Chapter 20: Instructions for Israel's warfare exhibit absolute divine sovereignty and the absolute favor of God toward His chosen people.

Regulations for Warfare (20:1–20)

20:2–4 The priest was the spokesman going into battle, implying that Israel's warfare was ultimately spiritual. God fought for them (vv. 1,4), destroying enemies as a defense against idolatry (vv. 17–18). Israel's deliverance preserved God's law and ultimately brought God's Son since there had to be an Israel if Christ was going to come (Rom. 9:5).

20:5 dedicate. Consecrate or formally dedicate.

20:7 betrothed. Legally bound by a formal agreement of marriage. not taken her. Not entered into the consummation of marriage.

20:10–15 Israel's conquest sequence was peace first (v. 10) but, if unattainable, destruction of males (v. 13), thus ending future threats, and the assimilation of survivors and possessions into Israel's life (v. 14).

20:11 tributaries. Forced laborers.

20:12 besiege. To surround or encompass for the purpose of attack.

20:17 To these six peoples, the Septuagint (the Greek Old Testament) adds "Girgashites," which is consistent with 7:1.

20:19–20 In the long siege of a walled city, trees would be cut and utilized in battle strategies. Care was to be taken to preserve fruit-bearing trees as a food source.

20:20 meat. Food. bulwarks. Either trenches or siege works.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 20

1. God ordered utter destruction of Canaanite peoples, "that they teach you not to do after all their abominations" (v. 18). Idolatry was Israel's greatest threat and had to be eliminated, whether idol, shrine, or idolater. God is zealous for His undivided honor and for the purity of His people. That zeal instructs us, "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him" (1 John 2:15). The church does not kill sinners by the sword, but it must kill its sin by the Word.
2. The end of all war will come from the Prince of Peace, and Israel was the conduit through which He would come to mankind. Israel's advantage of having divine counsel in war ensured that end. It secured Christ's coming by annihilating peoples who would annihilate Israel via war or idolatry. Therefore foreign threats were subjugated (vv. 10–11), enemies rendered powerless (vv. 12–15), and idolatrous occupants of Canaan destroyed (vv. 16–18).

Unsolved Murder, War Captives, and Rebellious Sons (21:1–23)

Chapter 21: Moses addresses miscellaneous things necessary to save the land from defilement.

21:1–9 Life is precious, so murder by an unidentified assailant must be avenged. An innocent substitute —a heifer, never yoked or mated, killed in a fruitless ravine with a spring-fed stream—represents unfulfilled, innocent life. Over its dead body elders wash their hands, representing the people as being cleansed from bloodshed by the substitute's death (vv. 7–9).

21:1 the land. The land was holy and necessitated avenging of innocent bloodshed.

21:2 measure unto. Measure the distance to the closest city.

21:3 not been wrought with. A heifer that has not been worked. not drawn in the yoke. A heifer that has not pulled equipment.

21:4 rough valley. Literally, "valley of running water." neither eared nor sown. Unworked land. strike off the heifer's neck. Break the neck.

21:5 every controversy and every stroke. Every judicial case and crime.

21:8 blood shall be forgiven. Represents the guilt resulting from the crime.

21:10–14 God ensured rights to captive women: a home, identity, time to mourn, and protection from enslavement, brutality, and abandonment. War deaths diminished the male/female ratio (20:13), and a woman had no rights apart from a husband.

21:12 pare. To cut or trim the nails; literally, “she will make her nails.”

21:13 raiment. Clothes. bewail. Weep or mourn.

21:15-17 This does not sanction polygamy; rather, it protects the innocent parties from abuse and injustice. Thus, it demonstrates an inherent evil in the plural marriage.

21:17 double portion. The greater inheritance. beginning of his strength. His firstborn child.

21:20 glutton. The Hebrew refers to one who is thoughtless or rash.

21:23 See John 19:31; Gal. 3:13.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 21

1. The regulations for treating a captive or hated wife demonstrate the importance of kindness and equity to all. These women were in circumstances beyond their control and for which they were not responsible. To add to their misery by unfair and cruel acts violated the second greatest commandment of loving your neighbor as yourself. God is concerned with protecting innocent victims of injustice, and we should follow His example. How are women mistreated today? What would God have us do?
2. Disobeying parents equates to disobeying God: “Honour thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land” (Ex. 20:12). When respect for parents is gone, the root of respect in society has perished, jeopardizing all. Consequently, in Israel’s theocracy, the rebellious son was a menace to civilization and was to be put to death by the society he threatened. Disruption in the family is no longer a capital offense, but it remains a serious threat to the welfare of society. Family structure and harmony should be a high priority in every Christian home.

Chapter 22: Moses gives various laws demonstrating that holiness touches every sphere of life.

Civility, Distinctiveness, and Purity (22:1–30)

22:5 Transvestitism was common in many of the pagan religious rituals and thus was strictly forbidden. The distinction of genders was established at creation and is to be maintained in all spheres.

22:6–7 dam. Mother bird. The mother bird can survive without the eggs but not vice versa.

22:8 Man is duty-bound to his fellowman to minimize risks and threats. battlement. Parapet or fence along the roof. This is an application of the sixth commandment that includes the preserving of life.

22:9–11 divers. Diverse or different. Reasons for these restrictions are not known, but they set Israel apart from other nations, creating a distinctive people and serving as object lessons of separation.

22:12 Fringes were reminders to keep God’s commandments (Num. 15:38–41).

22:13–21 These laws protected a virgin from scandalous lies and her family from shame, and they ensured her security (she could not be divorced).

22:14 occasions of speech. Slander; accusations of impropriety. maid. Virgin.

22:15 damsel. Girl or young woman.

22:17 tokens. Cloths spread on marriage beds to determine purity.

22:19 amerce. To fine or impose a penalty.

22:21 folly. Willful sin or disgrace.

22:23 betrothed. Legally bound in relationship prior to the actual marriage.

22:24 cried not. A victim had the responsibility to cry for help. humbled. Humiliated.

22:26 for as. Rape is likened to murder.

22:30 discover his father's skirt. What the skirt or wing covered was the object of protection and ownership. Here an idiom referring to the wife.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 22

1. We have a community responsibility for others' possessions (vv. 1–4). God instructed Israel to be attentive to the welfare of straying livestock or overly burdened beasts. Cain's question, "Am I my brother's keeper" (Gen. 4:9), is hereby answered. It was disobedience to ignore the straying beast. If care must be taken for an animal, how much more is it to be taken for a human (Luke 14:1–6)? Why is sharing responsibility to care for each others' lives and property foundational for society?
2. Sexual purity is very important. Violators suffered severe penalties, and lies against an innocent person were punished. The matter of immorality was serious. Nations surrounding Israel were grossly immoral, and their idolatrous practices often included perverse actions as worship. The value God placed upon sexual purity cannot be overstated, and the warnings of the law are reiterated in the New Testament (1 Cor. 6:9–10,15–18). Marriage is a holy union of man and woman, and only within that union are sexual relations sanctified.

Ethical and Moral Stipulations (23:1—25:19)

Chapter 23: Moses gives various laws demonstrating that holiness touches every sphere of life.

23:1–2 Probably refers to cultic sexual perversions such as emasculation and children of a prostitute. stones . . . privy member. Male organ. bastard. A child born from an illegitimate union, most likely incest.

23:3–4 See Gen. 19:33–38; Num. 22; Neh. 13:1–2. met you not. Did not provide food and water.

23:5 See Num. 22–24 for the whole Balaam narrative.

23:7 abhor. Hate or disdain. Edomite. Esau's descendant (Gen. 25:24–26; 36:1–19). wast. Was. This prohibition was in spite of Edom's hatred toward Israel (see Obad.).

23:9 host. Camp or army. wicked thing. Ceremonial iniquity or uncleanliness.

23:10 uncleanness that chanceth him. Likely a nocturnal emission (Lev. 15:2). abroad. Outside the camp.

23:12–13 Likely referring to a public place to be used as a latrine and the process of covering up excrement and waste. paddle. A type of spade. ease thyself. Relieve oneself.

23:14 no unclean thing. The Hebrew refers to anything unseemly or unbecoming. God's presence required both ceremonial cleanness and sanitary conditions.

23:15–16 Speaks of foreign slaves seeking asylum in Israel. Prohibited from covenants with nations, Israel had no extradition treaties.

23:17–18 sodomite. Male homosexual prostitute. hire. Prostitute earnings. price of a dog. An intentionally derogatory expression to underscore God's disgust regarding this male prostitution. Israel would later violate this (1 Kings 14:24; 15:12; 22:46; 2 Kings 23:7).

23:19–20 usury. Interest. victuals. Food. Loans were not commercial but for poverty relief. Creditors must not create poverty by charging an Israelite interest but could do so to foreigners (Gal. 6:10).

23:21 slack. Delay in paying.

23:22 forbear. Refrain. Vows were not required. See Eccl. 5:4–5.

23:25 standing corn. Ripened harvest.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 23

1. God is concerned for the purity of His congregation (vv. 1–6,17–18). Consequently, groups of people were excluded from the congregation of Israel. A church must not purpose to have a large congregation so much as a pure one. Purity must be of highest concern for all of God's people. Since a little leaven leavens the whole lump, the church must discipline and ultimately expel the unrepentant sinner (1 Cor. 5:6).
2. God warns against stinginess and opportunism (vv. 24–25). Crops could be eaten by one passing by, helping travelers and widows, but only for immediate necessity; no supply could be taken. This implies that we are to be charitable in giving, but not selfish with others' charity. This illustrates the second greatest commandment to love our neighbor as ourselves. How are you sharing a portion of what God gives you with those in need?

Chapter 24: Moses details regulations addressing marital relations and divorce, treatment of the poor, and leprosy.

24:1–4 no favour . . . uncleanness. Some form of sexual impropriety being found. bill of divorcement. Not establishing divorce, but limiting a custom already known (Mark 10:4–9) and prohibiting additional adultery. See Mal. 2:16 for God's attitude. The legislation is not to sanction but to protect the innocent victims.

24:6 nether. Lower. The millstones were used to earn one's living. There were restrictions on what could be taken as collateral. Dignity of person is divinely established and to be honored.

24:7 stealing. Kidnapping or forced slavery. maketh merchandise. The Hebrew designates tyrannical or brutal treatment.

24:9 See Num. 12.

24:10 pledge. Object used for security of loan.

24:11 abroad. Outside.

24:12–13 not sleep with his pledge. If the man has given his garments (raiment) as collateral (23:19–20; 24:6; Ex. 22:25–26; Lev. 25:35–37).

24:15 setteth his heart upon it. Literally, "lifts up his soul unto it," an idiom expressing dependence on something.

24:19–22 Provision for the less fortunate was founded in the fact of redemption. Remembering grace should generate gracious behavior to others. Christ taught this principle in the parable of the unmerciful servant (Matt. 18:23–34).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 24

1. Powerless people are often abused, but God condemns the abuser. We are to help the powerless in their distress, never adding to their burden. Throughout Christ's ministry He helped and healed beggars and the afflicted, people who were at the bottom of the economic hierarchy. Deacons were appointed to address these needs (Acts 6), and the apostles were mindful of this duty (Gal. 2:10; James 2:1–9; 5:1–5). How does your church meet these needs today?

2. Farmers were to leave crops in the field for the poor to glean (vv. 19–22). This concept reappears in Scripture as an admonition to compassion and a warning against greed (Lev. 19:9–10; Ps. 41:1; Prov. 19:17; Luke 12:16–21). This principle is not limited to farmers. How we demonstrate concern for others will vary, but it is imperative that we show kindness to others, especially in light of what God has done for us.

Chapter 25: Moses gives assorted regulations ranging from humane punishments to just commerce to vengeance on the Amalekites.

25:2 certain number. The punishment fits the crime.

25:3 vile. Degraded or of little value.

25:4 The working beast was nourished by the harvest it produced. Scripture applies this principle to compensating preachers (Matt. 10:10; Luke 10:7; 1 Cor. 9:7–14; 1 Tim. 5:17–18).

25:5–10 Laws regarding levirate (brother) marriages. See Gen. 38 for the violations of this custom.

25:6 shall succeed. Assume his family name.

25:8 stand to it. Persist in his refusal.

25:10 The house of him that hath his shoe loosed. Literally, "the family of the unsandaled."

25:11 secrets. Male organ.

25:13–16 Differing weights and measures, used for defrauding, were condemned. God requires equity, honesty, and fairness. These accompany blessing upon a land.

25:17–19 Esau's descendants (Gen. 36:12) extended his ill will against Jacob, attacking Israel (Ex. 17:8–16).

25:18 hindmost. The rear guard, likely in a position of weakness.

25:19 Moses reminds Israel of God's decree to destroy Amalek. God rejected Saul for his failure to annihilate the Amalekites (1 Sam. 15:2–29).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 25

1. Esau's animosity toward his younger brother, Jacob, was kept alive by his descendant Amalek (vv. 17–19). This is one example of a pattern traceable throughout Scripture, in which an older sibling is unwilling to accept God's blessing upon a younger. Consider Cain and Abel (Gen. 4); Ishmael and Isaac (Gen. 21:9); Esau and Jacob (Gen. 24:41); Joseph's brothers (Gen. 37:18–27); Miriam, Aaron, and Moses (Num. 12:1–2); Eliab and David (1 Sam. 17:28); and the elder brother and the prodigal (Luke 15:15–29). In blessed contrast, Christ, the elder brother of all the elect, "is not ashamed to call them brethren" (Heb. 2:11). Are you envious of those with greater privileges, or are you Christlike toward them?
2. Israel's practice of taking a brother's widow as wife (vv. 5–10) ensured the continuation of family lineage, clans, tribes, and the nation. This proved to be critical in the fulfillment of God's purpose to send Christ our Savior. Although the details differ, Boaz's marriage to Ruth approximates the principle and was a means of continuing the messianic line (Ruth 4:1–11,17–22; Matt. 1:1–17; 22:24).

Chapter 26: Moses gives instructions regarding the firstfruits and tithes to be offered in Canaan and reminds Israel of God's covenant with them.

Canaan's Firstfruits (26:1–15)

26:2–11 The first harvest in Canaan signified the end of an exile that began with Jacob's migration to Egypt and extended through years of bondage and wandering. The offering of the firstfruits to God acknowledged His providence that turned a single family into a great nation.

26:12–15 Every third year, ten percent of the harvest was to be given to the Levites and needy persons (14:28–29), a continual reminder that the harvest was God's bounty.

26:13 hallowed. Sanctified or set apart.

Concluding Reminder and Exhortation (26:16–19)

26:17 avouched. Declared.

26:18 peculiar people. Treasured possession.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 26

1. Israel was to remember that Canaan was given to them by God by tithing the harvest. No less than Israel, all people should recognize that the land they inhabit is God's. The crops they harvest and consume are produced by His power and goodness. We are all indebted to Him for our very lives. All that we are, own, and enjoy is the Lord's (Ps. 24:1).
2. God's people are "his peculiar people" (v. 18). God sets them apart to Himself and regards them as special. They must remember and reflect this in obedience to His commandments, resisting the evil passions of this present world (1 John 2:15). They are "a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you" (1 Peter 2:9). Which commandments especially make obedient Christians different from other people in your culture? Why?

BLESSINGS AND CURSES (27:1—28:68)

Chapter 27: A ceremony reaffirming God's law was to be enacted as the formal inauguration into Canaan.

Prescribed Ceremony at Ebal and Gerizim (27:1–26)

27:2 pass over [the] Jordan. This ceremony reaffirmed God's law visibly, audibly, and solemnly after Israel entered Canaan (Josh. 8:30–35). plaister. Whitewash, cover with plaster.

27:4 Ebal and "Gerizim" (v. 12) were roughly forty miles north of Jerusalem at Shechem, where an ancient trade route passed between the mountains, and where the law written on stones upon the mountains would be visible. These mountains were significant (Gen. 12:6–7; 33:18–20; Josh. 24:32).

27:5–6 The altar was from natural stone, uncut by iron tools (Ex. 20:24–25), perhaps because of Israel's dependence upon heathen nations for iron or exclusion of human instrumentality.

27:8 very plainly. Easily seen and read. Precision and exactness must characterize matters relating to God's Word.

27:9 this day. Refers not to its beginning but to the conscious renewal of the covenant.

27:15 secret. Most of the sins named are secret, yet cursed by God. Nothing is hidden from Him. All sin must be judged (Heb. 4:13). Amen. A word of solemn agreement.

27:16 setteth light. Dishonors or disrespects.

27:17 An Israelite equivalent to the Mesopotamian kudurru stone may be in view here—not just a boundary marker but a stone engraved with property details and rights, the taking of which amounted to theft of property (19:14).

27:18–19 Taking advantage of the helpless was cursed behavior. This was one indictment of Pharisees in Jesus' day (Matt. 23:14).

27:20 uncovereth his father's skirt. Dishonors his father. See note at 22:30.

27:26 confirmeth not. Rejects.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 27

1. Moses instructed Israel to "obey the voice of the LORD thy God, and to do his commandments and his statutes" (v. 10), because they were "the people of the LORD thy God" (v. 9). God's grace establishes one's relationship as a member of God's people, and obedience to His Word evidences that grace. Some confuse church membership or theological persuasion with citizenship among God's elect. But the primary mark that God observes and demands is obedience to His Word (1 John 2:3–5).
2. The ceremony at Ebal and Gerizim included all Israel affirming the curses proclaimed by saying "Amen," which means "may it be so." God expected the entire congregation of Israel to affirm His Word. In some congregations "Amen" is said audibly within the assembly. However, all Christians should affirm the Word in their hearts. At the essence of faith is saying "Amen" to God's promises in Christ Jesus (2 Cor. 1:20).

Blessings and Curses (28:1–68)

Chapter 28: Moses delineates the consequences of obedience and disobedience.

28:1 set thee on high. Exalt you among the nations.

28:4 fruit of thy body. Children. kine. Cattle (vv. 18,51)

28:5 store. Kneading troughs.

28:6 comest in . . . goest out. An idiom referring to all of life (v. 19).

28:7 seven ways. An idiom referring to every direction (v. 25).

28:20 vexation. Confusion.

28:22 consumption. Refers to a weakening of the physical body and may be pulmonary tuberculosis, which is accompanied by the fever, inflammation, and extreme burning. Tubercular decay has been found in Egyptian mummies. Judgment would include Egyptian diseases (vv. 27, 60; see note at 7:12). blasting. Blight.

28:23 brass . . . iron. Metaphors for producing neither rain nor vegetation.

28:26 fray. Make afraid, or chase off.

28:27 botch. Perhaps Egyptian boils (v. 35; Ex. 9:9–12). emerods. Perhaps hemorrhoids or tumors.

28:28 astonishment of heart. Confusion of mind.

28:29 grope. Feel one's way around.

28:37 byword. Taunt or proverb. A sign signifying the Lord's wrath.

28:40 coasts. Borders or regions.

28:53–57 See 2 Kings 6:24–29.

28:53,55,57 straitness. Distress.

28:54 The tenderhearted man would be callous and fierce.

28:56 adventure. To attempt.

28:59 wonderful. Refers to that which is extraordinary. sore. Severe.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 28

1. "Among these nations shalt thou find no ease . . . but the LORD shall give thee there a trembling heart" (v. 65). Fear is a result of sin (Gen. 3:10); thus Israel's sin would beget fear. "The wicked flee when no man pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion" (Prov. 28:1). The godly have nothing to fear, for they rest in the sovereign rule of God, who is good. The ungodly have every reason to fear. "The wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, those waters cast up mire and dirt. There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked" (Isa. 57:20–21).
2. God warned Israel that He would judge her sin by sending her into idolatry (v. 64). Sin becomes its own punishment. Divine wrath delivers the disobedient unto uncleanness, vile affections, and reprobate minds (Rom. 1:18–32), giving rebels over unto greater sin, corruption, and contamination. They sin without conscience. This counsels everyone to immediate repentance before they become past feeling toward sin in the blindness of the heart (Eph. 4:18–19). Of what sins do you need to repent right now?

CONCLUDING INSTRUCTION (29:1—30:20)

Chapter 29: The past reviews God's care of Israel, the present exhorts unto faithfulness, and the future expounds results of unfaithfulness.

Past Blessing (29:1–29)

29:1 beside the covenant. Likely a renewal of the covenant (5:2,3).

29:3 temptations. Trials.

29:4 Idolatrous nations saw their gods but saw none of their works. Israel did not see God but beheld His works—yet they could not recognize His glory in His works without the work of the Spirit to give them spiritual sight and hearing (1 Cor. 2:9–14).

29:5 are not waxen old. Have not worn out.

29:11 hewer of thy wood . . . drawer of thy water. Resident non-Israelites who gathered Israel's wood and carried her water (Josh. 9:21–27).

29:18 root. Metaphor for wayward people. gall. Bitterness or poison. wormwood. Figurative for bitterness.

29:19 in his heart. Sin originates in the heart (Mark 7:15–23; James 1:14–15). imagination. Stubbornness. add drunkenness to thirst. An uncertain Hebrew metaphor, most likely referring to delusion.

29:23 brimstone. Sulfur. Sodom and Gomorrah, often used as an example of judgment (Gen. 19; Isa. 1:10; Luke 17:28–35; 2 Peter 2:6).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 29

1. Warning against departure from God's law, Moses equated cursed actions with one who says, "I walk in the imagination of mine heart" (v. 19). Thereby he identifies the root of sin: the hardness of the heart. The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it and its secrets (Ps. 19:12; Jer. 17:9)? Those who follow their own hearts ignore God's law, resulting in sin (Prov. 3:1–8, Mark 7:15–23, Rom. 1:20–21). The heart departs from the Lord (Jer. 17:5). How can we overcome our own hearts?
2. Scripture provides information to satisfy faith, but not curiosity. God reveals and God conceals, thus "the secret things belong unto the LORD our God" (v. 29). Prophets did not understand all of the things they wrote (1 Peter 1:10–12), and Paul confessed "now we know in part" (1 Cor. 13:12). This should promote diligence in searching out what God has revealed and humility in our limited understanding. Even the God-inspired, inerrant writers possessed partial knowledge. God has not chosen to reveal everything concerning Himself, and it is not wise to speculate beyond what the Bible reveals.

Chapter 30: Moses assures God's mercy to the penitent and issues the final warning to heed God's covenant.

Reaffirmed Covenant (3:1–20)

30:3 turn thy captivity. Change the course of His judgments.

30:4 fetch. Gather together.

30:6 Circumcision distinguished Israel from the nations (Gen. 17:9–14). It symbolized putting off worldly cravings and pride from the heart (Lev. 26:41; Jer. 9:26; Ezek. 44:7,9; Acts 7:51) and putting on love for God in personal conversion (Deut. 10:16; Jer. 4:4), something worked ultimately by God (Deut. 29:4) through Christ and His Spirit (Rom. 2:29; Col. 2:10–15).

30:12–14 Paul cites this promise in Rom. 10:6–8. The message of the gospel is comprehensible; it is gracious revelation.

30:15–20 life and good, and death and evil (vv. 15,19). Responsibility for obedience rested upon Israel. Divine sovereignty does not diminish human responsibility.

30:18 denounce. To prophesy or declare.

30:19 record. To testify.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 30

1. God foreknew that despite His mercies Israel would rebel against Him and suffer the curses of the law. However, He had already planned long beforehand that He would restore His exiled people. Even more, He planned to restore them to repentance and supreme love for Him by the inward work of His grace. God is not trying to catch up with our sins and figure out how to patch up the mess we have made. God planned it all, and His sovereign grace will transform His elect at the time He has decreed in Christ.
2. The Lord has linked together love for Him, obedience to His commands, and experiencing His blessings (v. 16). We should see these three as inseparably one. Let us never divide what God has joined. Love and law are not opposites, but one. To love the Lord is to obey His laws. To walk in His ways is to be blessed by God. It is not merely the way to happiness, but it is our happiness to love Him and do His will. How would seeing love, obedience, and joy as one change the way people think about religion?

Chapter 31: Moses commissions Joshua and laments that Israel will ultimately break the covenant.

Moses' Farewell (31:1–13)

31:2 See Num. 20:12.

31:6 The Lord repeated these words in Josh. 1:6–9.

31:9 Moses wrote this law. Moses is the author of Deuteronomy and the books preceding it (vv. 19,22,24; Ex. 17:14; 24:4; 34:27; Num. 33:2).

31:11–13 Without mass printing, there were few written copies of the Law (Pentateuch); thus public reading was important. The public reading was evidence of Scripture's canonical authority as the rule of faith and obedience for God's people. Other biblical exhortations call for audible reading of Scripture (Neh. 8:4–8; 9:3; Luke 4:16–21; 1 Tim. 4:13; Rev. 1:3). This ensures that every generation would hear the Word of the Lord.

Jehovah's Warning (31:14–30)

31:16 shalt sleep. Die. go a whoring. A common image for falling away from the true God and committing spiritual adultery with other gods (Ex. 34:15–16; Lev. 17:7; 20:5–6; Num. 15:39). God foretold the failure of Israel to keep the covenant.

31:20 waxen fat. To become fat.

31:21 shall testify. The songs of God's praise served an important function in the religious life of Israel.

31:26 put it in the side of the ark. Depositing the book was also evidence of its canonical authority.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 31

1. Chapter 31 is a study in divine mercy. God knew that Israel would depart from Him. Yet He loved Israel and remained faithful. He provided the song of ch. 32 to remind and to reprimand Israel when they turned away. Anticipating our sinfulness, God calls us to repentance and promises grace before we even know we need it, grace to forgive and grace to change the heart, both through Jesus Christ (Acts 5:30–31).
2. One might imagine Joshua's burden as he contemplated leading Israel to claim the Canaanite homeland. This anxiety was addressed by Moses: "Be strong and of good courage, fear not . . . nor forsake thee" (31:6,23). God assured Joshua, "Thou shalt bring the children of Israel into the land," and promised, "I will be with thee" (v. 23). God ensures the completion of His call and purpose. What God has instructed us to do, He enables us to do.

Chapter 32: Moses' sermon-song extols the Lord and rebukes the wayward.

Song of Moses (32:1–52)

32:1–44 In cultures lacking print media, songs play an important role in transmitting knowledge to future generations. God employed this technique to give Israel an understanding of her history and of the Rock from whom her blessings, both past and future, came. These truths committed to song would pass from generation to generation, like the recurring yearly rains that refresh the earth (v. 2; cf. Ps. 78).

32:2 distil. Flow. small rain. Gentle rain.

32:3 publish. Proclaim.

32:4 He is the Rock. Five times God is called the Rock. This word refers to a huge, unmovable boulder. This imagery, realized in Christ (1 Cor. 10:4), is also used in other Old Testament songs. See 2 Sam. 22; Pss. 18; 28; 31; 42; 62; 71; 89. judgment. Justice. God's massive, solid, unchangeable glory is particularly highlighted with respect to His righteousness and faithfulness.

32:5 corrupted themselves. In stark contrast to the righteous Rock (v. 4), Israel is ruined by its sin. spot is not the spot. The people are blemished and not as His children should be.

32:6 requite. Repay or reward.

32:8 See Gen. 11.

32:10 apple of his eye. The pupil of the eye, which is sensitive and thus the object of protection.

32:12 strange god. God of a foreign country (v. 16).

32:14 kine. Cattle. kidneys of wheat. Finest part of the wheat. pure blood of the grape. The best juice from the grape.

32:15 Jeshurun. A name of endearment for Israel, meaning "upright" (33:5,26; Isa. 44:2). Here used ironically since they were not behaving uprightly. waxed fat. Became fat, an image of becoming insensitive. lightly esteemed the Rock of his salvation. Despised their glorious Savior.

32:17 sacrificed unto devils. Idolatry is devil worship (Lev. 17:7; 1 Cor. 10:20).

32:20 froward. Perverse.

32:21 vanities. Worthless idols.

32:22 lowest hell. Hebrew, sheol.

32:23 mischiefs. Calamities.

32:24 burnt with hunger. Suffered severe hunger.

32:25 suckling. Literally, a "tender plant," referring to a nursing child.

32:33 dragons. Serpents.

32:36 repent himself. An expression meaning to show compassion.

32:41 whet. Sharpen.

32:44 Hoshea. Joshua.

32:51 See Num. 20:11–13; 21:14.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 32

1. "Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits" (Ps. 103:2). Moses' song reviews God's blessings and warnings. Israel would thus review God's goodness and cautions whenever the song was sung. God's works should be remembered by frequent recitation, and His words should be quoted as the key to understanding life's events.
2. We see in this chapter a sobering contrast between the Lord and humanity. God is the "Rock," righteous and true, powerful and unchangeable. However, despite all that the Lord did in choosing, redeeming, and caring for Israel, the people despised Him and provoked His holy vengeance. Centuries later, those returning from exile would remember their national history and confess to the Lord, "thou has done right, but we have done wickedly" (Neh. 9:33). Therefore, let us humble ourselves, for we are no better than they, but let us worship the Lord, for He is the Rock of salvation.

Chapter 33: Moses blesses each of the tribes of Israel.

Blessing the Tribes (33:1–29)

33:1 Blessings before death were common (Gen. 49).

33:2 ten thousands of saints. Holy ones, here angels (Acts 7:53; Gal. 3:19; Heb. 2:2).

33:5 Jeshurun. See note at 32:15. tribes. All but Simeon are mentioned.

33:8 Thummim and . . . Urim. See Ex. 28:30. prove. To try or test (Ex. 17).

33:9 not seen him. Perhaps referring to the Levites' destruction of their brothers after the golden calf (Ex. 32:25–29).

33:11 loins. Considered the center of one's strength.

33:12 between his shoulders. Chest.

33:13 coucheth. Lies down.

33:16 bush. See Ex. 3:2–6.

33:17 bullock. Ox. unicorns. Wild oxen.

33:19 suck. Or to soak up, denoting great prosperity.

33:22 whelp. Cub.

33:24 dip his foot in oil. A sign of prosperity.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 33

1. A leader's proper role is to selflessly bless his followers. Moses chose "to suffer affliction with the people of God" and esteemed "the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt" (Heb. 11:25–26), so that he might bring Israel into the blessings promised to them centuries earlier. Fathers and leaders are to be "used up" for the good of those placed under their authority. Jesus Christ is the premier example of this.
2. "Happy art thou, O Israel: who is like unto thee, O people saved by the LORD" (v. 29). No other nation has experienced such blessing as Israel. This signified that God had set Israel apart unto Himself. What national Israel experienced is ultimately true of the church. Christ's people are set apart unto Him and blessed. There are no peoples comparable to Christ's true church. "Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God" (1 John 3:1). It is good to ponder this truth and then to offer praise to God for all the benefits of His saving grace.

Chapter 34: Moses views the Promised Land and dies.

CONCLUSION: MOSES' DEATH AND JOSHUA'S SUCCESSION (34:1–12)

34:1–4 Moses viewed the Promised Land from northernmost Dan to its southernmost region.

34:5–9 The report of Moses' death in a book which he authored is not problematic. Moses had many "assistants" (Ex. 18:13–24), an absolute necessity for a man handling his responsibilities. Surely scribes were among them, who recorded "the words which Moses spake unto all Israel" (1:1). It is reasonable that they would conclude their record by reporting Moses' death, burial, the mourning that ensued (v. 8), and the transfer of authority to Joshua (v. 9). Divine inspiration guaranteed canonicity and preservation.

34:6 sepulchre. Grave. See Jude 9.

34:10 face to face. Intimately (Num. 12:8; Deut. 18:15–18).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 34

1. Moses led the nation out of Egypt and through the wilderness, but the privilege of leading Israel into Canaan was reserved for Joshua. Piece by piece, portions of God's work are done by servants of His choosing. Each should recognize that he is a small piece of a larger work that God is doing. We work earnestly in the progress of God's kingdom, yet it may be God's wisdom to allow others to take the prize we sought. In God's plan, there is always a Joshua to replace a Moses, and in the end all is of the Lord.
2. Moses, whom the Lord knew "face to face" (v. 10), experienced divine intimacy unknown to any other leader except Christ (18:18; John 1:17–18; Acts 3:20–23; Heb. 3:4–6). Yet the Son of God reveals the Father to whomever He pleases (Matt. 11:27). He enables us to know the true God, and such knowledge gives eternal life (John 17:3,6; 1 John 5:20). One day, believers in Christ will also know God face-to-face (1 Cor. 13:12; Rev. 22:4), and intimacy with Him will be their eternal joy. How does that give us hope?

The Uses of the Moral Law

The law is God's revealed will for the life of angels in heaven and humans on earth. As such, it is called the moral law. Three great summaries of the moral law have been given in history. First, God charged Adam and Eve: "Be fruitful and multiply, and replenish the earth and subdue it," adding that, "Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat: but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die" (Gen. 1:28; 2:16,17).

God gave the second summary to Moses at Sinai in the Ten Commandments, writing it with His own finger on stone tablets (Ex. 31:18; 32:16). This summary is reported in Exodus 20 and Deuteronomy 5. The whole body of Mosaic legislation, including the directory for worship known as the ceremonial law and the various civil laws given to Israel "as a body politic" (Westminster Confession of Faith, 19.3–4), is only the outworking of these "ten words," as they are called in Hebrew.

Finally, the Lord Jesus Christ, challenged to identify the great commandment of the law, reduced all to just two commandments: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets" (Matt. 22:36–40).

Under the gospel, the ceremonial law has been abrogated and the civil law has expired. But the moral law—written on the human heart at creation, ratified as the covenant of works, and confirmed by Christ—continues to bind all human beings to obey it. Of what use is the law to mankind in general? Before the fall, the law directed Adam to a blessed way of life. Since the fall, it can only serve to restrain sin, expose human sinfulness, condemn every sinner, and show how much we need Christ as the only Savior. Paul writes, "By the law is the knowledge of sin" (Rom. 3:20); "I had not known sin, but by the law" (Rom. 7:7).

So the moral law teaches us the reality of sin. Fallen, sinful human beings remain moral agents by nature, accountable to their Maker. Their conduct must be judged by His law. "Sin is any want of conformity unto, or transgression of the law of God" (Westminster Shorter Catechism, Q. 14). This definition frees us from slavish conformity to the laws and commandments of men, but it brings us face to face with the righteous demands of a holy God.

Because Christ blotted out "the handwriting of ordinances that was against us . . . and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross" (Col. 2:14), some have taught that the moral law is no longer binding on Christians as "justified persons." But this "handwriting" was the law's sentence of condemnation on all who disobey. Christ died to atone for our sins, thus voiding that sentence of condemnation.

But the law is still of great use to the Christian. It teaches him to know his own sinful nature, to be earnest in seeking forgiveness of sin and righteousness in Christ, to hate all sin, and to delight in all righteousness. It is a mark of grace to love God's law as a rule of life (Ps. 119:97). The child of God wants to please his heavenly Father by doing His will on earth. Faith moves him, grace enables him, love constrains him, and the law of God directs him in the new life of obedience in Christ.

Introduction to the Historical Books

The Historical Books constitute a large segment of the Old Testament. In the English Bible, these books are sequential beginning with Joshua and ending with Esther. The Hebrew Bible is divided into three sections: the Law, the Prophets and the Writings. The books of history are in the second and third divisions: Except for Ruth, Joshua through 2 Kings are part of the Prophets, usually referred to as the Former Prophets, whereas Ruth, Esther, Ezra, Nehemiah and 1, 2 Chronicles are in the Writings. The books are the same; the order is different.

That so much of the Old Testament is history is significant. On one hand, it marks biblical religion as different from other religions in the Ancient Near East, whether Egyptian, Canaanite, or Mesopotamian. Virtually all the religious literature from Israel's neighbors was in the form of myths that describe the adventures of humanly conceived deities that were often humanized with more vices than virtues. But in the religion of Scripture, the one true and living God, who eternally exists independently of man's conceptions, actually reveals Himself to people in real time and space. Biblical religion rests on a historical foundation. Biblical religion, Christianity, is fact not fiction or make-believe.

On another hand, the Historical books are essential for tracing God's redemptive plan and purpose that reaches its climax in the fullness of time when Christ would come. The Historical Books flesh out the Seed promise revealed in the Pentateuch. The seed of the woman would come through the seed of Abraham through the seed of Isaac through the seed of Jacob/Israel. There had to be an Israel if there was going to be Christ (Rom. 9:4-5). Consequently, the whole checkered history of Israel contributes directly to the revelation of God's redemptive message. There were times when it appeared the serpent's seed would gain the advantage and thwart the progress, but over and again, whether the opposition came from outside the nation or as so frequently from inside, God's purpose in preparing the way for Christ to come directly into time and space to deal with sin could not be frustrated.

The unfolding of God's redemptive plan recorded in the record of Hebrew history includes many salient spiritual lessons along the way. There is more to history than just facts about people, event or dates. Significantly, the Psalmist, before surveying Israel's history, said that he would open his "mouth in a parable" (Ps. 78:2). In other words, the facts of history were like something else, something in the spiritual sphere (see 1 Cor. 10:6,11). Biblical history teaches lessons in morality and ethics, the consequences of sin, and the blessings of obedience and faithfulness to God's gracious covenant.

Biblical history's connection to the progression of redemption with all of redemption's implications and applications makes it unique among historical records. That uniqueness sometimes puts Old Testament history at odds with secular accounts that recorded the same event. Not surprisingly, rationalistic critics of the Scripture cite these points of disagreement as evidence of mistakes in the Bible. Rather, the points of contradiction evidence error in the secular accounts. Understanding something of the nature of writing history helps to confirm this conclusion. Writing history requires two things: knowledge of the past and a point of view that determines what is significant from the past. Every secular history suffers on both accounts. No human author knows all the past, and every human author has a point of view that reflects a particular agenda. Every secular history, therefore, is limited and biased. Particularly in the ancient world, most historical documents were official state records designed to create and preserve a legacy for the king; they were intentionally biased and based on incomplete knowledge of facts. To write a truly significant history requires omniscience and a pure motive or agenda. Only God knows everything and has the infinitely holy perspective to select from all the past what is really important. In a very real sense, the Bible is the only truly significant and infallibly accurate history ever written. So of all the things that happened in the world from the fourteenth to the fifth centuries BC, the Historical Books record the most important things to know and to believe.

The centuries of Hebrew history covered by the Historical Books logically fall into six divisions: Conquest (1406-1380 BC), Judges (1380-1050 BC), Monarchy (1050-931 BC), Divided Monarchy (931-586 BC), Exile (586-539 BC), and Post-Exile (539-424 BC). Each of these periods in some way relates to promises and warnings of the Pentateuch, particularly Deuteronomy. One of the great themes of Deuteronomy concerned God's promise of land, the possession of which was conditioned by faith and obedience to the demands of the covenant. The land referred to literal territory, but more significantly, God used the land as an object lesson to represent the fullness of spiritual blessing. Rest in the land was associated with the experience and enjoyment of God's presence. Moses made it clear that both entrance and continuance in the land required faith. Three parts of the land contract are evident in the Historical Books. First, if they kept the commandments, the Lord would bless them in the land (Deut. 28:1-2, 8-13). Second, if they violated the commandments, particularly by going after other gods, the Lord would curse them (Deut. 28:14-15) primarily by plucking them up from the land and scattering them among the nations (Deut. 28:63-64). Third, if they returned to the Lord, He would be gracious and gather them back to the land (Deut. 30:2-3). The checkered history of Israel mirrors each of these contractual points.

The Lord's behind-the-scene manipulation of nations was His primary method of executing the components of the land contract. In the conquest, sovereignty over the various Canaanite nations was obvious as the Lord fought for Israel. During the judges, the Lord used some of those same Canaanites as the instrument of His chastening of His people. This means of accomplishing His will was most obvious when the time came for Israel and then for Judah to be expelled from the land. Regarding Israel, the Lord used the Assyrians as His weapon. Militarily and politically, Assyria had become the most powerful nation in the world of the Near East, and they forged a plan of deportation to control their vast territories. It is notable that this seems to be the first time in the history of ancient warfare that this tactic was employed, at the very time when God exiled Israel (722 BC). The Assyrians were powerful enough to conquer Judah as well, but God prevented them from doing so until Judah's sin was ripe for judgment. That day came, and God then used the Babylonians to accomplish His purpose. In three stages (605, 597, 586 BC), the Babylonians under God's servant Nebuchadnezzar exiled Judah from the land. But the day came when God purposed to bring the people back. When that time came, God raised Cyrus, the Persian King. Whereas the Babylonians continued Assyria's practice of deportation, Cyrus changed policies by allowing previously exiled people to return to their native lands, including Judah. Although Cyrus and the Assyrian and Babylonian kings before him were ignorant of their manipulation by God and their role in divine providence, they were nonetheless His subjects and accountable to Him.

The message of the Historical Books is clear that God controls time, circumstance, individuals and kingdoms to accomplish His purpose. As you read through all the narratives, pay attention and learn the immediate lessons that will direct behavior. But as you read all the details and learn all the specific lessons, do so with the eye open to where the history is leading. Christ is coming.

JOSHUA

Authorship

Most conservatives, as well as Jewish tradition, attribute the book to Joshua, the successor of Moses. Joshua 24:26 states explicitly, “Joshua wrote these words in the book of the law of God.” Even if this refers specifically to his farewell address, the first person references and personal biographical insights throughout the book point to his authorship of the whole. The reference to his death and burial (24:29–30) could be an addition by another inspired prophet, just as Joshua himself may have appended the reference to Moses’ death to Deuteronomy (34:5–8). Joshua’s name means either “Jehovah saves” or “Jehovah is salvation.” It is the Hebrew equivalent to the Greek “Jesus.” In Heb. 4:8, “Jesus” is clearly the Old Testament “Joshua.” According to Num. 13:8,16 his name was originally Hosea, meaning “salvation” (“Oshea” in the KJV), but Moses lengthened it to Joshua (“Jehoshua” in the KJV) when he chose him to be one of the twelve spies. The name change puts in focus the truth that although “Hosea” was the human leader, it was in fact Jehovah who led and delivered the nation into the Promised Land. By his name and his work, Joshua points to his ideal namesake, the Lord Jesus Christ.

Date

1406–1386 BC. It is generally assumed that the events of Joshua cover approximately twenty years. Dating the conquest is inseparably linked to the exodus. These dates follow from the traditionally conservative dating of the exodus to the mid-fifteenth century about 1446 BC (based on calculations from 1 Kings 6:1). The year 1406 would mark the end of the wilderness experience, and 1386 would coincide with the death of Joshua at 110 years old (24:29). Although subject to interpretation, significant archaeological evidence exists to support the biblical evidence of the conquest, including the date. This would include site excavations and especially the Tell el-Amarna letters (correspondence between Canaanite cities and Egypt) that very likely describe the conquest from the Canaanite perspective.

Theme

Conquest and Inheritance: God fulfills His promise to give Israel the land of Canaan. Several subthemes interweave to develop the principal theme, such as the presence of the Lord (particularly in the symbolism of the ark), the power of the Lord (demonstrated in supernatural acts), and the judgment of the Lord (evidenced in the divine sentence against the Canaanites). Joshua 21:45 sums up the principal theme: “There failed not ought of any good thing which the LORD had spoken.”

Purpose

To show God’s fidelity to His covenant promises and the necessity of living by faith by relying on and acting on the reality of the promises.

Synopsis

The Contribution of Joshua to Redemptive Revelation

Joshua, by recording the historical facts of the conquest and allotment of Canaan, interprets and illustrates the message of redemption along several lines—not the least of which is that Joshua was a type or a prophetic figure pointing to the greater Joshua (Jesus) to come. His encounter with "the captain of the Lord's host"—a Christophany or preincarnate appearance of Jesus—at the beginning of his career (5:13–15) suggests that there was a leader of the people greater than he. Joshua, leading Israel into their inheritance, is a picture-prophecy of Jesus, leading His church to glory (see Heb. 2:10, where Christ is specifically identified as the "captain of their salvation"). The Promised Land symbolizes the inheritance and spiritual rest that belongs to God's people in the experience and enjoyment of His presence (Heb. 4:8–11).

That Israel conquered the land in increments vividly pictures the progressive nature of sanctification. God dispossessed the Canaanites and gave the land to Israel as their possession. Nonetheless, Israel had to fight to expel the Canaanites. So spiritually, Christ has conquered sin so that it no longer has dominion over us (Rom. 6:14), yet we must actively be engaged in fighting against sin (Rom. 6:12–13). Victory over one city led to another city to conquer. So we must die more and more to sin and live more and more to righteousness. Sanctification progresses until glorification.

Joshua also shows the need for the gospel by underscoring the terrible consequences of sin. The divine sentence against the Canaanites testifies to the certain execution of divine justice. Similarly, the episode with Achan (ch. 7) illustrates the power of sin to affect others and the impossibility of hiding sin from God. Joshua shows that there is more to biblical history than just facts.

THE BOOK OF

JOSHUA

Joshua 1 [†]

1 [†] Now after the death of Moses the servant of the Lord it came to pass, that the Lord spake unto Joshua the son of Nun, Moses' minister, saying,
2 [†] Moses my servant is dead; now therefore arise, go over this Jordan, thou, and all this people, unto the land which I do give to them, even to the children of Israel.
3 [†] Every place that the sole of your foot shall tread upon, that have I given unto you, as I said unto Moses.
4 [†] From the wilderness and this Lebanon even unto the great river, the river Euphrates, all the land of the Hittites, and unto the great sea toward the going down of the sun, shall be your coast.
5 [†] There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life: as I was with Moses, so I will be with thee: I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee.
6 [†] Be strong and of a good courage: for unto this people shalt thou divide for an inheritance the land, which I sware unto their fathers to give them.
7 [†] Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, which Moses my servant commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest.
8 [†] This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success.
9 Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.
10 [†] ¶ Then Joshua commanded the officers of the people, saying,
11 [†] Pass through the host, and command the people, saying, Prepare you victuals; for within three days ye shall pass over this Jordan, to go in to possess the land, which the Lord your God giveth you to possess it.
12 [†] ¶ And to the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, and to half the tribe of Manasseh, spake Joshua, saying,
13 [†] Remember the word which Moses the servant of the Lord commanded you, saying, The Lord your God hath given you rest, and hath given you this land.
14 Your wives, your little ones, and your cattle, shall remain in the land which Moses gave you on this side Jordan; but ye shall pass before your brethren armed, all the mighty men of valour, and help them;
15 Until the Lord have given your brethren rest, as he hath given you, and they also have possessed the land which the Lord your God giveth them: then ye shall return unto the land of your possession, and enjoy it, which Moses the Lord's servant gave you on this side Jordan toward the sunrising.
16 ¶ And they answered Joshua, saying, All that thou commandest us we will do, and whithersoever thou sendest us, we will go.
17 According as we hearkened unto Moses in all things, so will we hearken unto thee: only the Lord thy God be with thee, as he was with Moses.
18 Whosoever he be that doth rebel against thy commandment, and will not hearken unto thy words in all that thou commandest him, he shall be put to death: only be strong and of a good courage.

Joshua 2 [†]

1 [†] And Joshua the son of Nun sent out of Shittim two men to spy secretly, saying, Go view the land, even Jericho. And they went, and came into an harlot's house, named Rahab, and lodged there.
2 [†] And it was told the king of Jericho, saying, Behold, there came men in hither to night of the children of Israel to search out the country.
3 [†] And the king of Jericho sent unto Rahab, saying, Bring forth the men that are come to thee, which are entered into thine house: for they be come to search out all the country.
4 [†] And the woman took the two men, and hid them, and said thus, There came men unto me, but I wist not whence they were:
5 And it came to pass about the time of shutting of the gate, when it was dark, that the men went out: whither the men went I wot not: pursue after them quickly; for ye shall overtake them.
6 But she had brought them up to the roof of the house, and hid them with the stalks of flax, which she had laid in order upon the roof.
7 And the men pursued after them the way to Jordan unto the fords: and as soon as they which pursued after them were gone out, they shut the gate.
8 ¶ And before they were laid down, she came up unto them upon the roof;
9 [†] And she said unto the men, I know that the Lord hath given you the land, and that your terror is fallen upon us, and that all the inhabitants of the land faint because of you.
10 For we have heard how the Lord dried up the water of the Red sea for you, when ye came out of Egypt; and what ye did unto the two kings of the Amorites, that were on the other side Jordan, Sihon and Og, whom ye utterly destroyed.
11 And as soon as we had heard these things, our hearts did melt, neither did there remain any more courage in any man, because of you: for the Lord your God, he is God in heaven above, and in earth beneath.
12 Now therefore, I pray you, swear unto me by the Lord, since I have shewed you kindness, that ye will also shew kindness unto my father's house, and give me a true token:
13 And that ye will save alive my father, and my mother, and my brethren, and my sisters, and all that they have, and deliver our lives from death.
14 [†] And the men answered her, Our life for yours, if ye utter not this our business. And it shall be, when the Lord hath given us the land, that we will deal kindly and truly with thee.
15 Then she let them down by a cord through the window: for her house was upon the town wall, and she dwelt upon the wall.
16 And she said unto them, Get you to the mountain, lest the pursuers meet you; and hide yourselves there three days, until the pursuers be returned: and afterward may ye go your way.
17 [†] And the men said unto her, We will be blameless of this thine oath which thou hast made us swear.
18 Behold, when we come into the land, thou shalt bind this line of scarlet thread in the window which thou didst let us down by: and thou shalt bring thy father, and thy mother, and thy brethren, and all thy father's household, home unto thee.
19 And it shall be, that whosoever shall go out of the doors of thy house into the street, his blood shall be upon his head, and we will be guiltless: and whosoever shall be with thee in the house, his blood shall be on our head, if any hand be upon him.
20 And if thou utter this our business, then we will be quit of thine oath which thou hast made us to swear.
21 And she said, According unto your words, so be it. And she sent them away, and they departed: and she bound the scarlet line in the window.

22 And they went, and came unto the mountain, and abode there three days, until the pursuers were returned: and the pursuers sought them throughout all the way, but found them not.
23 [†] ¶ So the two men returned, and descended from the mountain, and passed over, and came to Joshua the son of Nun, and told him all things that befell them:
24 [†] And they said unto Joshua, Truly the LORD hath delivered into our hands all the land; for even all the inhabitants of the country do faint because of us.

Joshua 3 [†]

1 [†] And Joshua rose early in the morning; and they removed from Shittim, and came to Jordan, he and all the children of Israel, and lodged there before they passed over.
2 [†] And it came to pass after three days, that the officers went through the host;
3 [†] And they commanded the people, saying, When ye see the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God, and the priests the Levites bearing it, then ye shall remove from your place, and go after it.
4 [†] Yet there shall be a space between you and it, about two thousand cubits by measure: come not near unto it, that ye may know the way by which ye must go: for ye have not passed this way heretofore.
5 [†] And Joshua said unto the people, Sanctify yourselves: for to morrow the Lord will do wonders among you.
6 And Joshua spake unto the priests, saying, Take up the ark of the covenant, and pass over before the people. And they took up the ark of the covenant, and went before the people.
7 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Joshua, This day will I begin to magnify thee in the sight of all Israel, that they may know that, as I was with Moses, so I will be with thee.
8 [†] And thou shalt command the priests that bear the ark of the covenant, saying, When ye are come to the brink of the water of Jordan, ye shall stand still in Jordan.
9 ¶ And Joshua said unto the children of Israel, Come hither, and hear the words of the Lord your God.
10 [†] And Joshua said, Hereby ye shall know that the living God is among you, and that he will without fail drive out from before you the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Hivites, and the Perizzites, and the Girgashites, and the Amorites, and the Jebusites.
11 Behold, the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth passeth over before you into Jordan.
12 Now therefore take you twelve men out of the tribes of Israel, out of every tribe a man.
13 [†] And it shall come to pass, as soon as the soles of the feet of the priests that bear the ark of the Lord, the Lord of all the earth, shall rest in the waters of Jordan, that the waters of Jordan shall be cut off from the waters that come down from above; and they shall stand upon an heap.
14 ¶ And it came to pass, when the people removed from their tents, to pass over Jordan, and the priests bearing the ark of the covenant before the people;
15 [†] And as they that bare the ark were come unto Jordan, and the feet of the priests that bare the ark were dipped in the brim of the water, (for Jordan overfloweth all his banks all the time of harvest,)
16 [†] That the waters which came down from above stood and rose up upon an heap very far from the city Adam, that is beside Zaretan: and those that came down toward the sea of the plain, even the salt sea, failed, and were cut off: and the people passed over right against Jericho.
17 [†] And the priests that bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord stood firm on dry ground in the midst of Jordan, and all the Israelites passed over on dry ground, until all the people were passed clean over Jordan.

Joshua 4 [†]

1 And it came to pass, when all the people were clean passed over Jordan, that the Lord spake unto Joshua, saying,
2 Take you twelve men out of the people, out of every tribe a man,
3 And command ye them, saying, Take you hence out of the midst of Jordan, out of the place where the priests' feet stood firm, twelve stones, and ye shall carry them over with you, and leave them in the lodging place, where ye shall lodge this night.
4 Then Joshua called the twelve men, whom he had prepared of the children of Israel, out of every tribe a man:
5 And Joshua said unto them, Pass over before the ark of the Lord your God into the midst of Jordan, and take ye up every man of you a stone upon his shoulder, according unto the number of the tribes of the children of Israel:
6 [†] That this may be a sign among you, that when your children ask their fathers in time to come, saying, What mean ye by these stones?
7 Then ye shall answer them, That the waters of Jordan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of the Lord; when it passed over Jordan, the waters of Jordan were cut off: and these stones shall be for a memorial unto the children of Israel for ever.
8 And the children of Israel did so as Joshua commanded, and took up twelve stones out of the midst of Jordan, as the Lord spake unto Joshua, according to the number of the tribes of the children of Israel, and carried them over with them unto the place where they lodged, and laid them down there.
9 [†] And Joshua set up twelve stones in the midst of Jordan, in the place where the feet of the priests which bare the ark of the covenant stood: and they are there unto this day.
10 ¶ For the priests which bare the ark stood in the midst of Jordan, until every thing was finished that the Lord commanded Joshua to speak unto the people, according to all that Moses commanded Joshua: and the people hasted and passed over.
11 [†] And it came to pass, when all the people were clean passed over, that the ark of the Lord passed over, and the priests, in the presence of the people.
12 And the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh, passed over armed before the children of Israel, as Moses spake unto them:
13 About forty thousand prepared for war passed over before the Lord unto battle, to the plains of Jericho.
14 [†] ¶ On that day the Lord magnified Joshua in the sight of all Israel; and they feared him, as they feared Moses, all the days of his life.
15 And the Lord spake unto Joshua, saying,
16 Command the priests that bear the ark of the testimony, that they come up out of Jordan.
17 Joshua therefore commanded the priests, saying, Come ye up out of Jordan.
18 And it came to pass, when the priests that bare the ark of the covenant of the Lord were come up out of the midst of Jordan, and the soles of the priests' feet were lifted up unto the dry land, that the waters of Jordan returned unto their place, and flowed over all his banks, as they did before.
19 ¶ And the people came up out of Jordan on the tenth day of the first month, and encamped in Gilgal, in the east border of Jericho.
20 And those twelve stones, which they took out of Jordan, did Joshua pitch in Gilgal.
21 And he spake unto the children of Israel, saying, When your children shall ask their fathers in time to come, saying, What mean these stones?
22 Then ye shall let your children know, saying, Israel came over this Jordan on dry land.

23 For the LORD your God dried up the waters of Jordan from before you, until ye were passed over, as the LORD your God did to the Red sea, which he dried up from before us, until we were gone over:
24 [†] That all the people of the earth might know the hand of the LORD, that it is mighty: that ye might fear the LORD your God for ever.

Joshua 5 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass, when all the kings of the Amorites, which were on the side of Jordan westward, and all the kings of the Canaanites, which were by the sea, heard that the Lord had dried up the waters of Jordan from before the children of Israel, until we were passed over, that their heart melted, neither was there spirit in them any more, because of the children of Israel.
2 [†] ¶ At that time the Lord said unto Joshua, Make thee sharp knives, and circumcise again the children of Israel the second time.
3 And Joshua made him sharp knives, and circumcised the children of Israel at the hill of the foreskins.
4 And this is the cause why Joshua did circumcise: All the people that came out of Egypt, that were males, even all the men of war, died in the wilderness by the way, after they came out of Egypt.
5 Now all the people that came out were circumcised: but all the people that were born in the wilderness by the way as they came forth out of Egypt, them they had not circumcised.
6 For the children of Israel walked forty years in the wilderness, till all the people that were men of war, which came out of Egypt, were consumed, because they obeyed not the voice of the Lord: unto whom the Lord sware that he would not shew them the land, which the Lord sware unto their fathers that he would give us, a land that floweth with milk and honey.
7 And their children, whom he raised up in their stead, them Joshua circumcised: for they were uncircumcised, because they had not circumcised them by the way.
8 [†] And it came to pass, when they had done circumcising all the people, that they abode in their places in the camp, till they were whole.
9 [†] And the Lord said unto Joshua, This day have I rolled away the reproach of Egypt from off you. Wherefore the name of the place is called Gilgal unto this day.
10 [†] ¶ And the children of Israel encamped in Gilgal, and kept the passover on the fourteenth day of the month at even in the plains of Jericho.
11 [†] And they did eat of the old corn of the land on the morrow after the passover, unleavened cakes, and parched corn in the selfsame day.
12 ¶ And the manna ceased on the morrow after they had eaten of the old corn of the land; neither had the children of Israel manna any more; but they did eat of the fruit of the land of Canaan that year.
13 ¶ And it came to pass, when Joshua was by Jericho, that he lifted up his eyes and looked, and, behold, there stood a man over against him with his sword drawn in his hand: and Joshua went unto him, and said unto him, Art thou for us, or for our adversaries?
14 [†] And he said, Nay; but as captain of the host of the Lord am I now come. And Joshua fell on his face to the earth, and did worship, and said unto him, What saith my lord unto his servant?
15 [†] And the captain of the Lord's host said unto Joshua, Loose thy shoe from off thy foot; for the place whereon thou standest is holy. And Joshua did so.

Joshua 6 [†]

1 [†] Now Jericho was straitly shut up because of the children of Israel: none went out, and none came in.
2 And the Lord said unto Joshua, See, I have given into thine hand Jericho, and the king thereof, and the mighty men of valour.
3 [†] And ye shall compass the city, all ye men of war, and go round about the city once. Thus shalt thou do six days.
4 [†] And seven priests shall bear before the ark seven trumpets of rams' horns: and the seventh day ye shall compass the city seven times, and the priests shall blow with the trumpets.
5 [†] And it shall come to pass, that when they make a long blast with the ram's horn, and when ye hear the sound of the trumpet, all the people shall shout with a great shout; and the wall of the city shall fall down flat, and the people shall ascend up every man straight before him.
6 ¶ And Joshua the son of Nun called the priests, and said unto them, Take up the ark of the covenant, and let seven priests bear seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the Lord.
7 [†] And he said unto the people, Pass on, and compass the city, and let him that is armed pass on before the ark of the Lord.
8 ¶ And it came to pass, when Joshua had spoken unto the people, that the seven priests bearing the seven trumpets of rams' horns passed on before the Lord, and blew with the trumpets: and the ark of the covenant of the Lord followed them.
9 [†] ¶ And the armed men went before the priests that blew with the trumpets, and the rereward came after the ark, the priests going on, and blowing with the trumpets.
10 And Joshua had commanded the people, saying, Ye shall not shout, nor make any noise with your voice, neither shall any word proceed out of your mouth, until the day I bid you shout; then shall ye shout.
11 So the ark of the Lord compassed the city, going about it once: and they came into the camp, and lodged in the camp.
12 ¶ And Joshua rose early in the morning, and the priests took up the ark of the Lord.
13 And seven priests bearing seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the Lord went on continually, and blew with the trumpets: and the armed men went before them; but the rereward came after the ark of the Lord, the priests going on, and blowing with the trumpets.
14 And the second day they compassed the city once, and returned into the camp: so they did six days.
15 And it came to pass on the seventh day, that they rose early about the dawning of the day, and compassed the city after the same manner seven times: only on that day they compassed the city seven times.
16 And it came to pass at the seventh time, when the priests blew with the trumpets, Joshua said unto the people, Shout; for the Lord hath given you the city.
17 [†] ¶ And the city shall be accursed, even it, and all that are therein, to the Lord: only Rahab the harlot shall live, she and all that are with her in the house, because she hid the messengers that we sent.
18 [†] And ye, in any wise keep yourselves from the accursed thing, lest ye make yourselves accursed, when ye take of the accursed thing, and make the camp of Israel a curse, and trouble it.
19 [†] But all the silver, and gold, and vessels of brass and iron, are consecrated unto the Lord: they shall come into the treasury of the Lord.
20 [†] So the people shouted when the priests blew with the trumpets: and it came to pass, when the people heard the sound of the trumpet, and the people shouted with a great shout, that the wall fell down flat, so that the people went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they took the city.

21 [†] And they utterly destroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, young and old, and ox, and sheep, and ass, with the edge of the sword.
22 But Joshua had said unto the two men that had spied out the country, Go into the harlot's house, and bring out thence the woman, and all that she hath, as ye sware unto her.
23 And the young men that were spies went in, and brought out Rahab, and her father, and her mother, and her brethren, and all that she had; and they brought out all her kindred, and left them without the camp of Israel.
24 And they burnt the city with fire, and all that was therein: only the silver, and the gold, and the vessels of brass and of iron, they put into the treasury of the house of the LORD.
25 And Joshua saved Rahab the harlot alive, and her father's household, and all that she had; and she dwelleth in Israel even unto this day; because she hid the messengers, which Joshua sent to spy out Jericho.
26 [†] ¶ And Joshua adjured them at that time, saying, Cursed be the man before the LORD, that riseth up and buildeth this city Jericho: he shall lay the foundation thereof in his firstborn, and in his youngest son shall he set up the gates of it.
27 [†] So the LORD was with Joshua; and his fame was noised throughout all the country.

Joshua 7 [†]

1 [†] But the children of Israel committed a trespass in the accursed thing: for Achan, the son of Carmi, the son of Zabdi, the son of Zerah, of the tribe of Judah, took of the accursed thing: and the anger of the Lord was kindled against the children of Israel.
2 [†] And Joshua sent men from Jericho to Ai, which is beside Beth-aven, on the east side of Beth-el, and spake unto them, saying, Go up and view the country. And the men went up and viewed Ai.
3 [†] And they returned to Joshua, and said unto him, Let not all the people go up; but let about two or three thousand men go up and smite Ai; and make not all the people to labour thither; for they are but few.
4 So there went up thither of the people about three thousand men: and they fled before the men of Ai.
5 [†] And the men of Ai smote of them about thirty and six men: for they chased them from before the gate even unto Shebarim, and smote them in the going down: wherefore the hearts of the people melted, and became as water.
6 [†] ¶ And Joshua rent his clothes, and fell to the earth upon his face before the ark of the Lord until the eventide, he and the elders of Israel, and put dust upon their heads.
7 [†] And Joshua said, Alas, O Lord God, wherefore hast thou at all brought this people over Jordan, to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites, to destroy us? would to God we had been content, and dwelt on the other side Jordan!
8 O Lord, what shall I say, when Israel turneth their backs before their enemies!
9 [†] For the Canaanites and all the inhabitants of the land shall hear of it, and shall environ us round, and cut off our name from the earth: and what wilt thou do unto thy great name?
10 ¶ And the Lord said unto Joshua, Get thee up; wherefore liest thou thus upon thy face?
11 [†] Israel hath sinned, and they have also transgressed my covenant which I commanded them: for they have even taken of the accursed thing, and have also stolen, and dissembled also, and they have put it even among their own stuff.
12 Therefore the children of Israel could not stand before their enemies, but turned their backs before their enemies, because they were accursed: neither will I be with you any more, except ye destroy the accursed from among you.
13 [†] Up, sanctify the people, and say, Sanctify yourselves against to morrow: for thus saith the Lord God of Israel, There is an accursed thing in the midst of thee, O Israel: thou canst not stand before thine enemies, until ye take away the accursed thing from among you.
14 In the morning therefore ye shall be brought according to your tribes: and it shall be, that the tribe which the Lord taketh shall come according to the families thereof; and the family which the Lord shall take shall come by households; and the household which the Lord shall take shall come man by man.
15 [†] And it shall be, that he that is taken with the accursed thing shall be burnt with fire, he and all that he hath: because he hath transgressed the covenant of the Lord, and because he hath wrought folly in Israel.
16 [†] ¶ So Joshua rose up early in the morning, and brought Israel by their tribes; and the tribe of Judah was taken:
17 And he brought the family of Judah; and he took the family of the Zarhites: and he brought the family of the Zarhites man by man; and Zabdi was taken:
18 And he brought his household man by man; and Achan, the son of Carmi, the son of Zabdi, the son of Zerah, of the tribe of Judah, was taken.
19 [†] And Joshua said unto Achan, My son, give, I pray thee, glory to the Lord God of Israel, and make confession unto him; and tell me now what thou hast done; hide it not from me.

20 [†] And Achan answered Joshua, and said, Indeed I have sinned against the LORD God of Israel, and thus and thus have I done:
21 When I saw among the spoils a goodly Babylonish garment, and two hundred shekels of silver, and a wedge of gold of fifty shekels weight, then I coveted them, and took them; and, behold, they are hid in the earth in the midst of my tent, and the silver under it.
22 ¶ So Joshua sent messengers, and they ran unto the tent; and, behold, it was hid in his tent, and the silver under it.
23 And they took them out of the midst of the tent, and brought them unto Joshua, and unto all the children of Israel, and laid them out before the LORD.
24 [†] And Joshua, and all Israel with him, took Achan the son of Zerah, and the silver, and the garment, and the wedge of gold, and his sons, and his daughters, and his oxen, and his asses, and his sheep, and his tent, and all that he had: and they brought them unto the valley of Achor.
25 And Joshua said, Why hast thou troubled us? the LORD shall trouble thee this day. And all Israel stoned him with stones, and burned them with fire, after they had stoned them with stones.
26 And they raised over him a great heap of stones unto this day. So the LORD turned from the fierceness of his anger. Wherefore the name of that place was called, The valley of Achor, unto this day.

Joshua 8 [†]

1 [†] And the Lord said unto Joshua, Fear not, neither be thou dismayed: take all the people of war with thee, and arise, go up to Ai: see, I have given into thy hand the king of Ai, and his people, and his city, and his land:
2 [†] And thou shalt do to Ai and her king as thou didst unto Jericho and her king: only the spoil thereof, and the cattle thereof, shall ye take for a prey unto yourselves: lay thee an ambush for the city behind it.
3 ¶ So Joshua arose, and all the people of war, to go up against Ai: and Joshua chose out thirty thousand mighty men of valour, and sent them away by night.
4 And he commanded them, saying, Behold, ye shall lie in wait against the city, even behind the city: go not very far from the city, but be ye all ready:
5 And I, and all the people that are with me, will approach unto the city: and it shall come to pass, when they come out against us, as at the first, that we will flee before them,
6 (For they will come out after us) till we have drawn them from the city; for they will say, They flee before us, as at the first: therefore we will flee before them.
7 Then ye shall rise up from the ambush, and seize upon the city: for the Lord your God will deliver it into your hand.
8 And it shall be, when ye have taken the city, that ye shall set the city on fire: according to the commandment of the Lord shall ye do. See, I have commanded you.
9 ¶ Joshua therefore sent them forth: and they went to lie in ambush, and abode between Beth-el and Ai, on the west side of Ai: but Joshua lodged that night among the people.
10 [†] And Joshua rose up early in the morning, and numbered the people, and went up, he and the elders of Israel, before the people to Ai.
11 And all the people, even the people of war that were with him, went up, and drew nigh, and came before the city, and pitched on the north side of Ai: now there was a valley between them and Ai.
12 And he took about five thousand men, and set them to lie in ambush between Beth-el and Ai, on the west side of the city.
13 And when they had set the people, even all the host that was on the north of the city, and their liers in wait on the west of the city, Joshua went that night into the midst of the valley.
14 [†] ¶ And it came to pass, when the king of Ai saw it, that they hasted and rose up early, and the men of the city went out against Israel to battle, he and all his people, at a time appointed, before the plain; but he wist not that there were liers in ambush against him behind the city.
15 And Joshua and all Israel made as if they were beaten before them, and fled by the way of the wilderness.
16 And all the people that were in Ai were called together to pursue after them: and they pursued after Joshua, and were drawn away from the city.
17 And there was not a man left in Ai or Beth-el, that went not out after Israel: and they left the city open, and pursued after Israel.
18 [†] And the Lord said unto Joshua, Stretch out the spear that is in thy hand toward Ai; for I will give it into thine hand. And Joshua stretched out the spear that he had in his hand toward the city.
19 And the ambush arose quickly out of their place, and they ran as soon as he had stretched out his hand: and they entered into the city, and took it, and hasted and set the city on fire.
20 [†] And when the men of Ai looked behind them, they saw, and, behold, the smoke of the city ascended up to heaven, and they had no power to flee this way or that way: and the people that fled to the wilderness turned back upon the pursuers.

21 And when Joshua and all Israel saw that the ambush had taken the city, and that the smoke of the city ascended, then they turned again, and slew the men of Ai.
22 [†] And the other issued out of the city against them; so they were in the midst of Israel, some on this side, and some on that side: and they smote them, so that they let none of them remain or escape.
23 And the king of Ai they took alive, and brought him to Joshua.
24 And it came to pass, when Israel had made an end of slaying all the inhabitants of Ai in the field, in the wilderness wherein they chased them, and when they were all fallen on the edge of the sword, until they were consumed, that all the Israelites returned unto Ai, and smote it with the edge of the sword.
25 And so it was, that all that fell that day, both of men and women, were twelve thousand, even all the men of Ai.
26 [†] For Joshua drew not his hand back, wherewith he stretched out the spear, until he had utterly destroyed all the inhabitants of Ai.
27 Only the cattle and the spoil of that city Israel took for a prey unto themselves, according unto the word of the LORD which he commanded Joshua.
28 [†] And Joshua burnt Ai, and made it an heap for ever, even a desolation unto this day.
29 And the king of Ai he hanged on a tree until eventide: and as soon as the sun was down, Joshua commanded that they should take his carcase down from the tree, and cast it at the entering of the gate of the city, and raise thereon a great heap of stones, that remaineth unto this day.
30 [†] ¶ Then Joshua built an altar unto the LORD God of Israel in mount Ebal,
31 As Moses the servant of the LORD commanded the children of Israel, as it is written in the book of the law of Moses, an altar of whole stones, over which no man hath lift up any iron: and they offered thereon burnt offerings unto the LORD, and sacrificed peace offerings.
32 ¶ And he wrote there upon the stones a copy of the law of Moses, which he wrote in the presence of the children of Israel.
33 And all Israel, and their elders, and officers, and their judges, stood on this side the ark and on that side before the priests the Levites, which bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, as well the stranger, as he that was born among them; half of them over against mount Gerizim, and half of them over against mount Ebal; as Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded before, that they should bless the people of Israel.
34 And afterward he read all the words of the law, the blessings and cursings, according to all that is written in the book of the law.
35 [†] There was not a word of all that Moses commanded, which Joshua read not before all the congregation of Israel, with the women, and the little ones, and the strangers that were conversant among them.

Joshua 9 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass, when all the kings which were on this side Jordan, in the hills, and in the valleys, and in all the coasts of the great sea over against Lebanon, the Hittite, and the Amorite, the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Hivite, and the Jebusite, heard thereof;
2 That they gathered themselves together, to fight with Joshua and with Israel, with one accord.
3 [†] ¶ And when the inhabitants of Gibeon heard what Joshua had done unto Jericho and to Ai,
4 [†] They did work wilily, and went and made as if they had been ambassadors, and took old sacks upon their asses, and wine bottles, old, and rent, and bound up;
5 [†] And old shoes and clouted upon their feet, and old garments upon them; and all the bread of their provision was dry and mouldy.
6 [†] And they went to Joshua unto the camp at Gilgal, and said unto him, and to the men of Israel, We be come from a far country: now therefore make ye a league with us.
7 [†] And the men of Israel said unto the Hivites, Peradventure ye dwell among us; and how shall we make a league with you?
8 And they said unto Joshua, We are thy servants. And Joshua said unto them, Who are ye? and from whence come ye?
9 [†] And they said unto him, From a very far country thy servants are come because of the name of the LORD thy God: for we have heard the fame of him, and all that he did in Egypt,
10 And all that he did to the two kings of the Amorites, that were beyond Jordan, to Sihon king of Heshbon, and to Og king of Bashan, which was at Ashtaroth.
11 [†] Wherefore our elders and all the inhabitants of our country spake to us, saying, Take victuals with you for the journey, and go to meet them, and say unto them, We are your servants: therefore now make ye a league with us.
12 This our bread we took hot for our provision out of our houses on the day we came forth to go unto you; but now, behold, it is dry, and it is mouldy:
13 And these bottles of wine, which we filled, were new; and, behold, they be rent: and these our garments and our shoes are become old by reason of the very long journey.
14 [†] And the men took of their victuals, and asked not counsel at the mouth of the LORD.
15 [†] And Joshua made peace with them, and made a league with them, to let them live: and the princes of the congregation sware unto them.
16 [†] ¶ And it came to pass at the end of three days after they had made a league with them, that they heard that they were their neighbours, and that they dwelt among them.
17 And the children of Israel journeyed, and came unto their cities on the third day. Now their cities were Gibeon, and Chephirah, and Beeroth, and Kirjath-jearim.
18 And the children of Israel smote them not, because the princes of the congregation had sworn unto them by the LORD God of Israel. And all the congregation murmured against the princes.
19 [†] But all the princes said unto all the congregation, We have sworn unto them by the LORD God of Israel: now therefore we may not touch them.
20 This we will do to them; we will even let them live, lest wrath be upon us, because of the oath which we sware unto them.
21 [†] And the princes said unto them, Let them live; but let them be hewers of wood and drawers of water unto all the congregation; as the princes had promised them.
22 [†] ¶ And Joshua called for them, and he spake unto them, saying, Wherefore have ye beguiled us, saying, We are very far from you; when ye dwell among us?
23 [†] Now therefore ye are cursed, and there shall none of you be freed from being bondmen, and hewers of wood and drawers of water for the house of my God.

24 [†] And they answered Joshua, and said, Because it was certainly told thy servants, how that the LORD thy God commanded his servant Moses to give you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land from before you, therefore we were sore afraid of our lives because of you, and have done this thing.
25 And now, behold, we are in thine hand: as it seemeth good and right unto thee to do unto us, do.
26 And so did he unto them, and delivered them out of the hand of the children of Israel, that they slew them not.
27 And Joshua made them that day hewers of wood and drawers of water for the congregation, and for the altar of the LORD, even unto this day, in the place which he should choose.

Joshua 10 [†]

1 Now it came to pass, when Adoni-zedek king of Jerusalem had heard how Joshua had taken Ai, and had utterly destroyed it; as he had done to Jericho and her king, so he had done to Ai and her king; and how the inhabitants of Gibeon had made peace with Israel, and were among them;
2 That they feared greatly, because Gibeon was a great city, as one of the royal cities, and because it was greater than Ai, and all the men thereof were mighty.
3 [†] Wherefore Adoni-zedek king of Jerusalem sent unto Hoham king of Hebron, and unto Piram king of Jarmuth, and unto Japhia king of Lachish, and unto Debir king of Eglon, saying,
4 [†] Come up unto me, and help me, that we may smite Gibeon: for it hath made peace with Joshua and with the children of Israel.
5 Therefore the five kings of the Amorites, the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, the king of Eglon, gathered themselves together, and went up, they and all their hosts, and encamped before Gibeon, and made war against it.
6 [†] ¶ And the men of Gibeon sent unto Joshua to the camp to Gilgal, saying, Slack not thy hand from thy servants; come up to us quickly, and save us, and help us: for all the kings of the Amorites that dwell in the mountains are gathered together against us.
7 So Joshua ascended from Gilgal, he, and all the people of war with him, and all the mighty men of valour.
8 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Joshua, Fear them not: for I have delivered them into thine hand; there shall not a man of them stand before thee.
9 [†] Joshua therefore came unto them suddenly, and went up from Gilgal all night.
10 [†] And the Lord discomfited them before Israel, and slew them with a great slaughter at Gibeon, and chased them along the way that goeth up to Beth-horon, and smote them to Azekah, and unto Makkedah.
11 And it came to pass, as they fled from before Israel, and were in the going down to Beth-horon, that the Lord cast down great stones from heaven upon them unto Azekah, and they died: they were more which died with hailstones than they whom the children of Israel slew with the sword.
12 [†] ¶ Then spake Joshua to the Lord in the day when the Lord delivered up the Amorites before the children of Israel, and he said in the sight of Israel, Sun, stand thou still upon Gibeon; and thou, Moon, in the valley of Ajalon.
13 [†] And the sun stood still, and the moon stayed, until the people had avenged themselves upon their enemies. Is not this written in the book of Jasher? So the sun stood still in the midst of heaven, and hasted not to go down about a whole day.
14 [†] And there was no day like that before it or after it, that the Lord hearkened unto the voice of a man: for the Lord fought for Israel.
15 ¶ And Joshua returned, and all Israel with him, unto the camp to Gilgal.
16 But these five kings fled, and hid themselves in a cave at Makkedah.
17 And it was told Joshua, saying, The five kings are found hid in a cave at Makkedah.
18 [†] And Joshua said, Roll great stones upon the mouth of the cave, and set men by it for to keep them:
19 [†] And stay ye not, but pursue after your enemies, and smite the hindmost of them; suffer them not to enter into their cities: for the Lord your God hath delivered them into your hand.
20 [†] And it came to pass, when Joshua and the children of Israel had made an end of slaying them with a very great slaughter, till they were consumed, that the rest which remained of them entered into fenced cities.

21 [†] And all the people returned to the camp to Joshua at Makkedah in peace: none moved his tongue against any of the children of Israel.
22 Then said Joshua, Open the mouth of the cave, and bring out those five kings unto me out of the cave.
23 And they did so, and brought forth those five kings unto him out of the cave, the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, and the king of Eglon.
24 [†] And it came to pass, when they brought out those kings unto Joshua, that Joshua called for all the men of Israel, and said unto the captains of the men of war which went with him, Come near, put your feet upon the necks of these kings. And they came near, and put their feet upon the necks of them.
25 And Joshua said unto them, Fear not, nor be dismayed, be strong and of good courage: for thus shall the LORD do to all your enemies against whom ye fight.
26 [†] And afterward Joshua smote them, and slew them, and hanged them on five trees: and they were hanging upon the trees until the evening.
27 And it came to pass at the time of the going down of the sun, that Joshua commanded, and they took them down off the trees, and cast them into the cave wherein they had been hid, and laid great stones in the cave's mouth, which remain until this very day.
28 [†] ¶ And that day Joshua took Makkedah, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof he utterly destroyed, them, and all the souls that were therein; he let none remain: and he did to the king of Makkedah as he did unto the king of Jericho.
29 Then Joshua passed from Makkedah, and all Israel with him, unto Libnah, and fought against Libnah:
30 And the LORD delivered it also, and the king thereof, into the hand of Israel; and he smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein; he let none remain in it; but did unto the king thereof as he did unto the king of Jericho.
31 ¶ And Joshua passed from Libnah, and all Israel with him, unto Lachish, and encamped against it, and fought against it:
32 And the LORD delivered Lachish into the hand of Israel, which took it on the second day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein, according to all that he had done to Libnah.
33 ¶ Then Horam king of Gezer came up to help Lachish; and Joshua smote him and his people, until he had left him none remaining.
34 ¶ And from Lachish Joshua passed unto Eglon, and all Israel with him; and they encamped against it, and fought against it:
35 And they took it on that day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein he utterly destroyed that day, according to all that he had done to Lachish.
36 And Joshua went up from Eglon, and all Israel with him, unto Hebron; and they fought against it:
37 And they took it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof, and all the souls that were therein; he left none remaining, according to all that he had done to Eglon; but destroyed it utterly, and all the souls that were therein.
38 ¶ And Joshua returned, and all Israel with him, to Debir; and fought against it:
39 And he took it, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof; and they smote them with the edge of the sword, and utterly destroyed all the souls that were therein; he left none remaining: as he had done to Hebron, so he did to Debir, and to the king thereof; as he had done also to Libnah, and to her king.
40 ¶ So Joshua smote all the country of the hills, and of the south, and of the vale, and of the springs, and all their kings: he left none remaining, but utterly destroyed all that breathed, as the LORD God of Israel commanded.
41 And Joshua smote them from Kadesh-barnea even unto Gaza, and all the country of Goshen, even unto Gibeon.

42 [†] And all these kings and their land did Joshua take at one time, because the LORD God of Israel fought for Israel.
43 And Joshua returned, and all Israel with him, unto the camp to Gilgal.

Joshua 11 [†]

(see article: Canaan and the Inheritance)

1 [†] And it came to pass, when Jabin king of Hazor had heard those things, that he sent to Jobab king of Madon, and to the king of Shimron, and to the king of Achshaph,
2 [†] And to the kings that were on the north of the mountains, and of the plains south of Chinneroth, and in the valley, and in the borders of Dor on the west,
3 And to the Canaanite on the east and on the west, and to the Amorite, and the Hittite, and the Perizzite, and the Jebusite in the mountains, and to the Hivite under Hermon in the land of Mizpeh.
4 And they went out, they and all their hosts with them, much people, even as the sand that is upon the sea shore in multitude, with horses and chariots very many.
5 And when all these kings were met together, they came and pitched together at the waters of Merom, to fight against Israel.
6 [†] ¶ And the Lord said unto Joshua, Be not afraid because of them: for to morrow about this time will I deliver them up all slain before Israel: thou shalt hough their horses, and burn their chariots with fire.
7 So Joshua came, and all the people of war with him, against them by the waters of Merom suddenly; and they fell upon them.
8 And the Lord delivered them into the hand of Israel, who smote them, and chased them unto great Zidon, and unto Misrephoth-maim, and unto the valley of Mizpeh eastward; and they smote them, until they left them none remaining.
9 And Joshua did unto them as the Lord bade him: he houghed their horses, and burnt their chariots with fire.
10 ¶ And Joshua at that time turned back, and took Hazor, and smote the king thereof with the sword: for Hazor beforetime was the head of all those kingdoms.
11 [†] And they smote all the souls that were therein with the edge of the sword, utterly destroying them: there was not any left to breathe: and he burnt Hazor with fire.
12 And all the cities of those kings, and all the kings of them, did Joshua take, and smote them with the edge of the sword, and he utterly destroyed them, as Moses the servant of the Lord commanded.
13 [†] But as for the cities that stood still in their strength, Israel burned none of them, save Hazor only; that did Joshua burn.
14 And all the spoil of these cities, and the cattle, the children of Israel took for a prey unto themselves; but every man they smote with the edge of the sword, until they had destroyed them, neither left they any to breathe.
15 ¶ As the Lord commanded Moses his servant, so did Moses command Joshua, and so did Joshua; he left nothing undone of all that the Lord commanded Moses.
16 So Joshua took all that land, the hills, and all the south country, and all the land of Goshen, and the valley, and the plain, and the mountain of Israel, and the valley of the same;
17 Even from the mount Halak, that goeth up to Seir, even unto Baal-gad in the valley of Lebanon under mount Hermon: and all their kings he took, and smote them, and slew them.
18 [†] Joshua made war a long time with all those kings.
19 There was not a city that made peace with the children of Israel, save the Hivites the inhabitants of Gibeon: all other they took in battle.
20 [†] For it was of the Lord to harden their hearts, that they should come against Israel in battle, that he might destroy them utterly, and that they might have no favour, but that he might destroy them, as the Lord commanded Moses.

21 ¶ And at that time came Joshua, and cut off the Anakims from the mountains, from Hebron, from Debir, from Anab, and from all the mountains of Judah, and from all the mountains of Israel: Joshua destroyed them utterly with their cities.
22 There was none of the Anakims left in the land of the children of Israel: only in Gaza, in Gath, and in Ashdod, there remained.
23 [†] So Joshua took the whole land, according to all that the LORD said unto Moses; and Joshua gave it for an inheritance unto Israel according to their divisions by their tribes. And the land rested from war.

Joshua 12 [†]

1 [†] Now these are the kings of the land, which the children of Israel smote, and possessed their land on the other side Jordan toward the rising of the sun, from the river Arnon unto mount Hermon, and all the plain on the east:
2 Sihon king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Heshbon, and ruled from Aroer, which is upon the bank of the river Arnon, and from the middle of the river, and from half Gilead, even unto the river Jabbok, which is the border of the children of Ammon;
3 And from the plain to the sea of Chinneroth on the east, and unto the sea of the plain, even the salt sea on the east, the way to Beth-jeshimoth; and from the south, under Ashdoth-pisgah:
4 ¶ And the coast of Og king of Bashan, which was of the remnant of the giants, that dwelt at Ashtaroth and at Edrei,
5 And reigned in mount Hermon, and in Salcah, and in all Bashan, unto the border of the Geshurites and the Maachathites, and half Gilead, the border of Sihon king of Heshbon.
6 Them did Moses the servant of the Lord and the children of Israel smite: and Moses the servant of the Lord gave it for a possession unto the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manasseh.
7 [†] ¶ And these are the kings of the country which Joshua and the children of Israel smote on this side Jordan on the west, from Baal-gad in the valley of Lebanon even unto the mount Halak, that goeth up to Seir; which Joshua gave unto the tribes of Israel for a possession according to their divisions;
8 In the mountains, and in the valleys, and in the plains, and in the springs, and in the wilderness, and in the south country; the Hittites, the Amorites, and the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites:
9 ¶ The king of Jericho, one; the king of Ai, which is beside Beth-el, one;
10 The king of Jerusalem, one; the king of Hebron, one;
11 The king of Jarmuth, one; the king of Lachish, one;
12 The king of Eglon, one; the king of Gezer, one;
13 The king of Debir, one; the king of Geder, one;
14 The king of Hormah, one; the king of Arad, one;
15 The king of Libnah, one; the king of Adullam, one;
16 The king of Makkedah, one; the king of Beth-el, one;
17 The king of Tappuah, one; the king of Hepher, one;
18 The king of Aphek, one; the king of Lasharon, one;
19 The king of Madon, one; the king of Hazor, one;
20 The king of Shimron-meron, one; the king of Achshaph, one;
21 The king of Taanach, one; the king of Megiddo, one;
22 The king of Kedesh, one; the king of Jokneam of Carmel, one;
23 The king of Dor in the coast of Dor, one; the king of the nations of Gilgal, one;
24 The king of Tirzah, one: all the kings thirty and one.

Joshua 13 [†]

1 [†] Now Joshua was old and stricken in years; and the Lord said unto him, Thou art old and stricken in years, and there remaineth yet very much land to be possessed.
2 [†] This is the land that yet remaineth: all the borders of the Philistines, and all Geshuri,
3 [†] From Sihor, which is before Egypt, even unto the borders of Ekron northward, which is counted to the Canaanite: five lords of the Philistines; the Gazathites, and the Ashdothites, the Eshkalonites, the Gittites, and the Ekronites; also the Avites:
4 From the south, all the land of the Canaanites, and Mearah that is beside the Sidonians, unto Aphek, to the borders of the Amorites:
5 And the land of the Giblites, and all Lebanon, toward the sunrising, from Baal-gad under mount Hermon unto the entering into Hamath.
6 [†] All the inhabitants of the hill country from Lebanon unto Misrephoth-maim, and all the Sidonians, them will I drive out from before the children of Israel: only divide thou it by lot unto the Israelites for an inheritance, as I have commanded thee.
7 Now therefore divide this land for an inheritance unto the nine tribes, and the half tribe of Manasseh,
8 [†] With whom the Reubenites and the Gadites have received their inheritance, which Moses gave them, beyond Jordan eastward, even as Moses the servant of the Lord gave them;
9 From Aroer, that is upon the bank of the river Arnon, and the city that is in the midst of the river, and all the plain of Medeba unto Dibon;
10 And all the cities of Sihon king of the Amorites, which reigned in Heshbon, unto the border of the children of Ammon;
11 And Gilead, and the border of the Geshurites and Maachathites, and all mount Hermon, and all Bashan unto Salcah;
12 All the kingdom of Og in Bashan, which reigned in Ashtaroth and in Edrei, who remained of the remnant of the giants: for these did Moses smite, and cast them out.
13 Nevertheless the children of Israel expelled not the Geshurites, nor the Maachathites: but the Geshurites and the Maachathites dwell among the Israelites until this day.
14 [†] Only unto the tribe of Levi he gave none inheritance; the sacrifices of the Lord God of Israel made by fire are their inheritance, as he said unto them.
15 ¶ And Moses gave unto the tribe of the children of Reuben inheritance according to their families.
16 And their coast was from Aroer, that is on the bank of the river Arnon, and the city that is in the midst of the river, and all the plain by Medeba;
17 Heshbon, and all her cities that are in the plain; Dibon, and Bamoth-baal, and Beth-baal-meon,
18 And Jahazah, and Kedemoth, and Mephaath,
19 And Kirjathaim, and Sibmah, and Zareth-shahar in the mount of the valley,
20 And Beth-peor, and Ashdoth-pisgah, and Beth-jeshimoth,
21 And all the cities of the plain, and all the kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites, which reigned in Heshbon, whom Moses smote with the princes of Midian, Evi, and Rekem, and Zur, and Hur, and Reba, which were dukes of Sihon, dwelling in the country.
22 ¶ Balaam also the son of Beor, the soothsayer, did the children of Israel slay with the sword among them that were slain by them.
23 And the border of the children of Reuben was Jordan, and the border thereof. This was the inheritance of the children of Reuben after their families, the cities and the villages thereof.
24 And Moses gave inheritance unto the tribe of Gad, even unto the children of Gad according to their families.

25 And their coast was Jazer, and all the cities of Gilead, and half the land of the children of Ammon, unto Aroer that is before Rabbah;
26 And from Heshbon unto Ramath-mizpeh, and Betonim; and from Mahanaim unto the border of Debir;
27 [†] And in the valley, Beth-aram, and Beth-nimrah, and Succoth, and Zaphon, the rest of the kingdom of Sihon king of Heshbon, Jordan and his border, even unto the edge of the sea of Chinnereth on the other side Jordan eastward.
28 This is the inheritance of the children of Gad after their families, the cities, and their villages.
29 ¶ And Moses gave inheritance unto the half tribe of Manasseh: and this was the possession of the half tribe of the children of Manasseh by their families.
30 And their coast was from Mahanaim, all Bashan, all the kingdom of Og king of Bashan, and all the towns of Jair, which are in Bashan, threescore cities:
31 And half Gilead, and Ashtaroth, and Edrei, cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan, were pertaining unto the children of Machir the son of Manasseh, even to the one half of the children of Machir by their families.
32 These are the countries which Moses did distribute for inheritance in the plains of Moab, on the other side Jordan, by Jericho, eastward.
33 But unto the tribe of Levi Moses gave not any inheritance: the LORD God of Israel was their inheritance, as he said unto them.

Joshua 14 [†]

1 And these are the countries which the children of Israel inherited in the land of Canaan, which Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel, distributed for inheritance to them.
2 [†] By lot was their inheritance, as the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, for the nine tribes, and for the half tribe.
3 For Moses had given the inheritance of two tribes and an half tribe on the other side Jordan: but unto the Levites he gave none inheritance among them.
4 [†] For the children of Joseph were two tribes, Manasseh and Ephraim: therefore they gave no part unto the Levites in the land, save cities to dwell in, with their suburbs for their cattle and for their substance.
5 As the Lord commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did, and they divided the land.
6 [†] ¶ Then the children of Judah came unto Joshua in Gilgal: and Caleb the son of Jephunneh the Kenezite said unto him, Thou knowest the thing that the Lord said unto Moses the man of God concerning me and thee in Kadesh-barnea.
7 Forty years old was I when Moses the servant of the Lord sent me from Kadesh-barnea to espy out the land; and I brought him word again as it was in mine heart.
8 [†] Nevertheless my brethren that went up with me made the heart of the people melt: but I wholly followed the Lord my God.
9 And Moses sware on that day, saying, Surely the land whereon thy feet have trodden shall be thine inheritance, and thy children's for ever, because thou hast wholly followed the Lord my God.
10 [†] And now, behold, the Lord hath kept me alive, as he said, these forty and five years, even since the Lord spake this word unto Moses, while the children of Israel wandered in the wilderness: and now, lo, I am this day fourscore and five years old.
11 As yet I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Moses sent me: as my strength was then, even so is my strength now, for war, both to go out, and to come in.
12 [†] Now therefore give me this mountain, whereof the Lord spake in that day; for thou heardest in that day how the Anakims were there, and that the cities were great and fenced: if so be the Lord will be with me, then I shall be able to drive them out, as the Lord said.
13 And Joshua blessed him, and gave unto Caleb the son of Jephunneh Hebron for an inheritance.
14 Hebron therefore became the inheritance of Caleb the son of Jephunneh the Kenezite unto this day, because that he wholly followed the Lord God of Israel.
15 [†] And the name of Hebron before was Kirjath-arba; which Arba was a great man among the Anakims. And the land had rest from war.

Joshua 15 [†]

1 This then was the lot of the tribe of the children of Judah by their families; even to the border of Edom the wilderness of Zin southward was the uttermost part of the south coast.
2 And their south border was from the shore of the salt sea, from the bay that looketh southward:
3 [†] And it went out to the south side to Maaleh-acrabbim, and passed along to Zin, and ascended up on the south side unto Kadesh-barnea, and passed along to Hezron, and went up to Adar, and fetched a compass to Karkaa:
4 [†] From thence it passed toward Azmon, and went out unto the river of Egypt; and the goings out of that coast were at the sea: this shall be your south coast.
5 And the east border was the salt sea, even unto the end of Jordan. And their border in the north quarter was from the bay of the sea at the uttermost part of Jordan:
6 And the border went up to Beth-hogla, and passed along by the north of Beth-arabah; and the border went up to the stone of Bohan the son of Reuben:
7 And the border went up toward Debir from the valley of Achor, and so northward, looking toward Gilgal, that is before the going up to Adummim, which is on the south side of the river: and the border passed toward the waters of En-shemesh, and the goings out thereof were at En-rogel:
8 And the border went up by the valley of the son of Hinnom unto the south side of the Jebusite; the same is Jerusalem: and the border went up to the top of the mountain that lieth before the valley of Hinnom westward, which is at the end of the valley of the giants northward:
9 And the border was drawn from the top of the hill unto the fountain of the water of Nephtoah, and went out to the cities of mount Ephron; and the border was drawn to Baalah, which is Kirjath-jearim:
10 And the border compassed from Baalah westward unto mount Seir, and passed along unto the side of mount Jearim, which is Chesalon, on the north side, and went down to Beth-shemesh, and passed on to Timnah:
11 And the border went out unto the side of Ekron northward: and the border was drawn to Shicron, and passed along to mount Baalah, and went out unto Jabneel; and the goings out of the border were at the sea.
12 And the west border was to the great sea, and the coast thereof. This is the coast of the children of Judah round about according to their families.
13 ¶ And unto Caleb the son of Jephunneh he gave a part among the children of Judah, according to the commandment of the Lord to Joshua, even the city of Arba the father of Anak, which city is Hebron.
14 [†] And Caleb drove thence the three sons of Anak, Sheshai, and Ahiman, and Talmai, the children of Anak.
15 And he went up thence to the inhabitants of Debir: and the name of Debir before was Kirjath-sepher.
16 ¶ And Caleb said, He that smiteth Kirjath-sepher, and taketh it, to him will I give Achsah my daughter to wife.
17 And Othniel the son of Kenaz, the brother of Caleb, took it: and he gave him Achsah his daughter to wife.
18 [†] And it came to pass, as she came unto him, that she moved him to ask of her father a field: and she lighted off her ass; and Caleb said unto her, What wouldest thou?
19 [†] Who answered, Give me a blessing; for thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs, and the nether springs.
20 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Judah according to their families.
21 And the uttermost cities of the tribe of the children of Judah toward the coast of Edom southward were Kabzeel, and Eder, and Jagur,

22 And Kinah, and Dimonah, and Adadah,
23 And Kedesh, and Hazor, and Ithnan,
24 Ziph, and Telem, and Bealoth,
25 And Hazor, Hadattah, and Kerioth, and Hezron, which is Hazor,
26 Amam, and Shema, and Moladah,
27 And Hazar-gaddah, and Heshmon, and Beth-palet,
28 And Hazar-shual, and Beer-sheba, and Bizjothjah,
29 Baalah, and Iim, and Azem,
30 And Eltolad, and Chesil, and Hormah,
31 And Ziklag, and Madmannah, and Sansannah,
32 And Lebaoth, and Shilhim, and Ain, and Rimmon: all the cities are twenty and nine, with their villages:
33 And in the valley, Eshtaol, and Zoreah, and Ashnah,
34 And Zanoah, and En-gannim, Tappuah, and Enam,
35 Jarmuth, and Adullam, Socoh, and Azekah,
36 And Sharaim, and Adithaim, and Gederah, and Gederothaim; fourteen cities with their villages:
37 Zenan, and Hadashah, and Migdal-gad,
38 And Dilean, and Mizpeh, and Joktheel,
39 Lachish, and Bozkath, and Eglon,
40 And Cabbon, and Lahmam, and Kithlish,
41 And Gederoth, Beth-dagon, and Naamah, and Makkedah; sixteen cities with their villages:
42 Libnah, and Ether, and Ashan,
43 And Jiphtah, and Ashnah, and Nezib,
44 And Keilah, and Achzib, and Mareshah; nine cities with their villages:
45 Ekron, with her towns and her villages:
46 From Ekron even unto the sea, all that lay near Ashdod, with their villages:
47 Ashdod with her towns and her villages, Gaza with her towns and her villages, unto the river of Egypt, and the great sea, and the border thereof:
48 ¶ And in the mountains, Shamir, and Jattir, and Socoh,
49 And Dannah, and Kirjath-sannah, which is Debir,
50 And Anab, and Eshtemoh, and Anim,
51 And Goshen, and Holon, and Giloh; eleven cities with their villages:
52 Arab, and Dumah, and Eshean,
53 And Janum, and Beth-tappuah, and Aphekah,
54 And Humtah, and Kirjath-arba, which is Hebron, and Zior; nine cities with their villages:
55 Maon, Carmel, and Ziph, and Juttah,
56 And Jezreel, and Jokdeam, and Zanoah,
57 Cain, Gibeah, and Timnah; ten cities with their villages:
58 Halhul, Beth-zur, and Gedor,
59 And Maarath, and Beth-anoth, and Eltekon; six cities with their villages:
60 Kirjath-baal, which is Kirjath-jearim, and Rabbah; two cities with their villages:
61 In the wilderness, Beth-arabah, Middin, and Secacah,
62 And Nibshan, and the city of Salt, and En-gedi; six cities with their villages.
63 [†] ¶ As for the Jebusites the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the children of Judah could not drive them out: but the Jebusites dwell with the children of Judah at Jerusalem unto this day.

Joshua 16 [†]

1 And the lot of the children of Joseph fell from Jordan by Jericho, unto the water of Jericho on the east, to the wilderness that goeth up from Jericho throughout mount Beth-el,
2 And goeth out from Beth-el to Luz, and passeth along unto the borders of Archi to Ataroth,
3 [†] And goeth down westward to the coast of Japhleti, unto the coast of Beth-horon the nether, and to Gezer: and the goings out thereof are at the sea.
4 So the children of Joseph, Manasseh and Ephraim, took their inheritance.
5 ¶ And the border of the children of Ephraim according to their families was thus: even the border of their inheritance on the east side was Ataroth-addar, unto Beth-horon the upper;
6 And the border went out toward the sea to Michmethah on the north side; and the border went about eastward unto Taanath-shiloh, and passed by it on the east to Janohah;
7 And it went down from Janohah to Ataroth, and to Naarath, and came to Jericho, and went out at Jordan.
8 The border went out from Tappuah westward unto the river Kanah; and the goings out thereof were at the sea. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ephraim by their families.
9 [†] And the separate cities for the children of Ephraim were among the inheritance of the children of Manasseh, all the cities with their villages.
10 [†] And they drave not out the Canaanites that dwelt in Gezer: but the Canaanites dwell among the Ephraimites unto this day, and serve under tribute.

Joshua 17 [†]

1 There was also a lot for the tribe of Manasseh; for he was the firstborn of Joseph; to wit, for Machir the firstborn of Manasseh, the father of Gilead: because he was a man of war, therefore he had Gilead and Bashan.
2 There was also a lot for the rest of the children of Manasseh by their families; for the children of Abi-ezer, and for the children of Helek, and for the children of Asriel, and for the children of Shechem, and for the children of Hepher, and for the children of Shemida: these were the male children of Manasseh the son of Joseph by their families.
3 ¶ But Zelophehad, the son of Hepher, the son of Gilead, the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh, had no sons, but daughters: and these are the names of his daughters, Mahlah, and Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah.
4 And they came near before Eleazar the priest, and before Joshua the son of Nun, and before the princes, saying, The Lord commanded Moses to give us an inheritance among our brethren. Therefore according to the commandment of the Lord he gave them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.
5 And there fell ten portions to Manasseh, beside the land of Gilead and Bashan, which were on the other side Jordan;
6 Because the daughters of Manasseh had an inheritance among his sons: and the rest of Manasseh's sons had the land of Gilead.
7 ¶ And the coast of Manasseh was from Asher to Michmethah, that lieth before Shechem; and the border went along on the right hand unto the inhabitants of En-tappuah.
8 Now Manasseh had the land of Tappuah: but Tappuah on the border of Manasseh belonged to the children of Ephraim;
9 [†] And the coast descended unto the river Kanah, southward of the river: these cities of Ephraim are among the cities of Manasseh: the coast of Manasseh also was on the north side of the river, and the outgoings of it were at the sea:
10 Southward it was Ephraim's, and northward it was Manasseh's, and the sea is his border; and they met together in Asher on the north, and in Issachar on the east.
11 And Manasseh had in Issachar and in Asher Beth-shean and her towns, and Ibleam and her towns, and the inhabitants of Dor and her towns, and the inhabitants of En-dor and her towns, and the inhabitants of Taanach and her towns, and the inhabitants of Megiddo and her towns, even three countries.
12 Yet the children of Manasseh could not drive out the inhabitants of those cities; but the Canaanites would dwell in that land.
13 [†] Yet it came to pass, when the children of Israel were waxen strong, that they put the Canaanites to tribute; but did not utterly drive them out.
14 And the children of Joseph spake unto Joshua, saying, Why hast thou given me but one lot and one portion to inherit, seeing I am a great people, forasmuch as the Lord hath blessed me hitherto?
15 And Joshua answered them, If thou be a great people, then get thee up to the wood country, and cut down for thyself there in the land of the Perizzites and of the giants, if mount Ephraim be too narrow for thee.
16 And the children of Joseph said, The hill is not enough for us: and all the Canaanites that dwell in the land of the valley have chariots of iron, both they who are of Beth-shean and her towns, and they who are of the valley of Jezreel.
17 And Joshua spake unto the house of Joseph, even to Ephraim and to Manasseh, saying, Thou art a great people, and hast great power: thou shalt not have one lot only:

18 But the mountain shall be thine; for it is a wood, and thou shalt cut it down: and the outgoings of it shall be thine: for thou shalt drive out the Canaanites, though they have iron chariots, and though they be strong.

Joshua 18 [†]

1 And the whole congregation of the children of Israel assembled together at Shiloh, and set up the tabernacle of the congregation there. And the land was subdued before them.
2 And there remained among the children of Israel seven tribes, which had not yet received their inheritance.
3 And Joshua said unto the children of Israel, How long are ye slack to go to possess the land, which the Lord God of your fathers hath given you?
4 Give out from among you three men for each tribe: and I will send them, and they shall rise, and go through the land, and describe it according to the inheritance of them; and they shall come again to me.
5 And they shall divide it into seven parts: Judah shall abide in their coast on the south, and the house of Joseph shall abide in their coasts on the north.
6 Ye shall therefore describe the land into seven parts, and bring the description hither to me, that I may cast lots for you here before the Lord our God.
7 [†] But the Levites have no part among you; for the priesthood of the Lord is their inheritance: and Gad, and Reuben, and half the tribe of Manasseh, have received their inheritance beyond Jordan on the east, which Moses the servant of the Lord gave them.
8 ¶ And the men arose, and went away: and Joshua charged them that went to describe the land, saying, Go and walk through the land, and describe it, and come again to me, that I may here cast lots for you before the Lord in Shiloh.
9 [†] And the men went and passed through the land, and described it by cities into seven parts in a book, and came again to Joshua to the host at Shiloh.
10 ¶ And Joshua cast lots for them in Shiloh before the Lord: and there Joshua divided the land unto the children of Israel according to their divisions.
11 ¶ And the lot of the tribe of the children of Benjamin came up according to their families: and the coast of their lot came forth between the children of Judah and the children of Joseph.
12 [†] And their border on the north side was from Jordan; and the border went up to the side of Jericho on the north side, and went up through the mountains westward; and the goings out thereof were at the wilderness of Beth-aven.
13 And the border went over from thence toward Luz, to the side of Luz, which is Beth-el, southward; and the border descended to Ataroth-adar, near the hill that lieth on the south side of the nether Beth-horon.
14 And the border was drawn thence, and compassed the corner of the sea southward, from the hill that lieth before Beth-horon southward; and the goings out thereof were at Kirjath-baal, which is Kirjath-jearim, a city of the children of Judah: this was the west quarter.
15 And the south quarter was from the end of Kirjath-jearim, and the border went out on the west, and went out to the well of waters of Nephtoah:
16 And the border came down to the end of the mountain that lieth before the valley of the son of Hinnom, and which is in the valley of the giants on the north, and descended to the valley of Hinnom, to the side of Jebusi on the south, and descended to En-rogel,
17 And was drawn from the north, and went forth to En-shemesh, and went forth toward Geliloth, which is over against the going up of Adummim, and descended to the stone of Bohan the son of Reuben,
18 And passed along toward the side over against Arabah northward, and went down unto Arabah:
19 And the border passed along to the side of Beth-hoglah northward: and the outgoings of the border were at the north bay of the salt sea at the south end of Jordan: this was the south coast.

20 And Jordan was the border of it on the east side. This was the inheritance of the children of Benjamin, by the coasts thereof round about, according to their families.
21 Now the cities of the tribe of the children of Benjamin according to their families were Jericho, and Beth-hoglah, and the valley of Keziz,
22 And Beth-arabah, and Zemaraim, and Beth-el,
23 And Avim, and Parah, and Ophrah,
24 And Chephar-haammonai, and Ophni, and Gaba; twelve cities with their villages:
25 Gibeon, and Ramah, and Beeroth,
26 And Mizpeh, and Chephirah, and Mozah,
27 And Rekem, and Irpeel, and Taralah,
28 And Zelah, Eleph, and Jebusi, which is Jerusalem, Gibeath, and Kirjath; fourteen cities with their villages. This is the inheritance of the children of Benjamin according to their families.

Joshua 19 [†]

1 And the second lot came forth to Simeon, even for the tribe of the children of Simeon according to their families: and their inheritance was within the inheritance of the children of Judah.
2 And they had in their inheritance Beer-sheba, or Sheba, and Moladah,
3 And Hazar-shual, and Balah, and Azem,
4 And Eltolad, and Bethul, and Hormah,
5 And Ziklag, and Beth-marcaboth, and Hazar-susah,
6 And Beth-lebaoth, and Sharuhen; thirteen cities and their villages:
7 Ain, Remmon, and Ether, and Ashan; four cities and their villages:
8 And all the villages that were round about these cities to Baalath-beer, Ramath of the south. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeon according to their families.
9 [†] Out of the portion of the children of Judah was the inheritance of the children of Simeon: for the part of the children of Judah was too much for them: therefore the children of Simeon had their inheritance within the inheritance of them.
10 ¶ And the third lot came up for the children of Zebulun according to their families: and the border of their inheritance was unto Sarid:
11 And their border went up toward the sea, and Maralah, and reached to Dabbasheth, and reached to the river that is before Jokneam;
12 And turned from Sarid eastward toward the sunrising unto the border of Chisloth-tabor, and then goeth out to Daberath, and goeth up to Japhia,
13 And from thence passeth on along on the east to Gittah-hepher, to Ittah-kazin, and goeth out to Remmon-methoar to Neah;
14 And the border compasseth it on the north side to Hannathon: and the outgoings thereof are in the valley of Jiphthah-el:
15 And Kattath, and Nahallal, and Shimron, and Idalah, and Beth-lehem: twelve cities with their villages.
16 This is the inheritance of the children of Zebulun according to their families, these cities with their villages.
17 ¶ And the fourth lot came out to Issachar, for the children of Issachar according to their families.
18 And their border was toward Jezreel, and Chesulloth, and Shunem,
19 And Hapharaim, and Shion, and Anaharath,
20 And Rabbith, and Kishion, and Abez,
21 And Remeth, and En-gannim, and En-haddah, and Beth-pazzez;
22 And the coast reacheth to Tabor, and Shahazimah, and Beth-shemesh; and the outgoings of their border were at Jordan: sixteen cities with their villages.
23 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Issachar according to their families, the cities and their villages.
24 ¶ And the fifth lot came out for the tribe of the children of Asher according to their families.
25 And their border was Helkath, and Hali, and Beten, and Achshaph,
26 And Alammelech, and Amad, and Misheal; and reacheth to Carmel westward, and to Shihor-libnath;
27 And turneth toward the sunrising to Beth-dagon, and reacheth to Zebulun, and to the valley of Jiphthah-el toward the north side of Beth-emek, and Neiel, and goeth out to Cabul on the left hand,
28 And Hebron, and Rehob, and Hammon, and Kanah, even unto great Zidon;
29 And then the coast turneth to Ramah, and to the strong city Tyre; and the coast turneth to Hosah; and the outgoings thereof are at the sea from the coast to Achzib:

30 Ummah also, and Aphek, and Rehob: twenty and two cities with their villages.
31 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Asher according to their families, these cities with their villages.
32 ¶ The sixth lot came out to the children of Naphtali, even for the children of Naphtali according to their families.
33 And their coast was from Heleph, from Allon to Zaanannim, and Adami, Nekeb, and Jabneel, unto Lakum; and the outgoings thereof were at Jordan:
34 And then the coast turneth westward to Aznoth-tabor, and goeth out from thence to Hukkok, and reacheth to Zebulun on the south side, and reacheth to Asher on the west side, and to Judah upon Jordan toward the sunrising.
35 And the fenced cities are Ziddim, Zer, and Hammath, Rakkath, and Chinnereth,
36 And Adamah, and Ramah, and Hazor,
37 And Kedesh, and Edrei, and En-hazor,
38 And Iron, and Migdal-el, Horem, and Beth-anath, and Beth-shemesh; nineteen cities with their villages.
39 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Naphtali according to their families, the cities and their villages.
40 ¶ And the seventh lot came out for the tribe of the children of Dan according to their families.
41 And the coast of their inheritance was Zorah, and Eshtaol, and Ir-shemesh,
42 And Shaalabbin, and Ajalon, and Jethlah,
43 And Elon, and Thimnathah, and Ekron,
44 And Eltekeh, and Gibbethon, and Baalath,
45 And Jehud, and Bene-berak, and Gath-rimmon,
46 And Me-jarkon, and Rakkon, with the border before Japho.
47 And the coast of the children of Dan went out too little for them: therefore the children of Dan went up to fight against Leshem, and took it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and possessed it, and dwelt therein, and called Leshem, Dan, after the name of Dan their father.
48 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Dan according to their families, these cities with their villages.
49 [†] ¶ When they had made an end of dividing the land for inheritance by their coasts, the children of Israel gave an inheritance to Joshua the son of Nun among them:
50 According to the word of the LORD they gave him the city which he asked, even Timnath-serah in mount Ephraim: and he built the city, and dwelt therein.
51 These are the inheritances, which Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel, divided for an inheritance by lot in Shiloh before the LORD, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. So they made an end of dividing the country.

Joshua 20 [†]

1 The Lord also spake unto Joshua, saying,
2 [†] Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Appoint out for you cities of refuge, whereof I spake unto you by the hand of Moses:
3 [†] That the slayer that killeth any person unawares and unwittingly may flee thither: and they shall be your refuge from the avenger of blood.
4 [†] And when he that doth flee unto one of those cities shall stand at the entering of the gate of the city, and shall declare his cause in the ears of the elders of that city, they shall take him into the city unto them, and give him a place, that he may dwell among them.
5 And if the avenger of blood pursue after him, then they shall not deliver the slayer up into his hand; because he smote his neighbour unwittingly, and hated him not beforetime.
6 [†] And he shall dwell in that city, until he stand before the congregation for judgment, and until the death of the high priest that shall be in those days: then shall the slayer return, and come unto his own city, and unto his own house, unto the city from whence he fled.
7 ¶ And they appointed Kedesh in Galilee in mount Naphtali, and Shechem in mount Ephraim, and Kirjath-arba, which is Hebron, in the mountain of Judah.
8 And on the other side Jordan by Jericho eastward, they assigned Bezer in the wilderness upon the plain out of the tribe of Reuben, and Ramoth in Gilead out of the tribe of Gad, and Golan in Bashan out of the tribe of Manasseh.
9 [†] These were the cities appointed for all the children of Israel, and for the stranger that sojourneth among them, that whosoever killeth any person at unawares might flee thither, and not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, until he stood before the congregation.

Joshua 21 [†]

1 [†] Then came near the heads of the fathers of the Levites unto Eleazar the priest, and unto Joshua the son of Nun, and unto the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel;
2 [†] And they spake unto them at Shiloh in the land of Canaan, saying, The Lord commanded by the hand of Moses to give us cities to dwell in, with the suburbs thereof for our cattle.
3 And the children of Israel gave unto the Levites out of their inheritance, at the commandment of the Lord, these cities and their suburbs.
4 And the lot came out for the families of the Kohathites: and the children of Aaron the priest, which were of the Levites, had by lot out of the tribe of Judah, and out of the tribe of Simeon, and out of the tribe of Benjamin, thirteen cities.
5 And the rest of the children of Kohath had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Ephraim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the half tribe of Manasseh, ten cities.
6 And the children of Gershon had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Issachar, and out of the tribe of Asher, and out of the tribe of Naphtali, and out of the half tribe of Manasseh in Bashan, thirteen cities.
7 The children of Merari by their families had out of the tribe of Reuben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulun, twelve cities.
8 And the children of Israel gave by lot unto the Levites these cities with their suburbs, as the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses.
9 ¶ And they gave out of the tribe of the children of Judah, and out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, these cities which are here mentioned by name,
10 Which the children of Aaron, being of the families of the Kohathites, who were of the children of Levi, had: for theirs was the first lot.
11 And they gave them the city of Arba the father of Anak, which city is Hebron, in the hill country of Judah, with the suburbs thereof round about it.
12 But the fields of the city, and the villages thereof, gave they to Caleb the son of Jephunneh for his possession.
13 ¶ Thus they gave to the children of Aaron the priest Hebron with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Libnah with her suburbs,
14 And Jattir with her suburbs, and Eshtemoa with her suburbs,
15 And Holon with her suburbs, and Debir with her suburbs,
16 And Ain with her suburbs, and Juttah with her suburbs, and Beth-shemesh with her suburbs; nine cities out of those two tribes.
17 And out of the tribe of Benjamin, Gibeon with her suburbs, Geba with her suburbs, 18 Anathoth with her suburbs, and Almon with her suburbs; four cities.
19 All the cities of the children of Aaron, the priests, were thirteen cities with their suburbs.
20 ¶ And the families of the children of Kohath, the Levites which remained of the children of Kohath, even they had the cities of their lot out of the tribe of Ephraim.
21 For they gave them Shechem with her suburbs in mount Ephraim, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Gezer with her suburbs,
22 And Kibzaim with her suburbs, and Beth-horon with her suburbs; four cities.
23 And out of the tribe of Dan, Eltekeh with her suburbs, Gibbethon with her suburbs, 24 Aijalon with her suburbs, Gath-rimmon with her suburbs; four cities.
25 And out of the half tribe of Manasseh, Tanach with her suburbs, and Gath-rimmon with her suburbs; two cities.

26 All the cities were ten with their suburbs for the families of the children of Kohath that remained.
27 ¶ And unto the children of Gershon, of the families of the Levites, out of the other half tribe of Manasseh they gave Golan in Bashan with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Beeshterah with her suburbs; two cities.
28 And out of the tribe of Issachar, Kishon with her suburbs, Dabareh with her suburbs, 29 Jarmuth with her suburbs, En-gannim with her suburbs; four cities.
30 And out of the tribe of Asher, Mishal with her suburbs, Abdon with her suburbs,
31 Helkath with her suburbs, and Rehob with her suburbs; four cities.
32 And out of the tribe of Naphtali, Kedesh in Galilee with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Hammoth-dor with her suburbs, and Kartan with her suburbs; three cities.
33 All the cities of the Gershonites according to their families were thirteen cities with their suburbs.
34 ¶ And unto the families of the children of Merari, the rest of the Levites, out of the tribe of Zebulun, Jokneam with her suburbs, and Kartah with her suburbs,
35 Dimnah with her suburbs, Nahalal with her suburbs; four cities.
36 And out of the tribe of Reuben, Bezer with her suburbs, and Jahazah with her suburbs,
37 Kedemoth with her suburbs, and Mephaath with her suburbs; four cities.
38 And out of the tribe of Gad, Ramoth in Gilead with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Mahanaim with her suburbs,
39 Heshbon with her suburbs, Jazer with her suburbs; four cities in all.
40 So all the cities for the children of Merari by their families, which were remaining of the families of the Levites, were by their lot twelve cities.
41 All the cities of the Levites within the possession of the children of Israel were forty and eight cities with their suburbs.
42 These cities were every one with their suburbs round about them: thus were all these cities.
43 [†] ¶ And the LORD gave unto Israel all the land which he sware to give unto their fathers; and they possessed it, and dwelt therein.
44 And the LORD gave them rest round about, according to all that he sware unto their fathers: and there stood not a man of all their enemies before them; the LORD delivered all their enemies into their hand.
45 There failed not ought of any good thing which the LORD had spoken unto the house of Israel; all came to pass.

Joshua 22 [†]

1 [†] Then Joshua called the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manasseh,
2 And said unto them, Ye have kept all that Moses the servant of the Lord commanded you, and have obeyed my voice in all that I commanded you:
3 Ye have not left your brethren these many days unto this day, but have kept the charge of the commandment of the Lord your God.
4 And now the Lord your God hath given rest unto your brethren, as he promised them: therefore now return ye, and get you unto your tents, and unto the land of your possession, which Moses the servant of the Lord gave you on the other side Jordan.
5 But take diligent heed to do the commandment and the law, which Moses the servant of the Lord charged you, to love the Lord your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and to cleave unto him, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.
6 So Joshua blessed them, and sent them away: and they went unto their tents.
7 ¶ Now to the one half of the tribe of Manasseh Moses had given possession in Bashan: but unto the other half thereof gave Joshua among their brethren on this side Jordan westward. And when Joshua sent them away also unto their tents, then he blessed them,
8 And he spake unto them, saying, Return with much riches unto your tents, and with very much cattle, with silver, and with gold, and with brass, and with iron, and with very much raiment: divide the spoil of your enemies with your brethren.
9 ¶ And the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Manasseh returned, and departed from the children of Israel out of Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan, to go unto the country of Gilead, to the land of their possession, whereof they were possessed, according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.
10 [†] ¶ And when they came unto the borders of Jordan, that are in the land of Canaan, the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Manasseh built there an altar by Jordan, a great altar to see to.
11 ¶ And the children of Israel heard say, Behold, the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Manasseh have built an altar over against the land of Canaan, in the borders of Jordan, at the passage of the children of Israel.
12 [†] And when the children of Israel heard of it, the whole congregation of the children of Israel gathered themselves together at Shiloh, to go up to war against them.
13 And the children of Israel sent unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the half tribe of Manasseh, into the land of Gilead, Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest,
14 [†] And with him ten princes, of each chief house a prince throughout all the tribes of Israel; and each one was an head of the house of their fathers among the thousands of Israel.
15 ¶ And they came unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the half tribe of Manasseh, unto the land of Gilead, and they spake with them, saying,
16 [†] Thus saith the whole congregation of the Lord, What trespass is this that ye have committed against the God of Israel, to turn away this day from following the Lord, in that ye have builded you an altar, that ye might rebel this day against the Lord?
17 [†] Is the iniquity of Peor too little for us, from which we are not cleansed until this day, although there was a plague in the congregation of the Lord,
18 [†] But that ye must turn away this day from following the Lord? and it will be, seeing ye rebel to day against the Lord, that to morrow he will be wroth with the whole congregation of Israel.
19 Notwithstanding, if the land of your possession be unclean, then pass ye over unto the land of the possession of the LORD, wherein the LORD's tabernacle dwelleth, and take possession among us: but rebel not against the LORD, nor rebel against us, in building you an altar beside the altar of the LORD our God.

20 [†] Did not Achan the son of Zerah commit a trespass in the accursed thing, and wrath fell on all the congregation of Israel? and that man perished not alone in his iniquity.
21 ¶ Then the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Manasseh answered, and said unto the heads of the thousands of Israel,
22 [†] The LORD God of gods, the LORD God of gods, he knoweth, and Israel he shall know; if it be in rebellion, or if in transgression against the LORD, (save us not this day,)
23 That we have built us an altar to turn from following the LORD, or if to offer thereon burnt offering or meat offering, or if to offer peace offerings thereon, let the LORD himself require it;
24 [†] And if we have not rather done it for fear of this thing, saying, In time to come your children might speak unto our children, saying, What have ye to do with the LORD God of Israel?
25 [†] For the LORD hath made Jordan a border between us and you, ye children of Reuben and children of Gad; ye have no part in the LORD: so shall your children make our children cease from fearing the LORD.
26 [†] Therefore we said, Let us now prepare to build us an altar, not for burnt offering, nor for sacrifice:
27 But that it may be a witness between us, and you, and our generations after us, that we might do the service of the LORD before him with our burnt offerings, and with our sacrifices, and with our peace offerings; that your children may not say to our children in time to come, Ye have no part in the LORD.
28 Therefore said we, that it shall be, when they should so say to us or to our generations in time to come, that we may say again, Behold the pattern of the altar of the LORD, which our fathers made, not for burnt offerings, nor for sacrifices; but it is a witness between us and you.
29 God forbid that we should rebel against the LORD, and turn this day from following the LORD, to build an altar for burnt offerings, for meat offerings, or for sacrifices, beside the altar of the LORD our God that is before his tabernacle.
30 [†] ¶ And when Phinehas the priest, and the princes of the congregation and heads of the thousands of Israel which were with him, heard the words that the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the children of Manasseh spake, it pleased them.
31 And Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest said unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the children of Manasseh, This day we perceive that the LORD is among us, because ye have not committed this trespass against the LORD: now ye have delivered the children of Israel out of the hand of the LORD.
32 ¶ And Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest, and the princes, returned from the children of Reuben, and from the children of Gad, out of the land of Gilead, unto the land of Canaan, to the children of Israel, and brought them word again.
33 And the thing pleased the children of Israel; and the children of Israel blessed God, and did not intend to go up against them in battle, to destroy the land wherein the children of Reuben and Gad dwelt.
34 [†] And the children of Reuben and the children of Gad called the altar Ed: for it shall be a witness between us that the LORD is God.

Joshua 23 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass a long time after that the Lord had given rest unto Israel from all their enemies round about, that Joshua waxed old and stricken in age.
2 And Joshua called for all Israel, and for their elders, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers, and said unto them, I am old and stricken in age:
3 And ye have seen all that the Lord your God hath done unto all these nations because of you; for the Lord your God is he that hath fought for you.
4 [†] Behold, I have divided unto you by lot these nations that remain, to be an inheritance for your tribes, from Jordan, with all the nations that I have cut off, even unto the great sea westward.
5 And the Lord your God, he shall expel them from before you, and drive them from out of your sight; and ye shall possess their land, as the Lord your God hath promised unto you.
6 [†] Be ye therefore very courageous to keep and to do all that is written in the book of the law of Moses, that ye turn not aside therefrom to the right hand or to the left;
7 [†] That ye come not among these nations, these that remain among you; neither make mention of the name of their gods, nor cause to swear by them, neither serve them, nor bow yourselves unto them:
8 But cleave unto the Lord your God, as ye have done unto this day.
9 For the Lord hath driven out from before you great nations and strong: but as for you, no man hath been able to stand before you unto this day.
10 One man of you shall chase a thousand: for the Lord your God, he it is that fighteth for you, as he hath promised you.
11 [†] Take good heed therefore unto yourselves, that ye love the Lord your God.
12 [†] Else if ye do in any wise go back, and cleave unto the remnant of these nations, even these that remain among you, and shall make marriages with them, and go in unto them, and they to you:
13 Know for a certainty that the Lord your God will no more drive out any of these nations from before you; but they shall be snares and traps unto you, and scourges in your sides, and thorns in your eyes, until ye perish from off this good land which the Lord your God hath given you.
14 And, behold, this day I am going the way of all the earth: and ye know in all your hearts and in all your souls, that not one thing hath failed of all the good things which the Lord your God spake concerning you; all are come to pass unto you, and not one thing hath failed thereof.
15 [†] Therefore it shall come to pass, that as all good things are come upon you, which the Lord your God promised you; so shall the Lord bring upon you all evil things, until he have destroyed you from off this good land which the Lord your God hath given you.
16 When ye have transgressed the covenant of the Lord your God, which he commanded you, and have gone and served other gods, and bowed yourselves to them; then shall the anger of the Lord be kindled against you, and ye shall perish quickly from off the good land which he hath given unto you.

Joshua 24 [†]

1 And Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel to Shechem, and called for the elders of Israel, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers; and they presented themselves before God.
2 [†] And Joshua said unto all the people, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Your fathers dwelt on the other side of the flood in old time, even Terah, the father of Abraham, and the father of Nachor: and they served other gods.
3 And I took your father Abraham from the other side of the flood, and led him throughout all the land of Canaan, and multiplied his seed, and gave him Isaac.
4 And I gave unto Isaac Jacob and Esau: and I gave unto Esau mount Seir, to possess it; but Jacob and his children went down into Egypt.
5 I sent Moses also and Aaron, and I plagued Egypt, according to that which I did among them: and afterward I brought you out.
6 And I brought your fathers out of Egypt: and ye came unto the sea; and the Egyptians pursued after your fathers with chariots and horsemen unto the Red sea.
7 And when they cried unto the Lord, he put darkness between you and the Egyptians, and brought the sea upon them, and covered them; and your eyes have seen what I have done in Egypt: and ye dwelt in the wilderness a long season.
8 [†] And I brought you into the land of the Amorites, which dwelt on the other side Jordan; and they fought with you: and I gave them into your hand, that ye might possess their land; and I destroyed them from before you.
9 Then Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab, arose and warred against Israel, and sent and called Balaam the son of Beor to curse you:
10 But I would not hearken unto Balaam; therefore he blessed you still: so I delivered you out of his hand.
11 And ye went over Jordan, and came unto Jericho: and the men of Jericho fought against you, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Girgashites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites; and I delivered them into your hand.
12 [†] And I sent the hornet before you, which drave them out from before you, even the two kings of the Amorites; but not with thy sword, nor with thy bow.
13 And I have given you a land for which ye did not labour, and cities which ye built not, and ye dwell in them; of the vineyards and oliveyards which ye planted not do ye eat.
14 [†] ¶ Now therefore fear the Lord, and serve him in sincerity and in truth: and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt; and serve ye the Lord.
15 [†] And if it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.
16 [†] And the people answered and said, God forbid that we should forsake the Lord, to serve other gods;
17 For the Lord our God, he it is that brought us up and our fathers out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, and which did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way wherein we went, and among all the people through whom we passed:
18 [†] And the Lord drave out from before us all the people, even the Amorites which dwelt in the land: therefore will we also serve the Lord; for he is our God.
19 [†] And Joshua said unto the people, Ye cannot serve the Lord: for he is an holy God; he is a jealous God; he will not forgive your transgressions nor your sins.

20 [†] If ye forsake the LORD, and serve strange gods, then he will turn and do you hurt, and consume you, after that he hath done you good.
21 And the people said unto Joshua, Nay; but we will serve the LORD.
22 And Joshua said unto the people, Ye are witnesses against yourselves that ye have chosen you the LORD, to serve him. And they said, We are witnesses.
23 Now therefore put away, said he, the strange gods which are among you, and incline your heart unto the LORD God of Israel.
24 And the people said unto Joshua, The LORD our God will we serve, and his voice will we obey.
25 So Joshua made a covenant with the people that day, and set them a statute and an ordinance in Shechem.
26 ¶ And Joshua wrote these words in the book of the law of God, and took a great stone, and set it up there under an oak, that was by the sanctuary of the LORD.
27 [†] And Joshua said unto all the people, Behold, this stone shall be a witness unto us; for it hath heard all the words of the LORD which he spake unto us: it shall be therefore a witness unto you, lest ye deny your God.
28 So Joshua let the people depart, every man unto his inheritance.
29 [†] ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of the LORD, died, being an hundred and ten years old.
30 And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in Timnath-serah, which is in mount Ephraim, on the north side of the hill of Gaash.
31 And Israel served the LORD all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders that overlived Joshua, and which had known all the works of the LORD, that he had done for Israel.
32 [†] ¶ And the bones of Joseph, which the children of Israel brought up out of Egypt, buried they in Shechem, in a parcel of ground which Jacob bought of the sons of Hamor the father of Shechem for an hundred pieces of silver: and it became the inheritance of the children of Joseph.
33 And Eleazar the son of Aaron died; and they buried him in a hill that pertained to Phinehas his son, which was given him in mount Ephraim.

NOTES ON THE BOOK OF

JOSHUA

THE ENTRANCE INTO CANAAN (1:1—5:15)

Chapter 1: God gives specific orders to Joshua about the conquest assuring him of His abiding presence and unchanging promise, and Joshua then orders the people to prepare for the crossing of the Jordan.

Personal Instructions for Joshua (1:1–9)

1:1 after the death of Moses . . . the LORD SPAKE UNTO JOSHUA. God often uses human mediation to do His work on the earth, but no man is indispensable. As great as Moses was (he is designated as the servant of the Lord fourteen times in this book), there was a Joshua to carry on and do what he could not do.

1:2 I do give. The verb form indicates that the Lord is in the process of giving them the land.

1:3 have I given. The verb form indicates the certain fact of God's gift of the land.

1:4 the great sea . . . going down of the sun. The Mediterranean Sea to the west.

1:5 able to stand. Resist or hold one's ground. as I was with Moses . . . with thee. The "Immanuel" principle (God with us) was the experience of Old Testament saints but reaches its climax in the incarnation. I will not fail thee. Literally, "to abandon" or "to leave in the lurch."

1:6 be . . . of a good courage. Literally, "be bold" or "courageous."

1:7 prosper. Achieve success. The reference is specifically to the conquest of the land, not financial gain.

1:8 This book of the law. The "Torah" which designates the five books of Moses, at that time the whole Bible. day and night. An idiom for doing something constantly, throughout the day. observe to do. Be careful or diligent to do.

Preparations for Crossing the Jordan (1:10—2:24)

1:10 Then Joshua commanded. This introduces the common pattern of God first speaking to the chosen leader who in turn passes on divine commands to the people.

1:11 victuals. Provisions, food for the journey.

1:12 Reubenites. The two and a half tribes that received their inheritance in the Transjordan region (the east side of the river, see v. 5, "the sunrising").

1:13 rest. A symbolic reference to the land of promise (Ps. 95:11). The rest is associated with the enjoyment of both a cessation of hostility and the presence of God. That is one key reason the nation could not possess the land in unbelief.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 1

1. Moses was dead, but the work of God was continuing without him because it was the work of God and not of Moses (1:1–2). Notwithstanding how great Moses was and how many extraordinary things he did, he was not indispensable. Joshua was there with the same promises God had given

Moses to carry on the work. There was a work for Joshua to do that Moses could not do. This transition from Moses to Joshua stands as a warning to not put hope in man. Too often in Christendom today men try to build empires around themselves, and their work ultimately falls because it was centered in a personality. On the other hand, church history is full of outstandingly great men who served the Lord in their generation only to be replaced by others who served the same Lord in another generation. Thank God that He gives these leaders as His gifts for the good of the church (Eph. 4:11–13).

2. The book of Joshua illustrates how God uses men as His ordained ministers or servants to lead His people. The recurring pattern is that God speaks to the leader who in turn speaks to the people (vv. 9–10). It is imperative, then, that ministers know God's Word so that they can effectively communicate that Word to the people. However, the instructions for Joshua to meditate on and obey God's Word constantly as the means for successful living is a paradigm that should be followed by all of God's people. How can you follow Joshua's example in his attitude toward God's Word?

Chapter 2: Rahab conceals the two men sent to spy out Jericho, and they in turn repay her with the promise of deliverance from the city's destruction.

2:1 Shittim. The last encampment before crossing the Jordan, located almost directly east of Jericho, which was on the west side of Jordan.

2:2 king of Jericho. An appropriate title, since Canaan was comprised of multiple city-states, all of which were independent of each other.

2:3 be come. Have come.

2:4–5 I wist not whence they were. I did not know from where they were. whither the men went I wot not. I do not know where the men went. The sin of Rahab's lie does not negate the reality of her faith, for she received the spies of Israel and sent them out another way because she believed in the Lord (Heb. 11:31; James 2:25). She sided with God's people and sought to share in their inheritance. However, her lie does remind us that believers still sin.

2:9–13 Rahab's confession and appeal for clemency. She acknowledges the Lord's might displayed in what He had done for Israel (vv. 9–11), recognizes His majesty as God of heaven and earth (v. 11), and pleads for mercy (vv. 12–13). She pleads for kindness in reciprocation of the kindness she had shown the spies. This word designates covenant loyalty and expects mutuality between the parties. token. A sign or distinguishing mark, something that would assure her of their loyalty to her.

2:14 deal kindly. The same expression as v. 12—to demonstrate covenant loyalty.

2:17–21 The spies set the terms by which Rahab and her family will be delivered from destruction. If the terms are not met, the spies will be blameless (v. 17) and quit (v. 20) of the oath. Both translate the same Hebrew word, meaning "free" or "exempt from obligation." thread. Since this was the rope used to lower the spies, it was more than just a strand. It was large enough and bright enough (scarlet) to easily identify Rahab's residence during the siege. She agreed to the terms.

2:23 all things that befell them. All the things that happened to them.

2:24 faint. Despair or melt away.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 2

1. Rahab is a wonderful example of the power and sovereignty of grace. She appears to be an unlikely candidate for grace, but that is the point. She is a vivid picture of all who are dead in sin and who are made alive by the greater Joshua, the Lord Jesus Christ. The depths of her sin magnify the beauty of grace. From every appearance Rahab was without hope, a citizen of a doomed city, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, a stranger to the covenant promise. But God sovereignly directed the spies to her house. Indeed, God had put the "scarlet cord" there in eternity long before the spies arrived. Although Joshua sent the men to spy the land, they had a commission from God to preach to Rahab. Significantly, James refers to them not as spies but as messengers (James 2:25). They had a word for Rahab. Faith comes by hearing the Word of God and that hearing comes through preachers (Rom. 10:13–14). How has God's sovereign hand reached out to you?

2. Not only does grace find the sinner, it awakens the sinner. Rahab believed (Heb. 11:31), and she made a confession of her faith. She acknowledged God's mighty and fear-producing power that had saved Israel (Josh. 2:9–10). She knew that it would be a fearful thing to fall into the hands of such a God (Heb. 10:31). She expressed the sure conviction that Jehovah was the one true and living God in heaven and earth (Josh. 2:11). According to Paul, no one can make such a genuine heart confession except by the Holy Spirit (1 Cor. 12:3). By pleading for mercy (Josh. 2:12–13), she recognized that God was her only hope, her only place of refuge. Reflect on these components of her confession since the object and nature of saving faith is the same now as then.

Crossing the Jordan (3:1—4:24)

Chapter 3: The priests, carrying the ark of the covenant, lead the people across the Jordan on dry land into the Promised Land.

3:1 Shittim. See note at 2:1.

3:2 the host. Literally, "the midst of the camp."

3:3 ark of the covenant. The preeminent piece of tabernacle furniture, symbolizing the presence of the Lord. As the priests carried it in the sight of the people, it was a visible object lesson assuring them that the Lord was with them and going before them into the Promised Land.

3:4 two thousand cubits. A cubit was about eighteen inches, so this would be a distance of about three thousand feet.

3:5 wonders. The Hebrew word refers to extraordinary and uniquely divine acts, the miraculous or supernatural.

3:7 to magnify. To make great. The Lord would use the supernatural crossing of the Jordan to confirm Joshua's leadership as being equal to that of Moses.

3:8 brink. Edge.

3:10 the Canaanites . . . . The same seven nations that Moses said were greater and mightier than Israel (Deut. 7:1). Moses predicted their destruction by divine intervention (Deut. 7:2), and the prophecy was about to be fulfilled under Joshua's leadership.

3:13 cut off . . . from above . . . an heap. The upstream flow of the Jordan would be stopped like a dam.

3:15 brim. Edge, same word as v. 8. overfloweth. The Jordan was in the flood stage, so the current would have been swift and the waters high. This magnifies the greatness of the miracle.

3:16 Adam . . . salt sea. This would be just less than twenty-five miles of dry land miraculously provided for the people to cross.

3:17 all the people were passed clean over Jordan. All the nation finished passing over the Jordan.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 3

1. The statement, "For ye have not passed this way heretofore" (3:4), certainly describes the new venture that Israel was about to experience. But in reality, it is the headline over every day of life for all of us. Every day brings new experiences, situations, and so many uncertainties. It had to be an encouraging comfort and source of confidence for Israel to know that the ark, the visible token of God's presence, was leading them. As believers today, we do not have a visible object to assure us of God's presence, but we have His word that He will not leave nor forsake us. We have the abiding presence of the indwelling Holy Spirit as our comforter and guide. Spend time praising God that even though every step of life is new, we can confidently walk through even the darkest shadows knowing that He is with us (Ps. 23:4).
2. Joshua 3:10 is a wonderful reminder that even though ministers change, God's Word remains constant. The word that Joshua gives to the people on the eve of their crossing the Jordan is the same that Moses had given them earlier (Deut. 7:1–2). Nothing had changed except the mouthpiece. God's Word is forever settled in heaven (Ps. 119:89), and the authority is in the Word and not in the spokesman. How have you seen this to be true in your own life?

Chapter 4: Twelve stones are taken from the Jordan to erect a memorial for following generations to be reminded of the Lord's mighty act in behalf of His people.

4:6 sign. Token or memorial.

4:9 in the midst of the Jordan. The place from where the stones were taken, not where the monument was raised.

4:11 were clean passed over. Finished passing over (see the same expression in 3:17).

4:14 magnified. Made great. they feared. Fear has the sense of respect and includes the corollary component of obeying. They submitted to Joshua's leadership as they did to Moses'.

4:24 fear the LORD. Fearing God also includes both ideas of respect and obedience (Eccl. 12:13). It directs both worship and behavior.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 4

1. Raising the monument to commemorate the crossing of the Jordan illustrates the responsibility one generation has to the next to teach about the Lord and His mighty acts. The memorial became the occasion for children to ask fathers, "What mean these stones?" (4:21). It provided fathers the opportunity to direct their children to the knowledge of God. So, Christian parents must erect the "family altar of witness" in the home as a means of fostering a spiritual curiosity among their children and of teaching them to fear God and obey Him, which ultimately and primarily involves obeying the gospel in repenting of their sins and believing in Jesus Christ. God has set the home as a principal place of religious training, both by precept and example. What can you be doing to pass on your faith stories?
2. Joshua 4:24 suggests that the memorial witness to God's covenant faithfulness and mighty power would serve as a means of evangelism to the world as well as to the family. For the world to see the effects of gospel grace in the lives of His people gives effective witness to the power of grace. Living in the fear of God is then a private matter, speaking to the family, and a public matter, speaking to strangers. Fearing God affects all of life. How are you able to make God's work of grace in your life public to unbelievers around you?

Chapter 5: Circumcision is renewed, the Passover is celebrated, the manna ceases, and Joshua encounters the captain of the Lord's host.

Renewal of Circumcision (5:1–15)

5:1 Amorites . . . Canaanites. Palestine was inhabited by a number of independent nations, seven of which were specified in 3:10. These two are generic designations referring to the whole population, and the word and does not add, it explains: the Amorites "even" the Canaanites.

5:2 circumcise. Circumcision was the sign of the covenant with Abraham (Gen. 17:9–14), identifying the individual as a member of the covenant community. It was a prerequisite for participating in the Passover (Ex. 12:48). As important as circumcision of the flesh was, the Old Testament emphasizes more the spiritual circumcision of the heart (Deut. 10:16; Jer. 4:4). the second time. Individual circumcision was a one-time ritual; this refers to the renewal of the rite for the wilderness generation (vv. 5,7).

5:8 till they were whole. Literally, "until they were revived or had gotten well."

5:9 I rolled away . . . Gilgal unto this day. The circumcision marked their separation from Egypt, and the rolling away of the reproach or shameful disgrace associated with that old life. The name "Gilgal" means "the rolling away place." The place received this name because of the circumcision event; thus the mention of Gilgal in 4:20 was in anticipation of what it would be called. Joshua obviously wrote the narrative after the events had transpired.

5:10 kept the passover. Having been circumcised (identification with the covenant community), they were now qualified for the Passover (celebration of redemption). Significantly, these two principal Old Testament sacraments parallel the New Testament's baptism and Lord's Supper. on the fourteenth day. According to Ex. 12:6, this was the day for sacrificing the Passover lambs, which had been selected from the flock on the tenth day of the first month (Ex. 12:3). Israel crossed the Jordan on the tenth day of the first month (4:19), giving them time to follow the Passover liturgy.

5:11–12 the old corn. The produce. the morrow. The next day. unleavened cakes. Unleavened bread. fruit. Produce. The ordinary provisions of the land replace the extraordinary provision of the manna. Whether through natural means or supernatural, God supplies our daily bread.

5:14 captain of the host of the LORD. The chief leader or commander of the army of the Lord. Joshua . . . did worship. Since God is the only legitimate object of worship, Joshua's response is irrefutable evidence of the deity of this Chief Commander. This is a Christophany, a preincarnate appearance of the second person of the Trinity. my lord. Not a title of deity specifically, but it does express Joshua's recognition of one who is his superior.

5:15 Loose thy shoe. This parallels Moses at the burning bush (Ex. 3:5–6) and is another evidence of the Commander's deity.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 5

1. Gilgal was Israel's first claim in the Promised Land; it anticipated future blessings as well as being a reminder to future generations of past blessings. It is where the strategy for the conquest was set in place and suggests a strategy for all believers as they seek to advance in their spiritual lives. First, circumcision shows the importance of dealing with the flesh. Circumcision is important on many levels, but certainly the removal of the flesh pictures the cleansing from sin and the necessity of separation from the old life (Egypt). Every Christian must experience what it means for old things to pass away and all things to become new. How have you experienced this in your life?

2. Second, the Passover celebration shows the importance of remembering the redemption we have through the sacrifice of Christ in our behalf. The Passover teaches lessons about grace, about the power of God, the necessity of blood atonement, the objectivity of faith, and spiritual sustenance as we feast on the Lamb. How have you been able to celebrate Christ's sacrifice lately?
3. Third, the Christophany underscores the importance of meeting with Christ Himself. The sacraments serve as helpful visible signs of spiritual truths, but there is no substitute for experiencing and enjoying a personal relationship with Jesus Christ, to worship Him and to listen to His Word. "What saith my lord unto his servant" (v. 14) ought to be the sincere question of every believer every time he opens the Scripture. The bottom line is that we all need a place we call Gilgal. What can you do to help develop a daily habit of meeting with your Lord?

THE CONQUEST OF CANAAN (6:1—12:24)

The Central Campaign (6:1—9:27)

Chapter 6: Jericho is destroyed with all its inhabitants except Rahab and her family.

Victory at Jericho (6:1–27)

6:1 Jericho was straitly shut up. Jericho was closed and staying closed. It was in lockdown. Jericho—ironically known as the city of palms—was under a sentence of destruction.

6:3 compass. Encircle or surround, a synonym of go round about.

6:4 trumpets of rams' horns. Literally, just "horns of rams," that would function as trumpets (vv. 6,8,13).

6:5 shall fall down flat. Literally, the wall "will fall under itself." A portion of the wall would sink down allowing the army to go straight into the gap in the wall, the rest of which stood entrapping the inhabitants. There was no escape. Obviously, Rahab's house was on a portion of the wall that remained.

6:7 let him that is armed. Equipped and ready for fighting.

6:9,13 the rereward. Those forming a rear guard.

6:17 the city shall be accursed. The city will be under a ban, meaning that it was devoted to the Lord exclusively to His use. Here the city was divinely dedicated to destruction, and its spoil or booty were off-limits (see Lev. 27:28, "every devoted thing is most holy unto the LORD"). Its New Testament counterpart is "anathema" (1 Cor. 16:22; Gal. 1:8). Only Rahab was spared because of her faith and faithful act in hiding the messengers (spies of the city but the bearers of "good news" to Rahab).

6:18 in any wise keep yourselves. Literally, "only you yourselves guard or be careful about." Joshua's instructions specify clearly the implications of the city being under the ban. To take for one's own use what God had reserved uniquely to Himself had serious consequence. trouble it. Bring disaster, ruin, or throw into confusion.

6:19 consecrated unto the LORD. Holy to the Lord. It is distinct, set apart for the Lord. treasury of the LORD. The storehouse connected to the tabernacle service. It was not for personal use.

6:20 Jericho's fall was supernatural. Ultimately, it was the Lord and not Joshua that fought the battle of Jericho. As the Lord had said would happen (v. 5), a portion of the wall sunk under itself creating a breach allowing the army to march straight into the city. Picture a horseshoe to visualize how the walls appeared.

6:21 they utterly destroyed. This is the verbal form of the word for a devoted thing or a ban that the KJV has commonly translated “accursed.” The total destruction illustrates the fearful truth that whatever or whoever is under the ban is beyond redemption (Lev. 27:29).

6:26 Joshua adjured. He urged with an oath. in his firstborn . . . in his youngest. The Hebrew preposition “in” can express price or value. The idea would be that whoever rebuilds the city would do so at the expense of his children.

6:27 his fame. The news about him.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 6

1. Jericho is a real example of Bunyan’s City of Destruction. Its destruction puts in bold the severity of divine justice. Three thoughts particularly are in focus. First, divine justice is patient. Jericho was one of the world’s oldest cities. Archaeological evidence indicates a level of occupation predating Abraham by hundreds of years. We know that the sins of the Canaanites were not yet full in his day (Gen. 15:16), but now they were. The city had been given years of time and opportunity to repent but it did not. Now the day of judgment had arrived. We should not presume on God’s longsuffering but repent without delay. Second, divine justice is irresistible. The city was securely shut, and the inhabitants trusted the security of walls that appeared to be impenetrable. But without a hand, God took away their security. Jericho prefigures a judgment ahead in which more than walls will fall (Heb. 12:26). Sinners will not be able to stand in that day (Nah. 1:6). Third, divine justice is not capricious. Both the Old Testament and secular historic records show the extent of the wickedness of Canaan: Jericho got what it deserved. That none were spared shows that justice is without discrimination: All souls belong to the Lord and the soul that sins will die (Ezek. 18:4). Jericho is a lesson in how God deals with sin. Spend time praising God for His patience, His justice, and His mercy.
2. Jericho is also a pattern for sanctification. As Jericho stood in the way of Israel’s possession of the land, so sin looms large as the obstacle every believer must encounter. God promised that Jericho would fall, and so He has promised us that sin will no longer have dominion over us (Rom. 6:14). The power to overcome Jericho was the Lord’s. Note how the divine plan to defeat Jericho focused on the ark, the symbol of God’s presence, and the atonement (Josh. 6:4,6–9,11–13). This points directly to Christ, His atonement, and our union with Him that is the ultimate power for victory (Col. 2:14–15; Heb. 2:14–15). Although the victory was God’s, Israel had to march and stick close to the ark. According to Heb. 11:30 they did so in faith. So in sanctification by faith we know what we have in Christ, we reckon it to be personally true and we behave accordingly (see logic of Rom. 6). Ask God to give you victory through grace and the will to live by faithful obedience.

Defeat and Victory at Ai (7:1—8:29)

Chapter 7: Israel suffered defeat at Ai because of Achan’s secret sin that was discovered and punished with death.

7:1 committed a trespass. Literally, they “acted unfaithfully an unfaithful act.” The verb and noun of the same root involve the violation of legal obligations. The words often describe infidelity. in the accursed thing. The violation was taking what God had put off limits. Significantly, one man sinned, but God charged the whole nation with the guilt. Ultimately, no sin is private.

7:2 view . . . viewed. Spy out.

7:3 make not all the people to labour thither. Do not trouble all the people there.

7:5 in the going down. A reference to a mountainside or slope.

7:6 Rending clothes and putting dust on the head were common gestures of grief or mourning.

7:7 Joshua expresses the conflict between the knowledge of God's promise of victory and the experience of defeat. This is a common conflict in believers when experience seems to counter creed. Amorites. Refers to Canaanites without specifying the particular nation.

7:9 environ us round. Surround us.

7:11 the accursed thing. The ban, that which was devoted to the Lord. dissembled. Concealed deceptively.

7:13 sanctify. Set apart, consecrate.

7:15 wrought folly. Do "stupidity" or "sacrilege."

7:16 rose up early. Not particularly a reference to time, but an idiom for doing something first thing, making it a matter of urgent priority.

7:19 confession. The Hebrew word also means "praise" or "thanksgiving."

7:20 thus and thus. The narrator's summary of Achan's detailed confession.

7:24–25 Achor . . . troubled us . . . trouble thee. All from the same Hebrew root meaning "to make something taboo" (untouchable) or "to disturb." Illustrates the lex talionis principle of eye for eye. As Achan had done, the Lord would do to him. It is always a fearful thing to get from God what is deserved. him . . . them. He sinned alone but all his family suffered the consequence. The effects of sin are pervasive and tragic.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 7

1. There is always an Ai to follow Jericho. Jericho was an amazing victory and remarkable start to the conquest of Canaan. But the rest of the Canaanites did not automatically surrender; they were going to defend their territory. The battles were going to continue, and Israel could not rest in past victory. The parallels to the Christian life with its struggles against sin and striving for holiness are noteworthy. Because of the ultimate victory Christ won on the cross, sin no longer has dominion over the believer. But just like the Canaanites, sin is going to defend its territory in the heart and not surrender easily. We must fight against sin and temptation and experience the victory by faith and obedience. It is imperative to remember that getting the victory over one temptation does not prevent the next one from coming. Sanctification is a lifelong process. What can you do to keep this important perspective in mind?
2. The connection between Achan's sin and Israel's defeat at Ai teaches important and sobering lessons. The disobedience of one culprit caused defeat for the entire nation and ended with the punishment of his entire family. Although he sinned in secret, his sin was detected and the consequences were public. In a very real sense, there is no such thing as a private sin. Either by results (the loss of thirty-six lives in battle) or by imitation (apparently the case with his family who became privy to his crime), sin affects others. The narrative also underscores the fact that secret sins are openly known by God, and in His time all sin will be detected and dealt with. Paul said, "Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment; and some men they follow after" (1 Tim. 5:24). One way or another and sooner or later, all sin is exposed and its penalty executed. How can knowing this help you in your own battle for sanctification?

Chapter 8: Following the Lord's instructions, Joshua reveals and executes the strategy leading to Ai's destruction after which he erected an altar for sacrifice and read all the law of Moses to the nation.

8:1 After the sin issue was resolved, the path to victory was open. neither be thou dismayed. Do not be filled with terror.

8:2–8 Although the strategy for defeating Ai did not entail the same supernatural intervention as Jericho, it was nonetheless the divine plan. Unlike Jericho, the contents of Ai were not under the ban; they were the spoil for the people. This casts a shadow of irony over Achan's sin; in due time, the bounty he sinned to obtain could have been his by divine sanction.

8:10 rose up early. See note at 7:16.

8:14 he wist not. He did not know.

8:18 spear. Traditionally, a javelin. Some contemporary evidence suggests a short, perhaps curved sword used for cutting or thrusting. God often instructed Moses to stretch out his rod as a visible token of His powerful word and work, so here He uses Joshua's spear.

8:20 they had no power. Literally, "a pair of hands was not in them."

8:22 issued out. Went out.

8:26 Compare Joshua stretching out his spear with Moses holding up the rod against the Amalekites (Ex. 17:8–16).

8:28 an heap. In Hebrew, a tel, a mound of ruins. Ironically, this root relates to the city "Ai" meaning heap. The word tel is used today to designate the location of ancient buried cities.

Reading of the Law (8:30–35)

8:30–35 As Moses . . . commanded. See Deut. 27:4–8.

8:35 the strangers that were conversant among them. The alien who was walking or traveling in their midst.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 8

1. Achan's sin and the nation's presumption (7:3) resulted in tragic loss at the first encounter with Ai. But defeat was not the end of the story. After they dealt with the sin and renewed their dependence on the Lord's Word, victory was assured. This is a wonderful message of hope for every believer who has failed the Lord. Defeated believers often convince themselves that there is no hope of ever enjoying spiritual victory again. But Israel's second encounter with Ai suggests otherwise. If we confess our sins, He will forgive (1 John 1:9), and if we will hear and obey His instructions, the way to victory over sin is set before us. That Ai is a heap and desolation to this day (Josh. 8:28) testifies to how God gives His people yet another chance to experience victory and to enjoy the inheritance He has given. How have you witnessed the place of defeat become the place of victory in your own life or the life of another believer?
2. The reading of the Law (at that time the totality of inspired Scripture) to all the population is a reminder of the importance of the Bible for the life and welfare of every believer. As the leader of the people, Joshua was to devote himself to the Word of God (1:8). But it was just as important for the people to listen firsthand to what God had to say. Similarly, it is not just the obligation of the minister to read and obey the Scripture, but every believer should read it thoroughly and regularly. How can you give God's Word a more prominent place in your life?

Chapter 9: The Gibeonites deceptively seek peace with Israel, resulting in a covenant that spares them from destruction but places them under servitude.

Alliance with Gibeon (9:1–27)

9:1–2 with one accord. Literally, “one mouth,” an idiom expressing unanimity. This Canaanite coalition was most unusual in that these kingdoms were rivals but regarded Israel to be a common enemy. The fall of Jericho and Ai demonstrated that their walled cities, the chief means of defense, were not obstacles to Joshua’s army. So they allied themselves to fight collectively, not the normal military strategy. This posed an apparent threat to Israel, but it was all part of the divine strategy. Providence is often mysterious but always the evidence of divine wisdom. See comments in the Worship Section below.

9:3 The Gibeonites heard the same report but rather than allying with the enemies of God’s people, they devised a scheme to sue for peace with Israel. Being at peace with God and His people is far better than being at war.

9:4 wilily. Cunningly. The Hebrew word includes the ideas of shrewdness, cleverness, or craftiness.

9:5 old shoes . . . clouted upon their feet. Patched up or worn sandals on their feet. mouldy. Dry or crumbling bread (v. 12).

9:6 make ye a league with us. Literally, “cut for us a covenant.” This is the common formula for initiating a covenant or mutually binding agreement (vv. 7,11).

9:7 Peradventure. In Hebrew, a particle used to express an element of either fear or hope. Here it expresses their fear of entering an inappropriate alliance.

9:9 fame of him. Report about him.

9:11,14 victuals. Provisions, including food.

9:14 Failure to seek the Lord had serious and long-lasting consequences, extending as far as Israel’s early monarchy (v. 20; 2 Sam. 21).

9:15 the princes. Not a reference to royalty but to the leaders (vv. 18–19,21). sware. Refers to the oath, which was a critical component of a covenant agreement.

9:16 neighbours. Literally, “near ones.”

9:19 touch. Hurt.

9:21 hewers of wood. Those that gather wood (vv. 23,27).

9:22 beguiled. Deceived.

9:23 for the house of my God. Equates to the congregation. See also Num. 12:7 where the Lord’s house refers to His people. Similarly, the church is the temple or dwelling place of God.

9:24 How the word was reported to them is not known, except the Lord had told Moses that He would send an angel or messenger before them to drive out the Canaanites (Ex. 33:2). That the Gibeonites heeded the report and other nations did not illustrates the gospel being a savor of death or of life (2 Cor. 2:16).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 9

1. Notwithstanding the intrigue and deception employed by the Gibeonites, their pursuit of peace with Joshua illustrates gospel truths. They recognized that unless they entered into covenant with Joshua they would be doomed. Only identification with Israel would save them. The way they sought for mercy was flawed and far from perfect but the fact of the matter is they recognized their need for mercy. Similarly, there has never been a sinner who has come to Christ with perfect faith or repentance, but the gospel promise is that Christ will not cast out those who come to Him (John 6:37). It is only as sinners sue for peace with the greater Joshua through the blood of His cross that they can be delivered from death. The key difference between the lesser and the greater Joshua is that the lesser was duped into showing mercy whereas the greater Joshua knows every sinner who comes to Him for what he really is and receives him nonetheless. His grace is greater than our sin. Praise Jesus for His grace and mercy!

2. Joshua 9:25 expresses the proper sentiment of all who have been delivered from the sentence and bondage of death: surrendering to the will and good pleasure of the new master. The Gibeonites gladly became servants to those who by covenant oath had spared them. So Christians, who by a greater covenant and oath have been delivered, ought gladly to surrender themselves to the service of Jesus, the new Lord and Master. In the light of grace, how can you find joy in serving Jesus?

Chapter 10: With the help of divinely supernatural intervention, Joshua defeats a coalition of nations in a single day and then in a succession of battles conquers the southern region of Palestine.

The Southern Campaign (10:1–43)

10:3 See note at 9:1–2.

10:4–5 Although Joshua was the principal threat, the allied armies (hosts) planned to attack the Gibeonites, who had made peace and sided with Joshua. This is the common strategy of the world and Satan, who being incapable of mounting a direct assault against Christ, attack those who have made peace with Him. The church corporately and believers individually are the battlegrounds of spiritual warfare.

10:6–7 slack not thy hand. Dropping the hands is an image for losing courage: “do not stop helping.” Amorites. A general term designating the inhabitants of Canaan. On the grounds of the covenant, they appeal for help; on the grounds of the covenant, Joshua arises to help.

10:8 Fear them not. An unnatural response given the circumstance, but faith in God’s promise is contrary to natural behavior. The enemy that was seen was intimidating, but the God that is unseen is the supreme and ultimate reality. This illustrates walking by faith rather than sight.

10:9 suddenly. Or surprisingly.

10:10 discomfited them. Brought them into confusion. Significantly, Joshua and his army went against the foe, but it was the Lord who discomfited, slew, and chased. Christians fight, but the battle is the Lord’s.

10:12–14 Various explanations exist regarding “Joshua’s Long Day,” including the slowing of the earth’s rotation, an out-of-schedule solar eclipse, etc. The unmistakable point is that whatever happened was an extraordinary and supernatural event that God performed in behalf of His people. To explain the miraculous is to eliminate the miraculous. Something happened that was absolutely contrary to nature.

10:13 the sun stood still. It was motionless. the moon stayed. The moon stood. the book of Jasher. Literally, “the book of the upright.” Since it has not been preserved, it was an uninspired record of the historical events. Inspiration guarantees preservation. about a whole day. A complete or regular day. Underscores the irregular and supernatural nature of the event.

10:14 that the LORD hearkened. As extraordinary as the day was, the unique (no day like that) feature is that it happened as the Lord heard the voice of man. This points to the second and greater Joshua who, as the perfect Son of Man, often showed His dominion over the things of nature.

10:18 set men . . . to keep them. Appoint men over them to guard them.

10:19 smite the hindmost of them. Seize or destroy the rear guard. suffer them not. Do not allow them.

10:20 fenced cities. Cities which were heavily fortified.

10:21 none moved his tongue. Pointing the tongue was a threatening gesture. The inhabitants of the land recognized that Israel was a force not to be taken lightly.

10:24–25 put your feet upon the necks. A gesture both to humiliate the defeated kings and to symbolize for the people the certainty of the divinely promised victories to follow.

10:26 hanged them. A vivid symbol of being cursed by God (Deut. 21:23).

10:28–39 souls. A designation of the whole person not the immaterial part of man's being.

10:42 at one time. The normal strategy for conquering these cities would involve one siege after another, which would require considerable time. God had moved the Canaanites out of their fortified cities so that they could be defeated far more quickly.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 10

1. God's providence is often mysterious but always wise and always leads to His glory and His people's good. At first glance, the Canaanite coalition would be a fearful thing: multiple enemies ganging up against a people inexperienced in warfare. They had only engaged in two battles, the first of which (Jericho) did not even put them in harm's way. But God was fighting for them, and this alliance was a means of bringing the enemies out from the fortifications into the open so that they could be defeated all at once. What would normally have required years to achieve was accomplished in essentially one battle. It involved a supernatural occurrence (the "long day"), which provided obvious evidence of the battle being the Lord's. In the moment, we sometimes question why God's providence does what it does—seeing only the moment can be deceiving. God knows the end from the beginning, and His wise providence employs the best means to accomplish His intended purpose. So it is important to trust Him, walking by faith and not sight. Even if the immediate circumstance appears to be against us, it cannot be, because if God is for us none can successfully be against us. How have you seen God work in overwhelming circumstances to bring about His glory and our good?
2. Joshua, coming to Gibeon's defense, illustrates a beautiful gospel truth. They were being threatened because of their covenant relationship with Joshua. The enemy could not get to Joshua, so they came against those who had made peace with Joshua. Because of the covenant, Joshua was obligated to their protection. Undoubtedly, the world hates Christ but because it cannot get to Him it takes out its hatred against those with whom Christ has a relationship, His church. We are not to marvel if the world hates us (1 John 3:13) because it hated Him first. Pray for God to give you confidence to live boldly, knowing that Christ is our guaranteed Protector and in union with Him we are secure (Rom. 8:31–39). "If God be for us, who can be against us?" (v.31).

Chapter 11: Joshua conquers the northern regions of Canaan bringing to a close the conquest of all the lands God had promised Moses.

The Northern Campaign (11:1–15)

11:1–5 Another coalition of independent city-states brings the Canaanites out of their fortifications into the open fields of battle. This was a strategic blunder by the Canaanites that was orchestrated by God (v. 20) to reduce years of siege work to a single battle.

11:2 Chinneroth. What the New Testament refers to as the Sea of Galilee.

11:6 Be not afraid. God assures Joshua of victory notwithstanding the sight of the huge army. Not fearing was an act of faith in God's promise. hough. Hamstring or cripple (v. 9).

11:11 souls. Persons.

11:13 in their strength. Literally, "on their mounds." Many Canaanite cities were built on top of the ruins of earlier cities, creating the appearance of a hill or mound. The burning of Hazor is apparent by archaeological evidence from the site that shows a burn level dating to the time of Joshua's conquest.

An Overview of the Conquest (11:16—12:24)

11:18 a long time. Literally, "many days."

11:20 to harden their hearts. To strengthen or arouse their thoughts. This illustrates Prov. 21:1, "The king's heart is in the hand of the LORD." They thought that their strategy would succeed against Israel, but God caused them to devise a plan that would end in their own destruction.

11:23 took the whole land. This appears to contradict 13:1, "yet very much land to be possessed." Rather than being a contradiction, it points to the fact that the land represented more than just geographical territory. Each generation, and indeed each individual, must engage in experiencing God's blessing for themselves. rested from war. Was at peace from war.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 11

1. God's good providence is often contrary to expectation. The gathering of a huge army against Israel would have been a terrifying scene. It would have given the appearance of the enemy getting the upper hand; defeat would have seemed certain in light of all the chariots and horses. Humanly speaking, Israel was outarmed. Yet appearance and reality were far different. God had Himself mustered the army as a means of bringing them out into the open and away from their fortified cities to hasten their utter destruction. It did not look like victory at first, but God was working all out for the good of His people. So often, it is only as we look back on the events of providence that we recognize the good. Have you learned to walk by faith and not by sight even when what you see contradicts what you think to be good? How have you seen that God's ways are always best?
2. Over and again, the chapter declares that what Joshua accomplished is what the Lord had commanded Moses ("he left nothing undone of all that the LORD commanded Moses" [v. 15]). It provides a wonderful reminder of God's faithfulness in keeping His promises. Recall other ways that God has kept His promises.

Chapter 12: The details of the conquest are listed.

12:1–6 The details of the Transjordan conquest (east of Jordan regions) under the leadership of Moses. This became the inheritance of the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and half of Manasseh.

12:7–24 A summary of Joshua's conquest on the west side of Jordan, including a list of the individual kings.

Thoughts of Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 12

The detailed summary of the conquest, and particularly the list of the conquered kings by name one by one, provides an important lesson for praise and thanksgiving. It is an example of naming our blessings one by one in conscious recognition of what God has done in fulfilling His promises and keeping His word. Too often our thanksgiving to God is expressed in sweeping statements. Be specific in giving thanks for each and every benefit that He has provided for you.

THE DIVISION OF THE LAND (13:1—21:45)

Chapter 13: Even though the conquest of the land was incomplete, the allotment of the land begins with the tribes on the east of Jordan.

The Procedure for Allotment (13:1–7)

13:1 stricken in years. Literally, "going in the days," an idiom for growing old.

13:2 See note at 11:23.

13:3 lords. Princes.

13:6–7 divide . . . by lot. Literally, "cause it to fall." Numbers 36:2 indicates the use of lots in the distribution. But even so, the inheritance was not distributed by random chance; rather, it fell to each tribe according to God's command and will (Prov. 16:33). Even though the land was not entirely in Israel's possession, God's promise was so certain that it was to be divided among the nine tribes, those who would settle on the west side of Jordan.

The Inheritance for the Eastern Tribes (13:8–33)

13:8–32 Significantly, the distribution begins with the two and a half tribes that settled east of Jordan to show the unity of the people on both sides of Jordan and to demonstrate that Joshua's work was a continuation of that of Moses. These verses are a synopsis of the conquest of the Transjordan under the leadership of Moses, most of the details of which are in the book of Numbers.

13:14,33 Levi was scattered throughout the land with no inheritance apart from their service unto the Lord (14:3–4; 18:7; Deut. 18:1–8). This fulfilled the patriarchal prophecy that the Lord would "divide them in Jacob, and scatter them in Israel" (Gen. 49:7).

13:27 sea of Chinnereth. The Old Testament name for the Sea of Galilee.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 13

1. The distribution of the land among the tribes gives material substance to God's promise and testifies to His faithfulness to fulfill His promises. As far back as Abraham God had promised that His covenant people would possess this land. That promise was repeated by Moses and claimed by Joshua as he led the nation into conquest. And now as the tribes received their "titles" of possession, they experienced the tangible evidence of God's fidelity. This provides a wonderful example for all believers that regardless of how far off God's promises may appear to be, He is faithful to fulfill His Word. It is never a vain thing to wait upon the Lord, for those who wait will never be disappointed. Let us take every token of blessing as tangible evidence that all the promises of God are yea and amen in our greater Joshua, Jesus Christ (2 Cor. 1:20). How have you seen God's faithfulness to those who wait upon Him?
2. The contradiction between Josh. 11:23 and 13:1–2 is only apparent and reflects a significant truth that every Christian knows in experience: the tension between the "already" and the "not yet."

Every believer is complete in Christ (Col. 2:10) and is blessed with "all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ" (Eph. 1:3). The wonder of this is beyond comprehension. Yet as amazing as this is, we have now the Holy Spirit who promises even more, for He is "the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession" (Eph. 1:14). Already it is good, but the best is yet to be (1 John 3:2).

The Inheritance for the Western Tribes (14:1—19:51)

Chapter 14: Before the land is distributed among the tribes, Caleb chooses and receives his own inheritance because he had faithfully followed the Lord.

14:2 the half tribe. Manasseh was allotted land on both sides of Jordan.

14:4 suburbs. Pastureland just outside the city limits but under the jurisdiction of the city. substance. Personal property including but not limited to cattle or flocks. The Levites were not allotted land like the other tribes but were assigned cities throughout all the nation (see note at 13:14).

14:6 Thou knowest. See Num. 14:24,30,38. Moses declared that from their generation only Caleb and Joshua would survive the wilderness and be allowed to enter Canaan.

14:8 heart . . . melt. An idiom for losing heart or morale. I wholly followed. Literally, "I filled after," an idiom for remaining loyal. Also v. 14.

14:10 fourscore and five. Eighty-five.

14:12 Anakims. See Num. 13:33, the same people the fearful spies had described as giants. fenced. Barricaded or enclosed. if so be. An expression of hope or entreaty.

14:15 had rest from war. Had peace.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 14

1. Caleb and Joshua were the only two of the twelve spies that recommended to Israel that they should enter and possess Canaan (Num. 13–14). Consequently, they were the only ones preserved through the wilderness and allowed to enter the land of promise. Although Caleb was just as faithful as Joshua, the Lord had commissioned Joshua as the successor to Moses, and Caleb was in the background. Nonetheless, he remained loyal to the Lord even though Joshua was in the spotlight. What attitudes can we foster that will not allow any place for competition or envy in the work of the Lord?
2. Only Caleb and Joshua (19:50) were allowed to choose the place of their inheritance in the Promised Land. Although Caleb was advanced in years, he claimed that his strength had not abated. He could have chosen wherever he wanted, but he laid claim to what potentially was the most difficult and dangerous to possess. He chose the place where the Anakims were. Ironically, it was the sight of the Anakims, the giants, that caused the fear and convinced the nation that they could not possess the land. Not only had Caleb's strength not abated, neither had his faith. Before the wilderness, he believed God would deliver the giants into the hands of His people, and nothing had changed. Believers often hesitate to ask of God the big things. Caleb is a wonderful example of asking God for big things because nothing is impossible for Him. What big things should you be asking and trusting God for?

Chapters 15–19: Joshua records the specific details of the distribution of territory to the tribes on the west side of Jordan beginning with Judah and ending with Dan.

15:3 fetched a compass. Turned its boundary toward.

15:4,7,11; 16:3,8 goings out. Boundaries.

15:14 Sheshai, and Ahiman, and Talmai may be designations of family units.

15:18 she lighted off her ass. She got off her donkey.

15:19 nether springs. Lower springs.

15:63 The Jebusites controlled Jerusalem until the time of David (2 Sam. 5:6).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 15

1. It is astonishing at times how God uses His people to do great exploits for His glory in fulfilling His own promises when they trust solely in Him. Israel was condemned to wander in the wilderness for forty years because the nation as a whole refused to embrace God's promises, fearing that they could not defeat the giants of Canaan, particularly the sons of Anak (Num. 13:28,33). After forty years, Caleb, who followed God fully all those years, goes into Canaan, and with his sons, singlehandedly "drives thence" those giants. What areas of your life are you holding back from acting on by faith out of fear that God will not fulfil His promises?
2. Caleb is much more than an exemplar of faith. The story of Caleb is ultimately about the historical progress of God's redemption. For those who truly trust in Christ alone for salvation, this history will find its ultimate fulfilment in the inheritance of salvation in Christ (Matt. 25:34; Col. 3:24; Heb. 9:15). What comfort should believers draw from this for their daily life?

16:3 the nether. Beneath or lower.

16:9 separate cities. Selected cities.

16:10 under tribute. Compulsory labor.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 16

The details in chs. 16–19 are significant. Together they show how minutely God fulfills His promises. For years He had promised that the covenant people would inherit this land so often described as flowing with milk and honey. It seemed to be a broad and general promise of good things to come. But as the promise comes to fact, the point-by-point distribution of districts, towns, and villages to every tribe shows how specifically, definitely, and tangibly God keeps His Word. Every part of the nation received their portion; none were left out. Often Christians regard God's promise of a glorious future in eternity in happy but general terms that things will someday be better. But the day will come when every promise will be experienced as fact in real and tangible ways that we cannot imagine. And so it will be that everyone of God's chosen people will receive their inheritance; none will be left out. How does it encourage you now to know that we will never tire of enjoying all the details of God's blessings?

17:9,18 the outgoings. The boundaries. See also 18:19; 19:14,22,29,33

17:13 were waxen. Had become. tribute. Compulsory labor.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 17

God had commanded Israel to destroy the Canaanites completely. These nations that represented the world and sin were not to coexist with God's people. The failure to drive them out completely was incomplete obedience, and the attempt to subdue them to compulsory labor was folly (vv. 12–13). This illustrates an important lesson that we must learn regarding sin. When they felt strong, they thought they could use the Canaanites to their advantage as their servants. But it was not long before they lost control, as the book of Judges records. We cannot control sin in our own strength. It will not be long before the sin we think we can manage overcomes us. It is only as we rest by faith in the victory over sin won by Christ that we can be freed from sin's dominion (Rom. 6). Will power by itself is never powerful enough. According to Rom. 6, how can we live out this truth in our daily lives?

18:7 See note at 13:14.

18:9 host. Camp.

18:12 goings out. Boundaries.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 18

Israel's taking possession of the land of Canaan was an act of faith. Not to take possession of that land, therefore, or to be slow to do it, as was the case of the seven tribes (vv. 2–3), was an act of unbelief. Accordingly, Joshua admonishes the people in these tribes for their slackness (v. 3). It is fascinating that he does not just admonish them, however; he also provides them with a plan of action (vv. 4–7), which God blesses to stir the men up to act (v. 8). What can we learn from Joshua's leadership, counsel, and call to action in this chapter that can assist us in guiding those who struggle with unbelief and indecisiveness?

19:9 Simeon received its inheritance within Judah and was essentially assimilated, at times losing its identity. This is the consequence of the same patriarchal prophecy regarding Levi (Gen. 49:7) but fulfilled in a completely different manner. Levi's scattering involved honor; Simeon's did not.

19:49–50 Only Joshua and his fellow spy Caleb received their inheritances by request.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 19

It is fascinating that at the end of this long, detailed list of how Israel's tribes received their allotted territory in Canaan, that Joshua also received an allotment (v. 49). Thus, both of Israel's heroes of faith, Joshua and Caleb, received an inheritance—Caleb at the beginning of the allotment chapters (14:6–15) and Joshua at the end. In this way, the book of Joshua, which is "the book of the land," continues to teach us that both the history of progressive redemption and our ultimate journey to the heavenly Canaan, must always be placed in the framework of faith. Joshua and Caleb, who had risked their lives to live by faith and had remained steadfast for forty years in the midst of murmuring Israelites while in the wilderness, are now rewarded. We again learn that faith will always be more than amply rewarded by God's grace. What additional lessons does this history teach us about the importance of living and persevering consistently by saving faith?

The Designation of Special Cities (20:1—21:45)

Chapter 20: Joshua designates six cities of refuge, three on each side of Jordan.

Cities of Refuge (20:1–9)

20:2 refuge. Asylum. Moses. See Num. 35:6,11–15; Deut. 19:2–6. This is another evidence of Joshua carrying on the ministry of Moses.

20:3 slayer. This is the word used in the sixth commandment and always involves the taking of human life. unawares. Accidentally, not on purpose. unwittingly. Without knowledge. avenger. The word designates the kinsman-redeemer, who because of the family relationship assumes the responsibility to act in behalf of his kinsman—here to avenge murder.

20:4–5 they shall take him into the city. The elders judge and determine whether to give asylum. This implies that the cities of refuge provided no safety for those guilty of intentional murder.

20:6 Those given asylum stand trial before an assembly and if proven innocent remain in the city for the duration of the life of the high priest, after which there is no jeopardy.

20:9 the stranger that sojourneth. The foreigner who has taken up alien residence. unawares . . . avenger. See v. 3.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 20

1. The cities of refuge indicate that the spirituality of the law that Jesus underscored in His Sermon on the Mount (Matt. 5) was true in the Old Testament as well. Christ made it clear that those who hated were guilty of murder even if they did not actually take a life. The cities of refuge show the other side by revealing that those who inadvertently took a life without malice or forethought are not held guilty of murder and thus not liable to its consequence. The heart is the key. It does not remove the tragedy of the loss of human life but it does focus on the spiritual significance of God's law. The fact that those guilty of intentional murder receive no asylum teaches the same. Take this opportunity to apply this principle to all the Ten Commandments and remember that the heart, although unseen to man, is known by God. Motives matter.
2. The avenger is the kinsman-redeemer whose responsibility it was to help his family in whatever way was necessary. Sometimes, it involved purchasing property to keep it within the family like Boaz the near kinsman did for Ruth. Here in this context the act involved the execution of justice. The main point is that the kinsman does whatever must be done for the welfare of family. Significantly, the term is used of God (Ps. 19:14). The wonderful truth is that because of His covenant relationship with His people, the Lord will do for them whatever needs to be done for their welfare. Ultimately, it points to Christ who as our kinsman-redeemer has delivered us from death and has provided for us an inheritance of spiritual blessing. We can count on Him to act in our behalf in whatever way is needful for us. Spend some time exalting Christ as our kinsman-redeemer!

Chapter 21: Joshua allots forty-eight cities to the tribe of Levi in the midst of the other tribal territories.

Cities for the Levites (21:1–45)

21:1 Levites. See notes at 13:14 and 14:4. fathers. Used here as an honorific title of the leaders of the tribes.

21:2 suburbs. Pasturelands outside the city limits but under the jurisdiction of the city.

21:43–45 Sums up the end of the conquest and land allotment. gave them rest. Enabled them to settle down. there failed not ought. Literally, "a word did not fall from any good word." God always keeps His word.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 21

1. The tribe of Levi was divinely chosen to be the special servants of the Lord for the ministry of tabernacle. Not all were priests, but all in some capacity enjoyed the unique privilege of being employed in sacred service. The Lord Himself was their ultimate inheritance, and so they did not inherit land as the other tribes. But as the servants of God, He had a place for them to serve for the welfare and advantage of the entire nation. He scattered them in such a way that their influence and ministry could be experienced throughout the nation. They were God's gift to the nation. Similarly, God has called men to sacred ministry and given them to local and specific congregations for the edification and spiritual welfare of believers (Eph. 4:11–12). How can you show honor and appreciation for these men?
2. Joshua 21:43–45 declares the fulfillment of God's promise of land in absolute terms, yet Judges reveals that not all the land was actually conquered, and yet another rest was to come in the time of David (2 Sam. 7:1,11). The focus of the promise included something beyond just a geographical component. Ultimately, this rest involved the enjoyment of God's presence and was the experience of faith. Under Joshua, this generation had conquered the enemies before them and entered into their inheritance. The fact that there was more to come did not distract from the fullness of their enjoyment of what God had promised. This illustrates once again the "already-not yet" principle that characterizes the Christian experience. How does it encourage you today to know that in Christ, we are blessed with all the spiritual blessings in the heavenly places, but the best is yet to be (Eph. 1)?

THE MAINTENANCE OF THE LAND (22:1—24:33)

Chapter 22: The two and a half tribes return to their inheritance on the east of the Jordan, but a controversy arises over an altar of witness that jeopardizes the unity of the nation.

Warnings for the Transjordan Tribes (22:1–34)

22:1–5 The two and a half tribes had faithfully discharged their duty in fighting the battles to aid their countrymen even though their own inheritance had already been secured (Num. 32:20–22; Deut. 3:18–20; Josh. 1:12–15). take diligent heed to do. Be very careful to do. The five infinitives define the essence of obedience to the commandments. Compare with Deut. 10:12–13. with all your heart and with all your soul. The heart includes the entire inner man—mind, affections, and will. Soul designates the whole person. Together they express the idea of total devotion. No part of life is unaffected by one's relationship to God.

22:10 great altar to see to. Great altar in regard to appearance.

22:12 Shiloh was the location of the tabernacle, the only legitimate place for sacrifice. The western tribes assumed that the altar erected was going to violate the law of the central sanctuary (Deut. 12).

22:14 prince(s). An exalted leader but not royalty.

22:16 What trespass . . . have committed. The noun and verb are the same root and refer to acts of unfaithfulness directed against God. rebel. Implies the rejection of God's authority.

22:17 iniquity. Pictures sin as twisted and perverted behavior. See Num. 23:28 for the historical occasion of Peor. plague. Can refer to either a stumbling or an affliction.

22:18 turn away. The common word for repentance, picturing a reversal of direction. wroth. Angry.

22:20 accursed thing. That which God had devoted to Himself for destruction.

22:22 God of gods. The Hebrew way to express a superlative; hence, the supreme God.

22:24 for fear. This word for fear has the idea of anxious worry or dread.

22:25 fearing the LORD. This word for fear expresses the essence of true religion and piety.

22:26–29 The eastern tribes pledge their allegiance to the Lord and His requirements, explaining that the altar is a monument to remind future generations of that commitment. God forbid. Literally, "far be it from us," may it never happen that we would rebel.

22:30 it pleased them. Literally, "it was good in their eyes." They were satisfied with the explanation. See also v. 33.

22:34 Ed. The translators simply transliterated the Hebrew word for "witness."

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 22

1. This episode illustrates the unity of God's people and the pervasive consequences of sin that can affect the whole body. The nation remembered the terrible consequences of the sin of many at Baal Peor and the sin of one at Jericho (Achan) that caused the shameful defeat at Ai. They learned the lesson and did not want to repeat it. So if the eastern tribes were guilty of violating God's commandment, they were ready to deal with it immediately lest the whole nation would suffer. They knew that a little leaven leavens the whole lump and therefore they had to purge out the old (1 Cor. 5:6–7). We must remember how powerful sin is, and that by either example or consequence the most private of sins have the potential of affecting others. For the sake of the body, it is imperative for the church to exercise discipline when aware of sin in others. How can we, for the sake of ourselves and of the body, strive for victory over every sin?
2. The manner in which the western tribes handled the issue with their eastern brothers is exemplary. There was no rush to judgment. Inquiry was made before action was taken, and they gave them the benefit of the doubt. Too often, some Christians think the worst and condemn fellow believers on the basis of suspicion rather than fact. Here is an Old Testament example of the procedure Christ outlines in Matt. 18 for dealing with offending brothers. When they talked together and the facts were known, the result was peace and not war. Since it is good to preserve the unity of the brothers rather than incite unnecessary division, what wise practices should you establish?

Admonitions from Joshua (23:1—24:33)

Chapter 23: Joshua exhorts the nation in the light of his impending death.

23:1–2 Joshua waxed old and stricken in age. Joshua was old and, literally, "going in the days."

23:4–5 Joshua assured them that even the territories allotted to them that had not yet been conquered would become their possession. The Lord had won the victory but the possession was gradual. Spiritually, this parallels progressive sanctification.

23:6 Be . . . very courageous. Literally, "be exceedingly strong." written in the book of the law of Moses. A reference to the whole Pentateuch, which was written by inspiration and preserved by providence for their instruction.

23:7 mention . . . swear . . . serve . . . bow. In reference to these actions, the Hebrew uses the emphatic prohibition: "You must not."

23:11 Take good heed. The Hebrew uses the emphatic command: "You must guard yourselves exceedingly."

23:12 Else if ye do in any wise go back. If indeed you certainly return.

23:15–16 evil things. Not in the sense of moral evil but disasters or harmful things. All this is in keeping with Moses (Deut. 28:63). Possession of the land was always conditioned by faith and obedience.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 23

1. Israel's possession of the Promised Land was rooted in God's fulfillment of His promise and experienced in terms of their faithful obedience. God promised victory and fought for them, but they had to love and obey Him in order to experience the blessing. This parallels spiritually the procedure for our sanctification. Christ has conquered our spiritual enemies so that sin no longer has dominion over us. In the light of that victory and promise, we must die to sin and live to righteousness. Our sanctification is progressive and involves cooperation between what God has done in Christ and what we must do in Christ to experience victory. Ponder or discuss Paul's logic in Rom. 6.
2. Loving God and loving the world are mutually exclusive. As evidence of their obedience and love for God, Israel was to have no alliance with the worldly and pagan inhabitants of the land. Those nations were cut off by God and destined to destruction. So we as Christians, who love God, are not to love the things of this world, which are opposed to God and destined to pass away (1 John 2:15–17). How can we keep our hearts from the love of the world?

Chapter 24: Joshua reviews Israel's history as the basis for renewing the covenant with the nation prior to his death.

24:2–3 flood. River, a specific reference to the Euphrates. they served other gods. Prior to his call and conversion, Abraham was a pagan idolater. This highlights the grace of God in bringing him out of Ur. The following review of history is a pattern of grace.

24:8 the Amorites. A general term referring to all Canaanite peoples. the other side Jordan. Here referring to Transjordan or eastern side.

24:12 the hornet. See Deut. 7:20. Interpreters differ regarding the meaning of this word. It could refer to an actual hornet, the abstract idea of discouragement, or an angel (Ex. 23:28).

24:14 in sincerity. Completely or totally. flood. The Euphrates, also v. 15. in Egypt. Israel practiced idolatry while in bondage; they were not suffering in slavery as persecuted saints. This highlights the grace of God in delivering them in the exodus.

24:15 evil. a hard or harmful thing. choose you this day. True religion is exclusive. God does not tolerate shared allegiance (see the first commandment in Ex. 20:3).

24:16 God forbid. Literally, "far be it from us."

24:18 drave out. Banished.

24:19 Joshua used hyperbolic language to underscore the importance of the decision to follow the Lord. Man must not trifle with God; He takes confessions of commitment seriously. The Bible is clear that God does forgive sins upon confession, but this makes it clear that there is no forgiveness for those who reject Him. holy. Distinct and separate. jealous. God is zealous for His own name, His Word, and His people.

24:20 strange gods. The gods of a foreign land (v. 23). do you hurt. Punish you. consume. Destroy or exterminate.

24:27 it hath heard. A figure of speech in which an inanimate object (the stone) is attributed with human activity.

24:29–33 These verses are most likely post-Joshua. See Introduction: Authorship.

24:32 See Ex. 13:19.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 24

1. Joshua's final charge outlines a formula for keeping and enjoying God's blessing. First, remember that sovereign grace is the cause of blessing. Abraham was as guilty of idolatry as any one else in Ur, but God graciously entered into covenant with him. Israel was as guilty as the Egyptians that held them in bondage but God graciously redeemed them with His power and the blood of the sacrifice. So it is that we are not saved by any self-merit or effort but purely by grace which is so undeserved. Spend time praising God for His gifts of grace.
2. Second, remember that divine faithfulness is the guarantee of blessing. Joshua's review of history cited instance after instance of God's faithfulness in keeping His word, defeating every enemy they confronted. They inherited the land because God's promise was certain. And so we should remember that all of God's promises are yea and amen in Jesus Christ. God was faithful to every covenant promise to send His Son to be the Redeemer of His people, and Christ faithfully fulfilled His commission to redeem them. What future promises can we then cling to with great hope?
3. Third, acknowledge that personal commitment is the condition for blessing. In the light of God's grace and faithfulness, Israel was to fear Him and serve Him in sincerity and truth. Joshua flatly said they could not do this on their own. That commitment was the evidence of grace received. This parallels what Christ expects of His disciples. In Luke 14, the greater Joshua said three times that one cannot be His disciple unless he regards Christ above others (v. 6), above self (vv. 26–27), and above everything (v. 33). Pray for God's continued gift of grace that makes this kind of commitment possible.

Canaan and the Inheritance

By our sin we departed from God and lost the inheritance that was ours in the garden of Eden. The Lord did not leave fallen humanity without a promise, which included victory for the seed of the woman (Gen. 3:15). In the call of Abraham, however, the Lord gave a new shape and direction to that promise. The possession of an inheritance was one of the things most distinctly promised in the Abrahamic covenant (Gen. 12:1–7). Canaan was therefore an inheritance, a place of rest and blessing for the seed of Abraham, though still only a temporary inheritance. It was a type and pledge of the spiritual blessings the believer obtains and enjoys in and by Christ (Eph. 1:18) and of the final rest that remains for the people of God in heaven (Heb. 4:8–9).

The family of Abraham had no natural right to the inheritance of Canaan. Canaan, as an inheritance, was bestowed upon the seed of Abraham by promise, as the free gift of God's love (Gal. 3:18). Abraham's descendants didn't win the land as the spoils of battle or purchase it as in a business transaction. Their ownership of the land was purely a gracious act of God. He was faithful to give Israel the land (Josh. 21:43).

In like manner, a spiritual inheritance is bestowed upon God's people on the ground of God's eternal promise by virtue of His divine election (Luke 1:68–72; Heb. 13:20–21). It is promised to them in Christ (Titus 1:2), in whom all believers are one, being heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ (Rom. 8:16–18; Gal. 3:26–29; 4:4–7). The believer therefore has obtained an inheritance in Christ, according to the good pleasure of God, "being predestined according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will" (Eph. 1:11–12).

While Canaan was bestowed as the free gift of God on the seed of Abraham, the possession and enjoyment of the land were not easy. It had to be taken by faith in submission and obedience to the Lord (Lev. 26; Deut. 27–30). The way to victory was through the battlefield of warfare. The end of that war was never in doubt, however (Josh. 1:5); the Lord gave the victory (Josh. 10:30,32,42; 11:6,8). The same holds true today for the children of God who want to enjoy the spiritual inheritance bequeathed to them in Christ. Though their citizenship is in heaven (Phil. 3:20), "it is through much tribulation that we must enter the kingdom of God" (Acts 14:22). The Christian is to "fight the good fight of faith" and "lay hold of eternal life" by faith (1 Tim. 6:12). The outcome of the Christian's warfare, however, is never in doubt, just as the conquest of Canaan was never in doubt.

The distribution of Canaan was by lot and entirely by divine determination. In like manner, the Christian has a portion allotted to him by the Lord (Ps. 16:5). The Lord "shall choose our inheritance for us, the excellency of Jacob whom he loved" (Ps. 47:4). The allotment of Israel's inheritance was conveyed through the exercise of the priest's office (Josh. 14:11). In like manner, it is through Christ, our Great High Priest of good things to come, that we receive the promise of eternal inheritance (Heb. 9:11–15).

The land of Canaan was described as abundant and far reaching, a land in which the inhabitants would find all they needed in every area of life: "a land flowing with milk and honey" (Ex. 3:8). Far greater is the inheritance of the Christian. God will supply all our needs according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus (Phil. 4:19). His riches are unsearchable (Eph. 3:8), and thus Paul prayed that the eyes of the understanding of the Ephesians might be enlightened, that they might "know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints" (Eph. 1:18). In heaven all of the redeemed will be entirely content and perfectly happy (Ps. 16:11). All will be fully satisfied (Ps. 17:15); nothing there can or will disappoint (Rev. 7:16–17).

The Angel of the Lord

INTRODUCTION TO THE BOOK OF

JUDGES

Authorship

Although the book is anonymous, tradition has identified Samuel or one of his contemporaries as the likely author. The book certainly reflects the prophetic spirit.

Date

The date of composition is uncertain but is suggested by internal evidence. Many interpreters identify the reference to the “captivity of the land” in 18:30 to equate to the captivity of the ark mentioned in 1 Sam. 4:11. This occurred approximately 1090 BC. The reference to the Jebusite occupation of Jerusalem in Judg. 1:21 points to a time before David took possession of the city recorded in 2 Sam. 5. This occurred approximately 1003 BC. This evidence would put the composition sometime between 1090 and 1003 BC. If the book was written toward the beginning of this period, it is well within the lifetime of Samuel.

Theme

The faithfulness of a covenant-keeping God to deliver His people from their oppressors.

Purpose

To set the stage for the coming of Christ as the Savior of His sin-troubled people by showing how God delights to intervene in mercy.

Synopsis

The Contribution of Judges to Redemptive Revelation

Judges covers approximately 350 years of Israel's history from the death of Joshua to the ministry of Samuel. The recorded years of oppression and rest gives a much higher number but most of the oppressions were geographically localized and temporally overlapping. It warns against compromising with the ungodly and their idolatrous ways. Israel's compromises are all the more glaring in light of God's carefully stated instructions to utterly destroy the heathen nations (Deut. 12:2; 17:2; 20:17). There was divine justice behind the command to eradicate these nations (Deut. 18:9–13). However, Israel failed by allowing the heathen to dwell in the land, making alliances with them, and encouraging intermarriage. This inevitably led Israel to idolatrous worship. Time and again the children of Israel sinned against the Lord, and each and every time they cried for deliverance God answered in grace by raising up a judge.

There is a remarkable yet pathetic pattern of rebellion, retribution, repentance, and restoration listing twelve judges. Six stand out preeminently as deliverers—Othniel, Shamgar, Deborah (with Barak), Gideon, Jephthah, and Samson (3:7,12; 4:1; 6:1; 10:6; 13:1). Man's hopeless condition is highlighted by the failure of one generation being repeated by the next generation (2:10). The apostasy of God's people was swift and its idolatry spread through the nation like a disease. With each cycle of apostasy the nation plummeted to greater depths. Israel became incorrigible in their pursuit of evil: "every man did that which was right in his own eyes" (17:6; 18:1; 19:1; 21:25). The message of Judges is clear. When sin is not thoroughly slain it will rise up to trouble us, but when sin is confessed and mercy is sought God will rise up to save us.

Each history of deliverance is different. From Jael with the nail, to Gideon with his trumpets and pitchers, to Samson pulling down the house of Dagon upon the Philistines, God shows His ability to give His people the victory, and each judge reveals some aspect of the power and grace of our Lord Jesus as Savior. Through this history of deliverances God was preparing His people to expect the Son of God to come as the Savior of the world. Every deliverer raised the anticipation for the ideal Deliverer who would come in the fullness of time.

THE BOOK OF

JUDGES

Judges 1 [†]

1 [†] Now after the death of Joshua it came to pass, that the children of Israel asked the Lord, saying, Who shall go up for us against the Canaanites first, to fight against them?
2 [†] And the Lord said, Judah shall go up: behold, I have delivered the land into his hand.
3 [†] And Judah said unto Simeon his brother, Come up with me into my lot, that we may fight against the Canaanites; and I likewise will go with thee into thy lot. So Simeon went with him.
4 And Judah went up; and the Lord delivered the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their hand: and they slew of them in Bezek ten thousand men.
5 [†] And they found Adoni-bezek in Bezek: and they fought against him, and they slew the Canaanites and the Perizzites.
6 But Adoni-bezek fled; and they pursued after him, and caught him, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes.
7 [†] And Adoni-bezek said, Threescore and ten kings, having their thumbs and their great toes cut off, gathered their meat under my table: as I have done, so God hath requited me. And they brought him to Jerusalem, and there he died.
8 Now the children of Judah had fought against Jerusalem, and had taken it, and smitten it with the edge of the sword, and set the city on fire.
9 ¶ And afterward the children of Judah went down to fight against the Canaanites, that dwelt in the mountain, and in the south, and in the valley.
10 And Judah went against the Canaanites that dwelt in Hebron: (now the name of Hebron before was Kirjath-arba:) and they slew Sheshai, and Ahiman, and Talmai.
11 And from thence he went against the inhabitants of Debir: and the name of Debir before was Kirjath-sepher:
12 [†] And Caleb said, He that smiteth Kirjath-sepher, and taketh it, to him will I give Achsah my daughter to wife.
13 And Othniel the son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother, took it: and he gave him Achsah his daughter to wife.
14 [†] And it came to pass, when she came to him, that she moved him to ask of her father a field: and she lighted from off her ass; and Caleb said unto her, What wilt thou?
15 [†] And she said unto him, Give me a blessing: for thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And Caleb gave her the upper springs and the nether springs.
16 [†] ¶ And the children of the Kenite, Moses' father in law, went up out of the city of palm trees with the children of Judah into the wilderness of Judah, which lieth in the south of Arad; and they went and dwelt among the people.
17 [†] And Judah went with Simeon his brother, and they slew the Canaanites that inhabited Zephath, and utterly destroyed it. And the name of the city was called Hormah.
18 [†] Also Judah took Gaza with the coast thereof, and Askelon with the coast thereof, and Ekron with the coast thereof.
19 [†] And the Lord was with Judah; and he drave out the inhabitants of the mountain; but could not drive out the inhabitants of the valley, because they had chariots of iron.
20 And they gave Hebron unto Caleb, as Moses said: and he expelled thence the three sons of Anak.
21 [†] And the children of Benjamin did not drive out the Jebusites that inhabited Jerusalem; but the Jebusites dwell with the children of Benjamin in Jerusalem unto this day.
22 ¶ And the house of Joseph, they also went up against Beth-el: and the Lord was with them.
23 [†] And the house of Joseph sent to descry Beth-el. (Now the name of the city before was Luz.)

24 And the spies saw a man come forth out of the city, and they said unto him, Shew us, we pray thee, the entrance into the city, and we will shew thee mercy.
25 And when he shewed them the entrance into the city, they smote the city with the edge of the sword; but they let go the man and all his family.
26 And the man went into the land of the Hittites, and built a city, and called the name thereof Luz: which is the name thereof unto this day.
27 [†] ¶ Neither did Manasseh drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shean and her towns, nor Taanach and her towns, nor the inhabitants of Dor and her towns, nor the inhabitants of Ibleam and her towns, nor the inhabitants of Megiddo and her towns: but the Canaanites would dwell in that land.
28 [†] And it came to pass, when Israel was strong, that they put the Canaanites to tribute, and did not utterly drive them out.
29 ¶ Neither did Ephraim drive out the Canaanites that dwelt in Gezer; but the Canaanites dwelt in Gezer among them.
30 ¶ Neither did Zebulun drive out the inhabitants of Kitron, nor the inhabitants of Nahalol; but the Canaanites dwelt among them, and became tributaries.
31 ¶ Neither did Asher drive out the inhabitants of Accho, nor the inhabitants of Zidon, nor of Ahlab, nor of Achzib, nor of Helbah, nor of Aphik, nor of Rehob:
32 But the Asherites dwelt among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land: for they did not drive them out.
33 ¶ Neither did Naphtali drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh, nor the inhabitants of Beth-anath; but he dwelt among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land: nevertheless the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh and of Beth-anath became tributaries unto them.
34 [†] And the Amorites forced the children of Dan into the mountain: for they would not suffer them to come down to the valley:
35 But the Amorites would dwell in mount Heres in Aijalon, and in Shaalbim: yet the hand of the house of Joseph prevailed, so that they became tributaries.
36 And the coast of the Amorites was from the going up to Akrabbim, from the rock, and upward.

Judges 2 [†]

1 [†] And an angel of the Lord came up from Gilgal to Bochim, and said, I made you to go up out of Egypt, and have brought you unto the land which I sware unto your fathers; and I said, I will never break my covenant with you.
2 [†] And ye shall make no league with the inhabitants of this land; ye shall throw down their altars: but ye have not obeyed my voice: why have ye done this?
3 Wherefore I also said, I will not drive them out from before you; but they shall be as thorns in your sides, and their gods shall be a snare unto you.
4 [†] And it came to pass, when the angel of the Lord spake these words unto all the children of Israel, that the people lifted up their voice, and wept.
5 And they called the name of that place Bochim: and they sacrificed there unto the Lord.
6 [†] ¶ And when Joshua had let the people go, the children of Israel went every man unto his inheritance to possess the land.
7 And the people served the Lord all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders that outlived Joshua, who had seen all the great works of the Lord, that he did for Israel.
8 And Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of the Lord, died, being an hundred and ten years old.
9 And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in Timnath-heres, in the mount of Ephraim, on the north side of the hill Gaash.
10 And also all that generation were gathered unto their fathers: and there arose another generation after them, which knew not the Lord, nor yet the works which he had done for Israel.
11 [†] ¶ And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord, and served Baalim:
12 And they forsook the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and followed other gods, of the gods of the people that were round about them, and bowed themselves unto them, and provoked the Lord to anger.
13 [†] And they forsook the Lord, and served Baal and Ashtaroth.
14 [†] ¶ And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies.
15 [†] Whithersoever they went out, the hand of the Lord was against them for evil, as the Lord had said, and as the Lord had sworn unto them: and they were greatly distressed.
16 [†] ¶ Nevertheless the Lord raised up judges, which delivered them out of the hand of those that spoiled them.
17 [†] And yet they would not hearken unto their judges, but they went a whoring after other gods, and bowed themselves unto them: they turned quickly out of the way which their fathers walked in, obeying the commandments of the Lord; but they did not so.
18 [†] And when the Lord raised them up judges, then the Lord was with the judge, and delivered them out of the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge: for it repented the Lord because of their groanings by reason of them that oppressed them and vexed them.
19 [†] And it came to pass, when the judge was dead, that they returned, and corrupted themselves more than their fathers, in following other gods to serve them, and to bow down unto them; they ceased not from their own doings, nor from their stubborn way.
20 ¶ And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel; and he said, Because that this people hath transgressed my covenant which I commanded their fathers, and have not hearkened unto my voice;
21 I also will not henceforth drive out any from before them of the nations which Joshua left when he died:

22 [†] That through them I may prove Israel, whether they will keep the way of the LORD to walk therein, as their fathers did keep it, or not.
23 Therefore the LORD left those nations, without driving them out hastily; neither delivered he them into the hand of Joshua.

Judges 3 [†]

1 [†] Now these are the nations which the Lord left, to prove Israel by them, even as many of Israel as had not known all the wars of Canaan;
2 [†] Only that the generations of the children of Israel might know, to teach them war, at the least such as before knew nothing thereof;
3 [†] Namely, five lords of the Philistines, and all the Canaanites, and the Sidonians, and the Hivites that dwelt in mount Lebanon, from mount Baal-hermon unto the entering in of Hamath.
4 [†] And they were to prove Israel by them, to know whether they would hearken unto the commandments of the Lord, which he commanded their fathers by the hand of Moses.
5 ¶ And the children of Israel dwelt among the Canaanites, Hittites, and Amorites, and Perizzites, and Hivites, and Jebusites:
6 And they took their daughters to be their wives, and gave their daughters to their sons, and served their gods.
7 [†] And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord, and forgat the Lord their God, and served Baalim and the groves.
8 ¶ Therefore the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he sold them into the hand of Chushan-rishathaim king of Mesopotamia: and the children of Israel served Chushan-rishathaim eight years.
9 [†] And when the children of Israel cried unto the Lord, the Lord raised up a deliverer to the children of Israel, who delivered them, even Othniel the son of Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother.
10 [†] And the Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he judged Israel, and went out to war: and the Lord delivered Chushan-rishathaim king of Mesopotamia into his hand; and his hand prevailed against Chushan-rishathaim.
11 And the land had rest forty years. And Othniel the son of Kenaz died.
12 [†] ¶ And the children of Israel did evil again in the sight of the Lord: and the Lord strengthened Eglon the king of Moab against Israel, because they had done evil in the sight of the Lord.
13 [†] And he gathered unto him the children of Ammon and Amalek, and went and smote Israel, and possessed the city of palm trees.
14 So the children of Israel served Eglon the king of Moab eighteen years.
15 [†] But when the children of Israel cried unto the Lord, the Lord raised them up a deliverer, Ehud the son of Gera, a Benjamite, a man lefthanded: and by him the children of Israel sent a present unto Eglon the king of Moab.
16 [†] But Ehud made him a dagger which had two edges, of a cubit length; and he did gird it under his raiment upon his right thigh.
17 And he brought the present unto Eglon king of Moab: and Eglon was a very fat man.
18 And when he had made an end to offer the present, he sent away the people that bare the present.
19 [†] But he himself turned again from the quarries that were by Gilgal, and said, I have a secret errand unto thee, O king: who said, Keep silence. And all that stood by him went out from him.
20 [†] And Ehud came unto him; and he was sitting in a summer parlour, which he had for himself alone. And Ehud said, I have a message from God unto thee. And he arose out of his seat.
21 And Ehud put forth his left hand, and took the dagger from his right thigh, and thrust it into his belly:
22 [†] And the haft also went in after the blade; and the fat closed upon the blade, so that he could not draw the dagger out of his belly; and the dirt came out.
23 Then Ehud went forth through the porch, and shut the doors of the parlour upon him, and locked them.
24 [†] When he was gone out, his servants came; and when they saw that, behold, the doors of the parlour were locked, they said, Surely he covereth his feet in his summer chamber.

25 And they tarried till they were ashamed: and, behold, he opened not the doors of the parlour; therefore they took a key, and opened them: and, behold, their lord was fallen down dead on the earth.
26 And Ehud escaped while they tarried, and passed beyond the quarries, and escaped unto Seirath.
27 And it came to pass, when he was come, that he blew a trumpet in the mountain of Ephraim, and the children of Israel went down with him from the mount, and he before them.
28 And he said unto them, Follow after me: for the LORD hath delivered your enemies the Moabites into your hand. And they went down after him, and took the fords of Jordan toward Moab, and suffered not a man to pass over.
29 [†] And they slew of Moab at that time about ten thousand men, all lusty, and all men of valour; and there escaped not a man.
30 So Moab was subdued that day under the hand of Israel. And the land had rest fourscore years.
31 [†] ¶ And after him was Shamgar the son of Anath, which slew of the Philistines six hundred men with an ox goad: and he also delivered Israel.

Judges 4 [†]

1 And the children of Israel again did evil in the sight of the Lord, when Ehud was dead.
2 And the Lord sold them into the hand of Jabin king of Canaan, that reigned in Hazor; the captain of whose host was Sisera, which dwelt in Harosheth of the Gentiles.
3 [†] And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord: for he had nine hundred chariots of iron; and twenty years he mightily oppressed the children of Israel.
4 ¶ And Deborah, a prophetess, the wife of Lapidoth, she judged Israel at that time.
5 And she dwelt under the palm tree of Deborah between Ramah and Beth-el in mount Ephraim: and the children of Israel came up to her for judgment.
6 [†] And she sent and called Barak the son of Abinoam out of Kedesh-naphtali, and said unto him, Hath not the Lord God of Israel commanded, saying, Go and draw toward mount Tabor, and take with thee ten thousand men of the children of Naphtali and of the children of Zebulun?
7 [†] And I will draw unto thee to the river Kishon Sisera, the captain of Jabin's army, with his chariots and his multitude; and I will deliver him into thine hand.
8 And Barak said unto her, If thou wilt go with me, then I will go: but if thou wilt not go with me, then I will not go.
9 [†] And she said, I will surely go with thee: notwithstanding the journey that thou takest shall not be for thine honour; for the Lord shall sell Sisera into the hand of a woman. And Deborah arose, and went with Barak to Kedesh.
10 ¶ And Barak called Zebulun and Naphtali to Kedesh; and he went up with ten thousand men at his feet: and Deborah went up with him.
11 Now Heber the Kenite, which was of the children of Hobab the father in law of Moses, had severed himself from the Kenites, and pitched his tent unto the plain of Zaanaim, which is by Kedesh.
12 And they shewed Sisera that Barak the son of Abinoam was gone up to mount Tabor.
13 [†] And Sisera gathered together all his chariots, even nine hundred chariots of iron, and all the people that were with him, from Harosheth of the Gentiles unto the river of Kishon.
14 And Deborah said unto Barak, Up; for this is the day in which the Lord hath delivered Sisera into thine hand: is not the Lord gone out before thee? So Barak went down from mount Tabor, and ten thousand men after him.
15 [†] And the Lord discomfited Sisera, and all his chariots, and all his host, with the edge of the sword before Barak; so that Sisera lighted down off his chariot, and fled away on his feet.
16 But Barak pursued after the chariots, and after the host, unto Harosheth of the Gentiles: and all the host of Sisera fell upon the edge of the sword; and there was not a man left.
17 [†] Howbeit Sisera fled away on his feet to the tent of Jael the wife of Heber the Kenite: for there was peace between Jabin the king of Hazor and the house of Heber the Kenite.
18 [†] ¶ And Jael went out to meet Sisera, and said unto him, Turn in, my lord, turn in to me; fear not. And when he had turned in unto her into the tent, she covered him with a mantle.
19 And he said unto her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water to drink; for I am thirsty. And she opened a bottle of milk, and gave him drink, and covered him.
20 Again he said unto her, Stand in the door of the tent, and it shall be, when any man doth come and enquire of thee, and say, Is there any man here? that thou shalt say, No.
21 Then Jael Heber's wife took a nail of the tent, and took an hammer in her hand, and went softly unto him, and smote the nail into his temples, and fastened it into the ground: for he was fast asleep and weary. So he died.
22 And, behold, as Barak pursued Sisera, Jael came out to meet him, and said unto him, Come, and I will shew thee the man whom thou seekest. And when he came into her tent, behold, Sisera lay dead, and the nail was in his temples.

23 [†] So God subdued on that day Jabin the king of Canaan before the children of Israel.
24 And the hand of the children of Israel prospered, and prevailed against Jabin the king of Canaan, until they had destroyed Jabin king of Canaan.

Judges 5 [†]

1 Then sang Deborah and Barak the son of Abinoam on that day, saying,
2 Praise ye the Lord for the avenging of Israel, when the people willingly offered themselves.
3 [†] Hear, O ye kings; give ear, O ye princes; I, even I, will sing unto the Lord; I will sing praise to the Lord God of Israel.
4 Lord, when thou wentest out of Seir, when thou marchedst out of the field of Edom, the earth trembled and the heavens dropped, the clouds also dropped water.
5 The mountains melted from before the Lord, even that Sinai from before the Lord God of Israel.
6 [†] In the days of Shamgar the son of Anath, in the days of Jael, the highways were unoccupied, and the travellers walked through byways.
7 [†] The inhabitants of the villages ceased, they ceased in Israel, until that I Deborah arose, that I arose a mother in Israel.
8 [†] They chose new gods; then was war in the gates: was there a shield or spear seen among forty thousand in Israel?
9 [†] My heart is toward the governors of Israel, that offered themselves willingly among the people. Bless ye the Lord.
10 Speak, ye that ride on white asses, ye that sit in judgment, and walk by the way.
11 [†] They that are delivered from the noise of archers in the places of drawing water, there shall they rehearse the righteous acts of the Lord, even the righteous acts toward the inhabitants of his villages in Israel: then shall the people of the Lord go down to the gates.
12 Awake, awake, Deborah: awake, awake, utter a song: arise, Barak, and lead thy captivity captive, thou son of Abinoam.
13 Then he made him that remaineth have dominion over the nobles among the people: the Lord made me have dominion over the mighty.
14 Out of Ephraim was there a root of them against Amalek; after thee, Benjamin, among thy people; out of Machir came down governors, and out of Zebulun they that handle the pen of the writer.
15 [†] And the princes of Issachar were with Deborah; even Issachar, and also Barak: he was sent on foot into the valley. For the divisions of Reuben there were great thoughts of heart.
16 Why abodest thou among the sheepfolds, to hear the bleatings of the flocks? For the divisions of Reuben there were great searchings of heart.
17 [†] Gilead abode beyond Jordan: and why did Dan remain in ships? Asher continued on the sea shore, and abode in his breaches.
18 [†] Zebulun and Naphtali were a people that jeoparded their lives unto the death in the high places of the field.
19 The kings came and fought, then fought the kings of Canaan in Taanach by the waters of Megiddo; they took no gain of money.
20 They fought from heaven; the stars in their courses fought against Sisera.
21 The river of Kishon swept them away, that ancient river, the river Kishon. O my soul, thou hast trodden down strength.
22 Then were the horsehoofs broken by the means of the pransings, the pransings of their mighty ones.
23 Curse ye Meroz, said the angel of the Lord, curse ye bitterly the inhabitants thereof; because they came not to the help of the Lord, to the help of the Lord against the mighty.
24 Blessed above women shall Jael the wife of Heber the Kenite be, blessed shall she be above women in the tent.
25 [†] He asked water, and she gave him milk; she brought forth butter in a lordly dish.

26 She put her hand to the nail, and her right hand to the workmen’s hammer; and with the hammer she smote Sisera, she smote off his head, when she had pierced and stricken through his temples.
27 At her feet he bowed, he fell, he lay down: at her feet he bowed, he fell: where he bowed, there he fell down dead.
28 The mother of Sisera looked out at a window, and cried through the lattice, Why is his chariot so long in coming? why tarry the wheels of his chariots?
29 Her wise ladies answered her, yea, she returned answer to herself,
30 [†] Have they not sped? have they not divided the prey; to every man a damsel or two; to Sisera a prey of divers colours, a prey of divers colours of needlework, of divers colours of needlework on both sides, meet for the necks of them that take the spoil?
31 [†] So let all thine enemies perish, O LORD: but let them that love him be as the sun when he goeth forth in his might. And the land had rest forty years.

Judges 6 [†]

1 [†] And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord: and the Lord delivered them into the hand of Midian seven years.
2 [†] And the hand of Midian prevailed against Israel: and because of the Midianites the children of Israel made them the dens which are in the mountains, and caves, and strong holds.
3 [†] And so it was, when Israel had sown, that the Midianites came up, and the Amalekites, and the children of the east, even they came up against them;
4 [†] And they encamped against them, and destroyed the increase of the earth, till thou come unto Gaza, and left no sustenance for Israel, neither sheep, nor ox, nor ass.
5 For they came up with their cattle and their tents, and they came as grasshoppers for multitude; for both they and their camels were without number: and they entered into the land to destroy it.
6 [†] And Israel was greatly impoverished because of the Midianites; and the children of Israel cried unto the Lord.
7 ¶ And it came to pass, when the children of Israel cried unto the Lord because of the Midianites,
8 [†] That the Lord sent a prophet unto the children of Israel, which said unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I brought you up from Egypt, and brought you forth out of the house of bondage;
9 [†] And I delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of all that oppressed you, and drave them out from before you, and gave you their land;
10 [†] And I said unto you, I am the Lord your God; fear not the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: but ye have not obeyed my voice.
11 [†] ¶ And there came an angel of the Lord, and sat under an oak which was in Ophrah, that pertained unto Joash the Abi-ezrite: and his son Gideon threshed wheat by the winepress, to hide it from the Midianites.
12 [†] And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him, and said unto him, The Lord is with thee, thou mighty man of valour.
13 [†] And Gideon said unto him, Oh my Lord, if the Lord be with us, why then is all this befallen us? and where be all his miracles which our fathers told us of, saying, Did not the Lord bring us up from Egypt? but now the Lord hath forsaken us, and delivered us into the hands of the Midianites.
14 And the Lord looked upon him, and said, Go in this thy might, and thou shalt save Israel from the hand of the Midianites: have not I sent thee?
15 [†] And he said unto him, Oh my Lord, wherewith shall I save Israel? behold, my family is poor in Manasseh, and I am the least in my father's house.
16 [†] And the Lord said unto him, Surely I will be with thee, and thou shalt smite the Midianites as one man.
17 [†] And he said unto him, If now I have found grace in thy sight, then shew me a sign that thou talkest with me.
18 [†] Depart not hence, I pray thee, until I come unto thee, and bring forth my present, and set it before thee. And he said, I will tarry until thou come again.
19 [†] ¶ And Gideon went in, and made ready a kid, and unleavened cakes of an ephah of flour: the flesh he put in a basket, and he put the broth in a pot, and brought it out unto him under the oak, and presented it.
20 And the angel of God said unto him, Take the flesh and the unleavened cakes, and lay them upon this rock, and pour out the broth. And he did so.
21 ¶ Then the angel of the Lord put forth the end of the staff that was in his hand, and touched the flesh and the unleavened cakes; and there rose up fire out of the rock, and consumed the flesh and the unleavened cakes. Then the angel of the LORD departed out of his sight.

22 And when Gideon perceived that he was an angel of the LORD, Gideon said, Alas, O Lord GOD! for because I have seen an angel of the LORD face to face.
23 And the LORD said unto him, Peace be unto thee; fear not: thou shalt not die.
24 [†] Then Gideon built an altar there unto the LORD, and called it Jehovah-shalom: unto this day it is yet in Ophrah of the Abi-ezrites.
25 [†] ¶ And it came to pass the same night, that the LORD said unto him, Take thy father's young bullock, even the second bullock of seven years old, and throw down the altar of Baal that thy father hath, and cut down the grove that is by it:
26 And build an altar unto the LORD thy God upon the top of this rock, in the ordered place, and take the second bullock, and offer a burnt sacrifice with the wood of the grove which thou shalt cut down.
27 [†] Then Gideon took ten men of his servants, and did as the LORD had said unto him: and so it was, because he feared his father's household, and the men of the city, that he could not do it by day, that he did it by night.
28 ¶ And when the men of the city arose early in the morning, behold, the altar of Baal was cast down, and the grove was cut down that was by it, and the second bullock was offered upon the altar that was built.
29 And they said one to another, Who hath done this thing? And when they enquired and asked, they said, Gideon the son of Joash hath done this thing.
30 Then the men of the city said unto Joash, Bring out thy son, that he may die: because he hath cast down the altar of Baal, and because he hath cut down the grove that was by it.
31 [†] And Joash said unto all that stood against him, Will ye plead for Baal? will ye save him? he that will plead for him, let him be put to death whilst it is yet morning: if he be a god, let him plead for himself, because one hath cast down his altar.
32 [†] Therefore on that day he called him Jerubbaal, saying, Let Baal plead against him, because he hath thrown down his altar.
33 [†] ¶ Then all the Midianites and the Amalekites and the children of the east were gathered together, and went over, and pitched in the valley of Jezreel.
34 But the Spirit of the LORD came upon Gideon, and he blew a trumpet; and Abi-ezer was gathered after him.
35 And he sent messengers throughout all Manasseh; who also was gathered after him: and he sent messengers unto Asher, and unto Zebulun, and unto Naphtali; and they came up to meet them.
36 [†] ¶ And Gideon said unto God, If thou wilt save Israel by mine hand, as thou hast said,
37 Behold, I will put a fleece of wool in the floor; and if the dew be on the fleece only, and it be dry upon all the earth beside, then shall I know that thou wilt save Israel by mine hand, as thou hast said.
38 And it was so: for he rose up early on the morrow, and thrust the fleece together, and wringed the dew out of the fleece, a bowl full of water.
39 And Gideon said unto God, Let not thine anger be hot against me, and I will speak but this once: let me prove, I pray thee, but this once with the fleece; let it now be dry only upon the fleece, and upon all the ground let there be dew.
40 And God did so that night: for it was dry upon the fleece only, and there was dew on all the ground.

Judges 7 [†]

1 [†] Then Jerubbaal, who is Gideon, and all the people that were with him, rose up early, and pitched beside the well of Harod: so that the host of the Midianites were on the north side of them, by the hill of Moreh, in the valley.
2 [†] And the Lord said unto Gideon, The people that are with thee are too many for me to give the Midianites into their hands, lest Israel vaunt themselves against me, saying, Mine own hand hath saved me.
3 Now therefore go to, proclaim in the ears of the people, saying, Whosoever is fearful and afraid, let him return and depart early from mount Gilead. And there returned of the people twenty and two thousand; and there remained ten thousand.
4 [†] And the Lord said unto Gideon, The people are yet too many; bring them down unto the water, and I will try them for thee there: and it shall be, that of whom I say unto thee, This shall go with thee, the same shall go with thee; and of whomsoever I say unto thee, This shall not go with thee, the same shall not go.
5 So he brought down the people unto the water: and the Lord said unto Gideon, Every one that lappeth of the water with his tongue, as a dog lappeth, him shalt thou set by himself; likewise every one that boweth down upon his knees to drink.
6 [†] And the number of them that lapped, putting their hand to their mouth, were three hundred men: but all the rest of the people bowed down upon their knees to drink water.
7 And the Lord said unto Gideon, By the three hundred men that lapped will I save you, and deliver the Midianites into thine hand: and let all the other people go every man unto his place.
8 [†] So the people took victuals in their hand, and their trumpets: and he sent all the rest of Israel every man unto his tent, and retained those three hundred men: and the host of Midian was beneath him in the valley.
9 [†] ¶ And it came to pass the same night, that the Lord said unto him, Arise, get thee down unto the host; for I have delivered it into thine hand.
10 But if thou fear to go down, go thou with Phurah thy servant down to the host:
11 And thou shalt hear what they say; and afterward shall thine hands be strengthened to go down unto the host. Then went he down with Phurah his servant unto the outside of the armed men that were in the host.
12 And the Midianites and the Amalekites and all the children of the east lay along in the valley like grasshoppers for multitude; and their camels were without number, as the sand by the sea side for multitude.
13 [†] And when Gideon was come, behold, there was a man that told a dream unto his fellow, and said, Behold, I dreamed a dream, and, lo, a cake of barley bread tumbled into the host of Midian, and came unto a tent, and smote it that it fell, and overturned it, that the tent lay along.
14 And his fellow answered and said, This is nothing else save the sword of Gideon the son of Joash, a man of Israel: for into his hand hath God delivered Midian, and all the host.
15 ¶ And it was so, when Gideon heard the telling of the dream, and the interpretation thereof, that he worshipped, and returned into the host of Israel, and said, Arise; for the Lord hath delivered into your hand the host of Midian.
16 [†] And he divided the three hundred men into three companies, and he put a trumpet in every man's hand, with empty pitchers, and lamps within the pitchers.
17 And he said unto them, Look on me, and do likewise: and, behold, when I come to the outside of the camp, it shall be that, as I do, so shall ye do.

18 [†] When I blow with a trumpet, I and all that are with me, then blow ye the trumpets also on every side of all the camp, and say, The sword of the LORD, and of Gideon.
19 [†] ¶ So Gideon, and the hundred men that were with him, came unto the outside of the camp in the beginning of the middle watch; and they had but newly set the watch: and they blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers that were in their hands.
20 And the three companies blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers, and held the lamps in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands to blow withal: and they cried, The sword of the LORD, and of Gideon.
21 [†] And they stood every man in his place round about the camp: and all the host ran, and cried, and fled.
22 And the three hundred blew the trumpets, and the LORD set every man's sword against his fellow, even throughout all the host: and the host fled to Beth-shittah in Zererath, and to the border of Abel-meholah, unto Tabbath.
23 [†] And the men of Israel gathered themselves together out of Naphtali, and out of Asher, and out of all Manasseh, and pursued after the Midianites.
24 ¶ And Gideon sent messengers throughout all mount Ephraim, saying, Come down against the Midianites, and take before them the waters unto Beth-barah and Jordan. Then all the men of Ephraim gathered themselves together, and took the waters unto Beth-barah and Jordan.
25 And they took two princes of the Midianites, Oreb and Zeeb; and they slew Oreb upon the rock Oreb, and Zeeb they slew at the winepress of Zeeb, and pursued Midian, and brought the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon on the other side Jordan.

Judges 8 [†]

1 [†] And the men of Ephraim said unto him, Why hast thou served us thus, that thou calledst us not, when thou wentest to fight with the Midianites? And they did chide with him sharply.
2 [†] And he said unto them, What have I done now in comparison of you? Is not the gleaning of the grapes of Ephraim better than the vintage of Abi-ezer?
3 God hath delivered into your hands the princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb: and what was I able to do in comparison of you? Then their anger was abated toward him, when he had said that.
4 [†] ¶ And Gideon came to Jordan, and passed over, he, and the three hundred men that were with him, faint, yet pursuing them.
5 And he said unto the men of Succoth, Give, I pray you, loaves of bread unto the people that follow me; for they be faint, and I am pursuing after Zebah and Zalmunna, kings of Midian.
6 [†] ¶ And the princes of Succoth said, Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna now in thine hand, that we should give bread unto thine army?
7 And Gideon said, Therefore when the LORD hath delivered Zebah and Zalmunna into mine hand, then I will tear your flesh with the thorns of the wilderness and with briers.
8 ¶ And he went up thence to Penuel, and spake unto them likewise: and the men of Penuel answered him as the men of Succoth had answered him.
9 And he spake also unto the men of Penuel, saying, When I come again in peace, I will break down this tower.
10 ¶ Now Zebah and Zalmunna were in Karkor, and their hosts with them, about fifteen thousand men, all that were left of all the hosts of the children of the east: for there fell an hundred and twenty thousand men that drew sword.
11 [†] ¶ And Gideon went up by the way of them that dwelt in tents on the east of Nobah and Jogbehah, and smote the host: for the host was secure.
12 [†] And when Zebah and Zalmunna fled, he pursued after them, and took the two kings of Midian, Zebah and Zalmunna, and discomfited all the host.
13 ¶ And Gideon the son of Joash returned from battle before the sun was up,
14 [†] And caught a young man of the men of Succoth, and enquired of him: and he described unto him the princes of Succoth, and the elders thereof, even threescore and seventeen men.
15 [†] And he came unto the men of Succoth, and said, Behold Zebah and Zalmunna, with whom ye did upbraid me, saying, Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna now in thine hand, that we should give bread unto thy men that are weary?
16 [†] And he took the elders of the city, and thorns of the wilderness and briers, and with them he taught the men of Succoth.
17 And he beat down the tower of Penuel, and slew the men of the city.
18 [†] ¶ Then said he unto Zebah and Zalmunna, What manner of men were they whom ye slew at Tabor? And they answered, As thou art, so were they; each one resembled the children of a king.
19 [†] And he said, They were my brethren, even the sons of my mother: as the LORD liveth, if ye had saved them alive, I would not slay you.
20 And he said unto Jether his firstborn, Up, and slay them. But the youth drew not his sword: for he feared, because he was yet a youth.
21 Then Zebah and Zalmunna said, Rise thou, and fall upon us: for as the man is, so is his strength. And Gideon arose, and slew Zebah and Zalmunna, and took away the ornaments that were on their camels' necks.
22 [†] ¶ Then the men of Israel said unto Gideon, Rule thou over us, both thou, and thy son, and thy son’s son also: for thou hast delivered us from the hand of Midian.

23 And Gideon said unto them, I will not rule over you, neither shall my son rule over you: the LORD shall rule over you.
24 [†] ¶ And Gideon said unto them, I would desire a request of you, that ye would give me every man the earrings of his prey. (For they had golden earrings, because they were Ishmaelites.)
25 And they answered, We will willingly give them. And they spread a garment, and did cast therein every man the earrings of his prey.
26 [†] And the weight of the golden earrings that he requested was a thousand and seven hundred shekels of gold; beside ornaments, and collars, and purple raiment that was on the kings of Midian, and beside the chains that were about their camels’ necks.
27 [†] And Gideon made an ephod thereof, and put it in his city, even in Ophrah: and all Israel went thither a whoring after it: which thing became a snare unto Gideon, and to his house.
28 ¶ Thus was Midian subdued before the children of Israel, so that they lifted up their heads no more. And the country was in quietness forty years in the days of Gideon.
29 ¶ And Jerubbaal the son of Joash went and dwelt in his own house.
30 [†] And Gideon had threescore and ten sons of his body begotten: for he had many wives.
31 And his concubine that was in Shechem, she also bare him a son, whose name he called Abimelech.
32 ¶ And Gideon the son of Joash died in a good old age, and was buried in the sepulchre of Joash his father, in Ophrah of the Abi-ezrites.
33 [†] And it came to pass, as soon as Gideon was dead, that the children of Israel turned again, and went a whoring after Baalim, and made Baal-berith their god.
34 And the children of Israel remembered not the LORD their God, who had delivered them out of the hands of all their enemies on every side:
35 Neither shewed they kindness to the house of Jerubbaal, namely, Gideon, according to all the goodness which he had shewed unto Israel.

Judges 9 [†]

1 [†] And Abimelech the son of Jerubbaal went to Shechem unto his mother's brethren, and communed with them, and with all the family of the house of his mother's father, saying,
2 [†] Speak, I pray you, in the ears of all the men of Shechem, Whether is better for you, either that all the sons of Jerubbaal, which are threescore and ten persons, reign over you, or that one reign over you? remember also that I am your bone and your flesh.
3 And his mother's brethren spake of him in the ears of all the men of Shechem all these words: and their hearts inclined to follow Abimelech; for they said, He is our brother.
4 [†] And they gave him threescore and ten pieces of silver out of the house of Baal-berith, wherewith Abimelech hired vain and light persons, which followed him.
5 [†] And he went unto his father's house at Ophrah, and slew his brethren the sons of Jerubbaal, being threescore and ten persons, upon one stone: notwithstanding yet Jotham the youngest son of Jerubbaal was left; for he hid himself.
6 [†] And all the men of Shechem gathered together, and all the house of Millo, and went, and made Abimelech king, by the plain of the pillar that was in Shechem.
7 [†] ¶ And when they told it to Jotham, he went and stood in the top of mount Gerizim, and lifted up his voice, and cried, and said unto them, Hearken unto me, ye men of Shechem, that God may hearken unto you.
8 [†] The trees went forth on a time to anoint a king over them; and they said unto the olive tree, Reign thou over us.
9 But the olive tree said unto them, Should I leave my fatness, wherewith by me they honour God and man, and go to be promoted over the trees?
10 And the trees said to the fig tree, Come thou, and reign over us.
11 [†] But the fig tree said unto them, Should I forsake my sweetness, and my good fruit, and go to be promoted over the trees?
12 Then said the trees unto the vine, Come thou, and reign over us.
13 And the vine said unto them, Should I leave my wine, which cheereth God and man, and go to be promoted over the trees?
14 Then said all the trees unto the bramble, Come thou, and reign over us.
15 [†] And the bramble said unto the trees, If in truth ye anoint me king over you, then come and put your trust in my shadow: and if not, let fire come out of the bramble, and devour the cedars of Lebanon.
16 [†] Now therefore, if ye have done truly and sincerely, in that ye have made Abimelech king, and if ye have dealt well with Jerubbaal and his house, and have done unto him according to the deserving of his hands;
17 [†] (For my father fought for you, and adventured his life far, and delivered you out of the hand of Midian:
18 And ye are risen up against my father's house this day, and have slain his sons, threescore and ten persons, upon one stone, and have made Abimelech, the son of his maidservant, king over the men of Shechem, because he is your brother;)
19 If ye then have dealt truly and sincerely with Jerubbaal and with his house this day, then rejoice ye in Abimelech, and let him also rejoice in you:
20 [†] But if not, let fire come out from Abimelech, and devour the men of Shechem, and the house of Millo; and let fire come out from the men of Shechem, and from the house of Millo, and devour Abimelech.
21 And Jotham ran away, and fled, and went to Beer, and dwelt there, for fear of Abimelech his brother.

22 ¶ When Abimelech had reigned three years over Israel,
23 [†] Then God sent an evil spirit between Abimelech and the men of Shechem; and the men of Shechem dealt treacherously with Abimelech:
24 [†] That the cruelty done to the threescore and ten sons of Jerubbaal might come, and their blood be laid upon Abimelech their brother, which slew them; and upon the men of Shechem, which aided him in the killing of his brethren.
25 [†] And the men of Shechem set liers in wait for him in the top of the mountains, and they robbed all that came along that way by them: and it was told Abimelech.
26 And Gaal the son of Ebed came with his brethren, and went over to Shechem: and the men of Shechem put their confidence in him.
27 And they went out into the fields, and gathered their vineyards, and trode the grapes, and made merry, and went into the house of their god, and did eat and drink, and cursed Abimelech.
28 And Gaal the son of Ebed said, Who is Abimelech, and who is Shechem, that we should serve him? is not he the son of Jerubbaal? and Zebul his officer? serve the men of Hamor the father of Shechem: for why should we serve him?
29 [†] And would to God this people were under my hand! then would I remove Abimelech. And he said to Abimelech, Increase thine army, and come out.
30 ¶ And when Zebul the ruler of the city heard the words of Gaal the son of Ebed, his anger was kindled.
31 [†] And he sent messengers unto Abimelech privily, saying, Behold, Gaal the son of Ebed and his brethren be come to Shechem; and, behold, they fortify the city against thee.
32 Now therefore up by night, thou and the people that is with thee, and lie in wait in the field:
33 And it shall be, that in the morning, as soon as the sun is up, thou shalt rise early, and set upon the city: and, behold, when he and the people that is with him come out against thee, then mayest thou do to them as thou shalt find occasion.
34 ¶ And Abimelech rose up, and all the people that were with him, by night, and they laid wait against Shechem in four companies.
35 And Gaal the son of Ebed went out, and stood in the entering of the gate of the city: and Abimelech rose up, and the people that were with him, from lying in wait.
36 And when Gaal saw the people, he said to Zebul, Behold, there come people down from the top of the mountains. And Zebul said unto him, Thou seest the shadow of the mountains as if they were men.
37 And Gaal spake again and said, See there come people down by the middle of the land, and another company come along by the plain of Meonenim.
38 Then said Zebul unto him, Where is now thy mouth, wherewith thou saidst, Who is Abimelech, that we should serve him? is not this the people that thou hast despised? go out, I pray now, and fight with them.
39 And Gaal went out before the men of Shechem, and fought with Abimelech.
40 And Abimelech chased him, and he fled before him, and many were overthrown and wounded, even unto the entering of the gate.
41 And Abimelech dwelt at Arumah: and Zebul thrust out Gaal and his brethren, that they should not dwell in Shechem.
42 And it came to pass on the morrow, that the people went out into the field; and they told Abimelech.
43 And he took the people, and divided them into three companies, and laid wait in the field, and looked, and, behold, the people were come forth out of the city; and he rose up against them, and smote them.
44 And Abimelech, and the company that was with him, rushed forward, and stood in the entering of the gate of the city: and the two other companies ran upon all the people that were in the fields, and slew them.

45 [†] And Abimelech fought against the city all that day; and he took the city, and slew the people that was therein, and beat down the city, and sowed it with salt.
46 [†] ¶ And when all the men of the tower of Shechem heard that, they entered into an hold of the house of the god Berith.
47 And it was told Abimelech, that all the men of the tower of Shechem were gathered together.
48 [†] And Abimelech gat him up to mount Zalmon, he and all the people that were with him; and Abimelech took an axe in his hand, and cut down a bough from the trees, and took it, and laid it on his shoulder, and said unto the people that were with him, What ye have seen me do, make haste, and do as I have done.
49 And all the people likewise cut down every man his bough, and followed Abimelech, and put them to the hold, and set the hold on fire upon them; so that all the men of the tower of Shechem died also, about a thousand men and women.
50 ¶ Then went Abimelech to Thebez, and encamped against Thebez, and took it.
51 But there was a strong tower within the city, and thither fled all the men and women, and all they of the city, and shut it to them, and gat them up to the top of the tower.
52 And Abimelech came unto the tower, and fought against it, and went hard unto the door of the tower to burn it with fire.
53 [†] And a certain woman cast a piece of a millstone upon Abimelech's head, and all to brake his skull.
54 Then he called hastily unto the young man his armourbearer, and said unto him, Draw thy sword, and slay me, that men say not of me, A woman slew him. And his young man thrust him through, and he died.
55 And when the men of Israel saw that Abimelech was dead, they departed every man unto his place.
56 ¶ Thus God rendered the wickedness of Abimelech, which he did unto his father, in slaying his seventy brethren:
57 And all the evil of the men of Shechem did God render upon their heads: and upon them came the curse of Jotham the son of Jerubbaal.

Judges 10 [†]

1 And after Abimelech there arose to defend Israel Tola the son of Puah, the son of Dodo, a man of Issachar; and he dwelt in Shamir in mount Ephraim.
2 And he judged Israel twenty and three years, and died, and was buried in Shamir.
3 [†] ¶ And after him arose Jair, a Gileadite, and judged Israel twenty and two years.
4 And he had thirty sons that rode on thirty ass colts, and they had thirty cities, which are called Havoth-jair unto this day, which are in the land of Gilead.
5 And Jair died, and was buried in Camon.
6 [†] ¶ And the children of Israel did evil again in the sight of the Lord, and served Baalim, and Ashtaroth, and the gods of Syria, and the gods of Zidon, and the gods of Moab, and the gods of the children of Ammon, and the gods of the Philistines, and forsook the Lord, and served not him.
7 [†] And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel, and he sold them into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of the children of Ammon.
8 [†] And that year they vexed and oppressed the children of Israel: eighteen years, all the children of Israel that were on the other side Jordan in the land of the Amorites, which is in Gilead.
9 [†] Moreover the children of Ammon passed over Jordan to fight also against Judah, and against Benjamin, and against the house of Ephraim; so that Israel was sore distressed.
10 ¶ And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord, saying, We have sinned against thee, both because we have forsaken our God, and also served Baalim.
11 And the Lord said unto the children of Israel, Did not I deliver you from the Egyptians, and from the Amorites, from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines?
12 The Zidonians also, and the Amalekites, and the Maonites, did oppress you; and ye cried to me, and I delivered you out of their hand.
13 [†] Yet ye have forsaken me, and served other gods: wherefore I will deliver you no more.
14 [†] Go and cry unto the gods which ye have chosen; let them deliver you in the time of your tribulation.
15 [†] ¶ And the children of Israel said unto the Lord, We have sinned: do thou unto us whatsoever seemeth good unto thee; deliver us only, we pray thee, this day.
16 [†] And they put away the strange gods from among them, and served the Lord: and his soul was grieved for the misery of Israel.
17 Then the children of Ammon were gathered together, and encamped in Gilead. And the children of Israel assembled themselves together, and encamped in Mizpeh.
18 [†] And the people and princes of Gilead said one to another, What man is he that will begin to fight against the children of Ammon? he shall be head over all the inhabitants of Gilead.

Judges 11 [†]

1 [†] Now Jephthah the Gileadite was a mighty man of valour, and he was the son of an harlot: and Gilead begat Jephthah.
2 [†] And Gilead's wife bare him sons; and his wife's sons grew up, and they thrust out Jephthah, and said unto him, Thou shalt not inherit in our father's house; for thou art the son of a strange woman.
3 [†] Then Jephthah fled from his brethren, and dwelt in the land of Tob: and there were gathered vain men to Jephthah, and went out with him.
4 ¶ And it came to pass in process of time, that the children of Ammon made war against Israel.
5 And it was so, that when the children of Ammon made war against Israel, the elders of Gilead went to fetch Jephthah out of the land of Tob:
6 [†] And they said unto Jephthah, Come, and be our captain, that we may fight with the children of Ammon.
7 And Jephthah said unto the elders of Gilead, Did not ye hate me, and expel me out of my father's house? and why are ye come unto me now when ye are in distress?
8 And the elders of Gilead said unto Jephthah, Therefore we turn again to thee now, that thou mayest go with us, and fight against the children of Ammon, and be our head over all the inhabitants of Gilead.
9 [†] And Jephthah said unto the elders of Gilead, If ye bring me home again to fight against the children of Ammon, and the Lord deliver them before me, shall I be your head?
10 And the elders of Gilead said unto Jephthah, The Lord be witness between us, if we do not so according to thy words.
11 Then Jephthah went with the elders of Gilead, and the people made him head and captain over them: and Jephthah uttered all his words before the Lord in Mizpeh.
12 ¶ And Jephthah sent messengers unto the king of the children of Ammon, saying, What hast thou to do with me, that thou art come against me to fight in my land?
13 And the king of the children of Ammon answered unto the messengers of Jephthah, Because Israel took away my land, when they came up out of Egypt, from Arnon even unto Jabbok, and unto Jordan: now therefore restore those lands again peaceably.
14 And Jephthah sent messengers again unto the king of the children of Ammon:
15 And said unto him, Thus saith Jephthah, Israel took not away the land of Moab, nor the land of the children of Ammon:
16 But when Israel came up from Egypt, and walked through the wilderness unto the Red sea, and came to Kadesh;
17 Then Israel sent messengers unto the king of Edom, saying, Let me, I pray thee, pass through thy land: but the king of Edom would not hearken thereto. And in like manner they sent unto the king of Moab: but he would not consent: and Israel abode in Kadesh.
18 Then they went along through the wilderness, and compassed the land of Edom, and the land of Moab, and came by the east side of the land of Moab, and pitched on the other side of Arnon, but came not within the border of Moab: for Arnon was the border of Moab.
19 And Israel sent messengers unto Sihon king of the Amorites, the king of Heshbon; and Israel said unto him, Let us pass, we pray thee, through thy land into my place.
20 [†] But Sihon trusted not Israel to pass through his coast: but Sihon gathered all his people together, and pitched in Jahaz, and fought against Israel.
21 And the Lord God of Israel delivered Sihon and all his people into the hand of Israel, and they smote them: so Israel possessed all the land of the Amorites, the inhabitants of that country.
22 [†] And they possessed all the coasts of the Amorites, from Arnon even unto Jabbok, and from the wilderness even unto Jordan.

23 So now the LORD God of Israel hath dispossessed the Amorites from before his people Israel, and shouldest thou possess it?
24 [†] Wilt not thou possess that which Chemosh thy god giveth thee to possess? So whomsoever the LORD our God shall drive out from before us, them will we possess.
25 And now art thou any thing better than Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab? did he ever strive against Israel, or did he ever fight against them,
26 [†] While Israel dwelt in Heshbon and her towns, and in Aroer and her towns, and in all the cities that be along by the coasts of Arnon, three hundred years? why therefore did ye not recover them within that time?
27 Wherefore I have not sinned against thee, but thou doest me wrong to war against me: the LORD the Judge be judge this day between the children of Israel and the children of Ammon.
28 Howbeit the king of the children of Ammon hearkened not unto the words of Jephthah which he sent him.
29 [†] ¶ Then the Spirit of the LORD came upon Jephthah, and he passed over Gilead, and Manasseh, and passed over Mizpeh of Gilead, and from Mizpeh of Gilead he passed over unto the children of Ammon.
30 [†] And Jephthah vowed a vow unto the LORD, and said, If thou shalt without fail deliver the children of Ammon into mine hands,
31 [†] Then it shall be, that whatsoever cometh forth of the doors of my house to meet me, when I return in peace from the children of Ammon, shall surely be the LORD's, and I will offer it up for a burnt offering.
32 ¶ So Jephthah passed over unto the children of Ammon to fight against them; and the LORD delivered them into his hands.
33 And he smote them from Aroer, even till thou come to Minnith, even twenty cities, and unto the plain of the vineyards, with a very great slaughter. Thus the children of Ammon were subdued before the children of Israel.
34 [†] ¶ And Jephthah came to Mizpeh unto his house, and, behold, his daughter came out to meet him with timbrels and with dances: and she was his only child; beside her he had neither son nor daughter.
35 [†] And it came to pass, when he saw her, that he rent his clothes, and said, Alas, my daughter! thou hast brought me very low, and thou art one of them that trouble me: for I have opened my mouth unto the LORD, and I cannot go back.
36 And she said unto him, My father, if thou hast opened thy mouth unto the LORD, do to me according to that which hath proceeded out of thy mouth; forasmuch as the LORD hath taken vengeance for thee of thine enemies, even of the children of Ammon.
37 And she said unto her father, Let this thing be done for me: let me alone two months, that I may go up and down upon the mountains, and bewail my virginity, I and my fellows.
38 And he said, Go. And he sent her away for two months: and she went with her companions, and bewailed her virginity upon the mountains.
39 [†] And it came to pass at the end of two months, that she returned unto her father, who did with her according to his vow which he had vowed: and she knew no man. And it was a custom in Israel,
40 [†] That the daughters of Israel went yearly to lament the daughter of Jephthah the Gileadite four days in a year.

Judges 12 [†]

1 [†] And the men of Ephraim gathered themselves together, and went northward, and said unto Jephthah, Wherefore passedst thou over to fight against the children of Ammon, and didst not call us to go with thee? we will burn thine house upon thee with fire.
2 [†] And Jephthah said unto them, I and my people were at great strife with the children of Ammon; and when I called you, ye delivered me not out of their hands.
3 [†] And when I saw that ye delivered me not, I put my life in my hands, and passed over against the children of Ammon, and the Lord delivered them into my hand: wherefore then are ye come up unto me this day, to fight against me?
4 [†] Then Jephthah gathered together all the men of Gilead, and fought with Ephraim: and the men of Gilead smote Ephraim, because they said, Ye Gileadites are fugitives of Ephraim among the Ephraimites, and among the Manassites.
5 [†] And the Gileadites took the passages of Jordan before the Ephraimites: and it was so, that when those Ephraimites which were escaped said, Let me go over; that the men of Gilead said unto him, Art thou an Ephraimite? If he said, Nay;
6 [†] Then said they unto him, Say now Shibboleth: and he said Sibboleth: for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him, and slew him at the passages of Jordan: and there fell at that time of the Ephraimites forty and two thousand.
7 And Jephthah judged Israel six years. Then died Jephthah the Gileadite, and was buried in one of the cities of Gilead.
8 [†] ¶ And after him Ibzan of Beth-lehem judged Israel.
9 And he had thirty sons, and thirty daughters, whom he sent abroad, and took in thirty daughters from abroad for his sons. And he judged Israel seven years.
10 Then died Ibzan, and was buried at Beth-lehem.
11 ¶ And after him Elon, a Zebulonite, judged Israel; and he judged Israel ten years.
12 And Elon the Zebulonite died, and was buried in Aijalon in the country of Zebulun.
13 ¶ And after him Abdon the son of Hillel, a Pirathonite, judged Israel.
14 And he had forty sons and thirty nephews, that rode on threescore and ten ass colts: and he judged Israel eight years.
15 And Abdon the son of Hillel the Pirathonite died, and was buried in Pirathon in the land of Ephraim, in the mount of the Amalekites.

Judges 13 [†]

(see article: The Angel of the Lord)

1 [†] And the children of Israel did evil again in the sight of the Lord; and the Lord delivered them into the hand of the Philistines forty years.
2 ¶ And there was a certain man of Zorah, of the family of the Danites, whose name was Manoah; and his wife was barren, and bare not.
3 [†] And the angel of the Lord appeared unto the woman, and said unto her, Behold now, thou art barren, and bearest not: but thou shalt conceive, and bear a son.
4 Now therefore beware, I pray thee, and drink not wine nor strong drink, and eat not any unclean thing:
5 [†] For, lo, thou shalt conceive, and bear a son; and no razor shall come on his head: for the child shall be a Nazarite unto God from the womb: and he shall begin to deliver Israel out of the hand of the Philistines.
6 [†] ¶ Then the woman came and told her husband, saying, A man of God came unto me, and his countenance was like the countenance of an angel of God, very terrible: but I asked him not whence he was, neither told he me his name:
7 But he said unto me, Behold, thou shalt conceive, and bear a son; and now drink no wine nor strong drink, neither eat any unclean thing: for the child shall be a Nazarite to God from the womb to the day of his death.
8 [†] ¶ Then Manoah intreated the Lord, and said, O my Lord, let the man of God which thou didst send come again unto us, and teach us what we shall do unto the child that shall be born.
9 And God hearkened to the voice of Manoah; and the angel of God came again unto the woman as she sat in the field: but Manoah her husband was not with her.
10 [†] And the woman made haste, and ran, and shewed her husband, and said unto him, Behold, the man hath appeared unto me, that came unto me the other day.
11 And Manoah arose, and went after his wife, and came to the man, and said unto him, Art thou the man that spakest unto the woman? And he said, I am.
12 [†] And Manoah said, Now let thy words come to pass. How shall we order the child, and how shall we do unto him?
13 And the angel of the Lord said unto Manoah, Of all that I said unto the woman let her beware.
14 She may not eat of any thing that cometh of the vine, neither let her drink wine or strong drink, nor eat any unclean thing: all that I commanded her let her observe.
15 [†] ¶ And Manoah said unto the angel of the Lord, I pray thee, let us detain thee, until we shall have made ready a kid for thee.
16 And the angel of the Lord said unto Manoah, Though thou detain me, I will not eat of thy bread: and if thou wilt offer a burnt offering, thou must offer it unto the Lord. For Manoah knew not that he was an angel of the Lord.
17 And Manoah said unto the angel of the Lord, What is thy name, that when thy sayings come to pass we may do thee honour?
18 [†] And the angel of the Lord said unto him, Why askest thou thus after my name, seeing it is secret?
19 [†] So Manoah took a kid with a meat offering, and offered it upon a rock unto the Lord: and the angel did wondrously; and Manoah and his wife looked on.
20 For it came to pass, when the flame went up toward heaven from off the altar, that the angel of the Lord ascended in the flame of the altar. And Manoah and his wife looked on it, and fell on their faces to the ground.

21 [†] But the angel of the LORD did no more appear to Manoah and to his wife. Then Manoah knew that he was an angel of the LORD.
22 And Manoah said unto his wife, We shall surely die, because we have seen God.
23 But his wife said unto him, If the LORD were pleased to kill us, he would not have received a burnt offering and a meat offering at our hands, neither would he have shewed us all these things, nor would as at this time have told us such things as these.
24 ¶ And the woman bare a son, and called his name Samson: and the child grew, and the LORD blessed him.
25 And the Spirit of the LORD began to move him at times in the camp of Dan between Zorah and Eshtaol.

Judges 14 [†]

1 [†] And Samson went down to Timnath, and saw a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philistines.
2 And he came up, and told his father and his mother, and said, I have seen a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philistines: now therefore get her for me to wife.
3 [†] Then his father and his mother said unto him, Is there never a woman among the daughters of thy brethren, or among all my people, that thou goest to take a wife of the uncircumcised Philistines? And Samson said unto his father, Get her for me; for she pleaseth me well.
4 [†] But his father and his mother knew not that it was of the Lord, that he sought an occasion against the Philistines: for at that time the Philistines had dominion over Israel.
5 ¶ Then went Samson down, and his father and his mother, to Timnath, and came to the vineyards of Timnath: and, behold, a young lion roared against him.
6 [†] And the Spirit of the Lord came mightily upon him, and he rent him as he would have rent a kid, and he had nothing in his hand: but he told not his father or his mother what he had done.
7 And he went down, and talked with the woman; and she pleased Samson well.
8 [†] ¶ And after a time he returned to take her, and he turned aside to see the carcase of the lion: and, behold, there was a swarm of bees and honey in the carcase of the lion.
9 [†] And he took thereof in his hands, and went on eating, and came to his father and mother, and he gave them, and they did eat: but he told not them that he had taken the honey out of the carcase of the lion.
10 ¶ So his father went down unto the woman: and Samson made there a feast; for so used the young men to do.
11 And it came to pass, when they saw him, that they brought thirty companions to be with him.
12 [†] ¶ And Samson said unto them, I will now put forth a riddle unto you: if ye can certainly declare it me within the seven days of the feast, and find it out, then I will give you thirty sheets and thirty change of garments:
13 But if ye cannot declare it me, then shall ye give me thirty sheets and thirty change of garments. And they said unto him, Put forth thy riddle, that we may hear it.
14 [†] And he said unto them, Out of the eater came forth meat, and out of the strong came forth sweetness. And they could not in three days expound the riddle.
15 [†] And it came to pass on the seventh day, that they said unto Samson's wife, Entice thy husband, that he may declare unto us the riddle, lest we burn thee and thy father's house with fire: have ye called us to take that we have? is it not so?
16 And Samson's wife wept before him, and said, Thou dost but hate me, and lovest me not: thou hast put forth a riddle unto the children of my people, and hast not told it me. And he said unto her, Behold, I have not told it my father nor my mother, and shall I tell it thee?
17 [†] And she wept before him the seven days, while their feast lasted: and it came to pass on the seventh day, that he told her, because she lay sore upon him: and she told the riddle to the children of her people.
18 [†] And the men of the city said unto him on the seventh day before the sun went down, What is sweeter than honey? and what is stronger than a lion? And he said unto them, If ye had not plowed with my heifer, ye had not found out my riddle.
19 [†] ¶ And the Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he went down to Ashkelon, and slew thirty men of them, and took their spoil, and gave change of garments unto them which expounded the riddle. And his anger was kindled, and he went up to his father's house.

20 But Samson’s wife was given to his companion, whom he had used as his friend.

Judges 15 [†]

1 [†] But it came to pass within a while after, in the time of wheat harvest, that Samson visited his wife with a kid; and he said, I will go in to my wife into the chamber. But her father would not suffer him to go in.
2 [†] And her father said, I verily thought that thou hadst utterly hated her; therefore I gave her to thy companion: is not her younger sister fairer than she? take her, I pray thee, instead of her.
3 [†] ¶ And Samson said concerning them, Now shall I be more blameless than the Philistines, though I do them a displeasure.
4 [†] And Samson went and caught three hundred foxes, and took firebrands, and turned tail to tail, and put a firebrand in the midst between two tails.
5 And when he had set the brands on fire, he let them go into the standing corn of the Philistines, and burnt up both the shocks, and also the standing corn, with the vineyards and olives.
6 [†] ¶ Then the Philistines said, Who hath done this? And they answered, Samson, the son in law of the Timnite, because he had taken his wife, and given her to his companion. And the Philistines came up, and burnt her and her father with fire.
7 [†] ¶ And Samson said unto them, Though ye have done this, yet will I be avenged of you, and after that I will cease.
8 [†] And he smote them hip and thigh with a great slaughter: and he went down and dwelt in the top of the rock Etam.
9 [†] ¶ Then the Philistines went up, and pitched in Judah, and spread themselves in Lehi.
10 [†] And the men of Judah said, Why are ye come up against us? And they answered, To bind Samson are we come up, to do to him as he hath done to us.
11 Then three thousand men of Judah went to the top of the rock Etam, and said to Samson, Knowest thou not that the Philistines are rulers over us? what is this that thou hast done unto us? And he said unto them, As they did unto me, so have I done unto them.
12 [†] And they said unto him, We are come down to bind thee, that we may deliver thee into the hand of the Philistines. And Samson said unto them, Swear unto me, that ye will not fall upon me yourselves.
13 And they spake unto him, saying, No; but we will bind thee fast, and deliver thee into their hand: but surely we will not kill thee. And they bound him with two new cords, and brought him up from the rock.
14 [†] ¶ And when he came unto Lehi, the Philistines shouted against him: and the Spirit of the Lord came mightily upon him, and the cords that were upon his arms became as flax that was burnt with fire, and his bands loosed from off his hands.
15 [†] And he found a new jawbone of an ass, and put forth his hand, and took it, and slew a thousand men therewith.
16 And Samson said, With the jawbone of an ass, heaps upon heaps, with the jaw of an ass have I slain a thousand men.
17 [†] And it came to pass, when he had made an end of speaking, that he cast away the jawbone out of his hand, and called that place Ramath-lehi.
18 [†] ¶ And he was sore athirst, and called on the Lord, and said, Thou hast given this great deliverance into the hand of thy servant: and now shall I die for thirst, and fall into the hand of the uncircumcised?
19 [†] But God clave an hollow place that was in the jaw, and there came water thereout; and when he had drunk, his spirit came again, and he revived: wherefore he called the name thereof En-hakkore, which is in Lehi unto this day.
20 And he judged Israel in the days of the Philistines twenty years.

Judges 16 [†]

1 Then went Samson to Gaza, and saw there an harlot, and went in unto her.
2 [†] And it was told the Gazites, saying, Samson is come hither. And they compassed him in, and laid wait for him all night in the gate of the city, and were quiet all the night, saying, In the morning, when it is day, we shall kill him.
3 [†] And Samson lay till midnight, and arose at midnight, and took the doors of the gate of the city, and the two posts, and went away with them, bar and all, and put them upon his shoulders, and carried them up to the top of an hill that is before Hebron.
4 [†] ¶ And it came to pass afterward, that he loved a woman in the valley of Sorek, whose name was Delilah.
5 [†] And the lords of the Philistines came up unto her, and said unto her, Entice him, and see wherein his great strength lieth, and by what means we may prevail against him, that we may bind him to afflict him: and we will give thee every one of us eleven hundred pieces of silver.
6 ¶ And Delilah said to Samson, Tell me, I pray thee, wherein thy great strength lieth, and wherewith thou mightest be bound to afflict thee.
7 [†] And Samson said unto her, If they bind me with seven green withs that were never dried, then shall I be weak, and be as another man.
8 Then the lords of the Philistines brought up to her seven green withs which had not been dried, and she bound him with them.
9 [†] Now there were men lying in wait, abiding with her in the chamber. And she said unto him, The Philistines be upon thee, Samson. And he brake the withs, as a thread of tow is broken when it toucheth the fire. So his strength was not known.
10 And Delilah said unto Samson, Behold, thou hast mocked me, and told me lies: now tell me, I pray thee, wherewith thou mightest be bound.
11 [†] And he said unto her, If they bind me fast with new ropes that never were occupied, then shall I be weak, and be as another man.
12 Delilah therefore took new ropes, and bound him therewith, and said unto him, The Philistines be upon thee, Samson. And there were liers in wait abiding in the chamber. And he brake them from off his arms like a thread.
13 [†] And Delilah said unto Samson, Hitherto thou hast mocked me, and told me lies: tell me wherewith thou mightest be bound. And he said unto her, If thou weavest the seven locks of my head with the web.
14 [†] And she fastened it with the pin, and said unto him, The Philistines be upon thee, Samson. And he awaked out of his sleep, and went away with the pin of the beam, and with the web.
15 ¶ And she said unto him, How canst thou say, I love thee, when thine heart is not with me? thou hast mocked me these three times, and hast not told me wherein thy great strength lieth.
16 [†] And it came to pass, when she pressed him daily with her words, and urged him, so that his soul was vexed unto death;
17 That he told her all his heart, and said unto her, There hath not come a razor upon mine head; for I have been a Nazarite unto God from my mother's womb: if I be shaven, then my strength will go from me, and I shall become weak, and be like any other man.
18 And when Delilah saw that he had told her all his heart, she sent and called for the lords of the Philistines, saying, Come up this once, for he hath shewed me all his heart. Then the lords of the Philistines came up unto her, and brought money in their hand.
19 And she made him sleep upon her knees; and she called for a man, and she caused him to shave off the seven locks of his head; and she began to afflict him, and his strength went from him.

20 [†] And she said, The Philistines be upon thee, Samson. And he awoke out of his sleep, and said, I will go out as at other times before, and shake myself. And he wist not that the LORD was departed from him.
21 [†] ¶ But the Philistines took him, and put out his eyes, and brought him down to Gaza, and bound him with fetters of brass; and he did grind in the prison house.
22 Howbeit the hair of his head began to grow again after he was shaven.
23 [†] Then the lords of the Philistines gathered them together for to offer a great sacrifice unto Dagon their god, and to rejoice: for they said, Our god hath delivered Samson our enemy into our hand.
24 And when the people saw him, they praised their god: for they said, Our god hath delivered into our hands our enemy, and the destroyer of our country, which slew many of us.
25 [†] And it came to pass, when their hearts were merry, that they said, Call for Samson, that he may make us sport. And they called for Samson out of the prison house; and he made them sport: and they set him between the pillars.
26 [†] And Samson said unto the lad that held him by the hand, Suffer me that I may feel the pillars whereupon the house standeth, that I may lean upon them.
27 [†] Now the house was full of men and women; and all the lords of the Philistines were there; and there were upon the roof about three thousand men and women, that beheld while Samson made sport.
28 And Samson called unto the LORD, and said, O Lord GOD, remember me, I pray thee, and strengthen me, I pray thee, only this once, O God, that I may be at once avenged of the Philistines for my two eyes.
29 And Samson took hold of the two middle pillars upon which the house stood, and on which it was borne up, of the one with his right hand, and of the other with his left.
30 [†] And Samson said, Let me die with the Philistines. And he bowed himself with all his might; and the house fell upon the lords, and upon all the people that were therein. So the dead which he slew at his death were more than they which he slew in his life.
31 Then his brethren and all the house of his father came down, and took him, and brought him up, and buried him between Zorah and Eshtaol in the buryingplace of Manoah his father. And he judged Israel twenty years.

Judges 17 [†]

1 [†] And there was a man of mount Ephraim, whose name was Micah.
2 And he said unto his mother, The eleven hundred shekels of silver that were taken from thee, about which thou cursedst, and spakest of also in mine ears, behold, the silver is with me; I took it. And his mother said, Blessed be thou of the Lord, my son.
3 [†] And when he had restored the eleven hundred shekels of silver to his mother, his mother said, I had wholly dedicated the silver unto the Lord from my hand for my son, to make a graven image and a molten image: now therefore I will restore it unto thee.
4 [†] Yet he restored the money unto his mother; and his mother took two hundred shekels of silver, and gave them to the founder, who made thereof a graven image and a molten image: and they were in the house of Micah.
5 [†] And the man Micah had an house of gods, and made an ephod, and teraphim, and consecrated one of his sons, who became his priest.
6 In those days there was no king in Israel, but every man did that which was right in his own eyes.
7 [†] ¶ And there was a young man out of Beth-lehem-judah of the family of Judah, who was a Levite, and he sojourned there.
8 And the man departed out of the city from Beth-lehem-judah to sojourn where he could find a place: and he came to mount Ephraim to the house of Micah, as he journeyed.
9 And Micah said unto him, Whence comest thou? And he said unto him, I am a Levite of Beth-lehem-judah, and I go to sojourn where I may find a place.
10 [†] And Micah said unto him, Dwell with me, and be unto me a father and a priest, and I will give thee ten shekels of silver by the year, and a suit of apparel, and thy victuals. So the Levite went in.
11 And the Levite was content to dwell with the man; and the young man was unto him as one of his sons.
12 [†] And Micah consecrated the Levite; and the young man became his priest, and was in the house of Micah.
13 Then said Micah, Now know I that the Lord will do me good, seeing I have a Levite to my priest.

Judges 18 [†]

1 [†] In those days there was no king in Israel: and in those days the tribe of the Danites sought them an inheritance to dwell in; for unto that day all their inheritance had not fallen unto them among the tribes of Israel.
2 [†] And the children of Dan sent of their family five men from their coasts, men of valour, from Zorah, and from Eshtaol, to spy out the land, and to search it; and they said unto them, Go, search the land: who when they came to mount Ephraim, to the house of Micah, they lodged there.
3 When they were by the house of Micah, they knew the voice of the young man the Levite: and they turned in thither, and said unto him, Who brought thee hither? and what makest thou in this place? and what hast thou here?
4 And he said unto them, Thus and thus dealeth Micah with me, and hath hired me, and I am his priest.
5 And they said unto him, Ask counsel, we pray thee, of God, that we may know whether our way which we go shall be prosperous.
6 [†] And the priest said unto them, Go in peace: before the Lord is your way wherein ye go.
7 [†] ¶ Then the five men departed, and came to Laish, and saw the people that were therein, how they dwelt careless, after the manner of the Zidonians, quiet and secure; and there was no magistrate in the land, that might put them to shame in any thing; and they were far from the Zidonians, and had no business with any man.
8 And they came unto their brethren to Zorah and Eshtaol: and their brethren said unto them, What say ye?
9 And they said, Arise, that we may go up against them: for we have seen the land, and, behold, it is very good: and are ye still? be not slothful to go, and to enter to possess the land.
10 When ye go, ye shall come unto a people secure, and to a large land: for God hath given it into your hands; a place where there is no want of any thing that is in the earth.
11 [†] ¶ And there went from thence of the family of the Danites, out of Zorah and out of Eshtaol, six hundred men appointed with weapons of war.
12 [†] And they went up, and pitched in Kirjath-jearim, in Judah: wherefore they called that place Mahaneh-dan unto this day: behold, it is behind Kirjath-jearim.
13 And they passed thence unto mount Ephraim, and came unto the house of Micah.
14 [†] ¶ Then answered the five men that went to spy out the country of Laish, and said unto their brethren, Do ye know that there is in these houses an ephod, and teraphim, and a graven image, and a molten image? now therefore consider what ye have to do.
15 [†] And they turned thitherward, and came to the house of the young man the Levite, even unto the house of Micah, and saluted him.
16 And the six hundred men appointed with their weapons of war, which were of the children of Dan, stood by the entering of the gate.
17 And the five men that went to spy out the land went up, and came in thither, and took the graven image, and the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image: and the priest stood in the entering of the gate with the six hundred men that were appointed with weapons of war.
18 And these went into Micah's house, and fetched the carved image, the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image. Then said the priest unto them, What do ye?
19 And they said unto him, Hold thy peace, lay thine hand upon thy mouth, and go with us, and be to us a father and a priest: is it better for thee to be a priest unto the house of one man, or that thou be a priest unto a tribe and a family in Israel?
20 And the priest's heart was glad, and he took the ephod, and the teraphim, and the graven image, and went in the midst of the people.

21 [†] So they turned and departed, and put the little ones and the cattle and the carriage before them.
22 ¶ And when they were a good way from the house of Micah, the men that were in the houses near to Micah's house were gathered together, and overtook the children of Dan.
23 [†] And they cried unto the children of Dan. And they turned their faces, and said unto Micah, What aileth thee, that thou comest with such a company?
24 And he said, Ye have taken away my gods which I made, and the priest, and ye are gone away: and what have I more? and what is this that ye say unto me, What aileth thee?
25 And the children of Dan said unto him, Let not thy voice be heard among us, lest angry fellows run upon thee, and thou lose thy life, with the lives of thy household.
26 And the children of Dan went their way: and when Micah saw that they were too strong for him, he turned and went back unto his house.
27 And they took the things which Micah had made, and the priest which he had, and came unto Laish, unto a people that were at quiet and secure: and they smote them with the edge of the sword, and burnt the city with fire.
28 And there was no deliverer, because it was far from Zidon, and they had no business with any man; and it was in the valley that lieth by Beth-rehob. And they built a city, and dwelt therein.
29 And they called the name of the city Dan, after the name of Dan their father, who was born unto Israel: howbeit the name of the city was Laish at the first.
30 [†] ¶ And the children of Dan set up the graven image: and Jonathan, the son of Gershom, the son of Manasseh, he and his sons were priests to the tribe of Dan until the day of the captivity of the land.
31 [†] And they set them up Micah's graven image, which he made, all the time that the house of God was in Shiloh.

Judges 19 [†]

1 [†] And it came to pass in those days, when there was no king in Israel, that there was a certain Levite sojourning on the side of mount Ephraim, who took to him a concubine out of Beth-lehem-judah.
2 [†] And his concubine played the whore against him, and went away from him unto her father's house to Beth-lehem-judah, and was there four whole months.
3 [†] And her husband arose, and went after her, to speak friendly unto her, and to bring her again, having his servant with him, and a couple of asses: and she brought him into her father's house: and when the father of the damsel saw him, he rejoiced to meet him.
4 And his father in law, the damsel's father, retained him; and he abode with him three days: so they did eat and drink, and lodged there.
5 [†] ¶ And it came to pass on the fourth day, when they arose early in the morning, that he rose up to depart: and the damsel's father said unto his son in law, Comfort thine heart with a morsel of bread, and afterward go your way.
6 And they sat down, and did eat and drink both of them together: for the damsel's father had said unto the man, Be content, I pray thee, and tarry all night, and let thine heart be merry.
7 And when the man rose up to depart, his father in law urged him: therefore he lodged there again.
8 And he arose early in the morning on the fifth day to depart: and the damsel's father said, Comfort thine heart, I pray thee. And they tarried until afternoon, and they did eat both of them.
9 And when the man rose up to depart, he, and his concubine, and his servant, his father in law, the damsel's father, said unto him, Behold, now the day draweth toward evening, I pray you tarry all night: behold, the day groweth to an end, lodge here, that thine heart may be merry; and to morrow get you early on your way, that thou mayest go home.
10 But the man would not tarry that night, but he rose up and departed, and came over against Jebus, which is Jerusalem; and there were with him two asses saddled, his concubine also was with him.
11 And when they were by Jebus, the day was far spent; and the servant said unto his master, Come, I pray thee, and let us turn in into this city of the Jebusites, and lodge in it.
12 [†] And his master said unto him, We will not turn aside hither into the city of a stranger, that is not of the children of Israel; we will pass over to Gibeah.
13 [†] And he said unto his servant, Come, and let us draw near to one of these places to lodge all night, in Gibeah, or in Ramah.
14 And they passed on and went their way; and the sun went down upon them when they were by Gibeah, which belongeth to Benjamin.
15 And they turned aside thither, to go in and to lodge in Gibeah: and when he went in, he sat him down in a street of the city: for there was no man that took them into his house to lodging.
16 [†] ¶ And, behold, there came an old man from his work out of the field at even, which was also of mount Ephraim; and he sojourned in Gibeah: but the men of the place were Benjamites.
17 [†] And when he had lifted up his eyes, he saw a wayfaring man in the street of the city: and the old man said, Whither goest thou? and whence comest thou?
18 And he said unto him, We are passing from Beth-lehem-judah toward the side of mount Ephraim; from thence am I: and I went to Beth-lehem-judah, but I am now going to the house of the LORD; and there is no man that receiveth me to house.
19 [†] Yet there is both straw and provender for our asses; and there is bread and wine also for me, and for thy handmaid, and for the young man which is with thy servants: there is no want of any thing.
20 [†] And the old man said, Peace be with thee; howsoever let all thy wants lie upon me; only lodge not in the street.

21 So he brought him into his house, and gave provender unto the asses: and they washed their feet, and did eat and drink.
22 [†] ¶ Now as they were making their hearts merry, behold, the men of the city, certain sons of Belial, beset the house round about, and beat at the door, and spake to the master of the house, the old man, saying, Bring forth the man that came into thine house, that we may know him.
23 And the man, the master of the house, went out unto them, and said unto them, Nay, my brethren, nay, I pray you, do not so wickedly; seeing that this man is come into mine house, do not this folly.
24 [†] Behold, here is my daughter a maiden, and his concubine; them I will bring out now, and humble ye them, and do with them what seemeth good unto you: but unto this man do not so vile a thing.
25 [†] But the men would not hearken to him: so the man took his concubine, and brought her forth unto them; and they knew her, and abused her all the night until the morning: and when the day began to spring, they let her go.
26 Then came the woman in the dawning of the day, and fell down at the door of the man's house where her lord was, till it was light.
27 [†] And her lord rose up in the morning, and opened the doors of the house, and went out to go his way: and, behold, the woman his concubine was fallen down at the door of the house, and her hands were upon the threshold.
28 [†] And he said unto her, Up, and let us be going. But none answered. Then the man took her up upon an ass, and the man rose up, and gat him unto his place.
29 ¶ And when he was come into his house, he took a knife, and laid hold on his concubine, and divided her, together with her bones, into twelve pieces, and sent her into all the coasts of Israel.
30 And it was so, that all that saw it said, There was no such deed done nor seen from the day that the children of Israel came up out of the land of Egypt unto this day: consider of it, take advice, and speak your minds.

Judges 20 [†]

1 [†] Then all the children of Israel went out, and the congregation was gathered together as one man, from Dan even to Beer-sheba, with the land of Gilead, unto the Lord in Mizpeh.
2 And the chief of all the people, even of all the tribes of Israel, presented themselves in the assembly of the people of God, four hundred thousand footmen that drew sword.
3 (Now the children of Benjamin heard that the children of Israel were gone up to Mizpeh.) Then said the children of Israel, Tell us, how was this wickedness?
4 And the Levite, the husband of the woman that was slain, answered and said, I came into Gibeah that belongeth to Benjamin, I and my concubine, to lodge.
5 [†] And the men of Gibeah rose against me, and beset the house round about upon me by night, and thought to have slain me: and my concubine have they forced, that she is dead.
6 [†] And I took my concubine, and cut her in pieces, and sent her throughout all the country of the inheritance of Israel: for they have committed lewdness and folly in Israel.
7 Behold, ye are all children of Israel; give here your advice and counsel.
8 ¶ And all the people arose as one man, saying, We will not any of us go to his tent, neither will we any of us turn into his house.
9 [†] But now this shall be the thing which we will do to Gibeah; we will go up by lot against it;
10 [†] And we will take ten men of an hundred throughout all the tribes of Israel, and an hundred of a thousand, and a thousand out of ten thousand, to fetch victual for the people, that they may do, when they come to Gibeah of Benjamin, according to all the folly that they have wrought in Israel.
11 So all the men of Israel were gathered against the city, knit together as one man.
12 ¶ And the tribes of Israel sent men through all the tribe of Benjamin, saying, What wickedness is this that is done among you?
13 Now therefore deliver us the men, the children of Belial, which are in Gibeah, that we may put them to death, and put away evil from Israel. But the children of Benjamin would not hearken to the voice of their brethren the children of Israel:
14 But the children of Benjamin gathered themselves together out of the cities unto Gibeah, to go out to battle against the children of Israel.
15 And the children of Benjamin were numbered at that time out of the cities twenty and six thousand men that drew sword, beside the inhabitants of Gibeah, which were numbered seven hundred chosen men.
16 [†] Among all this people there were seven hundred chosen men lefthanded; every one could sling stones at an hair breadth, and not miss.
17 And the men of Israel, beside Benjamin, were numbered four hundred thousand men that drew sword: all these were men of war.
18 [†] ¶ And the children of Israel arose, and went up to the house of God, and asked counsel of God, and said, Which of us shall go up first to the battle against the children of Benjamin? And the Lord said, Judah shall go up first.
19 And the children of Israel rose up in the morning, and encamped against Gibeah.
20 [†] And the men of Israel went out to battle against Benjamin; and the men of Israel put themselves in array to fight against them at Gibeah.
21 [†] And the children of Benjamin came forth out of Gibeah, and destroyed down to the ground of the Israelites that day twenty and two thousand men.
22 And the people the men of Israel encouraged themselves, and set their battle again in array in the place where they put themselves in array the first day.

23 (And the children of Israel went up and wept before the LORD until even, and asked counsel of the LORD, saying, Shall I go up again to battle against the children of Benjamin my brother? And the LORD said, Go up against him.)
24 And the children of Israel came near against the children of Benjamin the second day.
25 And Benjamin went forth against them out of Gibeah the second day, and destroyed down to the ground of the children of Israel again eighteen thousand men; all these drew the sword.
26 ¶ Then all the children of Israel, and all the people, went up, and came unto the house of God, and wept, and sat there before the LORD, and fasted that day until even, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD.
27 And the children of Israel enquired of the LORD, (for the ark of the covenant of God was there in those days, 28 And Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron, stood before it in those days,) saying, Shall I yet again go out to battle against the children of Benjamin my brother, or shall I cease? And the LORD said, Go up; for to morrow I will deliver them into thine hand.
29 [†] And Israel set liers in wait round about Gibeah.
30 And the children of Israel went up against the children of Benjamin on the third day, and put themselves in array against Gibeah, as at other times.
31 [†] And the children of Benjamin went out against the people, and were drawn away from the city; and they began to smite of the people, and kill, as at other times, in the highways, of which one goeth up to the house of God, and the other to Gibeah in the field, about thirty men of Israel.
32 And the children of Benjamin said, They are smitten down before us, as at the first. But the children of Israel said, Let us flee, and draw them from the city unto the highways.
33 And all the men of Israel rose up out of their place, and put themselves in array at Baal-tamar: and the liers in wait of Israel came forth out of their places, even out of the meadows of Gibeah.
34 [†] And there came against Gibeah ten thousand chosen men out of all Israel, and the battle was sore: but they knew not that evil was near them.
35 And the LORD smote Benjamin before Israel: and the children of Israel destroyed of the Benjamites that day twenty and five thousand and an hundred men: all these drew the sword.
36 So the children of Benjamin saw that they were smitten: for the men of Israel gave place to the Benjamites, because they trusted unto the liers in wait which they had set beside Gibeah.
37 [†] And the liers in wait hasted, and rushed upon Gibeah; and the liers in wait drew themselves along, and smote all the city with the edge of the sword.
38 [†] Now there was an appointed sign between the men of Israel and the liers in wait, that they should make a great flame with smoke rise up out of the city.
39 [†] And when the men of Israel retired in the battle, Benjamin began to smite and kill of the men of Israel about thirty persons: for they said, Surely they are smitten down before us, as in the first battle.
40 But when the flame began to arise up out of the city with a pillar of smoke, the Benjamites looked behind them, and, behold, the flame of the city ascended up to heaven.
41 [†] And when the men of Israel turned again, the men of Benjamin were amazed: for they saw that evil was come upon them.
42 Therefore they turned their backs before the men of Israel unto the way of the wilderness; but the battle overtook them; and them which came out of the cities they destroyed in the midst of them.
43 Thus they inclosed the Benjamites round about, and chased them, and trode them down with ease over against Gibeah toward the sunrising.
44 And there fell of Benjamin eighteen thousand men; all these were men of valour.
45 [†] And they turned and fled toward the wilderness unto the rock of Rimmon: and they gleaned of them in the highways five thousand men; and pursued hard after them unto Gidom, and slew two thousand men of them.

46 So that all which fell that day of Benjamin were twenty and five thousand men that drew the sword; all these were men of valour.
47 But six hundred men turned and fled to the wilderness unto the rock Rimmon, and abode in the rock Rimmon four months.
48 And the men of Israel turned again upon the children of Benjamin, and smote them with the edge of the sword, as well the men of every city, as the beast, and all that came to hand: also they set on fire all the cities that they came to.

Judges 21 [†]

1 Now the men of Israel had sworn in Mizpeh, saying, There shall not any of us give his daughter unto Benjamin to wife.
2 [†] And the people came to the house of God, and abode there till even before God, and lifted up their voices, and wept sore;
3 [†] And said, O Lord God of Israel, why is this come to pass in Israel, that there should be to day one tribe lacking in Israel?
4 And it came to pass on the morrow, that the people rose early, and built there an altar, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings.
5 And the children of Israel said, Who is there among all the tribes of Israel that came not up with the congregation unto the Lord? For they had made a great oath concerning him that came not up to the Lord to Mizpeh, saying, He shall surely be put to death.
6 [†] And the children of Israel repented them for Benjamin their brother, and said, There is one tribe cut off from Israel this day.
7 [†] How shall we do for wives for them that remain, seeing we have sworn by the Lord that we will not give them of our daughters to wives?
8 ¶ And they said, What one is there of the tribes of Israel that came not up to Mizpeh to the Lord? And, behold, there came none to the camp from Jabesh-gilead to the assembly.
9 For the people were numbered, and, behold, there were none of the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead there.
10 [†] And the congregation sent thither twelve thousand men of the valiantest, and commanded them, saying, Go and smite the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead with the edge of the sword, with the women and the children.
11 And this is the thing that ye shall do, Ye shall utterly destroy every male, and every woman that hath lain by man.
12 [†] And they found among the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead four hundred young virgins, that had known no man by lying with any male: and they brought them unto the camp to Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan.
13 And the whole congregation sent some to speak to the children of Benjamin that were in the rock Rimmon, and to call peaceably unto them.
14 [†] And Benjamin came again at that time; and they gave them wives which they had saved alive of the women of Jabesh-gilead: and yet so they sufficed them not.
15 And the people repented them for Benjamin, because that the Lord had made a breach in the tribes of Israel.
16 ¶ Then the elders of the congregation said, How shall we do for wives for them that remain, seeing the women are destroyed out of Benjamin?
17 And they said, There must be an inheritance for them that be escaped of Benjamin, that a tribe be not destroyed out of Israel.
18 Howbeit we may not give them wives of our daughters: for the children of Israel have sworn, saying, Cursed be he that giveth a wife to Benjamin.
19 Then they said, Behold, there is a feast of the Lord in Shiloh yearly in a place which is on the north side of Beth-el, on the east side of the highway that goeth up from Beth-el to Shechem, and on the south of Lebonah.
20 Therefore they commanded the children of Benjamin, saying, Go and lie in wait in the vineyards;
21 [†] And see, and, behold, if the daughters of Shiloh come out to dance in dances, then come ye out of the vineyards, and catch you every man his wife of the daughters of Shiloh, and go to the land of Benjamin.

22 And it shall be, when their fathers or their brethren come unto us to complain, that we will say unto them, Be favourable unto them for our sakes: because we reserved not to each man his wife in the war: for ye did not give unto them at this time, that ye should be guilty.
23 And the children of Benjamin did so, and took them wives, according to their number, of them that danced, whom they caught: and they went and returned unto their inheritance, and repaired the cities, and dwelt in them.
24 And the children of Israel departed thence at that time, every man to his tribe and to his family, and they went out from thence every man to his inheritance.
25 [†] In those days there was no king in Israel: every man did that which was right in his own eyes.

NOTES ON THE BOOK OF

JUDGES

ISRAEL'S FAILURE AND FOLLY THROUGH COMPROMISE WITH THE UNGODLY (1:1—3:7)

Chapter 1: After the death of Joshua, Israel battles again to drive out the nations.

Driving Out the Nations (1:1–36)

1:1 Now after the death of Joshua. Judges records the second wave of battles to possess the land.

1:2 Judah shall go up. Judah should have the preeminence (Gen. 49:8).

1:3 lot. Property or land.

1:5 Adoni-bezek. Lord of Bezek, a Canaanite king.

1:7 meat. Food. requited. Repaid. This is Bezek's confession that God's justice found him out.

1:12 See Josh. 15:13–19.

1:14 lighted from off her ass. Dismounted her donkey.

1:15 give me also springs of water. Without water the field would be of little use. nether springs. The lower springs.

1:16 city of palm trees. Jericho.

1:17 utterly destroyed. The Hebrew word means "to put under the ban," used frequently in the context of the conquest for complete destruction.

1:18 coast. Border (v. 36).

1:19 drave out. Drove out or dispossessed. chariots of iron. Formidable war machines pulled by horses, possibly with knives attached to their wheels. These should not have been a deterrent to victory (Josh. 17:18).

1:21 Benjamin did not drive out the Jebusites. Jerusalem remained unconquered until the reign of David (2 Sam. 5:7).

1:23 descry. Explore or spy.

1:27–33 Neither did. Stated five times in these verses to show Israel's failure and to show the stubbornness of the Canaanites.

1:28 to tribute. Forced labor (vv. 30,33,35). Israel erred in thinking they could control the enemy to their advantage.

1:34 forced the children of Dan. This shows their complete failure and the consequence of thinking it possible to control the enemy. So those who think to control sin end up being controlled.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 1

1. Living under the threat of the ungodly we must pray for God's help to remain separate unto Him and the gospel. We constantly need spiritual victory to drive the spirit of the world out of our hearts. What are some specific forms of worldliness calling you and your friends to compromise?

2. What Judah and Simeon accomplished together with the Lord's help is a model for us. We need fellowship for our spiritual growth, we need the prayers of God's people, and we need the means of grace ordained by the Lord through the ministry of His church. No one can live the Christian life alone.
3. As Achsah realized the importance of a water supply in the dry southern land, we should recognize the need of God's grace for our souls in this barren world. God has promised the supply of His Spirit to meet the need of our fainting hearts (Phil. 1:19).

Israel's Cycles of Apostasy (2:1—3:7)

Chapter 2: Cycles of rebellion, retribution, repentance, and restoration mark Israel's history.

2:1 angel of the LORD. "The messenger who is the Lord." A Christophany, a preincarnate appearance of Christ (see note at Gen. 16:7). As evidence of the angel's deity, note what He speaks elsewhere is attributed to the Lord (cf. Josh. 5:13–15).

2:2 league. Covenant.

2:4–5 Bochim. Here the people wept over their sin; however, it was short-lived (v. 17).

2:6 inheritance. Land allotment.

2:11 Baalim. The plural of "Baal" (v. 13), meaning "lord" or "master." Often each city had their own patron "Baal."

2:13 Ashtaroth. A Canaanite female deity, often the consort of Baal.

2:14 spoilers that spoiled. Plunderers who plundered. he sold them. The language of the slave market.

2:15 for evil. For harm or calamity, a reference to God's chastisement.

2:16 Just as God raised up enemies, He also raised up judges, or rulers, to deliver them.

2:17 whoring. Idolatry is spiritual adultery.

2:18 repented the LORD. The Lord grieved. vexed. To oppress or maltreat.

2:19 when the judge was dead. Their repentance endured only until each judge died.

2:22 prove. To test or try.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 2

1. Godly leaders are God's instruments for blessing. Each judge raised up by the Lord was used to lead the people away from sin and unto godliness. Hence, it is important to pray for the leaders that God raises up that they might be instruments of peace (1 Tim. 2:2). In addition every godly man or woman will be God's instrument to influence others for good. Particularly parents are to direct their family in the paths of blessing. Ask the Lord to use your example to bless others.
2. When God allows oppressors against us, He is drawing us to seek His plan of mercy. Adversity often increases our sense of dependence on God (Eccl. 7:14). By this means God will work true repentance in our hearts for sin and true faith toward our Savior. Why do we often need to suffer in order to seek God?
3. Generation degeneration set in as "there arose another generation after them, which knew not the LORD" (2:10). The spirituality of the next generation is always a pressing concern for the church. Parents must fulfill their God-given responsibility to train up their children in the way they should go (Prov. 22:6). Every family needs a daily devotional time with solid Bible teaching.

Chapter 3: In spite of His fury, God raises up three judges to deliver Israel.

3:1 prove. See 2:22 and 3:4.

3:2 to teach them war. The people were inexperienced, and God's people cannot settle in peace among the ungodly.

3:3 lords. Governors.

3:4 hearken. Obey. God was looking for obedience.

3:7 Israel did evil in the sight of the LORD. This statement is repeated through six cycles of apostasy (vv. 7,12; 4:1; 6:1; 10:6; 13:1). groves. The reference may be to wooden poles that were erected as part of the pagan rituals worshiping Asherah, one of the Canaanite goddesses.

CYCLES OF EVIL, OPPRESSION, AND DELIVERANCE BY DIVINELY APPOINTED JUDGES (3:8—16:31)

God's Fury and Faithfulness (3:8–31)

3:9 Othniel. Means "lion of God," significantly, from the tribe of Judah (Gen. 49:9). He fought to claim Achsah for his wife (1:12–13).

3:10 Spirit of the LORD. Whom God appointed He anointed and empowered to accomplish his commissioned service. Since Pentecost, every Christian can know some degree of divine empowering for service (Acts 2).

3:12 did evil again. The cycle continues.

3:13 Moab and Ammon, descendants of Lot's incest, were joined by the Amalekites, all traditional enemies of Israel.

3:15 Ehud. He was of the tribe of Benjamin, which excelled in training left-handed warriors (20:16). Ironically, "Benjamin" means "son of my right hand."

3:16 cubit. Approximately eighteen inches. gird it under his raiment. Secured it with a belt under his garment.

3:19 quarries. Refers to idols, particularly to a place where idols were carved, sufficiently known to become a landmark (v. 26).

3:20 a summer parlour. Literally, "the coolness of the upper room," perhaps a roof chamber (vv. 23–25).

3:22 haft. The grip or handle. the dirt came out. The Hebrew is ambiguous and means "hole," referring either to what came out of the hole caused by the stab wound or a hole through which Ehud escaped.

3:24 covereth his feet. A euphemism for using the toilet; the eastern gown literally, "covered their feet." Hence, the delay to check on their king.

3:29 lusty. Robust. men of valour. Refers to men of the army, those experienced at warfare.

3:31 The Philistines, a coastal people, with interactions with God's people from the days of Abraham. an ox goad. A long pole with a flat end to scrape the plowshare and a pointed end to goad or prod the ox.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 3

1. The Spirit's coming upon Othniel sets a pattern for the book of Judges and provides a good lesson for believers regarding the Spirit's ministry. The Spirit empowered the judge, enabling him to accomplish the work of the Lord. The Spirit's empowerment is usually for service in the work of God's kingdom. Whereas in the Old Testament era, that kind of empowering was often limited to Israel's leadership, at Pentecost the Spirit came down upon all flesh (Joel 2:28) enabling every believer to serve the Lord with that special divine energy and power. Judges will illustrate over and again what man can do when God gives the power. That same power is available for every Christian. How can we seek it and take hold of it?

2. God's indignation was rightly directed against those who paraded their sins "in the sight of the LORD" (v. 7). Every sin is an affront against God and committed directly in His face. God's wrath and punishment against sin, evidenced when he sold them into the hands of Chushan-rishathaim, is well justified. Israel's bad example should be a warning to live in the reality of God's presence and avoid offending Him. As well, we should remember that the rod of chastisement is God's way of bringing His erring people to a renewed repentance and happy service under His loving hand (Heb. 12:6–7).

Deborah and Barak (4:1—5:31)

Chapter 4: Sisera is defeated by Deborah and Barak and is killed by Jael with the nail.

Deborah's Judgeship and Sisera's Death (4:1–24)

4:3 chariots of iron. These were terrifying war machines but should not have terrified the people given God's promise (Josh. 17:18).

4:6 she . . . called Barak. She recognized her place and did not usurp authority to command the army on her own. draw. Here, "march."

4:7 draw. Here, "to drag." God would drag Sisera to the place of battle. This was Deborah's cue to send Barak into battle (v. 14).

4:9 the hand of a woman. A reproof to Barak for his faithless and cowardly response.

4:13 Sisera gathered. See v. 7. Unwittingly, he "followed" the Lord to his destruction.

4:15 discomfited. Confusion (5:4,20–21). lighted down. Dismounted.

4:17 for there was peace. Deceived by peaceful relations with the Kenites, Sisera assumed he could safely take refuge in Jael's tent.

4:18 mantle. A covering, like a rug or blanket.

4:23 God subdued. Notwithstanding all the human agents, the battle was the Lord's as well as the victory.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 4

1. "Hath not the LORD God of Israel commanded" (4:6)? Knowing that God has spoken and revealed His will generates confidence and assurance for doing His will. Even though militarily, the odds were against Israel, God's word assured the victory. Often times doing God's will seems to go against what appears to be the logical course of action, but when we have the Lord's Word to direct us in God's service we must rise up in faith to obey His commands and plead His power. It is imperative to trust His Word and then to go.
2. It is God's pattern to choose "weak things of the world to confound the things that are mighty" (1 Cor. 1:27). No one is too weak to be used by the Lord. Deborah was a woman, but God used her.

Jael was a woman with only a nail, but God used her. Barak had no weapons equal to Sisera's iron chariots, but God used him. As Christians, we should be encouraged that God demonstrates His strength through our weakness (2 Cor. 12:9). How do you feel weak when facing your spiritual enemies? How does this principle encourage you?

Chapter 5: Deborah & Barak sing of their triumph over Sisera and Jabin.

The Freedom Fighter's Song (5:1–31)

5:3–5 Deborah's praise includes review of God's past dealings with His people as evidence of His power and faithfulness. There is more to biblical history than facts; it reveals God's redemptive purpose (Deut. 4:11; 33:2; Ps. 78; Isa. 64:3; Hab. 3:3,10).

5:6 the highways . . . byways. The roadways were so dangerous the people used lesser-known paths.

5:7 The inhabitants of the villages ceased. Isolated villages were emptied. mother in Israel. A title designating her leadership role in the capacity God called her to serve.

5:8 then was war in the gates. Their idolatry brought God's swift punishment. a shield or spear. Defensive and offensive weapons. They could neither protect themselves nor mount any resistance against an enemy.

5:9 offered themselves willingly. These governors followed Deborah's lead.

5:11 rehearse. To recount. the righteous acts of the LORD. God's acts of judgment are righteous, in perfect conformity to His divine perfections. to the gates. The public places of commerce and city life, showing normal activities were returning.

5:15–16 For the divisions of Reuben . . . great thoughts. Parts of Reuben resolved to join with Deborah, others had significant questions and did not commit.

5:17 breaches. Refers to a mooring point or landing place; they stayed where they were and did not join the battle.

5:18 jeoparded their lives. They risked their lives, regarding the cause greater than themselves.

5:25 lordly dish. A magnificent meal.

5:30 prey. The booty or spoil of conquest. divers. Diverse.

5:31 Deborah's conclusion parallels the thought of Ps. 2:12 that those who do not submit to the Lord will perish and those who do submit will be blessed.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 5

1. The Song of Deborah provides a pattern for worship with its focus on praise. Much of our time in public and private worship should be in the attitude of praise unto the Lord as the giver of every blessing (James 1:17). Singing is a key means by which we can render our praise unto the Lord. A well-used hymnal in the home will glorify the Lord. A Spirit-filled people who know the victory of Christ in their lives will feel compelled to sing. When are you singing His praise?
2. Tragically, there were some in Deborah's day that refused to join in the Lord's battle, and sadly, the case is the same today. Let our names be among the worthies who rise up for the cause of Christ. When the battle for Christ is on let there be no sitting on the fence as Reuben, standing on the sidelines as Dan, or remaining careless as Asher.

Gideon (6:1—9:57)

Chapter 6: God hears His people's cries of despair because of the Midianites and gives Gideon a clear call to deliver Israel.

Gideon Is God's Man to Save Israel from the Midianites (6:1–40)

6:1 Midian. Descendants from Abraham and Keturah (Gen. 25:2). Also referred to as Ishmaelites; suggests some link to Abraham (Judg. 8:24). A nomadic people (6:5) dwelling in the Transjordan (east of Jordan). They allied themselves with other Transjordan peoples against Israel (v. 3).

6:2 And the hand of Midian prevailed. Ironically, Israel vacated their rich lands for nomadic mountain life while the Midianite nomads took over the abandoned cities.

6:3 sown. The Midianites allowed Israel to sow in peace but always arrived for harvest.

6:4 sustenance. Food.

6:6 greatly impoverished. Brought exceedingly low.

6:8 sent a prophet. God always has a word for His people in times of crisis.

6:9 drave. Drove.

6:10 I am the LORD. Israel's first responsibility was to obey the one true God with whom they were in covenant. fear not the gods. A prohibition against worshiping the false gods. Amorites. While it can refer to a specific people, it occurs as a general designation for all the inhabitants of Canaan.

6:11 an angel of the LORD. "The Messenger who is the Lord," as Gideon recognizes (vv. 14,16,22). A Christophany, the preincarnate Son of God. Gideon. Means "warrior." threshed wheat by the winepress. A covert act to evade Midianite oppressors.

6:12 thou mighty man of valour. Some take this assessment as sarcasm, given Gideon's secret threshing; others as divine acknowledgement of Gideon's capacity for leadership.

6:13 why then . . . ? Gideon's question was justifiable given the circumstances, but it was all wrong in terms of God's covenant with His people. forsaken us. What appeared to be God's casting them off was in reality God's means of restoring them.

6:15 Acknowledgment of personal insignificance is a key qualification for being used by God.

6:16 as one man. Easily, as if a small task; the Lord's presence was the key.

6:17 grace. Favor and acceptance with God. a sign. A confirmation, not necessarily miraculous.

6:18 present. Most likely the sacrificial offering since Gideon knew he was communing with the Lord. tarry. Remain.

6:19 ephah. A dry measure approximately a bushel.

6:24 Jehovah-shalom. The Lord is peace. unto this day. Until the writing of the book in Samuel's time.

6:25 bullock. Bull. grove. A wooden pole erected as part of pagan worship (vv. 26,28,30).

6:27 Significantly, his first act of judging was not against Midian but his kin. Judgment begins at the house of God.

6:31 if he be a god, let him plead for himself. Joash's wise words won the day; the inability to speak was evidence that Baal was not god (Isa. 41:22–29).

6:32 Jerubbaal. Literally, "Let Baal plead," the name given to Gideon as a testimony to Baal's impotence.

6:33–40 God confirms Gideon's call by dew on a fleece.

6:36–38 If thou wilt save Israel. Although God's word was clear, Gideon sought further evidence expressing doubt and weakness in faith, but God graciously gave the signs. Gideon then rose up in full confidence to fight the Midianites (7:1).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 6

1. The tension between faith and experience is common among believers. We cannot determine God's blessing by circumstances alone. God stated categorically "The LORD is with thee" (v. 12), but Gideon felt compelled to ask, "If the LORD be with us, why then is all this befallen us?" (6:13). It was hard to see what was happening as evidence of God's presence and blessing. We need to read our circumstances in the light of God's revealed Word. His promise, "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee" (Heb. 13:5) is every bit as true during the Christian's worst day on earth as on his best day. Faith must interpret sight in the light of God's Word. What promise do you need to cling to by faith today?
2. When determining God's will, first impressions are to be checked by earnest prayer but always with our wills submitted to His. God will call us in His time and in His way. God finds His man when busy at his common work (v. 11), confirms His will through His Word (v. 16), and equips him by His Spirit (v. 34). But Gideon's reaction to second guess God's word and look for more confirmation is a common experience. God takes our frailty into account and may give further confirmations, but the time must come when we submit to and rest in His Word without doubt or fear.

Chapter 7: God reduces Gideon's army and scatters the Midianites.

The Sword of the Lord and of Gideon (7:1–25)

7:1 all the people that were with him. Thiry-two thousand men (v. 3). A small number compared to the Midianite army which numbered as grasshoppers (v. 12), yet too many for God's purposes. rose up early. Gideon wasted no time when he was sure of God's will. the well of Harod. Means "fountain of trembling."

7:2 vaunt. To boast in themselves. God knew the people's tendency to boast in themselves and take credit for victory. God shares His glory with none.

7:4 I will try them. Often used in Scripture to test metal. God had a way of seeking out the best men for the task.

7:6 hand to their mouth. Indication of vigilance, a necessary quality of disciplined soldiers.

7:8 victuals. Provisions or food. host. Army (vv. 9–10,14–15,21–22).

7:9 Arise, get thee down unto the host. God directed Gideon and his servant Phurah to eavesdrop on the enemy at the edge of their camp to give him yet another confirmation. Gideon seemed fearful at every step.

7:13–15 Hearing the dream and interpretation convinced Gideon. Full of faith he called for battle.

7:16 He planned to shock and awe the enemy by blasts of trumpets and with sudden illumination by fire. pitchers. Clay vessels. lamps. Fiery torches.

7:18 The sword of the LORD, AND OF GIDEON. The name Jehovah would be a terror to His enemies, while Gideon's name was already feared in Midian (9:14).

7:19 the middle watch. Between 10:00 p.m. and 2:00 a.m. Gideon chose the dead of night at the changing of the guard to attack when the Midianites were most vulnerable.

7:21–22 God caused panic and confusion thus moving His enemies to work His own will, causing the Midianites to slay one another.

7:23 pursued after the Midianites. No escape was permitted nor terms of peace offered.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 7

1. The reduction of the army illustrates that God's work is not accomplished by might or power but by His Spirit (Zech. 4:6). God works in ways to show His own glory. While praying, preaching, or evangelizing we are all too quick to take honor to ourselves. We need to humble ourselves in submission to the cross of Christ. The cross is God's instrument to slay our fleshly pride. When we boast in Christ's cross we give our Lord Jesus all the glory for the victory He won for His people (Gal. 6:14).
2. On the other hand, God does use human means to do His work. The army was small, but it was an army. It should be our desire and prayer to be used as God's instrument to carry out His purposes. God does not use angels to preach the gospel, but He does use redeemed sinners. To be useful to God we need to obey His call and the commands of His Word. What are some ways God is using obedient people in your family or church to accomplish His work?

Chapter 8: While victorious over the Midianites, Gideon refuses to reign over Israel and leaves a confusing legacy of good and evil.

Gideon Fully and Finally Destroys the Midianites (8:1–35)

8:1 served us thus. Treated in this manner. chide. Contend. An emphatic expression of anger or disappointment.

8:2–3 Is not the gleaning of the grapes . . . better. Gideon commended the work of Ephraim for slaying two Midianitish princes, Oreb and Zeeb. Gideon's soft words turned away Ephraim's wrath (Prov. 15:1). abated. Calmed.

8:4 the three hundred men. Not one of Gideon's men was lost in battle. Compare the huge number of slain Midianites (v. 10).

8:6–9 The princes of Succoth and Penuel were pessimistic about siding with Gideon too soon. Gideon threatens severe retaliation.

8:11 for the host was secure. The Midianites thought they were safe, so they left the camp undefended.

8:12 discomfited. Cast into panic.

8:14 described. Wrote.

8:15 Behold Zeba and Zalmunna. Gideon presented the two Midianite warriors to the men of Succoth to prove their error in judgment. upbraid. Insult or reproach.

8:16 taught the men. He punished them severely.

8:18 As thou art, so were they. The Midianite leaders incriminated themselves, expressing pride rather than regret.

8:19 the sons of my mother. Those slain at Tabor were Gideon's half brothers. as the LORD liveth. A common oath formula.

8:22 Rule thou over us. It was honorable of the men of Israel to offer king-like leadership to Gideon and it was admirable of Gideon to turn it down.

8:24 prey. The spoil or booty taken in conquest.

8:26 collars. Likely referring to pendants.

8:27 And Gideon made an ephod thereof. An ephod was for priestly work, therefore to create such a new golden ephod for private worship was idolatrous. whoring. Alludes to Israel as the Lord's spouse, and indicates that idolatry was spiritual adultery and fornication.

8:30–31 he had many wives . . . concubine. Contrary to God's law (Deut. 17:17).

8:33 as soon as Gideon was dead. It was a mercy that this developed after Gideon was dead, but his own example was greatly to blame. Baal-berith. Means, "Baal, lord of the covenant."

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 8

1. The men of Succoth and the men of Penuel were deficient in faith and thereby lacking in courage. They were opportunists without principles, fearful of taking the right stand just in case things did not turn out. They failed in the day of opportunity to help those whom God raised up to help them. Let this be a check to us. It is better to be fellow helpers to the truth (3 John 8) than to waste God-given opportunities. Living by the principles of God's Word rather than by sight of circumstances is the essence of walking by faith. What opportunities do you have to stand?
2. Gideon's fall into idolatry did great harm. Even the best of men have the potential of failure and disappointment. Gideon's failure increases the anticipation for the One who will neither fail nor disappoint. Flaws in the best of men must not keep us from following our Lord Jesus who was perfect in all His ways. He alone is worthy of our worship and our praises. He will never disappoint us, nor lead us in a wrong path. Therefore, let us keep "looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith" (Heb. 12:2).

Chapter 9: God sends judgment from within Israel fulfilling the curse of Jotham's parable.

The Enemies of the House of Gideon Self-Destruct (9:1–57)

9:1 Abimelech. Ironically, his name means "my father is king." communed. Spoke.

9:2–3 the men of Shechem. Literally, "baals," referring to the leaders (v. 26). your bone and your flesh. He plays on the spirit of nepotism; his mother's family became his best supporters.

9:4 vain and light persons. Empty and worthless persons became his mercenaries.

9:5 slew his brethren the sons of Jerubbaal. Such murderous deeds were common in eastern dynasties to control power within families. This was Gideon's evil legacy of polygamy and concubinage, not unlike the consequences in David's family years later.

9:6 the plain of the pillar. Literally, "the oak which was set up," a pagan place of worship.

9:7 mount Gerizim. Ironically, the mountain of blessing (Deut. 11:29) becomes the place of solemn pronouncement which was effectively a curse upon them if they did not listen.

9:8–14 the olive tree . . . fig . . . vine . . . bramble. The most useful and constant of all trees in Israel in contrast to the most useless. The thrust of this parable is that the most unworthy and incapable assumes the place of authority.

9:11 sweetness. Sweet figs.

9:15 If in truth ye anoint me king over you. There is no hesitation with the bramble. It is ready to take on the task of reigning over trees that are altogether superior. trust in my shadow. Common expression for a place of protection or safety.

9:16 if ye have done truly and sincerely. He appeals to what is according to truth and uprightness. deserving of his hands. Crowning Abimelech was not honoring to the accomplishments of Gideon.

9:17 adventured his life far. Risked his life in front of them.

9:20 let fire come out. God's curse on the guilty parties. It was fulfilled in an ugly round of revenge until all were destroyed (vv. 25–55).

9:23 God sent an evil spirit. A demonstration of God's absolute sovereignty, even using satanic powers to accomplish His purpose against the evildoers (1 Kings 22:19–23)

9:24 the cruelty done. The justice principle of "eye for eye," lex talionis, the law of retaliation (v. 53). threescore and ten. Seventy.

9:25 liers. Men prepared for ambush.

9:29 under my hand. Under his command.

9:31 privily. Secretly or craftily.

9:45 sowed it with salt. Most likely, a gesture symbolizing the permanence of the destruction.

9:46 the god Berith. See 8:33.

9:48 gat him up. Went up.

9:53 a piece of a millstone. Ironically, as Abimelech slew seventy men upon one stone (v. 5), he would perish by a single piece of millstone.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 9

1. From Jotham's parable we learn that good men are reluctant to promote themselves while useless men tend to consider themselves suited to any task. Great harm can come when the wrong man is in leadership. The best person for God's work will be the one found busy in his own sphere of service. Let us beware of the man who promotes himself over his fellow men, for such men as Abimelech who offer their services at will, may have nothing of worth to offer.
2. The whole chapter illustrates principles of divine judgment. God's use of the evil spirit shows His absolute authority over every realm. He may well bring judgment upon His enemies by allowing Satan to work his wicked will in evil hearts. The spirit of treachery is self-destructive, and part of divine judgment is to abandon the wicked to their own devices. The principle of poetic justice ("eye for eye," [Ex. 21:24]) is also evident. There is nothing more fearful than to get from God's justice what is deserved. God's justice is on the side of those who obey His Word and do the right, but they who do evil shall be judged according to their works. How does this teach us to fear the Lord and turn from evil?

Chapter 10: After the judgeships of Tola and Jair, Israel sins again resulting in the Philistine and Ammonite oppressions.

Further Apostasy after Tola and Jair (10:1–18)

10:3 after him. Jair rose up without any reference to the cycle of apostasy.

10:6 The list of false gods showed a total abandonment to any god who served their depraved purposes. forsook the LORD. Idolatry and the worship of Jehovah are mutually exclusive. There can be no compromise in the breach of the first commandment (Ex. 20:1–3).

10:7 hot against Israel. God is zealous for the glory of His own name. the Philistines, and into the hands of the children of Ammon. Israel was sandwiched between the encroachments of the Philistines from the west and the Ammonites from the east (vv. 8–9).

10:8 that year. The sentence was as sudden as it was serious. vexed and oppressed. Literally, "they shattered and grievously crushed."

10:9 sore distressed. Coming from two sides, this cycle of oppression appeared to be more extensive than others that were more localized.

10:13 will deliver you no more. This is the first refusal of mercy from the Lord. Their call for help was presumptuous without sincerity.

10:14 cry unto the gods which ye have chosen. This underscores the folly of choosing gods incapable of doing anything.

10:15 do thou unto us whatsoever seemeth good unto thee. Now they cast themselves on God's mercy alone, submitting to Him.

10:16 and they put away the strange gods from among them. They displayed their brokenness of heart by breaking off from their strange gods. and his soul was grieved. A Hebrew way of saying "the Lord Himself was troubled."

10:18 What man is he that will begin to fight against the children of Ammon? The hope for the next judge builds the expectation for the coming of the Messiah.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 10

1. God will not be manipulated, and certainly not by superficial prayers. God is not an instrument to be used just to rescue from trouble (v. 13). If we understand the holiness of God, we cannot make a game out of our Christianity and still expect God's blessing. We must not develop a cheap "bunker theology," thinking that we can sow to the flesh and still have God by our side in any time of crisis. God wants our first love and full loyalty, not sham cries from unrepentant hearts. What is the difference between using God and crying out to Him in true faith?
2. If we are true believers, our God is a true Father to pity us in our sufferings (v. 16). Isaiah wrote of God's tenderness toward His suffering people, "In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old" (Isa. 63:9). God takes no delight in our self-destruction, but is moved by divine pity at our cries for mercy. When overwhelmed by life's struggles be sure to cry to your heavenly Father for deliverance. God knows the difference between sincere cries of repentance and superficial cries for temporal relief.

Jephthah (11:1—12:7)

Chapter 11: Jephthah is called to fight the Ammonites and by a serious vow obligates himself to offer up his daughter.

Jephthah: A Mighty Man of Valour (11:1–40)

11:1 mighty man of valour. Renowned in Israel for leadership and courage (Heb. 11:32). the son of an harlot. A child of his times; his honor did not come from his heritage.

11:2 strange woman. A foreigner.

11:3 vain men. Unprincipled or worthless men.

11:6 captain. Leader or commander.

11:9 the Lord deliver. The elders looked to Jephthah for leadership, but Jephthah acknowledged any victory was due to the Lord and not his skill.

11:20 coast. Borders (v. 22).

11:22 Amorites. A general term for Canaanites.

11:24 Chemosh. The chief god of both the Moabites and Ammonites. whomsoever the Lord our God shall drive out. If the Ammonites claimed their land in the name of Chemosh, then Israel could do the same in the name of Jehovah.

11:26 three hundred years. A crucial number for Jephthah's argument. This would date the exodus to the fifteenth century BC.

11:29 the Spirit of the Lord came upon Jephthah. A proof of God's call. This is God empowering him for service.

11:30 vowed a vow unto the Lord. Significantly, the vow was the first act after the Spirit's empowerment. Rather than being rash, it expressed Jepthah's sense of dependence on God.

11:31 whatsoever cometh forth of the doors of my house to meet me. He knew this would be a person and would mean great personal cost. A vow requires something of personal value. burnt offering. The sacrifice symbolizing complete and total dedication or consecration.

11:34 timbrels. Some kind of hand drum or tambourine used in the victory celebration. beside her. She was his only child. Keeping his vow would mean an end to his family line.

11:35 trouble me. To throw into confusion. The prospect of keeping his vow was most disturbing. I cannot go back. In spite of the heartbreaking personal cost to fulfill his vow, Jephthah fulfilled his promise to God (Eccl. 5:4–5).

11:39 who did with her according to his vow. The arguments that Jephthath's vow referred to giving his daughter over to perpetual virginity seem to outweigh the arguments that Jephthah offered her up as a human sacrifice. God never required His people to offer human sacrifices. He forbade them. In the case of Abraham offering Isaac, God intended it for a test and intervened to prevent it (Gen. 22). and she knew no man. This meant she was to remain unmarried and childless all her days. It seems to be the final word on the meaning of Jephthah's vow.

11:40 to lament. The Hebrew means "to recount," suggesting a yearly conversation with Jephthah's daughter.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 11

1. Though Jephthah was of questionable heritage and rejected by his fellows, God took him up to deliver Israel. He was despised but rose up to be the deliverer of his people. In this way, his ministry draws a straight line to Christ. The Lord Jesus was also despised of men (Isa. 53:3; John 1:11) but He was the instrument of God's mighty power to redeem His people from the bondage of sin. This is a reminder as we read Judges that every deliverer God raised up anticipates and points to the ultimate and only Redeemer, the Lord Jesus Christ, who in no way fails His mission or disappoints His people.
2. Regarding vows, we must take Jephthah's position, "I cannot go back" (v. 35). There is wisdom for us in Eccl. 5:5: "Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay." Vows are not to be put off, but to be paid immediately. However, a rash vow that proves to be unlawful to God should be repented of and not carried out. If the vow was wrong in the first place it would be wrong to fulfill it when we know better. Though vows should never be made casually or lightly, they are permissible when they are based in truth and intended for greater dedication to God's service. What vows have you taken over the course of your life? What does fulfilling them mean now?

Chapter 12: Civil war breaks out between Ephraim and the men of Gilead, after which Jephthah dies and is followed by Ibzan, Elon, and Abdon.

Ephraim's Defeat in Battle and Denial of Escape (12:1–7)

12:1 and didst not call us to go with thee? See the similar complaint of Ephraim to Gideon (8:1).

12:2 and when I called you. Jephthah claims that he did call on Ephraim for help, but they refused.

12:3 It was Jephthah and the men of Gilead who bore the dangers of war with Ammon. Jephthah gives honor to the Lord.

12:4 Gileadites. The Gileadites, like Ephraim and Manasseh, were descendants from Joseph (Num. 26:28–29). They belittled Jephthah as an outcast with no part in their heritage.

12:5 passages of Jordan. Crossing places. By control of these places, retreat was made impossible for Ephraim (3:27–30; 7:24–25).

12:6 Shibboleth . . . Sibboleth. The words mean "ear of corn," and became a password based on a dialectical difference between those east and west of the Jordan.

Ibzan, Elon, Abdon (12:8–15)

12:8–15 Three minor judges deliver Israel for twenty-five years. The large families and multiple animals suggest years of prosperity.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 12

1. The Gileadites were a small insignificant component of Joseph's descendants, who had settled east of Jordan. They were despised and ridiculed by Ephraim, their more significant "cousins." Ephraim's pride got the best of them when they saw the accomplishments of little Gilead. Pride is a tinderbox that only needs the match of envy to start fires of conflict. Pride is at the root of wars and world conflicts, strife in local politics, misery in homes, and trouble in the Lord's church. Pride must be rooted out of our hearts by much prayer. It can be broken by the power of Christ's cross. How has pride shown itself in your life? How are you fighting it?
2. While God raises up key men for mighty acts in His service there is a lot of ordinary work to be done. Not every servant of God will leave a legacy of memorable accomplishments. But every servant must serve the Lord in the venue and with the influence He orders. History knows nothing of the accomplishments of Ibzan, Elon, or Abdon, but God raised them to serve their generation. We may never be famous but it is important that we be found faithful in our sphere of service.

Samson (13:1—16:31)

Chapter 13: The Angel of the Lord appears to Samson's parents, announcing his birth and his appointment to deliver Israel from the Philistines.

The Lord Announces Samson's Birth (13:1–25)

13:1 forty years. Samson judged Israel for twenty of those years (16:20).

13:3 the angel of the LORD. See note at 2:1.

13:5 Nazarite unto God. Samson was consecrated to God from the womb. The Nazarite vow was taken by those who separated themselves for God's service (Num. 6). begin to deliver Israel. Samson's divine appointment from birth. It expresses hope but also foreboding in that he would only begin the deliverance. The Philistine nemesis remained long after Samson.

13:6 countenance. Appearance. very terrible. Extremely frightening. She recognized something supernatural about the angel, something so awesome that she was dumbfounded, asking no questions about His identity.

13:8 intreated. To plead or pray earnestly.

13:10 shewed. To report or tell.

13:12 How shall we order the child, and how shall we do unto him. "What will be the custom or mode of life of the child and his work?"

13:15 made ready a kid. A reference to slaying, dressing, and cooking a goat.

13:18 secret? That which is wonderful and incomprehensible. This was a revelation of the angel's deity.

13:19 wondrously. Did that which was miraculous, another evidence of His being supernatural.

13:21–22 Manoah made the correct deductions for the evidence, ascribing full deity to the angel. We shall surely die. They would not die because they saw God through His Son, the only way man can see God and live.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 13

1. God planned to deliver His people from the Philistines before they cried out for help. When we are believers, this parallels also the order in our salvation. Before we were born or ever knew our need to be saved God had prepared the way for His Son to suffer and die for us. From all eternity Christ's redeeming work was laid out. Let us lift up our praises to the Lord in the same thankful submission as the apostle John, "We love him, because he first loved us" (1 John 4:19).
2. The Lord is not only omnipotent to deliver us from our enemies, He is also immanent to be with us in our struggles of life. At a moment of crisis, the preincarnate Christ appeared to give a message of hope and encouragement. Can we doubt our Emmanuel when He took our very nature to dwell among us? The Lord will not fail us for He has promised, "I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you" (John 14:18). The angel of the Lord who announced the birth of Samson is our Lord Jesus Christ, "the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever" (Heb. 13:8).

Chapter 14: Samson's marriage to a Philistine leads to his first conflict with the Philistines.

Samson's Wife Turns Traitor (14:1–20)

14:1–4 Samson seeks a wife from among the Philistines contrary to God's Word (Deut. 7:2–4).

14:3 she pleaseth me well. Literally, "right in my eyes" (v. 7). Samson followed the custom of the day (17:6; 21:25). Disregarding God's standards leads to no standards other than self.

14:4 he sought an occasion. The sovereign God uses, without condoning, the folly and sin of men to accomplish His purpose (Josh. 11:20; 2 Chron. 10:15; 22:7; 25:20; Ps. 115:3).

14:6 the Spirit of the LORD came mightily upon him. Even this constituted a component of Samson's kingdom work, so God empowered him for his work, literally, “rushing upon him” (v. 19). rent a kid. Tear in pieces a baby goat.

14:8 to take her. Refers to marriage.

14:9 To take and eat from the unclean violated his Nazarite vow (Num. 6:6–7). Seeing, taking, eating, and sharing with others parallels the pattern of the first sin recorded in Gen. 3.

14:12 riddle. Dark saying, enigma, or perplexing question (1 Kings 10:1). sheets . . . garments. Inner shirts and outer gowns (v. 13).

14:14 meat. Food or general nourishment.

14:15 Entice. Persuade, using whatever means. to take that we have. To impoverish.

14:17 she lay sore upon him. Literally, “she drove him into a corner.”

14:18 plowed with my heifer. Idiomatic for consulting with my wife (Amos 4:1).

14:19 spoil. Refers to the equipment that is stripped from slain men, here their garments specifically. expounded. To declare or make known.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 14

1. God’s purpose cannot be frustrated regardless of the opposition of the enemy or even the folly of His servants. The Philistines were among Israel’s most powerful enemies, but they would not ultimately prevail against God’s kingdom. Although Samson violated God’s law and was not a clean vessel to be used, God nonetheless used him and manipulated circumstances in such a way that Samson would begin a deliverance from the Philistines that ultimately climaxed with David. We can rest knowing that God brings good out of evil and even though there appears to be no deliverer, everything is on track for David’s greater Son to achieve the ultimate and final victory.
2. Whereas Samson was the strongest of men physically, in the face of temptation he was the weakest of men. No matter how strong we think we are, we must all beware lest we fall through the lust of the flesh. Entrust the care of your soul to the Lord only, for the arm of flesh will fail you. In what areas of your life do you especially need to watch and pray against temptation?

Chapter 15: Samson retaliates against the Philistines for wrongs done against him.

Samson Retaliates against the Philistines (15:1–20)

15:1 a kid. He took a young goat, probably to continue the wedding festival that had been interrupted. not suffer. Not permit to enter.

15:2 verily thought. Or, “certainly said.” fairer than she. Better.

15:3 Although doing the work of the Lord and claiming innocence (blameless), Samson’s motive is personal revenge. displeasure. The Hebrew word usually translated “evil” referring to a calamity or disaster.

15:4–5 Samson burned the fields of the Philistines, who retaliated with a burning of their own. firebrands . . . brands. Torches with open flame. standing corn. Grain still growing on the stalk. shocks. Stacks of harvested sheaves. Being fully ripe the fields were in their most flammable condition.

15:6 burnt her and her father. It is unclear whether the reference is to them personally or their property. Ironically, it is what she tried to avoid in betraying Samson (14:15).

15:7 after that I will cease. The idea is that he will not cease until the vengeance is complete.

15:8 hip and thigh. An idiom or figure of speech signifying to defeat utterly.

15:9–14 The Philistines in turn seek vengeance on Samson.

15:9 Lehi. Means "jawbone." Here the city is so named anachronistically reflecting its name received after Samson's slaughter (v. 17).

15:10 to do to him. Reflects the back and forth between the Philistines and Samson. Were it not so tragic, it is almost childlike behavior.

15:12–13 Judah, unaware that Samson was their divinely chosen deliverer, bound him and delivered him to the enemy.

15:14 Spirit of the LORD. See comments at 14:6. flax. Used for making linen and the least fire would turn it to ash. loosed from off his hands. Bonds fell from him.

15:15 a new jawbone of an ass. A cheekbone of a donkey that was fresh and moist.

15:17 Ramath-lehi. Literally, "the casting away of the jawbone," the full name of the city that was shortened to "Lehi."

15:18 sore athirst. Extremely thirsty. the uncircumcised. A common designation for the heathen who were not in covenant with God. His fear of death after victory parallels the experience of Elijah after his victory on Carmel (1 Kings 19:1–3).

15:19 God clave an hollow place. God made a hole resembling what would remain after the extraction of a tooth. in the jaw. Not the donkey jaw but Lehi, the placed named "Jaw" to commemorate the event. his spirit came again. His vitality returned. En-hakkore means "fountain of the praying one."

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 15

1. Israel binding Samson and handing him over to the Philistines parallels the betrayal of the Lord Jesus by the Jews when they handed Him over to the Romans. God sent His Son to be their Savior but they cried out, "Away with him, crucify him" (John 19:15). Sin is so severe that man cannot recognize the Savior without divine aid. We learn that God is the author of salvation, not man. He first loved us and sent His Son to save us. Only when we are brought to behold the glory and saving power of Christ are we made to comprehend the love of God for our souls (Rom. 5:8). Do you believe that apart from God's grace you would hand over Christ to death? Why?
2. Samson, the weakest of men in temptation, became the strongest of men when "the Spirit of the LORD came mightily upon him" (v. 14). Being a God-appointed judge or deliverer of Israel, he was given the power to fulfill his work. Every servant of God needs the Spirit of the Lord for power in God's service. Remember to pray for the power of God to fall on your minister to do his work. Remember those on the mission field who are facing the forces of evil and the enemies of the Lord every day. Pray for God's power to come upon them.

Chapter 16: Samson reveals the source of his strength to Delilah who betrays him to the Philistines and after recovering his strength executes his final act of vengeance.

Samson Is Bound and Blinded, Then Dies with the Philistines (16:1–31)

16:2 compassed. Surrounded.

16:3 bar and all. The crossbar, referring to the lock system.

16:4 in the valley. Rather a stream or small river.

16:5 afflict him. To humble or overpower (v. 6).

16:7 green withs. Moist cords; being undried gave them more strength (vv. 8–9). as another man. As one man (v. 11).

16:9 as a thread of tow. A single strand made of flax, with little resistance to fire.

16:11 that never were occupied. With which work was not done.

16:13 seven locks. Refers to his whole head of hair (v. 19). the web. Perhaps refers to a tool used for weaving.

16:14 the pin of the beam. The frame of a weaving loom.

16:16 vexed unto death. An idiom referring to impatience and annoyance.

16:20 And he wist not. He did not know.

16:21 put out his eyes. Gouge or bore out. fetters of brass. Shackles or metal bands.

16:23 Dagon their god. Their patron god, referring either to a fish god or grain god.

16:25 and he made them sport. They laughed in his face.

16:26 Suffer me. Allow me.

16:27 made sport. To amuse or serve as a joker.

16:30 upon the lords. With one great calamity the Philistines were left leaderless.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 16

1. Contrary to expectation, Hebrews names Samson among those "who through faith subdued kingdoms" (Heb. 11:32–33). There was apparently more to Samson's ministry than is recorded in the book of Judges. He judged Israel for twenty years (Judg. 16:31); yet the narrative isolates just a few incidents in his career, none of which were high-water marks of spirituality or which covered significant periods of time. In those low points, he achieved great things for the cause of God's kingdom in the power of God's Spirit but without much faithfulness. But the Holy Spirit records that he subdued kingdoms through faith. None of God's servants are perfect, and all are prone to failure. But Hebrews would suggest that between those low points Samson was not always doing that which was right in his own eyes. Judges does not put him in a great light, but the last word about him marks his faith. Better is the end of a matter.
2. Certainly not by virtue of his person but by virtue of his office, Samson (like all the judges) pointed to Christ, the ultimate Savior. There are lines in Samson's life that parallel the life of Christ. Like our Lord, Samson was a specially announced son; and like our Lord, he was despised by his own people as a deliverer in Israel. As Samson brought down the house of Dagon, destroying Israel's enemies, so our Lord Jesus conquered all His and our enemies at the cross. While we see a mixture of failure and hope in Samson's life we see only perfection in our Lord Jesus. Let us go to Him with confidence that He is an all-sufficient Savior.

ISRAEL'S TRAGIC DAYS WITH NO KING, NO LAW, AND NO SHAME (17:1—21:25)

Chapter 17: Micah restores stolen silver to his mother and hires a Levite to be his family priest.

Micah Rejoices in His Silver Image and Hired Priest (17:1–13)

17:1 there was a man. Judges shifts attention to specific instances to highlight how the nation's sin permeated the entire society.

17:3 I had wholly dedicated. Previously set apart unto the Lord. to make a graven image. A carved image. molten image. Made by pouring liquid metal over a mold (v. 4).

17:4 founder. One who molds metal.

17:5 ephod. An apron or embroidered cape worn by a priest. teraphim. Images. consecrated. Filled the hand or the payment of wages.

17:7 sojourned. To take up residence as an alien.

17:10 a father and a priest. The role of advisor and intercessor. a suit of apparel, and thy victuals. A supply of clothing and food.

17:12 consecrated the Levite. Literally, he "filled the hand of the Levite," meaning he contracted the position with material rewards.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 17

1. The second commandment is absolute: "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them" (Ex. 20:4–5). Breaking this commandment leads to the greatest of perversions. Any sort of idolatry is an abomination to the Lord. Our God is a jealous God who will not share His glory with another. What are the popular forms of idolatry in your culture?
2. The Levite was a religious mercenary who abandoned the God-given ministry that was his heritage to serve man-made gods for personal gain. Micah was so blinded by his idolatry that he presumed that his hireling was evidence of God's favor. Herein is a danger. Too many charlatan preachers have controlled and convinced people that adhering to them and their teaching will bring them divine blessing. It is imperative to worship God in spirit and truth and to test the legitimacy of any minister in the clear light of God's Word. Everything in this chapter is a violation of God's law.

Chapter 18: The Danites establish the city of Dan and make it a center of idolatry.

Dan Becomes a Center of False Worship (18:1–31)

18:1 inheritance. Lot or portion.

18:2 men of valour. Refers to their strength or courage.

18:6 before the LORD is your way. You will have God's favor.

18:7 dwelt careless. The Hebrew refers to dwelling securely. after the manner of the Zidonians. The Sidonians did not build fortifications. no magistrate. An absence of any oppressor.

18:11 appointed with. Girded with (vv. 16–17).

18:12 Mahaneh-dan. Camp of Dan.

18:14 ephod. Embroidered cape or apron worn by priests. teraphim. Images, using household gods (vv. 17–18,20).

18:15 saluted him. Asked of his welfare.

18:21 carriage. Baggage—including the idols from Micah's house collection.

18:23 What aileth thee. What troubles you.

18:30 Manasseh. Probably rather a reference to Moses. This reflects an ancient Jewish tradition where they added the letter "n" above the line to preserve Moses' reputation by altering the name to Manasseh.

18:31 all the time that the house of God was in Shiloh. The tabernacle remained in Shiloh until the days of Samuel. Dan became a competing center of worship.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 18

1. The Levite again shows himself to be a religious mercenary for hire to the highest bidder. He had no convictions or concerns apart from himself. It will be terror on judgment day for false prophets who enrich themselves on religion. True worship and true Christian service demand loyalty to God and His Word. We must be willing to pay the price of faithful discipleship that we may receive the "well done, good and faithful servant" (Matt. 25:23).
2. Micah thought the presence of his idols in his shrine would be his safety (17:13). But there is no security in apostate religion, and his gods were easily stolen by others. The Lord alone is the protector of His people. The Christian who trusts in the Lord Jesus as Savior has found a true refuge. "For this God is our God for ever and ever: he will be our guide even unto death" (Ps. 48:14). In what ways do you tend to trust in idols instead of the Lord?

Chapter 19: A Levite is reunited to his wayward concubine only to have her brutalized to death by vile men in Gibeah, after which he distributes her dismembered body throughout Israel.

The Benjamites Stoop to Sodomy (19:1–30)

19:1 concubine. A secondary wife of lower social standing.

19:2 played the whore. The Hebrew word means "feeling repugnance toward" or "having a dislike of."

19:3 damsel. A young woman.

19:5 Comfort. Strengthen.

19:12 stranger. Foreigner. Gibeah. A town three miles north of Jerusalem.

19:13 Ramah. A town about six miles north of Jerusalem.

19:16 sojourned. Resident alien.

19:17 wayfaring man. Traveling man.

19:19 provender. Fodder (v. 21).

19:20 let all thy wants lie upon me. The old man assumed the full responsibility of a host to provide and protect. This explains his actions in vv. 23–24.

19:22. Sons of Belial. Men of wickedness, who are worthless. beset . . . round about. Surrounded. that we may know him. To have illegitimate sexual relations with him.

19:24 and humble ye them. To force and defile.

19:25 hearken. Listen. to spring. To dawn.

19:27 lord. Ruler or master.

19:28 gat him unto his place. He went to his place.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 19

1. This chapter describes the tragedy of how far sin will go when there is no thought of God.

Although there was no king in Israel (v. 1), there was a God in heaven who observed all the perverse behavior and would in due course punish accordingly. The chapter's closing admonition to consider and make plans to avoid the same tragedy remains valid. We should tremble for any people who are given over to practice vile sins. Judgment is not far away from those who stoop to these practices and we must remember that on the eternal day there awaits "the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone" (Rev. 21:8) for the unbelieving and the abominable in God's sight. These are warnings for us to flee from all forms of sin.

2. The master-secondary wife relationship between the Levite and his concubine is contrary to God's design for marriage. The whole episode betrays an unscriptural union and portrays a denigrating view of women. We should be thankful for the Christian gospel that has lifted societies out of such depths. Christianity has restored a nobility to manhood and womanhood, for in the power of the gospel "there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus" (Gal. 3:28). Let us thank the Lord for the new minds, new hearts, and new lives the gospel has given to us and let us pray for gospel power to evangelize the nations that are headed for terrible judgment.

Chapter 20: The tribes of Israel go to war against Benjamin because of the sins of Gibeah.

Benjamin Is Nearly Exterminated (20:1–48)

20:1 from Dan even to Beer-sheba. Dan was the most northerly city in Israel; Beer-sheba was furthest to the south. This was a way of referring to the whole country.

20:5 beset the house round about. surrounded the house. they forced. They did violence against her.

20:6 lewdness. Refers to infamous, shameful, wicked behavior.

20:9 by lot. The use of a small stone by which decisions were made.

20:10 to fetch victual. To bring back supplies of food.

20:16 not miss. Often translated "to sin" and thus illustrates the definition of sin as "missing the mark."

20:18 asked counsel of God. Requested earnestly (vv. 23,27).

20:20 put themselves in array to fight. Put themselves in battle formation (v. 22).

20:21 destroyed down to the ground. To cut down and leave dead on the ground (v. 25).

20:29 liers in wait. To set an ambush.

20:31 house of God. Most likely referring to Beth-el.

20:34 the battle was sore. Heavy fighting. evil. Here referring to calamity (v. 41).

20:37 drew themselves along. They marched on.

20:38 sign. Time. great flame. A great elevation.

20:39 retired. Literally, "turned back."

20:41 amazed. Overwhelmed with surprise; terrified.

20:45 gleaned. To hunt down after the main battle was over.

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 20

1. By sending a piece of his wife's body to each of the tribes of Israel, the Levite created a remarkable unity of purpose to punish the tribe of Benjamin. If only Israel had been so united in the cause of the Lord in past times they would have known many victories. When Christians stand together, pray together, and show forth the love of Christ with one accord, evil and wickedness can be put to flight. Solomon's maxim holds true, "A threefold cord is not quickly broken" (Eccl. 4:12).

2. The consequences of Gibeah's sins were certain and severe. "Be sure your sin will find you out" (Num. 32:23). God's righteous character demands that sin be punished in full. The just punishment leveled against Gibeah points to just execution of God's wrath against Christ. The whole gospel stands upon God's demand to judge sin to the full. As believers, we confess that on that awful day at Calvary the full weight of divine justice fell on our Lord Jesus when He suffered in our place as our substitute. The gospel is not a cover up of sin, for in Christ's redeeming work justice was fully and legally settled. Justice being settled, it now stands guard for our salvation, for "Payment God cannot twice demand— / First at my bleeding Surety's hand, / And then again at mine," as hymnwriter Augustus Toplady expressed it. Because of Christ's sacrifice at Calvary there is a sure hope for every soul who trusts in Him for salvation. How does it stir your soul to consider that God's wrath fell on Christ instead of sinners?

Chapter 21: The Israelites vow not to allow their daughters to marry into Benjamin and then devise a plan to provide wives for them.

Israel Finds Wives for Benjamin (21:1–25)

21:2 wept sore. Wept greatly.

21:3 one tribe lacking. Missing or cut off.

21:6 one tribe cut off from Israel. Without wives their tribe was in danger of extinction.

21:7 They took their vow seriously but evidenced a lack of true spirituality in the plan devised to circumvent the vow.

21:10 men of the valiantest. Literally, "sons of strength."

21:12 Shiloh. The place where the tabernacle stood with the ark of the covenant.

21:14 sufficed them not. There was not enough to meet the demands.

21:21 catch you every man his wife. This scheme implied that while the men of Israel would be under a curse for agreeing to give their daughters to the men of Benjamin, they would be free from such an oath if their daughters were violently abducted (v. 22), yet did not give unto them. This was a scheme hatched in expediency without living up to the spirit of their oath.

21:25 no king in Israel. The thrust of the book of Judges falls on this final point (17:6; 18:1; 19:1), that God's people need a righteous and powerful king to turn them from doing their will to obey the revealed will of God (Isa. 9:7; Jer. 23:5; Acts 3:26; 5:31).

Thoughts for Personal/Family Worship: Chapter 21

1. This caveat at the close of the book (v. 25) is a reminder that these were days of deep apostasy. The dark and distressing days of the judges provide warnings that man's heart is evil and that without restraint that evil progresses to unimaginable depths. Should we try to follow our own imaginations we will depart from God and stoop to heathen practices; we are not exempt. Grace and God's law must rule our hearts.
2. The book of Judges serves redemptive history by intensifying the desire and expectation for the perfect and final deliverer to come. Let us rejoice in the wonderful Savior God has given to deliver us from our sin. As the Savior of sinners our Lord Jesus is the great Judge. He is given by the Father to declare us righteous according to the law and to empower us to live godly in fellowship with Him. When we are born from above, we will seek those things which are above. When we are raised up with Christ by His resurrection power, we will reign with Him as sons of God. Heaven, the city of the great King, will be all the brighter when compared with the darkness of this rebellious world, where there is no king, no law, and no shame.

The Angel of the Lord

As the eternal Word and the express image of the invisible God, Jesus Christ is the usual way God speaks and appears to humanity. This is self-evident in the New Testament, but the Old Testament contains abundant witness of this truth as well. Throughout the Old Testament the Angel of the Lord is one way in which the eternal Son of God speaks and appears to men. The Son of God comes in human form as the Angel of the Lord prior to His coming in human flesh as Jesus Christ.

The term angel of the Lord appears more than fifty times in the Old Testament, and the similar phrase angel of God occurs nine times (cf. Judg. 6:20–21 and 13:3,9, where the phrases are used synonymously). While some of these references speak of ordinary angels (Gen. 28:12; 32:1), many refer to a special Angel. It is helpful to note that the Hebrew word translated "angel" is not limited in scope as is the English word—that is, it does not always refer strictly to a created spirit sent from heaven. The word often means simply "a messenger," as when Jesus Christ is called "the messenger of the covenant" who will come later into His temple (Mal. 3:1).

The Old Testament portrays this special Angel as divine—that is, He is the Lord—and yet distinct—that is, He is unique from the Lord. These two points concord with the understanding of the Trinity: one Lord in three distinct Persons. The Old Testament demonstrates these two truths about the Angel of the Lord in five ways:

1. The Angel of the Lord claims divine authority. He speaks as God and swears by Himself to fulfill His covenant (Gen. 16:10; 22:15–16).
2. The Angel of the Lord exhibits divine attributes and performs divine actions. He has knowledge that only God possesses (Gen. 16:7–8,11,13). He judges and redeems as God (Gen. 48:15–16; Judg. 5:23; 2 Sam. 24:14–17; 2 Kings 19:35).
3. The Angel of the Lord receives divine worship. He is treated as God Himself, receiving sacrifices and homage paid to His Person (Ex. 23:20–21; Judg. 6:20–21,24). No ordinary angel would accept man's worship (Rev. 19:10).
4. The Angel of the Lord is identified explicitly as God. He is distinctly said to be the Lord (Gen. 16:13; 22:12,15–18; 31:11–13; 48:15–16; Ex. 14:19; 23:21; Judg. 6:11–23; 13:19–22; cf. Isa. 42:8).
5. The Angel of the Lord is a distinct divine Person. He is evidently divine and yet carefully distinguished from the Lord (Gen. 24:7,40; 32:24–30; Ex. 3:4–5; 23:20; Num. 20:16; Josh. 5:14–15; Judg. 2:1; 6:11–24; 13:2–24; 2 Sam. 24:16; Isa. 63:9; Zech. 1:12–13).
